Introduction to Warpspawn Games

Article by Tom Higgins (tom@wsmf.org), Main editor of Countermoves.

There are many ways to game as there are gamers to play them. There are focused gamers who pick a theme and stick with it most of their lives. There are die hard role players, hard dice roll players and anti dice hard tech players. There are board game aficionados and card game fanatics. There are folks who like to move around the hexes and those who wont map the territory of their playing.

Then there are those who like to mix it all up.

Precious few resources exist for this type of gamer, one such resource though is Warp Spawn Games (<http://www.angelfire.com/games2/warpspawn/index.html>) Warp Spawn is home to a motley crew of game developers and players who revel in creating games as much as they do in playing them. The lead mad scientist in this laboratory of gamming is Lloyd Krassner who has been running this site since.

The site itself is spartan but what it lacks in graphics it makes up for in game rules. Lloyd and the Warp Spawn regulars have been churning out game rules at a break neck speed for the last few years, the count for 2001 is now over 200 and climbing. Game types range from your pure card game to your roll and move board games to hex game to role-playing to combinations of all of the above. There are lots of different types of game mechanics to choose from as well. The rule sets are broken into thematic sections; there are sections for SF, Fantasy, Historical and the infamous Other as well as a place of Universal Game Systems. More on this last one in another article. Each of these sections is further broken down by time period of subtype.

Many of the rule sets you will find are mostly straight text files. Very few have any sort of graphics, maps or unit counters. These are left for others to work on. In some cases there are graphics available either as image files or as Thoth game sets. The big advantage to a Thoth game set in this case is that the individual graphical items are not hidden in the gamebox, they are available to be manipulated and customized in directories.

The good news is that over time and with more people using Warp Spawn games the more ready-made graphics there are to play with. If you cant find these ready made gems for the rules set you are wanting to play then its up to you to create them and hopefully offer them up to the site so that others can use them as well. A lot of what goes on at Warp Spawn is centered on this act of causal collaboration and sharing. Sharing the games or variants you have created with the rest of the Warp Spawn crew gets the game played more and thus it becomes a better game for the playing. Play testing games is a powerful tool in the developmental cycle of a game.

The act of making a game has become a game for the Warp Spawn game makers. Trying out combinations of types, tweaking rules sets, merging different mechanics and methods all are evident in the rules sets found here. You can get a glimpse of what goes on in one game developers mind on Llyod's Brainstroming page. There is also an open channel of discussion between the users and developers. This comes in the form of a message board. It's a simple text only web message board but it works to get the conversation and critiques flowing.

A Review and Essays page gives players and developers alike a place to work out the workings of the games; the good, the bad and the ugly. Often what doesn't work can be has helpful to making a better game as what does work. Hearing from the developer and the players is a great way to get a look into some of the games.

The biggest strengths Warp Spawn has going for it is not its flashy graphics (there are none) or its professional publication ready games (these games are as raw as they come, rivaling even CheapAss Games) or even its detailed rule sets (some of these games are as abstracted from their source material as a Pollack canvas). What Warp Spawn has is a down in the muck attitude where the game comes before the detail and the developing is as much fun as the playing. It's a schloberknocker no holds barred game development site that offers as wide a range of game styles as I have seen represented in any one place.

It has a core group of members who are quick to help and very into the idea that everyone is a game developer just looking for a chance to come out and play.

Introduction

Card game for 2+ players

Disclaimer

James Bond is a copyrighted property. This is merely a fan site.

Winning

The game ends when the Draw deck is empty. The player with the highest total Danger Level of all Plot & Villain cards in his Mission Pile at the end of the game wins. Player with the most cards in his Seduction Pile wins a minor victory.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. Note: There is 1 Basic Deck and a Mini Deck for each Movie. For every player in the game use 1 Mini Deck.

Shuffle the Basic Deck & the Mini Decks together to get the common deck.

The Pawn

Use a pawn to represent Bond. All players use the pawn on their own turn. The pawn is placed next to a card on the Line, not on it.

The Board

Lay out the Top ten cards of the deck face up in a straight line. This row of cards is referred to as the Mission Line (ML). The card farthest from the deck is the end (10th) card.

The card closest to the deck is the first (1st) card. Whenever a card is activated, remove it from the ML. If there are ever fewer than 10 cards in the ML, slide The remaining cards towards the End card and draw Replacement cards from the deck to fill in the Gaps Near the first card. When adding cards to the Line, The position of the Pawn on the Line does not change.

Setup

Flip a coin to see who goes first. The Pawn starts out at the End card.

Areas & Piles

In addition to the Deck & Mission Line, there is a Discard. Each player has a Ready Area, a Mission Pile, a Danger Pile, and a Seduction Pile.

Turn Sequence

On your turn, you have 2 Action Points (AP). An AP can be used for 2 things:

1. Move the Pawn one card length, in either direction.
2. Activate the card the Pawn is at.

Woman Cards

If you activate a Woman card, put it in your Ready Area. You can only have one Woman in your Ready Area at a time. If you already have a Woman in your Ready Area, Put the "old" one into your Seduction Pile.

When you discard a Woman from your Ready Area to activate a danger card, place the Woman card into your Seduction Pile.

Villain Cards

Each Villain & Plot card has a Danger Level = X To activate a Villain or Plot card, you must discard X cards from your Danger Pile to the discard. Place the Activated Villain or Plot into your Mission Pile.

Enemy Agent Cards & Trap Cards

These are collectively called Danger cards. To activate a Trap or Agent card, you must discard 1 card from your Ready area to the discard. Place the Activated Enemy or Trap into your Danger Pile.

Action, Ally, Gadgets & Vehicle Cards

These are collectively called Aid cards. When Activated, put the Aid card into your Ready Area. You can only have one Vehicle in your Ready Area at a time.

If you already have a Vehicle in your Ready Area, Put the "old" one into the discard Pile. When you discard a gadget from your Ready Area to activate a danger card, you gain 1 AP you can use this turn.

Special Cards

When activated, these produce some effect, and are then discarded.

Location

When Activated, Move the Pawn to any other card on the Line, and then discard the Location card.

38th Parallel

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Simulation of the Korean War. One player is the UN.
The other player is the Communists.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Victory

Any player that wins 3 hands in a row wins the game. If no player wins after 10 turns, the game is a tie.

Turn Sequence

Each turn is divided into 3 phases: Logistics Phase
Deployment Phase Attack Phase

Logistics Phase

Each player draws 8 cards. Maximum handsize is 8 cards. Discard excess cards.
If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it.

Deployment Phase

Players may discard up to 4 cards & draw replacements.

Attack Phase

Players reveal cards from their hands they can score with. Some cards can be used by either player. Some cards can only be used by one player.

A player may use either Defensive cards or Offensive cards but not both. Each card played has a score. The player with the highest total score of all his cards revealed wins the hand.

All revealed cards are discarded. A player may discard any cards from his hand he doesn't want.

Atomic Bomb Option

If the American player plays the Atomic Bomb card, the game immediately ends. Draw a card: If it is 8+ the UN wins. If it is a 7 the War ends in a Draw.
If it is a 6 or less, the war escalates into WWII and everybody loses. The Communist player may play the Limited War card to negate the Atomic Bomb card.

40k Skirmish

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Warhammer 40K theme Abstract skirmish level combat. Each figure represents a single man (unit).

Disclaimer

Warhammer 40K is a licensed, trademarked property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

Destroy all opposing units.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

The Men

Use miniatures to represent men.

Starting Forces

Each side starts with 150 points worth of units. The equipment of a unit must correspond to the appearance of the fig.

Setup

Each player places one unit on each square of his back two rows. Units may not stack.

The Cards

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 3 copies of each card in the Card list.

Space Marine Squad Unit List

Unit	Cost	Hits	Move	Armor	Notes
Imperial Guard	2	1	2	1
Space Scout	3	2	3	1
Space Marine	4	2	2	2
Terminator Marine	6	3	2	3
Dreadnaught	10	5	2	4	M3 attack for 3 damage

Move Max normal move

Costs do not include weapons.

Hits Number of Hits that type of unit has.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Fate Phase
2. Move Phase
3. Fight Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 3 cards. Max hand size = 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your men. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the man moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. Moves cannot be through other units unless the unit has the "Fly" ability. Instead of moving just one man in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more men forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Fast units may move twice per turn and attack twice per turn. Heavy weapons give a -1 to the units move. (except for dreadnaughts)

Fire Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a man attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. Attacks cannot be through other units unless the weapon has the "Indirect" ability. Use Chits or coins to record damage.

A unit reduced to zero Hits is killed and removed from the board. Your opponent may play Armor cards to negate your attack.

The Dreadnaught has 2 heavy weapons (cost not included). The Dreadnaught is a robot (Max one per Squad).

Tyranid/genestealer Brood Unit List

Unit	Cost	Hits	Move	Armor	Notes
Hunter Slayer Pack	3	1	5	1	Fast

A D20 Conversion Of The Legendary Lloyd Krassner's Time Line

by C Gerard Luft

A d20 conversion of the legendary Lloyd Krassner's Time Line.

Introduction

Two time traveling civilizations fight for ultimate control of the entire timeline. The Far Future is controlled by a scientifically advanced culture known as the Teraxians. The Distant Past is controlled by a magical race known as the Atlanteans.

#	Era:	Force
12.	The Far Future	X
11.	Near Future	48
10.	WWII	24
9.	WWI	12
8.	Age of Imperialism	9
7.	Age of Revolution	6

Force = Force of Units recruited from this time period. Eras 2-11 have Period troops.

Dice

Six and ten sided dice are needed.

Counters

Each player gets a set of counters of a unique color and with unique unit types. Units are also referred to as troops. There is also a set of same-color, common, generic period troops: Have 10 counters to represent Period troops from each Era 2-11.

Mark the Era number on the counter.

Atlantean Counter Set

#		Att/AC	Move
1	Wizard	+3/13	3
3	Warriors	+6/16	2
1	Monsters	+9/19	1
25	Control Markers	-	-

Start = The number of such units the player starts the game with.

Object

Gain control of all 12 Eras on the Time Line.

D20

You will need a twenty sided die (d20) in order to play this variant. This variant's game mechanics herein are derived from the Open Gaming License of the D20 Systems Reference Document.

The Board

The board is composed of a row of 12 spaces. These spaces (or Eras) are labeled in the following order:

#	Era:	Force
6.	Renaissance	5
5.	Middle Ages	4
4.	Roman Empire	3
3.	Ancient Civilizations	2
2.	Prehistory	1
1.	Distant Past	X

Teraxian Counter Set

#	Type	Att/AC	Move
1	Scientists	+3/13	3
3	Agents	+6/16	2
1	Warships	+9/19	1
25	Control Markers	-	-

Setup

The Atlanteans begin with their starting counters in the Distant Past space. The Teraxians begin with their starting counters in the Far Future space. Roll high on 1D10 to see who goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 Phases:

1. Random Factors
2. Time Travel
3. Change History
4. Recruit Troops
5. Seek & Destroy

Random Factors Phase

The active player rolls for two Resources on the Resource Tables below. A Resource can only be used once, and then it is expended.

Time Travel Phase

You may move your units forward and backwards on the timeline a number of Eras up to their Move stat limit. For example: A Wizard could move from the Distant Past to the Middle Ages. Period troops have a base Move = 0.

Cards may be played to increase the Move stat of target units.

Change History

If you have a unit in an Era you may try to gain control of the Era by interfering with history. Roll 1D20.

1D20	Recruit
1-4	Wizard
5-8	Warrior
9-12	Warrior & Roll for two Resources

this is the control roll. On a roll of 12-20 you gain control of the Era.

Keep track of control by placing control markers. Changing history involves assassinations, planting ideas, providing assistance, preventing or causing critical events.

Recruit Troops

If you control an Era you may try to recruit one period unit from it. Roll 1d20. This is the Period Recruit Roll. On a roll of 12-20 you gain one unit.

The Atlanteans may make two rolls for the Prehistoric Era. Keep track of control of period units by stacking them and then placing a control marker on the stack. The Atlantean Player makes one Atlantean Recruit Roll:

1D20	Recruit
13-16	Monster
17-20	Roll for two Resources

Recruited Atlantean units begin in the Distant Past.

The Teraxian Player makes one Teraxian Recruit Roll:

1D6	Recruit
1-4	Scientist
5-8	Agent
9-12	Combat Team

1D6	Recruit
13	Combat Team & Roll for two Resources
5	Warship
6	Roll for two Resources

Recruited Teraxian units begin in the Far Future.

Seek & Destroy

If there are opposing units in the same Era they may fight. If neither side wants to fight there is no combat. If one side does not want to fight, it may attempt to hide or escape.

Roll 1D20. This is the Hide or Escape Roll. On a roll of 12-20 the player may hide all his units. They may not be attacked this turn. Alternatively, on a roll of 12-20 the player may have all of his non-period units escape.

Escaping units move to an adjacent Era. They may be attacked again in that Era. Units that fail to hide or escape must fight. If there is a fight each side adds up :

1. Each unit attacks simultaneously
2. Players roll a d20 for each unit and add that units attack modifier and any modifier from expending resources. If the modified roll is equal to or greater than the target units AC than that unit is defeated.

A New Hope

by sir gerard luft, kdm

Luke, Han and Leia need to get back to the Millennium Falcon in the Death Star's Docking Bay. But Vader and his minions are in hot pursuit.

Introduction

This game is played with two players. Each player begins with three character cards and their own deck, as detailed below.

Set Up

Light Side

Character Cards

Character	Power	Toughness	Force
Luke Skywalker	3	3	4
Leia Organa	3	3	3
Han Solo	3	3	3

Dark Side

Character Cards

Character	Power	Toughness	Force
Darth Vader	4	4	6
Boba Fett	3	3	2
Stormtrooper	1	1	1

Deck

Area	Power	# in Deck
Death Star Command Center	1	8
Death Star Detention Block	0	8
Death Star Docking Bay Control Room	0	8
Death Star Core Shaft Corridor	0	8

Miniatures And Map

If you have any problem keeping track of who is in what area each turn, draw up a map of the Death Star (or use the boards from the Escape from the Death Star Miniature Game) and pull out your Star Wars action figures or miniatures! (As a matter of fact, these game rules were modified from the D20 Star Wars Fast Play Rules.

The Turn

- Each player lays his character cards (and miniatures) out face up before him. Then they draw a card from their deck for each of their characters, going right to left. The cards drawn indicate which area of the Death Star each individual character is that turn (If random location seems unrealistic, one merely needs to watch a few episodes of Doctor Who, Star Wars Episode IV, or any early seasons of Star Trek: the Next Generation, to see the heroes running "like chickens with their heads off" trying to save their derrières; it's just the fun of true space operas!).
- If any character is in the same area with an opponent character, they may attack that opponent. (e.g., Luke, Leia, Boba Fett and the Storm Trooper are in the Command Center).
- Before a conflict occurs, players must decide if they wish to Tap (rotate 90 degrees/ AKA siding)

a character to use the Force to Support another character in the same area (e.g., Leia taps to support Luke, and Darth Vader taps to support Boba Fett. Characters tapped due to damage taken in previous turns can not be tapped to support.

- The attacking characters must choose their targets. A character that is tapped to support can not be targeted. If there is a character that is tapped due to damage, then that character can be targeted. Only characters tapping to support are exempted from being targeted.
- Players should take turns attacking. However all attacks are considered to be simultaneous.
- A player draws one card from their deck for each character attacking. The character can draw more than one card if any other characters are tapped to support him or her (e.g., Tapping Leia when in the same area as Luke allows Luke to draw three additional Attack Draws when he enters into a Conflict). A character can only receive as many points of Force as he has as his Force Level (i.e., If Leia- Force 3 and Han- Force 3, both tap to support Luke, Luke- Force 4 can only receive 4 of the 6 points of force supporting him). Each card in the deck has a Power score (either 0 or 1). Take the character's Power score and add that number of +1's that he or she received from their attack draw(s). If the modified Power of the character attacking is greater than the Toughness score of their target, then that character has been injured. The first time a character is injured, that character card is tapped. For the remainder of the game, that injured character can not tap to support another card in the same area. Also, if that tapped character is successfully hit again, then it is removed from the game.

- After all conflicts have been resolved, characters that were tapped to support are untapped.

The cards drawn for character location and Attack Draws are discarded. One does not need to reshuffle the discard pile each turn. But if one does, the probability balance will be much more accurate (this we found after doing some serious play testing with this game).

- The turn sequence repeats until all characters on one side are defeated. The player with the last man standing is the winner.

Abridged Dungeons & Dragons

Introduction

In 1979 the Classic Dungeons and Dragons game gave birth to a new game called Advanced Dungeons and Dragons. AD&D was originally created to provide detailed universal rulings for use in D&D tournaments. As time went on Basic Dungeons and Dragons became simply a launching board for new players to orient themselves to the game before heading onto the Advanced Dungeons and Dragons Rules (Usually after attaining third level with their first character). While the third edition of AD&D has reverted to the simple title of D&D, it is in essence still Advanced D&D. Present here is a reversion or devolution of the Original Dungeons and Dragons rules, which we call Abridged Dungeons and Dragons (AbD&D). In reality this is not a new or plagiarized game, but rather a simple compilation of the original 1969 Chainmail Fantasy Wargaming rules, with a role playing inspiration from the popular Risus RPG. Risus embodies the present trend to provide light game rules to role playing games, which is the goal of AbD&D.

Requirments

You will need ordinary (six-sided) dice, paper, pencil, and miniatures.

Character Creation

Identity

Create a name, description and background for your fantasy character, or choose a character from one of an epic fantasy or sword and sorcery novel.

Class

Choose one of the follow classes that fit your character

Hero/ Antihero: 4 Dice

Heroes include such characters as the ranger Strider from Lord of the Rings or Sir Bedeviere from La Mort d'Arthur. Perfect examples of an Anti-Hero would be Elric of Melnibone, and Fahred and the Grey Mouser of Lankhmar.

Wizard: 1 Dice

Wizards include such legends as Gandalf the Istari of the Lord of the Rings and Merlin of La Mort d'Arthur. Fire Balls: Once per turn a Wizard can launch a fire ball at a target. The fire ball will destroy all creatures within a 40' (4 Inch on Table Top) radius from the fireball's chosen impact area. Characters may roll 18 or greater on their combined class dice to avoid the damage. Magic: When Wizards cast spells, they must roll two dice (adding the rolls together; 2d6) on the table below to determine the success of the spell.

Spell Level (Complexity)	Effect	Dice Roll
1	Immediate Effect	7
	Delayed 1 Turn	6
	No Effect	4
2	Immediate Effect	8
	Delayed 1 Turn	7
	No Effect	5

4	Immediate Effect	10
	Delayed 1 Turn	9
	No Effect	7
5	Immediate Effect	11
	Delayed 1 Turn	10
	No Effect	8
6	Immediate Effect	12

Spell Level (Complexity)	Effect	Dice Roll
	Delayed 1 Turn	11
	No Effect	9

Spells

1. Phantasmal Forces: The creation of the apparition of a unit or creature for four turns, maximum duration. (Complexity 2)
2. Darkness: Casts increasing gloom over the entire playing area for as long as the Wizard is not attacked. On the turn that the spell is cast light is not affected, on the second turn semi-darkness sets in, and on the third turn it becomes fully dark (only those troops that can see in darkness can then attack/defend). The spell takes the reverse order when ended or countered. (Complexity 1)
3. Wizard Light: The dispelling of darkness in an area extending 24" in all directions radiating from the Wizard casting the spell. (Complexity 1)
4. Detection: A spell which detects either hidden enemies or the use and effect of other magic spells. It will not discover hidden enemies or the type of magic being employed if the opposing Wizard is of greater strength, but the magic by the enemy will be revealed. (Complexity 2)
5. Concealment: A spell which will conceal a unit/fantastic creature from all save certain creatures which have the power to detect hidden enemies. (Complexity 3)
6. Conjunction of an Elemental: Wizards can conjure Elementals, but no more than one of each type can be brought into existence. (Note: This does not apply to Djinn and Efreet.) If the Wizard who conjured the Elemental is disturbed (attacked) while the Elemental is still in existence, he loses control of it, and it will then attack the conjurer. An Elemental created by a Wizard who is subsequently killed will attack the nearest figure. Such Elementals must be dispelled by a Wizard or (killed) by combat. (Complexity 5)
7. Moving Terrain: Causing the shifting of vegetation/hills, etc. A spell possible only to a Wizard. (Complexity 6)
8. Protection from Evil: A 12" diameter circle which will keep out all evil fantastic creatures/men. (Complexity 3)
9. Levitate: A spell which allows the user to rise 6" per turn for up to six turns. It is possible to remain stationary, but lateral movement if not possible unless some form of propulsion is available. (Complexity 2)
10. Slowness: A spell which causes up to 20 figures to move at one-half speed for two turns. (Complexity 3)
11. Haste: A spell which speeds the movement of up to 20 figures by 50% for three turns. (Complexity 3)
12. Polymorph: This allows the user to change himself into the semblance of anything of from his own size to something as large as even a giant. It lasts until the user changes himself back or it is countered. (Complexity 4)

13. Confusion: By using this spell up to 20 of the enemy can be caused to react in absolutely the opposite manner. For example, if they advanced, they will be retreated instead. Duration is but one turn. The user secretly indicates which unit is to be confused, and when the spell takes effect he allows the enemy to move the troops and then when all movement is finished he changes the action of the confused unit to the opposite of what it actually did. (Complexity 4)
14. Hallucinatory Terrain: A spell which makes some form of terrain appear to exist/not exist until it is contacted by a living thing. At this the hallucination dissipates. Woods, rocks, marsh, etc. can be affected by this spell. (Complexity 4)
15. Cloudkill: A gaseous cloud of poisonous vapors which kill all men, orcs, dwarves, and the like when it contacts them. Cloud size is 3" deep by 6" wide by 3" high. It stays along the ground, moving away from the magic-user who casts it at the rate of 6" per turn. It will drift at random if he is not concentrating on it. (Complexity 5)
16. Anti-Magic Shell: This causes a bubble of force to surround the user and totally prevents anything magical from either entering or leaving the shell. It lasts for up to six turns. Shell radius is 5". (Complexity 6)

Elf: 3 Dice

From the angelic elves of Lord of the Rings to the mysterious Elden of the Eternal Champion, these creatures are the hallmark of the Fantasy Genre. They feature both an unearthly combat prowess and an inborn affinity for magic. Elves may become invisible at will, although they become visible again upon attacking.

Dwarves: 4 Dice

From the brave defenders of the great subterranean halls of Lord of the Rings to the faithful squires of La Mort d'Arthur, these stout bearded warriors are more deadly to ogres and giants than creatures their own size.

Hobbits: 2 Dice

What would an epic fantasy adventure be without Hobbits?

Character Advancement

When characters defeat an enemy during an adventure they get Points which accumulate allowing them to advance in dice (levels).

Points Accumulated	Hero	Elf	Dwarf	Hobbit	Wizards and Sorcerers
0	-	-	-	-	-
40	-	-	-	2 Dice	1 Dice
80	-	3 Dice	-	+1	0
160	4 Dice	+1	4 Dice	+1	0
320	+1	+1	+1	+1	0 (+1 Magic Roll)
640	+1	+1	+1	+1	0
1280	+1	+1	+1	+1	0
2560	+1	+1	+1	+1	0 (+1 Magic Roll)
5120	+1	+1	+1	+1	0
15360	+1	+1	+1	+1	0

+ 10240 Points for each level beyond those charted above. An example of a eight dice Hero (Super Hero) would be Conan the Barbarian. An Example of two dice, +3 Magic Sorcerer would be Thulsa Doom.

Skill Resolution

When a character wishes to perform a feat, such as picking a pocket for a hobbit or Anti-Hero, or charming a Non-Player Character (NPC) for an elf (their magically beautiful), then a difficulty must be set, which the PC must roll over or above on a combined class dice roll. Difficulty targets

- 3 for very easy
- 6 for easy
- 9 for normal
- 12 for difficult
- 15 for very difficult
- 18 for improbably
- 21 for impossible COMBAT A character (PC or NPC) can take as many hits during combat equal to their class dice (e.g., a four dice hero can take 4 successful hits) When two sides attack each other both roll a single die. The side with the highest roll attacks first. 1. Movement: Creatures on foot can move 60 feet (6 Inches). Mounted creatures and large creatures can move 120 feet (12 Inches) 2. Attack: The Attack Character rolls his Class

Dice. For each six that is rolled on the individual dice, one hit is inflicted on the target. A creature reduced to 0 hit points is defeated. Example: Strider the Ranger attacks an orc. He is a 5 dice Hero. He rolls five dice: 3, 5, 6, 2 and 6. Strider inflicts two hits on the orc. The NPC class of Orc is a 2 dice class. Thus its hits points are reduced to 0, and it is defeated.

Monsters

- Sprites and Pixies 1
- Goblins and Orcs 2
- Wraiths 2
- Lycanthropes 4
- Ogres and Trolls 6
- Giants 12
- Ents 6
- Rocs, Wyverns, Chimera and Griffons 4
- Elementals 4
- Basilisk 4
- Wights 1
- Dragons 25
- Other D&D Creatures= 1 die per Hit Die

Magic Items

- Armor: -1 to -5 dice to attacking creatures.
- Sword: +1 to +5 dice to that character's attack.

Acropolis

Introduction

Card game for 2-6 players. Each player takes the role of a prominent citizen of a newly founded Greek Colony. Players make money (Drachmas) by trading goods at the market (Agora).

They then use this money to construct the important buildings of their Fledgling City State.

Victory

At the end of the game, the player who has the highest score in the most Construction Categories wins.

Game End

The game ends when all 15 cards of the Build deck have been claimed.

The Decks

There are 2 Decks: The Agora Deck The Build Deck

The Agora Deck

The Agora deck is composed of 12 types of cards with 4 copies of each. These cards represent goods that can be traded in the marketplace. Whenever the Agora deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

The Build Deck

The Build deck is composed of 15 cards that fall into 3 types. These types or Construction Categories include: Military, Civic, and Religious. The top card of the Build Deck is always kept face up.

Money

Use coins to represent Money. The term for coins is Drachmas. Drachmas not owned by any player are kept in the Treasury (Bank).

Victory Pile

Each player has a Victory pile where he keeps the Bid cards he has won. Players keep the cards in their Victory Pile face up and visible to all.

Setup

Shuffle the decks. Players vote on who goes first in the first Bid phase. If tied, draw straws. The first player to go is called the First Citizen.

Rounds

Play occurs in rounds. A Round consists of 2 Market Turns, and then 1 Build Turn.

Market Turn

Each player is dealt 7 cards from the Agora Deck. Players may feely trade cards with each other. After all players have finished trading, they sell their hands.

A Hand can be one of 11 types:

Hand Type Chart:	Drachmas:	Hand Name:

1 FOAK & 1 TOAK	13	Olympiad

Build Turn

Players openly bid on the face-up top card of the Build deck. This card is called the Bid card. The First citizen bids first and then bids proceed clockwise around the table.

Bids are verbal and not secret. Bids are in an amount of Drachmas. You cannot bid more Drachmas than you have. To stay in the Bid, you must bid a higher amount than the previous player.

If no one bids higher than you, you win the Bid. The winner must discard the Drachmas he Bid to the Trea-

Note that the cards are not numbered, so a pair, TOAK, and FOAK are Referring to having cards of the same suite. For example a pair could be 2 Wine or it could be 2 Fish. Gain Drachmas for your hand from the Treasury according to the Chart. Players discard their hands after selling them.

surey. Other players keep their Drachmas. Drachmas are saved from turn to turn.

The winner puts the Bid card into his Victory Pile. Next Bid Turn the player to the left of the First Citizen becomes the new First Citizen.

End Game Scoring

The Build cards in your Victory Pile are used for scoring. Each player is scored in 3 Categories: Military, Civic, and Religious. Each build card has a Score written on it for 1 category.

Add up your score in each of the 3 categories. If 2 players are tied in a category, the winner is the player with the Most Buildings in that category. If they are still tied, the player with The highest scoring Building

Advanced Star Frontiers Lensman

Introduction

In the 198th year of the Galactic Federation (UPF 198fy), mankind attempted its first Intergalactic Voyage through Void Space. The Lensmen (adapted from Doc Smith's Lensman Space Opera) that now made up the upper echelons of Star Law, turned their mentalist talents to navigating ships along the superstrings (i.e., Slipstream of Roddenberry's Andromeda) of the Void's quantumspace continuum. The First Lensman Ranger made the Void Jump to Andromeda under half a minute. But that exploration would turn tragic.

Mankind made first contact with the centaur like beings of Andromeda, known as the Morad* (which look suspiciously like the Vedran of Roddenberry's Andromeda; conveniently, the fall of the Systems Commonwealth, according to the official Andromeda Time-Line, lines up exactly with the formation of the Asimov/Traveler Galactic Empire (AKA Third Imperium), which is a personal constant in all of my milieus (obviously the Commonwealth's fall resulted in mankind losing its Void space intergalactic capabilities, and returning to a Hyperspace based pangalactic drive, as we see in the Foundation series and Traveler)). The first contact with the Morad's intergalactic High Guard was less than desirable. Soon mankind found itself alienated by its non-human companions of the Federation, and embroiled in its first intergalactic war.

Since the Morad's Commonwealth had millennia of experience with intergalactic conquest, mankind had to turn to their only hope to win this war with the Second Galaxy: the Lensmen! While the Gray Lensmen scoured the Galaxy for spies, ships and infiltrators from the Second Galaxy, the Lensman Rangers piloted their Assault Scouts to the Second Galaxy in order to undertake espionage missions to bring down enemy bases and perform swift guerrilla tactics against Morad ships in its own Galaxy.

In this game you play a Lensman Ranger with his intergalactic assault scout ship. You must use your Lensman Powers to undermine enemy bases while battling any Morad ships that you encounter.

Set Up

You will need the card deck (given below) and 2 ten sided dice, that will be used together as 1D% (for those of you who are new to STAR FRONTIERS and other D% Games, roll one die to generate the 10's number and 1 die to generate the 1's number, with a roll of 0 and 0 being 100%).

You begin the game with your Lensman Ranger and Assault Scoutship on the table.

The Object Of The Game

When you have successfully infiltrated and brought down all four Morad quadrant bases in the Second Galaxy, you win.

The Game

After emerging from the Void's Slipstream into the Andromeda Galaxy, draw one card. If it is a ship card you will need to battle it.

Starship Combat Turn

1. Because of your Lensman mentalist skills, you can be prepared for the intruder before even exiting Void Space. So your Assault Ship attacks first each turn. Roll a 1D% for each weapon. If the roll is equal to or less than your Assault Scoutship's POWER, then you hit with that weapon. If you hit, subtract the damage from the opponent's hull points. If the ship is reduced to 0 or less Hull Points, it is defeated, and you make another jump, drawing another card.

2. If the enemy ship is not destroyed, then it gets to fire. To simulate your Ranger's Lensman powers affecting the opponent ship's crew, first make a 1D% roll for each of the shots they can take. If you roll equal to or under your Ranger's POWER then you may subtract your POWER from the opponents chance to hit for those weapons you make a successful POWER roll on. In Doc Smith's Second Stage Lensmen, he goes into beautiful detail how a group of Lensmen can even affect the outcome of a fleet battle!

3. After ascertaining all adjustments to the enemy ship, its time to roll for them. If they hit, then they inflict the listed damage to your hull point score. If you are destroyed, then the game is over.

4. If at the end of the battle you survive, but your ship is damaged, the new stat-of-the-art self repair system will repair your ship to full Hull Points by the time you exit Void space again for your next encounter.

Quadrant Base Infiltration Resolution

When you draw a BASE CARD, you must roll equal to or under your Ranger's POWER in order to effectively disable its operation. If you fail, draw one card from the Deck to combat. If you defeat this ship, then you can try again to infiltrate the base, but with a cumulative 20% penalty for each succeeding failure. If you draw a BASE CARD when drawing for failure response, then you have mistakenly found a connection to the next base via a Hyperspace Tunnel (while Hyperspace does not compare to Voidspace for Intergalactic Travel, it sure makes great mini-wormholes permanently connecting two points in the same Galaxy (it can still attempt to cross the Intergalactic Void, but it sure gets messy then; again, read Second Stage Lensmen)

Adventure Club

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Players are modern-day, rich, athletic, leisure-minded adventurers.

Victory

The game ends when all the Adventure cards (excluding Spoilers) are in player's Victory Piles. The player with the most Victory Points (VP) wins.

Traits

At the beginning of the game each player picks one of 3 traits:

- 1. World Class Athlete
- 2. Filthy Rich
- 3. No Responsibilities

Some adventure cards require the player to have one of these traits. These cards are called Spoiler cards.

The Decks

There are 2 Decks: Resource Deck & Adventure Deck.

Set Up

The most Adventurous, Athletic and Wealthy player (in real life) goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

- 1. Opportunity Phase
- 2. Resources Phase
- 3. Adventure Phase

Opportunity Phase

There must be 3 Adventure cards face up in the middle of the play area. If there are less, flip over the top card of the Adventure deck

Resource Deck

Draw 3 cards from the Resource deck. Max hand size is 10 cards. Discard excess cards. Players may trade Resource cards.

Adventure Deck

Each adventure card has a cost in Time, Wealth, and Conditioning cards. A player may discard resource cards that satisfy the requirements of a card to Claim it and put it in his/her Victory Pile. If a Resource card has a Skill associated with the Adventure card, then that Resource card is worth 2 cards.

For Example: To claim the "Hiking in the Gobi" adventure card you would Have to discard 2 Time cards, 2 Wealth cards, and 4 Conditioning Cards. Skills associated with this adventure include: Running, Desert, Hiking If a Conditioning card was of one of these skill types, it would be worth 2 cards. If you did not claim an Adventure card this turn or last turn, you may take one of the face up Adventure cards & put it on the bottom of the Adventure card deck.

Adventurers

Introduction

1930-1940's Adventuring: Save the damsel, defeat the villain, and recover the ancient artifact.

Deck

Players share a common deck. Six sided dice are required.

Adventurer

Profession:	Advantage:
Actor	+1D6 vs Person cards if not using a weapon card
Archaeologist	+1D6 vs Trap Encounters
College Professor	Discard a card to look at the next 4 cards in the deck
Daredevil Pilot	Draw an extra card when you play a Travel card
Gangster	You may use enemy cards as weapon cards
Inventor	Draw an extra card when you play a Weapon card
Museum Curator	Draw an extra card when you play a Research card
Occult Expert	Draw an extra card when you play an Ancient card
Private Investigator	In draw phase draw an extra card and discard one
Reporter	Hand size +2
Trapper	+1D6 vs Animal Encounters
Soldier of Fortune	+1D6 vs Enemy Encounters
Sea Captain	+1D6 vs Water Encounters

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Research Phase
3. Travel Phase
4. Encounter Phase
5. Research Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 2 cards. Max hand size = 5. Discard excess cards. If the deck runs out shuffle the discard and draw again.

Research Phase

Play research cards in this phase.

Travel Phase

If there is an Encounter card in front of the active player skip this phase. If not, the active player may play a Travel card or a Location card face up. The new card is placed on top of the players previously played travel/location card.

Victory

Your Adventurer must be the first to visit 5 locations. The last location must be an Ancient location. You recover the ancient relic before your adversaries.

Setup

Pick your adventurer type. Draw 5 cards. Roll high on 1D6 to determine who goes first.

A location card may only be played if the previous card was a Travel card.

Encounter Phase

If your are not currently facing an unresolved Encounter card, the Opponent to your right may play an Encounter card from his hand on you. The Encounter card must match the top Travel or Location card you have face up. The opponent rolls 3D6 or 4D6 for the Encounter card according to the cards description (Force 3 or 4).

This is the Encounter roll. The opponent may attach a Weapon card to a Person Encounter for an additional 1D6. The active player rolls 3D6. This is the Escape roll.

The player may play a weapon card for an additional 1D6. Weapon cards cannot be used against trap encounters. If the Escape roll is higher that the encounter roll discard the encounter card, otherwise it stays in play.

Some Action, Item cards will cause the automatic escape from an encounter.

Adventures In Talislanta

Introduction

Board game based on the Talislanta RPG.

Disclaimer

Talislanta is a licensed, copyrighted property. This is merely a fan site.

The Board

The board is a 11 x 11 grid of spaces. In each space place one card (randomly) from the Map Deck.

The Pieces

10 sided dice are needed. Use pawns or figures to represent characters.

The Decks

There are 4 decks: The Character Deck The Spell Deck The Encounter (Fate) Deck The Map Deck

Encounter Deck

There are 5 types of cards in the Encounter Deck: Foe Cards Adventure Cards Item Cards Companion Cards Event Cards

Victory

The first character to accumulate 5 Adventure cards is the winner.

Characters

Each character has 2 attributes: - Life - Strength All Characters start with 4 Life points. Each Character will also have one or more Special Abilities. Some Characters can cast Spells.

Setup

Every player picks one character card at random. Roll high on 1D10 to see who goes first. Players start with no cards.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 phases:

1. Fate Phase
2. Spell Phase
3. Move Phase
4. Encounter Phase
5. Adventure Phase

Fate Phase

Draw one card from the Encounter Deck and put it in your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max (Fate) hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

You may place a Foe card from your hand into any empty space. The Foe card must match the type of space you entered. For example: A water type Foe may defend a water type space.

Spell Phase

If you are able to cast spells, draw 1 card from the spell deck. Keep a separate (from your encounter cards) hand for your spell deck. You can have a maximum number of spells equal to your Magic score divided by two rounded down. Discard excess cards.

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Move Phase

You may move your character to an adjacent space on the map. If you have a steed card in play, you may move an additional space. You may choose to not move and rest instead.

If you rest, roll 1D10 (Heal Roll). On a roll of 7-10 you gain one life. You cannot gain lives in excess of your starting life score.

Encounter Phase

Every time you enter a new space an opponent may play a Foe card to stop you. The player to your right gets first chance to play a Foe card and so on. The Foe card must match the type of space you entered.

For example: An Ice type Foe may defend an Ice type space. A Character can only be attacked by one Foe (or Character) during his encounter Phase.

Resolving Encounters (battles/contests)

The Foe rolls 1D10 and adds its Strength. (Foe Battle Roll) The Character rolls 1D10 and adds his Strength. (Character Battle Roll) Reroll ties. The higher score wins. If the Character was defeated he loses one life point. Specific Foes may cause the loss of items, treasures or other attributes.

Instead of losing a life, you may discard a Companion card. If the Foe is defeated the Foe card is discarded. If the Foe card wins, it remains in play in that space.

Any character that enters the space must battle the Foe in his Encounter Phase.

Adventure Phase

If you are in the {appropriate space} and no Foes or opposing characters occupy the Space, you may play an Adventure card. Each Adventure card presents a Strength contest that must be overcome. If you win the Strength contest you 'complete' the Adventure.

Make a separate pile for all of your completed Adventure cards. If you fail discard the Adventure card and lose one life. If you moved at least one space and did not play an Adventure card this turn, you may attach one Item or Companion card to your Character. (The card is placed next to your Character card)

Death

A Character reduced to zero life points is killed. Discard the character card and all his items, companions, and spells. Draw a new character and play with it.

Spell Casting

When you use a spell card it goes to the discard pile.

Experience

For every 10 points worth of Foes you defeat, gain one point of Strength or Life. Use colored tokens placed on the character to indicate the added points. Blue for Life, Red for Strength.

Character Duels

If you land on an opposing character, and there are no Foes present, you may Fight him on a roll of 7-10 on 1D10 (The Tracking Roll- to find opponent) The winner of the contest takes one Item card from the loser or causes the loser to lose one life point.

Items

You can only use one Weapon at a time. You can only have one Steed in play at a time. If you travel on a steed or fly you must leave behind companions that could not conceivably keep up.

Faq

1. You draw spell card(s) in the Spell Card Phase. When can you cast? You can cast them whenever it seems appropriate.
2. You can only be attacked by 1 Foe or Character in your Encounter Phase. Understand this to mean there is only 1 Foe card allowed on a space at a time. But, you won't get attacked by another

Character until the latter's phase so couldn't you always encounter a foe, finish your turn, then get attacked in the next player's turn? Yes thats how it works (but I'm open to suggestions).

3. An Adventure can be played after defeating a Foe? Yes.
4. Last instruction about Adventures is that "If moved and did not play an Adventure card this turn. . ." Is this the only way/time you can acquire an item or companion from out of your own hand to put next to your character card? Yes. (This is a rule that could easily be changed)

Adventures In Wonderland

Introduction

Card game for 2+ players. Based on the book "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland" by Lewis Carroll.

Victory

Wake up your opponents by increasing their Insanity Totals to 19+.

Insanity Points

Each player has a starting Insanity total of zero.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 4 types of cards: Character Cards Location Cards Action Cards Modifier Cards

Setup

All players are dealt a hand of 7 cards. The cleverest player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 phases:

1. Untwist Phase
2. Draw Phase
3. Story Phase
4. Play Phase
5. Insanity Phase
6. End Phase

Untwist Phase

All cards that are twisted sideways are twisted right side up.

Draw Phase

Draw one card. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it.

Story Phase

You automatically get 1 Free Story Point (SP) You may Twist your land cards sideways to generate 1 additional SP each.

Play Phase

You may put Location, Character, and Modifier cards into play. These cards are put face up on the table in front of you. Location, Character, and Modifier cards stay in play until Some other rule or card causes them to be discarded.

Character and some Modifier cards require the spending of Story Points (their cost) to put them in play. Modifier cards are attached to Character cards.

Insanity Phase

Twist your Character cards sideways to have them "Attack" a target player. Each unblocked character causes that player to gain insanity points equal to The Insanity Level of the attacking Character. The targeted opponent may block your attackers with his untwisted characters.

Attacker & Blocker compare Insanity Levels. The lower level of the two is discarded. If equal, both are discarded. Two or more characters may combine to block a single attacker.

Discard combined characters with a combined level equal to the level of the attacker.

End Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards. Story points not spent are lost.

Action Cards

Play action cards whenever appropriate. Action cards are discarded after being played.

Afghanistan

Introduction

Card game for 2 Players. One player is the Americans. The other player is the Taliban.

Theme: 2006-2010+ Simulation of the ongoing conflict in Afghanistan following the Taliban resurgence after the US led Invasion in 2001.

Game End

The game ends when a turn starts and there are no cards left in the deck.

Victory

The player in control of the most Influence Tokens and Strength Points worth of Allies at the end of the game wins.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are 3 types of cards:

1. Ally Cards
2. Event Cards
3. Action Cards

Ally Cards

Ally cards represent Governments, Leaders, Military Organizations, Political Institutions, Factions, and all manner of groups and individuals that can contribute to the Strength of one or both sides. Allies come in 3 Types: American Allies (Only the American player may Control them) Taliban Allies (Only the Taliban player may Control them) Neutral Allies (Either Player may control them) Taliban and American Allies are collectively called Aligned Allies.

Action Cards

These cards can be used to make or strengthen an attack. Some have special abilities that go off when the attack is made. Some have special abilities that allow them to be used in non-attack functions.

Event Cards

These cards produce effects that are not direct attacks.

Strength Rating

Ally and Action cards have a Strength Rating (SR) ranging from 3 to 9. SR on Ally cards count towards victory at the end of the game. SR on Action cards contribute to the total Strength of an Attack.

SR on Ally cards are used to defend against Attacks.

Influence Tokens

Players share a common set of Influence Tokens (IT). They represent a measure of a number of factors including: Political Will, Morale, Organization, Intelligence, Military Power, Survivability, Recruiting Capacity, Diplomatic Skill, and Economic Resources. They count towards Victory at the end of the game.

These are used to recruit Allies. They can be used to initiate extra attacks. You cannot have negative IT.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Each player is dealt 5 cards. Each player starts with 20 Influence Tokens.

The Taliban Player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 Phases:

1. Logistics Phase
2. Strategy Phase
3. Event Phase
4. Recruit Phase
5. Attack Phase
6. End Phase

Logistics Phase

Gain 7 Influence Tokens. Certain Allies will allow you to gain additional IT in this Phase.

Strategy Phase

Draw 2 cards from the top of the Deck. You may draw extra Cards for 3 Influence Tokens each.

Event Phase

Unless the stated otherwise Event cards are played in this Phase. Event cards are discarded after their effect is resolved.

Recruit Phase

You may play 1 or more Allies. You must pay the cost for each Ally in Influence Tokens. The base cost of each ally is 2 less than its Strength Point Rating.

Allies are placed face up in front of you. If you don't have the IT you can't buy it.

Attack Phase

An attack against a Neutral Ally is made to Control. An attack against an Aligned Ally is made to Neutralize. (Note: Neutralized does not necessarily mean utterly destroyed, rather the Ally has had its effectiveness substantially reduced) The target of the attack is the Defender.

If a Control Attack is successful you gain control of the Ally: Move its card over to your side. If a Neutralization Attack is successful, discard the target Ally. To make an attack you must play 1 or more Action cards.

The combined strength ratings of the action cards must exceed the Strength rating of the target Ally card. You get 1 Free attack per turn. Additional Attacks cost 3 Influence Points each.

Action cards are discarded after an attack is resolved. Instead of Attacking a players Allies you may attack their IT instead. This is called an Attrition Attack.

The player targeted by an Attrition Attack loses IT equal to the Strength of the Attack. If the target goes to zero IT (or is 0 IT to begin with) the attacker gains 2 IT.

End Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Card List Notation

T Taliban only can use this card (If Ally it is Aligned)

A American only can use this card (If Ally it is Aligned)

B Both players can use this card (If Ally it is Neutral)

African Empires

Introduction

Board Game for 3-6 players. Theme: Rise and fall of various Native Empires in Western and Sub-Saharan Africa circa 1100-1700 AD.

Victory

The game ends when one or more players have accumulated over 100 Victory Tokens. The winner is the player with the most Victory Tokens (VT). If players are tied, use possession of the Kings Marker going clockwise as the tiebreaker.

Components

Kingdom Mats Africa Deck Victory Tokens Player Control Counter Sets Chits Kings Marker

Kingdom Mats

Each one of these oversize cards represents one historic African Empire. Each simply has the name of the Empire written on it. (An image representative of that Empire would be appropriate)

Africa Deck

This is a common deck. Card Types include: Government, Economy, Religion, Migrants, Disasters

Victory Tokens

These come in Denominations of 1, 5, 10, 25.

Player Control Counter Sets

Each player gets a set of a unique color.

Chits

These come in 4 types: Government, Economy, Religion, Disasters The Government, Economy, and Religion chits are Resource Chits. Disasters are not Resource chits.

Kings Marker

This should be a small sculpture with an African theme/origin. The current holder of the marker goes first in play phase.

Setup

Shuffle the Africa Deck. Keep Tokens and Chits handy. Randomly select X Kingdom Mats. X = the number of Players.

Place these Mats face up in the middle of the Table. Each player picks a Control Counter Set. One player at random is given the Kings Marker.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 6 Phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. First Play Phase
3. Second Play Phase
4. Event Phase
5. Score Phase
6. End Phase

Draw Phase

Each player is dealt 3 random cards from the top of the Africa deck. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

First Play Phase

Each player takes a turn starting with the holder of the Kings Marker and then going clockwise. One your turn play (reveal) one of your cards and have it target one of the available Kingdom Mats. Place one of your control counters on the target Mat.

Place a chit on the Mat corresponding to the type of card you played. (Example: If an Economy card is played, place an Economy Chit) (Note: that Migrant cards produce no Chit) Discard the Card.

Collapse Rule

When a fifth Disaster chit is placed on a Kingdom, the Kingdom is destroyed. Discard it and all Chits and Counters on it. Immediately draw another random Kingdom Mat to replace it.

Second Play Phase

Each player takes a turn starting with the holder of the Kings Marker and then going clockwise. One your turn play (reveal) one of your cards and have it target one of the available Kingdom Mats. Place one of your control counters on the target Mat.

Place a chit on the Mat corresponding to the type of card you played. (Note that Migrant cards produce no Chit) Discard the Card.

Melds & Resources

A Meld is all the resource chits of one type on a target Kingdom Mat. For instance if there were 3 Government Chits on Yoruba the Government Meld of Yoruba would be 3. Remember that Disasters do not count as resources.

Event Phase

Each player takes a turn starting with the holder of the Kings Marker and then going clockwise. On your turn play (reveal) your remaining Africa card: If you play a Government Card, move a Resource chit from one Kingdom Mat to another. If you play a Migrant Card, move a Control Marker from one Kingdom Mat to another.

If you play a Disaster Card, discard a Resource chit from one Kingdom Mat. If you play a Religion Card, gain 2 Victory Tokens. If you play an Economy Card, place 1 Resource Chit of any type onto one Kingdom Mat.

Discard the Africa Cards.

Score Phase

Score each Kingdom Mat in turn. The player with the most control counters on the Mat gets a number of Victory Tokens equal to the largest Meld on the Mat.

The player with the second most control counters on the Mat gets a number of Victory Tokens equal to the second largest Meld on the Mat. (or zero if there is not a second meld) The player with the third most control counters on the Mat gets a number of Victory Tokens equal to the smallest Meld on the Mat. (or zero if there is not a third meld) If players are tied for Control Counters, use possession of the Kings Marker going clockwise as the tiebreaker.

Each Player keeps their accumulated Victory Tokens in a pile in front of them.

End Phase

Check for Victory Conditions. The current holder of the Kings Marker passes it to the player to his left.

Afrika Korps

Introduction

Card game for two players. Simulation of the North Africa campaign of WWII. One player is the Germans (& Italians), the other player is the Commonwealth (British & Allies).

Victory

Control all 6 Terrain Tokens to win.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Card Types

- G Only the German (Axis) player can use these cards
- C Only the Commonwealth (Allied) player can use these cards
- B Both players can use this card
- A This card can only be used by the attacker
- D This card can only be used by the defender
- E This card can be used in either attack or defense
- S Supply card: can be used by either player

Turn	Germans	Commonwealth	Historical Commentary:
1-3	8	6	Rommel Arrives
4-6	7	7	Montgomery Arrives
7+	6	8	Operation Torch

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Strategy Phase

Players may discard up to 3 cards and draw replacements.

Card List

Card Name	Force	User	Type	Notes
Field Marshall Erwin Rommel	9	G	E
The Desert Fox	8	G	E
Sturm, Swung, Wucht	7	G	A
Luftwaffe	7	G	E

Terrain Tokens

Each player starts the game with 3 Terrain Tokens. Every time you win a hand, you take a Token from your opponent.

Attackers/defenders

The Germans start the game as the Attackers. The Commonwealth starts the game as the Defenders. After the first turn, the Attacker is always the player who won the previous hand.

Only the Attacking player can use Attack cards. Only the Defending player can use Defense cards.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 3 phases: Logistics Phase Strategy Phase Battle Phase

Logistics Phase

Each player draws a number of cards depending on what turn it is:

Battle Phase

Players reveal their hands. Every card has a Force value. Players add up the Force value of all the cards in their hand.

If a player cannot use a card, it has a Force of zero. (Nationality & Attacker/Defender limitations) If one player has a Supply card and the other does not, the Player with the supply card gets a Force bonus of +5. The player with highest total Force wins the hand.

The Winner takes a Terrain Token from his opponent.

Afv Skirmish

Introduction

Two Player Board & Card Game of Modern Tank Combat.

Victory

Destroy all enemy Armored Fighting Vehicle Units.

Units

Each player starts the game with 8 AFV (Armored Fighting Vehicle) Units. Use Miniatures, counters, or tokens to represent AFV's Each Unit represents a combined arms squadron.

Setup

Each player places one unit on each square of his back two rows. Units may not stack. Flip a coin to see who goes first.

Each player is dealt a hand of 5 cards

The Deck

Players share a common Deck. The Deck contains 10 types of Cards: Offensive Attack Defensive Attack Units Weapons Movement Obstacle Protection Leadership Morale Reconnaissance

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Orders Phase
2. Move Phase
3. Fire Phase

Card List

Card Name	Type
Deliberate Attack	A
Frontal Attack	A
Hasty Attack	A
Main Attack	A
Supporting Attack	A
Decisive Engagement	A
Direct Fire	A

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your units. Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. Instead of moving just one unit in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more units forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Your opponent may play Obstacle cards to negate the Move of a single unit.

Fire Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack. Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. The enemy unit that is the target of the attack is automatically destroyed and removed from the map.

Your opponent may play Protection cards to negate your Attack.

Card Notation

- A Offensive Attack: Move 1 space or attack into adjacent space
- D Defense Attack: Attack into adjacent Space
- W Weapons: Attack of Range = 2
- M Maneuver: Move Unit 2 Spaces
- U Unit: Move Unit 1 space
- O Obstacle: Negate Move
- P Protection: Negate Attack
- L Leader: Draw 2 Cards
- Z Morale Card: Opponent must discard 2 random cards
- R Reconnaissance: Look at Opponents hand or next 5 cards in deck

Game Designers Notes

These are the same cards from AFV. If you make the Deck you will be able to play both games.

Age Of Antiquity

Introduction

Board game for 2-5 players. Ancient Civilization Building Theme.

Game End

The Game ends by mutual decision: Short Game: 12 Turns Regular Game: 16 Turns Long Game 20 Turns

Victory

The player with the most Victory Points (VP) at the end of the game wins.

Components

Civ Card Deck

This deck has 37 cards each describing a special ability that a culture can develop during the game. Each player receives 5 random Civ cards at the beginning of the game that they can potentially use. Players can gain more Civ cards by picking the Dissemination Action.

Event Card Deck

This deck has 31 cards. These can confer random benefits or penalties. An Event card is revealed whenever a player takes the Event Action.

Leader Deck

This deck has 27 cards. Leaders offer random substantial short term benefits. A Leader card is revealed whenever a player takes the Leader Action.

Monument Deck

This deck has 24 cards. Monuments offer substantial benefits. When a player takes the Monument Action he picks and pays for 1 card from the top 4 Face-up cards in the Monument Deck. The player places that card in front of him and another Monument card is drawn to replace the one just built.

Monuments provide a VP bonus when built.

The Action Board

This is the main board, placed in the center of the table. It is a 6 x 6 Grid, divided into 36 Squares. Each square should be big enough to contain 1 Player counter.

Each square contains a title and text describing 1 or more possible actions.

The Map

There are Land Territories and Sea Territories.

Pre Game Map Setup

Each Territory on the Map will produce 1 type of good. Types are determined randomly and are written directly onto the Map. (You may want to create multiple maps) Southern Territories are those that border the Mediterranean or are otherwise south or lateral to it. All other territories are Northern.

Roll 1D6 for each land Territory. Every time a City is built, roll on the City Table to see what good it produces. This is in addition to the Good already present.

Player Mats

Each player has his own Mat kept in front of him on the table. Each Mat is a 4 x 4 Grid divided into 16 Squares. Each square should be big enough to contain a stack of Player counters.

01	02	03	04

Players stack up counters on a square to indicate the quantity they have of that item available.

Player Counter Sets

Each player needs a stackable set of counters of a unique color. These can be used as:

1. Action counters for the Action Board
2. Stockpile counters on a Players Mat
3. Control Markers on the Territory Map

Five Count Counters

There should be a common set of counters that players can use on their Player mats. Each one of these is worth 5 player counters.

Dice

Ten and six sided dice are needed. When determining a random player roll the die and count off going clockwise.

Turn Track And Counter

This is used to keep track of what number turn it is.

The Leader Token

The Leader takes possession of this object. The Leader gets to take the first action every turn followed by the other players going clockwise around the table.

Setup

Each player starts with 3 Territories: Select a Land Territory on the Map and place one of your counters in it. Then place a counter in 2 adjacent Territories (land or water). At the start of the game each player must have at least one territory that is not adjacent to a territory occupied by another player.

You cannot place a counter in a territory occupied by another player. Each player starts with 6 Food. Each player starts with 5 Resources.

Each player starts with 4 Gold. Each player starts with 2 Actions. Each player draws 2 Random Culture cards. He discards 1 and keeps the other.

A player keeps his selected Culture Card face up in front of him. Each player is dealt 5 Random Civ Cards. Flip over the top 4 cards of the Monument Deck.

Players roll high on the die to determine who the Lead Player is. Give the Lead Player the Leader Token. Place the turn marker on turn 1 of the turn track.

Rounding

Always round up.

Turn Sequence

Each Turn has 3 Phases:

1. Action Phase
2. Upkeep Phase
3. End Phase

1. ACTION PHASE
Players take turns taking actions, starting with the Leader and going clockwise. To take an action, take one of the counters from the action square on your player mat and place it onto any unoccupied square on the action board. Then read off the name of the square you selected. If the action square gives a choice of actions, immediately declare which one you are taking. Resolve actions as soon as they are chosen.

This continues until no players have any actions left. You cannot take an action you cannot pay for.

2. UPKEEP PHASE

You must pay 1 Gold or 1 Food for each of your Armies and Fleets. Remove the payments from your player mat. If you cannot or do not want to pay for an Army or Fleet, you may take the Mercenary Option: Discard the Unit and gain 3 Gold.

3. END PHASE

Remove all Player Counters from the Action Board and return them to each player's respective Action square on their Player Mat. Move the Turn counter 1 space up on the turn track.

I. Territory Stockpile

Territories are gained by the Colonize, Expansion, and Conquest Actions. They can also be stolen by the War Action. Territories limit the number of cities you can build.

The Land Use Action produces either Food or Resources based on the number of Territories you own.

Whenever you gain a territory place a counter on a Territory space on the map. Newly gained territories must be adjacent to territories you already control or connected by a number of sea spaces not in excess of the number of Fleets you own.

II. Population Stockpile

Populations are gained by the Immigration, Population Growth, and Population Explosion Actions. They can also be stolen by the Assimilation Action. Populations are used up to Expand and to build Cities, Armies, and Fleets.

III. Food Stockpile

Food is gained by the Harvest, Land Use, Fishing, and Market Actions. It can also be stolen by the Raid Action. Food is converted into populations through the Population Growth and Explosion actions.

Food can also be used for the upkeep of Armies and Fleets.

IV. Resource Stockpiles

This represents materials such as wood, stone, metal, cloth, and clay. Resources are gained by the Production, Land Use, Labor, and Market Actions. Resources can be used for building Cities and Monuments.

They are also needed to build Armies and Fleets.

V. Gold Stockpiles

Gold is gained through the Trade, Taxation, and Plunder Actions. It can be stolen by the Raid Action. Gold can also be used for the upkeep of Armies and Fleets.

Through the Market action, Gold can be used to buy Food, Resources, Ideas, and VP.

VI. Army Stockpiles

Armies are gained by the Raise Armies Action. Armies are required for the War, Conquest, and Cattle Raid Actions.

VII. Fleet Stockpiles

Fleets are gained by the Shipbuilding Action. Fleets enhance the Fishing Action. Fleets are required for the Colonization, Discovery, and Sea Raid Actions.

Armies can be used to satisfy requirements for War Actions.

VIII. City Stockpiles

Cities are gained by the Urbanization and Colonize Actions. Cities limit your maximum level in Government. The Taxation Action produces Gold based on the number of Cities you own.

The Cultural Revolution Action produces VP based in part on the number of Cities you own. When you build a City, stack a second Counter on top of a Territory you already control. 2 Counters in a Territory indicate the presence of a city.

Ix. Idea Stockpile

Ideas are gained by the Invention, Trade, Eureka, Dissemination, and Market Actions. Ideas are used up to put Civ Cards into play by using the Civilization Action. Ideas are used up to gain a Level in Government, Culture, Industry, Military, and Agriculture by using the Advance and Progress Actions.

X. Government Level Stockpile

Levels in Government are gained by using the Advance and Progress Actions. Government Levels increase the number of Actions you can take each turn. Your level in Government cannot exceed the number of Cities you control.

Xi. Agriculture Level Stockpile

Levels in Agriculture are gained by using the Advance and Progress Actions. Agriculture Levels increase the amount of Food you get from the Harvest action.

Xii. Industry Level Stockpile

Levels in Industry are gained by using the Advance and Progress Actions. Industry Levels increase the amount of Resources you get from the Production Action.

Xiii. Culture Level Stockpile

Levels in Culture are gained by using the Advance and Progress Actions. Culture levels apply to the Cultural Revolution and Assimilation Actions.

Ivx. Military Stockpile

Levels in Military are gained by using the Advance and Progress Actions. This gives an advantage in Wars.

Vx. Actions Stockpile

You get Actions = 2 + Your Level in Government.

Vix. Victory Point Stockpile

VP are gained through Eureka, Diplomacy, Initiative, Market, Conquest, and Cultural Revolution Actions. VP Totals determine the winner at the end of the game.

Advances

Government, Culture, Industry, Military, and Agriculture are collectively referred to as Advances.

1. THE TRADE ACTION

Gain 1 Idea. Also gain 1 + X Gold. X = Number of different types of Luxury Goods you Control.

2. MONUMENT ACTION

When a player takes the Monument Action he picks and pays for 1 card from the top 4 Face-up cards from the Monument Deck. The cost in Resources for the Monument is listed on the card. If you have access to Marble the cost is -2.

The Monument gives a VP reward and usually an additional benefit. The player places that card in front of him and another Monument card is drawn to replace the one just built. When you build a Monument, stack a third Counter on top of a Territory with a city you already control. Remember the Location of the Monument.

3 Counters in a Territory indicate the presence of a city with a Monument.

3. COLONIZE ACTION

Gain 1 Coastal Territory and 1 VP. Costs 1 Fleet.

4. SHIPBUILDING ACTION

Build X Fleets. Costs X Population and 3X Resources. Limit = 2 + number of Wood & Flax Territories you control.

5. FISHING ACTION

Gain 1 Food per Coastal Territory you control.

6. INITIATIVE ACTION

Age Of Enlightenment

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Theme: Age of Reason 18th Century. Players try to claim the most/best people and ideas from The Age of Enlightenment.

Victory

The game ends when both decks have been used up. The player with the most Enlightenment points wins.

The Decks

There are 2 common decks:
1. The Personage Deck
2. The Discovery Deck
Only Personage cards go into players hands.

Setup

The most enlightened player goes first. Failing that, roll high on 1D6. Every player is dealt 1 card from the Personage Deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 phases:
1. Draw Phase
2. Person Phase
3. Discovery Phase
4. End Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 3 Person cards. Keep 1. Discard 1. Pass 1 to the player to your left. If the Personage deck is down to 2 or less cards, it is considered to be "used up": skip this phase.

Person Phase

You may put one Person card from your hand into play face up in front of you. You are said to control this person. If you play a Benefactor, draw 2 Person cards and put them in your hand.

Personages Deck Card List

Name:	Nation	Type
Sir Isaac Newton	E	S
Francis Bacon	E	S

Discovery Phase

For each person you control in turn flip over 1 Discovery card. Musicians get to flip over 4 cards. If the type Discovery card drawn is that of the Person, you get to keep it.

(Science for Scientists, Philosophy for Philosophers, Music for Musicians) Idea cards count as both Philosophy and Science cards. Benefactors may only discover Idea cards. Put discovery cards you control face up in front of you.

When the Discovery deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. If no cards remain in the discard, the game ends. If you play an Idea card, you may immediately put another Person card from your hand into play (that person does not draw this phase).

End Phase

Max hand size is 3 cards. Discard excess cards.

End Of Game Final Scoring

Each Discovery card has an Enlightenment Point (EP) value. The player with the most English Persons gets 50 EP. The player with the most French Persons gets 50 EP.

The player with the most German Persons gets 50 EP. The player with the most Scientists gets 50 EP. The player with the most Philosophers gets 50 EP.

The player with the most Musicians gets 50 EP.

Age Of Industry

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Each player controls a country during the First Industrial Revolution. Players try to develop their economies as quickly as possible.

Victory

The first player to have a combined score of 100+ in Guns and Luxury Goods wins. If more than 1 person gets 100+ on the same turn, the Player with the higher score wins. If it is still tied, use transportation, and then Population, as tie-breakers.

Resources

There are 7 types of Resources:

1. Food (Agriculture: Crops, Grains, Livestock, Fisheries)
2. Population (Skilled and Unskilled Labor)
3. Fossil Fuels (Coal, Oil, Gas)
4. Steel (Production Capacity)
5. Transportation (Trains, Shipping, Roads)
6. Guns (Military Weapons, Ammunition, and Vehicles)
7. Luxury Goods (Peacetime Consumption)

Each player has a score in each of the seven resources. As the game progresses, these scores will go up and down. Use paper and pencil (or a scoring track) to record your scores.

The Decks

There are 2 common decks:

1. The Industry Deck
2. The Event Deck

The Industry Deck

The industry deck contains 10 cards for each of the 7 resources. These cards are used in Development phase to increase your scores. The deck has 2 copies of each card.

Starting Resource Scores

Each player has the following starting scores. 20 Food 10 Population 5 Fossil Fuels 5 Steel 5 Transportation 5 Guns 5 Luxury Goods One random player is given the Initiative marker. The Initiative marker determines who goes first in each phase during the turn.

Resource Limit Chart

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 8 phases:

1. Resource Phase
2. Transport Phase
3. Trade Phase
4. Event Phase
5. Development Phase
6. War Phase
7. Peace Phase
8. Initiative Phase

Resource Phase

Each player draws 7 cards from the Industry deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Transport Phase

Each player may discard up to 3 cards to the Industry deck and Draw replacement cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Trade Phase

Players may freely trade Industry cards, resources, and promises. Promises are non-binding.

Event Phase

Each player draws one card from the Event deck. Resolve and discard the Events as they are drawn. If any player draws a War card, there will be a War in War phase.

Note that event cards target the player who draws them. If unstated, Events only last the current turn. Event cards may cause Resources to be increased past their regular limits.

Development Phase

Each player may play (discard) up to 3 Industry cards. A played card increases a players score in the indicated Resource by The indicated amount. Note that most Resources are limited in score to the score of one or more Of your other Resources. If a card would bring your score above this limit, the Card may not be played.

Resource:	Limit:
Food	There is no Limit to your Food score
Population	Your Population score can be no higher than your Food score
Fossil Fuels	There is no Limit to your Fossil Fuel score
Steel	Steel cannot be higher than your Fuel score
Transportation	Transport cannot exceed your Steel or your Fuel scores
Guns	Gun score cannot be greater than Steel or Population scores
Luxury Goods	You cannot have more Luxury goods than Population

Note: If a score goes down for some reason, it does not cause scores that Depend on it to also go down.

War Phase

If one or more War Event cards were revealed in War phase, there is a War. The player with the highest Gun score wins the war. (Players may take turns discarding gun cards from their hands to temporarily increase their Gun scores for the purpose of this contest.) If tied, use Transport, and then Population scores as tie-breakers.

The winner steals 2 random cards next turn from any other player in Resource Phase. The losers immediately lose 2 points from their scores in all their Resources.

Agea

Introduction

Card Game. Greek Heroes undertake adventures of Mythic proportions. Players accumulate Heroes, City States, Relics, and great Victories over legendary monsters with the aid of the Gods.

The Cards

To play you will have to make your own cards. There are 129 cards in the deck. Use unlined colored index cards.

One side should be blank or have the name Agea written on it. The other side should include: Name of the card. For example: Sphinx Card Type. For example: Event; or Non-Monster Foe; or Non-Foe Challenge All information in the card description. For example: Wit (Riddle)

CARDSET AVAILABLE at Mythicagea

Setup

Flip coins or roll dice to determine turn order. Turn order remains the same for the rest of the game. Shuffle the deck.

Players cut the deck until each has one hero. Players put their hero face up on the table "in play". Players start the game with no cards in their hands.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. There are 3 phases in a turn:

1. Recovery Phase
2. Draw Phase
3. Adventure Phases

Recovery Phase

Remove 1 Delay Token from all of your Heroes that have them. Use coins, dice, or whatever for Delay Tokens. Maximum hand size = 7 Cards.

Discard down to maximum hand size.

Draw Phase

Draw 1 Card. Whenever a card is drawn show it to all players. If it is a Challenge card discard it into the discard pile.

If it is a City State or Hero place it face up in front of you. You now control the Card, but it is not part of your hand. If you draw a Relic or Companion, either attach it to a Hero or keep it in your hand to be attached at a later time.

Attached cards are placed partially under the Hero card with their names showing. If it is an Event Card play it or keep it, unless the card instructs you to play it immediately. Event cards are discarded as soon as their effect is resolved.

Play Event cards whenever it is appropriate.

Adventure Phase

Each of your heroes that does not have delay counter(s) may, in any order, draw a card (Go adventuring). All Heroes adventure separately. Play City States, Heroes, and Events as in Draw Phase.

Any Relics or Companions found must be attached to that Hero only. If a Hero draws a Challenge card the hero is tested: If the Hero has the trait listed on the Challenge card the Hero is victorious and the Challenge card is placed in that players Victory Pile. Relics & Companions lend their traits to their Hero owner.

Event cards, like Blessings, can also give Heroes extra traits. If the Hero does not have the trait, then the Hero is defeated. Put 1D6 (1 die roll) Delay tokens on the Defeated Hero and discard the Challenge.

If you roll a 6 the hero and all his possessions are discarded. (A Greek Tragedy) If the Challenge card contained the word 'destroyer' in its description then that player must also discard a City State. Sample Challenges:

1. Hercules encounters the Hydra. Hercules has the trait 'Strength' and the Hydra is a test of strength or wit, so Hercules is victorious.

2. Argo meets the Hydra. Argo has neither strength nor wit, so he is defeated and gets 1D6 delay tokens.

3. Ajax has the relic 'Blade of Hephaestus' which gives him the trait of 'War'. He encounters the Centaurs and defeats them.

4. Theseus draws 'Lost at Sea'. He plays the event 'Blessing of Poseidon' giving him the navigation trait. He overcomes the challenge. Note: a hero with the Demigod trait will automatically overcome any challenge on a roll of 1-2 on 1D6.

Wars

There are 4 Event cards that start wars. All players add up the number of Heroes and City states they control, plus all of the War and Army traits they can muster. Do not count delayed Heroes.

Each player adds 1D6 to their sum. The sum is called the Battle Total. The player with the highest Battle Total is the winner.

The winner may take a City State away from one of the losers. The winner puts the War event card in his Victory pile.

Ending The Game

The game ends when the last card is drawn from the deck.

Accomplishment	VP Awarded
Per Hero you control	1
Per City State you control	1
Per Relic owned	1

Victory

The player with the most accumulated victory points (VP) at the end of the game is the winner. Gain VP in the following manner:

Accomplishment	VP Awarded
Per War won	4
Per Blessing in your final Hand	1
Per Challenge in your Victory Pile	1

Some cards will contribute more VP according to their card description.

Agents Of Shield

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Based on the TV show Agents of Shield.

Disclaimer

Agents of Shield is a licensed, copyrighted property. This is merely a Fan Site.

Victory

Have the most Plot cards in your Victory Pile when the game ends. If tied the player with the most Levels worth of Plot cards wins.

Abr:	Trait:	Notes:
Cbt	Combat	Tactics, Marksmanship, Martial Arts
Ldr	Leadership	Management, Negotiations, Persuasion, Strategy
Sup	Support	Piloting, Logistics, Mechanics, Operations
Spy	Espionage	Disguise, Gadgets, Sleight of Hand, Interrogation
Com	Computers	Hacking, Communications, Intel Gathering, Analysis
Eng	Engineering	Physics, Weapons Technology, Construction
Bio	Biochem	Biology, Chemistry, Medical, Exams, Autopsies

Setup

Shuffle both Decks. Flip over the top 5 cards of the PLOT Deck. These are called the Revealed Plots. Biggest Marvel Fan goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each Turn has 4 Phases:

1. Recruit Phase
2. Action Phase
3. Investigation Phase
4. Recovery Phase

Recruit Phase

Fill your hand to 7 Cards from the SHIELD Deck. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Action Phase

You may reveal one card from your hand (do not discard it) and get One special Benefit from it:

1. If it is a Leader card, you may look at the next 5 cards in

The SHIELD deck and put one of them in your hand.

Game End

The game ends when all Plot cards have been captured.

The Decks

There are 2 Decks:

1. The SHIELD Deck
2. The PLOT Deck

Levels

All cards have a numerical level.

Traits

Most cards have one or more Traits:

2. If it is a Combat card you cause one target Plot card to be discarded.
The discarded card goes to the bottom of the PLOT deck.

3. If it is a Support card draw 2 cards from the SHIELD deck and then discard
Any 2 cards from your Hand.

4. If it is a Spy card, look at your opponents hand and steal any 1 card.

5. If it is a Computer card look at the next 5 cards in the PLOT Deck and then

Draw 1 SHIELD card.

6. If it is a Biochem card, take any 1 Agent from the Discard and put it in Your Hand.

7. If it is an Engineering card all your Agents get +1 Level this turn.

Investigation Phase

Play (Discard) SHIELD cards from your hand with a total Level matching or exceeding the Level of a target Revealed Plot card. The SHIELD cards must also have Traits that at minimum match the Traits of the target Plot card. If this is done the Plot card is captured and put into your Victory Pile. If possible, you may capture multiple revealed Plot cards in a single turn.

Every time a Revealed Plot card is captured immediately flip over Another one from the top of the PLOT Deck so that there are always Five Revealed Plot cards available.

Recovery Phase

You may discard up to 2 SHIELD cards from your hand.

Special Cards

When the Traitor PLOT card comes into play, all the Grant SHIELD cards are Removed from play.

Air Fare

Introduction

2-6 player Bidding Card Game. Players control airlines.

Object

Have the most money at the end of the game. Add to your bank account the base cost of all of your planes and landing rights minus any loans.

The Deck

There are 110 cards in the deck. There are 3 types of cards: Planes, Landing Rights, and Events. Landing Rights cards are also called Terminals.

Other Materials

Calculators and pen & paper are needed. Alternatively, use play money to represent profits. A 10 sided die is also needed (1D10).

Setup

Each player starts with: $50 (50 Million dollars). One Boeing 737 or one McDonnell Douglas DC-9. Landing rights to two Minor Airports.

Remove the Plane and Landing Rights cards from the deck.

Turn Sequence

Maintenance Phase Draw Phase Flying Phase Revenue Phase Bid Phase End Phase

Maintenance Phase

Each player rolls 1D10 for each of his planes. Very old planes are grounded on a roll of 1-3. Old planes are grounded on a roll of 1-2.

New planes are grounded on a roll of 1.

Draw Phase

All players draw one card. The cards are placed face up on the center of the table. This is known as the Bidding Pool.

If there are no cards left in the deck, the game is over.

Flying Phase

Remove all of your planes from their current terminals. Move (Fly) all non-grounded planes to a different terminal in a different city. Planes with a "US" range cannot fly to Europe.

Flights connecting to Europe must originate or end in New York, Atlanta, Miami, Boston, or Washington DC. Place plane cards face up onto your terminal cards. Your planes can only fly to terminals you control.

Certain Events may prevent flights into or out of specific cities. The Concorde can only be used to fly between New York and Europe.

Revenue Phase

When a plane lands, you get an amount of money that depends on the number of landing rights, at that city, you control. Each Minor airport terminal gives a revenue of $10, no matter how many you control. At major Hubs, each landing will generate progressively more revenue, according to the table built into the Landing Rights card list.

For example: The first plane you land at Miami International gives $20. The second plane you land earns $40. If you control all 4 landing rights, the fourth plane you land produces $90. Certain types of planes will increase or decrease the revenue generated by their flight. Money can be saved from turn to turn in your "Bank account".

Pay interest on loans. If you cannot pay, you go bankrupt and lose the game.

Bid Phase

Event Cards are discarded. Players may bid on some, none, or all of the plane cards and landing rights cards in the Bidding Pool. Bids are written down in secret and are revealed simultaneously.

You cannot bid more money than you have in your account. Planes and Landing rights have Base costs as given in the card lists. A Bid cannot be for less than the Base Cost.

The player that bid the most for a card gets control of it. That player keeps the card and subtracts the bid amount from his Bank account. If you lose a Bid you do not lose the money you bid.

If a bid is a tie, all players lose the bid, and the card remains in the pool for next turn. Discard any cards no one bid on.

End Phase

Place the cards you won in bidding face up in front of you. They can start being used to generate income next turn. You may have more planes than landing rights and vice-a-versa.

Raise Money Fast

You may at any time sell your planes and landing rights to neutral third parties. Discard the card and gain money equal to the cards base cost. You can take a maximum bank loan of up to $100 at an interest payment of 20% per turn.

Players can also sell cards to each other, or make loans to each other.

Rev Increase/decrease in revenue generated by flight.

Event Card List

Event:	#	Effect
Pilot Strike	1	You get no income this turn
New York snowed in	1	No flights to/from NY this turn
Chicago Bag Handlers Strike	1	No flights to/from Chicago this turn
Riots in Los Angeles	1	No flights to/from Los Angeles this turn
Plane Crash	1	Lose one of your planes and $100 in litigation & settlements
Air Traffic Controllers Strike	1	No flights to/from Atlanta this turn
Hurricane	1	No flights to/from Miami this turn
Oil Shortage	1	Everyone makes 50% revenue this turn
Holiday Season	1	Everyone makes 150% revenue this turn
Maintenance	5	Everyone pays $10 for each of their planes this turn
Terminal Tax	2	Everyone pays $10 for each of their landing rights this turn
Independence Day	1	Flights to Boston +50% revenue this turn
Snowbirds	1	Flights to Miami +50% revenue this turn
Terrorism	1	No flights to/from Europe this turn
Strong Dollar	1	Flights to Europe +50% revenue this turn
Effective Advertising Campaign	4	You get +50% income this turn

Price War Optional Rule

During Maintenance phase each player may pick one or more cities that they have landing rights at. These cities generate no income this turn.

Advertising Phase Optional Rule

Insert this optional phase in between the Flying and Revenue Phases. Players secretly write down how much money they are spending on advertising for each of the cities they have landing rights at. If you spent more than an opponent you get to take 10% of his revenue from that city.

If you spent twice as much as an opponent you get to take 1D10 X 10% of his revenue from that city. Unlike lost bids, all money spent on advertising is gone. Example: 4 players (A,B,C,D) have rights at the same city.

Player A spends $0 on advertising and promotions. B spends $3. C spends $5. D spends $10. B rolls 1D10 X 10 and gets 50. B gets 50% of A's revenue.

C gets 10% of B's income and 1D10 X 10% of A's remaining income. D gets 1D10 X 10% of the remaining profits of A, B, and C.

Faster Game Variants

For a quicker game remove 10-40 nonevent cards from the deck. Or, remove all the Boeing 757s, McDonnell Douglas MD-80s, Atlanta rights and Washington DC rights.

Air Tac

Introduction

Modern Jet Fighter Dogfighting. Board & Card game for 2 Players.

Victory

Shoot your opponents planes out of the Air.

The Board

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

Dice

Six sided dice are needed.

Pieces

Use little plastic (or metal) airplanes that fit on the squares of the board.

Jets

Each player gets 2 planes, a Leader & a Wingman.

Missiles

Use Counters to keep track of missiles. Each plane carries 6 Missiles. Discard a Counter each time a plane makes a missile attack.

Guns

Each Plane has a forward facing gun. Ammo is not kept track of.

Hits

Use Counters to keep track of Damage. Each plane can take 4 Hits before being shot down.

Facing

Facing of units is important in this game. Planes can face the sides or corners of the squares they are in.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Setup

Place your Jets at opposite ends of the board.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases: Tactics Phase Maneuver Phase Fire Phase Orientation Phase

Tactics Phase

Draw 3 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it. Discard a Pilot card to draw 2 cards.

Discard an Identification card to draw 1 card from the deck & look at opponent's hand.

Maneuver Phase

Each of your planes must make 1 move. Movement can be default or by use of a Movement card. A Default move is a Roll, Turn, Hard Turn, Bank, or Straight Run of 1 Space.

The opponent can play a Negation card to negate a Movement card (& Force a Default Move). Discard a Team card to give 2 of your Planes an extra Default Move. A Move card will be of a specific Type (Bank, Roll, etc.) but will allow the Plane to move up to 1D6 Spaces.

Discard an Error card to Move Enemy Plane (just like you would one of your own). Discard a Scramble card to let one of your Planes make a second move.

Straight Run

This is a Forward move by a Plane in the direction it is Facing.

Banking

The plane moves forward diagonally (Left or Right), but does not change Facing.

Turn

The Plane changes facing 45 degrees, then moves.

Hard Turn

The Plane changes facing 45 degrees, then moves, then changes facing 45 degrees again. Both face changing's must be in the same direction.

Roll

The Plane move to the Left or Right, but does not change Facing.

Loop

The plane moves forwards or backwards and changes Facing 180 degrees.

Immelman

The plane moves backwards but does not change Facing.

Leader & Wingman

As its move, Discard a Team card to have a plane move to a square adjacent to its Wingman or Leader and facing in the same direction.

Off The Map

If a plane goes off the board, it loops around and reenters the board on the Opposite side. (maintaining the same facing & completing its move)

Fire Phase

A Fighter can only attack a target within a 45-degree cone it is facing (this does not wrap around). To attack, the attacker must discard an Attack card with the exact range as that of the target. Guns do 1 Hit of Damage. Missiles do 2 Hits of Damage.

The attacker may play a Kill card to do an additional 3 points of damage (Automatic Kill). The Target player may play a Defense card to cause the attack to miss. The Target may play an Evasion card to move out of range of an attack (causing it to miss).

Stacking

Planes may stack, even with enemy planes.

Air To Air

Introduction

Two player card game simulating modern Jet Fighter Air Combat.

Objective

Kill all of your opponent's planes.

Setup

Determine how many planes each player has. In the standard game each side has 2 planes: A flight leader and his wingman. For a quick game play one-on-one.

A dogfight involving many planes is referred to as a Furball. Use coins or dice to keep track of planes.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains six types of cards: Maneuver, Attack, Defense, Kill, Initiative, Team, and Pilot card types. All cards also have a point value.

The deck contains one copy of each card in the list.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 5 phases: Tactics Phase Reflex Phase Maneuver Phase Attack Phase Kill Phase

Tactics Phase

Each player is dealt 5 cards face up. Each player draws an additional 5 cards (or 6 cards if you have more planes) If the deck runs out shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Reflex Phase

Each player may discard up to 3 cards in his hand and draw replacements.

Card List

Card Name:	Type	Points
Fast & Lethal	P	9
Pilot Instincts	P	8
Ace Pilot	P	7
Skill & Determination	P	6
Aggression	P	5

Maneuver Phase

Players place their hands face up with their other face up cards. The player with the most points worth of maneuver cards becomes the attacker. The other player is the defender.

If it is a tie, the turn ends. Initiative cards may be used as Maneuver cards in the first turn of a game. After the first turn, Initiative cards are useless.

If a player has two or more planes remaining, he may use Team cards as Maneuver cards.

Attack Phase

If the attacker has more Attack card points than the defender has Defense card points the attacker scores a hit. Otherwise it is a miss.

Kill Phase

If the attacker scored a hit and he played at least one Kill card, one enemy plane is destroyed. If you win the game, add up the scores on all the Kill cards you used to kill enemy planes to get a final "Score".

Pilot Cards

Pilot cards are wild cards: If they are in the initial 5 dealt face up in tactics phase, they count as Maneuver cards. If they are played from the hand, they are attack cards if you are the attacker or defense cards if you are the defender.

Air War Europe

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Basic Simulation of the Air War component of WWII.

Victory

There are 2 ways to win: Reduce your opponent to zero Production Points. Accumulate twice the Strategy Tokens of your opponent (Minimum 5).

The Decks

There are 3 types of decks: Mission Deck (Common Deck) Event Deck (Common Deck) Plane Deck (Unique for each player) If any deck ever runs out, shuffle its discard and draw from it.

Experience Markers

After each mission, a Plane card gets 1 Experience Marker (XM) Use cardboard counters or chits as Markers.

Production Point Score

A running Total that determines how many Plane cards a player draws in Production Phase. Use scratch paper to keep track of your Production Point (PP) Score.

Strategy Tokens

A running Total that represents how well your Ground War effort is going. Use coins to represent Strategy Tokens (ST).

6	3

The drawn Plane cards are immediately put into play. (Placed Face-up in front of you.)

Briefing Phase

Put the top 3 cards of the Mission Deck into play. Leave Bombing Missions in Play. Discard Espionage Missions and draw 2 Event cards for each Espionage Mission you discard.

Planes

Every Plane has a Score in 3 Categories:

- AF Air Attack Force
- SF Strategic Bombing Force
- GF Ground Support Force

Setup

Determine which player gets which Plane Deck (Choose Sides). Roll high on 1D10 to see who gets the first turn. Each player starts with 10 PP (Production Points) Players cannot go on Missions on their first turn.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each Turn has 8 Phases: Event Phase Industry Phase Production Phase Briefing Phase Mission Phase Strategy Phase Experience Phase Debriefing Phase

Event Phase

Draw 2 Event cards and put them in your hand.

Industry Phase

Gain 1 Production Point. (Add this to your running total)

Production Phase

Draw X cards from the Top of your Plane Deck. (X is determined in the following table by your Production Point Score)

Mission Phase

Assign your Planes (Bombers and Fighter escort) to Missions. Your planes are considered to be 'Attacking'. There are 2 types of Missions: Ground Support Missions (GSM) and Strategic Bombing Missions (SBM) A SBM must have at least 1 Bomber with SF ability assigned to it per Level of the Mission.

A GSM must have at least 1 Plane with GF ability assigned to it per Level of the Mission. Each Mission is resolved in turn, in a mini-turn of 3 Segments: Scramble Segment Interception Segment Bombing Segment

Scramble Segment

The Defending Player (the other Player) may assign Fighters to intercept your Planes. Note: A Plane can only go on one Mission per turn and A fighter can intercept only one Mission per turn.

Interception Segment

Every Plane (Attacker & Defender) assigned to the Mission makes one Air Attack Roll: Roll 1D10: If the result is equal to or higher than the AF (Air Attack Force) of the Plane making the roll, then one opposing Plane is shot down (discarded). Experience Bonuses are added to the Roll, and various Event cards can be played to boost or negate Air Attack Rolls. A player determines which of his planes on a mission are shot down.

The Defending player gets to make one extra attack due to ground fire & Flak. This is called the Flak roll and it has an AF = 7. Defending Night Fighters get AF +1.

Bombing Segment

Only your planes that survived Interception Segment can make Bombing Rolls: Roll 1D10: If the result is equal to or higher than the SF (for a SBM) or the GF (for a GSM) of the Plane making the roll, then the Mission is a success. As long as one plane succeeds the Mission is a Success. Experience Bonuses are added to the Roll, and various Event cards can be played to boost or negate Strategic Bombing Rolls.

Air Supremacy Rule

If there are no defending Fighters assigned to the Mission, the Attacking planes get +1 to their Payload Rolls.

Mission Deck Card List

Strategy Phase

Gain Strategy Tokens = to the level of any Ground Support Missions you completed. If you accumulate twice the Strategy Tokens of your opponent (Minimum 5), you win. Your Opponent loses Production Points = to the level of any Strategic Bombing Missions you completed.

If your opponent is reduced to zero Production Points you win.

Experience Phase

After each mission it goes on, a Plane card gets 1 Experience Marker (XM) Planes receive Force Bonuses based on the number of missions they've flown:

XM	Force	Notes:
0	-	Green
2	+1	Flier
5	+2	Veteran
9+	+3	Ace

This Force bonus applies to all Force Rolls this plane makes.

Debriefing Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards. Discard all Missions in Play.

Airship Adventures

Introduction

Board game for 2-4+ players. Players control fanciful Victorian Airships used to complete various Missions around the Globe.

Background

The year is 1850 and Airships rule the Skies!

Victory

The first player to accumulate 20 Victory Points (VP) is the winner.

Setup

Each player controls an Airship. Each player starts with 5 Crew cards and 5 Attachment cards randomly drawn. These are placed face up in front of the player. Crew are the exceptional people aboard the Airship. Attachments include Weapons, Tools, Rooms, and Equipment built into the Airship. Players should name their Airship and its Captain. Roll high on 1D100 to determine turn Order. Each player places a pawn representing their Airship onto an empty location on the Map.

Airships

An Airship can have a max of 10 Crew. An Airship can have a max of 15 Attachments. You may discard old/unwanted Crew/Attachments to make room for new ones.

The Decks

There are 3 Decks: The Mission Deck The Crew Deck The Attachment Deck

Dice

10-sided dice are needed to roll percentages (D100).

1D100	Result:
01-25	Do not Move (Storm, Mechanical Problems, Resupply...)
26-75	You may move your Airship Pawn to an adjacent Location
76+	You may move your Airship Pawn 1 or 2 spaces

Add your total speed trait bonus to your roll.

Adventure Phase

If there is an Mission card in the Location your Airship is in, you may attempt it. Roll 1D100 (The

The Map

Procure a "Victorian" Map of the World to be divided up into the following locations: North Pole (Arctic) South Pole (Antarctic) North Atlantic Ocean South Atlantic Ocean Indian Ocean North Pacific Ocean South Pacific Ocean South China Sea Australia Indonesia India China Japan Russia Middle East North Africa South Africa Europe United Kingdom North America Central America South America

Traits

Each Airship has 6 Basic Traits:

1. Military (M)
2. Exploration (X)
3. Diplomacy (D)
4. Transportation (T)
5. Rescue (R)
6. Speed (S)

Attachments and Crew will give bonuses to these Traits.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 Phases: Mission Phase Travel Phase Adventure Phase Reputation Phase Spoilage Phase

Mission Phase

Skip this Phase every other turn. Draw the top Mission card from the mission Deck and Place it face-up on the table. Every Mission card has a Location where any Airship in that location can attempt it.

Travel Phase

Roll 1D100 (The Travel Roll):

Adventure Roll):

1D100	Result:
01-30	Failure
31-70	Partial Success
71+	Total Success

Add to your roll any bonuses you have in traits that are appropriate to that Mission. (For example in the Mission: "Race with Monoplane" the Trait associated with This mission is Speed. If you have the Sails Attachment, you would get +4 to your roll) If a mission has multiple Traits, all bonuses apply. No matter what the result, discard the Mission card.

If there are multiple Mission cards available for this Location, you may attempt each in turn this Phase.

Reputation Phase

Every time you fail a mission lose 2 VP and 1 crew or attachment. For a partially successful mission gain

1 VP. For complete success on a mission, gain 3 VP and 1 crew or attachment.

When losing a Crew or attachment, shuffle your cards together and draw 1 at random. If gaining a Crew or attachment draw a random card from the Crew or Attachment deck.

Spoilage Phase

For every Face-up Mission that is older than 2 Turns roll 1D6: On a roll of 6 remove the Mission from the Map.

Alamo

Introduction

Card game. Simulates the siege of the Alamo in 1836.

Cards

Players will have to make their own sets of cards. The Texians and Mexicans have their own unique decks. On the Deck lists, # = number of that card in the deck.

Notice that most cards have a force value.

Set Up

Shuffle both decks. The Texian player draws 4 cards. The Mexican player draws 4 cards.

Turn Sequence

The turn is divided into 4 phases: Draw Phase Bombardment Phase Discard Phase Mexican Attack Phase

Draw Phase

Both players draw 1 card from their respective decks.

Bombardment Phase

Players may discard 1 or more Artillery cards. The recipient must discard the top card of their deck, or cards from their hands with a combined Force equal or greater than that of the Artillery card.

Discard Phase

If the Mexican player has more than 7 cards he must discard the excess. If the Texian player has more than 7 cards he must shuffle the excess into his deck.

Mexican Attack Phase

The Mexican player may decide not to attack. If so, the turn ends. To attack the Mexican player places cards from his hand to the table. The Mexican must attack with at least one Leader or Reserve card.

The Mexican player may play up to 1 equipment card, 1 tactics card, 1 Artillery card, 1 Leader card, 2 Reserve cards, and any number of non-reserve Troop cards. Troop cards get a bonus of +10 Force, if they are played with their matching Leader. Add up the force value of all of these cards and multiply by 2 if a Breach card is used.

This number is the Total Mexican Force Value. The Texians may defend by playing cards to the table. The Texian player may play up to 2 equipment cards, 1 tactics card, 2 Artillery cards, 1 Leader card, 1 morale card, 1 standing defense, and any number of Troop cards.

Add up the force value of all of these cards and multiply by 2 if a Texian Fire card is used. This number is the Total Texian Force Value. Compare the Total Force Values of Both Sides.

The winner is the higher total. If tied, both players discard all their cards played. The winner shuffles the surviving cards into his deck.

The loser discards all cards played. The loser must discard cards from his hand or drawn from the top of his deck with a combined Force value equal to or greater than the difference between the Total values. Doubler cards are considered to be Force = 50 for this purpose.

The winner may keep played cards with a combined Force value equal to or less than the difference between the Total values.

Mexican Victory

If the Texian player goes to draw a card and there are no cards left in his deck, then the Mexicans are able to take the Fortress with fewer casualties than they did in historical fact.

Texian Victory

If the Mexican player goes to draw a card and there are no cards left in his deck, then the Mexicans take more casualties than historical fact.

Alaska

Introduction

Card and Dice game for 2-5 players. Alaska Theme. Each player controls 1 town in Alaska.

Build up your town and score the most points.

Victory

The player with the most Victory Points at the end of the game wins.

Money

Currency in the form of Dollars is used.

The Common Deck

Players share a common deck. Before play it must be stacked: Shuffle all the Early cards to make the top third of the deck. Shuffle all the Late cards to make the bottom third of the deck.

Card Types

There are Resource (Investment) Cards and Event Cards.

Resource Cards

There are 13 Resource card types: Indians, Mines, Fish, Wood, Ships, Ground, Air, Government, Military, Oil, Agriculture, Service, and Tourism

Event Cards

Event cards are mixed into the deck just like resource cards. They effect the player who draws them. If a card allows a free buy, it must be of a card set aside or drawn this turn; if There are no candidates, it has no effect.

Event cards once drawn and played are removed from the game.

The Dice

Six sided dice are used.

Common Deck Card List

Setup

Each player starts with 2 Dollars. The strangest player goes first. Stack the Deck as described above in The Decks Section.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn is divided into 2 phases:

1. Revenue Phase
2. Investment Phase

Revenue Phase

Gain 1 Dollar for free. Roll 1D6 or 2D6 Gain Revenue from every one of your Resources whose score matches your roll. If your roll did not match any of your cards gain a second Dollar for free.

Dollars come from the Bank. If a Resource has the ticket Property, then 1 Dollar comes from an opponent Instead of the Bank.

Investment Phase

Have the top 3 cards of the deck face up. You may buy one card for its face value. You may buy a second card for double its cost.

You may buy the third card for triple its cost. You may buy a fourth card for quadruple the cost and so on. Cards not bought are set aside and can be bought later by any player on their Turn in addition to and/or instead of the top 3 that are always revealed.

Game End

The Game ends when there are no more cards left to draw: All players in order may spend the last of their Dollars.

End Game Scoring

Score 1 Victory Point for every Card you own. Score 2 VP for every Government and Military Card. Score 3 VP for every Oil and Tourism Card.

Score 2 VP if you have the most cards of a type (Check for all 13 types)

Alexander The Game

Introduction

2 player Card & Dice Game. Alexander the Great Theme. One player is Alexander. The other is the Conquests.

Victory

Reduce opponent to zero Army tokens. The Victor's Score is equal to the number of Army Tokens he has left.

The Decks

There are 2 decks: Conquest Deck (Difficulty Cards) Alexander Deck (Solution Cards) The Alexander Deck gets the Reconnaissance Cards.

Dice

Six-sided Dice are needed.

Army Tokens

Each player gets 20 Army Tokens.

Setup

Shuffle the Decks. Each player gets one of the Decks.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 6 Phases:

1. Logistics Phase
2. Reconnaissance Phase
3. Difficulty Phase
4. Strategy Phase
5. Conquest Phase
6. Final Phase

1. LOGISTICS PHASE

Each player draws 3 Cards from their own deck.

2. RECONNAISSANCE PHASE

The Alexander Player may discard a Reconnaissance card to look at his opponents hand. He may then draw 1 card or discard 2 cards to draw 3 cards.

3. DIFFICULTY PHASE

First the Conquest Player may discard 1 Card:

Card:	Effect:
Satrap	Play 2 more Cards or Draw 2 Cards and play 1.
Large Army	Gain 2 Bonus Dice.
Raids	Opponent Discards 3 Random Cards.
Fortified City	Gain 1D6 Army Tokens.
Privations	Gain 1 Bonus Die.
Mutiny	Opponent loses 1D6 Army Tokens.

The Alexander Player may immediately discard 1 card in response to a card just played by the Conquest player to negate it.

Card:	Effect:
Political Support	Negate Satrap Card.
Military Genius	Negate Large Army Card.
Occupation	Negate Raid Card.
Siege	Negate Fortified City Card.
Live Off the Land	Negate Privations Card.
Ruthlessness	Negate Mutiny Card.

4. STRATEGY PHASE

The Alexander Player may then play another card:

Card:	Effect:
Political Support	Gain 1D6 Army Tokens.
Military Genius	Gain 2 Bonus Dice.
Occupation	Gain 1D6 Army Tokens.
Siege	Gain 1 Bonus Die.

Card:	Effect:
Live Off the Land	Draw 2 Cards. Opponent discards 2 Random Cards.
Ruthlessness	Play 2 more Cards.

5. CONQUEST PHASE

The Conquest player rolls 3 Dice plus any Bonus Dice.
The Alexander player rolls 3 Dice plus any Bonus Dice.
The player with the lower sum loses Army Tokens equal to the difference of sums.

6. FINAL PHASE

Max hand is 3 cards. Discard excess cards.

Solo Card Game Rules

Introduction

Solo Card Game with an Alexander the Great Theme.

Scoring

Your score = the number of cards in your Conquest Pile. Do not count cards in your Defeat Pile.

The Deck

The deck contains 2 card types: Difficulty Cards
Solution Cards

Setup

Shuffle the Deck. Randomly separate the Deck into 4 equal Territory piles. Flip over the Top card of each Territory Pile.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 3 Phases:

1. Strategy Phase
2. Conquest Phase
3. Defeat Phase

Strategy Phase

You may put face up Solution Cards from the Territory piles into your hand. Your Hand may only ever contain Solution cards. The Top card of all Territory Piles is always Face up, so When you take a Solution card, the next card is immediately placed Face up and Also becomes available to be put in your hand, if it is a Solution card.

You may never have more than 4 cards in your hand. If you put a fifth card in your hand, immediately discard a card to your Defeat Pile. You may discard (to the Conquest pile) a Face up Reconnaissance card to look at the Rest of the cards in that Territory (For 15 seconds).

Conquest Phase

You may overcome face up Difficulty cards in the Territory Piles. A Difficulty card is overcome by playing a Solution card that matches it. Both cards of the match are put in your Conquest Pile.

Defeat Phase

You may put face up face up Difficulty cards in the Territory Piles into your Defeat pile.

Victory

52 cards in the Conquest pile is a perfect score.
Exceptional = 48+

Good 44+

Clear victory = 40+

Alien Conspiracy

Preface

Aliens are among us. But what do they want?

Introduction

Card game for 2+ players. Each player picks one of 8 Factions of Aliens to represent.

Alien Factions

1. Conservators- they want the status quo... observation & study only.
2. Experimentalists- they secretly start wars, plagues, earthquakes, etc.
3. Reformers- they want to help humanity: They secretly give us technology & mitigate disease, disaster, & bad decisions.
4. Revelationists- they want to reveal the presence of the aliens to humanity.
5. Prohibitionists- they want all Aliens to leave the Earth completely alone, including no observation.
6. Subjugators- they want to enslave the human race.
7. Destructors- they want to destroy the human race.
8. Profitters- they want to profit off the other factions.

Victory

The first player to gain 100 Influence points wins.

Alien Empires

Introduction

Use the special abilities of your Race to dominate your opponents.

Object

Control all 20 of the worlds on the map.

The Map

Use a starfield hex map.

Map Setup

Distribute 20 World (Planet/System) chits (tokens, markers) onto the map. Two planets cannot occupy the same space.

Cards

The common deck contains 3 types of cards: Force cards Race cards Event cards All cards are mixed together. See the card list.

Chits

Each player has a set of 50+ control chits (units, markers, tokens). Each player has a unique color.

Player Setup

All players roll 1D10. Reroll ties. In order of the rolls, each player picks one World to be his homeworld. A player places 10 markers on his Homeworld.

Players start with 10 cards. Each player plays 3 Race cards from his hand face up onto the table. These are the Abilities, Traits or Powers that this player will have for the remainder of the game.

These Race cards are called the Racial Destiny Cards. Players may discard Race cards with conflicting rules. If a player does not have 3 Race cards, he may draw cards until he does.

Players discard down to 10 cards.

Rounds, Turns, & Phases

Players take turns. Turn order is the reverse order of that determined in player setup. The time it takes for all players to take a turn is called a round.

The player whose turn it is currently is known as the active player. Turns are divided into 4 phases:

Turn Sequence

1. Fate Phase
2. Genesis Phase
3. Migration Phase
4. Conflict Phase

Fate Phase

The active player may draw 5 cards. Discard down to 10 cards.

Genesis Phase

Each planet colonized by the active player gains 1 token.

Migration Phase

Active player only. All of your markers may move once per turn. Markers may move 2 spaces.

Any world you have tokens on is considered to be colonized.

Conflict Phase

All conflicts in this phase must involve the active player. The active player decides the order in which conflicts are resolved. Only one conflict is allowed per space per turn.

The active player may initiate a maximum of 3 conflicts this phase. The attacker and defender are known as the primary players. Tokens in the same space and adjacent spaces may participate.

Other players with tokens in those spaces may add tokens to the attacker or defenders side, if the primary player allows it. These are ally tokens. The defender draws one card. Primary players take turns playing race cards and event cards that can affect The outcome of the conflict.

Players simultaneously reveal one or more force cards, if they have any. Each token is worth 1 point of force. Each side adds up its force total = population tokens in stack + force card value + other race & card effects.

The side with the highest force total wins. Losing tokens are destroyed. All played cards are discarded.

Players allied to the winning side get to draw a card.

Introduction

Warp Quest is an abstract game system that depicts goal driven scenarios.

Each player controls a collection of Units who are attempting to be the first to reach an objective and bring it back to the start.

The units could be a party of adventuring archeologists hoping to recover a lost artifact, a squadron of bombers attempting to hit a military target and return home, a band of samurai seeking to vanquish marauding bandits or a company of mixed creatures seeking to destroy a piece of evil ornamental jewelry that has the nasty habit of trying to control the minds of all free creatures.

The scenarios that use the Warp Quest engine will hold the details.

Dice & Pieces

- Six and ten sided dice are needed.
- Each player has a pawn to represent his or her group of Units (adventuring party, fleet, etc.) on the board.
- Use a small trinket to represent the Objective.

- There is only one Objective.

The Board

- The board is a single winding path of connected spaces with a Start Space and an End Space. The path should be 30 Spaces long.
- The First Space represents the start.
- Spaces 2-15 represents travel through the first scenario module.
- Spaces 16-29 represents travel through the second scenario module.
- The End Space is the final destination where the Objective is found.

The Decks

- There are 2 decks for each scenario:
- The Module 1 Deck and the Module 2 Deck.
- Each deck has one of each card in its card list.
- There may also be an Aid deck.

The Units

- Each player controls a group of units called a Party. The scenarios will detail the make up of the units in the party, their attributes (Skills, Traits) and starting dispositions.

Turn Sequence

- Players take turns.
- Each turn consists of 3 phases: 1. Move Phase 2. Draw Phase 3. Challenge Phase

Move Phase

- Roll 1D6. Move your pawn that number of spaces towards the end space.
- You automatically stop when you enter the end space.
- If you are the first to land on the end space your party acquires the Objective.
- Once a party has acquired the Objective then all other players may move their parties in either direction on the path.
- The party with the Objective must move towards the start space.
- The first pawn with the Objective to reach the start space wins the game.

Draw Phase

- If you land on an empty space in spaces 2-15 draw a card from the Module 1 deck.
- If you land on an empty space in spaces 16-29 draw a card from the Module 2 deck.
- If you land on an opponent's party do not draw a card.

1-4 Go back 1D6 spaces

5-6 Lose 1 Unit (Man, Ship, Hit Point, etc., depending on the Scenario)

If you Win the challenge gain 1 Experience Token. You may spend an Experience Token to let you reroll a Move Roll or a Skill Roll.

Moving Onto An Opponents Pawn

- If you land on an opponent's pawn there will be a fight.
- The current player rolls on the Skill List Table to determine which skill will decide the confronta-

- If a deck ever runs out, shuffle its discard and draw from it.
- Cards are of 2 types: Challenge cards & Aid cards.
- Place Aid cards in your hand.
- Challenge cards are encounters your party faces immediately in Challenge Phase.

Challenge Phase

Each challenge card lists one or more skills. Your party will have to make a skill check vs each skill listed. (The same skill may be listed twice or more, requiring that many skill checks) A Skill check consists of a Skill roll and Challenge Roll: Roll 1D10. This is the Skill roll.

Add the skill bonuses of your party members to the roll. You may discard Aid cards for further bonuses to the skill roll. Next roll 1D10. This is the Challenge roll.

Some Challenges have a DM (Difficulty Modifier). Add the DM to the Challenge Roll. If the challenge roll is less than or equal to the skill roll you win the Skill check. If the challenge roll is greater than the skill roll you fail the Challenge.

If you win all the Skill Checks, you win the Challenge. The adventure card may say what happens if you win or lose the Challenge. If the card does not give directions, then roll on the following table: If you lose the challenge: Roll 1D6: (Challenge Loss Table)

tion.

- Both players make Skill Rolls. In case of a tie nothing happens.
- The loser rolls on the Challenge Loss Table.
- The winner takes the Artifact from the loser if the loser was in possession of the Artifact.

Marine Deck Card List

The Cards

Players each have their own deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Orders Phase Move Phase Combat Phase

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards from your deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your units. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the unit moves.

Moves are diagonal or orthogonal. Instead of moving just one unit in any direction, you have the option of moving up to 3 units forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card. Humans & Predator Units cannot move through other units.

Alien Units may move through other units.

Combat Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks are diagonal or orthogonal. The enemy unit that is the target of the attack takes one point of damage. A Fighter reduced to zero Hits is destroyed.

Units cannot attack through other units.

Aliens

Introduction

Colonial Marines versus Aliens.

Decks

One player uses the Marine Deck. The other player uses the Alien Deck. Each deck has 36 cards.

Each deck has 3 suites and 12 cards in each suite. The 3 suites are: Combatants, Weapons, and Tactics. Each card has a Force Value from 1 to 5.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 5 phases:

1. Logistics Phase
2. Deployment Phase
3. Contact Phase
4. Combat Phase
5. Casualty Phase

Logistics Phase

Each player draws 6 cards from his own Deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the Reserve pile and draw from it. If all of a player's cards are in his Casualty pile except for those in his hand, he must discard one random card to his Casualty pile.

(This is the Last Hand Attrition rule.)

Deployment Phase

Each player may discard up to 4 cards to their Reserve pile and draw replacement cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the Reserve pile and draw from it.

Marine Deck Card List

Card Name	#	Type	Force
Lieutenant	1	C	1
Company Rep	1	C	1
Private	7	C	2
Sergeant	1	C	3

Riply	1	C	5
Improvised Weapons	1	W	1
Hand Guns	1	W	1
Body Armor	1	W	1
Motion Detectors	1	W	2
Shotgun	1	W	2

Contact Phase

Both players reveal their hands. They place their cards face up on the table.

Combat Phase

Each player determines their Combat Force Total (CFT) for their hand: Add up the Force Values of all Combatant cards and add 1. This is the Combatant Total (CT). Add up the Force Values of all Weapon cards and add 1.

This is the Weapon Total (WT). Add up the Force Values of all Tactics cards and add 1. This is the Tactics Total (TT).

CFT CT x WT x TT

Casualty Phase

The side with the higher CFT wins the encounter. The winner discards his hand to his Reserve pile. The loser discards his cards to his Casualty pile. (Not his Reserve pile) If the players tie, both hands go to the Casualty pile.

Object

A player loses when all of his cards are in his Casualty pile. The other player wins the game.

Alpha Centauri

Introduction

Card game for 2-7 players. Based on the computer game Alpha Centauri by Sid Meier.

Disclaimer

Alpha Centauri is a licensed, copyrighted product. This is merely a fansite.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. Card types include: Events, Technologies, Structures, Special Projects, Landmarks, Proposals, and Social Engineering

Tokens & Markers

Use Tokens to keep track of: Bases (Cities) Units (Military forces) Credits (Income) Each player also gets a set of markers of a unique color

Social Factors

There are 6 Social Factors (SF): Population, Economics, Research, Military, Ecology, Espionage. SF's are also referred to as Scores. SF's are broken down into Sub-factors.

Victory

There are 4 types of Victory: Diplomatic, Economic, Conquest, Transcendence The first player to achieve any one of these wins the game.

Diplomatic Victory

Requirements: Total Population SF >30 and be Planetary Governor for 3 turns in a row.

Economic Victory

Requirements: Total Economics SF > 50

Conquest Victory

Requirements: Capture 1+ Bases Total Military SF >40

Transcendence Victory

Requirements: Research Factor >40 or Ecology Factor >20

Setup

Each player picks one Faction Each player starts with one Base & 10 Units. Each player is dealt a hand of 7 cards.

The Factions

The 7 Factions are: Believers, Gaians, Hive, Morgan Industries, Peacekeepers, Spartans, University

Believers

Aggressive, Explore, Conquer, Fundamentalist In Conflicts add +2 to their Force Total Probe Table rolls vs this Faction are at +1 Believers get -1 to rolls on the Research Table. Starting Ecology Score = -2 Starting Population Control Score = +2 May not play Knowledge Z card

Gaians

Pacifist, Explore, Green They may never Attack, only Defend, in Conflict Phase. When encountering Mind Worms, they gain Units instead of losing them. They get an extra roll each turn on the Exploration Table.

Starting Ecology Score = +1 Starting Population Control Score = -1 Starting Military Morale Score = -1 Starting Efficiency Score = +2 May not play Free Market Z card

Hive

Aggressive, Conquer, Build, Police State Starting Population Growth Score = +1 Starting Industry Score = +1 Starting Commerce Score = -2 Starting Military Defense Score = +2 Starting Population Control Score = +2 May not play Democracy Z card

Morgan Industries

Pacifist, Build, Free Market They may never Attack, only Defend, in Conflict Phase. Starting Commerce Score = +3 Begins game with extra 50 Credits Starting Industry Score = +2 Starting Military Support Score = -1 Bases cost an extra 5 credits to build May not play Planned Z card

Peacekeepers

Explore, Discover, Democracy The Peacekeepers get 10 Free Votes in Council Phase. Starting Efficiency Score = -1 Starting Population Growth Score = +1 Starting Population Control Score = +3 Peacekeepers get to draw an extra card once per turn. May not play Police State Z card

Spartans

Discover, Conquer, Power Starting Military Morale Score = +2 Starting Population Control Score = +1 Starting Industry Score = -1 Starting Military Mobility Score = +2 Starting Military Support Score = +2 May not play Wealth Z card

University

Discover, Knowledge Opponent's who roll 8+ on Probe Table vs University may reroll. Starting Research Infrastructure Score = +4 Starting Population Control Score = -2 University gets an extra roll on the Research Table once per turn. May not play Fundamentalist Z card

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 16 Phases:

1. Production Phase
 2. Upkeep Phase
 3. Planning Phase
 4. Population Control Phase
 5. Ecological Disruption Phase
 6. Diplomacy Phase
 7. Probe Phase
 8. Council Phase
 9. Exploration Phase
 10. Research Phase
 11. Build Phase
 12. Discovery Phase
 13. Conflict Phase
 14. Construction Phase
 15. Social Engineering Phase
 16. End Phase
1. PRODUCTION PHASE

Probe Table

1D10	Result	Notes:
1	Mind Control	Take 1D5 Units from Opponent
2	Steal Technology	Put a Marker on an opponent's Tech
3	Sabotage Base	Opponent loses 2D10 Credits
4	Infiltrate Datalinks	Look at opponent's Hand
5	Incite Drone Riots	Opponent loses 1D10 Credits
6	Drain Energy Reserves	Take 1D10 Credits from Opponent
7+	Nothing

8. COUNCIL PHASE

Players try to gain the position of Planetary Governor. Players may only vote for themselves. The player with the highest Economic SF gets 10 votes.

The player with the highest Research SF gets 10 votes. The player with the highest Military SF gets 10 votes. The player with the highest Population SF gets

Each player gains credits = Each of your first 5+X Bases earns 5 Credits each. Your next 5+X Bases earn 4 Credits each. Additional Bases earn 3 Credits each. (X Economy Efficiency Score)

Also...

Earn Credits = Economy Industry Score Earn Credits = Economy Agriculture Score Earn Credits = Economy Mining Score Earn Credits = Economy Commerce Score Earn Credits = Economy Transport Score Earn Credits = Ecology Score (Xenofungus cultivation) Each Trade Pact earns credits = (# of your Bases) x (2 + Economic Commerce Score) (Trade Pacts are made/broken in Diplomacy Phase)

2. UPKEEP PHASE

Each Unit costs 1 Credit upkeep to Maintain. You cannot have more units than: # of your Bases x (5 + Military Support Score)

3. PLANNING PHASE

Each player draws 1 card. Players may pay 10 Credits (repeatedly for each extra card) to draw a extra cards.

4. POPULATION CONTROL PHASE

If the number of your bases exceeds your Population Control Score +3, you will have Drone (Unhappy Citizens) Riots. You lose 1D10 credits per point of difference.

5. ECOLOGICAL DISRUPTION PHASE

Disruption Score = (Economic Score + Bases - Ecology Score) For every 10 points of Disruption rounding down, your Faction will lose 1D10 credits due to resistance by native life forms. (Uncontrolled Blooms of polluted Xenofungus)

6. DIPLOMACY PHASE

Players may make agreements & trades with each other. Players may make trade pacts with each other.

7. PROBE PHASE

For every 5 levels of Espionage SF you have rounding up, you may Roll once on the Probe table. Pick a target before rolling. You may pay 10 Credits (repeatedly) to roll an extra time on the Probe Table.

10 votes.

The player with the highest Espionage SF gets 10 votes. The player with the highest Ecology SF gets 10 votes. The player with the most Secret Projects gets 10 votes.

The player with the most Bases gets 10 votes. The player with the most Facilities gets 10 votes. The player with the most Units gets 10 votes.

The Previous Governor gets 10 votes. Players may secretly bid Credits. Each credit bid gains 1 vote. The Winner becomes Planetary Governor until the next Council Phase.

The current Governor may play Proposal cards at the end of this Phase. The Governor earns double from trade pacts. The Governor may prevent one attack this turn in Conflict Phase.

9. EXPLORATION PHASE

Players may play Landmark cards in this phase. A Landmark is a natural feature of the planets surface. It does not cost anything to play a Landmark.

Each player Rolls once on the Exploration Table:

Exploration Table

1D10	Result:	Notes:
1	Mind Worm Activity	Lose Units = 1D10 - (MP +C)
2	Unity Pod	Gain 1D10 Credits
3	Monolith	Draw 1 card
4	Alien Artifact	Draw 1 card
5	Xenofungus	EA+1
6	Elevation	EE+1
7	Rocky	EM+1
8+	Nothing

10. RESEARCH PHASE

Each player makes one free roll on the Research Table:

Research Table

1D10	Result:	Notes:
1-2	Dead End	Nothing
3-4	Progress	Get +1 to next roll on this Table
5-6	Copy Technology	Put a Marker on an Opponent's Tech
7+	Breakthrough	Put a Tech card from your hand into play

Pay 10 Credits to get an extra roll on the Research Table (you can do this repeatedly). A player with a Marker on an opponent's Tech also knows that Tech & gets the Bonuses from it, just like the original controller does. LIMIT: You cannot have more Facilities in play than Technologies you know.

LIMIT: You cannot have more SP's in play than Facilities you own.

11. BUILD PHASE

Players may put Facilities & Secret Projects into play from their hands. Facilities cost 20 Credits. Secret Projects cost 40 Credits.

12. DISCOVERY PHASE

The player with the most levels in a given SF will receive a Reward:

Social Factor:	Reward:
C = Planetary Ecology	Extra roll on the Exploration Table
EE = Economy Energy	Gain Credits = EE
EC = Economy Commerce	Gain Credits = EC
ET = Economy Transport	Gain Credits = ET
EI = Economy Industry	Gain Credits = EI
EM = Economy Mining	Gain Credits = EM
EA = Economy Agriculture	Gain Credits = EA
RB = Research Biology	Play a Population or Ecology Tech card for free
RP = Research Physics	Play a Military or Economy Tech card for free
RI = Research Infrastructure	Extra roll on the Research Table
PG = Population Growth	You may Build an extra base this turn
PC = Population Control	Play an Economy or Population Tech card for free

13. CONFLICT PHASE

Players may decide to attack each other with Military units. Each player may attack one other player this phase (Pacifists cannot attack). Aggressive factions may attack twice in this phase (2 opponents once or 1 opponent twice).

Players secretly write down which Faction they are attacking. Reveal attack orders randomly & Resolve attacks as they are revealed. Each side in a Battle generates a Force Total as determined on the Conflict

Table:

Conflict Table

Military Factor:	Force Bonus
Most levels in MA = Military Attack	1
Most levels in MD = Military Defense	1
Most levels in MM = Military Mobility	1
Most levels in ME = Military EW	1
Most levels in MS = Military Support	1
Most levels in MO = Military Morale	1
Most levels in MP = Military Psi	1
You have More Units	1
Double the Units	2
Triple the Units	3
Quadruple Units or More	4
You are the Defender	1
Opponent already fought this Phase	1
Enemy Comitted Atrocity within 5 turns	2
Fog of War (Both players roll...)	1D10

Add up the Force Bonuses of each side to get their respective Force Totals. The Higher total is the Winner. The Winner has 1D5 of his Units Destroyed.

The Loser has 1D10 of his Units Destroyed. The Winner cannot lose more units than the loser. If the Defender loses all his Units in play, the attacker captures one of his Bases.

Note: The Attacker cannot use MD generated by his Facilities.

14. CONSTRUCTION PHASE

A Base costs 20 Credits. You can build a max of 1 Base per turn. You cannot have Bases in excess of your Economic SF + Population SF A Unit costs 2 Credits. You may build any number of Units (Remember Upkeep Costs).

15. SOCIAL ENGINEERING PHASE

Players may play 1 Social Engineering (Z) card each. A Z card costs 20 Credits to play (Upheaval Cost). There are 4 types of Z cards: Politics, Economics, Values, & Futures A player may have no more than 1 of each type in play.

A player may buy a new one to discard an old one.

16. END PHASE

Max hand size is 8 cards. Discard excess cards.

Alphabet Pirates

Introduction

Educational spelling kids board dice and card game.
For 2-4+ players. Pirate Theme.

Victory

The first player to get 17 Ducats (Coins) is the winner. Coins are earned by making words with letter cards.

Decks & Hands

There are 3 Shared decks:

1. Vowel Deck (letter cards)
2. Consonant Deck (letter cards)
3. Fortune Deck

The decks are kept separate and have their own discard piles. Players will have a hand of letter cards from both the Vowel & Consonant decks. Maximum hand size is 7 card. Discard excess cards.

The Vowel Deck

This deck has 5 cards:

A, E, I, O, U

There are 5 copies of each card. Total 25 cards.

The Consonant Deck

Common Cards:

B, C, D, F, G, H, J, K, L, M, N, P, R, S, T

Rare Cards:

Q, V, W, X, Y, Z

There are 2 copies of each common card. There is only one copy of each rare card. Total 36 cards.

Fortune Deck

The card list is at the end of the rules. Fortune cards are always played immediately and then discarded. They never go into your hand.

The Board

The board is a square track. Each side has 9 spaces. Total of 32 spaces

1. Pirates Cove (Starting Space: Right Bottom Corner)
2. Sargasso sea

3. Town
4. Caribbean Sea
5. Skull & Crossbones
6. Atlantic Ocean
7. Merchant Ship
8. North Sea
9. Man O' War (Left Bottom Corner)
10. Mediterranean Sea
11. Town
12. Black Sea
13. Skull & Crossbones
14. Red Sea
15. Merchant Ship
16. Arabian Sea
17. Buried Treasure (Left Top Corner)
18. Indian Ocean
19. Town
20. South China Sea
21. Skull & Crossbones
22. Sea of Japan
23. Merchant Ship
24. Bering Sea
25. Treasure Ship (Right Top Corner)
26. Arctic Ocean
27. Town
28. Pacific Ocean
29. Skull & Crossbones
30. Southern Ocean
31. Merchant ship
32. The Equator

Board Notes

If you land on a Town, draw the top card from the Consonant deck and put it in your hand. If you land on a Merchant Ship, draw the top card from the Vowel deck and put it in your hand. If you land on a Skull & Crossbones draw the top card from the Fortune deck.

If you land on the Treasure Ship, draw the top card from both the consonant and The Vowel deck and put them in your hand. If you land on the Man O' War bury one card from your hand. If you land on the Buried Treasure space, put all Buried cards into your hand.

Sea, Oceans, and the Equator are "Safe" spaces where nothing happens. Every time you pass the Pirates cove, draw the top card from either the consonant or The Vowel deck and put it in your hand.

Burying Cards

When a Fortune card tells you to bury a card or you land on the Man O' War, you must take one Vowel or Consonant card from your hand, and put it the Buried Treasure space.

Bits & Pieces

Six sided dice are needed. Use coins to represent "Ducats". Each player has a "Ship". Use tokens or pawns to represent ships.

Setup

Shuffle each of the 3 decks. Each player's Ship starts on the Start space. Each player draws 1 consonant and 1 vowel.

Roll high to see who goes first. (Players take turns) Start with 1 consonant and 1 vowel on the Buried

Altun Ha

Introduction

Card Bidding & Building Game for 2-4+ players. Theme based on the Belize Mayan Ruins of Altun Ha, occupied and built up between 200 BC and 900 AD before it was abandoned, probably due to a combination of overpopulation, drought, famine, social unrest, and civil war.

Winning

The player with the most Scoring points at the end of the game wins.

Scoring Points

Use paper and pencil to keep track of scoring.

Game End

The game ends immediately in any turn in which the Priest King is unable to Feed his people in Farming Phase.

Population

Use paper and pencil to keep track of the current Population Level.

Calendar Token

This is used to keep track of Turn order within a round.

Priest King Token

This is awarded to the player who won the most recent bid.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are 3 types of cards:

1. Bid Cards (also used for Building)
2. Trade Cards
3. Maya God Cards (Wild Cards)

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Each player is dealt 5 cards. One random player is given the Calendar Token.

Population Level starts at 2. No one starts in possession of the Priest King Token.

Round Sequence

Each Round is divided into 8 Phases: Calendar Phase Population Phase Draw Phase Trade Phase Bid Phase Farm Phase Build Phase Cycle Phase

Calendar Phase

The player with the Calendar token passes it to the player to his right.

Population Phase

The Population Level increases by 1. Record the new Level.

Draw Phase

Each player is dealt 2 Cards from the deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Trade Phase

Each player may play one Trade card from his hand. The player with the Calendar Token plays first and then proceed Clockwise.

Bid Phase

All players must bid zero to two Bid cards from their hands. God cards can be used as Bid cards with a value of 7. Bidding is simultaneous: Players reveal their Bid cards at the same time.

The player with the highest value bid (combined value if 2 cards played) wins the bid and takes possession of the Priest King Token. All bid cards are discarded. If there is a tie, the next lowest bid wins.

If there is no next lowest bid card the player with fewer Scoring Points wins. If still tied, the turn ends immediately and start a new turn.

Farming Phase

The Priest King must discard 1 or 2 Bid cards with a combined value equaling or exceeding the Population level. If unable to do so, the game ends immediately and the current Priest King loses 13 Scoring Points. God Cards can be used as Bid Cards with a value = 7.

Build Phase

The Priest King may play up to 2 Bid cards: Bid cards used in this way are referred to as Build cards. A Bid card of value 1 is placed by itself face-up in the middle of the table and is considered the first Stage of a new Temple. Higher level Bid cards can be added onto already existing Temples. They are placed staggered on the top of a Temple with a level 1 less than the card being placed.

Examples: a level 2 card is placed on top of a level 1 card; or a level 6 card is placed on top of a level 5 card. The Priest King gains Scoring points equal to the value of the cards he places. If unable to build, he loses 7

Scoring Points.

God cards can be used as Wild Build cards with a value of 1-8 as the Priest King Desires.

Cycle Phase

Max hand is 5 cards. Players discard excess cards.

Amber

Introduction

Takes place sometime after the disappearance of King Oberon. The Nine Princes fight to control Amber. Card game for 2-5 players.

Prince:	Hits	Fight	Wit	Will	Leadership
Corwin	12	9	10	11	8
Eric	8	8	9	9	9
Benedict	9	11	7	7	11
Bleys	8	10	7	7	10
Julian	9	7	7	8	7

Influence Tokens

Each player begins with 9 influence tokens of a unique color. Non-player Princes without a token are Neutral Princes. Place one of your tokens on Non-player Princes you control. These are your Ally Princes. Influence tokens are also used to show ownership of stacks of Armies.

Army Tokens

Use white blank tokens to represent armies.

Set Up

Each player is dealt a hand of 5 cards.

Player Princes

Setup: Each player begins with control of one Prince of Amber. Each player draws one random card from the Prince Deck. These are known as Player Princes. A Player may have only one Player Prince. Each Player Prince starts in exile in Shadow. If a Player Prince is killed, another Prince controlled by the Player becomes his new Player Prince. If he has None, a neutral Prince becomes his new Player Prince. If there Are no neutral Princes left, he is out of the game.

Other Princes

Setup: After all players have selected their Player Princes, Draw another Prince card. This Prince currently controls Amber and is referred to as the King. Draw 3 more Princes who have regency. The 3 Regencies are:
1. Guardian of Arden
2. Admiral of the North Sea Fleet

Victory

Control Amber and kill or capture all Princes controlled by Opposing players. Or control Amber for 5 consecutive turns.

Prince Of Amber Deck

This deck has 9 cards, one for each prince.

Prince:	Hits	Fight	Wit	Will	Leadership
Gerard	10	12	6	7	7
Random	7	7	8	7	6
Caine	7	7	7	7	8
Brand	7	7	11	10	7

3. Admiral of the South Sea Fleet
The King and regents are referred to as Lords. All other Princes not controlled by Players start in Exile in Shadow. Exile princes start out neutral. You can never gain control of a Lord, but you can make regents neutral. If Amber is attacked the Lords will defend it.

Gaining Control Of Amber

A player can gain control of Amber by conquering it or causing the current King to be killed, captured, or driven into Shadow exile. When a player takes control of Amber his Player Prince becomes King. Any other Princes he controls become regents. He may offer Regent posts to other neutral Princes or other Players.

Attributes

Each Prince has 5 Attributes or Skills: Toughness: Endurance, Hit points Fighting: Ability in hand-to-hand combat Leadership: Skill in strategy and tactics Will: Mental Strength in contests of Wills Wit: Measure of Intelligence

Attribute Levels

Use given stats or roll 2D6 separately for each attribute. Determine Attributes for each Prince before Play begins.

Remedial Glossary

Prince: There are 9 Princes of Amber. Player Prince: Each player controls one Prince that is his Player

Prince. Non-Player Princes: All Princes that are not Player Princes.

Ally Prince: All other Princes a player controls, but not his Player Prince. Neutral Prince: A Prince not controlled by any player. King: The Prince that controls Amber.

Regents: These 3 Princes control the Armies/Navies of Amber. Lords: The King and Regents. Exile Princes: All Princes that are not Lords.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 2 phases:

1. Fate Phase
2. Action Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 1 card from the Fate deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = Wit Attribute of your Player Prince.

Discard excess cards.

Action Phase

Each Prince you control may perform one action per turn. An action includes playing any Action or Contest card or performing a Non-card action.

Noncard Actions

These do not require a card to do: * Bide your time: Draw one card. * Recuperate: Regain 1D6 lost Hit points. * Fortune telling with Trump Deck: Look at next 1D6 cards in deck.

* Intrigue: Roll 1D6: on a roll of 5-6 cause a target Non-Player prince to become neutral or take control of a neutral Prince. * Raise Army: Gain 1D6 army tokens. * Escape Imprisonment. The only action you may attempt if you have been captured. Roll 1D6. On a roll of 5-6 you escape.

Resolving Contests

Some cards indicate that a Contest will occur between two players. The opposing princes roll 2D6 and add their levels in the indicated attribute. The player with the highest score is the winner. (Reroll ties)

Fight Contests

This a physical attack of one Prince against another. Use the Fight attribute. The loser of a Fight takes 1D6 Hits.

Leadership Contests

This is when an Exile group with Armies attacks Amber. Use the Leadership attribute. The winner of the contest gains control of Amber.

Princes you control (and those freely offered by other players) may work together and combine their attribute levels in Leadership contests. The Loser of Leadership Contest loses 1D6 of his Armies. Leadership contests are repeated until one side has no Armies left.

Will Contests

This a psychic attack of one Prince against another. Use the Willpower attribute. Only if the attacker wins does the effect listed on the card take place.

Block Cards

Only Lords can play Block cards in response to Exiles who are starting a Leadership Contest.

Two player Card game of the American Revolution. One player is the Americans, the other is the British.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The card list has 120+ cards. The deck has 1 of each card on the list.

Strategic Turns

The game is played in 7 Strategic turns corresponding to the 7 years of the war: 1775, 1776, 1777, 1778, 1779, 1780, 1781.

Victory

The winner is the first player to win 3 turns in a row, or if this does not occur, the player to win turn 1781. (Its not how many battles you won, its who won the last battle)

Setup

The Americans are dealt 1/3 of the deck. The British are dealt 1/3 of the deck. The remaining 1/3 is set aside (and not used).

Strategic Turn Sequence

Pronounce which year this turn corresponds to. Both players go through their deck and take out which cards they want to play this turn. Both players play these cards face to the table simultaneously.

Cards that specify a year must be the same as the current Strategic turn. Note: Cards of Year = X can be used in any turn. Only the American player can use American cards.

Only the British player can use British cards. Both players can use cards of the "Either" type. Add up the force of all cards played.

Compare the Force totals of both players. The higher Force total wins the turn. Americans win ties.

All played cards are discarded face up. Keep track of which player won which years.

Material You need the altar, a 5x5 map signed A1 to E5, and 5 amulets (pawns), in colors or shapes different. A 30-card deck is needed corresponding to the map grid (A1 to E5) and the 5 amulets. Since players

The spell book The wizards should draw their spell books as following: A table, consisting of 8-10 rows - 5 rows for the amulets, 3-5 rows for the wizards. The rows should be named with the amulets and the wizards' names. The wizards' names should begin with the own name and then proceed clockwise. An example spell book could look like this:

[illegible]

1. If his amulet is on his own field, he answers "I'm home". All players note a '*'.

Casting a spell A wizard may interrupt the game at any time, if he thinks he found out all the spirits' amulets and their coordinates. He places the assumed player amulets on their assumed homes and all the assumed non-player amulets at random altar fields. This is his try of casting the spell. The others players (the spirits) now check this try clockwise, beginning with the left neighbour. If his personal amulet stands on his personal field, he answers "yes", and the next player continues checking. If it doesn't, he says "No", and the casting has failed. The trying wizard may not ask the spirits anymore, and the game continues where interrupted before. But if all spirits answer "Yes", they are freed and the casting wizard wins the game.

Designer's note This game, years old and deriving from boring school times, is nothing else but a master mind clone, but a funky multi-player one. Experienced players should not need more than 5-6 questions. This is not really a party game, since all players stare at their notes and beg each active player for a thinking break :) - give it a try.

Anatolia 1000 Bc

Introduction

War game for 2-6 players. Each player controls a civilization in the area of Asia Minor circa 1000 BCE. Each turn represents 10 years.

Components

Map (see bottom of page) Player Counters Player Mats Victory Track Dice

The Map

The map is divided up into numerous regions. Note that regions are also referred to as territories, and spaces. Each region provides a specific resource.

Some regions are the starting locations of Civilizations (Boldface). Some regions start with a City (Italics and Strikethrough). Fish regions are Sea Regions.

The Egypt and Attica Trade spaces are Sea Regions. The Island of Rhodes is a land Region completely enclosed by a Sea Region.

Player Counters

Note that the term Markers, Tokens, and Counters are interchangeable. Each player has a set of counters of a unique color. Counters are used on the map to indicate control of regions and placement of cities.

Counters on player mats are used to keep track of resources.

Neutral Markers

These are used to indicate a space is controlled by a non-player civilization/tribe. Use white, black, or grey colors for neutral counters.

Player Mats

Each player gets a player Mat. A Mat is divided into 14 Sections. Sections are also referred to as Boxes or Spaces.

The Sections are labeled:

1. Population
2. Armies
3. Fleets
4. Ideas
5. Metal
6. Stone
7. Wood
8. Grain
9. Wine
10. Fish
11. Fruit

12. Olives
13. Livestock
14. Monuments

Each section is large enough to make a stack of player counters. Mats are used to keep track how many of each resource a player has.

Victory

The first player to accumulate 100+ Victory Points (VP) wins. If the Knowledge deck ever runs out, the game immediately ends and the player with the most VP wins.

Victory Track

This is a winding track of 100 numbered spaces. Each player uses a marker to keep track of how many VP they have.

Decks

There are 2 Decks: The Event Deck The Knowledge Deck

The Knowledge Deck

The top 4 cards of the Knowledge deck are always kept face up. There are several types of Resource Cards: Continuous cards, Bonus cards, Advantage cards. Continuous Knowledge cards provide a 1 specific Resource Point every turn in Resource Phase.

Bonus cards provide a one time bonus of 1 or more Resources. Advantage cards provide a continuous bonus to warfare or some other aspect of play.

Dice

Six and Ten sided dice are used.

Setup

Each player gets a set of counters of a unique color. Each player picks one civilization to control. Players place one marker on the map on the starting space of that civilization.

Players cannot pick a civilization adjacent to Civ picked by another player. Players roll high on 1D10 to see who goes first. Play proceeds clockwise. Each player starts with 2 Surplus Populations.

Each player starts with 2 Armies and/or Fleets. (Fleets may only be picked if the Civ is adjacent to a water region) Each player rolls 10 times on the Random Resource Table. Each roll gives one unit of the indicated Resource.

Place a neutral marker in every space not controlled by a player. Place 2 neutral markers in every City start

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 9 Phases:

1. Resource Phase
2. Trade Phase
3. Event Phase
4. Upkeep Phase
5. Knowledge Phase
6. Build Phase
7. Recruit Phase
8. Conquest Phase
9. End Phase

Resource Phase

Gain 1 Resource from each of your Territories. Place a counter on the appropriate box of the player mat. Copper, Iron, and Tin all count as Metals.

Trade spaces provide Gold. Gold and Silver spaces count as Gold. Citrus and Figs count as Fruits.

Wheat and Barley count as Grain. Hunting and Herding count as Livestock. Each City provides 1 Gold and 1 Victory Point.

Each Monument provides 1 Victory Point. Continuous Knowledge cards provide a 1 specific Resource Point every turn in Resource Phase.

The Golden Rule

At any time you may convert 2 Gold into 1 Resource of any type. Likewise, at any time you may convert 2 Resources of the same type into 1 Gold.

Trade Phase

You may trade resources with your opponents.

Event Phase

Roll 1D6. On a roll of 4-6 draw 1 card from the Event Deck. If the event deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Upkeep Phase

Cities, Armies, Fleets, and Surplus Population have an upkeep cost of 1 Food of any type. If this cannot be paid, remove the unsupported unit from play. Ignore upkeep phase on your first turn of the game.

Knowledge Phase

Roll once on the Idea Table. Possession of Advance Knowledge cards with the Discovery Trait allow 1 extra roll each. The top 4 cards of the Knowledge deck are always kept face up.

You may buy one or more of the top 4 cards of the Knowledge deck. Their cost is in Idea Points. Bonus cards provide their one time bonus of 1 or more Resources immediately.

Place your Knowledge cards face up next to you on the table.

The Idea Table

1D10	Result
1-4	Nothing
5-9	Gain 1 Idea Point
10+	Gain 2 Idea Points

Record Idea Points on your Player Mat.

Build Phase

You may build 1 or more cities and 1 or more monuments. A City costs 2 Stone, 2 Wood, and 2 Surplus Population. A Monument costs 5 Stone and 1 Surplus Population.

A Monument gives an immediate bonus of 10 VP. To signify that you have built a city, place a marker onto the map onto a land region where you already have 1 or markers. To signify that you have built a monument, place a marker onto your player map on the monument space.

A Land Region may contain a maximum of 5 cities. Sea Regions may not contain cities.

Recruit Phase

You may recruit 1 or more Surplus Populations, Armies and/or Fleets. A Surplus population costs 3 units of Food of different types. An Army costs 3 Metal and 1 Surplus Population.

A Fleet costs 3 Wood and 1 Surplus Population.

Conquest Phase

You may attack target adjacent land regions with your Armies. You may attack target adjacent sea regions with your Fleets. A unit may keep attacking until it is destroyed or the player decides to stop.

For each attack, roll once on the Conquest Table. Advance Knowledge cards with the Warfare trait give you +1 to your roll on the Conquest Table. Likewise, facing opponents with Warfare bonuses give you -1 to your rolls.

Some Event cards will give a Modifier to your roll on the Conquest Table. Get a -1 to the Conquest roll for each city in the target Region. Get +1 to the Conquest roll if you have twice as many or more armies as the defending Civilization.

Get +1 to the Conquest roll if the defender is a Neutral Civilization. Get -1 to the Conquest roll if you have twice as few or less armies as the defending Civilization. Get a -1 to the Conquest roll if the Region produces Stone or Metal.

If you conquer a region controlled by another player, he may prevent the conquest by sacrificing one of his armies (land region only) or fleets (sea region only). When you conquer a Region, if there are 1 or more cities there, discard 1 city and gain 2D6 Gold (Pillage Rule). When you conquer a Region, replace all the markers on it with markers of your own color.

Allies Rule: Players may lend each other Armies and Fleets (to the attacker or Defender).

The Conquest Table

1D10	Result:
1-4	The Attacking Unit is Destroyed
5-6	The Attacking Unit is Destroyed and The Target Region is Conquered
7-10+	The Target Region is Conquered

End Phase

Resources in excess of your stockpile limit are discarded in end phase.

Stockpile Limit

Except for gold, the most Resources you can keep of a single type is 8. The Limit for Gold is 24. Excess Resources are discarded in end phase.

Some Advance Knowledge cards will give a bonus to your Stockpile Limit.

Tribute Rules

Before attacking an opponent, you may demand Tribute as payment to not attack.

Peace Cards

When you buy a Peace card, pick a target opponent. Neither of you may attack each others Regions or ally against each other for each of your next 3 turns.

Resurgence Rules

If your civilization is completely conquered, you may keep your VP and restart as a new Civilization. Pick from any available neutral civilizations first. If none are available, pick any Civ that is not the identity of an opposing player. Start in control of the chosen Civs start space with resources and units as described in the setup rules. You may also at the beginning of your turn give up on your current Civ and pick a new one; all the territories of the old one become neutral.

Pawns

Each player has a set of 12 pawns of a unique color. There are 13 common Tracks. Pawns move along the tracks.

The Common Tracks

In the rules the tracks appear as simple lists. However, for play they should be drawn out as circular loops where Each entry is a space that can be occupied by a pawn. Most tracks are 13 spaces long including the start space.

Note: The Pre-History track is extra-long so does not have to be circular The 13 Tracks Include: Pre-History Track Knowledge Track Military Track Cultural Track Agriculture Track Industry Track Building Track Wonder Track Religion Track Government Track Leader Track Trade Track Naval Track Note: In addition to the tracks there are also several charts. Charts do not require pawns.

Setup

In addition to the boosts received in the Pregame each player gets an additional 5 points in Population, Territory, Food, Stability, Zeal, Military, and Culture. Players place one pawn in the start space of each Track.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns within each phase. There are 16 Phases in a Turn: Start Phase Leader Phase Agriculture Phase Population Phase Resource Phase Build Phase City Phase Wonder Phase Military Phase Culture Phase Religion Phase Government Phase Trade Phase Naval Phase Knowledge Phase End Phase

Roll And Move Rules

In most phases each player will roll one die and move along the indicated Track. The player gets the stat bonuses as described in the space he lands on. Start spaces give no benefits.

If you land on a start space, you may pay 1 Gold to roll 1D6 and move again. If a player lands on a (non-start) space occupied by another player's pawn,

Pregame Phase

Players place one pawn each on the start space of the Pre-History Track. Players roll high to see who goes first. Play proceeds clockwise. They take turns rolling the die and moving their pawns forward along the track.

When a player lands on a space they get the indicated boosts to their stats. They also put a marker on the space. If a player lands on a space that already has a marker they move to any space of their choice.

When every space on the Pre-History Track has been marked the Pregame ends. The Pre-History Track is not used during the main game. Note: In the main game, markers are not used except on the Wonders Track.

Start Phase

Players roll high anew to determine turn order within each phase. Play proceeds clockwise.

Leader Phase

Players move on the Leader Track.

Agriculture Phase

Players move on the Agriculture Track. Famine Rule: If your Food Score is ever less than 1 lose 1D6 Population You can have a max of 20 Food points saved up. Extra are lost.

Population Phase

Surplus Rule: A player may pay 5 Food to gain 1 Population.

Resource Phase

Players move on the Resource Track. You can have a max of 10 Resource points saved up. Extra are lost.

Build Phase

A player may pay 2 Resources to move once on the Building Track. Gain 1 Infrastructure Point every time you roll on the Building Track.

City Phase

For every 7 Infrastructure Points a player has he is considered to have 1 City. For every city a player has he may roll once on the City Chart.

Wonder Phase

A player may pay 2 Wonder Points to move once on the Wonder Track. Once you've built a Wonder, put a marker on that spot. No one else can build that Wonder.

Record which Wonders you own. Each Wonder gives you a bonus in Start Phase.

Military Phase

Players move on the Military Track. If a player ever has a Military score greater than 10, roll on the Conquest Chart. After rolling on the Conquest Chart lose 1D6 Military Points.

If a player ever has a Military score less than 1, roll on the Defeat Chart.

War Option

If you land on an opponent's pawn in Military Phase you may declare war: First, move your pawn to the start space. Next both players lose 1D6 Military points. Next both players roll 2D6. These are the War Rolls. The player with the higher Military Score adds 2 to his War Roll.

The higher score wins. There is no winner if the War rolls are tied. The winner steals 2 VP from the loser. If you, the aggressor, won, steal 1 Territory from the loser.

Government Phase

Players move on the Government Track. If a player ever has a Stability score less than 1, roll on the Civil War Chart.

Trade Phase

Players move on the Trade Track. At the End of this Phase players may make purchases from the Purchase List Table. By doing this you are converting Gold into other Stats.

Trade Option

If you land on another player's pawn in Trade phase, you each get 1 Idea point and the two of you may freely trade Gold, Food, and Resource Points.

Naval Phase

Players move on the Naval Track.

Knowledge Phase

Players may pay 2 Idea Points to move once on the Knowledge Track.

End Phase

Review Record Pages for omissions and mistakes. Check for game end and automatic loss conditions.

Ancient Generals

Introduction

Two player card game. Each player is a general fielding an ancient army represented by the player's decks. 100 card common deck.
40 Unit cards & 60 Tactics cards.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Randomly deal 50 cards to each player. Each player now has his own 50 card deck.
Each player draws a hand of 5 cards from their own deck. The more aggressive player goes first.

Object

Run your opponent out of cards. Destroy his army. A player loses once he has no more cards left in his deck or reserve pile.

Turn Sequence

- Players take turns. Each turn has 6 phases:
1. Scout Phase
 2. Discard Phase
 3. Draw Phase
 4. Flank Phase
 5. Artillery Phase
 6. Attack Phase

Scout Phase

Discard a unit card with the scout trait to your reserve pile to look at your opponents hand, or the next 5 cards in any deck.

Discard Phase

Discard any number of cards from your hand to your reserve pile.

Draw Phase

Draw to fill your hand to 5 cards. If your deck ever runs out, shuffle your Reserve pile and use it as your deck. Cards sent to your Casualty pile stay there for the rest of the game.

Unit Card List

Unit Name	Type	#	Force	Damage	Notes
Slingers	LI	2	1	1	Scout; +5 vs WB, HI, EL; Evade WW

If there are no cards left in your deck or reserve pile, you lose.

Flank Phase

You may discard unit cards with the flank trait to gain one flank point each. Keep a running total of your flank points during the entire game. The player with the most Flank points is called the Encircling army, the other player is the Encircled army.
If tied, neither army is the encircling army.

Artillery Phase

Discard a Siege Artillery card to your reserve pile to cause opponent to discard one card from their deck to their casualty pile.

Attack Phase

Play one or more units from your hand to attack. These are the attackers. Place them face up on the table in front of you. The defending player may play up to one blocking unit per attacker.
The defender assigns specific blockers to specific attackers. Unblocked attackers do damage to the main body of the opponents army. The defender must discard a number of cards from his deck to his casualty pile equal to the damage rating of the attacking unit.
The units of the Encircling army do +1 damage each. If an attacker is blocked compare the force totals of the 2 units. The unit with the lower total is killed and is sent to that players casualty pile.
The victorious unit is sent to his owners reserve pile. A tie in Force values results in both units being killed. If the blocker can evade the attacker, both units are discarded to their reserve piles.
Tactics cards can be played by either player to affect the outcome of the battle.

Warfare in the Ancient World

Ancient Skirmish

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Battle between two Ancient Armies. Bronze Age/Age of the Chariot. Each figure represents a group of 500 men.

Victory

You win if you destroy the opposing General or Camp.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard for your battlefield.

Units

Use chits or miniatures to represent units (men). There are 6 types of units: I. Heavy Infantry II. Light Infantry III. Heavy Cavalry IV. Light Cavalry V. General VI. Camp

Setup

Each player places one unit on each square of his back two rows. Units may not stack.

The Cards

Players share 4 common decks: I. Infantry Deck II. Cavalry Deck III. Shock Deck IV. Missile Deck

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Strategy Phase
2. Move Phase
3. Battle Phase

Strategy Phase

Draw 2 cards from the Infantry and/or Cavalry decks. Draw another 2 cards from the Shock and/or Missile decks. Place the 4 cards into your hand.

Max hand size = 8 cards. Discard excess cards. If a deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Whenever a card is played or discarded put it in the discard pile of the appropriate deck.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your men. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the man moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. Instead of moving just one man in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more men forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Battle Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. The Target of the attack is destroyed (killed, captured, routed) Your opponent may play Defense cards to negate your attack.

Camps

Camps cannot move, attack, or defend. A camp may share its space with another Unit. A Camp is captured if any enemy unit moves into it.

Generals

Treat Generals as both Light & Heavy Cavalry & Infantry.

Elite Units

Generals & Elite Units must be attacked successfully twice before they are destroyed.

Outflanking Rule

Any Unit bordered on 2 sides by adjacent enemy units is automatically destroyed.

Ancient Warfare

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Battle between ancient armies. Each figure represents a general, camp or unit of troops.

Victory

You win if you destroy your opponents general or 8 of his units. A Camp counts as 2 units.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

The Men

Use chits or miniatures to represent units.

Unit Type Table

Unit	Move	Range	Notes
Camp	0	1
General	3	1
Auxilia	3	1
Warband	2	1
Blades	2	1
Spears	2	1

Unit	Type	Special Ability	Notes
Artillery	A	Indirect Fire	Attack through units
Elephants	M+A	Trample	Move = 1 and then Attack
War Wagons	D	Strong Defense	Defend
Scythed Chariots	A	Open Ground	Attack if on Clear ground

A player may play (discard) a special ability card to activate one of the above effects.

Setup

Each player places his units on his back two rows. Units may not stack.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Orders Phase Move Phase Battle Phase

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your units. Units cannot move through other units except for Psiloi who may move through their own troops. The move card has a number.

This is the number of spaces the unit moves. A Unit cannot use a Move card with a value higher than its move limit. Moves are diagonal or orthogonal.

Instead of moving just one unit in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more units forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Battle Phase

Each of your units can make up to one attack (kill) on your turn. If one of your units has an enemy unit in range that it can automatically kill, then that unit is destroyed. No card needs to be played. Instead of making an auto-kill you may play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack any enemy unit in its range.

The target is destroyed unless it is immune to the attacking unit in which case it is recoiled. A recoiled unit must move back one space if possible. Attacks are diagonal or orthogonal. Units cannot attack through other units.

The defender may play a Defense card to prevent the target card from being killed. If a Recoil card is played the defending unit must move back one space or the Card cannot be played. Artillery cannot move and attack in the same turn.

To play a Supported Attack card the target must be in range of two of your units. To play a Reinforced Defense card the target must be next to a friendly unit. To play a Rally Defense card your general must be within 2 spaces of the unit.

To play an Outflank attack card the attacking unit must be closer to the opponents edge of the board than the defending unit. To play a Rough Defense card the target must be on Rough Ground

Automatic Kill Table

Unit	Automatic Kill:
Auxilia	Elephants, Bows, Psiloi

German House Rules

by Rudi Hofrichter

On Battlefield

Size of the table is not 8x8 but 12x12 for more historical setup.

On Generals

General is always the nominated element analog the DBA list General is never a LK or a Pl

On Terrain

Terrain setup is analog DBA 2.2. BUAs must be in range of 5 squares of two sides

On Different Types Of Terrain

Terrain covers 6 squares (Wood or hills) Wood blocks line of sight and ranged attacks (exemption indirect fire) BUA (Build up area) covers 1 squared Units in fortified BUA neglect autokills small Rivers runs between squares small rivers block movement and like difficult terrain, on both riverbanks Difficult terrain card can be used if defence is across a river Units on hills can use difficult terrain cards against attacks from lower positions. stepp hills block movement like difficult terrain

Setup As DbA

Defender places the terrain and nominates the sides he want to set up analog DBA 2.2 set up is possible in the last 4 rows but the 2 column on the side must be vacant. Bias in an advanced position may be occupied Attacked places his units Defender swaps two units Attackers draws card and begins plays (attention defender has yet no cards on his hand)

On Follow Up Movement Pursue

Kn, SCh,Hd,Wb follow up immediately if they kill or force the enemy to retreat and occupy the enemies position.

On Movement

you can play as many movement cards on one unit as you like you must move the exact range on the card (exemption 4-5) Retreats (as result of card or immunity) retreat must be done in a square nonadjacent to any enemy

Elephant

Movement: 3 Range: 1 Special: A Range 2

Horde

Movement:2 Range: 1 No special but no one has an autokill against the horde

Multiplayer Games

Battles: 2 Main players rest of players are either continents of the attacker of the defender contingents draw 3 cards sequence is as following: Attacker, attacker's 1. contingent 2.....3.... Defender, defender's 1. contingent 2. contingent....etc.... Army or contingent disintegrates if general or 2/3 units lost

Post battle sequence: half of the casualties come back. Owner nominates one unit which comes back, opponent nominates one unit as definite casualty and so on. In case of a dead general this unit must be nominated first.

Review

by Rudi Hofrichter:

We are one of the old tin figures collectors club in Germany and one of our members adapted in the thirties, forties and fifties our rules "Kriegsspiel" after his experiences in the war. This follow up of the Kriegsspiel is called "Planspiel" and covers modern warfare of the period 1930-1960. It is played in our club today in Germany and Austria. Planspiel is very fast and deadly and not comparable with any existing actual rule set. It is a mix of chess, accounting's seminar for a brigade commander on a Military academy and real logistics. But it is played on squares and has autokill rules....as we found your game on the internet we realised that your game is exactly what we shearched for so long. A very fast ancient game which fits on our squares. So your ancient warfare has 2 very important things in common with the legendary Planspiel and was so very attractive to a lot of serious collectors and players in our club. The next point why we think you game is a diamond is because it uses the army list from DBA, with allows us to use our resources material and our armies. Your system creates very historical outcomes if played with historical armies and enemies. As it uses the DBA element types it is easy to explain it to other players and people with thourough historical knowledge.

Another very important aspect is the speed we play our your game: with creation and placing of the terrain + deployment of the armies we need between 15 minutes up to 50 minutes for a game. It is possible to end the game within 1 turn and normally 3/4 of a deck are enough to finish of the opponent. Only multiplayer battles with 4-5 players which draw from one deck need more than 60min. This fastness, if played aggressively, makes it possible to end the game in one round with no discussion possible. No other ruleset is so cruel and leaves an opponent so chanceless as far as I know. This is actually biggest reason I like your system so much. Because the game is so fast it makes it possible to play the original DBA Campaigns in one day. This means we play on one day 8-15 battles with 4-6 people in a historical setting and political interaction between the battles. I also know no other system which enables the player to play completely so many battles on one day with a decisive result in the evening. We are able to play for example the first 2 crusades with all major battles (without stress) on one afternoon and evening!

Ancient Warfare Redux

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Battle between ancient armies. Each figure represents a general, camp or unit of troops.

Victory

You win if you destroy your opponents general or 8 of his units. A Camp counts as 2 units.

The Map

Use a 8x8 chessboard for a small Battlefield.

The Men

Use chits or miniatures to represent units.

Army Composition

Every army has 1 General, 1 Camp, and 11 other units. You may designate 2 of your units as "Elite".

Choosing Army Composition

Besides the obligatory General and Camp pick any 11 units from the Unit list.

Elephants	M+A	Trample	Move = 1 and then Attack
War Wagons	D	Strong Defense	Defend
Scythed Chariots	A	Open Ground	Attack if on Clear ground

A player may play (discard) a special ability card to activate one of the above effects.

A Attack type Special Ability
D Defensive type Special Ability
M Movement type Special Ability
X Special type Special Ability

* Rally: the target unit is not destroyed by an attack

Setup

Each player places his units on his back two rows. Units may not stack.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Orders Phase Move Phase Battle Phase

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards. Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your units. Units cannot move through other units except for Light Infantry who may move through their own troops. The move card has a number.

This is the maximum number of spaces the unit can move. Moves are diagonal or orthogonal.

Army On The March Rule

Instead of moving just one unit in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more units forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Battle Phase

Each of your units can make up to one attack on your turn. To attack, play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack any enemy unit in its range. The Attacked unit must move back (retreat) exactly one space in the opposite direction of the Attack or be destroyed.

Any unit forced to retreat twice in the same turn is destroyed. Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. Units cannot attack over (through) other units.

The Defender may play a Defense card to negate a

Target Attack. Artillery cannot move and attack in the same turn. Light Infantry Attacked by Heavy Cavalry is killed automatically.

(The LI does not get to retreat, it is overrun) Light Cavalry cannot attack Missile Infantry (The MI will outshoot the LC and chase it away) Heavy Cavalry cannot Attack Heavy Infantry that has not already been forced to retreat this turn. (Formed HI presents an impenetrable hedge of spears) Cavalry and Light Infantry can retreat twice from Heavy Infantry attacks in the same turn without being destroyed. (The faster units easily evade the HI) If forced to retreat Elephants are automatically destroyed.

Other Horse Cavalry will not attack Elephants. (Horses are afraid of Elephants)

Faq Section

Q) Special Ability Cards and regular Move/Attack/Defend-type cards all are in the common deck together? A) Yes, all mixed in.

Q) Are there are actually separate "Special Ability Cards" in addition to the eight "Activate Unit's Special Ability" cards in the regular deck? A) No. The 8 Special Ability cards can be used to activate any target units SA.

Q) Units listed as "D" (Camp & War Wagons) still need to use a Defend card when attacked? A) Yes

Q) Does the Camp "pack up and move" one space if successfully attacked, or is it destroyed on the first attack? A) Good point. I rule that it is destroyed (...and Looted)

Q) Can War Wagons ever attack? A) Yes (They are limited because some of the attack cards specify unit types, like Infantry, which they are not)

Q) When are Special Ability Cards (SAC) played? A) When appropriate according to the target Unit's Special Ability.

Q) If a SAC was played in movement phase then are you barred from playing one in attack phase that turn? A) The only real limit is that a given unit can only move once and attack once per turn (regardless if it was a regular or special move or attack). Plus, you can move/attack with multiple units each turn, until you run out of cards.

Q) Can a SAC be played in lieu of regular Attack/Defense (E.g. Versatile Spears can either attack or defend against any Shock Unit by playing this card only; Slingers attack by playing this card only)? A) Yes

Q) Auxilia Special Ability is "Open Formation IF in rough ground?" A) This SA allows them to use a Special Ability card as either an Attack card or a Defense card if they are in a rough ground space.

Q) Warband Special Ability is "Berserker Frenzy." This is an attack, which they could do anyway with an attack card. What is the benefit of this ability? A) It gives them (8) more cards in the deck they can attack with (cards are a limited resource)

Q) Horde Special Ability: Is the extra Horde considered a double-strength unit or is it a separate piece on the board? A) It's a separate piece.

Q) Chariots are considered Cavalry, such that they cannot attack Elephants? A) Yes they won't attack Elephants.

Ant Hill

Introduction

Board & Card game for 2-4 players. Players control rival Ant colonies.

Victory

Destroy all rival colonies.

The Board

Use an 8 x 8 Grid. This represents the backyard of a suburban house.

Terrain

1D6 random spaces are Sweet spots. Get one Food Token in Event phase for each Sweet spot you control. 2D6 random spaces are Concrete Slabs.

Ant counters cannot be placed on Slabs. 1D6 random spaces are Dry spots. Get one Dig Token in Event phase for each Dry Spot you control.

1D6 random spaces are Covered spots. Draw an extra card in Event phase for each Covered Spot you control. Use Tiles to indicate terrain.

Dice

Dice of several sizes are required: D6, D8, D20

Random Space

When asked to determine a random space roll 2 eight sided dice (2D8) to get X and Y coordinates.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Ant Counters

Each player gets a set of Ant counters of a unique color. (Red & Black for a 2 player game.)

Tokens

A Food Token counts +1 to your Forage Total (one time only). Likewise for Dig and Breed Tokens. Use tokens of 3 different colors.

Setup

Each player starts in a corner space of the board. Put a stack of 10 counters in this space. This is your starting colony.

The smallest player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 phases: Worker Phase Event Phase Fight Phase Nest Phase Scout Phase

Worker Phase

Draw 3 cards. Max hand is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Players may trade cards in this phase.

Event Phase

Roll once on the Event Table.

1D20	Event:	Notes:
1	Bar-B-Q	Put Food tokens in 4 random spaces
2	Picnic	Put Food tokens in 5 random spaces
3	Pesticides	Kill all Ants in 10 random spaces
4	Kids Party	Put Food tokens in 6 random spaces
5	Good Luck	Draw 1 Card
6	Slug	Put 5 Food Tokens in 1 random space
7	Dead Frog	Put 6 Food Tokens in 1 random space
8	Earthworm	Put 4 Food Tokens in 1 random space
9	Spider	Kill all Ants in 1 random space
10	Millipede	Kill all Ants in 1 random space
11	Caterpillar	Put 4 Food Tokens in 1 random space
12	Ant Lion	Kill all Ants in 1 random space

1D20	Event:	Notes:
13	New Queen	Gain 1D6 Breed tokens
14	Spring	All Players gain 1D6 Breed tokens
15	Good Spot	Gain 1D6 Dig tokens
16-17	Double	Roll twice more on this table
18-20	Rain	All Dig cards are -3 until your next turn

Fight Phase

One of your stacks may attack an enemy Ant stack in an adjacent space. You must play a Fight card with a Level equal to less than the number of ants in your stack. Your opponent may also play a Fight card (with the same limitation).

The target stack loses a number of Ants (killed) equal to the Card played. If you wipe out a space, you may move 1 of your attacking ants into it.

Nest Phase

You may play a meld and tokens. A Meld consists of 3 cards: One each of Forage, Dig, and Breed. Each card has a Level modified by the Tokens played.

Determine your lowest Level in the 3 categories. Gain a number of Ant counters equal to this Level. For Example: You have Forage 3, Dig 7, and Breed 8: You gain 3 Ant counters (of your color).

Place these counters in a space you occupy or in adjacent empty spaces. You may stack any number of Ants in a given space. Discard played Cards and Tokens

Scout Phase

Take control of any Tokens in any space you occupy. Remove these from the board and keep them next to you. Unclaimed Tokens in unoccupied spaces remain until claimed.

Faq

1) How do stacks move? Place stacks anywhere or one space a turn? A) Stacks don't move. That's intentional. The only way to expand into new spaces is by Card Melds and Fighting. If you want to move Stacks an optional rule would be to discard a Fight card to move its level in Ant counters one space each. When distributing counters after a Meld the counters can be spread over several adjacent spaces, they do not all have to go into one space.

2) Is fighting just one round or can you place more cards down after the first. A) One card only as I envisioned it. However, of course you may want to allow more in your House Rules.

3) In your example of reproduction phase, if two food tokens were added, then the total ants added would be 5. Correct? A) Yes, correct.

Apotheosis Of Technology

Introduction

Card Game for 2-4+ players. Theme: Technological Advancements of the next 1000 Years.

Victory

The player with the most Victory Tokens at the end of the game wins. The game ends when the Apotheosis of Technology card is revealed.

Victory Tokens

Players share a common set of Victory Tokens (VT).

Research Tokens

Players share a common set of Research Tokens (RT).

Energy Tokens

Players share a common set of Energy Tokens (ET).

The Decks

There are 10 small decks. Each deck represents a century. Each card represents a new technology, event, discovery, or social change.

Discards And Current Deck

If a card is discarded it goes to the bottom of its deck. The current deck is the oldest deck that still has at least 1 card in it. When Disaster cards are played, they are removed from the game.

Setup

Each player gets 10 VT. Start with the 21st Century Deck. Each player is dealt 2 cards from the deck.

Discard and redraw Disaster cards.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases.

1. Resource Phase
2. Discovery Phase
3. Implementation Phase
4. Progress Phase

Resource Phase

Gain 1 Research Token Gain 1 Energy Token

Discovery Phase

Draw 1 Card from the current deck. Decks are kept face down. Pay 5 RT to draw an extra card.

If the Deck runs out go on to the next deck. Whenever you draw a disaster card reveal and play it immediately. Resolve the Disaster and continue drawing.

Every Player starts with a pick ability of 1. For every increase in pick ability, you may, when drawing a card, draw an extra card, pick 1 of your choice and place the others back on the top of the deck. Disasters don't count against your pick limit.

Implementation Phase

Play 1 card from your hand to the Table. Pay 5 ET to play an extra card.

Progress Phase

Max hand size is 4 cards. Discard excess cards.

Stealing Cards

When you steal from an opponents hand the card goes into your hand. When you steal a card in play, it stays in play, but under your control.

Aquaman

Introduction

Card game for 2-4 players. Aquaman Theme.

Disclaimer

Aquaman is a copyrighted, licensed property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

The first player to accumulate 3 Mission Tokens is the winner.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are 8 suites.

The Board

The board is an 8x8 grid. Each square must be big enough to easily hold 1 card.

Pawns

Each player gets 1 pawn of a unique color. Each pawn represents a different manifestation of Aquaman.

Dice

Two 6-sided dice are needed.

Mission Tokens

Players share a common set.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Randomly deal 1 card face up to each space on the board. Each player places their Pawn on a different corner space.

Each player draws 3 cards to start. Players roll high on 1D6 to see who goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 Phases:

1. Power Phase
2. Swim Phase
3. Action Phase
4. Mission Phase
5. Rest Phase

Power Phase

If you have at least 5 cards in your hand, you may discard 1 card from your hand to activate its special ability: Aquaman: Draw 2 cards from the deck & put them in your hand. If the sum of the Ranks of the 2 cards is less than the Rank of the Aquaman card, draw and keep a third card. Companion: Look at the next 4 cards in the deck. Keep one and discard the other 3. The one you keep must be of a lower Rank than the Companion Card. Sea Creature: Take top card of discard and put it in your hand.

It must be of a lower rank than the Sea Creature card. Plot: You may move your pawn to any target, non-occupied space this turn in Swim phase (do not bother rolling the dice). The card in the target space must be of a lower Rank than the Plot card. Foe: Target opponent who is adjacent to you must reveal one random card from his hand; If it is lower in Rank than the Foe card it is discarded.

Power: Discard X cards and draw X replacement cards. The cards you discard may not be of a higher Rank than the Power card. Strangeness: Put 1 target adjacent card on the board in your hand. It must be of a lower Rank than the Strangeness card. Immediately draw a card to replace it with on the Board. Location: Look at the next X cards in the deck.

X the Rank of the Location card.

Swim Phase

Roll two dice. Move your pawn on the board orthogonally first the distance of one of the dice, and then the distance of the other. For example, you roll a 2 and a 5. You decide to first move him to your left 5 spaces and then forward 2 spaces.

Action Phase

If you land on a space not occupied by another pawn, take the card there and put it in your hand. Immediately replace the card you took with the top card of the deck. If the space is occupied by a another players pawn, there will be a fight: Both players reveal 1 card from their hand. High card wins. If tied players reveal a second card. Discard all revealed cards. The winner gets to look at the losers hand and steal 1 card.

Mission Phase

You may complete a Mission: Play (discard) 8 cards from your hand, one from each of the eight suites. Gain a Mission Token.

Rest Phase

Max hand size is 10 cards. Discard excess cards.

Arab Israeli Wars

Introduction

Solo Card Game System simulating the Arab Israeli Wars 1948+. Currently only cards set for the Israeli War of Independence is available. The player takes the role of the Israelis.

Arab deployments are automatic.

Fronts

There are 3 Fronts:

1. Northern Frontier (Galilee)
2. Central Frontier (Jerusalem)
3. Southern front (Negev)

Each Front requires some table space. Unit cards are deployed to the Fronts.

Territory Tokens

Each Front is represented by 6 Territory Tokens (TT)

Victory Conditions

Complete Loss - If the Arabs control all 6 TT at any 1 Front you lose. (The Israelis are pushed into the Sea)
Decisive Victory - If you win all battles at all 3 Fronts 2 turns in a row. Attrition Victory - If the Arabs have no Unit cards left.

The Decks

Each War (conflict) will have its own deckset. A Deckset consists of three Decks:

1. Israeli Unit Deck
2. Arab Unit Deck
3. Event Deck

Unit Cards

Each unit card represents a Military Unit. Unit cards will either be Arab or Israeli. Each Unit card has a Force rating.

Unit cards will say what Front the card must be deployed to.

Setup

The Israelis begin in control of all TT. Skip Battle phase on the first turn.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 6 Phases:

1. Arab Phase
2. Event Phase
3. Israeli Phase
4. Transfer Phase
5. Battle Phase
6. End Phase

Arab Phase

Draw 3 Arab cards from the Arab deck and Deploy them to their designated Fronts.

Event Phase

Draw 1 Event card, which will take its effect this turn.

Israeli Phase

Draw 2 cards from the Israeli Deck. These may be deployed to any 1 or 2 Fronts the player wants.

Transfer Phase

One Israeli Regular Unit may be moved to a different Front.

Battle Phase

Add up the Force Total of both sides at each Front. (3 Fronts = 3 Battles) If the Totals tie (Stalemate), each side must discard 1 random unit card. The higher Total wins the battle at that Front. The winner takes 1 TT from the loser (If the losing side has any) The loser must discard 1 random Unit card.

If a side had no units at the start of the battle, the other side takes 2 TT.

End Phase

Check for Victory Conditions.

Randomization

Some rules, cards require a random Flank or Unit at a Flank to be selected. Use dice to aid in randomization.

Card List NotationN North FrontS South FrontC Central FrontR Random Front

Number of copies of card in deck

Target = The player chooses which Flank, Unit, etc will be affected
 Notes = Some Notes are rules, some are descriptors, some are just for color
 Truce = Skip Battle Phase this Turn
 Vehicles = This Regular Unit gets 1

Free Transfer per Turn Leader = All Non-Leader Units at same Flank get +1 Force
 Extremists = They Deploy to a Random Flank

The 1948 War Of Israeli Independence Deckset

In this scenario the Arabs start in control of 3 TT at each Front. (The Palestinians controlled half of the country)

Arab Spring

Introduction

Board game for 2-4+ players. Theme: The ongoing social and political revolutions in the Middle East and North African Countries circa 2010+.

Victory

The player with the most Reform Tokens at the end of the game wins. The game ends when 4 Countries have been Overthrown.

The Board

The board is a circular track of 50 spaces. Each space should be large enough to hold 1 card. There are 2 types of Spaces: Revolution and Country.

Eleven Countries are Represented:

The Deck

Players share a Common Deck. The deck has one copy of each card in the card list. There are 3 main types of cards:

- 1. Revolution Cards
- 2. Resistance Cards
- 3. Motivation Cards

Counters

Each player has a set of counters of a unique color.

Pawns

Each player has a single Pawn. This pawn should be the same color as the players counters. More than 1 Pawn may occupy 1 space on the board at a time.

Victory Tokens

Players share a common set of Victory Tokens.

Dice

Six sided dice are needed.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Each player picks a color and takes the corresponding Pawn and Counters. All players draw 2 cards from the deck.

Players roll high on the dice to see who goes first. All players place their pawns on the number 1 Revolution space on the board before the Tunisia Country spaces.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 Phases: Draw Phase Move Phase Action Phase Overthrow Phase End Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 1 Card and place it in your hand. You may discard a Motivation card to draw 2 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Move Phase

Roll 1 die and move forward that many spaces OR discard a card from your hand and move forward a number of spaces equal to its Force Value. If you land on a Revolution Space you may do one of three actions:

1. Roll the Die and move again
2. Move to any other Revolution Space on the Board
3. Draw 1 Card and place it in your hand
4. Play a Counter onto any Country Space you have Radicalized.

Action Phase

— If you land on a Country Space that has no card on it, you may play a Revolution card to that space. Tuck it partially under the Board directly next to the space. Place 1 of your Counters on the Space if you placed a card there. If you have a card under a space you are said to have Radicalized it.

You may chose not to play a Revolution card if you don't want to or cannot. If a Country already has 1 card of the same type, you cannot play a second. For example: Tunisia can only have 1 Intervention card tucked under its spaces. — If you land on a Country Space that you have already Radicalized (You have a card and one or more counters there already) you may do one of the following:

1. Place an additional counter on the Space.
2. Exchange the tucked card with one from your hand.

Common Deck Card List

Name	Type	Force
Demonstrations	C	3
Protests	C	4

2. Draw 1 card and discard 1 card (It may be the same card).

— If you land on a Country space radicalized by another player, you can either do nothing or play 1 or more Resistance cards with a combined Force value equal to or greater than the number of Counters your opponent has on the space. If you do so, discard all the counters on the space and the card tucked under it. Remove the Resistance cards from the game. — If you land on a Country Space that is Overthrown skip over it and go to the next space and resume your move.

Overthrow Phase

If you played a Revolution card under a Country space this turn and all the other spaces for that country have already been Radicalized (by you or others) the Country is now said to have been Overthrown. Immediately score Victory Tokens (VT) for the country. — You gain 2 Victory Tokens for playing the final card to Overthrow the country. — The player with the highest combined total of Counters and Card Force values gets 5 VT.

— The player with the second highest total of Counters and Card Force values gets 3 VT. — All other players with at least 1 card and counter in the Country get 1 VT each. If tied for first, tied players get 4 VT each. If tied for second, tied players get 2 VT each.

Overthrown Countries are out of play. Pawns cannot land on them, they simply move past them without counting them.

End Phase

Max hand size is 5 cards. Discard excess cards.

End Game Scoring

Each player gets 1 extra VP for each Space they have a Counter in.

As things progress I plan to make adjustments.

Arabia

Introduction

High adventure in the mysterious lands of Arabia.
2-4+ players. Simple boardgame.

The Board

Square track 10 spaces per side. Total 36 spaces.
Each space must be large enough to hold one card.
The center of the board contains the Adventure deck and the discard pile.

Special squares are listed below. All other spaces are "empty" spaces.

#	Name
1	Bagdhad (Lower right square. Start square)
-	Gain a Fame token if you land on or pass this square.
10	Mecca (Lower left square)
-	Miss a turn praying if you land on this square. Gain 1 Faith token.
19	Medina (Upper left square)
-	Miss a turn praying if you land on this square. Gain 1 Faith token.
28	Silk Road (Upper right square)
-	Gain a Fortune token if you land on this square.

Victory

The player who has the most Fortune points gets a Fortune win. The player who has the most Fame points gets a Fame win. The player who has the most Faith points gets a Faith win.

Game End

The game ends when a player goes to draw a card and there are no cards left in the deck.

Tokens

Use different colored tokens to represent Fame, Fortune, and Faith points.

Dice

Six sided dice are needed.

Adventure Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 6 types of cards mixed in: Challenge cards, Treasure cards, Event cards, Item cards, Location cards, and Aid cards. The deck contains one of each card listed.

Figures

Each player uses a figure or pawn to represent their character on the board.

Characters

Each player chooses 1 Character or Hero:

Character	Description
Ali Baba	If Ali defeats a "Men" Challenge he gains 1 Fortune Token.
Aladdin	Aladdin gets +1 to Fate rolls vs Magic, Djinn & Underworld.
Sindbad the Sailor	Sindbad gets +1 to Fate rolls vs Animals, Beasts & Nature.
Thief of Bagdhad	The thief gets +1 to all Steal rolls.
Morgiana	(Ali Babas' Slave) She may reroll one roll per turn.
Antar	(The Black Warrior Poet) Antar gets +1 to Fate rolls vs Men.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. All players start on Bagdhad. Roll high on 1D6 to determine turn order.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Note that characters will often lose or gain turns. On their turn a player rolls 1D6 and moves his character pawn clockwise that many spaces.

If the pawn lands on an empty space that player draws 1 Card from the Adventure deck. If the draw is an Item card, Treasure card, or Aid card, the player puts the card face up in front of him. Treasure cards are worth one Fortune point each.

If the draw is an Event card, resolve it according to the rules on the card and then discard the card. If the draw is a Challenge card roll 1D6 (This is called the Fate roll): On a roll of 1-3 the hero fails the challenge and misses his next turn. A failed challenge card remains on the space.

On a roll of 4-6 the hero wins the challenge. The winning hero keeps the challenge card he wins. Won challenge cards are worth 1 Fame point each.

If a pawn lands on a space containing a challenge card he must face the challenge. If the draw is a Location card it is placed on the space and remains there permanently. Every time a pawn lands on a location card it must follow the instructions on the card.

Stealing

If a pawn lands on a space containing an opponents pawn he may roll 1D6 (This is called the Steal roll): On a roll of 1-3 nothing happens. On a roll of 4-6 the hero may steal one treasure or item or fortune token from his opponent.

Game Designers Notes

For more atmosphere you may want to put a map of the Middle east in the center of the board. Some of the empty squares might be a good place to put artwork, or have the labeled with Middle East place names such as: Syria, Tunisia, Tripoli, Alexandria, Cairo, Giza, Jedda, Oman, Damascus, Jerusalem, Persia, Yemen, Sahara, Libya, Basra, Afghanistan.

Story Telling Game Variant

by Frederic Moll fmoll@geocities.com

Here is another way to use the cards described in the ARABIA game.... It will be "ARABIA : the storytelling game"...

The original idea came when i first played "Once upon a time" game... Thus it use the OUAT system with arabian twists...

Material Required

- Cards from the ARABIA game
- Endings cards (similar to the OUAT ending cards but with arabian flavor)
- More cards (locations, characters, etc....)

Goal Of The Game

Being about to tell and finish stories... The longer the story, the more victory points will be earned...

Game Setup

Give to each player 4 ending cards. Shuffle the remaining ending cards with the ARABIA cards and then deal 7 cards to each player.

One of the player will begin to tell a story and put down a card when the card/word is said...

Game System (borrowed From Ouat Game)

Every time a word on a card is said, the card will be put down on the right of the last card. If during his play, the teller says a word that is on a card of another player hand, it will be an interruption. The interruption put his card down and must continue the story.

Beginning A Sub-story

As most arabian stories have sub-stories, when a character / human / intelligent being is placed down, it is possible to begin a sub-story...

Example : when Alex played the "Old man on the sea", he decides to start a sub story that will be told by this old man... The sub story cards will be placed in a row under the originating card... To conclude the sub-story , and thus continue the original storyline, at least 4 cards must be placed before being able to put an ending card...

As in arabian tales, it is possible to have a sub-story told during a sub-story...

When the sub story is ended, the "ending" player take all the cards composing the sub story in front of him in his victory pile.

Picking Additional Cards

When a player is interrupted, he must pick a card from the deck of unused card. If a player try to place an ending card that is not viewed as a good ending to the story by the other players, he must pick 3 additional cards.

Finishing The Game

The game is finished when a player has laid down all his story cards and place the final ending to the main storyline.

Determining The Winner

Being the finishing player of the main story : 2 points

For each sub-story/story finished : 1 point + (number of story cards played in the story minus 3)...

Example : Alex was able to finished 2 sub stories (8 cards long and 6 cards long)... Thus alex will earn :

- 1 point + 5 points (8 - 3) for the 8 cards long story
- 1 point + 3 points (6 - 3) for the 6 cards long story

Arc Gammon

Introduction

Two player variant of backgammon.

The Board

The Board is a ring of 12 Circles. The circles are also referred to as spaces. The spaces are numbered 1 to 12.

Dice

Two white six sided dice are needed. One black six sided die is needed. This is referred to as the 'Modifier die.'

Pieces

Each player gets a set of 12 tokens of a distinct color (red & blue for example). Tokens must be able to stack.

Setup

The red player puts one token on spaces 7, 9, and 11. The blue player puts one token on spaces 8, 10, and 12. That leaves each player with a pile of 9 tokens.

Roll high on one die (1D6) to determine who goes first.

Stacking

You may stack any number of tokens in a space. A stack contains one or more tokens. All of your tokens in the same space must be stacked together.

Moving a stack onto another stack makes one bigger stack.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 phases:

1. Roll Phase
2. Modifier Phase
3. Place Phase
4. Move Phase

Roll Phase

Roll all 3 dice (the two white and one black).

Modifier Phase

If all 3 dice show the same number (Triples) then put two tokens on the space with that number. For example: You roll 3 Fives: Put 2 tokens on space number

5. You cannot do this if the space contains 3 or more enemy tokens (Go to Place Phase).

If the space contains 1 or 2 enemy tokens they are captured. Captured tokens go to their players (owners) pile. If the dice come up 1,3,5 (Odds) then Switch the location of one of your stacks with an opponents stack.

If the dice come up 2,4,6 (Evens) then Knock one of your opponents stacks out of play. Knocked out tokens go to their players pile. If you got Odds, Evens, or Triples then your turn ends.

Do not go on to Place or Move Phase.

Place Phase

Discard the Modifier die (it is only used in modifier phase). If both white dice show the same number (Doubles) then put one token on the space with that number. For example: You roll 2 Sixes: Put 1 token on space number 6.

You cannot do this if the space contains 2 or more enemy tokens (Go to Move Phase). If the space contains 1 enemy token it is captured. If you got Doubles this turn then your turn ends. Do not go on to Move Phase.

Move Phase

For each roll on each of your white dice you may move a stack or part of a stack that many spaces clockwise. For example: on the white dice you roll a 3 and a 4. You move one of your stacks 3 spaces.

Then you move another stack 4 spaces. Or you can move a stack 3 & then 4 spaces (or 4 & then 3 spaces). You must move if it is at all possible.

Moving part of a stack allows you to break up big stacks. A larger stack can capture an enemy stack of smaller or equal size by moving onto it. Captured tokens go to their players pile.

A stack cannot be moved onto an opposing stack that is larger

Winning

To win you must satisfy one of the following conditions:

1. Capture all of your opponents tokens
2. Occupy any 9 spaces
3. Occupy Spaces: 12,1,2,3
4. Occupy Spaces: 3,4,5,6
5. Occupy Spaces: 6,7,8,9
6. Occupy Spaces: 9,10,11,12
7. Occupy any 5 spaces in a row.

Arcane Armies

Introduction

Common Deck Card game for 2-4+ players. Fantasy Army-Building Conquest Theme.

Victory

You win if, at the beginning of your turn, your Cards in play have a combined strength of 40 or more.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Damage Tokens

Damage Tokens (DT) are used to keep track of damage on units. If the DT on a unit exceeds its Strength it is destroyed and discarded. DT should be Red.

Strength Tokens

Each Strength Token (ST) is worth Strength +1. ST should be Blue.

Basic Card Types

There are 2 basic card types: Units and Spells. Units are further divided into Individuals and Groups.

Setup

Shuffle the deck and place it face down in the center of the table. Flip over the top card of the deck to be the start of the discard pile. Determine turn order: Roll high on 1D6. High roll goes first.

Play proceeds clockwise. The first player to go is dealt 2 cards. The second player to go is dealt 3 cards.

The third player to go is dealt 4 cards and so on.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn is divided into 4 Phases:

1. Conquest Phase
2. Scour Phase
3. Deploy Phase
4. Last Phase

Conquest Phase

You win if, at the beginning of your turn, your Cards in play have a combined Strength of 40 or more. Important Note: Units with Damage Tokens have their Strength reduced by the number of Tokens.

Scour Phase

Draw 1 card from the deck and put it in your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Deploy Phase

Play 1 card from your hand face up to the table. Immediately resolve the card's Special Ability. If the card has a strength of zero (most Spells) it is immediately discarded.

Otherwise it stays in play as part of your army, its Strength contributing to your Armies total Strength. You may play a second card if the Strength of both cards played is 10 or less. This number is called the Deployment Limit. (Note that most spells have Strength = 0) Note: The first player on his first turn of the game can play a max of 1 card.

Last Phase

You may unflip a card in play by discarding a card from your hand. Max hand size is 5 Cards. Discard excess cards.

Special Abilities

All cards have a special ability (SA) that is activated and resolved as soon as the card is played.

Ambush Sa

In the form of Ambush = X. The card does X damage to the very next enemy Unit that is put into play.

Armor Sa

In the form of Armor = X. This Unit takes X less damage from every Attack or Ambush directed against it.

Attach Sa

As long as this unit is in play the target Unit gets the indicated bonus/benefit. If the target Unit is destroyed/discarded a new target may be chosen. This Unit cannot be targeted by Attacks or Ambushes while it is attached.

Attack Sa

In the form of Attack = X. The card does X damage to target enemy card in play. If there are no targets the attack is wasted.

Place Damage Tokens (DT) to keep track of Damage. If a card has multiple attacks they must all be against different targets.

Banding Sa

This is an Unstated automatic property of all Units except Relics, Heroes, and Mages. For every unit over 1 with the same type in your army gets +1 Strength in Conquest Phase. For example: You have 4 Humanoids in play, so your total strength is +3 in Conquest Phase.

Boost Sa

Next Unit you play gets 4 Strength Tokens.

Buff Sa

Target Friendly Unit gets 3 Strength Tokens.

Charge Sa

Even if damaged, this unit is always worth its Strength +1 in Combat Phase.

Conditional-x Sa

This SA only happens if a unit of type X is in play. Use these types of cards only in pre-constructed decks.

Conqueror Sa

This unit's Strength counts as double for Victory Conditions.

Control Sa

If there is a target Unit of the indicated type in play controlled by an opponent, it is Now under your control. If there are multiple targets, choose one.

Death Eater Sa

This unit gains 1 ST every time a unit is killed.

Defense Sa

The next Attack or Ambush against this unit is negated.

Disrupt Sa

When played opponent must discard random card from hand.

Find Sa

Flip over cards of the deck until you find one of the indicated type, then put it in your hand. Reshuffle the deck.

Flip Sa

Flip target Unit card over so back is facing. This unit does not contribute it's Strength or Special Abilities while flipped. Units can be unflipped by other SA or actions.

Flying Sa

In Conquest Phase if you have more Flying Units than your opponent gain 5 Strength.

Growth Sa

At the beginning of your turn this Unit gains 1 Strength Token.

Heal Sa

Remove X Damage Tokens from one of your Units. This also unflips petrified units.

Horde Sa

This unit comes into play with 3 ST on it.

Leader Sa

All your other Units except Relics or Locales get +1 Strength.

Loot Sa

Steal 1 Random card from opponent's hand.

Martyr Sa

The owner of this Unit may choose to have it be the target of a SA instead of The Target chosen by the Attacker.

Outflank Sa

All enemy Units are worth -1 Strength in Conquest Phase.

Overrun Sa

Slay target Unit that is smaller by 2 or more strength.

Petrify Sa

Just like the flip SA however, petrified units can only be unflipped if they are the target of a Heal effect.

Raise Dead Sa

Return to play the last Unit of yours that was destroyed.

Ranged Sa

In Conquest Phase if you have more ranged Units than your opponent gain 5 Strength.

Reaction Sa

This card is played on your opponent's turn from your hand as a reaction to a card play or action he takes as appropriate.

Regenerate Sa

Remove 1 Damage Token from this Unit in Last Phase.

Return Sa

Return target Unit to their Controller's Hand.

Scry Sa

When played draw 1 card and look at opponent's hand.

Skirmish Sa

Draw 1 Card and Flip enemy Unit with higher Strength.

Slay Sa

If there is a target Unit of the indicated type in play controlled by an opponent, it is Automatically destroyed (discarded). If there are multiple targets, choose one.

Sleeping Sa

This Unit comes into play flipped. When played it does not cost anything against your Deployment Limit.

Spell Immunity Sa

Unit cannot be affected by spells.

Spell Power Sa

This unit gains 1 ST every time you cast a Spell.

Stealth Sa

If possible another unit must be targeted by a SA instead of this one.

Taunt Sa

Flip target Unit. That unit cannot be unflipped until this unit is destroyed.

Tough Sa

This unit's Strength counts as double for how much Damage it can take before being Destroyed.

Weakened Sa

Unit gains a number of Damage Tokens to bring its Strength down to The indicated level.

Archaic Animalia

Introduction

Strategy Card and Board Game for 2 to 6+ players. It is the Warm Permian-Triassic period and primitive animals are just Starting to colonize the landmass of Pangaea.

Victory

When the game ends, the player with the most Victory points wins.

End Of Game

The game ends when every territory is occupied by at least 1 Animal Token.

End Game Scoring

Gain 1 Victory Point (VP) for each Animal Token (AT) you have on the Board. Isolated Spaces: Gain 1 extra VP for every territory you have an AT on and no other player does.

Card Name:	Number of Copies of Card in Deck
Temperature	10
Elevation	10
Rainfall	10

Wild cards may be substituted for all other types of cards.

The Map

Use a Hex map. Hexes = Spaces = Territories = Regions. The map represents the ancient continent of Environmental Factor Table

1D6	Rating	Temperature	Elevation	Rainfall
0-2	1	Hot	Sea Level	Heavy
3	2	Warm	Low	Wet
4	3	Temperate	Medium	Moderate

Map Setup And Starting Zones

Along the edges of the Continent designate 12 hexes to be starting zones. Starting zones hexes have a Rating =1 in each of the 3 Environmental Factors. The center of Pangaea was dry: Those spaces have +1 to

Taxons

Each player picks 1 Taxon as their identity. There are 10 available Basic Taxons:

1. Insects
2. Crustaceans
3. Mammals
4. Amphibians
5. Reptiles
6. Dinosaurs
7. Worms
8. Birds
9. Marsupials
10. Arachnids

Animal Tokens

Each player has a set of Tokens of a unique color.

Dice

Six sided dice are needed (1D6).

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 5 types of cards:

Card Name:	Number of Copies of Card in Deck
Niche	10
Wild	10

Pangaea.

The continent should be composed of around 40 hexes. Each Hex is described by 3 Environmental Factors: Temperature, Elevation, and Rainfall. Each factor is rated 1 to 5.

In setup randomly determine the ratings for each factor for each space:

1D6	Rating	Temperature	Elevation	Rainfall
5	4	Cold	High	Dry
6+	5	Frozen	Extreme	Arid their Rainfall Rolls.

The northernmost and southernmost hexes should get a +1 to Temperature rolls. The equatorial hexes should get -1 to Temperature rolls.

Adaptation Levels

Each Taxon starts with an Adaptation Level of 1 for each of the 3 Environmental Factors: Temperature, Elevation, and Rainfall. As play proceeds you will increase your Adaptation Levels. This will allow you to inhabit terrains with higher Environmental ratings.

For example: Lets say you have an adaptation level of 1 in Temperature, and you Want to move into a Cold space (Rating =4). You would first need to increase Your adaptation level to 4 before you could place your AT there.

Setup

Create a Map as described above. Each player chooses a Taxon. Each player starts with 3 Animal Tokens (AT).

Players take turns placing their starting AT one at a time. A player may place his AT into any combination of starting zone spaces. Players roll high on 1D6 to see who goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 phases:

1. Variability Phase
2. Evolution Phase
3. Expansion Phase
4. End Phase

Variability Phase

Draw 4 cards from the deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Evolution Phase

You may increase your Adaptation level in 1 Factor by 1. To do this, you must discard a number of cards of that Factor Equal to the rating of the new level. Wild cards may be substituted for Factor cards.

For example: You want to increase your Rainfall level from 3 to 4. To do this you must play (discard) a combination of 4 Rainfall and/or Wild cards.

Expansion Phase

A space may contain any number of Animal Tokens (AT) on it from the Same player or multiple players. You may place new AT onto the board in this phase. . You may place an AT into a space you already occupy, or into a Space adjacent to a space you occupy.

If entering a new space, you must have adaptation levels equal to or higher Than the Environmental factors of that space. To place a new AT, you must discard a number of Niche and/or Wild cards Equal to the number of AT already there +1. For example: A space is completely empty; You discard 1 Niche card to Place 1 of your AT onto it.

Second example: a space contains 5 AT; You play 6 cards to place 1 AT there. You may place as many AT onto the board in this phase as you have Niche (and Wild) Cards to pay for them.

End Phase

You must discard down to 4 or less cards.

Special Abilities

Each Taxon has 1 special Ability:

Ability	Description
Insects	They may evolve a second time per turn in a different factor
Crustaceans	They may expand into coastal spaces they are not adjacent to
Mammals	Start with Adaptation Level =3 for Temperature
Amphibians	Start the game with 6 AT in play
Reptiles	Start with Adaptation Level =3 for Rainfall
Dinosaurs	Expanding costs them one less card (minimum 1)
Worms	You may discard down to 5 or less cards in End phase
Birds	Start with Adaptation Level =3 for Elevation
Marsupials	In end scoring gain 2 VP for each Isolated space you have
Arachnids	Spaces containing Arachnids cost 1 extra card to expand into

Archean Empires

Introduction

Area Control game for 2-6 players. Early Earth Primitive Microbial Life Forms Compete for Territory.

Victory

The player occupying the most territories at the end of the Game is the gets 1 Victory Point (VP). The player with the most Totally Controlled Territories gets 1 VP. The player with the most BMT in play gets 1VP.

The player with the most VP wins. (Ties are possible)

Game End

The Game ends when all territories are filled up to their Max population levels.

Biomass Tokens

Each player has an unlimited set of Tokens of a unique color. These are called Biomass Tokens (BMT).

The Map

Use an 8 x 8 grid map (64 spaces), square, hex, or irregular. Each space is called a Territory. Each territory has a resource value from 1 to 6.

When creating a map roll 1D6 for each space.

Territories

At the end of a turn, there can be no more BMT in a Territory than the Resource level of that Territory. If a space has only one player occupying it, that player is said to be in Total control of that Territory.

Kingdoms

Each player belongs to a unique Microbial Kingdom. There are 6 Kingdoms available:

1. Archaeobacteria
2. Viroids
3. Fungi
4. Cyanobacteria
5. Protazoa
6. Eubacteria

Archaeobacteria

Primitive bacteria able to survive in very marginal, hostile environments. Archaeobacteria start with Resistance = 3.

Viroids

Sub-cellular entities that lack their own metabolism. Viroids start with Virulence = 3.

Fungi

Filamentous Eukaryotic cells with unique cell walls that reproduce by means of spores. The Fungi start with Infiltration = 3.

Protazoans

Large eukaryotic protista cells that are fast moving aggressive hunters. The Protista start with Spread = 3

Cyanobacteria

Fast growing photosynthetic prokaryotes. The Cyanobacteria start with a Growth = 4.

Eubacteria

Common and highly adaptable saprophytic bacteria. The Eubacteria get to draw 3 cards in Genetics phase and their Hand size is 6 cards.

Traits

Each player has 5 Traits that describe his Kingdom:

1. Growth
2. Spread
3. Infiltration
4. Virulence
5. Resistance

Each trait has a starting level that increases during play by the Use of Evolution cards.

Growth

This is how many new BMT you get each turn. New BMT are placed in Territories you already occupy. The Growth starting level is 2.

Spread

This is how many stacks of BMT you can move each turn. A stack is one or more BMT starting in the same territory. The Spread starting level is 1.

Infiltration

This is how many spaces a Stack can move. A stack must leave at least 1 BMT in every Territory it moves through. The Infiltration starting level is 1.

Virulence

This gives an advantage in Overpopulation phase. The Virulence starting level is 1.

Resistance

This gives an advantage in Overpopulation phase. The Resistance starting level is 1.

The Evolution Deck

Players share a common deck. Each card corresponds to one of the 5 traits. Cards played in Evolution phase give you a permanent increase of 1 in a trait.

You may freely play cards in other phases, even on an opponents turn; When You do this, you get a +1 bonus in the indicated trait, however it only lasts Until the end of the turn.

Setup

Each player picks 1 corner space (or remote territory on the Map at least 3 spaces away from other players). Place 1 BMT on that space. Each player is dealt a hand of 2 cards.

The least evolved player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 phases: Genetics Phase Evolution Phase Growth Phase Spread Phase Overpopulation Phase Dormancy Phase

Genetics Phase

Draw 2 cards from the deck and put them in your hand.

Evolution Phase

Play (discard) one card from your hand. Your score in the corresponding trait increases by 1. Record your current trait levels using paper and pencil.

Growth Phase

Gain new BMT equal to your Growth trait. New BMT are placed in Territories you already occupy.

Spread Phase

You may move a number of stacks equal to your spread trait. A stack is one or more BMT starting in the same territory. You may move your stacks a number of spaces equal to your Infiltration Trait. Every time you move a stack, you must leave Behind at least 1 BMT in the space you just moved from.

Overpopulation Phase

If a space contains more BMT in it than its Resource level, then the Number of BMT in excess die off. The player with the highest Virulence level in the space may immediately Remove 1 Target BMT of his choice. (Do not do this if tied) You cannot target a BMT that has a higher Resistance than your Virulence. Take all the remaining BMT from all players in the space and put them in a cup.

Randomly remove BMT from the cup until there is no Overpopulation problem. The player with the highest Resistance level (skip if tied) may toss 1 removed BMT back into the Cup (once) and have a new one drawn to be eliminated. Place the remaining BMT back into the territory.

Killed BMT (eliminated) are removed from the map.

Dormancy Phase

Max hand size is 5 cards. Discard excess cards.

Evolution Deck Card List

Card Name: - Growth - Spread - Infiltration - Virulence - Resistance There are 8 copies of each card in the deck.

Archeologists

Introduction

Players are rival Archaeologists in the early 20th century trying to accumulate Fame and Artifacts. Card game for 2-4+ players.

Victory

The first player to accumulate 50 Victory Points (VP) wins the game.

Victory Points, Pile, & Tokens

Use coins or tokens to represent Victory Points. A Player's Victory Pile will contain Find cards and Victory Tokens.

The Decks

There are 2 Common Decks: The Dig Deck and the Finds Deck. If during play, a deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

The Dig Deck

The Dig Deck contains 3 kinds of cards: Expedition Cards Help Cards Score Cards

Setup

Shuffle both decks. Players draw cards from the Finds Deck. The player that draws the highest value Draw card is the Lead Archeologist on the first turn.

Redraw in case of Ties. Shuffle the cards back into the deck.

Lead Archaeologist

Use a small object (the Relic) to denote which player is the Lead Archaeologist (LA). The LA goes first in all

Cards in Meld	Dig Value

Excavation Phase

In turn, Players who played Melds may dig in the Finds Deck. To Dig, draw a number of cards from the Find Deck = Dig Value of the Meld. A player may keep any Find cards he draws that match the EC in his Meld.

These are placed in the players Victory Pile. All other Find cards are shuffled back into the deck. Meld phases in which the players take turns. After the LA play proceeds clockwise.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 7 Phases:

1. Resources Phase
2. Recruiting Phase
3. Expedition Phase
4. Excavation Phase
5. Exposition Phase
6. Sabbatical Phase
7. Cataloging Phase

Resources Phase

Draw 8 cards from the Dig Deck and place them Spread out, face-up in the middle of the Table. These are called the Resource cards (RC).

Recruiting Phase

Players take turns picking one RC and putting it in their hand Until all the RC's have been picked.

Expedition Phase

In turn, players may make Melds. A Meld must contain: Minimum 1 Expedition Card (EC) (More than 1 EC may be played but they must all be of the same locale) (Free EC's are Wild cards: they may be used as any locale) At least 2 Help Cards (HC) All HC's in a Meld must be of different types. Local Guides must match the locale of the EC.

A Meld has a Dig Value according to the following chart:

Cards in Meld	Dig Value
7	11
8	13
9	15

Cards are discarded.

Exposition Phase

If a player did not make a Meld this turn, he may play 1 Score card. A Conference card gains the player a number VP equal to 1 plus the Number of Expeditions the player has done this game in the indicated Locale.

An Exhibition card gains the player a number VP equal to the Value of all his Find cards (in his Victory Pile) of the indicated Locale.

Sabbatical Phase

If you did not make a Meld or Play a card in Exposition Phase, players may In turn, do one of the following:

1. Draw 2 Dig cards and add them to your hand.
2. Look at the next 5 cards in the Dig Deck and put 1 in your hand.
3. Draw 3 Dig cards, put them in your hand, then discard 2 cards from your hand.
4. Discard 3 Dig cards and then draw 4 Dig cards.
5. Discard your hand and draw an equal number of Dig cards from the deck.
6. Discard 1 Dig card and steal 1 random Dig card

- from opponent's hand
7. Gain 1 Victory Token
8. Steal the Relic

Cataloging Phase

Max hand size is 9 Dig cards. Players must discard excess cards. The Leading Archeologist passes the Relic to the next player clockwise; Exception: If you stole the Relic in Sabbatical Phase, you keep it for next turn.

Archmagi

Credits

By Lloyd Krassner Edited & Updated by Jason Newell

Introduction

Mages (Archmagi) use spells, heros, monsters, armies, and artifacts to destroy each other and conquer the world.

Map Design

for Archmagi Map Generator by Peter Cobcroft. Use a Hex map or hand draw Territories. Draw one large continent of 20-40+ territories. Differentiate between Sea & Land spaces.

Predetermine the terrain type in each Hex by choice or by using the D20 & consulting the Terrain chart. If a map is missing certain terrains, units from those terrains can be deployed in only special circumstances. Play may proceed on a map of unknown territories using the Exploration Phase and rules.

One or more Sea hexes should be designated as the Reef or Abyss terrain types. An alternative to the D20 method is to make Terrain chits for each of the Terrain types. Map designers may want to specify terrains that cannot be used for deployment.

Terrain Chart

D20	TYPE	NOTES
1	Plains	Steppes, Plateau, Grasslands
2	City	Civilized, Towns
3	Forest	Woods
4	Castle	Feudal
5	Heath	Farmlands
6	Hills	Chaparral
7	Swamp	Bog, Marsh
8	Caves	Caverns
9	Mountain	Crags, Peaks
10	Desert	Dunes
11	Jungle	Rain Forest
12	Tundra	Permafrost, Arctic
13	Taiga	Boreal Forest, Pine Forest
14	Ruins	Cursed Lands
15	Tors	Cold Mountains, Glaciers
16	Waste	Bad Lands, Broken Lands, Barrens
17	Sylvan	Faerie Woods

Setup- Resources

Each player randomly selects: 1 Archmagi chit 3 Unit chits in Reserve 5 Spell chits Players must also select the color of their banner chits. Players place their Archmagi on Land hexes on opposite ends of the map.

Setup- Determine Turn Order

Players roll high. Reroll ties. High roll goes first. Play proceeds in a clockwise direction. A player whose turn it is, is called the Active Player.

Victory Conditions

Destroy all opposing Archmagi units.

Chits

Units are represented by counters or chits. The chit has the name of the unit(or spell, etc.) on it. Make separate Recruitment piles for: Archmagi chits, Spell chits, Banner chits, Artifact chits, Unit chits.

Players will often have to refer to the lists in the rules to find out what certain chits do. All players should have their own copy of the rules.

D20	TYPE	NOTES
18	Volcano	Hot Springs, Lava Pits
19	Water	River, Lakes
20	Workshop	Factories
	Sea	Deep Sea
*	Abyss	Murky Depths
	Reef	Shallows
*	Coastal	Any Hex adjacent to a Sea Hex is also a Coastal Hex

Notes On Terrain

All units get Tactics+1 in their home terrain Coastal Hexes are considered to be both Land & Water

Turn Sequence

1-Recruit Units 2-Recruit Spells 3-Scout 4-Movement 5-Exploration 6-Battle A 'Round' is when all players have taken a turn. Then starts a new Round.

1- Recruit Units Phase

Acting Player draws 2 Unit chits from the Unit Recruit Pile Each unit, represented by the chit, is recruited in only one type of territory. Deploy the unit into its territory only if that territory is occupied by units you control. A player may hold up to 5 Unit chits in a pile called the Reserve.

Excess Units in the reserve are discarded back to the Unit Recruit Pile. Once per turn in his recruit phase, A player may discard two reserve chits to draw an artifact. Artifacts are also represented by chits and are drawn from a separate artifact pile.

Deploy artifact to any unit capable of using it. Artifacts can also be stored in the Reserve.

2- Recruit Spells Phase

All players, not just the acting player, draw 3 spells from the Spell Pile. A player can have a maximum of 7 spells in their Spell Reserve. Discard extras. These spells can be cast by any mage or spellcasting unit the player controls.

3- Scout Phase

Active players units only. Each Scout or Rogue unit belonging to the active player may reveal all units in an enemy stack adjacent to it. Units with the Steal ability may try to steal a target artifact in the same, or an adjacent hex.

Units with Guard ability will catch and kill the thieves on a roll of 1-2 on D6, preventing the theft. The theft succeeds on a roll of 1-2 on D6; One attempt per Scout phase. The stolen artifact stays in possession of the thief until it is given to another hero in the same hex in move or scout phase The target player must reveal if artifacts are present in the stack before a steal attempt is made.

Stacking & Banners

Any number of units may be stacked together. Each stack has on top a colored banner chit indicating the owner of the stack. Banners should also be marked with an identification number The banner chit also hides the identity of the units & artifacts in the stack.

Each player has as many banners as they need. Instead of putting the stack under the banner, the stack may be kept off of the map in an area marked with the same ID # as the banner.

4- Movement Phase

Acting Player Moves his units. By Default, units move 1 Hex. Swift units may move 2 Hexes into identified hexes.

Very Swift units may move 3 Hexes into identified hexes. Flying units may move over hexes occupied by enemy stacks. Units in the same space may trade artifacts

5- Exploration

This Phase occurs only in games where the identity of the terrains in the Hexes was not predetermined. Randomly determine, using the D20, the identity of unknown Hexes adjacent to your stacks.

6- Battle Phase

Occurs when two opposing stacks occupy the same space. The active player is always the attacker. Remove the stacks from the board, for the duration of the battle, but leave the banner chits as markers.

The Battle Phase is divided into 4 segments:

I- Reveal Combatants Segment

Each player simultaneously reveals one of their units from their stack. These are the combatants. During Sea battles, transported units may be combatants.

Ii- Tactical Options Segment

Players simultaneously reveal any other units that modify the combatants. This includes: Mages casting Spells, Generals, Sites, Artifacts, Archers. A mage or spellcaster may cast any number of spells per Battle Phase.

Units with skirmish or vanish may return that unit to their stack and replace it with another, once per

Battle Phase. Units with guard may replace another unit once per Battle Phase. Units with Paralyze may affect one unit per Battle Phase

Iii- Battle Roll Segment

Both units roll 1D6 and add Modifiers. This is the Battle roll The Modifiers include the bonuses listed in the description of each combatant. The higher rolling unit destroys its opponent. Ties result in both units surviving.

Stacks with mages may cast spells before or after the rolls depending on the nature of the spell. Normally effects that are battle roll modifiers are revealed before the roll is made.

Iv- Respite Segment

Certain effects occur.

Victory?

The Battle Phase is repeated until one side is destroyed or the attacker calls off the attack. The battle may end with both stacks still occupying the same territory.

Retreat

The defender may, during a battle, sacrifice a unit in Tactical options Segment to move the stack to an adjacent empty or friendly Hex.

Notes On Artifacts

Heros can only use one artifact per battle. Heros in the same hex may exchange artifacts in Scout or Move Phase. Artifacts belonging to killed heros are lost on a roll of 1-3 on D6 as soon as the hero is killed.

If not lost a friendly human, hero, demihero, or humanoid unit may take possession of it. If no friendly units are left, an enemy unit of these types may claim it. If none of these types remain the Artifacts are lost

Arcology

Introduction

Gin Rummy type card game based on the philosophies and theories of the Famous architect Paolo Soleri.

The Deck

There are 5 types of cards: Arcology, Structure, Energy, Theory & Philosophy cards.

Objective

Be the first to build 3 Arcologies. To build an Arcology, you must play a Meld. A Meld consists of 1 Arcology card & 2 of each other type of card.

Certain cards count as 2 cards (of the same type) when building certain Arcologies.

Setup

Each player is dealt a hand of 10 cards.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 Phases:

1. Idea Phase
2. Plan Phase
3. Build Phase

Idea Phase

On your turn draw 3 cards and put them in your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it.

Plan Phase

You may discard 1 card to gain its special effect: Theory Card: Draw 3 cards and discard any 2 cards. Arcology Card: Search deck for 1 card and put it in your hand. Structure Card: Draw 5 cards and then discard any 5 cards.

Energy Card: Draw 2 Cards. Philosophy Card: Steal 1 random card from opponents hand.

Build Phase

If you are able, you may play a meld. At the end of your turn always discard 1 card (even if you have less than 10). Max hand size is 10 cards. Discard excess cards at the end of your turn.

Card List Notation

- T Theory
- A Arcology
- S Structure
- E Energy
- P Philosophy

Bonus = Counts as 2 cards for the indicated Arcology

Aristotle's School

Introduction

Players are students (Junior Members) of Aristotle's school in Athens Circa 334 - 322 BC. Players move about the Lyceum (Gymnasium and surrounding Grounds) to acquire knowledge.

Victory

The player with the highest score in the most Categories is the winner. The game ends when players have gone through the deck twice.

Student Bodies

Each player has a Pawn of a unique color to represent their Student.

Knowledge Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 1 copy of each card listed. When a card is played, immediately gain its reward and then discard the card. Players do not keep a hand of cards. When the deck runs out the first time shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Points

During play you earn points in the 6 Categories. Use paper and pencil to keep track of these scores.

Action Tokens

Players share a set of action Tokens. There are 7 Types of Tokens: Material Cause Efficient Cause Formal Cause Final Cause Potentiality Actuality Aristotle

Using Action Tokens

- You can only use Tokens during your own turn.
- Discard a Material Cause Token to move 1 Additional Space in Move Phase.

#	Category:
1	Philosophy
2	Logic
3	Life Science

Each Category is further divided into 6 Subjects. Points are earned in individual Subjects, however for final end of game scoring, it is the total points earned by subjects within a category that count. Every time you gain a point in a Subject, you also get a corresponding

- Discard an Efficient Cause Token to move 2 Additional Spaces in Move Phase.
- Discard a Formal Cause Token to cause a target Dieroll to be rerolled.
- Discard a Final Cause Token to add or subtract 1 from a target Dieroll.
- Discard 1 of each of the 4 Cause Tokens to get an extra Turn.
- Discard a Actuality Token to move 1D6 Spaces in Move Phase.
- Discard a Potentiality Token when drawing cards to draw 1 additional card.
- Discard a Potentiality & Actuality Token to draw 2 Cards and keep one.
- Discard 2 Material Cause Tokens to gain 1 Point in the Physical Sciences Category
- Discard 2 Efficient Cause Tokens to gain 1 Point in the Logic Category
- Discard 2 Formal Cause Tokens to gain 1 Point in the Life Sciences Category
- Discard 2 Final Cause Tokens to gain 1 Point in the Humanities Category
- Discard 2 Potentiality Tokens to gain 1 Point in the Philosophy Category
- Discard 2 Actuality Tokens to gain 1 Point in the Arts Category
- Discard 1 Aristotle Token to gain 1 Point in any Category or to go to any Tile instead of your regular move. When Discarding Tokens to get Category Points, you can do this a max of once per turn.

Dice

Six and Ten sided dice are needed.

Categories And Subjects

There are 6 Categories:

#	Category:
4	Physical Science
5	Humanities
6	Arts

Action Token according to the Subjects Tables.

During play, when you gain a point in a Category (not in a specific subject) you do not get an Action Token.

Setup

Shuffle the Lyceum Tiles and set up the Circular Track Board. Shuffle the Knowledge Deck. Players pawns start in the Gymnasium.

Players roll high on the 10 sided die to see who goes first.

Students, place the top card of the Deck onto that tile. The first student to land there gets that card, as well as the Tile's regular offering. If you land on the Aristotle Pawn, you gain 1 Cause Token of any type.

If on your move you pass over the Aristotle Pawn, gain 1 Aristotle Token.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 Phases:

1. Aristotle Phase
2. Move Phase
3. Learning Phase

Aristotle Phase

There is one Special Pawn for Aristotle. Aristotle starts the Game in Aristotle's Library. Move Aristotle forward (Clockwise) 2D6 Spaces.

Whenever he lands on a space containing one or more Students, they each get 1 Point in one Random Subject (First roll a random category, then a random subject) If he lands in a space containing no

Move Phase

Move your Pawn forward (Clockwise around the Track) one or two spaces OR you may move forward 1D10 spaces. You may spend an Action Token to alter your movement. When you land on 1 or more opponents pawns, you may steal 1 Token from any one of them.

Learning Phase

Follow the instructions on the Tile you have just moved to. This will usually earn you 1 card or some Action Tokens or 1 Point in one specific Subject or a choice on a List, or a roll on a Table.

Armies Of Oz

Introduction

Large scale warfare in the Land of Oz.

Map

The map depicts an irregular, interlocked set of territories. Each Territory compromises a small section of Oz. Players will have to create their own Game Map. The picture above shows a map of Oz taken from the original books.

Victory

Destroy the opposing Great Leaders.

Control Markers

Use chits to represent control markers (CM). Each player has a set of control markers of a unique color. CM are placed on settlements and stacks of units to Indicate ownership.

Units

Use chits to represent units. Units include Great Leaders, Minor Leaders & non-leader units.

Great Leaders

Each player picks one Great Leader to start the game with. Some Great Leaders available include: Queen Ozma (Good) Glinda the Good Witch of the South (Good) Locasta the Good Witch of the North (Good) Elphaba the Wicked Witch of the West (Evil) Roquat the Red: The Nome King (Evil) General Jinjur (Neutral or Good)

Other Possible Great Leaders

Oscar the Wizard of Oz (Neutral or Good): Possibly in place of Ozma or in a Prequel Setting. In a Prequel setting he would not be a Spellcaster. Remove him from the Good Character Army List.

Nessarose the Wicked Witch of the East (Evil): In a Prequel Setting or reincarnated. Kaliko: The Nome King (Neutral or Evil): Replacement and Rival of Roquat. The Tin Woodsman (Good): Ruler of Winkie County after the events of the first book.

Remove him from the Good Character Army List.

Army Lists

There are several separate Army Lists. Great Leaders will only be able to recruit Units from Certain Lists.

Great Leader:	Army Lists Available:
Ozma	Emerald City & Girl Army & Good Characters
Glinda	Ouadling Country & Girl Army & Good Characters
Locasta	Gillikin Country & Good Characters
Elphaba	Winkie & Gillikin Country & Evil Minions
Roquat	Nome Kingdom & Evil Allies
Jinjur	Girl Army & Good Characters
Oscar	Emerald City & Good Characters
Nessarose	Munchkin Country & Evil Minions
Kaliko	Nome Kingdom & Evil Allies
Tin Man	Winkie County & Good Characters

An Army list is actually a pile of Unit Counters.

Army Lists are not territory specific, and depend more on the alignment/politics of the Great Leader.

Conquest & Army Lists

5 of the Army Lists depend on control of certain regions of Oz. These include: The Emerald City, Munchkinland, Winkie Country, Quadling Country, and Gillikin Country. If you control at least 1 Settlement in one of these regions, you may recruit units from its Army Lists.

These Units remain under your control even if you lose control of your last settlement in the region, or even if these units have to fight each other. The other

Spell Casters

Some Units (Most Great Leaders, some Minor Leaders, and a few Non-Leaders) will have Spell casting ability.

Deck

Players share an action deck. Action cards are discarded as soon as they are used.

Dice

Six sided dice are needed.

Gold

Use coins to represent Gold.

Setup

Each player places his great Leader in a Settlement space. Each player starts with 5 random Units from any Unit List He can Use.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 phases: Draw Phase Move Phase Battle Phase Revenue Phase Recruit Phase Upkeep Phase Control Phase

Draw Phase

First discard any cards you don't want. Draw 3 cards. Max hand size = 7. Discard excess cards.

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Move Phase

A Stack (Army) can only move if it contains at least one Leader or Great Leader. Units designated as Scouts can move without a Leader. Each Unit has a Movement Point Allowance.

A Stack cannot move farther than its slowest Unit, unless It leaves them behind. Various Terrains have a Movement cost to enter. Units (Stacks) can move into spaces containing opposing Stacks, but cannot move any further.

Anytime you have a Scout unit adjacent to an enemy stack, you May look at the Units in that Stack.

Crossing Rivers

A non-flying Unit must stop upon reaching a river, and Must spend it's whole MPA to move across it on it's next turn.

Flying Units

Always pay 1 MPA to move into a space. They can fly over (past) enemy non-flying units.

Battle Phase

When two opposing stacks occupy the same territory there will be a battle. Each unit (+ Items & Companions) has a force value. Add up the total Force values for each side.

Players may play action cards to increase their force value. Note: Spell cards can only be used if a Stack has a Spell Caster. If one stack has a Leader and the other does not, the stack with the Leader gets an additional 5 Force.

Each player rolls 2 dice and adds it to their total. The side with the highest Battle Total (Force value) wins. The losing stack has one unit destroyed.

The losing stack must retreat one space. If the stack cannot retreat, it is completely destroyed. Destroyed units are returned to their chit pile.

Leaders are always the last units to be destroyed.

Revenue Phase

Each Settlement you control generates a specified amount of Gold.

Recruit Phase

Draw 1D6 random unit counters from an army List pile you can use. Purchase units. A units cost in Gold is equal to its Force value. If you purchased all the drawn units, draw another 1D6 random units.

Gold may be saved from turn to turn. Discard unpurchased units back to the pile. Units start in any Settlement you control.

The Good Characters Army List is Unique: You can only draw 1 Unit From it per turn.

Upkeep Phase

Pay 1 Gold for each non-leader unit you control. Discard Units you cannot pay upkeep for.

Control Phase

Place a control marker on each Settlement occupied by only your your units. Remove any CM of an opponent. Your CM remains until an opponent removes it by occupation.

Scry Ability

Some spells and Items allow you to Scry. When Scrying, you may do one of the following: -Look at the next 7 cards in the deck -Look at your opponent's hand -Look at the Units in any one stack

Items

There is a separate Pile for Items. They are acquired as a result of Action Cards. Assign them to a specific Leader.

They may be kept to the side or stacked with the Leader.

Companions

Treat these like Items, except that they are living Creatures.

Army Man Backgammon

Introduction

2 player backgammon variant.

Board & Pieces

Use a normal backgammon board. 2 six-sided dice are needed. Each player needs a set of 15 Army men: A Green set & a Tan set.

Set Up

Place 3 of your men in each of your back 5 rows (spaces). Roll high on 1D6 to see who goes first.

Weapon Table

Weapon:	Attack Range
Bazooka, Mortar, Radio	6
Machine Gun	5
Rifle	4

Stance Table

Stance:	Maximum Move	Saving Throw
Prone	1-3	1-4
Kneeling	1-4	1-3
Standing	1-5	1-2
Running	1-6	1

Casualties

If a man is killed (hit, captured, destroyed) he is removed from the board and is out of the game.

Sergeant Rule

Designate one of your men as the Sergeant. If the Sergeant is killed you must either Dig-in or Charge every turn.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns Each turn has 4 phases:

1. Tactics Phase
2. Maneuver Phase
3. Attack Phase
4. Stance Phase

Tactics Phase

Roll 2 dice. You must use your dice rolls during the turn if it is at all possible.

Victory

Be the first to move any one of your men (soldiers, units, figures) off your opponents back row. The roll to move off the back of the board does not have to be exact. For example: One of your men is 4 rows away: You win on a roll of 4, 5, or 6.

Your remaining men may be anywhere else on the board.

Army Men

Each of your men has 2 traits: Weapon & Stance.

Weapon:	Attack Range
SMG	3
Grenade, Flamethrower	2
Pistol	1

Maneuver Phase

Use one of your dice rolls to move one of your men that many spaces forward. A man is limited to how far he can move by his Stance. For example, a prone soldier could only move using a die roll of 1, 2, or 3.

A running soldier could use any die roll. There is a 5 man limit to how many of your men may be in any one row. If your man lands on a row containing one enemy, the enemy man is captured.

If your man lands on a row containing two or more enemy men, your man is captured.

Attack Phase

Use one of your dice rolls to attack and kill an enemy man. Consult the Weapon table. The attack must be made by a man with a weapon that matches the die roll.

For example, if you rolled a 4, the attack must be by a rifleman. The target enemy must be exactly a number of rows away equal to the die roll. For example, a rifleman can only attack an enemy exactly 4 spaces away.

Only one enemy unit (attackers choice) is killed by the attack. The target unit may make a Saving Throw: The attacked man rolls 1 die. Consult the Stance Table: If the roll is in the Saving Throw range the unit is not killed.

For example, a standing soldier would save on a roll of 1 or 2.

Stance Phase

You may replace a soldier with another figure that has the same weapon but a different stance. For example, you may replace a kneeling rifleman with a running rifleman.

Fire & Movement Rule

You may switch the order of the Movement & Attack phases in your turn.

Charge Orders Rule

You may move two men instead of attacking.

Dig In Orders Rule

You may attack with two men instead of moving.

Infiltration Orders Rule

A single running soldier may move twice using the Charge Orders Rule.

Mine Detector Optional Rules

Place 3 hidden minefields in 2 spaces on your side of the board. Enemy units that land on these spaces must save or be destroyed. Soldiers with mine detectors that enter these spaces automatically destroy the minefield.

Variants

More or less men. More dice. Units with multiple weapons.

Attack = Max range Attack Cards the unit can use.

F Flyer

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Orders Phase Move Phase Battle Phase

Orders Phase

Draw 2 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your creatures. creatures cannot move through other units. (Exceptions: Flyers may move through other creatures and Every unit the Deathcoaster moves through is destroyed.

The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the creature moves. Moves are diagonal or orthogonal.

Units on Foot can move a maximum of 2 spaces. The Deathcoaster and Units on Horse can move a max of 4 spaces. Flyers can move a max of 6 spaces.

Flyers and Scouts can move twice per turn.

Battle Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a creature attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks are diagonal or orthogonal. The enemy unit that is the target of the attack takes one point of damage. Creatures reduced to zero Hits are killed and are removed from the map.

Creatures cannot attack through other creatures (except for Catapult & Archers). To have the Catapult attack, discard a move card of 3 or higher (Number = Range).

Army Quest

Preface

This comes after playing with my 4 year old son. I have a torn up copy of Hero Quest. We got his army men mixed in and voila!

Introduction

Plastic Army men vs plastic Fantasy Figs. Tactical combat rule system.

Fig Stats

Attack = chance to hit on 1D6. Range = range of weapon

12 spaces.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Fantasy creatures go first. Each turn has 3 phases: Move Phase Attack Phase Rally Phase

Move

Move units up to their movement allowance.

Attack

Roll on 1D6 to see if an attack hits. If an attack hits it does one point of damage.

Rally Phase

Army men only. On a roll of 4-6 on 1D6 the man will stop fleeing. Add 1 to the roll if a sergeant is within

Victory

Annihilate the opposing side.

Notes

MG and Bazooka cannot move and attack in the same turn. The Bazooka has 6 rockets and requires a turn to load in between shots. Regenerators cannot regenerate damage from the Flame thrower.

Army men will Flee on a roll of 1-4 on 1D6 if they start the turn next to an opponent. Army men will Flee on a roll of 1-3 on 1D6 if they start within 7 spaces of a mummy. Each Army man will start with 2 grenades.

Warlock Spells

The warlock starts with 2D6 spells.

1D6	Spell
1	Fireball: Like Grenade but range = 18.
2	Earthbind: Range = 10. 4x4 area. 1D6 Targets cannot move or attack for 1D6 turns.
3	Magic Missiles: Range = 10. 1D6 attacks. Hit on 1-4 on 1D6.
4	Magic Shield: Negate one attack made against a target within 16 spaces.
5	Fear: Affects all army men within 10 spaces. Targets flee on a roll of 1-4 on 1D6.
6	Control: Range = 16. Gain control of target man for 1D6 turns.

Around The World In 80 Days

Introduction

Card game based on the novel of the same name by Jules Verne. For 2 or more players.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Time & Distance

1 Turn = 8 days 1 Travel Card = 1 Unit of Distance

Victory

Be the first player to travel 80 Units of Distance.
Major Victory: Finish your trip in 10 turns.

Turn Sequence

Each Turn is divided into 5 phases: Planning Phase
Logistics Phase Travel Phase Adventure Phase Destination Phase

Planning Phase

Each player fills their hand to 9 cards.

Logistics Phase

Each player may discard up to 5 cards & draw replacements.

Travel Phase

Players make 'Trips'. A 'Trip' is a combination of cards that must include: 1 Unique Travel card plus... Any number of Basic Travel cards of the same type as the Unique Travel card. For example: You play the "Orient Express". It is a Unique Travel card of the 'Train' type.

You then play 3 basic 'Train' cards. You may make more than 1 trip during this phase.

Adventure Phase

You may play Adventure cards in this Phase. An Adventure card will cause a random Basic Travel type card in a target 'Trip' to be discarded (it is not counted in Destination Phase). A single player may only be targeted by one Adventure card per turn.

Destination Phase

Add up the Distance Values of every Travel card you played. This is the number of Units of Distance you've traveled this turn. Discard all played cards.

Artifact

Introduction

Original Victorian Themed version of the WarpQuest Gaming System. Each player controls a party of adventuring archeologists and treasure hunters trying to be the first to get some, relic, artifact, or treasure and bring it back.

Dice & Pieces

Six and ten sided dice are needed. Each player has a pawn to represent their adventuring party on the board. Use a small trinket to represent the 'Artifact'. There is only one Artifact.

The Board

The board is a single winding path of connected spaces with a start space and an end space. The path should be 30 spaces long. The First space represents the safety of European Victorian Civilization. Spaces 2-15 represents travel through the first scenario module.

Skill Table

1D10	Skill:	Notes:
1	Combat +1	Unarmed, Guns, Blades, Tactics
2	Strength +1	Muscle, Will, Courage
3	Agility +1	Reflexes, Swiftiness
4	Sailing +1	Swimming, Diving, Boating, Navigation, Boat Building
5	Survival +1	Hunting, Hiking, Outdoor skills, Mountaineering, Guide
6	Mechanics +1	Repairs, Construction, Physics, Engineering
7	Linguistics +1	Languages, Archeology, History, Cartography
8	Personality +1	Leadership, Charisma, Wit, Charm, Diplomacy
9	Science +1	Naturalist, Medicine, Geology, Chemistry, Psychology
10	Pick any one skill

Premade Party Member Cards

by Markus Salo (msalo71@yahoo.com)

Optional Multiplayer Bidding Rules

(By Markus Salo) Every player creates the leader (player) as stated in the rules. Create 30 companion and servant cards with randomly premade skills. The players can look all the cards and draft the companions and servants.

Every player has 30 bidding points they can use. The highest bidder gets the card. This way building of the group becomes more exiting and less random.

Spaces 16-29 represents travel through the second scenario module. The End space is the final destination where the Artifact is found.

The Decks

There are 2 decks for each scenario: The Module 1 Deck and the Module 2 Deck Each deck has one of each card in its card list. The Scenario Module Card lists are posted on other pages on this website.

The Party

Each party consists of 6 members: 1 Leader, 3 companions, and 2 lesser companions. Companions may actually represent a group of individuals. The Leader has 5 skills. Companions have 3 skills each. Lesser companions have 1 skill.

Party members roll ten sided dice to determine skills:

Turn Sequence

- Players take turns. Each turn consists of 3 phases:
1. Move Phase
 2. Draw Phase
 3. Challenge Phase

Move Phase

Roll 1D6: Move that number of spaces towards the end space. (Or look at that many cards on the Top of the Module Deck (Observation Option)) You automatically stop when you enter the end space. If you are the first to land on the end space your party acquires the Artifact.

Once a party has the Artifact then all other players may move their parties in either direction on the path. The party with the Artifact must move towards the start space. The first party with the Artifact to reach the start space wins the game.

Draw Phase

If you land on an empty space in spaces 2-15 draw a card from the Module 1 deck. If you land on an empty space in spaces 16-29 draw a card from the Module 2 deck. If you land on an opponents party do not draw a card.

If a deck ever runs out, shuffle its discard and draw from it. Cards are of 2 types: Challenge cards & Aid cards. Place Aid cards in your hand.

Challenge cards are encounters your party faces immediately in Challenge Phase.

Challenge Phase

Each challenge card lists one or more skills. Your party will have to make a skill check vs each skill listed. (The same skill may be listed twice or more, requiring that many skill checks) A Skill check consists of a Skill roll and Challenge Roll: Roll 1D10. This is the Skill roll.

Add the skill bonuses of your party members to the roll. You may discard Aid cards for further bonuses to the skill roll. Next roll 1D10. This is the Challenge roll.

Some Challenges have a DM (Difficulty Modifier). Add the DM to the Challenge Roll. If the challenge roll is less than or equal to the skill roll you win the Skill check. If the challenge roll is greater than the skill roll you fail the Challenge.

If the win all the Skill Checks, you win the Challenge. The adventure card may say what happens if you win or lose the Challenge. If the card does not give directions, then: If you lose the challenge: Roll 1D6:

1-4 Go back 1D6 spaces

5-6 Lose 1 Party Member

If you Win the challenge: Roll 1D6:

1-4 Gain 1 Experience Token

5 Draw 1 card from the Aid Deck

6 One Random Party member gains +1 skill level in the skill just tested.

You may spend an Experience Token to let you reroll a Move Roll or a Skill Roll.

Moving Onto An Opponents Party

If you land on an opponent's party there will be a fight. The current player rolls 1D10 on the skill list table. Both players make skill rolls for the indicated skill.

The higher modified roll wins. In case of a tie nothing happens. The loser must go back 1D6 spaces.

The winner takes the Artifact from the loser if the loser was in possession of the Artifact.

This rule applies to each phase. Each player may roll 1D6 plus 1D6 for each "+ rp" on the cards he played. If one of the players rolls is at least 3 times as great as the others roll, than he wins.

The winner May play any card with "cr" prerequisite for the remainder of the turn.

Periphery Phase (pp)

As per above but cards played will have +1(or more) pp. If their is a winner in this phase, he may use cards with "cp" prerequisite for the remainder of the turn. He now controls the outer systems.

Imperium Phase (ip)

As above, but now cards with "+1(or greater) ip" can be played. If there is a winner he may now use cards with the "ci" requisite. He now controls the inner systems, the remains of the first galactic empire.

Second Galactic Empire Phase (ge2)

Same as above, but cards with +1(or greater) ge2 are used. If there is a winner, than he wins the game. The opponent player has the robot daneel olivaw, gaia, bliss or galaxia card, he may play it now thwarting the other players win.

If there is no winner or the win is thwarted then the game continues. Each player discards the cards he played. Each player who has more than 12 cards in his hand must discard to bring his hand down to 12. And another turn begins.

Assassins Creed Revolution

Introduction

Card Game based on the Assassins Creed Video Game Series. Specifically the Third Installment.

Disclaimer

Assassins Creed is a licensed, copyrighted property. This merely a fan-site.

Victory

Be the first player to make 7 Card Combos. Use Tokens to keep track of Combos.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Combos

There are 4 types of Combos:

1. Flush (4 cards of the same suite)
2. Straight (4 or more cards of different suites forming a straight as in Poker)
3. Fighting Combo: 1 each of: Assassin, Enemy, Weapon, and Maneuver
4. Journey Combo: 1 each of: Location, Mission, Character, and Income

Setup

Shuffle the Deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take Turns. Each turn has 4 Phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Action Phase

3. Combo Phase

4. End Phase

1. DRAW PHASE

Draw 2 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

2. ACTION PHASE

Discard 1 card to trigger it's special ability according to it's suite.

3. COMBO PHASE

Make one or more Combos. For each Combo you make draw 1 card.

4. END PHASE

Max hand is 9 cards. Discard excess cards.

Card Suite Special Ability List

Assassin = Draw 2 cards. Character = Steal 1 random card from opponent. Income = Look at opponents Hand. Trade 1 card with him.

Enemy = Opponent must discard a random card. Location = Discard your hand and draw 7 cards. Mission = Look at next 7 cards in Deck. Put one in your hand.

Maneuver = Search Discard for 1 card and put it in your hand. Weapon = Opponent (his choice) must give you a card or discard 2 cards.

Asterix The Hunt

Introduction

Board game for 2-4+ players. Asterix Theme.

Disclaimer

Asterix the Gaul is a copyrighted, licensed product. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

At the End of the Game, the player with the most Tiles in the most Categories in his Victory Pile (VP) wins. The 4 Categories are: Wild Boar, Mistletoe, Menhirs, Roman Cohorts If there is a tie, the Player with the most Menhirs wins. If it is still tied, the player with the most Boars wins. If still tied, the player with the most tiles wins.

The Game ends when all scoring Tiles have gone into VP's.

The Board

Use a Chess Board. The center 4 spaces is the Gaul Village.

Tiles

There are 60 Tiles to be placed randomly on the remaining non-village spaces.

Tile Mix

Tile Title:	#	Notes:
Wild Boar	10	Tasty Treat
Roman Cohort	10	Nasty
Menhir	8	Big Stones for Carving Runes on
Mistletoe	12	Ingredient for Magic Strength Potion
Lake	8	Major Barrier
Clearing	12	Empty

Magic Potion

Getafix the Druid is able to brew a Magic Potion that gives the drinker Superhuman strength. Because of this the Village remains the last Gaulish Settlement to be unconquered by the Roman Empire.

Potion Tokens

These are used to keep track of how much potion a player has remaining.

Dice

2 Six sided dice are needed.

Pawns

Each player gets 1 pawn of a unique color. (Little Gaulish Asterix figurines would be good)

Setup

Players Pawns start in any Village Space. Each player starts with 3 Potion Tokens. Roll high on 1D6 to see who goes first.

Players set up the board by placing 1 random Tile in each non-village square. Tiles are placed face-up.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. On a players turn he rolls 2 Dice. He chooses 1 roll & moves his pawn that many spaces in any direction.

He then moves a number of spaces equal to the other roll if possible. Pawns can move orthogonally or diagonally. At the end of your turn, discard 1 Potion Token.

Lakes

Pawns cannot move through or into Lakes.

Clearings

These are basically empty spaces in the Forest. They do not score or block the way.

Village Spaces

A Pawn must stop his move completely upon entering a Village space. Every time a Pawn starts his turn in a Village space, he replenishes his Potion Token Total back up to 3. Every time a Pawn enters a Village space, he puts all Tiles he was carrying into his Victory Pile (VP).

Carying Capacity

As a Pawn moves around the Board he picks things (Tiles) up. Mistletoe, Menhir, and Boar Tiles can be picked up and carried. Place these Tiles next to you in a "Things Carried" pile.

Any number of Mistletoe can be carried. Up to 1 Menhir or 2 Boars can be carried. Things are dropped off when you return to the Village where they go to your VP.

A Pawn can only pick up a Tile if he lands on it, not if he was just Passing through the space. A Pawn can land on 2 spaces per turn, 1 from each die roll.

Roman Cohorts

If a pawn lands on a Roman Cohort, he automatically puts it in his Victory pile (VP) as long as he has at least 1 Potion token remaining. (The Romans are defeated: You don't have to carry them around) A pawn without potion Tokens cannot enter a space containing a Roman Cohort.

Landing On Other Pawns

If you land on an opponents Pawn, you may steal 1 Thing he is carrying. If you land on a space with many pawns, you may only pick 1 Pawn to steal from.

The Setting

In the hundred and sixty-fourth millennia after the birth of Christ, mankind had only just discovered the power that lies in the quantum universe. Humanity was dependant on the Hyperspace/ Time Continuum for its pan-galactic empire. But the discovery of the Calabi-Yau continuum meant that man could finally reach out to galaxies other than his own. But it would take another hundred millennia before the Quantumliners could safely navigate the six extra-dimensions of the Calabi-Yau Universe and make the Hyperspace Drives obsolete.

But one man would not wait. The first use of the artificial wormholes that were constructed along the superstrings of the quantum dimension was for intergalactic listening. Pesrume Ladek, the greatest cyberneticist mankind had ever produced took a humble assignment at an Imperial Intergalactic Listening Post. He used the station's mainframe to download his mind and soul into a complex algorithm and transmitted it through the local wormhole to God knows where.

It is now the dawn of the five hundredth millennium since the birth of Christ. The Empire of Man has reached out into the intergalactic depths of space, and a lost son has been found. . . unfortunately. The great Quantumliners of the Scouting Guild has encountered an artificial species completely inimical to humanity. Each alien robot is directly controlled by a single artificial intelligence known as Ladek! The twisted, disembodied mind of the former human scientist now lords over these automaton artifacts of a long extinct race. They have invaded every galaxy controlled by man's glorious Imperium, and have begun a systematic extermination of every human life it encounters. While the Imperial Navy and Marine Corp defends the home galaxies against the attacks of these monsters, it falls to the Scouting Guild to hunt out and destroy Ladek units along the Imperium's frontier worlds.

Miniatures

This skirmish game is designed for two players: one player plays the Human Imperial Scouts and the other plays the Ladek Marine Robots. Forces are "purchased" by means of points. Both sides must decide how many points they should begin with. I highly suggest beginning a campaign (a series of wargames between the same player(s)) with fifty points for each side. For each game you play afterwards add ten points to your allowance until you finally find a good number of points for both of you. Remember, each side begins with the same number of points as the other, and they should be free to purchase their troops in any way they should choose at the start of each game.

Ideal miniatures for the Imperial Scouts would be any sci-fi miniature in space armor or a space suit (as can be inferred from their armor class and melee damage, they wear full battle dress). But any sci-fi miniature or counter will do.

Ideal miniatures for the Ladek Marine Robots would be very alien looking robot miniatures (arachnid shaded most ideally). But any robot miniature or counter will do.

Tabletop

If you have a table or desk clear of any junk, you have a great battlefield. If you choose to use terrain use common sense to make appropriate terrain rules (e.g., half movement up a hill, double movement down it).

D20

You will need a twenty sided die in order to use these combat rules.

The Round

1. Initiative: Each player rolls 1d20. The highest roll has initiative and can move on of the miniatures first. Reroll ties.
2. The Turn: Starting with the player who won initiative and then alternating between the two players, each miniature gets to take a turn.
 - Movement: The miniature may move up to their speed.
 - Melee Attack: If the miniature's movement brings it base to base with an opponent miniature, that miniature can attack its target.
 - * Roll 1d20 and add your melee attack score to the die roll. If it is equal or greater than the opponent's Armor score, then it is a hit.
 - * The opponent receives damage equal to your Melee Damage score. This damage is removed from the opponent's Health score. If any creature's health falls to 0 or less it is defeated and removed from the game.
3. Subsequent Turns: After the player who won initiative finishes his turn with his miniature, it then becomes the other players chance to take a turn with one of his miniatures. The Turn sequence is repeated back and forth until each player has taken a turn with each of his miniatures. Then a new Round begins and each player starts by rolling for initiative.
 - Range Attack: If the miniature's movement brings it within Range of an opponent miniature, that miniature can attack its target. However the miniature can not make a ranged attack if it already made a melee attack during its turn.
 - * Roll 1d20 and add your range attack score to the die roll. If it is equal or greater than the opponent's Armor score, then it is a hit.
 - * The opponent receives damage equal to your Ranged Damage score. This damage is removed from the opponent's Health score. If any creature's health falls to 0 or less it is defeated and removed from the game.

Astrum Imperium

by Patrick Bunch

Introduction

Generic rule set for a series of empire building/conquest games.

Map

The map depicts an irregular, interlocked set of territories. Over half the territories are empty space. Revenue generating spaces are planetary systems.

Other territory types include: Nebulas: Ships must stop upon entering.

Control Markers

Use chits to represent control markers.

Units

Use chits to represent units. Units include Leaders & non-leader units.

Deck

Players share an action deck. In some games, each player will have their own action deck. The action deck cards allow you to move your units.

Setup

Each player starts with a Homesystem with 10 random units. Others will be mixed into the unit chit pile.

Turn Sequence

- Draw Phase
- Move Phase
- Exploration Phase
- Battle Phase
- Revenue Phase
- Recruit Phase
- Upkeep Phase
- Control Phase

Draw Phase

First discard any cards you don't want. Each player draws 5 action cards. Max hand size = 7. Discard excess cards.

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Move Phase

Use Action cards to move stacks or units in stacks. A Fast unit can move 1-3 spaces. A Medium speed unit can move 1-2 spaces.

A Slow unit can move 1 space. Units can move into but not through opposing stacks. Fortifications cannot move (Move = 0).

Starfighters cannot move by themselves, they must be transported aboard ships. Your opponent can only look at the top unit of your stacks

Supralumina Detection Index Determines if the defender's stack is able to intercept an attacking stack. The defender rolls on the SDI based on the size of the attacking stack and the distance it has traveled. The attacker's total only counts the force value of Capital and Escort ships in the stack. A failed roll means the defender may only use half of his available warship's Force value in battle. Roll modifiers:

- -1 per Scout in attacker's stack
- +1 per Scout in Defender's stack
- -3 per Fleet Scout in attacker's stack
- +3 per Fleet Scout in defender's stack
- +3 per Starbase in defender's stack
- +1 per Starbase in adjacent hex

Exploration Phase

When entering an unexplored system for the first time roll to determine the presence of Resources, Minor Races, and Enigmas.

1D6	Resources:	Revenue:
1-2	Poor	1
3-4	Moderate	2
5-6	Rich	3

1D6	Minor Race:	Revenue:
1-3	No Minor Race	-
4	Primitive Race	+1
5	Modern Race	+2
6	Advanced Race	+3

1D6	Racial Trait: roll (6)
1	+1 Revenue
2	+1 Force w/Starfighters (1-3)
3	+3 Force w/Fortifications (1-4)
4	+1 Force w/Capital Ship (1-2)
5	+1 Research
6	Natural Leader (Force Bonus: 1-3=+2, 4-5=+3, 6=+4 Specialty: 1-3=General, 4-5=Admiral, 6=Scientist)

Enigma Phase

1D6	Enigmas:
1-4	No Enigma
5-6	Enigma

1D6	Consequence:
1-3	The Exploring stack is destroyed.
4-5	The Exploring stack must retreat.
6	Roll again plus if there was a Minor Race Present, it is destroyed.

A system cannot be controlled by diplomacy or conquest if it has an unresolved Enigma. If the stack is destroyed the Enigma remains and must be faced again. If the Enigma is solved, it goes away forever.

Diplomacy Phase

Include a Diplomacy phase after Enigma phase. If the newly explored planet has a Minor Race roll 1D6. On a roll of 6 or better, the race willingly joins your empire.

If you roll a 1 the race will never join your empire through diplomacy. You are considered to be at war. If a diplomacy attempt fails, you can try again next turn.

Battle Phase

When two opposing stacks occupy the same territory there will be a battle. Add up the total Force values for each side. A failed SDI roll means the defender may only use half of his available warship's Force value in battle. Players may play action cards to increase their force value.

The side with the highest force value wins. The losing stack must retreat one space. The losing stack loses the difference between the player's Force values in units. The winner picks the first unit lost.

Fortification units in the losing stack are destroyed automatically. The winning stack loses units with a force equal to at least half the force total lost by the losing stack. The winner decides which units are lost.

If one stack has a Leader and the other does not, the stack with the leader gets double that Leader's Force value. Treat Leaders like other units with respect to casualties. Bombardment bonus is for stacks attacking occupied planets. If both sides have Starfighters, the side with the lowest Starfighter value loses 1/2 its Starfighter Force value.

Escort value greater than enemy Starfighter value, lose 1/2 Starfighter value.

If the planet has an Enigma roll 1D6. Add +1 to the Enigma roll for each Scout/Surveyor in the stack. On a roll of 5-6 the Enigma is solved.

On a roll of 1-4 the Enigma causes unintended consequences.

Players may repair ships after battle. Ships may only be repaired in the area they were damaged in, by units that are in the same stack. Shipyards may repair up to 2d6 warships, Fleet Repair Docks may repair 1d6, Starbases may repair 1d6/2 Escorts or Starfighters, and a Colony may repair 1 Starfighter. After a battle both sides replenish their hands to 7 cards.

Players may attempt to conquer minor races. The Minor Race will generate Revenue x 1D6 Force in its defense. When attacking a Homeworld the defender will get +20 Force. You may only take control of an occupied planet in control phase if no defending units remain.

Revenue Phase

Gain revenue points for every planet with a Colony or minor race under your control. A planet can only support a number of Colonies equal to its resource value. Each system generates revenue equal to its: Resources + Installations + Minor Race value. A planet's resource level will limit the type of Revenue Installations it can support.

(Poor- No Refinery, Industrial Center) (Moderate-No Industrial Center) (Rich- no limit) If the system has no minor race, you must first build an Outpost. On the players NEXT turn they may build a Colony in that system. Homeworlds generate 10 Revenue points per turn, and gain 1 Revenue for each level advanced in Installation development. Revenue may be saved from turn to turn.

Players may roll of Technological development and Upgrades in this phase. Leaders Leaders are not purchased; they are raised from Homeworlds or Academies. Cost 5, roll 1d6, get 5+ for a Leader to be raised.

Education (Force Bonus): 1-3=+1, 4-5=+2, 6=+3, 7+=+4

Specialty:	1=General	Bonus for/vs Bombardment
	2=Admiral	Bonus for Capital Ships or SDI roll
	3=Scientist	Bonus for Technical/Enigma roll
	4=Surveyor	Bonus to Resource roll
	5=Diplomat	Bonus for Diplomacy roll
	6=Scholar	Bonus for Leader/Education roll

Terraform allows for two options:

1. Raise the resource value for by planet ONE (poor to moderate).
2. Allow an additional Colony on an occupied planet, up to its maximum.

Terraform is discarded once it has been used. A planet may Terraform a planet as many times as a player wishes.

	Homeworld	Colony	Shipyard	Starbase
Capital Ships	Yes	NO	Yes	NO
Escort Ships	Yes	NO	Yes	Yes (only 1/turn/base)
Starfighters	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes (only 3/turn/base)
Leaders	Yes	(Academy)	NO	No

Existing warships may be converted to new tech levels at any location that they can be built at. The conversion cost is 1/2 the difference between the types, round up (Heavy Cruiser to Battleship cost 2). Conversions count against a Starbase's maximum production. A system must first have a colony before constructing ANY other installations or fortifications. A Starbase may be built in a non-system space adjacent to a system you control.

Only Fortifications may be built at Homesystems. They are assumed to have any other newly developed installation automatically. They may not be Terraformed.

Upkeep Phase

Units that automatically receive upkeep = Basic Upkeep x total Revenue. Basic Upkeep starts at 2 Example: You generate 10 revenue points per turn... You

Recruit Phase

Draw 5 random units from the unit chit pile. Purchase units. A unit's cost is equal to its Force value. If you purchased all the drawn units, draw another 1D6 random units.

Discard unpurchased units back to your unit chit pile. Units must start at the following locations:

may have up to 50 units. Add 1 to Basic Upkeep for each Escort Level you advance.

(Convoy & Anti-piracy ops) Discard excess units.

Control Phase

Place a control marker on every revenue-generating planet occupied by one of your units.

Technical Development

Players may advance one technology level per turn during the Revenue phase. They must wait a number of turns equal to the next Tech level before attempting to advance again. A successful Research roll must be made on 1d6, roll greater than the next tech level to advance. Only ONE Research roll can be made by each player per turn. (To level II, wait 2 turns & roll 3+; Lvl III, wait 3 turns & roll 4+) War ships

Upgrades

- Instead of making a technological advance, players may choose to upgrade an existing technology. Players may make one upgrade attempt per type per turn (Capital, Escort, Starfighters each get one attempt). Roll (6), adding Scientist and Laboratory bonus to a specific roll. No Scientist or Laboratory may contribute to more than one roll per turn. Cost 1 per unit upgraded.
- Masking: Capital & Escort ships, total only the stack's 1/2 Force value for SDI roll.

- Hyperdrive: Capital & Escort ships, gain +1 movement.
- Turbolasers: Starbase, Capital & Escort ships, exchange Starfighter capacity for an equal bonus to Force value.
- Novagun: Capital ship and Ion Cannons, may target one enemy ship for loss first.
- Shields: Starbases, Orbital Stations, Capital & Escort ships, gain double Force value for casualty losses only.
- Dropships: Capital & Escort ships, gain + to Bombardment equal to 1/4 Force value.

- Phallanx: Starbase, Capital Ship, gain + vs. Starfighters equal to 1/3 Force value.
- Through-Deck: Capital ships, gain double Starfighter capacity for the loss of 1/2 Force value.
- Torpedo-Boats: Escorts, Torpedo-boat value greater than enemy Escort value, then ignore 1/2 enemy Capital ship value. Escorts with the upgrade have no advantage vs. Starfighters.
- Jumpdrive: Starfighters gain ability to engage in battle against any detected enemy stack w/n 1 hex of their base/ship.
- Launchbays: Starbase may exchange +3 Starfighter capacity for every -5 Force value.
- Auxilliary Carriers: Escort ships, may exchange ONE Escort ship to replace 1d6 Starfighters lost in battle this turn. Cost of +1 per Starfighter replaced.

- Minefields: Fortress, Capital ships lose 1/2 Bombardment value. Each Scout or Fleet Scout may cancel effects of minefields on a roll of (6).
- Legion: Ground Base, Cost+5, Force value of 10 with +1 per Installation in the system. May be moved from one Colony to another, max Warship range, for Cost+3.
- Lateral Array: Scouts & Fleet Scouts may look at ships in detected enemy stack.
- Auto-Factory: Industrial Center, Cost for ALL new units reduced by -1, minimum of 1.
- Geo-Tech: Colony, a system's maximum limit is raised by 1.
- Deep Core: Mining Base, now produces +2 Revenue per colony.
- Solar Satellite: Colony, now produce 1 Revenue per turn.

Introduction

Two player Card game simulating trench warfare in WWI

Objective

Reduce your opponent to 0 troops, or Capture all six territory markers

Supplies

Use change to represent troops. 1 cent = 1 squad
One or more six sided dice are needed Cards will have to be made to play. The deck contains around 60 cards. Six markers to represent territories.

Setup

Play is from a common deck Players start with no cards Each player starts with a battalion of 100 squads Each player starts with 3 territory markers Roll high on 1D6 to determine turn order

Turn Sequence

1. Logistics Phase
2. Artillery Barrage Phase
3. Charge Orders Phase
4. Defender Fire Phase

5. Trench Fighting Phase

Logistics Phase

Active player draws a card

Artillery Barrage Phase

Active player fires his big guns killing 1D6 enemy squads

Charge Orders Phase

Active Player may declare he is charging, if not... Roll 1D6, on a roll of 1 the player is ordered by his superiors to charge. Over the Top Boys!

Defender Fire Phase

Occurs only if active player charged. The defender kills 1D6 attacking squads in no-mans-land with mostly small arms fire.

Trench Fighting Phase

Occurs only if active player charged. Both sides lose 2D6 squads in the hand to hand fighting. If the attacker kills more squads than the defender the attacker takes a territory marker from the defender.

CARD LIST	NOTES
Heavy Shelling	Active player plays in Barrage Phase. +1D6 squads killed
Machine Gun	Defending player plays in Defender Fire Phase. +2D6 squads killed
Hand Grenades	Either player plays in Defender Fire Phase Negate a Machine gun card or kill 1D6 enemy squads
Bunker	Defending player plays in Barrage Phase Negate casualties caused by artillery (Bunker Destroyed)
Barbed Wire	Defending player plays at end of Defender Fire Phase Play an additional Defender Fire Phase
Tank	Active player plays in Defender Fire Phase Negate a Barbed Wire or a Machine gun card
Reinforcements	Active player plays in Logistics Phase. Gain +1D6 squads

Austin Powers

Introduction

Card game for 2+ players Based on the Austin Powers Spy Movies.

Disclaimer

Austin powers is a licensed, copyrighted property This is merely a fan site.

Victory

The first player to accumulate 10 or more Mojo Points wins.

The Decks

There are 2 Decks: A Groovy Deck & an Evil Deck.

Card Mojo

Every card has a point value from 1 to 10. This point value is called the "Mojo" of the card.

The Groovy Deck

The Groovy Deck represents Austin Powers. There are 5 card types:

- AP Austin Power
- SA Special Agent
- CP Catch Phrases
- SS Spy Stuff
- GM Groovy Moves

The Evil Deck

The Evil Deck represents Dr Evil. There are 5 card types:

- DE Doctor Evil
- HM Hench Men
- EE Evil Equipment
- DS Diabolical Scheme
- OL One Liners

Mojo Points

Use Tokens to represent Mojo Points.

Setup

Each player gets 1 Deck. There should be close to equal numbers of Groovy & Evil Decks. Each player draws 4 cards from his deck.

The Grooviest player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases: Draw Phase Play Phase Score Phase End Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 1 card from your deck and put it in your hand. If your deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Play Phase

You may put up to 2 cards from your hand into play. Cards in play are face-up on the table in front of you. Many cards produce an effect when they are put in play.

You may only have up to 1 card from each of the 5 suites in play.

Score Phase

If you have 1 card from each of the 5 suites in play; This is called a Scoring Combo. You may discard all the cards in your Scoring Combo, to get Mojo Points: Score Mojo Points = The card in the Combo with the least Mojo after modifications. Note that some cards in play will modify the Mojo of other cards in play.

The Minimum value of a Scoring Combo is 1.

End Phase

Max hand size is 4 cards. Discard excess cards.

Card List Notation

- BG Beautiful Girl (Subset of SA Suite)
- FM Female Minion (Subset of HM Suite)
- LO Location (Subset of EE Suite)
- WP When Played
- ACA Also Counts As (For Combo Building)
- Shag Opponent must discard 1 Random Card from Hand
- Spy Look at next 7 Cards in Opponents Deck
- Grab Search your Deck for card of indicated type, and put it in your hand
(Note: You cannot Grab another Grab card)
- Kill Discard target card in play
Try Again = Discard 1 Card & Draw 2 Cards

Autumn Mist

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. WWII West Front. Abstract simulation of the Battle of the Bulge (Ardennes).

Each figure (unit) represents a division. One player is the Germans, the other is the Allies (Americans & British).

Time Table

Each turn is one day starting December 16, 1944. Allies may make Air Attacks starting Dec 26.

Victory

The Germans win if they can occupy Bastogne, St Vith, Liege, Namur, and Dinant. The Americans win if they Destroy all German Divisions or by January 16.

The Map

Use a 14 x 14 grid. The Left border is the River Meuse. Include the cities of Namur (North) and Dinant (South) on the Meuse.

In the Northern center have one space be Liege. In the center East have one space be St Vith. In the Southern center have one space be Bastogne.

The Units

Use chits or miniatures to represent units.

Y Armored,

N Not Armored (Infantry Division)

The German player starts with the following 24 Divisions:

Division:	Hits	Force	Armor	Notes:
1st SS Panzer	3	3	Y
2nd SS Panzer	2	3	Y
9th SS Panzer	2	3	Y
12th SS Panzer	3	3	Y
2nd Lehr Panzer	2	3	Y
9th Lehr Panzer	2	3	Y
116th Lehr Panzer	2	3	Y
3rd Panzergrenadier	2	3	Y
15th Panzergrenadier	2	3	Y
3rd Parachute	2	3	N
5th Parachute	2	3	N
Volksgrenadier	1	1	N	13 Divisions

The Allied player starts with the following 4 Divisions:

Division:	Hits	Force	Armor
4th American	2	2	N
28th American	1	2	N
106th American	3	1	N
9th US Armored	3	1	Y

Allied Reinforcements:

Division:	Hits	Force	Armor	Deploy
101st US Airborne	3	3	N	Third Army Dec 19
7th US Armored	3	3	Y	First Army Dec 18
10th US Armored	3	3	Y	Third Army Dec 18
82nd US Airborne	3	3	N	First Army
2nd US Armored	3	3	Y	First Army
3rd US Armored	3	2	Y	First Army

5th US	3	2	N	Third Army
4th US	3	2	N	Third Army
29th Armored Brigade	2	2	Y	British (North)

Setup

Units may not stack. German units start in the 2 most eastern rows. The Panzer Divisions (Sixth SS Pz Army) are north of the Lehr Divisions (Fifth Pz Army).

The 4 US Divisions start along the front. The US 9th and 4th start in the South. The US 28th is centrally located. The US 106th is in the North.

The Germans go first.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 phases:

1. Orders Phase
2. Move Phase
3. Deploy Phase
4. Fire Phase

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your units. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the unit moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. Instead of moving just one unit in any direction, you have the option of moving up to two units forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card. A unit can move only once per turn.

Card List

Card Name:	#	Use	Type	Range	Notes
Eisenhower	1	L	P	-

Deploy Phase

Starting Dec 20th the Allied player may deploy one Third or First Army unit per turn. Third Army units deploy on the southernmost row. First Army units deploy on the northernmost row.

Fire Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. The enemy unit that is the target of the attack takes one point of Damage. Units reduced to 0 Hits are destroyed and removed from the map.

Your opponent may play certain Defense cards to negate your attack.

Avatar Adventures

Introduction

Card game for 2+ players. Theme: Avatar: The Last Airbender. Each player is trying to help the Avatar complete Quests on Their own turn and preventing their opponents From completing quests on their turns.

Disclaimer

Avatar: The Last Airbender is a licensed, trademarked, copyrighted property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

The Player with the most Quest Points when the game ends is the winner.

Game End

The game ends the turn after there are no cards left in the deck.

Quest Points

Each card in your Victory Pile is worth 1 Quest Point.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are 3 basic types of cards: Quests, Aids, and Challenges

Setup

Each player is dealt a hand of 3 cards. The player with the least hair goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 Phases: Fate Phase Adventure Phase Event Phase Quest Phase Reward Phase Journey Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 2 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Adventure Phase

You may look at any one opponent's hand. You may then switch one of your cards with one of his, or You may discard a card and draw a card from the deck, or do nothing.

Event Phase

Some cards with the Event Trait may be discarded in this Phase to produce their Special Effects.

Quest Phase

You may play a Meld from your hand. A Meld is a combination of cards. A Meld must include: Exactly 1 Quest Card 2 or more Aid Cards 2 or more Challenge Cards Every card has a Force rating.

The Total Force of the Aid cards must equal or exceed that of the Quest card plus the Challenge Cards. By playing a Meld, you complete the Quest Card. Save the Quest and Challenge cards to your Victory Pile and Discard the other cards of the Meld.

Reward Phase

Some cards have the "Reward" Trait. If you completed a Meld this Phase you get to Collect your Rewards: The Abilities of these cards take effect.

Journey Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Avengers Assemble

Introduction

Card game for 2+ players. Theme: Marvel Universe Avengers Super Heroes.

Disclaimer

Avengers is a copyrighted, licensed property. This is merely a fan site.

Winning

The first player to defeat 5 Foes is the winner.

The Decks

Players share 3 common decks: Foe deck Plot deck Hero deck.

Setup

Shuffle the decks. Each player is dealt 5 cards from the Hero deck. Flip over the top card of the Foe deck.

Flip over the top 3 cards of the Plot deck. The most Super player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 Phases:

1. Avenger Phase
2. Battle Phase
3. Foe Phase

Avenger Phase

Draw 1 card from the Hero deck and put it in your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand is 9 cards. Discard excess cards

Battle Phase

Add up the value of the Foe card and the Plot cards: This is the Foe Meld. To defeat the Foe you must play a Combo from your hand with a Combined value equal to or greater than the Foe Meld. A Combo can contain any number of cards but all cards in the Combo must be of different Types.

For example: A Combo can have an Iron man card and a Hulk card, but Not 2 Iron man cards or 2 Hulk cards. Discard all the cards in the Combo. Discard the Plot cards but keep the Foe card in your Victory Pile.

Foe Phase

If you captured a Foe this turn, flip over a new Foe and 3 Plot cards.

Card List Notation

Villain Variant

2 Player game. One Player is the Avengers, the other is the Villain. Mix the Foe & Plot Decks Together to be used by the Villain.

Turn Sequence: Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases:

1. —Draw Phase: Draw 2 cards.
2. —Attack Phase: Discard a card from your hand to cause a target card of Opponent's that is in play with same force to be discarded.

3. —Plot Phase: Play 1 card face up to the table.

The Villain player can only play 1 Foe card. (Foes that Join are the exception) The Villain can have multiple Plot cards in play, but none of them may have the same force. The Avenger player can have multiple cards in play, but none of them may be of the same type. Recruit Rule: If you did not attack in Attack Phase, you may put a second card into play.

4. —End Phase: Max hand size is 3 cards. Discard excess cards.

You may discard any of your own cards in play. If you ever have 5 or more cards in play and your total Force is Greater than your opponent's, you win one Victory Point (VP). When a VP is won, discard all cards in play.

The first person to win 3 VP wins the game.

Victory

You win if you kill all opposing men.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

The Men

Use chits or miniatures to represent men (units). The counters or figs must identify race and officer type.

Away Teams

Each team has 8 men.

Team Composition

There are 4 types of teams: Federation Klingon Romulan Borg Each player chooses one type of team at the start of the game.

Federation Teams

The team has the following composition of races: 3 Humans, 1 Vulcan, 1 Betazoid, 1 Trill, 1 Bolian, and 1 Andorian. The team has the following composition of officers: 1 Command officer 1 Medical officer 1 Science officer 1 Engineering officer 4 Security officers At the start of the game decide which officers belong to which races.

Klingon Teams

All team members are of the Klingon race. The team officer composition is the same as that of the Federation.

Romulan Teams

All team members are of the Romulan race. The team officer composition is the same as that of the Federation.

Borg Teams

All team members are of the Borg race. There are no officers. All team members are Drones. Borg Drones use all Attack, Tactics, Device, and Skill cards for: Assimilate: Turn adjacent enemy unit into a Borg

Skill Cards

Skill cards can be used with officers to produce different types of effects: Command officer: Leadership: Draw 2 cards Science officer: Audio Decoy: Negate attack Engineering officer: Bypass Security: Move like a knight in chess Security officer: Unarmed Combat: Attack of Range = 1 Medical officer: Medical Tricorder: Heal wound of adjacent man

Tactics Cards

Tactics cards can be used with officers to produce different types of effects: Security officer: Marksman: Attack of Range = 5 Medical officer: Neural Disruptor: Attack of Range = 1 Engineering officer: EMP Grenade: Opponent must discard 2 cards Command officer: Strategy: Look at opponents hand Science officer: Holographic Projector: Negate attack

Device Cards

Device cards can be used with officers to produce different types of effects: Medical officer: Hypospray: Heal wound of adjacent man Engineering officer: Remote Mine: Attack of Range = 4 Security officer: Proximity Mine: Attack of Range = 2 Science officer: Tricorder: Look at opponents hand A Command officer: Communicator: Draw 3 cards and discard 2

Race Cards

Race cards can be used to produce different types of effects: Human: Adaptable: Draw 2 cards and discard 1 Vulcan: Nerve Pinch: Attack of Range = 1 or Mind Meld: Look at opponents hand Trill: Experience: Draw 2 cards Bolian: Strength: Attack of Range = 1 Betazoid: Empathy: Look at opponents hand Andorian: Enhanced Hearing: Look at opponents hand Klingon: Close Combat: Attack of Range = 1 or Toughness: Negate a non-Phaser attack Romulan: Cloaking

Band: Negate an attack or Cunning: Draw 2 cards and discard 1 Borg: Personal Shield: Negate Phaser Attack

Setup

Players choose their team types. Each player places one man on each square of his back row. Men may not stack.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Tactics Phase
2. Move Phase
3. Fire Phase

Tactics Phase

Draw 3 cards. Max hand size = 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your men. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the man moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. Instead of moving just one man in any direction, you have the option of moving up to 2 men the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Fire Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a man attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. Your opponent may play Defense cards to negate your attacks.

Wounds

Every time a man is damaged (hit/attacked) flip a coin. On heads the man is killed. (removed from play) On tails the man is wounded. Use counters to identify wounded status.

If a man receives 2 wounds, he is killed.

Aztec Skirmish

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Battle between Aztecs & Conquistadors. Abstract skirmish level combat.

Each figure represents a single man (unit).

Victory

You win if you kill the opposing Leader.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

The Men

Use chits or miniatures to represent men.

Aztec Unit Types

#	Type	Hits
1	War Leader	3
2	Jaguar Knight	2
2	Eagle Knight	2
19	Warrior	1

Number of that type of man you start the game with.

Hits Number of Hits that type of unit has.

Conquistador Unit Types

#	Type	Hits
1	Captain	3
8	Soldier	2
4	Horseman	2
2	Cannon	2

Setup

The Aztec player places one unit on each square of his back three rows. The conquistador places one unit on each square of his back two rows. Units may not stack.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Fate Phase
2. Move Phase
3. Attack Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 3 cards. Max hand size = 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your men. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the man moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. "Knight" type move cards allow a man to move like a knight in chess. Instead of moving just one man in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more men forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Horsemen can be moved up twice per turn. Cannons can move a max of 2 spaces per turn.

Attack Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a man attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

You cannot attack through other units, except for Bows & Atlatl. Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. Attacks do one Hit of damage to the target.

Use Chits or coins to record damage. A man reduced to zero Hits is killed and removed from the board. Your opponent may play Defense cards to negate your attack.

Cannons can only attack using cannon only cards. A canister shot has a range = 2. It does damage to that square, the two Squares on either side, and the square at range = 1. Roundshot travels in a straight line for unlimited range. It does damage to every Unit in every square it passes through.

Babylon 5 Empires

Introduction

Babylon V Theme. Module for the Warp Empires system. You must use the Warp Empires system to play this game.

Dice

Six-sided dice are needed in this scenario.

Map

Spaces are also called Territories or Zones. Over half the territories are empty space. Revenue generating spaces are planetary systems.

Other territory types include: Supernovas & Black-holes: No entry possible Nebulas: Ships must stop upon entering Babylon V: Neutral Zone Some systems may begin with Jumpgates.

Victory

You win if you control over 60% of the systems on the map.

Races

Each player picks a race: The Centauri Empire The Earthforce Alliance The Minbari Federation The Narn Regime

Setup

Each player starts with a Homesystem with 10 random units and a hand of 5 cards. Each Homesytem has a Jumpgate.

Units & Action Deck

Players share a common Action deck and unit chit pile.

Draw Phase

First discard any cards you don't want. Each player draws 3 action cards. Draw an extra card for each Diplomat you have that is located on an enemy system or Babylon 5.

You cannot have more than one Diplomat on a system. Max hand size = 7. Discard excess cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Unit Deck

Move Phase

Use Action cards to move stacks or units in stacks. A Fast unit can move 1-3 spaces. A Medium speed unit can move 1-2 spaces.

A Slow unit can move 1 space. Leaders must travel with other units. Units can move into but not through opposing stacks.

Colonies & Shipyards & Stargates cannot move (Move = 0). Your opponent can only look at the top unit of your stacks You can move your units at a Jumpgate you control to any other Jumpgate you control as a move of 1 space.

Exploration Phase

Include an exploration phase after movement phase. When entering an unexplored system for the first time roll three six sided dice to determine The presence of Resources.

1D6	Resources:	Revenue:
1-2	Poor	1
3-4	Moderate	2
5-6	Rich	3

Revenue Phase

Each system with a colony generates revenue equal to its Resource level. Homesystems generate 10 Revenue points per turn.

Recruit Phase

Units must start at your Homeworld or a planet with a Shipyard. You may build a colony on a system you control. A system can have a maximum of 1 colony and 1 shipyard.

A system must first have a colony before a shipyard can be built. A system must first have a colony before a Jumpgate can be built.

Battle Rules

Opposing stacks in the same space do not have to attack each other if they both declare that they are on Diplomatic missions. Treat Leaders like other units with respect to casualties. When attacking a Homesystem controlled by an enemy the defender will get +20 Force.

Diplomats cannot attack or be attacked.

Warp Empires Ruleset

Introduction

Generic ruleset for a series of empire building/conquest games.

Map

The map depicts an irregular, interlocked set of territories.

Control Markers

Use chits to represent control markers.

Units

Use chits to represent units. Units include Leaders & non-leader units.

Deck

Players share an action deck. In some games, each player will have their own action deck. The action deck cards allow you to move your units.

Setup

Most Leader units will be in play. Others will be mixed into the unit chit pile. Each player will start with several non-leader units in play.

Starting points of units will be determined by the scenario.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 phases: Draw Phase Move Phase Battle Phase Revenue Phase Recruit Phase Upkeep Phase Control Phase

Draw Phase

First discard any cards you don't want. Each player draws 5 action cards. Max hand size = 7. Discard excess cards.

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Move Phase

Use Action cards to move stacks or units in stacks. A Fast unit can move 1-3 spaces. A Medium speed unit can move 1-2 spaces.

A Slow unit can move 1 space. Units can move into but not through opposing stacks. Fortifications cannot move (Move = 0).

Your opponent can only look at the top unit of your stacks

Battle Phase

When two opposing stacks occupy the same territory there will be a battle. Each unit has a force value. Add up the total Force values for each side.

Players may play action cards to increase their force value. If one stack has a Leader and the other does not, the stack with the leader gets an additional 5 Force. The side with the highest force value wins.

The losing stack must retreat one space. The losing stack loses half of its units. The winner picks the first unit lost, the loser picks the remainder. Fortification units in the losing stack are destroyed automatically.

The winning stack loses units with a force equal to at least half the force total lost by the losing stack. The winner decides which units are lost. Destroyed units are returned to their chit pile. Captured leaders are set aside and not returned to the chit pile.

After a battle both sides replenish their hands to 7 cards.

Revenue Phase

Gain revenue points for every revenue generating territory you control.

Recruit Phase

Draw 5 random units from the unit chit pile. Purchase units. A units cost is equal to its Force value. If you purchased all the drawn units, draw another 1D6 random units.

Revenue may be saved from turn to turn. Discard unpurchased units back to your unit chit pile. Units start in any revenue generating territory you control.

Upkeep Phase

Number of Units that automatically receive upkeep = 5 x total Revenue. Discard excess units. Example: You generate 10 revenue points per turn...

You may have up to 50 units.

Control Phase

Place a control marker on every revenue generating territory occupied by one of your units. Only one control marker per space.

Unit Deck Abbreviations

S Slow

M Medium speed

F Fast

F Force

F Fortification

Barbarella

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Gin Rummy/Poker type mechanics. Barbarella Theme.

Disclaimer

Barbarella is a copyrighted, licensed property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

The first player to reach 10 points wins the game.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Deal each player 7 cards. The deck is face-down.

The discard is face-up Turn over the top card of the deck and place it Face-up to be the first card of the discard. The player who most looks like Barbarella or Who is wearing a black lame space suit goes first. Failing that flip a coin.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Score Phase
3. Reward Phase
4. End Phase

Draw Phase

Take the top card of the deck or the discard and Put it in your hand. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and Play with it as the new deck.

Score Phase

You may play a Combo. A Combo will contain 6 cards in one of 4 possible combinations:

Combo	Points	Notes
Pairs	1	3 Pairs
Threes	2	2 Three-of-a-Kinds
Flush	3	All from 1 Suite
Straight	4	1 from each of the 6 different Suites

Keep track of the points you score.

Reward Phase

If you played a Meld this turn, draw 6 cards to refill your hand.

End Phase

Max hand size is 6 cards. Discard excess cards.

Barbarian Hordes

Introduction

Card game for 2-8+ players. Europe circa 400 AD.
Each player represents a nation existent at the time.
Each turn represents 5 years.

Victory

Be the first player to accumulate 10 Territory Tokens.

Defeat

Any player who loses all his Territory Tokens is wiped out. He may reenter the game as another Nation not yet played.

The Nations

Each Player picks one nation, starting with the Primary nations, then secondary, then tertiary, then quaternary.

- Primary Nations: Western Roman Empire, Huns, Visigoths, Ostrogoths.
- Secondary Nations: Eastern Roman Empire, Vandals.
- Tertiary Nations: White Huns, Sassanids.
- Quaternary Nations: Franks, Slavs, Burgundians, etc.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains one of each card listed.

Dice

6 and 10-sided dice are needed.

Tokens

There are 2 types of Tokens: Army Tokens Territory Tokens

Setup

Each player starts with: 1 Unique Nation 5 Territory Tokens 10 Army Tokens 5 Randomly dealt cards. Roll high on 1D10 to determine Turn order

Taking Turns

Record player turn order. Turn order does not depend on players seating position. Seating position does determine who can attack whom.

Seating position can change during the game.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 Phases: Fate Phase Recruit Phase Event Phase Conquest Phase End Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 1D6 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Recruit Phase

Gain 1D6 Army Tokens.

Event Phase

Most Event cards are played in this Phase.

Conquest Phase

You may attack the player to your immediate left or right. You are the Attacker. The target player is the Defender. Each player calculates a War Total (WT) as follows:

WT Army Tokens + Card Force Bonuses + 1D10

Army Tokens = Each side adds up all their Army Tokens. Card Force Bonuses = Some cards when played (discarded) offer a Force Bonus. Allies = Other players may send the combatants Armies and Cards.

The player with the higher WT wins the War. The Loser loses 1D6 Army Tokens. The Winner loses 1D6 - 3 Army Tokens.

The Winner takes a Territory Token from his opponent. If WT are equal or differ only by 1 there is a stalemate, and Both sides lose 1D6 Armies. Allied Armies are the last to be made casualties. (They usually run away)

End Phase

Max hand size is 8 cards. Discard excess cards.

Nation Special Abilities

Each Nation has a Special Ability: >Western Roman Empire: Skilled: Max Hand Size = 10. Plus Force cards played provide an additional +2 Force. >Huns: Horsemen: They get an extra Conquest Phase each turn.

>Visigoths: Berserkers: In Conquest phase sacrifice an Army Token to get Force +3 >Ostrogoths: Populous: Roll twice and use the better roll in Recruit Phase.

>Eastern Roman Empire: Manipulators: Draw an extra card in Fate Phase. >Vandals: Migratory: The may change their seating position in their own Fate Phase.

>White Huns: Aggression: Army Tokens get +1 Force when Attacking. >Sassanids: Defenders: Army Tokens get +1 Force when Defending. >Quaternary Nations: No Special Abilities

Baroque Masters

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Each player is an Architect in Rome during the Baroque Era 1600's. Players try to increase their own reputation at the Expense of their Rivals.

Victory

When the deck runs out a second time, the player with The most Reputation Points (RP) wins.

Reputations

Use coins or pen & paper to keep track or Reputation Points (RP).

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck has 5 card Types: Patrons, Commissions, Quality, Actions, and Events. Patrons, Commissions, and Quality cards are referred to as Permanents.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. The most Baroque player goes first in the first Round

Turn Sequence

Play proceeds in Rounds. A Round has 4 Phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Option Phase
3. Scoring Phase
4. End Phase

Draw Phase

Place the top six cards of the deck face up in a row visible to all. These are referred to as the Option cards.

Option Phase

During a Round, players take turns (going clockwise (to the left)). The first player to go in a Round is the player to the left of The player who went first in the previous round. A player on his turn must take possession of one Option card.

If the card is an Event, it must be resolved immediately. Action cards are placed in the player's hand. Action cards can be used during any option phase.

Card List

If it is a Permanent card, the player must put it in his hand, or Put it into play face up in front of him visible to all. A player may have a max of 3 different Patrons in play. A player may have 1 Commission for each Patron.

A Commission may have any number of Quality cards attached. You may put Permanents from your hand into play at any Time during your option segment. When used, event and action cards are removed from the game (not the discard).

When the deck runs out the first time, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Scoring Phase

Players may score Melds. All Permanents have a point (rank) value ranging from 1 to 5. A Meld must contain: 1 Patron card 1 Commission card 0 or any number of (differently ranked) Quality cards.

A player gains a number of RP = the total point value of the meld. A Meld with no Quality cards is worth -1 RP. Each Quality card after the first is worth +1 RP.

The Meld cards are removed from the game (not the discard). Note that you may wait to score a meld in hopes of adding Additional Quality cards, however, this leaves open the Possibility of the meld being stolen or discarded.

End Phase

Max hand size is 3 cards. Discard excess cards.

Baseball Outs

Introduction

Card & Dice & Record Keeping game for 2 players
Simulation of a Baseball game.

Victory

Most Runs at the end of 9 Innings wins.

The Deck

Players share a common Event Deck.

Dice

Six sided dice (D6) are needed.

Pawns, Tokens, Markers, & Counters

Use counters to keep track of Runs. Use pawns to represent the Batter & Runners. Use tokens to keep track of Outs.

Use markers to keep track of Innings.

The Board

Used to keep track of runners. Draw a regular Baseball Diamond.

Setup

Flip a coin to determine who is Home Team and who is the Visiting Team.

Rules Of Baseball

It is assumed players are familiar with Baseball & the Rules of Baseball. There are 9 Innings. The Visitors bat the first half (The Top) of the Inning. The Team at bat is the Offensive Player. The Team at Field is the Defensive Player.

The remaining rules deal with the parts that need to be simulated in a card game format. There are things left unsaid, such as movement of the runners, that should be Intuitive to those familiar with the actual game. Confusions will be addressed in a FAQ's section after playtesting.

Turn Sequence

A Turn represents a single batters turn at bat. Important: A Turn does not correspond to a single pitch, but rather, the The final end result of a Batter's efforts. Each turn is divided into 3 phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Batting Phase
3. Fielding Phase

Draw Phase

Both players draw or are dealt 2 cards from the deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it.

Batting Phase

The Offensive Player rolls 2D6 (2 six-siders added together) To get a Result on the Batting Table. This Roll is called the Batting Roll. The Offensive player may play up to one Hit card and one Batter card to Modify the roll.

The Defensive player may play one Pitch card to modify the Roll. Players may also play 'Effect' cards to modify the roll. Hit, Batter, Effect, and Pitch cards are collectively referred to as Modifier cards.

Modifier cards must be played before the Roll is made. Before any Modifier cards are played, the Offensive Player may play one 'Automatic Result' card. If the Offensive player doesn't play an Automatic Card, the Defensive player may play one Automatic card. Automatic cards provide a particular outcome instead of making the Batting Roll.

Played cards are always immediately discarded.

Batting Table

2D6	Result:	Notes:
2-6	Out	Batter is either Struck out or Fielded out
7	Ball	Roll Again
8-9	Single	Place the Batter Pawn on 1st Base
10	Double	Place the Batter Pawn on 2nd Base
11	Triple	Place the Batter Pawn on 3rd Base

2D6	Result:	Notes:
12+	Home Run	Homer

Note: Base Hits will cause Runners already on base to be moved forward.

Fielding Phase

The Defensive Player may play one Fielding card. If the Defensive player did not play a Fielding card, the Offensive Player may play one fielding card. Maximum hand size is seven cards.

Discard excess cards at the end of this phase.

Card List Notation

- H Hit
- P Pitch
- B Batter
- E Effect

Basic Rules

0:0 Introduction

Warp Skirmish is an abstract Wargame system that utilizes a mix of board, card, dice and unit elements to create a system with chess-like strategy, fog-of-war uncertainty and module expandability.

Presented here are the base mechanics and several modules that are ready for play. The modules contain the game setting, background, unit and card definitions and the rules that augment or change the Warp Skirmish engine.

1:0 The Warp Skirmish Engine

1. THE MAP

An 8x8 chessboard can be used to play most games. Terrain aspects are detailed in the module.

1:2 The Units

Each module will detail the number, attributes and start positions of the units involved.

1:3 The Cards

The players either draw from a common deck of cards or have a their own deck of cards. The make up of the deck is detailed in the module. The cards represent actions, resources, attributes, and other aspects of the modules setting.

1:4 Victory Conditions

Each module will detail the conditions that need to be met for a player or players to be declared the victorious.

1:5 Turn Sequence

A player is randomly selected to go thru the Turn Sequence first. Each module will detail the exact Turn Sequence; the basic phases are usually as follows.

1:5:1 Orders Phase

The player draws 3 cards. If the deck runs out the discard pile is shuffled and used as the deck. The maximum number of cards that can be help is 5 cards. After drawing player must discard excess cards.

1:5:2 Maneuver Phase

The player discards a Movement type card. A Movement card will be marked as such and will have a number that will indicate the number of spaces a unit may move. Movement cards are often valid for specific types of units. The player can then select a valid unit and move them that number of spaces. The directions a particular unit can move in, as well as other movement restrictions, are detailed in the module.

1:5:3 Fire Phase

The player discards an Attack type card. An Attack card will be marked as such and will have a number that will indicate the range of an attack. Attack cards are often valid for specific types of units. The player can then select a valid unit to attack and a valid target. The effects of the attack, as well as restrictions and reactions by the target, are detailed in the module.

1:6 Strategic Variant

Make Orders Phase the Last phase of the Turn Sequence, and play with card hands face up.

Batman

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. One Player is Batman, the other is the Nemesis player

The Decks

The Batman player uses the Batman Deck. The Nemesis player has 3 decks: The Villains Deck The Location Deck The Action Deck

Object

The first player to accumulate 10 Victory points wins.

Turn Sequence

Each turn consists of 5 phases: Draw Phase Crime Phase Hunt Phase Confrontation Phase Victory Phase

Draw Phase

Players first discard down to 3 cards. Both players fill their hands to 7 cards from their own decks. The Nemesis player must draw 1 Villain card and 1 Location card, the remainder may be from the Action deck.

If a players deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Crime Phase

The Nemesis player plays one Villain card to the table face up and one Location card face down.

Batman Deck Card List

Card Name:	Force	Notes (Sub title):
Batman	8	Bruce Wayne - Socialite Millionaire
Batman	9	Boxer & Acrobat
Batman	10	Scientist
Batman	11	Master of Disguise
Batman	12	Detective
Batman	13	Code of Justice
Batman	14	Master of Martial Arts
Batman	15	The Dark Knight
Bat Girl	6	Barbara Gordon
Bat Girl	7	Gymnast
Bat Girl	8	Innovative Detective Work

Hunt Phase

The Batman player must guess the Location card (there are 5). If he is wrong, he may discard a clue card to guess again. If he cannot guess it, the Nemesis player gains the advantage.

If he does guess it, Batman gains the "Advantage" (+15).

Confrontation Phase

All cards with a number value are called Force cards. Both players play all their force cards to the table simultaneously. The Batman player can only play: one 'Batman' one 'Robin' one 'Bat Girl' and one 'Bat Vehicle' card.

When certain cards are played, this causes other specific opposing cards to be discarded. For example: If the Batman player plays antidote, or gas mask, this causes all gas cards and poison cards to be discarded. Each player adds up his cards numbers to get his Force Total.

The side with the Advantage gets +15 to his Force Total. Compare totals. The higher total wins. Flip a coin to resolve ties.

Victory Phase

The winner of the confrontation gets a victory point (VP). If the Nemesis won and he had a crime card out, he gains 2 more VP. If Batman wins by more than double the Force, or he wins and then plays a capture card, he gains 2 more VP.

If the Nemesis negates the capture card, Batman may play another. Discard all played cards.

Battle Dice

Introduction

A two player game of Fantasy battles using Dice to represent individual units.

Units

Dice:	Unit Type:	Includes:
1D4	General	Leader, Warlord
1D6	Infantry	Pikes, Swordsmen
1D8	Archers	Skirmishers, Slingers, Missile troops, Catapults
1D10	Cavalry	Chariots, Elephants, Knights
1D12	Mages	Wizards, Spell casters, Clerics
1D20	Monster	Dragons, Giants, Warriors

Dice Type of die used to represent the indicated unit type.

Setup

Both players must use an equal number of dice. The types of dice each player picks may be different. A Player may only pick one type of monster.

Example: Both players have 20 point armies (Both are using 20 dice) Player A has 2 Generals, 4 Monsters (Dragons), 2 Mages, and 4 each of Archers, Cavalry, and Infantry. Player B has 1 General, 2 Monsters (Archmages), 6 Mages, 6 Archers, and 5 Infantry.

Casualties

A player always decides which of his units have been destroyed.

Simultaneous Play

Players take their turns and phases at the same time. All units that can act in a phase may do so, even if they are destroyed during that phase.

Turn Sequence

Each turn consists of 8 phases:

1. Roll Phase
2. Monster Phase
3. General Phase
4. Magic Phase
5. Maneuver Phase

Object

Play continues until one side routs or is utterly destroyed.

Dice

Dice are also referred to as troops and units.

6. Missile Phase
7. Melee Phase
8. Morale Phase

Roll Phase

Both players roll all of their dice.

Monster Phase

Look at the results of all of the D20's. On a roll of 1 or 2 the Monster leaves the battle. (is considered destroyed) Any roll of 13-16 destroys one opposing monster. Any roll of 17-20 will provide 1 Monster point.

For each Monster point roll once on a Monster Table. All Monster tables are unique. You can only use the one Table that corresponds to the monsters you picked in setup.

Sample Monster tables are given at the end of the rules.

General Phase

Look at the results of all of the D4's. Any roll of 4 will provide 1 Tactics point. Compare the Tactics point totals of both players.

The player with fewer Tactics points loses all their Tactics points. The player with more Tactics points subtracts the losers total from his total. The winner gets to roll once on the Tactics effect table for each Tactics point he has left.

Tactics Effect Table

1D6	Effect:	Notes:
1	Superior Tactics	Gain 1D3 maneuver points.
2	Leadership	Morale total +1D6
3	Lead the Charge	Infantry also hit on rolls of "4" this turn.
4	Direct the Fire	Missile units also hit on rolls of "6" this turn.
5	Rally Troops	Restore 1D6 dice that have been destroyed.
6	Gain Initiative	Your hits are resolved first in either Missile or Melee phase*

* The player picks which phase.

point totals of both players.

The player with fewer spell points loses all their spell points. The player with more spell points subtracts the losers total from his total. The winner gets to roll once on the Spell effect table for each spell point he has left.

Magic Phase

Look at the results of all of the D12's. Any roll of 10 - 12 will provide 1 Spell point. Compare the Spell

Spell Effect Table

1D10	Effect:	Notes:
1	Elemental Attack	Kill 1D3 enemy dice
2	Healing	Restore 1D3 friendly dice that have been destroyed
3	Haste	Roll on the Maneuver effect table
4	Ensnorcelled	Set 1D6 enemy dice to "1"
5	Control	Take control of one enemy die of your choice
6	Summon	Gain 1D3 new dice of one type
7	Death	Kill one enemy die of your choice
8	Fear	Enemy Morale Total -1D6
9	Immobilize	Enemy loses 1D3 Maneuver points
10	Command	Roll on the Tactics effect table

Maneuver Phase

Look at the results of all of the D10's. Any roll of 8 - 10 will provide 1 Maneuver point. Compare the Maneuver point totals of both players.

The player with fewer Maneuver points loses all their maneuver points. The player with more Maneuver points subtracts the losers total from his total. The winner gets to roll once on the Maneuver effect table for each Maneuver point he has left.

Maneuver Effect Table

1D10	Effect	Notes
1-2	Charge	Kill 1D3 enemy dice
3-4	Outflank	Set 1D3 enemy dice to "1"
5-6	Encircle	Enemy morale -1D6; Also gain 1 Maneuver point next turn.
7-8	Withdraw	Negate the next 1D3 casualties
9-10	Pick Result

Missile Phase

Look at the results of all of the D8's. Any roll of 7 or 8 will cause the destruction of 1 enemy die.

Melee Phase

Look at the results of all of the D6's. Any roll of 5 or 6 will cause the destruction of 1 enemy die.

Dragon

Morale Phase

Both sides must keep track of how many casualties they sustained each turn. The side that lost more units this turn must check morale. That player must look at all of his remaining dice and count up all of the rolls of "2" and "3".

If this total is less than the number of casualties the player received this turn, the army routs.

Battle Dice Additional Rules

by Dave Sanborn sanborn@us.ibm.com

Quests & Artifacts

Before rolling on a given turn, a player may announce that he's questing. He may select as many dice as he wants to form a "questing party", and the rest of the dice act as his army. The army is rolled as per the standard rules against the opposing player's army. If a player has dedicated dice to his questing party on a given turn, and his army is wiped out in that turn, then the game is over and the player loses. Army casualties may never be applied to dice in the questing party, and vice versa.

Dice used for initially forming a questing party may only consist of Infantry, Archers, and Mages. Cavalry, Generals, and Monsters may not go on quests, and must always stay with the army. If a player wishes an Artifact to accompany the quest, he may add it to the questing party, keeping in mind the specific rules for its use (more on Artifacts later).

The opposing player acts as the "Dungeon Master" (for lack of a better term), and constructs an encounter roster for the questing player to face. The DM player selects a number of dice (NOT from his own army) equal to the number of dice in the questing player's party. The encounter roster may contain Infantry, Archers, Mages, and Monsters, though Monsters must be purchased on a one-for-two basis.

The two players conduct combat as per the normal rules, keeping in mind that Tactics and Maneuver rules don't change (though it will be difficult for either player to generate Tactics and Maneuver points). If a mage rolls on the spell-effects table, and rolls a '6' (the Summon spell) the player may add ANY type of dice to his party, INCLUDING Cavalry, Generals, and Monsters.

If either army is destroyed or routs (after a morale check) the quest is over. If the questing player still has non-Artifact units left in his questing party at this point (whether his party routed or he won), he may return ALL dice in his questing party to his army. If only Artifacts are left, they are considered lost, and may NOT be returned to the questing player's army. The DM player may NEVER add the contents of the encounter roster to his own army.

Should the questing player win, he rolls on the following Artifact Table to determine which Artifact he has procured. Artifacts are dice which are rolled in battle which give some kind of positive bonus. Some Artifacts have restrictions on them (other dice must exist in the party/army, can only be used once, etc.) which are explained in the following section. When using Artifacts, keep in mind the logical limits to their use (for example, if you only have one Infantry unit, that Infantry unit CANNOT use more than one magic sword at the same time, or multiple shields; a single Mage unit COULD NOT use two wands at once). Also keep in mind that effects are NOT cumulative, except where noted (if you have two Infantry units, and two Swords + 1, each Infantry unit would be eligible for a +1 modifier; you could not apply a +2 modifier to a single unit).

Artifact Table

1d20	Artifact:
1	Gold Cache (Hire Troops)
2	Wand of Healing
3	Wand of Resurrection
4	Sword + 1
5	Shield + 1

Battle For The Universe

Overview

Millions of years in the future, admits a universe dying a cold, premature death, mankind has overcome great challenges. They have conquered and outlived every alien race. They have overthrown a millennial reign of a cruel quasi-immortal tyrant. They have occupied all the remaining habitable galaxies of the Universe. But their greatest challenge is now themselves. The Human species has evolved into two different peoples: the Morlocks and the Eloi. And now they battle each other to determine which of them shall be masters of the universe.

Set Up

One player plays the space fleets of the Eloi. The Eloi are a gentle, yet determined people, under the vigilant care of their Empress. They seek to liberate the six galaxies from the cruel Morlocks. One player plays the space fleets of the Morlock Empire. The Morlocks are a fierce and technologically advance people. The only way they wish to serve the Eloi, is on their dinner tables. Each player uses an identical deck of cards (see card list below). Six sided dice will also be required.

Goal

To win, one player must possess all six of the inhabitable galaxies of the Universe. To capture (or recapture) a galaxy card, one must win a battle by destroying all of the opponents ships.

The Empires

Each empire starts play with three galaxy cards. These cards are played to the table, and remain their through out the game. If a galaxy is successfully conquered, it is moved to the side of the table occupied by the winning player.

Card List

Card Name	#	AD or Special Abilities
DREADNAUGHT FLEET	1	6
BATTLESHIP FLEET	2	5
CRUISER FLEET	3	4
FRIGATE FLEET	4	3
DESTROYER FLEET	5	2

The Eloi Empire

The Eloi begin with these three Galaxy cards: M31, NGC253, and M81.

The Morlock Empire

The Morlock begin with these three Galaxy Cards: LC342, M83, and M33.

The Turn

1. DRAW- Each player draws six cards from his deck to begin the game. Each subsequent turn, he draws three cards. The player must discard any cards in excess of nine. If the deck runs out of cards, the discard pile may be shuffled.
 2. DEPLOY- Each Galaxy yield 20 resources which the player may use to deploy his fleets. Fleets are deployed from one's hand, up to the amount needed. One resource is required for each AD (attack Die) of that fleet. Each player plays down his current fleet before him.
 3. ATTACK- The players then attack each others' fleets. All attacks are considered simultaneous. Each player rolls 1d6 for each AD of his combined fleets. On a roll of 1, one enemy fleet receives damage. The damaged fleet is randomly selected. For each point of damage to a fleet, one attack die is subtracted from it. If a fleet card falls to zero AD, than it is discarded. The battle continues all fleets of one player are destroyed. The remaining winning player may now take a Galaxy card from the loser of that battle. That player may now use those resources from that conquered galaxy to supply his fleet next turn. The fleet cards used by the winning player are then returned to his hand. All damaged incurred by those fleets that were not discarded are repaired. In case of players loosing their remaining ships simultaneously, then no one wins that battle.
- The turn is repeated until one player wins by controlling all six Galaxies.

Battle Magic

Introduction

Fantasy Warfare. Board and Card game. 2+ players.

Victory Conditions

Destroy all of your opponent's castles.

The Map

The map consists of irregularly shaped interconnected territories. There are land and water territories. There are 3 basic types of land territories: Clear, Forest, & Mountain.

Type	Strength	Number of Cards
Move	1	6
Move	2	4
Move	3	2
Sword	1	6
Sword	2	4
Sword	3	2

The Counters

Counters are also called chits or units. Each player has a counter set of a unique color. Each set has 44 counters.

There are 8 unit types: Armies, Dragons, Heroes, Ships, Castles, Wizards, Giant Ballistae, and Artifacts.

1. Armies: There are 9 armies in each set.

Armies can only move on land spaces. Armies can use a maximum of 1 move card per turn. Armies draw 2 cards in battle.

Armies can only use Sword cards in battle. Armies cost 2 Gold to recruit.

2. Dragons: There are 3 Dragons in each set.

Dragons can move on any spaces. Dragons can use a maximum of 2 move cards per turn. Because they can fly, dragons only ever pay 1 move point to enter any space.

Dragons draw 2 cards in battle. Dragons can use Sword and Magic cards in battle. Dragons cost 5 Gold to recruit.

3. Heroes: There are 5 Heroes in each set.

Heroes can move on any spaces. Heroes can use a maximum of 2 move cards per turn. Heroes draw 1 card in battle.

Heroes can use Sword and Magic cards in battle. Heroes cost 3 Gold to recruit.

4. Ships: There are 7 Ships in each set.

Ships can only move on water spaces. Ships can use

Land territories may be bordered (separated) by rivers. There are 2 basic types of water territories: Seas and Reefs. A map will have to be drawn before play is possible.

Denote terrain types on the map by drawings or symbols. Territories must be large enough to contain one counter. Land territories adjacent to water territories are considered to be coastal.

The board should contain 100+ territories.

The Deck

The common deck consists of 48 cards. There are 4 types of cards: Move, Sword, Gold, and Magic Each card type comes in 3 strengths: 1, 2, and 3.

Type	Strength	Number of Cards
Gold	1	6
Gold	2	4
Gold	3	2
Magic	1	6
Magic	2	4
Magic	3	2

a maximum of 2 move cards per turn. Ships draw 2 cards in battle.

Ships can only use Sword cards in battle. Ships cost 2 Gold to recruit.

5. Castles: There are 5 Castles in each set.

Castles do not move. Castles draw 2 cards in battle. Castles can only use Sword cards in battle.

Castles cost 1 Gold to build.

6. Wizards: There are 5 Wizards in each set.

Wizards can move on any spaces. Wizards can use a maximum of 2 move cards per turn. Wizards can use Magic cards to move.

Wizards draw 2 cards in battle. Wizards can only use Magic cards in battle. Wizards cost 3 Gold and/or Magic to recruit.

7. Giant Ballista: There are 4 Giant Ballista in each set.

Giant Ballista can only move on land spaces. Giant Ballista can use a maximum of 1 move card per turn. Giant Ballista draw 1 card in battle.

Giant Ballista can only use Sword cards in battle. Giant Ballista cannot be destroyed when attacking. Giant Ballista cost 2 Gold to construct.

8. Artifacts: There are 6 Artifacts in each set.

Stack an artifact with a Wizard or Hero chit. The Hero or Wizard gets +1 to their battle total. A Hero or Wizard can have a maximum of 2 Artifacts attached.

Artifacts cost 1 Gold to construct.

Setup

Each player places his counter set in its own opaque cup. These are known as draw cups. Each player places 1 of his castles on a coastal territory.

These castles cannot be within 5 spaces of each other. Each player places 1 of his armies in a land territory adjacent to his castle. Each player places 1 of his ships in a water territory adjacent to his castle.

Each player starts with a hand of 4 cards drawn from the common deck. Each player draws 1 chit from his draw cup. Determine turn order: Each player cuts the deck. Check card strength.

Highest strength cut goes first. Cut again to resolve ties.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 phases:

1. Move Phase
2. Battle Phase
3. Recruit Phase
4. Draw Phase

Move Phase

Discard a move card from your hand to give one of your units a number of Move points equal to the strength of the card. Clear spaces cost 1 move point to enter. Forest spaces cost 2 move points to enter.

Mountain spaces cost 3 move points to enter. Rivers cost 1 move point to cross. Sea spaces cost 1 move point to enter.

Reef spaces cost 2 move points to enter. Some units can receive move points from 2 Move cards. You can move more than one unit per turn if you have enough move cards.

Only one army or ballista may occupy a territory at a time. Only one ship may occupy a territory at a time. Only one castle may occupy a territory at a time.

Only one dragon may occupy a territory at a time. Enemy units cannot occupy the same territory. Units may move through friendly units.

Dragons may move through non-dragon enemy units. A Ship may carry an army or a ballista. They share the ship's move cards. If the ship is destroyed, the army or ballista is too.

Ships can also carry Heroes & Wizards. They share the ship's move cards. A hero can ride a dragon. The hero shares the dragon's move cards. Heroes & Wizards may move with armies or ballistae.

They share the armies or ballistae's move card.

Battle Phase

Your units may attack enemy units in adjacent territories. Units of the current player are attackers. The other players units are defenders.

Ships may attack into adjacent coastal spaces. Castles cannot attack, they can only defend. Armies cannot attack ships.

A unit may make only one attack per turn. If the adjacent space contains multiple enemy units, choose which of your units attacks which enemy unit. If there are multiple units in a space, castles are always attacked last.

If a dragon is attacked by a ship or an army the dragon player may discard a Move card to have it retreat (fly away) instead. Both the attacking and defending unit draw 2 cards each. Heroes only draw 1 card.

These cards are not put into the player's hands. All units but wizards may use sword cards in battle. Wizards, dragons, and heroes may use magic cards in battle.

If a unit draws a card it can use in battle, it adds the strength of that card to it's Battle Total. The unit with the lower battle total is destroyed and removed from the board. If a ballista is attacking and loses it is not destroyed, nothing happens.

A ballista can only be destroyed when defending. If a hero is destroyed the player may discard a Move card to have it retreat instead. If the hero cannot retreat it is destroyed. Retreating heroes discard their artifacts.

If a unit draws no cards it can use in battle, the player may substitute one card from his hand that the unit can use. If the battle totals are tied, both units draw another card to break the tie. All cards used in battle are discarded.

Destroyed chits go back to the owner's draw cup.

Combat Advantages

Defending units in the same territory as a Castle get +1 to their battle totals. Because of their magic resistance, Dragons get +1 to their battle total vs. wizards. Because they can fly over walls, Dragons get +1 to their battle total vs. castles.

Because of their powerful spells of mass destruction, Wizards get +1 to their battle total vs. armies and ships. Because of their numerical advantage, Armies get +1 to their battle total vs. heroes and ballistae. Castles get +1 to their battle total vs. ships.

Because they can sneak up on them and cut their heads off, Heroes get +1 to their battle total vs. dragons and wizards. Because they make big juicy targets, Ballistae get +1 to their battle total vs. dragons.

Recruit Phase

You may purchase one or more cards from your recruit pile using Gold cards from your hand. You cannot make change when buying units. Gold in excess of the units cost is lost.

Non-castle units must be placed in an unoccupied space adjacent to one of your castles. Castles may be built in an unoccupied space adjacent to one of your units. Castles cannot be built adjacent to another castle.

Draw Phase

Draw 4 cards from the common deck. Maximum hand size is 6 cards. Discard excess cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Draw 1 chit from your draw cup if you have less than 3 chits in your recruit pile. Counters are kept face up in front of you. This is your recruit pile. Maximum recruit pile size is 5 chits. Discard excess chits.

Optional Special Territories

You may want to include some or all of the following special territories on your map. Special territories require 2 move points to enter. City: Reserve pile size +1 Oracle: Hand size +1 Monolith: Draw an extra card in draw phase. If it's a magic card keep it.

Mine: Draw an extra card in draw phase. If it's a gold card keep it. Altar: Draw an extra card in draw phase. If it's a sword card keep it. Temple: Draw an extra card in draw phase. If it's a move card keep it.

Barbarian Villages: Draw an extra chit in draw phase. If it's an army chit keep it. Dragons Lair: Draw an extra chit in draw phase. If it's a dragon chit keep it. Tavern: Draw an extra chit in draw phase. If it's a hero chit keep it.

Workshops: Draw an extra chit in draw phase. If it's a ballista or artifact chit keep it. Wizards Tower: Draw an extra chit in draw phase. If it's a wizard chit keep it. Pirates Cove: Draw an extra chit in draw phase. If it's a ship chit keep it.

Ruins: The first hero to visit draws a card. If it is a Move card the hero is destroyed. If it is another type of card, the player keeps it.

Optional Variant Counter Set

The Chit set described in the main rules is for the standard human empire.

The Dwarf empire set includes: 10 Armies 6 Ships 7 Castles 3 Rune Masters (Wizards) 5 Bombards (Bal-listae) 3 Juggernauts 4 Dwarf Lords (Heroes) 6 Artifacts

Juggernauts: There are 3 Juggernauts in the Dwarf set. Juggernauts can only move on land spaces. Juggernauts can use a maximum of 2 move cards per turn.

Juggernauts draw 4 cards in battle. Juggernauts can only use Sword cards in battle. Juggernauts cannot be carried by ships.

Juggernauts can carry other units like ships can. Juggernauts cost 4 Gold to recruit.

The Orc empire set includes: 12 Armies 7 Ships 6 Castles 6 Shamans (Wizards) 6 Giant Catapults (Ballistae) 4 Giants 3 Artifacts

Giants: There are 4 Giants in the Orc set. Giants can move on land or water spaces. Giants can use a maximum of 2 move cards per turn.

Giants draw 3 cards in battle. Giants can only use Sword cards in battle. Giants cost 4 Gold to recruit.

The Elf empire set includes: 6 Armies 8 Ships 4 Castles 7 Battle Mages (Wizards) 5 Crystal Towers 4 Dragons 4 Elven Avatars (Heroes) 6 Artifacts

Crystal Towers: There are 5 Towers in the Elf set. Towers can move only on land spaces. Towers can use a maximum of 1 move card per turn.

Towers draw 2 cards in battle. Towers can only use Magic cards in battle. Towers cannot be destroyed when attacking.

Treat Towers like ballista for transport & stacking. Towers cost 3 Gold to construct.

The Undead empire set includes: 10 Armies 7 Ghost Ships 5 Castles 6 Necromancers (Wizards) 3 Bone Towers (Ballistae) 3 Skeletal Dragons 3 Wraith Lords (Heroes) 7 Artifacts

Special Abilities

Besides the Build and Fight Traits, cards have additional abilities including: Draw, Store, Replace, Heal or Repair, Gain VP, and modifiers that Increase their Traits or the Traits of other cards.

Leader Or Power Ability

When a card with the Leader or Power ability is played draw one card from your deck and put it in your hand.

Science Ability

When you play a card with the Science ability, you may choose a card From the Building or Unit Spreads and put it on the bottom of its Deck and then immediately draw another card from the top of the Deck to replace it.

Store Ability

Take a card in your hand or your discard and put it in your Storage pile. At any time you may take a card in your storage pile And shuffle it back into your deck.

Scout Or Spy Ability

When you play a card with the Scout or Spy ability, you may choose a card From the Threat Spread and put it on the bottom of the Threat deck and Then immediately draw another card from the top of the Threat Deck to replace it.

Heal Or Repair Ability

When you play a unit of the indicated type, instead of putting it into your discard pile, you may shuffle it back into your deck.

Fast Build

When you Build a card, instead of putting it into your discard, You may put it on top of your deck.

Mg

Machine Gun. When you play a Unit with the MG ability you may discard cards from your hand to get +1 fight for each card discarded.

Fire & Chem

Units with the Fire or Chem ability are Fight +3 versus Animals.

Lightning

Units with the Lightning ability are Fight +2 versus Raiders and Silver Wolves.

Freeze

Units with the Freeze ability are Fight +3 versus Infected.

Sniper

Units with the Sniper ability are Fight +3 versus Raiders.

Demolition

Units with the Demolition ability are Fight +2 versus Rebels and Silver Wolves.

Rail Gun

Units with the Rail Gun ability are Fight +3 versus Silver Wolves.

Pacify

Units with the Pacify ability are Fight +3 versus Frontier Enemies.

Drill & Crush

Units with the Drill or Crush ability are Fight +2 versus Rebels and Raiders.

Elite & Veteran

Units with the Elite or Veteran ability are Fight +3 versus PVP.

Indirect

Units with the Indirect ability are Fight +3 versus Rebels.

The Wimp

If you play this unit 3 times from your hand it becomes experienced and it gets a +7 Fight Bonus for the rest of the game.

Cold

Some Missions have the Cold attribute. Units that do not have the ARCTIC ability have their Fight value halved (rounding down) when used against Cold Threats. Note that Bigfoots and Silver Wolf Units have the Arctic ability.

Setup

1. Each player shuffles their Basic Deck and draws 5 cards.
2. Shuffle the 3 Common Decks. All Decks are face-down.
3. Place the top 4 cards of the Threat deck face-up in a line in the Middle of the Table. These 4 cards are known as the Threat Spread. There must always be 4 cards in the Threat Spread. If there is less, Immediately draw 1 from the common deck to fill in the gap.

5. Just like the Threat Spread, make spreads for the Building and Unit Decks.
6. Roll high on a six sided die to see who goes first.

As play proceeds each player will have a modified Basic Deck, a hand of Five cards, their discard pile, a Victory pile (defeated Threats), and a Storage pile.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 2 Phases:

1. Action Phase
2. Draw Phase

Action Phase

Play cards from your hand. (played cards are put in your discard) Use Build points to recruit Buildings, Units, and Characters from the Building and Unit Spreads. The cost of a card in Build points is its Recruitment Cost (RC) When a card is recruited, place it in your discard pile. Use Fight points to defeat Threats from the Threat Spread.

The cost to defeat a Threat in Fight Points is its Threat Value (TV) Place defeated Threats into your Victory pile. At the end of the phase discard all un-played cards from your hand.

Draw Phase

Draw 6 cards from your Deck to form your hand for next turn. If you have no cards left in your deck, shuffle your discard and Draw from it.

Threats

Threats come in two basic types: Missions and Invasions. A Mission you go looking for trouble. An Invasion trouble comes looking for you.

Defensive Buildings can only be used vs Invasions. Note: although the Threat cards and Recruit cards are listed Separately, they are all shuffled together into the Common Deck.

End Game Scoring

Add up your VT (Victory Tokens) plus the TV (Threat Value) of all Threat cards in your Victory Pile, Deck, Hand, and Discards.

Recruit Ability

If you play this card and defeat a Threat of the indicated type in the same Turn, you may put the threat card into your discard instead of your Victory pile. The Recruited Threat will now fight for you. They are played like normal units. They have a Fight Trait equal to their Threat Value.

Note that Recruited Threat cards in your Deck go into your Victory pile for end game scoring.

Drop

Some Missions have the Drop attribute. After Defeating them there is a 50% chance they go into your discard instead of your Victory Pile. When played as a unit it has the Fight value in parentheses, not the Threat Value (TV) of the card.

Battle Of Berlin

Introduction

Two Player card game. Simulation of the battle of Berlin (4/3/1945 - 5/2/1945). Players are Russian Generals competing to be the first to capture Berlin.

One player is Marshal Georgi Zhukov (First Belorussian Front). The other player is Marshal Ivan Koniev (First Ukranian Front). Capture the Reichstag & raise the Red Flag!

Victory

The first player to capture 10 City Defense cards is the Winner.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

- Each turn has 5 phases:
1. Fate Phase
 2. Plan Phase
 3. Drive Phase
 4. Fight Phase
 5. End Phase

Fate Phase

Draw the top 9 cards from the deck and put them face up in a line in the middle of the table. These are referred to as the Fate cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Plan Phase

Players may Bid Russian Cards from their hands. They may bid zero, one, or more cards. Bids are made simultaneously.

Common Deck Card List

Card Name:	Force:	Notes:
Berlin Suburbs	2	FL
Supply Lines Endangered	5	FL
Bypassed Enemy Forces	6	FL
Flank Threatened	4	FL
Soviets Confined to a Few Roads	7	FL
Rebuilt Positions	4	FL
Seelow Heights	8	FL

The player who bids the highest total force worth of Russian cards gets to pick first in Drive Phase. If tied, flip a coin to determine the winner. All Bid cards are discarded.

Drive Phase

Players take turns picking up one fate card and putting it in their hands. The player who won the plan phase bid goes first.

Fight Phase

Players may make one or more Melds. A Meld consists of exactly 1 German card and 1 or more Russian cards. The total force of the Russian cards must exceed the Force of the German card.

The German card in a Meld is "captured" and kept in a Victory pile. The Russian cards are discarded. A player must capture 10 German Front Line cards before he may capture any City Defense cards.

A player who has not yet captured 10 Front Line cards is said to be "Outside the Gates". A player who has captured 10 Front Line cards is said to be "Inside the Gates". Once Inside the gates you can only capture City Defense cards and not Front Line cards.

End Phase

You may discard 2 cards to draw 1 replacement card. You may do this multiple times. Max hand size is 7 cards.

Discard excess cards.

Battle Of Camlann

Introduction

The last battle of King Arthur, where Arthur was mortally wounded and Mordred was slain. Card game for 2 Players.

Victory

The game ends after 10 hands. There are 3 possible Victory Conditions:

1. Win 3 hands in a row
2. Win 6 out of the 10 hands
3. Play a Kill card to kill your opponents Leader card

If the game ends and both players have won exactly 5 hands then it is a draw. . . both leaders are slain as in the legend (or history if you prefer).

Victory Tokens

There are 10 Victory Tokens. Gain 1 Victory Token every time you win a hand.

The Tide Token

This refers to the "Tide of Battle". Whoever holds it gets to go first in Action Phase.

Setup

Decide who is Arthur and who is Mordred. Mordred gets the Tide Token.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. Some cards can be used by both players. Some cards can be used by only one of the players.

Unit cards include: Knights, Leaders, Wizards, and Troops.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 5 phases: Draw Phase Redraw Phase Reveal Phase Action Phase End Phase

Draw Phase

Each player draws 10 cards. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Rederaw Phase

Players may discard face-up up to 5 cards and draw replacements. Leader cards may not be discarded.

Reveal Phase

Players reveal their hands face-up onto the table. Players discard any cards belonging to their opponent, or that they cannot play.

Action Phase

Players take turns using the special actions of their cards. The player holding the Tide token goes first. When a special action is used turn the card sideways to note this.

A card can use its special action only once in Action phase. Most special actions have you "Negate" a target card of an appropriate type. Negated cards are discarded.

There are 2 Kill cards in the deck. Kill cards can target any Unit card. A Killed card is removed from play for the rest of the game (not the discard). After all special abilities are used each player adds up the strength of his remaining cards. The player with the higher score wins the hand. If tied, the player with the Tide counter wins the hand.

End Phase

Players discard all cards in play. The Tide Token is given to the other player.

Battle Of The Atlantic

Introduction

War at Sea 1939 - 1943. 2 Player Card Game. German High Seas Fleet vs the British Royal Navy.

Victory

Be the first to win 3 hands.

The Decks

Each player has their own unique deck. Each deck contains 2 copies of each card in its card list.

The Cards

There are 3 card types: Tactics, Tonnage, and Technology Each card has an individual point value.

Turn Sequence

- There are 5 turns corresponding to the years 1939 - 1943. Each turn (year) has 4 Phases:
1. Logistics Phase
 2. Strategy Phase
 3. Deployment Phase
 4. Victory Phase

Logistics Phase

Each player draws 7 cards. If your deck runs out, shuffle your discard & draw from it.

The German Deck Card List

Strategy Phase

Each player may discard up to 3 cards & draw replacements.

Deployment Phase

Players reveal their hands. Each player calculates the Grand Strategy Total (GST) for his hand: Add up the Point Values of all Tactics cards and add 1. This is the Tactics Total (A).

Add up the Point Values of all Tonnage cards and add 1. This is the Weapon Total (O). Add up the Point Values of all Technology cards and add 1.

This is the Tactics Total (E).

GST $A \times O \times E$

Victory Phase

The side with the higher GST wins the turn. The side with the highest Tactics Total gets +1 to all future Tactics Totals. The side with the highest Tonnage Total gets +1 to all future Tonnage Totals.

The side with the highest Technology Total gets +1 to all future Technology Totals. These bonuses are cumulative. The British begin the game with a +1 in Tonnage.

The Germans begin the game with +1 in Tactics.

Battle Of The Three Emperors

Introduction

Card game for 2 Players. Simulation of the Battle of Austerlitz. One player is Napoleon.

The other player is the Third Coalition as represented by Austria & Russia.

Victory

Control all 3 Fronts (Flanks) and reduce your opponents Morale to zero.

The Field

There are 3 Strategic Fronts (Flanks): Stanton Hill (North) Pratzen Heights (Center) Telnitz (South)

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Setup

Napoleon starts in possession of Stanton Hill and Telnitz. The Coalition starts in control of the Pratzen Heights. Each player starts with 20 Morale points.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases. Strategy Phase Orders Phase Attack Phase End Phase

Strategy Phase

Draw 5 cards from the Deck. If the deck runs out, the battle is a draw.

Orders Phase

Put Leader and Unit cards into play. Leader & Units cards must be assigned to a specific Front. Some cards designate a Front, others allow you to choose.

Action Phase

You may launch one attack on one target Front. You may attack from a Front even if you already control the Front. The Defender may play Defense cards at specific Fronts.

Players add up the Force of all their Units, Leaders, Attack, Defense, and Event cards played at the Front. If the Defender controls the Front he gets +4 Force. The higher total Force wins the Action.

The Winner gains control of the Front. The Winner gains 2 Morale Points. The loser loses 3 Morale Points.

End Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Victory Cards

You can only play a Victory card if you have just won an Action. Draw 1 card when you play a Victory card.

Attack Cards

You may Play an attack card to launch an extra attack on another Front. This is effectively an additional Action Phase. (Max one attack per Front per turn)

Reserve Cards

Discard a Reserve card to Search the Deck for one of your Leader or Unit cards and put it in your hand.

March Cards

Discard a March card to Draw 2 cards.

Maneuver Cards

Discard a Maneuver card to Move one of your Leaders or Units to an Adjacent Front. Draw 1 card when you play a Maneuver card.

Standstill Cards

Discard a Standstill card to cause opponent to discard 2 random cards from his hand.

Strategy Cards

Discard a Strategy card to move 1 opposing Leader or Unit to an adjacent Flank. Draw 1 card when you play a Strategy card.

Battle Royale

Introduction

Battle Royale is a chess variant that uses Strategic & Tactical boards.

Strategic Board

7 X 7 Chess grid. The corner squares & center squares are special locations called towns. On opposite sides of the board in the center of each players back row is a special location called the Castle.

Players move their armies around on the strategic board.

Objective

The object of the game is to capture the opponents castle

Playing Pieces

Players should use cardboard counters or chits to represent pieces. Write the name of the unit type on the counter. Each player should have counters of separate colors.

Chess men (pawns, bishops, knights, etc.), used on the tactical board, are also referred to as pieces, troops, units, or figures. Armies, used on the strategic board, are also represented by numbered chits

Board & Unit Graphic Set Available to get the File

Tactical Board

6 X 6 Chess grid. Players move their men around on the tactical board

Turn Sequence

1-white moves 2-black moves 3-revenue phase 4-recruit phase

Set Up

Each player starts with 6 Armies on the strategic map. One army is located in the castle & and the other five surround the castle

Armies

The location of armies are represented by counters on the strategic map An army represents a force of up to 5 men Stack the units under the army counter An army counter that contains no pieces is destroyed

Strategic Moves

A player can move all of his armies once in a single turn. Armies move like kings in chess Only one army can occupy a single space, except during attacks During an attack a player moves an army into a space occupied by an opponents army The battle is immediately resolved on the tactical Board If two adjacent armies do not move then units can be transferred between them A unit can only be transferred once per turn

Terrain

Before a battle starts place terrain obstacles on the tactical map On each row place one obstacle marker Use a six sided die to determine on which of the six squares in the row to place the obstacle Figures cannot enter squares containing obstacles

Battles

Battles take place on the tactical map when two opposing armies occupy the same space Put up a partition in the middle of the board so players set up their men in secret Players set up their men in any order on the back row & the partition is removed The defender goes first moving or capturing with one piece The attacker then gets to go. Play proceeds as in regular chess, players alternating turns Movement & capturing is just like in normal chess The battle continues until one side is eliminated or no pieces can move or no capture has been made in 10 turns or no further captures can be made by either side After the battle the strategic turn continues If one side was eliminated then its army counter is destroyed If neither side is eliminated then the attacker must retreat his army back to the square it came from

Revenue Phase

Players collect 2 gold from their Castle and 1 gold from each town occupied by one of their armies

Recruit Phase

Players may spend their gold to buy one or more units Players may save their gold from turn to turn A new unit appears in an army that is in or adjacent to a town (or castle) you control New army chits may also be purchased They must be purchased with at least one figure in their stack Army chits appear adjacent to a town (or castle) you control

Unit Types List

Unit Notes

If peasant reaches opponents back row immediately place The peasant in any open space on the board. The Shieldman is Immune to shooters. If a pikeman reaches a backrow he immediately turns around and starts heading the opposite way.

The Swordsman & Axeman can jump over an adjacent unit. The Catapult shoots over obstacles. One max per army.

Shooting

When a piece that can shoot captures it doesn't move into the space of the captured space, it remains in the space it started the turn in.

Initial Army Composition

Starting armies contain 12 Gold worth of units each.

Battlefront

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. WWII theme.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 1 copy of every card in the card list.

Victory

Capture 3 of the 5 Fronts.

The Fronts

There are 5 Fronts between the players:

- R Right Flank
- CR Center Right
- C Center
- CL Center Left
- L Left Flank

Setup

Use markers to designate the 5 Fronts.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Logistics Phase
2. Deployment Phase
3. Battle Phase

Logistics Phase

Each player is dealt 7 cards from the deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Card List

Card Name:	Type	Force	Notes:

Deployment Phase

Players take turns. Flip a coin to see who goes first. Players take turns playing one card from their hand to one of the five Fronts.

In a turn you can assign a maximum of 2 cards to a single Front. At a single front, you may assign a maximum of: 1 Leader 1 Infantry 1 Plane 1 Tank 1 Artillery 1 Strategy 1 Fortification Some cards allow you to play an extra card of a certain type at that Front. If you play a Scout card, you may look at your opponent's hand.

Battle Phase

Each card has a Force value. Add up your force value for each Front. If you have a higher Force than your opponent at a Front you gain a Victory Marker (VM) for that Front.

(Use coins for VM) If you ever have 3 more VP than your opponent at a Front, you Capture that Front. The first player to capture 3 of the 5 Fronts wins the game. Negated cards do not contribute their Force.

Once a Front is captured, no more cards may be assigned to it. Maximum hand size is 8 cards. Discard excess cards at end of turn.

Battlestar Galactica

Introduction

Board Game for 2 players. One player is the Cylons, the other is the Battlestar Galactica.

Disclaimer

Battlestar Galactica is a licensed trademarked property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

The Cylons win if they destroy all the fighters on the Battlestar Galactica. The Battlestar Galactica wins if they make it to Earth with some Fighters left.

The Board

The board is a line of 100 squares (or spaces) in a row. The starting space for the Galactica is all the way to the right end. This is Caprica, Homeworld of the Battlestar Galactica, its crew, and the ragtag fleet following it.

At the opposite end of the path is the lost colony of Earth. Every third square is considered to be a 'Planet' Space. Other Squares are considered to be 'Deep Space'.

Dice

Six sided (D6) dice are needed.

The Battlestar Galactica

Use a pawn to represent the Battlestar Galactica. Use 15 tokens to represent the number of Viper Fighter squads on the Battlestar Galactica. Each squad token represents 10 fighters.

Cylon Fleets

The Cylon player starts with 4 fleets. Cylon Fleets are represented by numbered counters.

Setup

The Galactica and 4 Cylon Fleets start on Caprica. Galactica starts with 15 Fighter squad tokens.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 5 phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Galactica Move Phase
3. Cylon Move Phase
4. Battle Phase
5. Repair Phase

5. Repair Phase

Draw Phase

Both players. You may discard any unwanted cards. Next, fill your hand to 8 cards.

If your deck runs out shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Galactica Move Phase

Galactica player. Move pawn 1D6 spaces forward. This is the Move Roll.

You may discard a Scout card to add or subtract one from your roll.

Cylon Move Phase

Cylon player. Move two fleets 1D6 (Roll for each) spaces in any direction. On a roll of 1 you may move any one of your fleets onto any unoccupied planet space on the board.

Discard a Move card to move additional Fleets.

Battle Phase

If the Galactica is on a Space containing one or more Cylon Fleets there will be a battle. The Galactica player rolls 2D6. This roll is the Galactica Battle Total. The Galactica player may play (reveal) one or more Battle Cards to increase this number.

The Cylon player rolls 1D6 per Fleet present. This roll is the Cylon Battle Total. The Cylon player may play (reveal) one or more Battle Cards to increase this number. Players reveal their Battle Cards simultaneously.

Only one copy of a Unique card may be played. The player with the higher battle total wins the Battle. If the Galactica won roll:

1D6	Result:
1-3	Galactica loses 0 Fighters
4-6	Galactica loses 1 Fighter Squad

One opposing Cylon Fleet is destroyed (removed from board). If the Cylons won roll:

1D6	Result:
1-2	Galactica loses 2 Fighter Squads
3-4	Galactica loses 3 Fighter Squads
5-6	Galactica loses 4 Fighter Squads

No opposing Cylon Fleets are destroyed. Discard played cards.

Reinforcement Phase

The Galactica player may discard a Reinforcement card to get back one Fighter Squad. If the Galactica is on a planet and did not fight this turn it may get back one Fighter Squad for free. The Cylon Player may play a Fleet Reinforcement card to gain an additional Fleet.

Place the Fleet on any unoccupied planet space.

Ace Pilots

You may designate two of your mechs as having Ace pilots. Mechs of Ace pilots have a Move rating of +1. Ace Pilots get +1 to Gunnery rolls.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Orders Phase Move Phase Battle Phase

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your units. Units cannot move through other units except for jumping units. The move card has a number.

This is the number of spaces the unit moves. The Unit tables list what type of Move cards each unit can use. Moves are diagonal or orthogonal.

Instead of moving just one unit in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more units forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Battle Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack. The attack card has a number. (CR = 1, MR = 2, LR =

3) This is the range of the attack. Attacks are diagonal or orthogonal.

The enemy unit that is the target of the attack takes damage. To determine damage inflicted consult the Unit Table to get the Damage Rating of the Attacking unit at the indicated range. Roll 1D6. (This is the gunnery Roll) If the Roll is equal to or less than the Damage rating, then that is the Amount of damage inflicted.

If the Roll is greater than the Damage rating, then the damage inflicted is Equal to the Damage Rating. A unit reduced to zero hits is destroyed and is removed from the map. Units cannot attack through other units.

A player may discard a Defense card to completely negate an attack.

Beach Head

Introduction

Solo dice and card game simulating the actions on a small section of the Normandy Beach landings in WWII.

Objective

The game ends when the Allies remove all German Bunkers and Trenches. Removed may mean 'cleared of troops' in the case of Bunkers and trenches or 'Punching through gaps' for Traps, wire, walls, mine-fields, & ditches.

Supplies

Paper, pencils, six sided dice, deck of regular playing cards.

Setup

The Germans start with the following Beach Defenses:

- 20 points of Mines (Anti-tank, Anti-personnel, explosives on Tank Traps)
- 20 points of Tank Traps (Element C, Hedgehogs, fixed stakes, tetrahedra)
- 20 points of Walls (Concrete and natural Sea Wall)
- 20 points of Anti-tank Ditches (Also craters)
- 60 points of Bunkers (Pillboxes, Gun Emplacements)
- 20 points of Barbed Wire
- 20 points of Trenches (Machinegun & Mortar positions, Infantry)

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 18 Phases:

1. Tactical Phase
2. Frogman Phase
3. LCI Phase
4. LCT Phase
5. LCS Fire Phase

6. Gun Tank Phase
7. German Defender Fire Phase
8. German Inland Artillery Fire Phase
9. German Shore Gun Fire Phase
10. German Mine Phase
11. Combat Engineers Phase
12. Flail Tank Phase
13. Petard Attack Phase
14. Bridge Phase
15. Infantry Phase
16. Fire Support Phase
17. Destroyer Naval Support Phase
18. End Phase

Tactical Phase

Fill hand to 7 Cards. You may discard up to 3 cards and draw replacements. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Frogman Phase

Underwater demolition teams. Remove 1D6 points of Tank Traps. 'Tank Traps' were a barrier to landing craft.

Lci Phase

Landing Craft Infantry. 3D6 Infantry Squads are put ashore. Subtract 1 from the roll if there are any tank traps remaining.

Subtract 2 from the roll if any Landing craft were hit last turn. From here on Infantry squads are simply referred to as Infantry.

Lct Phase

Landing Craft Tank. 1D6-3 Hobart Funny Tanks land. Subtract 1 from the roll if there are any tank traps remaining.

Subtract 1 from the roll if any Landing craft were hit last turn. Next roll 1D6 for each tank to see what type it is:

1-2 Sherman Gun Tank (DD: Duplex Drive Swimming Tank)

3-4 Sherman Crab (Flail Tanks)

5 AVRE with SBG (Small Box Girder: 30' Bridge)

6 AVRE with Fascine (For filling in ditches)

AVRE Assault Vehicle Royal Engineers

Lcs Fire Phase

Landing Craft Support. Armed variously with 20mm, 17pdr, 25pdr, 119mm guns, rockets, and mortars. Remove 1D6 points of Bunkers or Walls Subtract

1 from the roll if there are any tank traps remaining.
Subtract 2 from the roll if any Landing craft were hit last turn.

Gun Tank Phase

Remove 1D6-1 points of Bunkers Remove 1D6-1 points of Trenches if all bunkers, walls & ditches removed. Skip this phase if you have no Gun Tanks.

German Defender Fire Phase

This includes attacks made by Machine guns, grenades, mortars, and snipers.

1D6:	Result:
0-1	1D6-2 Infantry Killed
2-6	1D6 Infantry Killed
7	2D6 Infantry Killed
8	2D6+2 Infantry Killed

-1 to roll if half of bunkers destroyed. -2 to roll if all bunkers destroyed. +1 per 12 infantry on the beach rounding down.

German Inland Artillery Fire Phase

High Caliber Weapons firing Indirect or LOS.

1D6:	Result:
0-4	1D6-3 Infantry Killed
5	Tank Hit: A random Tank is destroyed
6	Landing Craft Hit

German Shore Gun Fire Phase

Fire from Trench Mortars and 50mm and 75mm Anti-tank guns in bunkers.

1D6:	Result:
0-4	1D6-3 Infantry Killed
5	Tank Hit: A random Tank is destroyed
6	Landing Craft Hit

Skip this phase if all Bunkers are destroyed.

Fire Support Phase

1D6:	Support type:	Notes:
1-4	Nothing	-
5	Rocket Barrage	Remove 1D6-1 points of Bunkers or Walls
6	Bomber Attack	Remove 1D6-1 points of Bunkers or Walls

Card Use Chart

German Mine Phase

1D6:	Result:
0-4	1D6-3 Infantry Killed
5-6	1 Non-Flail Tank Destroyed

Skip this phase if all Mines are destroyed.

Combat Engineers Phase

Remove 1D6 points of any type of Beach Defense except trenches. Remove 1D6 points of Trenches if all bunkers and walls are removed.

Flail Tank Phase

Remove 1D6 points of mines or barbed wire. Subtract 2 from the roll if there are any tank traps remaining. Skip this phase if you do not have any Crab Tanks.

Petard Attack Phase

290mm Demolition Gun that could hurl a 40 lb bomb 230 yards (80y accurately). Skip this phase if you do not have any AVRE Tanks. Remove 1D6 points of Bunkers or Walls Remove 1D6-1 points of Trenches if all bunkers, walls & ditches removed.

If walls are targeted add 1D6-2 points of Ditches (Cratering).

Bridge Phase

Remove 1D6 points of Anti-Tank Ditches. Skip this phase if you do not have any AVRE Tanks.

Infantry Phase

Remove 1D6 points of Barbed Wire. If all wire removed then remove 1D6-1 points of Bunkers Remove 1D6 points of Trenches if all bunkers and walls removed. +1 to rolls per 12 infantry on the beach rounding down.

End Phase

Max hand size is 3. Discard excess cards.

Type:	Use:
Ace	Medic: Cause target die roll to have a value = 1
Two	Corporal: Cause target die roll to have a value = 2

Queen	Admiral: Repeat Target Phase (Not the Tactics Phase)
King	General: Draw 2 more cards

Scoring

Keep track of Allied Infantry casualties. A lower score is a better one.

Omaha Beach Variant

The Americans get no Funny Tanks. Ignore Anti-Tank Ditches.

PLAYTEST RESULTS (No Cards) by Codexier at ecbattle@bellsouth.net I just played through exactly 1000 games of Beach Head (ok, my Unix Server did, and I just watched it scroll for a few minutes). Here's a few statistics I thought were interesting:

- Fewest Infantry Casualties: 9
- Most Inf. Casualties: 86
- Avg Inf. Casualties: 42
- Most Inf. Alive at the end of the game: 18
- Most Turns it took to win: 23
- Fewest Turns it took to win: 9

(NOTE: My script used the removal of Bunkers and Trenches as the only Victory Condition. It also randomly choose a defense to remove when a choice was given.)

Beastmaster Review

Introduction

Warp Quest is an abstract game system that depicts goal driven scenarios.

Each player controls a collection of Units who are attempting to be the first to reach an objective and bring it back to the start.

The units could be a party of adventuring archeologists hoping to recover a lost artifact, a squadron of bombers attempting to hit a military target and return home, a band of samurai seeking to vanquish marauding bandits or a company of mixed creatures seeking to destroy a piece of evil ornamental jewelry that has the nasty habit of trying to control the minds of all free creatures.

The scenarios that use the Warp Quest engine will hold the details.

Dice & Pieces

- Six and ten sided dice are needed.
- Each player has a pawn to represent his or her group of Units (adventuring party, fleet, etc.) on the board.
- Use a small trinket to represent the Objective.
- There is only one Objective.

The Board

- The board is a single winding path of connected spaces with a Start Space and an End Space. The path should be 30 Spaces long.
- The First Space represents the start.
- Spaces 2-15 represents travel through the first scenario module.
- Spaces 16-29 represents travel through the second scenario module.
- The End Space is the final destination where the Objective is found.

The Decks

- There are 2 decks for each scenario:
- The Module 1 Deck and the Module 2 Deck.

- Each deck has one of each card in its card list.
- There may also be an Aid deck.

The Units

- Each player controls a group of units called a Party. The scenarios will detail the make up of the units in the party, their attributes (Skills, Traits) and starting dispositions.

Turn Sequence

- Players take turns.
- Each turn consists of 3 phases: 1. Move Phase 2. Draw Phase 3. Challenge Phase

Move Phase

- Roll 1D6. Move your pawn that number of spaces towards the end space.
- You automatically stop when you enter the end space.
- If you are the first to land on the end space your party acquires the Objective.
- Once a party has acquired the Objective then all other players may move their parties in either direction on the path.
- The party with the Objective must move towards the start space.
- The first pawn with the Objective to reach the start space wins the game.

Draw Phase

- If you land on an empty space in spaces 2-15 draw a card from the Module 1 deck.

Die	Result
1-4	Go back 1D6 spaces
5-6	Lose 1 Unit (Man, Ship, Hit Point, etc., depending on the Scenario)

If you Win the challenge gain 1 Experience Token. You may spend an Experience Token to let you reroll a Move Roll or a Skill Roll.

Moving Onto An Opponents Pawn

- If you land on an opponent's pawn there will be a fight.

- If you land on an empty space in spaces 16-29 draw a card from the Module 2 deck.
- If you land on an opponent's party do not draw a card.
- If a deck ever runs out, shuffle its discard and draw from it.
- Cards are of 2 types: Challenge cards & Aid cards.
- Place Aid cards in your hand.
- Challenge cards are encounters your party faces immediately in Challenge Phase.

Challenge Phase

Each challenge card lists one or more skills. Your party will have to make a skill check vs each skill listed. (The same skill may be listed twice or more, requiring that many skill checks) A Skill check consists of a Skill roll and Challenge Roll: Roll 1D10. This is the Skill roll.

Add the skill bonuses of your party members to the roll. You may discard Aid cards for further bonuses to the skill roll. Next roll 1D10. This is the Challenge roll.

Some Challenges have a DM (Difficulty Modifier). Add the DM to the Challenge Roll. If the challenge roll is less than or equal to the skill roll you win the Skill check. If the challenge roll is greater than the skill roll you fail the Challenge.

If you win all the Skill Checks, you win the Challenge. The adventure card may say what happens if you win or lose the Challenge. If the card does not give directions, then roll on the following table: If you lose the challenge: Roll 1D6: (Challenge Loss Table)

- The current player rolls on the Skill List Table to determine which skill will decide the confrontation.
- Both players make Skill Rolls. In case of a tie nothing happens.
- The loser rolls on the Challenge Loss Table.
- The winner takes the Artifact from the loser if the loser was in possession of the Artifact.

Bees

Introduction

Players control rival Hives trying to acquire the most honey.

Bees, Boards, Flowers, & Dice

Use a 13 X 13 grid as the board. Each player has a set of 4 counters of a separate color to represent their bees. Have a set of counters of a unique color to represent the flowers.

The flower counters become nectar, and then honey counters. Six sided dice are required.

Object

Be the first player to have 20 honey counters.

Setup

Each player controls one corner square known as their hive. A player stacks all 4 of his Bee counters onto his hive space. Roll high on the eight sided die to determine turn order.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 2 phases:

1. Bloom Phase
2. Move phase

Bloom Phase

Roll 2D6 twice. The first roll is the x-axis coordinate, the second roll is the y-axis coordinate. Place a flower counter on the indicated square.

If the flower blooms on a players bee, that bee gets a nectar counter. Flower counters may be stacked on top of each other.

Move Phase

Roll two six sided dice. Move one of your bees a distance equal to one of the dice rolls. Move one of your bees a distance equal to the other roll.

This can be the same bee, or two different bees. If you roll doubles, you may use each dice roll twice. If one of your bees lands on a flower counter, it is captured: stack the counter onto the bee. It is now called a nectar counter.

When a bee with nectar counter returns to his hive, the nectar counters become honey counters. Keep your captured honey counters in a separate honey pile. A bee may hold any number of nectar counters.

A bee with a nectar counter that lands on a flower gets a pollination bonus: Add a counter to your honey pile. If one of your bees lands on an opponents bee, that bee is stung. A stung bee is moved back to his players hive.

The stinging bee steals all the nectar counters from the stung bee. Bees may only move orthogonally. Your bees cannot move into other players hives.

Bees may 'jump' over other bees. You may stack your bees. Stacked bees may move nectar from one bee to another.

A bee cannot move onto an opponents stack of bees. A bee that lands within 2 spaces of his hive may automatically be moved onto the hive by his controlling player.

Variants

Use a standard chessboard and eight sided dice to get coordinates.

Bellum Astralis

copyright 2005 Tuomo Sipola (tuomosipola at hot-mail dot com)

Space empires against each other and the bug threat.

Goal

The winner is determined after 10 (or any number the players prefer) turns. Who has accumulated the most victory points has won.

Map

Use a paper sheet. Small dots present agricultural worlds, dots and circles industrial worlds and big dots core worlds. Routes are presented with lines between the worlds.

Worlds

Worlds come in three flavors: agricultural, industrial and core. The first two support the latter by producing food and machinery. A world is under an empire's control if there are that empire's troops in the world.

Fleets

Fleets are represented by cardboard chits on the map. List the fleets' ships and troops.

Troops' values

Units have two values: shock and defence. Shock is used for first strike. Fighting is used when defending or raiding an already invaded world.

Bugs

Bug chits represent bug presense and every bug listed unit is worth 1-1 unit. Bugs do not have specific space ships.

Map creation

Draw a world and draw six lines from it. Throw d6 to determine how many worlds are connected to it. These worlds may connect to already known worlds or you can create new worlds, decide in turns if necessary.

Each player selects a world for his empire. Throw with d6 the type of the world 1-3 agricultural, 5,6 industrial, 6 core world.

Pick d6 worlds that will be infested with one bug unit.

Empire creation

Each player receives 6 food units and 6 machinery units. They also have one fleet that compromises of one frigate and one freighter. The freighter and the planet house five 1-1 troops.

Turn

1. Bugs phase
1. Bug reproduction
1. Bug movement
2. Interphase
2. Collect income
2. Determine turn order

3. Player phase (each player at the same time)

3. Production

3. Orders

4. Collect victory points

1. Bug phase

1. Bug reproduction

Every world that is infested adds one bug unit to its strength. Core worlds get two.

1. Bug movement

Each bug colony attacks.

The bugs always hit the weakest possible world. They move to the unoccupied worlds first and then attack players. They first attack agricultural, then industrial, then core worlds. They first attack the world with least connections.

2. Interphase

2. Collect income

Every agricultural world produces one food unit. Every industrial world converts one food unit to one machinery unit.

Each trade route connected to a core world produces food and machinery for each agricultural and industrial world it is connected to.

2. Determine turn order

Each player rolls the dice. The biggest score goes first and then the player to his left etc.

3. Player phase

Each player completes the phase and then all the players move on to the second.

3. Production

For every excess food + machinery the player gets a production point. The player may produce new fleets, ships and units by spending production points.

Cruisers cost two production points. Each cruiser adds one to the movement of a fleet. A cruiser is worth two battle point.

Frigates cost one production point. A frigate is worth one battle point. Note: fleets of only frigates get movement rating of one.

Freighters cost one production point each. They carry the troops to the battlefield. Each freighter houses five troops.

New troop costs shock * defence. So if you want the troop to be good at both first strike and defence you have to pay a lot. Troops are always assigned to a fleet or to a planet.

3. Orders

The player can assign one order each turn.

a) Discover world

Discover a new agricultural world connected to one of yours. Determine the type: 1-3 agr, 5,6 ind, 6 core. On 1 of d6 the world is infected with d6 bug units.

b) Infrastructure

Promote an agricultural world you control to a industrial one or an industrial world to core world.

c) Trade

Create a trade route between two worlds denoted by a colored line (or dotted line) characteristic to each player.

d) Imperial

Gain one victory point.

e) Move fleet

Move a fleet the amount of its movement allowance. The fleet may merge with other fleets or give units away.

f) Attack world

Attack a world. If no fleets are present the world becomes yours if you leave some troops there. If there is a fleet a battle occurs.

Battle

The side who has a bigger battle points + d6 wins the space battle and the loser suffers the amount of that d6 damage. If the attacker won he may attack to the world with his troops. Each troop attacks one at a time and the attacker chooses first which unit attacks. The attacker uses his shock value and the defender his defence value. The higher value + d6 wins and the loser is destroyed.

4. Collect victory points

Each agricultural world: 1 VP Each industrial world: 2 VP Each core world: 5 VP Longest trade route: 2 VP Each cruiser: 1 VP

Benthos

Introduction

7 Major International Companies are developing the Worlds Ocean Resources. Players buy stocks in these companies and control how they grow. Board Game for 2-7 players.

The Companies

Company Name:	Color:	Abbreviation:
Abyssal Shipyards	Black	AS
Benthic Construction	Blue	BC
Oceanic Industries	Red	OI
Nautical Manufacturing	Yellow	NM

Stocks

There are 7 Companies. There are 7 Stock cards for each Company.

Cubes

Each company gets a set of cubes of a different color. A set has 15 cubes.

The Map

The Map is a 10 x 10 Square Grid. The map has 100 spaces. Each square can hold 1 Tile.

The Tile Set

There are 100 Tiles, 1 for each space on the board. There are 30 Land Tiles. There are 10 Tiles for each of the 7 Resource Types:

1. Mineral
2. Petroleum
3. Energy
4. Research
5. Fisheries
6. Shipping
7. Tourism

Money

Use paper play Money, or (poker) chips. The base unit of Money is 1 Billion Dollars. Money not owned by any player is kept in the Bank.

Company Value Track

This is a track going from 0 to 100 in units of Billions. Use 1 cube for each company to keep track of its value on the track.

Victory

At the end of the game, the player with the most Money wins.

Game End

The game ends at the end of the 5th Round.

Company Name:	Color:	Abbreviation:
Deep Sea Development	Orange	DD
Marine Explorations	Green	ME
Naval Productions	White	NP

Company Values

Each company has a value depending on how many spaces it Controls and the type spaces controlled. Controlling 1 Space of a resource is worth 1 Billion. Controlling 2 Spaces of a resource is worth 4 Billion.

Controlling 3 Spaces of a resource is worth 9 Billion. Controlling 4 Spaces of a resource is worth 16 Billion. Controlling 5 Spaces of a resource is worth 25 Billion.

Controlling 6 Spaces of a resource is worth 36 Billion. Controlling 7 Spaces of a resource is worth 49 Billion. Controlling 8 Spaces of a resource is worth 64 Billion.

Controlling 9 Spaces of a resource is worth 81 Billion. Controlling 10 Spaces of a resource is worth 100 Billion.

Setup

Put 1 random Tile onto each space on the board. Separate out 2 Stock cards for each company and Shuffle these together into a mini-deck. Each player gets 2 Random Stocks from the mini-deck.

Each player starts with 10 Billion Dollars.

Round Sequence

Each Company gets a Turn. When every company has had a turn, the Round is over. At the end of a Round, Dividends are paid out for each company.

Dividends

Each player gets paid the value of each stock for each company they own. For example: Company AS has a value = 3; Company BC has a value = 5. You have 1 Stock in AS and 2 Stocks in BC.

You would get paid $3 + 5 + 5 = 13$.

Turn Sequence

Each Company gets a turn. Each Turn has 3 Phases:

1. Bid Phase
2. Operation Phase
3. Value Phase

Bid Phase

1 Stock of the current Company comes up for Auction. Players secretly Bid for the stock. Players reveal their Bids simultaneously.

Highest Bid wins. If there is a tie for the highest Bid (even if its 0), the tied player With the fewest stocks wins the bid. If still tied, The tied player with the least Money wins the Bid. The winner pays his bid to the Bank.

The losers keep their money. The winner takes possession of the Stock card.

Operation Phase

The winner of the Bid operates the Company this turn. The operator gets to do 1 of 2 Actions:

1. Gain control of 1 Space not adjacent to a space already controlled
By the company.

2. Take control of 1 Space adjacent (Bordering a side) to a space
Already controlled by the company. This may be done twice (in a row) to Gain control of a total of 2 spaces. Note that in the first round, only option 1 is available. Show ownership by placing a cube of that company on the target space.

Companies only control Resource spaces. They can never control Land spaces.

The Adjacency Rule

In Operation Phase a player must always choose the second option if it is at all possible.

Value Phase

Recalculate the value of the company and adjust the Company Value Track.

Victory

Destroy the opposing fleet.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

The Ships

Use chits or miniatures to represent Ships.

The Berserker

#	Type	Hits	Speed	Range
1	Berserker	20	2	5

Human Fleet Unit Table

#	Type	Hits	Speed	Range
4	C-Plus Gun Ship	1	2	6
4	Cruiser	2	3	4
8	Ramship	1	4	2

Hits Number of Hits that type of Ship has.
Speed = Type of Move cards the unit can use (Maximum)
Range = Type of Attack cards the unit can use (Maximum)

Setup

Each player places one Ship on each square of his back two rows. Ships may not stack.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Orders Phase Maneuver Phase Fire Phase

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards. Max hand size = 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.
Discard excess cards.

Maneuver Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your Ships. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the Ship moves.
The Unit tables list what type of Move cards each unit can use. Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. Instead of moving just one Ship in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more Ships forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.
Ships cannot move through other ships. A ship can only make one move per turn.

Fire Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a Ship attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.
The Unit tables list what type of Attack cards each unit can use. Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. Every attack does 1 point of damage.
Use Chits or coins to record damage. A ship reduced to zero Hits sinks and removed from the board. Your opponent may play (discard) Defense cards to negate your attack.
Ships cannot attack through other ships except for C-Plus Guns: Their Projectiles skip through Normal and Hyperspace. Cruisers can make up to 2 attacks per turn. The Berserker can make up to 3 attacks per turn.
If a Ramship uses a "Marines" Attack card the Ramship is destroyed. A Marines card does 2 points of damage (1 from the Ram, 1 from the Boarders). A "Robot Security" defense card negates 1 point of damage caused by a Marines card.

Besm Cards

Introduction

Anime Themed card game for 2+ players
BESM Big Eyes Small Mouth

Disclaimer

BESM is a copyrighted property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

Be the first player to capture 200+ Force points worth of Foes

The Decks

Players share 2 common Decks: Foe Deck Friend Deck

Foe Deck

Foes are the evil enemies of the good Characters in the Friend deck Some Foes are described as Minions. When put into play, a minion may be by itself or be attached to another Foe.

Friend Deck

There several types of cards in the Friend Deck:

Card Type	Abbreviation	Notes
Event	E	-
Character	C	Permanent
Companion	O	Permanent - Modifier
Fight	F	Permanent - Modifier
Vehicle	V	Permanent - Modifier
Mech	R	Permanent - Modifier
Magic	M	Permanent - Modifier
Power	P	Permanent - Modifier
Tech	T	Permanent - Modifier
Attribute	A	Permanent - Modifier
Shape	S	Permanent - Modifier
Enhancer	X	Permanent - Modifier for other Modifier cards
Flaw	W	Permanent - Modifier for Opponents permanents
Gun	G	Permanent - Modifier
Sword	Z	Permanent - Modifier
Location	L	Permanent - Modifier

Events

Permanents stay in play. Events produce a temporary or instantaneous effect and are then discarded. Bonuses provided by Events last until the end of the turn.

Setup

Each player draws a hand of 7 cards from the Friend Deck. Mulligan: Discard & Redraw if you got no Characters. Draw the top card from the Foe deck & put it face up in the middle of the table.
The youngest player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Each Turn has 4 Phases:
1. Fate Phase

- 2. Friend Phase
- 3. Fight Phase
- 4. Foe Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 4 cards from the Friend deck & put 2 of them into your hand; Discard the other 2. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it.

Friend Phase

You may put Permanent cards from your hand into play face up in front of you. A Modifier card must be attached to a single Character card. Some Modifiers attach to other Modifier cards or to Foes or to Opponents permanents

Fight Phase

You may form 1 or more of your characters into a Team. A Team may Challenge any 1 Foe in play. This is called a Battle. Compare the Force total of the Team to that of the Foe.

If the Team Force is higher, you capture (defeat) the Foe. Place the Foe into your Capture Pile, it counts towards winning the game. You and your opponents may play Event cards to change the Team or Foe Force Totals.

If the Foe total is higher, the Foe wins and it remains in play. Your characters & attached cards are not discarded, win or lose. All foes have a Requirement: In order to defeat them, you must in addition to overcoming their Force, also do it using a card with the required type.

Foe Phase

Draw the top card from the Foe deck & put it face up in the middle of the table. You may form another team and get another Fight Phase to challenge this Foe. A Character that just fought cannot join another Team in the same Turn.

Important: A Character can only fight in one Battle per Turn. You may continue drawing new Foes & battling until you pass on a fight, or have no Characters left who are able to fight.

Biker Brawl

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Two Rival Biker Gangs Face-off. Each figure represents a single biker.

Victory

Kill the rival gang Leader.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

Units

Use action figures, chits, or miniatures to represent Bikers.

Gangs

Each player has 8 Bikers in his gang. Each gang has 3 types of Bikers: 1 Leader: Has 3 Hit points 2 Veterans: Have 2 Hit points each 5 Gang Members: Have 1 Hit point each

Stuff

Distribute the following Stuff Tokens to your bikers: 4 Motorcycles 4 Bruisers 2 Guns 2 Knives 2 Tool Boxes A single Biker can have 0-3 Tokens. A single Biker cannot have more than 1 token of the same type.

Setup

Each player places one Biker on each square of his back row. Bikers may not stack.

The Cards

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 2 of each card in the card list.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Lady Luck Phase Ride Phase Fight Phase

Card List

Lady Luck Phase

Draw 3 cards from your deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.

Discard excess cards.

Ride Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your units. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the unit moves.

Moves are diagonal or orthogonal. Units may not stack.

Fight Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks are diagonal or orthogonal. The enemy unit that is the target of the attack loses one Hit point. Any unit reduced to 0 Hits is killed and removed from the board.

Shit Kicking & Ass Whooping cards require 2 attackers adjacent to the same Target defender. Knock Heads & Throw Body cards allow a Bruiser to attack 2 targets simultaneously. The Road Rash card can be used by any biker against a target with a Motorcycle token.

Biohazard War

Introduction

Based on the Resident Evil Franchise. Collectible Card Game Style Mechanics. 2 Player Game. One player is the Heroes. The other is the Umbrella Corporation.

Disclaimer

Resident Evil is a licensed copyrighted property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

The Hero Player wins if all the Umbrella Facilities are Destroyed. The Umbrella Player wins if all the Teams are Destroyed.

Removal Vs Discard

When a Facility or Team is destroyed, it is not discarded, it is removed from the game.

The Decks

There are 2 Decks: The Hero Deck The Umbrella Deck

The Hero Deck

The Hero Deck has 3 types of cards: Teams Characters Events Teams and Characters have the following sub-types: Operative, Merc, Survivor

Umbrella Deck

The Umbrella Deck has 2 types of cards: Units Events Traps are a subtype of Event. Unit cards are further divided into the following sub-types: Soldiers Monsters Zombies Vehicles

Event Cards

Event cards and Trap when played take effect immediately and are then discarded. Other types of cards remain in play.

Setup

Decide who is the Heroes and who is the Umbrella Corporation. Players take possession of their respective decks. The Umbrella player starts with all 6 Facility cards in play except for the New Facility.

The Hero searches his deck for 1 Team Card and puts it into play. Players shuffle their decks. Each player draws 2 cards for their starting Hand.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 6 Phases: Draw Phase Event Phase Recruit Phase Assault Phase Search Phase End Phase

Draw Phase

Each player draws 2 cards. If a deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. If the Hero player has no Teams in play, he must search his Deck for a Team, put it in play, and then shuffle his deck.

Event Phase

Certain Event cards are played only in this Phase Players take turns, starting with the Umbrella player.

Recruit Phase

Cards are put into play from the players hand. The Hero player puts Team cards into play. When putting a card into play, place it face up on the table.

The Hero player puts Character cards into play. Character cards must be Attached to Team cards. Place Character cards stacked and slightly staggered under a Team card.

A Team card may have up to 2 Characters attached. A Team may have 3 characters attached if at least one of them is a Survivor. The Umbrella player may play one or more Units.

The Umbrella player may play the New Facility card.

Assault Phase

The Hero player may conduct one Assault: One of his Teams may attack one target Facility. The Hero player commits the Team, its Characters, and any Event cards he wants to Play that will assist an Assault. He adds up the Force values and bonuses of all these cards and adds 2D6.

This is the Assault Force Total (AFT). The Umbrella player commits the targeted Facility, One Unit, one or more Traps and Any events that will assist in defending against the Assault. He adds up the Force values and bonuses of all these cards and adds 2D6.

This is the Facility Defense Total (FDT). If the AFT is equal to or greater than the FDT the base is destroyed and removed from play. If the FDT is greater the Team is destroyed and removed from play.

Any attached characters of a destroyed Team will 50% be discarded or 50% be put Back in the Hero players hand. If the Facility is destroyed all other cards used in its defense are discarded. If the Facility wins, there is a 50% chance the defending unit is still discarded.

Win or lose all Event and Trap cards are discarded.
Spent Rule: An Umbrella unit, even if it wins, has a 50% chance after combat of being discarded.

Search Phase

The Umbrella player may conduct one Search and Destroy Mission: One of his Units may attack one target Team. This is handled just like an Assault. The Umbrella player generates a Search and Destroy Force Total (SDFT).

The Hero player generates a Team Defense Total (TDT). Spent Rule: An Umbrella unit, even if it wins, has a 50% chance after combat of being discarded.

End Phase

Max hand size is 5 cards. Players discard excess cards.

Card Limitations

Some Umbrella Cards can only be used for Defense. Some only for Search and Destroy (S&D). Vehicles can only be used for S&D except if defending the Tanker.

Note that if the New Facility has not yet been played (built) and the Umbrella Player has lost his other six Facilities, he will automatically lose.

Biomechanoids

Introduction

2+ player card game based on the fantasy creations of HR Giger. Players raise armies of Biomechanoids to destroy each other with.

Disclaimer

The works of HR Giger are licensed, trademarked & copyrighted. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

Reduce your opponent to zero hits.

Hits

Each player starts with 20 hits.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Setup

Each player is dealt a hand of 7 cards. The strangest player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn is divided into 6 phases:

1. Regenerate Phase
2. Destiny Phase
3. Attack Phase
4. Birth Phase
5. Metamorphosis Phase
6. Decay Phase

Regenerate Phase

Draw 2 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Remove 1 Weakness token from every card that has 1 or more weakness tokens.

Destiny Phase

Destiny cards are played in this phase by you and your opponent. Destiny cards are discarded at the end of this phase.

Attack Phase

Each of your Biomechanoids may attack once on your turn in this phase. Biomechanoids have an Attack & Defense value. The attacking Biomechanoid does damage to your opponent equal to its attack value.

Your opponent may block a Biomechanoid with one of his own to prevent this damage. A Biomechanoid cannot attack or block if it has a Weakness token. Compare the attack & defense values of the 2 Biomechanoids.

If the attack value of the attacker exceeds the defense value of the blocker, the blocker is destroyed. If the attack value of the blocker exceeds the defense value of the attacker, the attacker is destroyed. Players may play Action cards to alter the attack/defense values of target Biomechanoids.

The effects of Action cards only last till the end of the turn. A Biomechanoid that attacks gets a Weakness token at the end of the phase.

Birth Phase

You may put one Biomechanoid card into play. A Biomechanoid is a creature. Place the card face up in front of you.

The Biomechanoid stays in play until it is destroyed. Some cards allow you to play additional Biomechanoids during this phase. Any time a Biomechanoid's Defense value is reduced to zero or less, it is destroyed.

You may also put one Location card or one Artifact card into play.

Metamorphosis Phase

To a Biomechanoid you just put into play this turn, you may attach Feature cards. Feature cards give a bonus to the attack & defense values of the Biomechanoid. Some Feature cards give penalties.

Your opponent may attach penalty Feature cards to your newly played Biomechanoid this phase.

Decay Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Rahkshi Travel Card List

Play a Travel card on a specific Rahkshi to have it produce the listed effect

Bionicle Name:	Ability:Effect:
All Rahk's	Flyer Mode: Move of Range = 4
Makuta	Mask of Shadows: Range = 2: Take control of target Toa Nuva for 2 turns

Setup

Each player places one Bionicle on each square of his back row. Bionicles may not stack. The Makuta unit does not start the game in play. It enters the board only after all the 6 Rahk units have been defeated. Place the Makuta on any empty corner space.

1. Fate Phase
2. Move Phase
3. Attack Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 3 cards. Max hand size = 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Discard excess cards.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your Bionicles. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the Bionicle moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. Instead of moving just one Bionicle in any direction, you have the option of moving up to 2 Bionicles the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Attack Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a Bionicle attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. Your opponent may play Defense cards to negate your attacks.

Damage

Every time a Bionicle is hit, it loses one Hit. Indicate Damage with tokens. If a Bionicle is reduced to zero Hits it is destroyed.

Birthright Conquest

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Set in the AD&D Birthright Campaign Setting. One player controls the Armies of Good.

The other player controls the Armies of Evil.

Disclaimer

Birthright is a copyrighted product. This is merely a fansite.

Victory

Destroy all your opponents. To destroy an opponent, you must: Reduce your opponents Realm deck to zero cards. Then eliminate all his Realms in play.

The Decks

There are 3 decks: The Good Deck The Evil Deck The Common (Action) Deck The Good & Evil Decks are collectively referred to as Realm Decks. Players keep 2 Hands: The Realm Hand kept Face up on the Table The Action Hand held in the players hand

Card Types

Card types in the Realm Decks include: Lords (Regents) Realms (Countries) Armies Card types in the Common Deck include: Spells Events Blood Abilities

Setup

Each player draws 5 Action cards. Each player draws 4 Realm cards. The Evil player goes first.

Each player starts with 5 Gold.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 Phases: Alliance Phase Planning Phase Realm Phase Recruit Phase Event Phase Attack Phase

Alliance Phase

Draw 1 Realm card or Fill your Realm Hand to 4 cards. Pay 3 Gold to draw an extra card. Maximum Realm hand is 4 cards.

Put your choice of excess cards on the bottom of your Realm deck.

Planning Phase

Draw 2 cards from the Common deck. Pay 2 Gold to draw an extra card. Maximum Action hand size is 7 cards.

Discard your choice of excess cards. If the Common deck runs out shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Realm Phase

Each of your Realms in Play generates 1 Gold. Use coins to represent Gold. Gold can be saved from turn to turn.

Recruit Phase

You may put exactly one Realm (Country) card from your hand into play. You may put Lords and Armies into play. Lords & Armies have a Gold cost = to their Force to put into play.

Army cards must be attached to a Lord. Attached Armies are referred to as Allies. A Lord is free if you already have his Realm in play.

Event Phase

Certain Action cards can be played in this Phase. You must have a Priest, Wizard, or Awnsheghlein in play to play a Spell card.

Attack Phase

You may attack with none, some, or all of your Lords. If unblocked your opponent must discard 3 Realm cards from the top of his deck. If the opponent has no cards left in his Realm deck, discard one of his Realms in play.

The Defending Player may Block attacks. For a given attack the defender may choose one of his Lords to block it. A Lord that attacked last turn cannot be used to block.

Each Lord has a base Force value. This Force value is modified by Attached Armies and Action cards. Compare the Modified Forces of the Attacking & Blocking Lord.

The Lord with the Higher Modified Force Wins the Battle. The Lower Force Lord and all attached cards are discarded. The winning Lord must discard one attached Army (if it has any) at end of turn.

The Defender wins ties.

Bloodtheft

Every time a Lord defeats an enemy Lord in Battle, he gets a +1 Force Blood Token.

Blade

Introduction

Solo Card game based on the Blade Movies/Comics. Blade is a Daywalker Vampire Slayer.

Disclaimer

Blade is a copyrighted, licensed product. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

You win if at the beginning of Foe Phase all Foe cards in the game are in the Foe discard pile. You lose if Blade is reduced to zero or less Blood Points.

Blood Points & Damage Markers

Use glass beads to keep track of Blood Points and Damage.

The Decks

There are 2 Decks: Aid Deck Foe Deck

Foes

Foes have 2 Ratings: Attack and Defense Most Foes are Vampires. Non-Vampires are unaffected by UV, Sunlight and Vampire Mace and take 1 less damage from Silver Attacks.

Setup

Shuffle the decks. Blade Starts with 20 Blood Points. Draw 5 Aid Cards.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 9 phases:

1. Aid Phase
2. Info Phase
3. Help Phase
4. Foe Phase
5. Strike Phase
6. Attack Phase
7. Escape Phase
8. Heal Phase
9. End Phase

Aid Phase

Draw 1 card from the Aid Deck and put it in your hand. Discard 1 (non-strike) Draw card in this phase to draw additional cards.

Info Phase

Play a Look card to look at the next 7 cards in the Foe Deck. You may choose to leave them in that order or shuffle the Foe Deck. After this draw 1 card from the Aid Deck.

Help Phase

Put Companion cards from your hand into play. You may use a Companion once per turn like a Strike card or a Block card. When you use a Companion card flip a coin, if it is heads the Companion remains in play, if tails, discard it.

Foe Phase

Draw 1 card from the Foe deck and place it face up in play. If it is a Location card, discard any Location card already in play.

Strike Phase

Play (discard) 1 or more Strike Cards (SC) to attack Foes. Each Strike card has a Damage Rating (DR). Put a number of Damage Markers (DM) on to a target Foe card equal to the DR of the SC played.

Some SC have the Ranged or Area Affect Trait. Ranged Strikes do Damage to 2 Target Foes. Area Affect Strikes do Damage to 3 Target Foes.

If a Foe card has DM on it equal to or greater than its Defense rating it is destroyed (discarded). Note some strike cards when played allow you to Immediately draw an extra Aid card.

Attack Phase

Each Foe in play does Damage to Blade equal to its Attack Rating. For each point of damage done, Blade loses one Blood Point (BP). You may discard a Block Card to negate the damage inflicted by One target Vampire.

Escape Phase

You may play a Move card to discard the current Location card and Shuffle any Foe cards in play back into the Foe deck.

Heal Phase

Blade automatically regains 1 lost BP. If there are no Foes in play, you may discard 1 Heal Card to regain additional lost BP. Foes with the Regeneration Trait remove Damage Markers Equal to the level of their Regeneration Trait.

End Phase

Max hand size is 5 cards. Discard excess cards. If there are no Foe cards in play, discard any Location card that is in play.

Holden	Hand Size +1
Gaff	At beginning of his Action Phase, Gaff may look at 1 players hand or the next 5 cards in the deck, for free in addition to his regular Special Action play.

Winning

The first player to complete 3 Assignments is the winner. (The character may then retire or get promoted.)

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The Deck has 7 Types of Cards.

Setup

Each player picks a Blade Runner. Shuffle the deck. Most genetically altered player goes first. Play proceeds clockwise.

Turn Sequence

- Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases:
1. Search Phase — Draw 2 Cards.
 2. Action Phase — You may Play 1 card for its Special Ability.
 3. Assignment Phase — Complete an Assignment: Discard at least 1 of each card type.
 4. Debriefing Phase — Max hand size is 8 cards. Discard excess cards.

Assignment Requirements

Threat Rule: An Assignment Play must contain 1 or 2 Combat cards with a combined rank value that is equal to or greater than that of the rank value of the Replicant. Search Rule: The Combined ranks of the Investigation and Test cards played must be equal to or greater than 10. Travel Rule: The Ranks of the Location and Travel cards must be within 2 of each other.

- Soliloquy Rule: On completing an assignment a player must spout one of the following...
1. A line or quote from the movie.
 2. Some trivial fact about the making of the movie.
 3. Some fact about how the movie versions differ from each other.

- 4. Some fact or insight about Philip K Dick, Riddley Scott, or Harrison Ford.
 - 5. Some thoughts about AI, robotics, genetic engineering, cloning, bioethics, or space travel
 - 6. Some thoughts on other books by Philip K Dick.
- If unwilling or incapable of performing the Soliloquy Rule, the player must draw 1 less card on his next turn.

Blitz

Introduction

Card game. Simulates the Battle of Britain. July-September 1940

Cards

Players will have to make their own sets of cards. The RAF and Luftwaffe have their own unique decks. The Germans also need 20 tokens to represent bomb damage.

On the Deck lists, # = number of that card in the deck. Both decks have 62 cards. Notice that most cards have a force value.

Card sets are included at the bottom of the page.

Set Up

Shuffle both decks. The RAF player draws 4 cards. The Luftwaffe player draws 4 cards.

Turn Sequence

Draw Phase Raid Phase Bombing Phase Discard Phase

Draw Phase

Both players draw 2 cards from their respective decks.

Raid Phase

The German player may decide not to attack. If so, the turn ends. If he attacks the German and British players take turns playing cards face up from their hands. The German goes first. His first card in a raid must be a bomber.

This continues until both players have no more cards they want to play. Each player can use only one force multiplier card per raid (Night Raid, Radar. . .) The German player adds up the force value of all of his cards and multiplies by 2 if a Night Raid card is used. This number is the Total Luftwaffe Force Value.

All cards used in the Attack are discarded. The British player adds up the force value of all of his cards and multiplies by 2 if an Early warning radar card is used. This number is the Total British Force Value.

All cards used in the Defense are discarded. The higher force total is the winner.

Bombing Phase

If the RAF had a higher force total in raid phase then skip this phase. Notice that German bombers have a bomb value in addition to a force value. If the Luftwaffe had a higher force total, then bomb damage is dealt to the British player equal to the total bomb value of all bombers in the attack.

The British player may play barrage balloons in this phase to negate 1 dive bomber per balloon. The British player may play repair cards in this phase to negate 1 point of bomb damage per repair card.

Discard Phase

If a player has more than 8 cards he must discard the excess. Players may also discard any cards they don't want.

Luftwaffe Victory

If the Germans accumulate 20 points of bombing damage then they win. Hitler decides to go ahead with operation Sealion.

British Victory

If the German player goes to draw a card and there are no cards left in his deck the British win. Hitler postpones operation Sealion indefinitely.

Bombing Berlin: Optional Rule

Churchill orders the bombing of Berlin. In retaliation Hitler targets cities instead of airfields and radar installations. On turns 1-14 bomb damage is double.

On turns 15+ bomb damage is half. Do not round up or down. Keep track of 0.5 bomb damage. (repairs and balloons are unaffected)

Counter Set

The following card sets were created by Janne Thörne: <jan.thorne@mail.bip.net> The sets contain only one of each card type. Janne has also made sets for Cannonade & Midway.

Game Designers Notes

Similar design to Zulu Spears. The Brits are defending in both games. I guess, deep down, I must be an anglophile.

Bloodwars Ccg

Objective

Rules for common Deck play. One of the first CCGs out there, it was quickly forgotten, but the art and background material is good stuff. A common deck adds more variety to the game and reduces the abuses of the power cards.

Common Deck Construction

Take all the cards and shuffle them together in a common deck. Only one of each unique card in the deck. Consider all warlord, artifact, and battlefield cards to be unique.

Add other cards in numbers to suit your tastes. Players keep their own discard and dead book piles.

Gameplay

No further modifications to the rules.

Blown Away

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. 18th Century Naval Combat Abstract skirmish level Ship combat. Each figure represents a single Ship (unit).

Victory

You win if you Sink the opposing Flagship.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

The Ships

Use chits or miniatures to represent Ships. Each Player has 4 types of Ships.

Fleet Unit Table

#	Type	Hits
1	Flagship	4
2	Ship of the Line	3
2	Frigate	2
3	Sloop	1

Number of that type of Ship you start the game with.

Hits Number of Hits that type of Ship has.

Setup

Each player places one Ship on each square of his back row. Ships may not stack.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Orders Phase
2. Maneuver Phase

3. Fire Phase

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards. Max hand size = 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Discard excess cards.

Maneuver Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your Ships. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the Ship moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. Instead of moving just one Ship in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more Ships forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Fire Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a Ship attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. Every attack does 1 point of damage. Use Chits or coins to record damage.

A ship reduced to zero Hits sinks and removed from the board. Your opponent may play (discard) Defense cards to negate your attack.

Card List Notation

- M Movement
- A Attack
- D Defense
- X Special
- K As a Knight would move in chess
- Type Purpose of card
- Dam Damage (inflicted or prevented)
- # Number of that card in the Deck.

Blue Vs Gray Combined Arms

Introduction

Board game for 2 players. American Civil War theme. No dice or cards. Each unit represents a regiment.

Victory

Occupy all Forts or destroy the enemy General.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

Unit Master List

Unit Name:	Move	Range	Defense	Max/Min
General	4	1	4	1/1
Cavalry	4	1	4	6/2
Infantry	2	1	5	-/6

Unit Special Abilities

All friendly units adjacent to the General get Defense +1 Infantry do 2 damage vs Cavalry Artillery do 2 damage vs Infantry Cavalry do 2 damage vs Artillery Mortars do 2 damage vs Units in Forts

Army Creation

Each player designs an army before play starts. An army is composed of 16 units. The Master List gives the maximum & minimum numbers for each unit type

Setup

Each player places one unit on each square of his back three rows. Units may not stack. Players take turns placing their units.

Determine who goes first in a non-random manner.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 2 phases:

1. Move Phase
2. Attack Phase

Move Phase

You can move some, none, or all of your units in move phase. Units can move orthogonally or diagonally. Units can move up to a number of spaces equal to their Move Trait.

Units cannot move through other units.

Units

Use chits or miniatures to represent units. There are 7 distinct unit types.

Unit Attributes

Each unit has 3 Attributes or Traits: *Move: the number of spaces the unit can move per turn. *Range: the maximum number of spaces distant the unit can apply damage. *Defense: the amount of damage the unit can take at one time before having to retreat.

Some units have additional special abilities.

Unit Name:	Move	Range	Defense	Max/Min
Riflemen	2	2	4	4/-
Artillery	1	3	3	4/-
Mortar	1	2	3	2/-

Attack Phase

Each of your units can attack one target enemy unit in Fire Phase. Different units may attack different targets. Each unit has a Range Trait (number of spaces out it can attack into) A unit can only attack a target that is within its range.

Units with ranges 2+ can attack over other units. An attack does 1 point of damage. As soon as a unit takes damage in a turn equal to its Defense Trait, it must retreat.

(Combined Arms: you must concentrate force & combine attacks) A retreating unit must move laterally or back towards its side of the board 1 space. A retreating unit unable to move is destroyed and is removed from the board. Units that retreat off the board are destroyed.

A unit cannot move laterally if it will come in contact with an enemy unit.

Double Whammy Rule

If you can force a unit to retreat a second time in the same phase, it is automatically destroyed.

Optional Rules

Terrain

Distribute Hills & Forts. Units occupying Hills have a Defense bonus of +1. Units occupying Forts have a Defense bonus of +2.

Elite Units

Each player may make 2 of his units Elite. Elite units get +1 to Defense & always do 2 Damage instead of 1.

Experienced Units

A unit that helps destroy 5 enemy units becomes Elite.

Reinforcements

Every third turn each player gets one additional non-general unit. Reinforcement Units start on a player's back row.

Campaign

Use a Larger map with bigger armies. Use all the other optional rules.

Boer War

Introduction

2 player card game. Simulation of the Boer War 1899-1902. One player is the British Empire.

The other player is the Transvaal & Free Orange State Boers.

Victory

Reduce your opponent to zero Blood Tokens.

Blood Tokens

Each player starts the game with 20 Blood Tokens.

The Decks

Each player has their own unique deck. Each deck contains 2 copies of each card in their respective card list. Each deck has 40 cards.

There are 2 card types:

T Troops

S Strategies

Each card has a Force value of 1 to 10.

Turn Sequence

Each turn is divided into 4 phases:

1. Logistics Phase
2. Strategy Phase
3. Battle Phase
4. End Phase

Logistics Phase

Each player fills their hand to 9 cards. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Strategy Phase

Each player may discard 1 card to activate its special ability. (Refer to card list for Special Abilities) The player with the fewest Blood points goes first. If tied, the Boer player decides who goes first.

Cards played in this turn are referred to as Event Cards.

Boer Card List

Battle Phase

Each player determines the total force value of their hand for the categories of Strategy and Troops. Up to 4 Troop cards may be played, and 4 Strategy cards. Duplicate cards may not be played.

The player with the higher score in a category wins it. The loser in a Category loses 1 Blood Token. If the loser's score is less than half the winners he loses an additional Blood Token.

In event of a Tie both players lose 1 BT. If a player wins both categories his opponent loses an additional Blood Token. Discard all played cards at the end of the phase.

End Phase

Players must discard down to 2 or less cards.

Course Of The War

The war had 3 stages:

1. The first stage saw major Boer successes vs Inept British Leadership.

The Boer player gets to draw an extra card for the first 5 hands of the game.

2. The second stage saw the British occupy the capitals of the Boers.

No one has an advantage in the second stage.

3. The third stage saw Boer Guerilla Warfare outdone by British Total Warfare.

The might of the British Empire allows them to draw an extra card every Turn starting with the eleventh turn.

Book Hunters Of Bookholm

Introduction

Questing card and dice game for 1-2+ players. Based on the novel "The City of Dreaming Books".

Disclaimer

The City of Dreaming Books is a copyrighted property. This is merely a fan site.

Background

The vast network of catacombs beneath Bookholm are filled with priceless Literary treasures. There is great danger as well; deadly traps and fearsome Creatures. And the worst foes of all, your fellow bookhunters!

Victory

Set a time for play. . . 1 to 2 hours. At the end of this time, the player with the most Pyra (actual and in the Form of unsold books) is the Winner. Note: In the book, many bookhunters are motivated by things other Than getting rich, namely murder. They are a motley group of psychopaths and Killers. Some could be rich many times over and retire, but they continue to Prowl the catacombs in search of others of their kind they can victimize without Being punished for their crimes. These, the players will encounter as Foes.

Currency

The unit of Currency in Bookholm is the Pyra, a form of paper money.

Terminology: Levels

This is a ubiquitous term. There are Skill levels, Depth levels, Creature levels, Foe levels, Trap levels, and Difficulty levels.

Depth Levels

The Catacombs descend down 10 levels:

Level	Notes:
0	Surface: Buying Equipment and Selling Books; Accelerated Healing
1	Cellars
2	Civilized (Traps here are Level +2)
3	Required to find Class 3 Books
4	Unholm (Creatures here are Level +2)
5	Land of the Dead (No Foes Here)
6	Required to find Class 4 Books
7	Ancient
8	Wild (Dead Ends here are at Level +2)
9	Shadowkeep
10	Giant Lands

Bookhunter Creation

- This requires several Steps:
1. Determine Race: Roll once on the Race Table
 2. Determine Skills: Draw 10 Cards from the Skill Deck
 3. Starting Equipment: Draw 5 cards from the Equipment Deck.
 4. Name your Bookhunter (and draw a picture)

2. Slay (Killing Creatures)
3. Disarm (Avoiding Traps)
4. Explore (Getting past Difficult Terrain)
5. Book Lore (Finding and Identifying valuable Books)
6. Evade (Avoiding Foes and Creatures)
7. Social (Selling Books and Avoiding Duels)
8. Stamina (Capacity to withstand wounds and injury)

Skills And Skill Levels

- There are 8 Skill Types:
1. Duel (Killing opposing Bookhunters or intelligent Foes)

Starting Skill Levels

A bookhunter starts with zero level in all skills except Stamina. Stamina starts at level 10.

Setup

Players start at the Surface (Depth = 0). Players roll high on 1D10 to determine who goes first. Play proceeds clockwise.

The Surface

There are no encounters at the Surface. Because of the availability of good food, drink, medical care, sanitation, and Accommodations at the surface, players heal 2 extra stamina per turn while there. While at the surface players can buy equipment and sell books.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 phases:

1. Surface Activities Phase
2. Movement Phase
3. Encounter Phase
4. Resolution Phase
5. End Phase

Surface Activities Phase

Skip this phase if you are not at the Surface. You may take 1 action:

1. You may pay 100 Pyra to draw 1 equipment card.
2. You may sell 1 Book.

When selling a book you get +10% to its value for each level of Social Skill you have.

Movement Phase

If you are at the surface you may immediately descend to Depth Level 1. If you are at any other depth you may attempt to ascend or descend 1 Depth Level. To do this you must succeed at a Movement Challenge.

To do a Movement Challenge roll 1D10 and add your Explore Skill level. If your adjusted roll is 7+ you succeed.

Encounter Phase

If you are at the surface skip this phase, otherwise roll once on the Encounter Table.

Encounter Table

1D6	Encounter:	Notes:
1	Trap	Draw 1 card from the Trap Deck
2	Foe	Draw 1 card from the Foe Deck
3	Creature	Draw 1 card from the Creature Deck
4	Book	-
5+	Dead End	Draw 1 card from the Dead End Deck

Resolution Phase

Resolve the current Encounter according to its type.

Book Limit

You can carry a max of 4 books with you. You can carry 1 extra book for each piece of equipment you don't carry.

End Phase

You can have a max of 8 pieces of equipment. Discard excess equipment and Books. Heal 1 Lost Stamina.

There is a 50% chance one random piece of Equipment of yours breaks or is lost.

Trap Encounter Resolution Rules

Draw 1 card from the Trap Deck Roll 1D10 and add your Disarm Skill Level. Subtract the Trap Level. Success 7+ No Penalty.

Fail on 6 or less. Penalty for failure is determined by the card. Collapse Traps have a 50% chance of sending the player down 1 Depth Level.

Foe Encounter Resolution Rules

Draw 1 Card from the Foe Deck. You may attempt to Evade the Foe 50% of the time. Roll 1D10 and add Evade Skill Level.

On a roll of 10+ you successfully evade the Foe. If evasion does not work you may next attempt to Parley with the Foe. Roll 1D10 and add your Social Skill Level.

Success on 9+. The Foe leaves you alone. Get +1 to roll for every Book and equipment you give Foe as Bribe. If foe cannot be parleyed, he must be fought: Roll 1D10 and add your Duel Skill Level.

Subtract the Foe Level. On a modified roll of 9+ you suffer no damage and defeat Foe. On 6-8 you win but lose 1D6 Stamina.

On 5 or less you suffer 2D6 Damage. If you win a Duel roll 1D6 on the Loot Table:

Multiplayer Interactions

If you occupy the same Depth as another player and you roll the Foe encounter, there is a 50% you will encounter a (random) opponent's Bookhunter. If one or both of you wants to fight, there will be a battle: Both roll 1D10 and add their Duel Skill Levels. The higher roll wins. If tied both lose. The winner suffers 1D6 Damage. The loser suffers 2D6 Damage.

If a player is killed. The other player gets his books and equipment. If neither player wants to fight, you may freely trade books and equipment. At the Surface, bookhunters may never fight, but may always trade with each other.

Player Death

If you are killed, use your next turn to roll up a new Bookhunter. The new Bookhunter inherits all the Pyras of the deceased, but not Any equipment or books he was carrying when he died. The new Bookhunter starts on the Surface.

Lair Rules

You may establish one hidden lair in the Catacombs. To do this, it must be during a turn in which you successfully resolved a Dead End Encounter. You may store unlimited Books and equipment in your lair.

Whenever you are at the depth level at which your lair is, you may, instead of rolling for an Encounter, pick up or drop off items freely in end phase. While in your Lair you heal 1 extra lost Stamina in End Phase.

Solo Play

The rules as they are should work very well for solo play

Optional Race Abilities, Bonuses, And Penalties

Troglotrolls heal quickly. They heal 1 extra Damage in End Phase. Their reduced intellectual capacity gives them Lore -2. They are natural cave dwellers so get Explore +1.

Wolpertings are fast. This gives them Evade +1. Their vicious, carnivorous Nature gives them Social -1.

Bluddum have tough hides. They always take 1 less damage from every die of damage rolled against them. They are not terribly coordinated so get Explore -1.

Hogglings are full of energy. At the end of their turn, there is a 1 in 6 chance they Will immediately get to take another turn. Because of their lack of subtlety they get Lore -1.

Ugglies are well versed in Divination. Once on their turn, they may look at the next 5 cards in any deck. This also gives them an extra Evade +1. Because of their hideousness they get Social -2.

Vulphheads are memory masters with a good sense of smell. This gives them any extra Lore +1 and Evade +1. These Fox folk are smallish compared to many other races so have a Stamina -2.

Lindworms are studious and very long lived so get an extra Lore +1. When in danger they produce an unpleasant smell that gives them Evade -1. These scaly dinosaurs get an extra Stamina +1 but their pacifist ways give them Duel -1.

Norselanders are vegans adverse to violence so get Duel -1 and Slay -1. They are big, So get Stamina +1 and the ability to carry 2 extra pieces of equipment.

Nocturnomaths are scientifically orientated so get Disarm +1. They are also Telepathic so get an extra Social +1. They are very frail so suffer Stamina -2.

Alpine Imps are mountain dwellers so get an extra Explore +1. They are adept at Hiding so get Evade +1. They are small so get Stamina -2.

Demi Dwarfs are at home in subterranean locales so get an extra Explore +1. They are natural craftsmen so get Disarm +1. Their short stature results in a Stamina -2

Shadowkeep Rules

If you roll a 6 on the Encounter table while on Depth Level 9 you will find Shadowkeep Castle. Roll once on the Shadowkeep Castle Table:

Shadowkeep Castle Table

1D10	Result:
1	Attacked by the Shadowking for 2D6 Damage
2	Attacked by Animatomes for 1D6 Damage
3	Locked Out: Nothing Happens
4	Trapped in Castle: Miss Next Turn
5	Draw 1 Valuable Book Card (Ignore Collections: Redraw till you get a Book)
6	Waylaid by Weeping Spirits: Miss Next Turn
7	Transported to the Land of the Giants (Depth Level 10)
8	Read Orhm Books: Miss Next Turn
9	Led Astray: Return to the Wilds (Depth Level 8)
10	Shadowking befriends you: Miss Next Turn and Gain Lore +2

Land Of The Giants

Rules for Depth Level 10. Treat Foe Encounters as a Giant Encounter: The Giant has a Creature Level = 10. If you fight it and lose, he feeds you to his monstrous pets he keeps in Giant glass jars (Automatic Death)

Fearsome Booklings

When you encounter the Fearsome Booklings, you may attempt to befriend them: Roll 1D10 and add your Social Skill Level. Success on 8+. If Successful they take you to their home in the Leather Grotto (Depth Level 6) where you miss your next turn, but gain Lore +1 and heal 2 extra points of Damage.

Colophonius Regenschein

If you successfully parley with Colophonius, he will become your friend. The next times you meet him he will either give you 1 Lesser Book, 1 Equipment or guide you up or down 1 Depth Level, your choice.

Boom Town

Introduction

Players are rival Business Bosses in an old west boomtown. Hire Gunslingers to do your Dirty Work. The first player to acquire $100 becomes the new Mayor.

Deck, Dice & Dollars

Six sided dice are needed. Use change to keep track of money. Players share a common deck.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Each player is dealt a hand of 5 cards. Roll high on 1D6 to determine turn order.

Object

Be the first player to collect $100.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 9 Phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Collection Phase
3. Recruit Phase
4. Claim Phase
5. Dirty Deeds Phase
6. Holdup Phase
7. Showdown Phase
8. Posse Phase
9. Discard Phase

Draw Phase

All players fill their hands to 5 cards. If the deck runs out, reshuffle the discard and draw from it.

Collection Phase

Collect revenue from each Establishment in play you control. Revenue generated is per that listed on the card.

Recruit Phase

Place one Gunslinger card into play face up. Gunslingers remain in play until killed.

Claim Phase

Place one Establishment card into play from your hand.

Dirty Deeds Phase

Play one Dirty Deed card. Resolve the effects as written on the card. If you play the range war card you may keep playing showdown phases this turn until you capture an establishment, or you run out of gunslingers.

Holdup Phase

Assign a holdup card to one of your Bad gunslingers. Any opponent may try to stop the holdup with one of his Good gunslingers. Both players may play up to 1 Guts, 1 Gang, and 1 Gun card each simultaneously.

Each player rolls 3D6. A player may reroll one die or add one to the total for each Shootout card played, the player with the lower total first. The gunslinger with the higher total wins.

The other gunslinger is discarded. Discard all shootout cards. If there is a tie neither gunslinger is killed.

If the bad gunslinger wins he gets the amount of money on the holdup card. The holdup card is discarded.

Showdown Phase

If you did not play a holdup card last phase, you may lay claim to an opponents establishment with one of your bad or ugly gunslingers. Your opponent may intervene with one of his good or ugly gunslingers. Both players may play up to 1 Guts, 1 Gang, and 1 Gun card each simultaneously.

Each player rolls 3D6. A player may reroll one die or add one to the total for each Shootout card played, the player with the lower total first. The gunslinger with the higher total wins.

The other gunslinger is discarded. Discard all shootout cards. The winner gets to keep the establishment card.

If there is a tie both gunslingers are killed and the defender keeps the Establishment.

Posse Phase

If you did not play a holdup card or lay claim this turn, you may assign a posse card to one of your good gunslingers. Your gunslinger may attack a target opponent's bad gunslinger. Both players may play up to 1 Guts, 1 Gang, and 1 Gun card each simultaneously.

Each player rolls 3D6. A player may reroll one die or add one to the total for each Shootout card played, the player with the lower total first. The gunslinger with the higher total wins.

The other gunslinger is discarded. Discard all shootout cards. If there is a tie both gunslingers are killed.

If the good gunslinger wins he gets the reward money on the posse card. The posse card is discarded.

Discard Phase

Discard one or more cards from your hand.

Booster

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Theme: Exploration and Development of the Solar System

Objective

Be the first player to accumulate 10 or more Victory Points. For a long game make it 15 or 20.

Victory Tokens

Players share a common set of Victory Tokens. Each Victory Token is worth 1 Victory Point.

The Deck

Players share a Common Deck The Deck has 5 cards types: Crew, Propulsion, Destination, Transport, and Payload. Each type has 10 cards for a deck total of 50 cards.

Melds

A meld is a hand containing 1 of each of the 5 card types. The term Mission can substitute for Meld.

Setup

Shuffle the Deck. Each player is dealt a hand of 5 cards. The most scientifically literate player goes first.

Turn Sequence

- Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:
1. Prep Phase
 2. Mission Phase
 3. Eject Phase

Crew Cards

Name:	Range:
Astronauts	Near
Cosmonauts	Near
Robots	Mid
Cyborg	Mid
Replicants	Mid

Prep Phase

Fill your hand to 7 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Mission Phase

You may make 1 Meld. Score VP for the Meld.

Eject Phase

You must discard either 1 or 2 cards.

Meld Requirements

Your Destination card will determine if the mission range is Near, Midrange, or Far. Your Crew and Propulsion cards must match or exceed the mission range. Your Payload card will determine if the Mission cargo requirement is Light, Medium, or Heavy.

Your Transport card must equal or exceed the Mission cargo requirement. Other interactions include the Resource availability of: Solar, Moons, Atmosphere, and Ore. Certain Payloads require the Destination has the indicated Resource.

All requirements must be met for a Meld to be legal.

Meld Scoring

A Meld will score VP according to its Range and Cargo requirements:

VP	Range	Cargo
1	Near	Light
2	Mid	Med
3	Far	Heavy

For instance: A Mission that is Far (3) and Light (1) will score a total of 4 VP. When a Meld is scored, discard all the Meld cards and take Victory Tokens equal to The number of VP scored.

Borderkeep

Introduction

Multiplayer card game or Solo rules. Each player controls a small town in a fantasy setting. Every turn players build structures and hire heroes to defend their town.

Some cards are used to send monsters and disasters to destroy your opponent's towns.

The Deck

The deck has 75 cards. These will have to be constructed before play is possible.

Setup

Six sided dice (D6) are needed. Roll high on 1D6 to determine turn order. Players start with a hand of 7 cards.

Each player starts with 30 gold. Each player starts with 1 guard token. Each player's town starts with a castle with 4 walls, and an income = 3 gold.

Gold can be used to substitute for any other commodity on a one to one basis.

Object

Have the most defenders and structures at the end of the game. Each defender and structure is worth 1 victory point. The game ends when the last card is drawn from the deck.

In a multiplayer game, the game ends if all but one player's town is destroyed.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Upkeep Phase
3. Production Phase
4. Build Phase
5. Attack Phase
6. Heal Phase

The Golden Rule

In all situations, Gold can be used to substitute for any other commodity on a one to one basis. For example: You may have to pay an upkeep of 1 magic. You can substitute 1 gold instead.

Draw Phase

Draw one card. Max hand size = 7. Discard excess cards.

Pay 7 magic to draw an extra card. If you bought the card discard it if it is a disaster or attack card.

Upkeep Phase

All defenders have an upkeep = 1 food or weapon. Heroes have an additional upkeep of 1 magic. Some buildings have an upkeep in their card description.

If the upkeep is not paid the card is discarded.

Revenue Phase

Collect revenue from all structures and defenders that produce revenue. Revenue comes in different forms: Gold, food, magic, etc. Keep track of each form of revenue.

Build Phase

Put structures and defenders into play by paying their cost. Defenders must be paid for in food and/or weapons. Magical defenders can also be paid for with magic.

Structures must be paid for in wood or stone. Magical structures can also be paid for with magic. Artifacts must be paid for in magic.

Attack Phase

Players cannot play attack cards until turn 3. Attack cards include Disasters & Monsters. Play one Attack card on the opponent to your left.

If you have more than one attack card, you may play the additional card on the next player, and so on. Resolve disasters according to the card text. Resolution of battles with monsters may take several segments.

The monster and all defenders attack once during the segment. Attack order is determined by each card's initiative. Initiative = 10 attacks before Init = 9, and so on.

All cards of the same initiative level attack simultaneously. An attacking card rolls a number of six sided dice equal to its Attack Dice (AD). Each roll of 1 causes the other side to lose 1 hit.

The attacker decides where hits are inflicted. Each card has a number of hits. If this hit total is reduced to 0 the unit is destroyed.

The monster will keep attacking until destroyed. If the monster destroys all the defenders, the monster is discarded and the defender must discard 1D6 structures. If there are no structures left, then castle walls are destroyed.

If all a player's castle walls are destroyed, the player is eliminated. Some units have Spells. Roll on the spell table at the beginning of each segment to see what spell the unit can cast.

Summoned minions are destroyed. Destroyed guard tokens are returned to play for free.

Heal Phase

All surviving defenders recover all lost hits. Walls may be rebuilt for 3 stone or wood each. Defender & Structure cards destroyed this turn may be put back in your hand for 2 magic each.

The Guard Token

Each player starts the game with one. The guard is a non-hero defender. The guard has initiative = 2, Attack Dice = 2, and Hits = 2.

The guard has no upkeep.

Bourgeoisie

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Theme: Social Advancement in 17th Century France. By means of purchase of ennobling offices players advance their Bourgeoisie Families into the Aristocracy.

Victory

The player with the most Prestige Points at the end of the game wins. The game ends when a turn ends and there are no cards left in the deck.

Families

Each player builds up 1 Family at a time. Once a Family has been ennobled and has an income of 30+ silver per turn from investments, it is retired and the player must start a new family.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are 6 card types: Families, Trade, Bonds, Land, Offices, and Events. The Land, Bond, and Office types are collectively called Investments.

Markers

There are 4 different types of Common Markers: Silver Coins (100 Livres) Gold Coins (1,000 Livres) Upgrade Markers Opportunity Tokens

Dice

Six and Ten sided Dice are needed.

The Opportunity Track

This has a place for the Deck and 10 cards to be laid out: Discard | 01 | 02 | 03 | 04 | 05 | 06 | 07 | 08 | 09 | 10 | Deck A cards position on the track is the cost in Opportunity Tokens to take it.

Setup

Shuffle the Deck. Each player starts with 1 random Family card in play. Lay out 10 cards randomly to each of the 10 spaces on the Opportunity Track.

Each player starts with 1D10 Silver.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn is divided into 9 Phases: Family Phase Revenue Phase Fate Phase Opportunity Phase Capital Phase Conversion Phase Investment Phase Noblement Phase End Phase

Family Phase

If you have no Family card in play you may put one in play from your hand at no cost. You may not put a Trade card or any investment card into play if you don't have a family card in play. You may have a max of 1 non-retired Family card in play at a time. You may put a Trade card in play for Gold equal to its value.

A Family may have a max of 1 Profession card in play at a time. Cards in play are placed face up in front of you.

Revenue Phase

Gain Silver equal to the combined value of every card you have in play for your most current family.

Fate Phase

Gain 1D6 Opportunity Tokens (OT). OT can be saved from turn to turn.

Opportunity Phase

You may buy cards on the Opportunity Track using your OT. Place these cards into your hand. A cards position on the track is the cost in OT to take it.

Some Event cards are resolved as soon as you buy them.

Capital Phase

You may discard one or more cards from your hand. Gain Silver equal to the value of the discarded cards.

Conversion Phase

Convert Silver to Gold. Every 10 Silver converts into 1 Gold. Keep the Change.

Investment Phase

If you have a Trade card in play with your current family, you may buy Land and/or Bond cards from your hand. These cost Gold equal to their value. A family may have multiple Land and Bond cards in play.

If your current family has at least one Land in play, you may buy an Office card for Gold equal to its value.

A Family may not have more Office cards in play than land cards.

Noblement Phase

If your current family has at least 1 office and is making 30+ Silver per turn, it may retire. If it is making 50+ Silver per turn, you must retire it, even if it has no office. Set the retired Family aside in its own stack.

When retiring, you must discard all your Gold. Next turn you may start a new family.

End Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards. If there is a card in the #1 spot on the Opportunity track discard it. Next slide all the remaining cards down from 10 to 1 filling in all empty spaces on the Track. Flip over cards from the deck to fill in a vacated #10 spot. Continue until all 10 Spaces are full.

Boxer Rebellion

Introduction

Historical War game for 4 players. Hex-map, unit counters, dice, random deployment of common enemy, race for victory conditions.

Players

Each player takes control of one of the 4 foreign armies: The British (Including Indian troops) The Russians The Japanese The Americans (Including German & Italian troops)

Background

For a historical synopsis of the Boxer Rebellion please visit this Website

The Map

Use a large hex map (25 x 25 minimum). The map is of Peking, the capital of China. There are 4 terrain types:

1. Rural
2. City (Including buildings and roads)
3. Imperial Palace (Forbidden City, home of the Dowager Empress)
4. Legation (Embassy) neighborhood (Where all the Diplomats and Foreign Nationals live)

There are also walls: Walls border hexes. Walls must be breached in order for units to pass. The city is surrounded by walls. 4 hexes in the center of the city are the Imperial Palace.

They are surrounded by walls. A wall (The Tartar Wall) divides the city into North & South sides. Next to the Forbidden city on the North side of the Tartar Wall is the 4 adjacent hexes of the legation.

The Legation is partially surrounded by walls. Each Foreign army must travel at least 10 hexes to get to the Legation neighborhood. The hexes outside the city are rural.

Counters

Each counter represents 500 men or a battery of 10 cannons.

Setup

Each foreign army starts along the border hexes on a different side of the map. The British start on the North Side. The Russians start on the West Side.

The Japanese start on the East Side. The Americans start on the South Side. The Russians get the first turn.

The Forbidden city is occupied by Ching Imperial Army units.

Victory

When all 4 Legation hexes are occupied by Foreign army units, the game is over. The foreign nationals are rescued. If one player occupies all 4 hexes, it is a total victory for that player.

If different players occupy different legation hexes, it is a shared victory.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 phases:

1. Rally Phase
2. Artillery Phase
3. Breach Phase
4. Rebel Phase
5. Action Phase

Rally Phase

Roll once for each of your suppressed units:

1D10	Result:
1-4	Remove all Suppression counters
5-7	Remove one Suppression counter
8-9	Unit pinned. Remove no counters
10	Rout: Unit retreats 1 hex if possible. Remove no counters

Artillery Phase

Each Artillery unit can attack one Chinese unit up to 3 hexes away. Roll 1D10:

1D10	Result:
1-5	Target Unit destroyed
6	Artillery unit out of Ammo for rest of game.
7-8	Target Unit Suppressed
9-10+	Target Unit unaffected

Add +1 to the roll if attacking Ching units. No modification if attacking Boxer units. Add +1 to the roll if attacking a unit 2 hexes away. Add +2 to the roll if attacking a unit 3 hexes away.

No modification if attacking adjacent units. Add +1 to the roll if attacking a unit behind a wall. Suppressed artillery cannot attack.

Artillery cannot attack unscouted hexes.

Breach Phase

Units can attempt to breach a wall (one hex face of wall). Roll 1D10:

1D10	Result:
1-5	Wall unaffected.
6-10	Wall Breached.

Add +2 to roll if the unit is artillery. Place a Breach marker next to the breached wall. Suppressed units may not attempt to breach.

Rebel Phase

Roll once for every Chinese unit that you want to activate:

1D10	Result
1-3	The unit is activated
4-10	The unit does not act this turn.

1D10	Result:
1-2	Unit fails to move. (Lack of communication, confusion, snipers, skirmishes)
3-7	Unit can move one space
8-10+	Unit can move 2 spaces.

Artillery units get -1 to the roll. (Heavy, difficult to move in cities) Japanese Troops get -1 to the roll. (They are too busy killing Chinese to move) Americans get +1 to the roll. (They have a tendency to rush in) Suppressed units cannot move. A unit gets -1 to its roll if it tries to move past an opposing foreign (shooting each other in the back) or chinese unit. Units may not enter hexes containing 'Impassable Area' counters.

If a unit tries to enter a hex occupied by a Ching or Boxer unit it must stop and fight it (See Combat rules). A unit cannot move after fighting. After a unit moves it scouts all adjacent hexes (See Scout rules) A unit can only move into a hex that has been scouted.

Units cannot move through an unbreached wall. Reserve Rule: An adjacent suppressed unit and a 'healthy unit' of the active player may automatically trade places. This counts as their moves for the turn.

If the activated unit has a suppression marker, its action will be to remove it. An activated unit can freely be moved one hex, or it can attack: A Chinese artillery unit will fire at the closest foreign unit of the active players choice up to 2 hexes away. A Boxer or Ching army unit will attack an adjacent foreign unit of the active players choice.

See the combat rules if the Chinese are made to attack.

Scout Rule

Every time a foreign unit moves you must scout the surrounding adjacent unscouted hexes. All city hexes start the game as unscouted (Unknown, unexplored) Once a hex is scouted, it remains scouted for the rest of the game. To scout, draw one random counter from the Rebellion Draw Pile and place it in the hex being scouted.

The Rebellion Draw Pile contains the counter types listed in the Chinese Counter List. When a Chinese unit is destroyed, it is set aside in a discard pile. If the draw pile ever runs out, draw from the discard pile.

Action Phase

Artillery units that attacked or breached cannot move this turn. No units may stack. Only one unit per space. In order to move a Foreign unit must roll 1D10:

Combat Rules

If an army unit tries to enter the same space as a Ching or Boxer unit roll 1D10:

1D10	Result:
1-5	The Chinese army is destroyed
6-8	The Chinese army is suppressed
9-10	The Chinese army is unaffected

Add +1 to the roll if attacking a Ching Unit. Add -1 to the roll for each suppression marker on the Chinese unit. Next roll 1D10 again:

1D10	Result:
1-7	The Foreign army is unaffected
8-10	The Foreign army is suppressed
11+	The Foreign army is destroyed

Add +1 to the roll for each suppression marker on the Foreign unit. Add +1 to the roll if attacking a Ching

Artillery Unit. If the Foreign unit is unaffected and the Chinese unit is destroyed the foreign unit may enter the hex.

If a unit becomes Suppressed, put a Suppression marker under it. Foreign armies never directly attack each other.

Chinese Counter List

Counter Name:	#	Counter Color:(Notes)

British Sudan

Introduction

2 player card game around the Mahdist uprising in the Sudan 1885-1898. One player is the Anglo-Egyptians. The other player is the Mhadists.

Decks

There are two unique decks, one for each player.

Regions

There are five region cards:

1. Egypt
2. Northern (Military) Sudan
3. Southern Sudan (Omdurman, Khartoum, the Ghezira, the White and Blue Niles)
4. Western Sudan (Kordofan and Darfur),
5. Eastern Sudan (the Atbara river, Abyssinian frontier, and Red Sea Littoral)

Victory

A player automatically wins if he ever controls all 5 regions at the same time. The player who controls the most regions at the end of turn 9 is the winner.

Setup

The British player is in control of Egypt. Neither player controls the other 4 regions. Players use tokens to mark which regions they control.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 5 phases:

1. Logistics Phase
2. Relief Phase
3. Deploy Phase
4. Travel Phase
5. Conflict Phase

Logistics Phase

Each player fills their hand to 7 cards from their own deck. If the deck runs out shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Conflict Table

Relief Phase

You may discard up to 4 cards and draw replacements.

Deploy Phase

Players roll high on 1D6 to see who deploys last. Players take unit cards from their hands and place them onto the regions face down. You must deploy like units with like units if possible.

When both players have deployed the cards are revealed. The British may only Deploy to Egypt and North. The Dervishes may deploy to all regions except Egypt.

Travel Phase

Players roll high on 1D6 to see who moves last. Players may move 1D6 Unit cards from one adjacent region to another. The British player may move additional Unit cards if he plays a Movement card.

Boats & Cavalry may move automatically for free. Boats may never be in West. North is adjacent to South and Egypt.

South is adjacent to North, East, and West.

Unit Limits

A Region may have only one Leader. A Region may have only one Flag.

Conflict Phase

Resolve conflicts for all 5 regions in turn. Players add up the force total of all their units in a region. If the Mahdists have Shock, Cavalry, Artillery, and Rifle units in the same region they get a force bonus of +5.

If the British have Infantry, Cavalry, Artillery, and Maxim units in the same region they get a force bonus of +5. Players may then play cards from their hands to increase their force totals. A player may play only one Tactics card.

If the player controls the region he may not play an Attack Tactics card. If the player does not control the region he may not play a Defense Tactics card. The player with the highest Force total has the Advantage.

Roll on the Conflict Table:

1D6 Result:

1-2 The side with the Advantage loses one unit. Roll again

3-5 The side without the Advantage loses one unit. Roll again

6 The side with the Advantage gains control of the region. Stop rolling.

If you roll a 6 the conflict in that region is over for the turn. Units stay in play from turn to turn. Destroyed units are discarded.

Tactics cards remain in effect until the conflict in the region is over. Tactics cards are discarded at the end of the conflict in that region.

Three Players

One player is the Mycenaean Kingdoms One player is the Hittite Empire One player is the Egyptian Empire

Game End

The game ends when any player goes to zero in any Attribute. The player who went to zero gets -2 to their Culture Attribute.

Victory

The player with the most Culture points at the end of the game is the winner.

Attributes

- Each player has 5 Attributes:
1. Vitality
 2. Stability

3. Cities
4. Population
5. Culture

Attribute Scores

Each player starts with 5 Points in each Attribute. Scores will change during play. Use paper and pencil to keep track.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Setup

Shuffle the Deck. The player who went to zero in the last game goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. On your turn draw 3 cards from the top of the deck. Assign 1 card to each of the 3 Players.

Players record the changes to the score of affected Attributes. Discard all the assigned cards. Check for end game conditions.

Buccaneers

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Boarding Action between two Pirate ships. Abstract skirmish level combat.

Each figure represents a single man (unit).

Victory

You win if you kill the opposing Captain.

Unit Stat Table

#	Type:	Hits	Rank
1	Captain	3	Officer
2	Officer	2	Officer
4	Bullyboy	2	Crew

Number of that type of man you start the game with.

Hits Number of Hits that type of unit has.

Setup

Each player places one unit on each square of his back two rows. Units may not stack.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

- Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:
1. Luck Phase
 2. Move Phase
 3. Fight Phase

Luck Phase

Draw 3 cards. Max hand size = 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your men. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the man moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. "Knight" type move cards allow a man to move like a knight in chess. Instead of moving just one man in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more men forward

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

The Men

Use chits or miniatures to represent men. There are 5 types of men: Captains, First Mates, Bullyboys, Sailors, and Sharpshoots.

#	Type:	Hits	Rank
8	Sailor	1	Crew
1	Sharpshot	1	Crew

the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Fight Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a man attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. "Knight" type attack cards produce an attack with a range like a knight in chess. Captains may make 2 attacks per turn (using two different cards) Only the Sharpshot may use the Musket card.

Officers may only use Officer Attack cards. Crew may only use Crew Attack cards. Each attack does one point of damage.

Use Chits or coins to record damage. A man reduced to 0 Hits is killed and removed from the board. Your opponent may play Defense cards to negate your attack.

Card List Notation

- M Movement
- A Attack
- D Defense
- X Special card
- C Crew
- O Officer
- S Sharpshot
- E Either Crew or Officer
- K as a Knight would move in Chess
- Type Purpose of card

Buck Rogers

Introduction

Welcome to the World of the 25th Century. Help Buck defeat the Han Empire! Card game for 2 players.

Disclaimer

Buck Rogers is a trademarked, copyrighted property. This is merely a fan site.

The Decks

One player gets the Org Deck. The other player gets the Han Deck.

Victory

The first player to win 5 hands is the winner.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 5 phases: Arrival Phase Reinforcement Phase Adventure Phase Cliffhanger Phase Narrator Phase

Arrival Phase

Each player fills their hand to 7 cards. If your deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Reinforcements Phase

Players may discard up to 4 cards and draw replacements.

Adventure Phase

Players simultaneously reveal none, some, or all of their cards. Cards not revealed are held for next turn. Hero & Villain cards are unique.

You can only reveal one card of an individual. For example: You may have two Wilma Deering cards in your hand, but you can only reveal one. Skill cards must be attached to a Hero or Villain, if you don't have a Villain or hero you can't play any skill cards. Any number of Skill cards may be attached to a Hero or Villain.

Weapon cards must be attached to a Hero or Villain or Ally card. A Hero or Villain or Ally may only attach one Weapon card. Vehicle cards must be attached to a Hero or Villain.

A Hero or Villain may only attach one Vehicle card. Equipment cards must be attached to a Hero or Villain card. A Hero or Villain may attach any number of Equipment cards.

A player may reveal only one Plot card. The Org player may reveal Flaw cards if there is an appropriate revealed target.

Cliffhanger Phase

Each player adds up the Force values of their cards. The player with the higher total wins the hand. Keep track of wins.

Narrator Phase

The winner of the phase makes an improvisational narrative of this turn (Episode) using some or all of the cards played as a basis.

Buckaroo Banzai

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. One player is Team Banzai. The other player is the Red Lectroids.

Disclaimer

Buckaroo Banzai is a licensed, trademarked, copyrighted product. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

The first player to win 8 hands is the winner, or A player wins the game if he wins 3 hands in a row. If Team Banzai wins they destroy Dr Lizardo (Mind controlled by John Whorfin in the 8th dimension) (In Lectroid 'John' is equivalent to: Mr., Miss, Mrs., Sir, Don. . .) (Thereby preventing the Black Lectroids from destroying the Earth) (Why take chances when you can destroy the whole thing?) If the Red Lectroids win they get the Oscillation Overthruster. (Allowing them access to the 8th dimension where they can rescue their exiled comrades and then go on to invade Planet 10, the Lectroid Homeworld)

The Decks

Each player has a Unique deck.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 6 phases: Resources Phase Mission Phase Deploy Phase Action Phase Conflict Phase Regroup Phase

Resources Phase

Each player draws cards from their deck to fill their hand to 8 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard, and draw from it.

Mission Phase

Each player may discard up to 4 cards & draw replacement cards.

Deploy Phase

Players reveal a meld from their hand. A meld consists of:

1. Any number of character cards.

Note: Some Characters are unique. You may play only one card of that character. For example: You can only play one Buckaroo Banzai card.

2. A number of Transport cards equal to or less than the number of Character cards played.
3. A number of Weapon cards equal to or less than the number of Character cards played.
4. Exactly one Location card.
5. Any number of Event cards.
6. Any number of Object cards.
7. Any number of Communications cards.

Note: Meld cards are considered to be "in play."

Action Phase

Most cards are capable of producing effects called actions. Take turns resolving Actions. Flip a coin to see who gets to take the first action.

If a card lets you draw additional cards, you may add them to your meld.

Conflict Phase

Each card is worth a number of Action Points. Add up the Action points of all the cards in your meld. The player with the highest Action point Total Wins the Hand.

The winner takes one card from the opponents meld or discard & removes it from play.

Regroup Phase

Discard all Meld cards. You may discard (or keep) any cards from your hand.

Card Notation

Number of copies of that card in the deck.

Bug Hunt

by Patrick Bunch

Bug Hunt

Start

Two Units assault on board to any one White box. Each turn, the same box OR a different White box may be chosen as the assault point. A max of 2 new units may assault on-board per turn.

Turn Order Each unit/bug in a box make all rolls at the same time, but units in different boxes roll separately.

- 1) Surprise roll: 1-2 = Bug Ambush! Unit's make Defense roll first.
- 2) Pack size: 1-3=1 bug, 4-5=2 bugs, 6=3 bugs (Blue box +1, Red box +2)
- 3) Attack roll: #=1 Bug killed, # +2=2 Bug kills (Blue box -1, Red box -1)
+1 if Units attacking into Box from 2 or more directions.
- 4) Defense roll: Unit #=Break, <Unit #=Hit (Red box -1, White box +1) Break) Unit must retreat 1 box, must win Surprise roll to reenter box next turn.
Hit) Unit removed from the board.

Movement: Units move 1 box per turn, max of 2 units per box. Must clear a Box of Bugs before moving to next one.

Units

	Attack	Defense

Bug Out

Introduction

Board game for 2 players. Bug Theme strategy game.

Winning

You win the game if you accumulate 7 points. The winner is said to be "All Bugged Out" If no one can move because all bugs are marked, the player with the most points wins.

The Bugs

Bug Name:	Abr	Move:
Bee	B	Moves exactly one space diagonally
Ant	A	Moves exactly one space orthogonally
Ladybug	L	Moves exactly two spaces diagonally
Grass Hopper	G	Moves like a Knight in Chess
Beetle	T	Moves exactly two spaces orthogonally
Spider	S	Moves exactly three spaces diagonally
Dragon Fly	D	Moves exactly three spaces orthogonally

Abr Abbreviation

B	A	L	G	T	S	D	B
D	-	-	-	-	-	-	A
S	-	-	-	-	-	-	L
T	-	-	-	-	-	-	G
G	-	-	-	-	-	-	T

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. On you turn, move one un-marked bug Place one of your control marker beads on the Bug you moved If you line up 3 of your control markers in a row you score one point. (Orthogonal only, not diagonally) Use coins to record points.

Getting 3 in a row is referred to as a "Bug Out" Remove control markers from all 3 bugs involved in a Bug Out.

The Board

Use a regular chessboard of 8 x 8 = 64 spaces.

The Pieces

Each player has a set of glass beads of a unique color. Glass beads are used as control markers. Players share a common set of Bug Counters.

Bug Counters are flat & should have a picture of a Bug on them. There are 7 types of Bugs. There 4 of each type of counter.

A complete set has 28 Bug Counters.

Setup

Place one Bug Counter on each of the 28 edge squares of the Board. Diagrammatically, Bugs are placed thus:

L	-	-	-	-	-	-	S
A	-	-	-	-	-	-	D
B	D	S	T	G	L	A	B

Movement

Pieces can jump over (crawl over) each other.

Sting Rule

If you catch an Enemy Bug between 2 Bugs you control, remove The control marker from the Bug in the middle (You got stung!) (Orthogonal only, not diagonally)

Variant

For a harder game get 4 in a row.

Bujutso

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Oriental Martial Arts Theme. Abstract skirmish level combat.
Man to Man fighting.

Victory

You win if you kill your opponents Leader.

The Map

Use a 8X8 chessboard.

The Men

Use chits or miniatures to represent men There are 3 types of Men: Leaders, Bodyguards, and Followers. Each player starts with: 1 Leader 2 Bodyguards 5 Followers

Setup

Each player places 1 man on each square of his back row. Men may not stack.

Japanese Warrior Bands

Each Player picks one type of Warrior Band. There are 4 types of Bands: Samurai Ninja Monks Bushi

The Cards

Each player has a unique deck. There is a unique deck for each type of Warrior Band.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Orders Phase
2. Move Phase
3. Fight Phase

Samurai Card List

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards from your deck. If your deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your men. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the man moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. "Knight" type move cards allow a man to move like a knight in chess. Instead of moving just one unit in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more units forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Leaders & Bodyguards can make up to two moves per turn.

Fight Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a Man attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be either diagonal or orthogonal. "Knight" type attack cards have a range like a knight in chess. The enemy man that is the target of the attack takes one point of damage.

Use chits to keep track of damage. Followers can take one hit before being killed. Bodyguards can take two hits before being killed.

Leaders can take three hits before being killed. Killed men are removed from the map. Your opponent may play a defense card to negate your attack.

Leaders & Bodyguards can make up to two attacks per turn.

Bunker Hill

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Simulation of the Battle of Bunker Hill on June 17, 1775 War of the American Revolution 2100 Attacking British Troops vs 1600 Defending American Militia

Victory

Victory conditions are complex and are described as part of the Turn Sequence. Possibilities include:

- British Strategic Victory (II)
- British Total Victory (IV)
- American Minor Moral Victory (I)
- American Moral Victory (II)
- American Major Moral Victory (III)
- American Strategic Victory (III)
- American Total Victory (IV)

The Deck

Each player has his own unique deck:

1. British Deck
2. American Deck

Card Types

There are several card types: Leader, Troops, Shoot, Fort, Blunder, and Strategy Blunder cards represent mistakes made by one's enemies. Strategy cards represent alternate history possibilities. Every card has a Force value from 1 to 4

Turn Sequence

Start with Bombardment Phase. . .

Phase Rules

Each phase involves the following steps: Each player draws 7 cards from their deck. Players may then discard up to 3 cards & draw replacements. If a deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it.

Players may then reveal their Hands. The American Player may have:

- 1 Leader card
- 1 Troop card
- 1 Shoot card
- 1 Fort card
- 1 Blunder card
- 1 Strategy card

The British Player may have:

- 1 Leader card
- 1 Troop card
- 1 Shoot card

- 1 Attack card
- 1 Blunder card
- 1 Strategy card Extra cards are discarded. Each player adds up the total Force of all his Cards. The player with the higher total wins. The American Player wins all Ties.

Bombardment Phase

The American adds 5 to his force total. The British player cannot play Attack Cards but may play Any number of Shoot cards. If the American player wins go on to the First Attack Phase.

If the British win, they get a Strategic Victory and the game ends. (Historically: The British Bombarded the redoubt on Breeds Hill from Batteries on Copps Hill, Morton's Hill, and from Warships in the Harbor. The American Militia were at first terrified, but the Bombardment Proved to be ineffective.)

First Attack Phase

The American adds 3 to his force total. If the American player wins, they get a Minor Moral Victory, and go on to the Second Attack Phase. If the British win, they get a Strategic Victory and go on to the British Victory Phase.

(Historically: A British Light Infantry Column made a Flanking March along the shoreline of the Mystic River while the Regulars and Grenadiers made a Frontal Assault against the stone & rail fence; all attacks were repulsed.)

Second Attack Phase

The American adds 1 to his force total. If the American player wins, they get a Moral Victory, and go on to the Third Attack Phase. If the British win, they get a Strategic Victory and go on to the British Victory Phase.

(A Historically: a second attack primarily against the Fence was also repulsed.)

Third Attack Phase

If the American player wins, they get a Major Moral Victory and go on to the Decision Phase. If the British win, they get a Strategic Victory and go on to the British Victory Phase. (A Historically: The Americans ran out of Gun Powder, and the exhausted British were finally able to capture the Redoubt on Breeds Hill. The British did not pursue past the narrows. The Americans retreated across the narrows and did not counterattack.)

British Victory Phase

The British add 3 if they won First Attack Phase. The British add 1 if they won Second Attack Phase. If the British wins by 4 or more go to Pursuit Phase.

If the American player wins by 4 or more go on to the Counter Attack Phase. If neither player wins (Both stop fighting) the game ends.

Pursuit Phase

This phase represents the possibility of the British Pursuing the retreating American Forces. The British add 3 if they won First Attack Phase. The British add 1 if they won Second Attack Phase.

If the British win by 4 or more they achieve a Total Victory and the game ends. Any other result, the Americans are able to retreat and the game ends.

Counter Attack Phase

This phase represents the possibility of the American Forces attacking the British after Either being driven from the redoubt or after having repulsed 3 or more attacks. If the Americans win by 4 or more they (attack and) get a Total Victory and the game ends. Any other result, the game ends.

Extra Attack Phase

This phase represents the possibility of the British making additional attacks after failing the third. If the American player wins go back to the Decision Phase. If the British win, they get a Strategic Victory and go on to the British Victory Phase.

American Victory Phase

If the American player wins go to the Counter Attack Phase. If the British win, the Americans do not counter attack and the game ends.

Butlerian Jihad

Introduction

Two Player Card Game. Theme: The Butlerian Jihad in the Dune Universe as described by the Prequel Trilogy. After a Thousand year standoff, the War between the Free Human League of Nobles Worlds and the Intelligent Machine controlled Synchronized Worlds escalates.

One player is the Humans. The other player is the Machines.

Disclaimer

Dune is a copyrighted, licensed product. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

If you control all 6 Empire Tokens you win.

Empire Tokens

Each player starts the game with 3 Empire Tokens

Dice

Six sided dice are needed.

The Decks

Each player has their own unique deck: The Machine Deck and the Human Deck. Each deck has 6 Suites. Each card has a Force Value and a special Ability.

Some special abilities require their ability to be activated, other abilities automatically take effect when the card is recruited or as a Free action discarded from the hand or in-play.

Human Deck

The six suites are: Leaders, Morale, Worlds, Fleet, Ground, Special

Machine Deck

The six suites are: Omnius, Cymeks, Worlds, Fleet, Ground, Special Note that some Cymek cards are Titans.

Setup

Decide who is the Machines and who is the Humans. Each player starts the game with 3 Empire Tokens. Players shuffle their decks.

Rounds & Turns

The term Round is used for the whole sequence of phases to avoid confusion with the turns players take within Battle Phase.

Round Sequence

Each round has 6 Phases.

1. Initiative Phase
2. Fate Phase
3. Strategy Phase
4. Battle Phase
5. Resolution Phase
6. End Phase

Initiative Phase

Players roll high on 1D6. High roll is the Attacker. Low roll is the Defender.

Reroll Ties.

Fate Phase

Each player draws 5 cards from the top of his deck. If a deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Strategy Phase

Each player may discard up to 2 cards and draw replacements.

Battle Phase

Players take turns starting with the attacker. On your turn you can either:

1. Recruit: Put a card into play
2. Activate: Use the Activation Ability of a card in play if it has one.
3. Pass

When you put a card into play, place it face up in front of you. If both players Pass, one after the other, the Phase ends. Once you Pass, you must continue to pass, unless your opponent causes one of your in-play cards to be discarded or eliminated.

Recruit Limits (Important): Normally you can only recruit during the Round a max of one card from each of the six suites. Some cards as their special ability allow you to recruit more than 1 card of a particular suite. Note: A card can only be activated once per round.

Resolution Phase

Add up the modified Force values of all your cards in-play. The player with the highest level wins. If tied, players roll high on 1D6 to determine winner.

The winner takes an Empire Token from the loser. The winner causes one target in-play card of his opponent to be discarded. Note that if a Titan is discarded in this way, it is Eliminated (removed from play).

End Phase

Each player can allow up to 9 of their in-play cards to remain in play. Excess cards must be discarded. Max hand size is 3 cards. Discard excess cards

Card Notation

DESTROY = Cause one target card of specific type to be discarded

PREDICT = Look at next 1+1D6 cards in either Deck

ADJUNCT = This card does not count against your In-Play Card Limit

OPTIONS = Your hand size Max is +1

ACQUIRE X = Draw X cards from the top of your deck and put them in your hand

BOOST +X = Your Cards of indicated Suite get +X to their Force

BOON +X = This card gets +X per other card of the indicated suite type in play or a single bonus if no suite is indicated

MITIGATE -X = Opposing Cards of indicated Suite are worth this much less Force each

IMMUNE = Card cannot be destroyed by the action of another card

SUMMON = Search your Deck for Specific card and put it in your hand
PROTECT = Negate the Destruction of a card in play (of the indicated suite) by the action of another card on a roll of 4+ on 1D6

FACILITATE = Play an extra card of the indicated Type this Turn

RETRIEVE = Take any 1 card from your discard and put it in your hand

DEFENDERS = Effect takes place only if you are the Defending Player

ATTACKERS = Effect takes place only if you are the Attacking Player

DAMAGE = Opponent must discard 2 random cards from his hand

ACT Activate = Ability requiring the use of an action in Battle Phase action in Battle Phase.

SPY Look at Opponents Hand

CA Constant Ability = The card provides a continuous Benefit as long as it is in-play

FD Forced Discard = This card must be discarded in End Phase

Cabal

Introduction

Card & Dice game for 2+ players Each Player controls a Cabal of Mages. Source Material... "Mage: The Ascension" RPG by White Wolf.

Disclaimer

Mage The Ascension is a copyrighted property of White Wolf. This is merely a Fan site.

Victory

- To win you must complete the following:
1. One or more of your Mages must ascend to the 10th Level (Oracle).
 2. You must establish a Chantry (control one or more Nodes).
 3. All Foes in your Territory must be at level 5 or less.

Stuff

10 & 6 sided dice are needed to play. There are 4 Common Decks: Mage, Spell, Attribute, and Foe Decks.

Foe Table

1D10	Foe Type:
1.	Technomancers
2.	Inquisition
3.	Vampires
4.	Werewolves
5.	Mages

1D10	Foe Type:
6.	Marauders
7.	Wraiths
8.	Umbral Denizens
9.	Nephandi
10.	Fey

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 phases: Antagonist Phase Quintessence Phase Incursion Phase Attack Phase Raid Phase Research Phase

+1	If any of your Mages are level 3+
+1	If any of your Mages are level 6+
+1	If any of your Mages are level 9+
+1	If your Cabal has 8+ Mages

Incursion Phase

Roll for a random Foe on the Foe Table. That foe gains 1D6 Foe points.

A player keeps two hands of cards simultaneously: a Foe Hand and a Spell Hand.

Tokens (Markers) are needed to keep track of: Wounds, Experience, Talismans, Transformations, and Conversions. Paper & Pencil to keep track of Foes & Foe Levels.

Nodes

Nodes are represented by a separate set of generic "Node cards". All nodes are considered to have similar properties. Note that you do not start with a Node in play but you must control one to win.

Nodes are discovered (put into play) in Research Phase.

Setup

Roll high on 1D10 to see who goes first. Each player starts with a cabal of 4 Mages. Draw 4 mages from the Mage Deck. Each starting Mage is at level 1. Put a +1 skill Token on each Mage.

Each cabal occupies its own territory. A territory will also be occupied by Foes. Roll 1D6 for each of the ten types of foes to get their Foe Level:

Antagonist Phase

Draw one card from the Foe Deck. Max Foe hand size = 10 cards. Discard excess cards.

Quintessence Phase

Fill your spell hand to its maximum size. Spell hand Max size = 4 with the following modifiers:

+1	If any of your Mages are level 3+
+1	If your Cabal has 12+ Mages
+1	For each Node you control
-1	If any of your Mages is experiencing 'Quiet'.

Attack Phase

If any Foe has 11+ Foe points, and gained Foe points this turn, then that Foe will attack your Cabal.

The Attacking Foe will have a Force = to its Level +1D10. Any other player may play matching Foe cards to increase the Foe Force Total by +1D6 per card played.

For a Foe card to match it must be of the same type as the attacking foe. For example: The Technomancers are attacking. Your opponent may play a Men in Black Foe card if he has one, because MIB are Technomancers. The Cabal has a Force = to the combined Skill level of all its non-neutralized Mages divided by 5 rounding up +1D10.

The Cabal player must play a Detect Spell card. If a Detect card is not played, the Foe gets an extra +1D10 Force for surprise. The Cabal player may play Attack Spell cards to increase the Cabals Force Total by +1D6 per card played.

Instead of Fighting, the Mages may flee combat by playing a Transport Spell. Compare the Force totals of the Cabal and the Foes. The side with the higher Total is the winner.

If the Cabal wins, the Foe Total is reduced to 1D10. If the Foes win, the Cabal loses one of its Nodes. Put a 'Captured' Token on the Node. Those Foes now guard that Node.

Roll for Wounds & Experience:

Wounds

After any combat randomly assign 1D6-1 wound tokens to your Mages. Play a Defense Spell card to negate a wound. Any mage that takes 2 or more wounds must (remove the Wound Tokens and) roll on the Aggravated Wound Table:

Aggravated Wound Table

1D6	Result:
1-2	Mage is Killed
3-4	Mage is Transformed
5	Mage is Converted
6	Mage is Captured

If Killed place the card back in the Mage deck. If Transformed, place a Transformation Token on the Mage card. (Transformed = Mutated, turned to stone, paralyzed, cursed, insane, crippled, turned into animal or monster, withered, blinded, burned, poisoned, etc.) If Captured, place a Captured Token on the Mage card. Also note which Foe captured the Mage.

If Converted, place a Converted Token on the Mage Card. Note which Foe Converted the Mage. The Converted Mage will be part of all future conflicts with that that Foe, on the Foes side, and will add his level to the Foes Force.

Experience

Roll 1D6 for each Mage that takes part in a Combat (Win, loose, or escape). On a roll of 4-6 the Mage gains one Level. (The Experience Roll) Roll Modifiers: +1 if you lost, -1 if you won. (You always learn more from your mistakes) Add a +1 Experience Level Token to the Mage card.

Neutralized Mages

Neutralized Mages include Mages that are: Captured, Wounded, Transformed, or Experiencing "Quiet" (Quiet = Mage cannot properly perceive or interact with reality) Neutralized Mages cannot fight, raid, train, cast spells, etc.

Casting Spells & Using Attributes

To play a Spell card you must have a Mage that can cast the Spell. Each Spell lists what kind of Mage can cast it. For example: You would need a Mage of the Akashic Brotherhood to cast the 'Dim Mak' Spell. In all cases where it says you may cast a spell you may play an Attribute card in addition or instead.

For instance: Instead of playing a Detect Spell you play a Detect Attribute. Spell & Attribute cards are discarded when they are played. Note: Spell cards are kept in your hand, Attribute cards are attached to Mages.

Raid Phase

Skip this Phase if you were attacked in Attack Phase. Choose which Mages are going on the Raid. Choose the Target of your Attack.

The Target may be a captured or newly found Node or one of your 10 Foes. You must play a Detect Spell to find the Target. Then you must play a Transport Spell to get to the Target.

Combat is resolved as in Attack Phase. If the Foes win, the Cabal does not lose a Node. (like in Attack Phase) If the Foes win, the Foe level is reduced by 1D6-1 levels. If the Cabal was raiding a Foe or captured Node and wins, the Foe Total is reduced 2D6 levels. (0 Minimum) If the Cabal was raiding a captured node and they win, they gain control of the node.

If the Cabal was raiding a new node and they win, they gain control of the node and all Guardians are destroyed. If the Target had any captured Mages and the Cabal won, the Captured Mages are freed. If the Target had any converted Mages and the Cabal won, roll 1D6:

1-2 The Mage is Killed

3-4 The Mage lives and is still a Foe (& gains one Level)

5-6 The Mage is converted back and rejoins the Cabal Raiding is considered Combat, like in Attack Phase (Roll for Wounds & Experience)

Research Phase

If you did not get attacked or go on a raid this turn, roll once on the Research Table.

Research Table

1D6	Result
1-2	Recruit
3-4	Attribute
5	Quiet
6	Find a Node

Recruit = Draw one Mage card from the deck. The newly awakened mage starts at level one. Mage cards you control are placed face up in front of you.

Quiet = Place a Quiet Token on one random Mage. Attribute = Draw an Attribute card and place it on one random Mage. Find a Node = Place a Node Card in Play in front of you.

Roll on the Foe Table to see what kind of Foe is guarding it. The Node will have 1D10 worth of Foe

1D6	Result
7	Training
8-9	Healing
10	Pick one

Points guarding it. Note: A Territory will have a maximum of 1D6 Nodes.

Training = Each of your Mages makes an Experience roll at -1. Healing = Remove a Wound, Transformation or Quiet Token from one of your Mages.

Paradox

You may play a Paradox card on any opponents Mage that just cast a Spell.

Calcala

Introduction

2-4 Player Mancala Variant using a square 36 pit board.

Winning

Capture the Most stones by the end of the Game.

.	A1	B1	C1	D1	E1	F1
.	A2	B2	C2	D2	E2	F2
.	A3	B3	C3	D3	E3	F3

Stones

Use glass Beads or whatever (seeds, nuts, pebbles) for Pieces. Players share a common set of Stones.

Capture Pile

Each player has his own pile (cup) where he keeps the Stones he has captured.

Setup

Place 2 Stones in each Pit. The least gracious player goes first.

Turn Sequence

This ruleset assumes familiarity with other Mancala variants. On your turn grab the Stones from any pit and sow them in any Direction going Vertical, Horizontal, or Diagonal. If your last stone lands in a pit containing more stones, pick them up and Continue sowing in the same direction you were going.

If you come to an edge re-enter the board on the opposite side of the same row. (Examples: C2 -> C1 -> C6 or E4 -> F4 -> A4) This applies also to diagonal moves through the corners (Example: B5 -> A6 -> F1) If you are going diagonal and hit an edge (not

The Game ends when there are only 6 or less stones remaining on the board.

The Board

The board is composed of 36 Pits (spaces) laid out in a 6 by 6 Grid. Use the following diagram for reference:

.	A4	B4	C4	D4	E4	F4
.	A5	B5	C5	D5	E5	F5
.	A6	B6	C6	D6	E6	F6

a corner) you make a 90 degree bounce. (Example: D5 -> E6 -> F5 -> E4) If you drop your last stone in an empty space you capture all the Stones in the Next consecutive space, if there are any, and your turn ends.

(Example: B3 -> C3 -> You drop your last stone in D3 so you get all stones in F3)

Edge Rule

If you start your turn by grabbing stones from a pit on the edge of the board or a corner, you must sow the stones either along the edge or directed into the board. You may not immediately jump off the board and re-enter it from the other side. (Example: From A2 you could sow into A1, A3, B1, B2, or B3. You cannot jump to F2)

Alternate Setups

Short Game - Put only 1 stone in each pit. Long Game - Put 3 Stones in each pit. Double Dutch - Put 3 Stones in every other pit.

Half Dutch - Put 2 Stones in every other pit.

Cannonade

</head>

Introduction

Napoleonic era tactical combat simulation. Watch out for grapeshot.

Map

Use a Hex map. Incorporate the 4 Terrain Types.

Chits

Use cardboard counters or chits marked in denominations of 1, 5, 10, & 20 Men Label them 'I' for Infantry, and 'C' for Cavalry Label Cannons with an 'A' to denote

Artillery Label 'R' chits to mark Routing Formations Label 'P' chits to mark groups of Prisoners Label 'F' for Flag & 'B' for Baggage

Setup

Set Piece Battle. Each side begins with 100 points worth of units. Units start at opposite ends of the map, or according to the scenario. Flip a coin to determine Turn Order.

Victory

Earn Victory points as follows:

Man Killed	1
Man Captured	2
Officer Killed	3
Officer Captured	5

Man Killed	1
Cannon Captured	10
Baggage Captured	5
Flag Captured	20

UNITS	COST	MOVE	NOTES
Infantry	1	1	-
Cavalry	1.5	2	-
Cannon	10	(1)	Range = 5
Flags	0	0-2	For games of capture the Flag
Officer	3	2	-
Baggage	2	1	Supply Wagons

Turn Sequence

1-Cannonade Phase 2-March Phase 3-Melee Phase 4-Rally Phase

1- Cannonade Phase

A minimum of 4 men must be present to move or fire the cannon. Cannons can fire at formations up to 6 Hexes away. Base Casualties inflicted = 1D6 modified by the following list.

Cannon Attack Modifier List

CASUALTIES	MODIFIER
-1	Indirect fire over friendly troops or terrain that is not clear
-2	Troop Density = 1-5
-1	Troop Density = 6-10
+1	Troop Density = 16-20
+1	Range = 1
-1	Range = 4
-2	Range = 5
-3	Range = 6
-1	Target in Covered Terrain
-2	Target in Fortified Terrain

A natural roll of 6 always results in at least 1 casualty. Firing over friendly troops causes 1D6 casualties to them on a roll of 1-2 on 1D6.

Terrain

Cannons can fire into or out of covered or fortified terrain but not through it. A cannon may use indirect fire to hit a target behind covered or fortified terrain.

TYPES	COVER	NOTES
Clear	No	Fields, Roads, Bridge
Covered	Yes	Trees, Buildings, Boccage, low walls
Fortified	Yes	Forts, Trenches
Impassable	—	Water, River, Mountains

Formations

A Formation occupies a single hex. A hex may contain up to: 20 Men, or 1 Cannon or Baggage & 10 men, and Any number of Officers, Routing men, prisoners.

2-march Phase

A cannon that fired this turn may not move, nor may the men who fired it. Formations may join or split to make larger or smaller formations. The capturing player controls the movement of prisoners.

Prisoners and routing Formation move one space per turn.

Roll 1d6:

RATIO	1	2	3	4	5	6
4:1 or Better	V	V	V	H	H	H
3:1 or Better	V	V	H	H	H	B
2:1 or Better	V	H	H	H	B	L

A Attacker Wins

D Defender Wins

B Stalemate: Both Sides suffer men killed = to half the men in the smaller force. Do not roll on the Casualty Result table.

Casualty Result Table

D6	RESULT	NOTES
1-2	Surrender	Both Sides suffer men killed =
-		to half the men in the smaller force;
-		All remaining men on losing side taken Prisoner
3-4	Rout	Both Sides suffer men killed =
-		to half the men in the smaller force;
-		All remaining men on losing side rout.

A Cavalry unit must spend its entire move to enter a covered or fortified terrain.

Covered Defending Soldiers have their numerical strength in Melee increased by half. Fortified Defending Soldiers have their numerical strength in Melee doubled. Units may not enter Impassable terrain.

The Cover column indicates the reduction in casualties caused by cannons.

3-melee Phase

Melee occurs when a formation attacks an adjacent enemy formation. Men that fired a cannon this turn cannot attack. Two or more formations may attack the same target formation.

A smaller force will not attack a larger force unless an officer is present. A Formation may only be attacked once in a players Melee turn. A Formation only gets to attack once in a players Melee turn.

Compare the number of Men on both sides to get a Ratio. Roll D6 and cross index with the ratio on the Melee Result Table to determine who wins the Melee. Next Roll on the Casualty result Table to determine the Fate of the losers.

Melee Result Table

RATIO	1	2	3	4	5	6
3:2 or Better	H	H	H	B	L	L
1:1 Ratio	A	A	B	B	D	D

H Side with more men wins

L Side with fewer men wins

V Side with more men wins and winner suffers no casualties

D6	RESULT	NOTES
-		Move the routers immediately
5-6	Slaughter	Winner suffers men killed =
-		to half the men in the smaller force;
-		All men on losing side killed

Use chits to indicate groups of Prisoners & Routers.

Free Advance

The winner of a melee must immediately move half or more of his men into the hex of the side that lost. They cannot move more than 10 if the space has a cannon or baggage. The advancing men now capture any prisoners and/or cannon or baggage in the hex.

Routers leave behind their cannon and baggage.

4-rally Phase

If their escort is killed, the prisoners escape and may move as normal. They are unarmed. If an enemy

Formation enters a hex containing unarmed men, the unarmed men become prisoners.

Prisoners cannot be killed by Cannons or Melee. A Routing Formation must move. Routers are moved by the Enemy player. Routing Formations will move away from enemy Formations.

Routing Formations will move towards the edge of the board, failing that they will move towards friendly units. Formations that move off the Map are lost. If an enemy Formation enters a hex containing routers, the routers become prisoners.

If a friendly Formation is adjacent to routers roll on the Rally Table.

Rally Table

D6	RESULT
1-2	The Formation is rallied and may move as normal. They are unarmed.
3-4	The Formation continues to flee.
5-6	The friendly Formation panics and routs itself.

Add 1 to the roll if the routing Formation is twice as large as the friendly Formation. Subtract 1 from the roll if the friendly Formation is twice as large as the routing Formation. Subtract 1 to the roll if an officer is present.

Officers

Only one commanding officer per formation. The officer is always the last man killed in a formation.

Baggage

An unarmed man must move adjacent to a baggage unit to rearm himself. A Cannon must be within 4 hexes of a baggage unit, or it will run out of ammo in 3 turns. If an enemy Formation enters a hex containing baggage, they capture the baggage.

Counters

The following magnificent counter sets were created by Janne Thörne: jan.thorne@mail.bip.net.

Capulets & Montagues

Introduction

Card game for 2-5+ players. Setting: 13th Century Verona Italy. Each player controls a Greater Noble Family of the City vying for prestige.

Victory

The game ends at the completion of the 13th turn. The player with the most Prestige Points wins (Most Prestigious).

Dice

Six sided dice are needed to play.

Prestige Points

Use Tokens or Poker Chips to keep track of Prestige points.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Family Values

In addition to Prestige, each Family is described by 5 additional Traits: 1 - Blood 2 - Wealth 3 - Favor 4 - Dignity 5 - Vigor

Blood Trait

This is basically a body-count of the number of your Family members killed by Feuding with the other Great Families. If it is higher than the other Families, your Prestige will suffer.

Wealth Trait

How much money, land, gold, treasure you control. Often effort, in the form of Vigor, is required to accumulate Wealth. Wealth can be used to buy Favor and Dignity.

Favor Trait

The City is controlled by Prince Escalus of the Holy Roman Empire. This trait is a Measure of how favorably the Prince views your Family. Feuding will lower his Favor.

Entertainments & Money will win his favor.

Dignity Trait

This is a measure of the goodwill of the Church, the Populace, and The lesser Houses towards your Family. Scandal and Street fighting will lower your Houses Dignity. Donations and Public Service will increase it.

Vigor Trait

The Vital Energy (Mental, Physical, Spiritual) of your Family. This resource accumulates naturally and can be used to Gain Wealth and throw Public Spectacles. Vigor will determine Initiative in each Turn.

Trait Tracking

Use coins to keep track of your level in each of your Traits. If one of your traits goes below zero, it stays at zero and instead you lose prestige points equal to those that would have been lost by the Trait. Prestige levels can be negative.

Setup

Players decide on a name for their Family. Each player rolls 2D6 for each of their 5 Traits to determine their starting levels. Each player starts with zero Prestige.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 6 Phases:

1. Fate Phase
2. Initiative Phase
3. Destiny Phase
4. Resolution Phase
5. Punishment Phase
6. Prestige Phase

Fate Phase

Flip over the top 7 cards of the Deck. These 7 cards are called the Fate cards. Spread them out in the middle of the table so all players can see them.

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Initiative Phase

The player with the highest Vigor picks first. This player is known as the Leader. Next highest picks second and so on.

If tied, the higher Favor goes first. If still tied, roll high on 1D6. At the End of the Initiative Phase, all players gain +1 to their Vigor except for the Leader. Initiative order should be fully resolved before proceeding to Destiny Phase.

Destiny Phase

Starting with the Leader each player takes a turn picking 1 Fate card. Continue Picking until all 7 Fate cards have been selected. Picking cards is done in Initiative order.

When all players have picked one card and there are still Fate cards remaining, the Leader picks again and so on. For Example: A game of 4 Players: John, Ricky, Lucy, and Mog Ricky is the Leader designated A. Next is Mog = B; Lucy = C, and finally John = D.

The Fate Cards are labeled: I, II, II, IV, V, VI, and VII Ricky goes first and picks III Mog goes second and picks I Lucy goes third and picks VI John goes fourth and picks IV Ricky goes again fifth and picks VII Mog goes again sixth and picks II Luck goes again seventh and picks V All the Fate cards are now gone. John missed out on getting a second card.

Resolution Phase

Players adjust their Traits up or down according to the Cards they picked in Destiny Phase. Some cards cause the traits of a targeted opponent to be modified. The Target should be selected in Destiny Phase as soon as the Card is picked.

Punishment Phase

Blood cards are cards that cause an opponents blood trait to be increased. Every time Blood is shed, there is a chance the Prince will punish the Family responsible, that is, the player who picked the Blood card. If you picked a Blood card, you are designated as "Guilty" of the Crime.

A Guilty player must save against his Favor Trait to avoid punishment: Roll 2D6. If the score is greater than your Favor Trait roll once on The Punishment Table. You make only one save roll per Blood card played And if you fail the save you suffer a roll on the Punishment table only once.

The Punishment Table

1D6	Result:	Notes:
1	Fines	Wealth -1
2	Reprimand	Favor -1
3	Reparations	Wealth -1 and Opponent gets Wealth +1
4	Imprisonment	Dignity -1 and Vigor -1
5	Banishment	Wealth -1 and Dignity -1
6	Execution	Blood +1 and Favor -1

Prestige Phase

The player with the lowest Blood Trait gains 1 Prestige Point (PP). The player with the highest Wealth Trait gains 1 PP. The player with the highest Favor Trait gains 1 PP.

The player with the highest Dignity Trait gains 1 PP. The player with the highest Vigor Trait gains 1 PP. In case of ties, no one gets the PP.

Car Chase

Introduction

Simulates a car chase between the Law and a Fugitive.

Winning

The Fugitive wins if the Law does not catch him at the end of 7 turns.

The Deck

Players share a common deck

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 4 Phases: Draw Phase Search Phase Chase Phase Escape Phase

Draw Phase

In Order:

1. Players discard their hands from last turn.
2. Each Player fills their hand up to 10 cards drawn from the deck.
3. Players may discard up to 5 cards and draw replacements.

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it.

Search Phase

The Law player plays Investigation cards from his hand. The Fugitive player plays Fugitive cards from his hand. The player with the highest total score of cards wins.

Card List

Caravan

Introduction

Players control Arabian caravans going back and forth across the deserts, acting as Middlemen between Europe and the Orient.

The Board

Use a chessboard: 8 x 8 square grid. Number the rows 1 through 8. Row 1 is Europe.

Row 8 is the Orient. Rows 2-7 are the Middle Eastern rows.

Dice

Use an eight sided die as a randomizer.

Board Setup

For each Middle Eastern row place one 'Oasis' marker on a random space and one 'Quicksand' marker on a different random space.

The Pieces

Each player gets a Pawn of a unique color to represent their caravan. One unique pawn is needed to represent the Bandits. One unique pawn is needed to represent the Sandstorm.

6 Quicksand and 6 Oasis markers are needed. Use coins to represent Gold.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Victory

The first player to accumulate 50 Gold is the winner.

Setup

Roll high to determine turn order. Each player starts with 5 cards. Players pawns may choose to start in Europe or the Orient.

Two Pawns may never occupy the same space. The Sandstorm and Bandits Pawns start in open spaces in the center of the board.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 Phases: Draw Phase Buy Phase Move Phase Desert Phase Sell Phase

Draw Phase

Discard any cards you don't want. A player may discard 2 cards and draw 1 replacement card. Draw 3 cards and discard 1 of these cards.

Max hand is 7 cards. Discard excess cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Buy Phase

If you are in Europe you may play up to 5 soldiers or European trade goods in your Hand to the table. This becomes your Caravan. Note that your Caravan cards are not the same as the cards in your hand. If you are in the Orient you may play up to 5 soldiers or Oriental trade goods in your Hand to the table. This becomes your Caravan.

Move Phase

Discard a Move card to move your pawn exactly the indicated number of spaces. Moves may be diagonal or orthogonal. You may not land on or move through other Pawns or Quicksand spaces.

If you land on an Oasis, you may play another Move card and move again. If you land next to another Players Pawn, you may trade cards if you wish. All trades must be acceptable to both players.

Desert Phase

You may move the Sandstorm or Bandit Pawns if you have the appropriate cards. They have the same movement restrictions as Caravans. The Sandstorm is merely an obstacle.

If the Bandits land next to any opposing caravan pawns, those caravans must lose one soldier card or all their trade cards. (the cards on the table) You may do your Desert Phase before your Move Phase. The Bandits and Sandstorm may only go to Middle Eastern rows.

Sell Phase

If you are in Europe and you have Oriental goods in your Caravan (the cards on the table), you may turn them in for gold. An unmatched card is worth one gold. A pair earns 3 gold. (For example: two Spice cards) Three of a kind garners 5 gold.

Four of a kind gets you 7 gold. Five of a kind cashes in at 9 gold. If you are in the Orient and you have European goods in your Caravan (the cards on the table), you may turn them in for Gold in the same manner.

Cards Of War

Rules

Shuffle the cards. There is one common deck and one discard pile. One player is the Axis, the other is the Allies. Each player starts the game with 3 territory tokens.

Play proceeds in a series of rounds. At the beginning of a round each player gets dealt 10 cards. During the round players take turns deploying one card at a time.

The Allies go first. A deployed card is played face up on the table. The turns continue until all cards have been deployed.

Each card has a force value. The side at the end of the round with the highest Force total on the table wins the round. Each card is of one or more types. The types include: Infantry, Intelligence, Sea, Sub, Air, Tank, Artillery, Mine, and Fortification.

Some cards have the KILL ability, followed by what type of cards they can kill. When deployed a kill card causes an enemy card of a type it can destroy to be discarded. If there are no targets then the opportunity to cause a discard is wasted.

Discarded cards do not count towards a players force total. Some cards have other abilities which are conducted as soon as the card is deployed. The winner of a round takes a territory token from his opponent.

The first player in possession of all six tokens wins the game. If you run out of cards shuffle the discards back into the deck.

Game Designers Notes

Players will have to make their own set of cards.
The deck contains one of each card listed. Players are welcome to design new types of cards in addition to those listed above.

Carny

Introduction

Players are setting up their Game Booths at the Fair. Card game for 2+ players.

Carnival

A cooperative business arrangement between independent showmen, ride owners and concessionaires to present outdoor amusement for the public.

CARNY or CARNEY Someone who works in a carnival. The term is also applied to the carnival itself.

Game Length

Each turn = 1 day. Before play, players decide on the duration of the Fair from 5 to 20 days.

Winning

The Player with the most money at the end of the Fair wins.

The Decks

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 4 card types: Games Carnies Neighbors Events

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 6 Phases: Draw Phase Meld Phase Event Phase Recovery Phase Score Phase End Phase

Draw Phase

Each player fills their hand to 10 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard into the deck & draw from it.

Meld Phase

Each player may play 1-2 Melds from their hand face up to the table. A Meld must contain 1 Game and 1 Carny. A Meld may contain 0-2 Neighbor cards.

Event Phase

You may add bad neighbor cards to your opponent's Melds. You may add good Event cards to your Melds & bad Events to your opponents.

Recovery Phase

You may play replacement cards from your hand to replace cards discarded by opponent's Event cards.

Score Phase

Every card in a Meld scores a certain amount of cash. Illegal Melds (no Carny or Game card) score no cash. Keep track of earned cash from turn to turn.

Doubles are Cumulative.

End Phase

All cards in play are discarded. Players must discard their hands down to 2 or less cards.

Carriers

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. World War Naval/Air II theme. Abstract Fleet & Squadron level combat.
Each figure represents a group of Ships or Planes.

Victory

You win if you destroy your opponent's carriers.

Board, Card & Counter Set Available

Thanks to the talented Janne Thörne: for Gameset

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

The Ships

Use chits or miniatures to represent units. There are 4 types of units: Carriers, Warships, Subs, and Planes. Each player starts with: 2 Carriers 4 Warships 2 Subs 8 Planes

Setup

Each player places one unit on each square of his back two rows. Units may not stack.

The Cards

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 2 of each card listed.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Orders Phase Search Phase Engage Phase

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.
Discard excess cards.

Card List

Card Name:	Range	Type	User	Target	Notes
Bomber	1	A	P	V
Dive Bomber	1	A	P	V
Torpedo Plane	2	A	P	V

Search Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your units. The Move card must be useable by the unit. For Example: Only Planes can use the patrol card.
The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the unit moves. Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal.
Boats cannot move through other boat units. "Knight" type move cards allow a man to move like a knight in chess. Instead of moving just one unit in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more units forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Engage Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack. The Attack card must be useable by the unit. For Example: Only Warships can use the destroyer card.
The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack. Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal.
The enemy unit that is the target of the attack is automatically destroyed and removed from the map. Your opponent may play certain Defense cards to negate your attack.

Carving Up China

Introduction

Bidding game for 3-5 players. Each player is an Imperialist Power in the late Nineteenth Century trying to get a piece of China.

Victory

The player with the most Victory Points (VP) at the end of the game wins. Each card in a players Victory Pile is worth a stated number of VP.

End Of Game

The game ends when there are no cards left in the Territory Deck.

The Decks

Players share 2 common decks: Territory Deck Imperial Deck The decks are kept face down.

Setup

Randomly select 1 player to be the Lead player. Each player selects 1 Nation to be their own. Each player is dealt 6 cards from the Imperial Deck.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 4 Phases:

1. Manchu Phase
2. Power Phase
3. Conflict Phase
4. Logistics Phase

Manchu Phase

Flip over the Top card of the Territory Deck. Place it face up in the middle of the table where everybody can see it. This is called the Prize card.

Imperial Deck Card List

Card Name:	Power:
Manchu Weakness	2
Opium Trade	1
Gunboat Diplomacy	3
Military Aid	4

Power Phase

Each player is dealt 3 cards from the Imperial Deck If the Imperial deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Conflict Phase

Players use their Imperial cards to bid for the Prize card. The Lead player goes first by playing 1 or more Imperial cards face-up to the table. Each Imperial card has a Power Value (PV) Play proceeds clockwise.

Each player must bid cards with a Total PV greater than the Total PV played By the previous player or they are out of the bidding. This continues until all players but one are out but one. This player is the Winner. The Winner puts the Prize card into his Victory pile and discards all the Imperial cards he Bid.

The other players put their Bid cards back in their hands.

Logistics Phase

Each player must discard their hands down to 4 cards. The current Lead Player gives the position of Lead Player to the person to his left.

Invader Conflict Card

The winner of the Invader Conflict card can cause 1 target card in any Victory Pile to be shuffled back into the Territory Deck.

Rebellion Card

If the Rebellion card is revealed, all players immediately discard their hands. The Rebellion card is then removed from play.

Land Leases Card

If you win a Prize using a Land Leases card, toss a coin in your Victory Pile. The Coin is worth 2 VP.

Card Name:	Power:
Land Leases	1*
Treaty System	7
Invasion	8
Opium War	9

Card Name:	Power:

Imperialist Powers

Players have 5 powers to choose from: British, French, German, Russian, and Japanese.

British

Every Imperial card played by the British player Has a +1 to its Power Value.

French

The French after drawing their 3 cards in Power Phase may (once) Discard them (all 3) and draw 3 new cards.

Germans

All Territories the German Player wins are worth +1 VP each.

Russians

The Russian players max hand size in Logistics phase is 5 cards.

Japanese

The Invasion card is worth 15 to the Japanese player (Not 8).

Castle Keep

Introduction

A 2-4 player game of medieval conquest.

Object

Be the first player to control 7 castles on the map.

The Map

Use a hex map. Locate 12 castles on the map. Other hex types include clear, forest, mountain, river, and sea.

Counters

Each player has a set of chits of a unique color. Each chit set includes control markers and army markers.

The Deck

The deck contains 60 cards, 4 of each of the 15 types in the card list.

Setup

Each player starts in control of 3 castles, and has 1 army in each. Each player starts with a full hand of 7 cards. Determine turn order: Each player draws one card. High siege value goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. March Phase
3. Battle Phase
4. Recruit Phase
5. Control Phase

Draw Phase

All players fill their hands to 7 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard, and draw from it.

Card List

March Phase

Only one army per hex. Armies may move 2 spaces over clear hexes. Armies may move 1 space over castle, forest & river hexes.

Armies cannot move into mountain or sea hexes. Discard a March card to move an army a second time.

Battle Phase

The active players armies may attack adjacent enemy armies. Fight one battle at a time. The active player chooses which battle to resolve next.

At the beginning of all battles both players fill their hands to seven cards. If the defending army is in a castle it is a siege battle. If the defending army is not in a castle it is an open battle.

Both players may play some or all of their cards. Cards have numeric values for both open & siege battles. Some cards destroy other cards in open battle.

The destroyed cards are discarded simultaneously and immediately. In a siege there are some cards that can only be played by the attacker or the defender. Each side adds up the total value of all its cards to get a Battle total.

In open battle defenders in forest hexes get +2 to their battle total. In open battle defenders in river hexes get -2 to their battle total. An army gets +1 to its battle total for every other friendly army adjacent to the enemy army.

Compare the battle totals. The higher total wins. The defender wins ties. The losing army is destroyed. If the attacking army wins it may move into the empty hex left by the loser.

All cards played are discarded.

Recruit Phase

You can have as many armies as you have castles under your control. If you currently have less armies than castles you may raise one new army in any one of your castles.

Control Phase

On all castles that one of your armies occupy remove any control markers of your opponents and place one of your own control markers.

Castle Siege

Introduction

Simple Wargame for two players. One player is the Attackers (Besiegers) The other player is the Defenders (Besieged)

Victory

The Attackers wins if any attacking unit moves into any one of the 4 center squares of the Castle. The Defender wins if the attackers are reduced to 10 or less units.

The Board

Use a Chessboard The middle 16 spaces are the Castle Spaces.

Dice

Six sided dice are needed.

Units

Use chits (counters) to represent units. Each player has a set of chits of a different color. The Defenders have 16 units: 4 Cannons 4 Knights 4 Archers 4 Boiling Oil Cauldrons The Attackers have 28 units: 4 Cannons 8 Knights 4 Archers 4 Sappers 4 Battering Rams 4 Siege Towers

Setup

The Defender places his chits facedown in his castle, one unit per space. The Attacker places his units facedown on the spaces that border the edge of the map, one unit per space.

First Turn

Flip all units face-up. Defenders go first (Attackers are moving into position)

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Move Phase
2. Breach Phase
3. Attack Phase

Move Phase

Roll 1D6. This is the number of units you may move this turn. A unit may move to an adjacent space. The stacking limit for friendly units on castle spaces is 2.

The stacking limit for friendly units on open spaces is 3. Units of both players may occupy the same space at the same time. Defenders may not leave the castle.

Attacking Cannons, Battering Rams, and Siege Towers may not enter Castle spaces. Attackers may only enter a castle space under 3 conditions:

1. The Castle space is breached (It has a Breach marker on it) and they roll 3+ on 1D6.
2. The Attackers are moving off of a Siege Tower and they roll 4+ on 1D6.
3. The Attackers scale the walls on a roll of 6 on 1D6.

Breach Phase

Certain attackers may attack the Castle walls. A Battering Ram may attack an adjacent Castle Space. The Space is Breached on a roll of 5+ on 1D6.

Sappers may attack an adjacent Castle Space. The Space is Breached on a roll of 6+ on 1D6. A Cannon may attack a Castle Space up to 2 spaces away.

The Space is Breached on a roll of 6+ on 1D6. Place a "Breach" counter on a Breached space. A Unit that attempts to make a Breach in this Phase cannot attack in Attack Phase.

Attack Phase

All your units may attack once this phase. Killed units are removed from play. Knights kill opposing units in the same space on a roll of 4+ on 1D6.

Knights kill enemy knights in the same space on a roll of 5+ on 1D6. Defending knights may attack adjacent units in the spaces adjacent to the castle by throwing rocks. This type of attack kills on a roll of 6+ on 1D6. Attacking Cannons have a range of 2 spaces. They kill on a roll of 6+ on 1D6.

Defending Cannons have a range of 3 spaces (Height Advantage). They kill on a roll of 6+ on 1D6. Cannons cannot attack units in the same space.

Cauldrons may attack units in the same space, or adjacent units in the spaces adjacent to the castle, by pouring Boiling Oil. This type of attack kills on a roll of 5+ on 1D6. Attacking Archers have a range of 1 space. They kill on a roll of 6+ on 1D6.

Defending Archers have a range of 2 spaces (Height Advantage). They kill on a roll of 6+ on 1D6. Archers kill opposing units in the same space on a roll of 6+ on 1D6.

Sappers kill opposing units in the same space on a roll of 6+ on 1D6. Rams and Siege Towers cannot attack.

Castle Wolfenstein

Introduction

Solitaire Card game. Based on the Video game of the same name.

Disclaimer

Victory

Defeat all the Bosses.

Characters

Your Hero starts with 20 Hits.

Dice

A six sider is needed.

Setup

Shuffle the Deck.

Turn Sequence

1. Find Phase
2. Flip Phase
3. Fight Phase
4. Foe Phase
5. Fini Phase

Find Phase

Flip over the top 3 cards. If any of them are Attack, First Aid, or Defense cards, you may put them in your hand. Place the remaining cards on the bottom of the deck.

Card List

Card Name:	#	Type	Hits	Notes:
Knife	3	A	1
Pistol	3	A	2
Rifle	3	A	3
Flame Thrower	3	A	4
Stick Grenade	3	A	1	Damages all Foes
Sub-Machine Gun	3	A	2	Damages 2 Foes
Machine Gun	3	A	3	Damages 2 Foes
Chain Gun	3	A	4	Damages 2 Foes

Flip Phase

Turn over top card of deck. If it is a Foe or Boss card place it face up on the table. If it is any other type of card put it in your hand.

If the Deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it.

Fight Phase

You may play an Attack card you may do damage to a Foe or Boss in play. The Damage done by a Attack card must go to a Single Foe. Use coins to keep track of Damage.

A Foe with damage equal to or greater than its Hits is destroyed. Discard a used Attack card. You may use additional Attack cards from your hand vs additional targets.

Keep destroyed Bosses set aside in a separate pile. Secondary Attack option: You may play a second Attack card this turn but roll 1D6. On 5+ you miss and do no damage. You still must discard it.

Foe Phase

Every Foe & Boss in play may Attack. Foes do damage equal to their Hits minus their Damage. If your Hero is reduced to Zero or less Hits he is killed.

You may discard a Defense card to negate all damage done to you this turn.

Fini Phase

You may play a First Aid Card to Heal 4 Damage. Max hand size is 5 cards. Discard excess cards.

Card Name:	#	Type	Hits	Notes:

Cat & Mouse

Introduction

Two player card game representing terrorist activity and government countermeasures. One player represents US Security. The other player is the Terrorists.

Objectives

The game ends when the terrorist plays a meld or has no more cards left in his deck. The terrorist player wins if he plays a meld of: 3 of the same Attack cards, and 3 of the same Group cards, and 3 of the same Target cards. (For example: 3 Nuke attack cards, 3 Western group cards, and 3 Military target cards.) A meld represents making a successful terrorist attack.

The US player can win in two ways:

1. If the Terrorist player never plays a meld before the end of the game, or by
2. Guessing the meld as it is played but before the identity of the cards are revealed.

A US win represents preventing a successful terrorist attack.

The Decks

Each player has his own unique deck.

Setup

The Terrorist player draws 12 cards from his own deck. The US player draws 9 cards from his own deck.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 4 phases:

1. Terrorist Draw Phase
2. US Draw Phase
3. US Security Phase
4. Terrorist Attack Phase

Terrorist Draw Phase

The Terrorist player may draw 1 card. Maximum hand size is 12 cards. Discard any extra cards of your choice.

Us Draw Phase

The US player draws 1 card. Maximum hand size is 9 cards. Discard any extra cards of your choice.

Us Security Phase

The US player may play one card combo. If a combo is played the Terrorist player must discard a Secrecy card or one random card from his hand. There are 3 types of combos: 3 Cards of the same Name. (For example: 3 FBI cards) 3 Different cards from the same Suite.

(For example: 1 CIA card, 1 FBI card, and 1 Interpol card) 5 Different cards from different Suites. (For example: 1 Police, 1 Organization, 1 Action, 1 Resource, and 1 Surveillance card)

Terrorist Attack Phase

The Terrorist player may play a meld as described in the Objectives section. The Terrorist does not attack he may discard a Secrecy card to draw 2 additional cards.

Terrain Type Notation

It costs a unit its whole move to enter a Maze territory. Large territories can hold double the normal number of Units. Units in Defensible Territories ignore Hits on a roll of 1-3 on 1D10.

Rich Territories earn an extra Gold in Recruit Phase. When a stack enters a Treacherous territory it suffers a single Force = 5 Attack. Units in Magical Territories get Force +1.

All Lairs are Large & Defensible.

Unit Chit List

Unit Name:	Force	Size	Hits	Sign
Troglodytes	5	M	2	T

Dice, Chits, Counters, Markers, Tiles, Coins, & Cards

Tiles are used to make the Map. Chits are used to represent Units. Cards are used for Events.

Coins represent Gold. Counters are stacked with units to record damage. Each player has a set of colored Markers to identify their stacks.

Tile, chit, counter, coins and card sets are common to all players. Ten sided dice are needed to play.

The Map

Use a Chessboard. Each space is known as a Territory. Randomly distribute the 64 Terrain Tiles.

Setup

Each Player starts in control of 1 Lair. Randomly determine who goes first.

Unit Name:	Force	Size	Hits	Sign
Goblins	3	S	1	G

Unit Name:	Force	Size	Hits	Sign
Gnomes	4	S	1	N
Dwarves	7	M	2	D
Orcs	6	M	2	O

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 phases: Recruit Phase Event Phase Move Phase Battle Phase

Recruit Phase

Gain 10 Gold. Gain 1 extra gold for each Rich Territory you occupy. Purchase units with your gold.

You may buy units from Lairs you occupy. New Units are placed in the Lair or adjacent to it. A Units cost in Gold is equal to its Force.

Gold may saved from turn to turn.

Adjacency Rule

Units or spaces must share a common border to be adjacent. Diagonal spaces and units are not adjacent.

Stacking Rule

In a single space you may stack up to 4 size levels of your units. Small units are size level = 1 Medium units are size level = 2 Large units are size level = 4 Units from opposing players cannot occupy the same space.

Event Phase

Draw 2 Event cards. Max hand size is 5 cards. Discard excess cards.

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Unit Name:	Force	Size	Hits	Sign
Kobolds	2	S	1	K
Cave Trolls	9	L	3	C
Drow	8	M	2	W

Move Phase

You may move each of you units up to 2 spaces. Units cannot enter or move through Solid Rock spaces. The stacking limit must be strictly enforced.

Some Event cards will affect the Movement of units & Stacks.

Battle Phase

You may attack adjacent enemy stacks with your own stacks. Resolve conflicts between two opposing stacks, one at a time. A turn may have multiple battles between multiple stacks.

Battles are fought in Rounds. Player may play event cards at any time during the round. During each round, each unit, in turn, in both opposing stacks gets to attack once.

Small units always attack before Medium size & Large units. Medium size units always attack before Large units. Start with the Active player (Player whose turn it is) Pick which of your units is attacking, then Roll 1D10.

If the roll is equal to or less than the attacking units Force, an enemy unit loses 1 hit. The defender decides which of his units is hit. A unit reduced to zero hits is destroyed.

The other player then attacks and so on. This repeats until one side is completely eliminated. Extra Attacks (From Event Cards) are made, in turn, like regular attacks.

Event Deck Notation

Cellular

Introduction

Card game using concepts from general biology.

The Deck

The deck includes 85 cards. The deck contains one of each type of card listed in the Card List section.

Object

Accumulate the most points at the end of the game, or over several games.

Setup

All players are dealt a hand of 8 cards. The dealer goes first. Play proceeds clockwise.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Combination Phase
3. Scoring Phase
4. Discard Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 1 card from the deck or take the top X cards from the discard pile. X can be any number, but you must take all of them. If there are no cards left in the deck, the game ends.

Combination Phase

If you have the right cards to make one or more of the combos in the combination list, place the card combo face up in front of you. You may play multiple combos if you have them.

Scoring Phase

Score 1+ one point for every card in the combo. Any time a player has no cards left in his hand, the game ends. At the end of the game, players lose one point for every card left in their hand.

Discard Phase

Discard one card. There is no maximum hand size.

Game Designers Notes

The main goal was to include most of the organelles and macromolecules found in cells. I pretty much left out Mendelian genetics, it applies only to multicellular organisms. On the other hand, I was compelled to include gametogenesis, and some developmental biology. Certain topics in biochemistry were emphasized including aspects of metabolism and molecular genetics. Examples of cards I considered but did not use include: Alleles, Dominant, Recessive, Homozygous, Heterozygous, Ectoderm, Endoderm, Mesoderm, Neurons, Neurotransmitters, Introns, Exons, Kinetochores, Centrioles, Chromatids, Mutations, Histones, Spontaneous Generation, Darwin, Scientific Method, and others that were veering too far into General Biology, Anatomy & Physiology, and Genetics. One could easily debate the removal and addition of any number of cards. I would have liked to include more, but more than 85 cards starts to push the limits of playability. Future games of this type will delve into evolution, ecology, AP, etc. In the future, some of the material in this game may be removed and be used in similar games specializing in biochemistry and genetics.

Celtic Saga

Introduction

Players take the role of Celtic Warrior Heroes in ancient Ireland. Players compete to make their Hero the most famous of all. The winner will be sung about by bards for generations and his exploits will be written of in the Book of Kells.

Card game for 2-4 players.

Heroes Of Old

Some representative Heroes of the age include: Cu Chulainn, Ferghus mac Roich, and Conall Cernach.

Resources

Leabhar Gabhala... Book of Invasions Dinnshenchas... History of Places Tain Bo Cuailnge... Cattle Raid of Cooley Leabhar na h Uidre... Book of the Dun Cow These are the main Insular (Irish) sources, mostly compiled in the 12th century.

Victory

Players accumulate points in 4 value categories:

1. Blessings- Wives, true love, children, heirs, friendship, peace, home and hearth.
2. Fortune- Gold, Wealth, Riches, Kingship, Nobility.
3. Victory- Enemies defeated in battle.
4. Prophecy- Wisdom, Lore, History, Fate, Doom.

The player with the most points in the most categories at the end of seven cycles wins.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains one of each of the cards described in the card list. Note that there are 2 decks. Use one or the other.

There are basically 2 versions of the game: The Ulster Deck and the Fionn Deck.

Types Of Cards

There are 5 types of cards:

1. Allies
2. Weapons
3. Action
4. Boons
5. Foes

Ulster Cycle Card List

Dice

Six sided dice are required.

Tokens

Use tokens to keep track of wounds and other effects.

Setup

Shuffle the deck.

Turn Sequence

The game is played in seven turns or cycles. At the beginning of each Cycle all players roll high on 1D6 to determine initiative order. 3 cards are drawn from the deck for each player.

All of these cards are played face up in the center of the table. In order of initiative each player takes one card. A player may choose to remove a wound token instead of drawing a card.

The cycle is over when there are no cards left. If the player takes an Action card, he puts it into his hand. If the player takes an Ally, Weapon, or Boon card, he places it face up in front of him.

A player automatically controls all cards he takes except for Foe cards. If a player selects a Foe card, he must battle the Foe. Roll 3D6 and add all of the Heroes Fight modifiers to the total.

This is the Fight Total. The fight modifiers are found on the cards. All the cards a player controls contribute.

The Hero subtracts one from his total for every wound token he has. Next roll 4D6. This is the Foe total. If the Foe total is greater than the Fight total, the Foe card is discarded and the Hero gets one wound token.

If the Fight total is equal or greater, the Hero wins the battle and takes the defeated Foe card. The defeated Foe card is placed with the rest of the heroes cards. Action cards may be played immediately or whenever it is appropriate.

Discarded cards go into a discard pile. When fighting player may only gain the benefit of one version of a weapon. For example he can use a spear and a chariot, but not 2 spears.

Boons that adversely affect an opponent are added to that players cards.

Celtic Skirmish

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Minor Battle between two Celtic War Bands. Abstract skirmish level combat.

Each figure represents a single man (unit).

Terrain Features

Terrain:	Notes:
Clear	No Effect
Rough	Chariots may not enter or Cross
Broken	Chariots may not enter or Cross; All units must stop upon Entering
Elevation	This Unit may use Elevation cards.
Depression	Other Units may use Elevation Cards against this Unit
Trees	Missile attacks may not be made through this Space
Water	Units may not enter this space

The Men

Use chits or miniatures to represent men. There are 3 types of men: Chieftains, Champions, & Warriors

Unit Table

#	Type	Hits	Elite
1	Chieftain	3	Yes
4	Champion	2	Yes
8	Warrior	1	No

Number of that type of man you start the game with.

Hits Number of Hits that type of unit has. Elite units have Armor and Ride Chariots.

Setup

Each player places one unit on each square of his back two rows. Units may not stack.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Fate Phase
2. Maneuver Phase
3. Battle Phase

Victory

You win if you kill the opposing Chieftain.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard or grid of larger size. Include Terrain Features to Taste.

Fate Phase

Draw 3 cards. Max hand size = 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Discard excess cards.

Maneuver Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your men. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the man moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. "Knight" type move cards allow a man to move like a knight in chess. Instead of moving just one man in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more men forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Chariot Units can be moved up twice per turn.

Battle Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a man attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. "Knight" type attack cards produce an attack with a range like a knight in chess. Attacks do one Hit of damage to the target.

Use Chits or coins to record damage. A man reduced to Zero Hits is killed and removed from the board. Your opponent may play Defense cards to negate your attack.

Celtic Warbands

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Theme: Continental Celtic Intertribal Warfare circa Fifth Century BC. Poker type mechanics.

Victory

The first player to win 5 turns wins the battle.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck has 3 copies of each card in the card list.

Background

Each player controls a band of rival Celtic Warriors. Each game represents a battle between these opposed Tribes. Each hand represents a Champion: His weapons, traits, etc.

Each turn represents a duel between 2 Champions. The winner of the turn takes the severed head of the losing Champion.

Card Suites

There are 5 Suites:

1. Traits
2. Weapons
3. Armor
4. Costume
5. Boons

Ratings

Each card has a rating from 1 to 5. Higher numbers are better.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. The Fiercest player goes first.

Card List

Card Name:	Type	Rating
Tall	T	1
Strong	T	2
Brave	T	3
Large Shield	A	1
Bronze Helmet	A	2

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 Phases:

1. Destiny Phase
2. Fate Phase
3. Fight Phase

Destiny Phase

Each player is dealt 10 cards. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Fate Phase

Players may discard up to 5 cards and draw replacements.

Fight Phase

Players reveal their hands. Determine the Total Rating of each hand. To get the Total Rating, add together the Ratings of the individual cards plus Special Bonus Ratings, but not those of excluded cards.

The higher Total Rating wins the Turn.

Special Bonus Ratings & Excluded Cards

If you have all 3 different cards in a suite get a +3 Suite Bonus to your Total Rating (TR). If you have 2 copies of the same card in your hand one copy is excluded. If you have all 3 copies of a card in your hand get a +5 Card Bonus to your TR.

If you have 2 different cards from each of the 5 Suites in your hand get a +7 Flush Bonus to your TR.

Ceylon

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Players are merchants during the Colonial Era shipping goods from the British Ceylon.

Victory

The first player to accumulate 100+ points is the winner.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Record Keeping

Players will need pen and pencil to keep track of: Their running total of Points. How many Plantations they have and of what types. How many Officials they Control.

Setup

Each player is dealt a hand of 7 cards. The player who won the last game goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 Phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Trade Phase
3. Pirate Phase
4. Storm Phase
5. Build Phase
6. Ship Phase
7. End Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 2 cards and put them in your hand. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. You may discard a Clipper card to draw 2 extra cards from the deck.

X	Tea	Cinn	Rubber	Sugar	Coffee	Indigo
1	1	2	3	4	5	6
2	3	4	5	6	7	8
3	6	8	9	10	12	14
4	10	12	14	16	18	20

You may use 1 Plantation card as a goods card for every plantation you own that is of the same type as the goods cards in the Meld. Record the points scored and discard the Meld. Immediately draw 3 cards if you

Trade Phase

You may trade cards with other players. You declare when this phase ends, not to exceed 3 minutes.

Peril Phase

You may skip this phase. You may discard 1 Pirate Card to steal 1 Random card from an opponents hand. This is called a Pirate Attack.

The opponent may discard 1 Wind card to negate you pirate attack. You may discard 3 Pirate cards to steal a target players entire hand. This is called a Pirate Fleet Attack.

Any combination of players may discard a total of 2 Clippers to negate a Pirate Fleet attack.

Storm Phase

You may discard 2 Wind cards to cause a Monsoon. A Monsoon causes all other players to discard 1 random card each. You may discard 3 Wind cards to cause a Typhoon.

A Typhoon causes all players to discard their entire hand.

Build Phase

You may discard 2 Plantation cards and 2 Goods cards of the same type to build a Plantation that produces that type of good. Record this on your record sheet. You may discard 2 Port cards to gain 1 Official.

Record this on your record sheet.

Ship Phase

You may play 1 Shipping Meld. A Shipping meld consists of: 1 Clipper card 1 Port card X Goods cards of the same type. Score Points according to the value of X:

X	Tea	Cinn	Rubber	Sugar	Coffee	Indigo
5	15	17	20	23	25	27

Chain Home

Chain Home

by mike marinos mikemarininos@yahoo.com

The game combines successful use of radar and RAF fighter resources to intercept German air fleets during the Summer of 1940

Game Length Game lasts 15 moves.

Map

The map of England is divided into the 4 main sectors used during the Battle of Britain.

Raf Fighters

1. Allocate by filling in the circles 20 fighters between each sector and divide each sector between planes ready for Scramble and Reserve.
2. Scramble Aircraft can be committed at any time and before positive radar contact.
3. Reserve aircraft can be committed to another sector and can't participate in combat until they arrive at the sector. Reserve aircraft can only be committed to combat in a sector only on positive Radar contact.
4. Reserve aircraft take 4 moves to move from sector to sector.
5. Scramble aircraft will intercept within the sector
6. RAF planes do not need to be on the ground at the end of play.
7. RAF planes must be at the right height to intercept

Fighter Flight Duration

Planes can stay in the air for 6 moves. Planes can be rearmed and refuelled in 2 moves

German Aircraft

Allocate 24 aircraft to the 4 directions of attack

D6	Result
1-3	0 planes but 1 bomber unserviceable for one move
4-5	1 plane
6	2 plane

German Defense for each combat contact

D6	Result
1-2	planes but 1 aircraft unserviceable for 1 campaign move

Altitude

There are 3 levels of altitude It cost 1 movement point to go up one level.

Setting Up Chain Home

Efficiency is deducted from die roll increasing the chance of a radar intercept Allocate 5 efficiency points between the radar sites. Record the number in the Efficiency Box. Efficiency points do not need to be allocated

Roll and deduct efficiency points

- 1 height
- 2 number
- 3 nothing
- 4 nothing
- 5 nothing
- 6 nothing

Height

Roll 1d6

D6	Level
1-2	level 1
3-4	level 2
5-6	level 3

Roll 1 d6 = number of bombers

D6	Bombers

6	6

On first contact roll 1d6

- 6 feint - NOTHING THERE SUCKER reallocate quick!
Dogfight for each combat contact Dogfight can last 2 moves then contact must be broken. Roll 1 d6 for each attacking fighter

Bombing

When German bombers reach the RAF roundel roll 1d6 and mark of Sector damage
If bombers not intercepted

D6	Result
1-3	3 sector damage points
4-5	2 sector damage points
6	1 sector damage points

Bombers intercepted for 1 move before roundel

D6	Result
1-3	2 sector damage points
4-5	1 sector damage points
6	0 sector damage points

D6	Result
2-6	plane

Bombers intercepted for 2 moves before roundel

D6	Result
1-4	1 sector damage points
5-6	0 sector damage points

Designer Notes

I wanted a solo game that relied on allocating resources and then managing the resources and calculated guess rather than the straight roll of the dice. Everything based on D6. With the die = fog of war, technological uncertainty.

Chakras

Introduction

Card game for 2-4 players.

Victory

When the game ends, the player with the most Chakra points wins.

Game End

The game ends as soon as 7 total combos have been made. Each time a combo is made place a Lotus petal on the table. When there are 7 Lotus petals in place the game ends.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. All cards are numbered 1-7. These refer to the 7 Chakras. There are also 7 Suites.

Each Chakra has 1 card that belongs to 1 of the 7 Suites. The deck has 49 total cards.

Setup

Deal 7 cards to each player. Players keep their cards face up on the table in front of them. A players cards are called his Aura cards.

Deal another 7 face-up cards to the center of the table. These cards are called the Cosmic cards. The most Enlightened player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Cosmic Phase
2. Transcendence Phase
3. Alignment Phase

Cosmic Phase

Flip the top card of the Deck onto the center of the table. It becomes a Cosmic card. If there are no cards left in the deck, shuffle the Cosmic cards into The Deck and deal out 7 new Cosmic cards.

Transcendence Phase

Take any 1 Cosmic card and add it to your hand. Take any 1 of your Aura cards and place it in The middle of the table where it becomes a Cosmic card. This action is called a Transference.

A player should always have 7 cards at the end of the phase.

Alignment Phase

Check to see if you have a Combo. If not your turn ends. If you have a combo gain Chakra points according to the type of combo.

When you make a combo shuffle the combo cards and all the Cosmic Cards into the deck and deal out 7 new Cosmic cards to the table and 7 new cards to the player who just made the combo. If a Combo is made place a Lotus petal on the table.

Combos

There are 5 types of Combos:

Combo	CP	Notes:
Earth Star	3	All Different Suites - 3 of one Chakra and 4 of another
Navel	3	7 Chakras - 3 of one Suite and 4 of another Suite
Causal	7	7 Chakras - All Different Suites
Soul Star	7	7 Chakras - All the Same Suite
Stellar Gateway	7	1 Chakra - All Different Suites

CP Chakra Points

Transcendence Rule

You may do a Transfer with an aura card in an opponents hand (instead of a Cosmic card), but Only if it results in you getting a Combo this turn.

Champion Chess

Introduction

Two player card game with a chess theme. One player is the Black player, the other is the white player.

The Decks

Each player has his own deck. The Black deck and the White deck. The decks have 52 cards each.

Both decks are identical. There are 2 types of cards: Noble cards and Aid Cards. A players deck is also referred to as a Battle Deck.

Noble and Aid cards are mixed together in the deck. During play a player will accumulate two types of Discard Piles: The Reserve Pile, and the Defeated Pile. Discard piles are face up.

Object

Capture your opponents King.

Turn Sequence

Turns are simultaneous for both players. Draw Phase Champion Phase Aid Phase Revelation Phase Calculations Phase Resolution Phase Fate Phase End Phase

Draw Phase

Both players fill their hands to 7 cards from their own Battle decks. If your Battle deck is empty, shuffle your Reserve pile. This becomes your new Battle Deck.

Champion Phase

Each player places one Noble card from their hand down, face-up. The card so played is the Champion card. The two opposed Champions will now fight each other.

This fight is also called a Challenge. If a player has no Noble cards, he must discard his entire hand into his reserve pile and draw 7 new cards. He must first show his hand to prove he has no Noble cards.

Noble Card List

Aid Phase

Each player may play 0-6 Aid cards from their hand onto their champion, face-down. A champion may only use one Aid card of each type. For instance, the champion cannot use 2 swords, or ride 2 steeds.

The exception to this is the Pawn card. Multiple Pawn cards may be used.

Revelation Phase

All Aid cards are flipped over face-up.

Calculations Phase

Every card has a numerical value in three categories. The categories are: Movement, Attack, and Defense. Add up the totals in each category for each Champion.

For example a Knight Champion with a Sword and 2 Pawns would have scores of: Movement = 8, Attack = 18, Defense = 10

Resolution Phase

Compare the totals in each category for the two opposing Champions. A Champion with higher scores in all three categories wins the Challenge. A Champion with higher scores in two categories wins the Challenge.

If they are tied in two categories, the Champion with the higher score in the third category wins the Challenge. If they tie in all categories, both Champions lose. If they tie in one category, and each Champion is superior in one of the remaining categories, then both Champions lose.

Fate Phase

All Aid cards used this turn are put into their players Defeated Piles. Winning champions are placed in their players Reserve Pile. Losing (Captured) champions are placed into their players Defeated Pile.

If you lose your King, you lose the game.

End Phase

Players may discard none, some, or all of the cards in their hands into their reserve pile.

Type	#	Move	Attack	Defend
King	1	2	2	10
Queen	1	10	10	2
Bishop	4	8	6	4

Type	#	Move	Attack	Defend
Rook	4	6	4	8
Knight	4	4	8	6

The number of these cards in the deck.

Aid Card List

Pawn	8	2	2	2
Steed	5	6	0	0
Armor	5	0	0	6
Sword	5	0	6	0

Type	#	Move	Attack	Defend
Feint	5	3	0	3
Shield	5	0	3	3
Magic	5	3	3	0

Optional Rule: Castling

The First time you are forced to play your king, you may replace him with a Rook from your Battle Deck, if you have one in there.

Game Designers Notes

The game came to me in a flash, but the name didn't. Other prototype names included: Drawchess, Studchess, Chessdeck and The Blacks & the Whites.

Champion Fantasy Fight Club

by Zaks

Introduction

4 Player variant of the basic game. Combat between 3-4 opposing fantasy warbands. Game progresses in 2 stages: Recruit Stage Battle Stage

The Decks

There are 5 Decks: Warrior Deck (include standard Warriors and Champions).

- Weapon Deck
- Armor Deck
- Spell Deck
- Fight Deck

Damage

Use tokens to keep track of hits, ammo, and spell effects. Six sided dice are needed.

Recruit Stage

Players create their Warband:

Take the Champion cards out of the Warrior deck; shuffle both decks. Each player is dealt 5 Warriors and 1 Champion. You can replace any one Warrior with the next card on the Warrior deck. Each player is dealt half of the Weapon deck.

Each player is dealt half of the Armor deck. Lay out your warriors on the table in front of you face in one or two groups; each group can have up in 2 rows. The Rows are the front row and the back row.

There must be at least as many or more warriors in the first row as the second. Assign weapon and armor cards to your warriors. Assigned equipment cards are placed face up partially under the warrior.

A warrior can have one shield and one helmet. A warrior can have a Full suit of armor or one or more Partial armor cards. A warrior can carry several weapons but can only use one per turn.

Each unit that has spells draws that number of spell cards from the spell deck. Spell cards are placed under the warrior face down. Warriors using 2 handed weapons may carry shields but do not benefit from them.

Battle Stage

The opposing warbands fight. Each turn has 4 phases:

- Draw Phase Tactics Phase Move Phase
Attack Phase

Draw Phase

Discard some or all unused Fight cards from last turn. Each player fills their hand to 7 cards from the Fight Deck. If the deck runs out shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Tactics Phase

Make sure the warriors in your front row equal or outnumber your back row. Warriors can freely be moved from one row to the other this phase. Designate which of his weapons each of your warriors is using this turn.

The weapon of choice is placed on top of his stack of equipment. Some spells are used in this phase.

Move Phase

In this phase you can

- Split your group in two groups (if you have just one group in play): no cards are needed to split.
- Combine two groups in one: you must play a Move card or discard 2 Fight cards to combine your groups into one.
- Play a Terrain card on any group: the selected group won't be able to attack in the next Attack Phase (you can play also a Terrain card on a group owned by another player)
- Play a Move card or discard 2 Fight cards to remove a Terrain on a group of yours
- Play a Move card or discard 3 Fight cards to remove a Terrain on any group.

Attack Phase

The active player designate his attacking groups and the targets. The other two players (not the target obviously) can send one or more groups in support to the attacker or to the defender. When two or more groups collaborate the resulting front row is composed of all the single front rows of each group (the same apply to the back row). Warriors with ranged weapons attack first. Warriors with ranged weapons with higher range scores attack before ones with lower scores.

Warriors with ranged weapons can attack from the front or back row. Warriors may either attack warriors in the opponents front row or roll 1D6:

D6	Result
1-3	Attack target in front row
4-5	Hesitate: Do not attack
6	Attack target in back row

For each ranged attack roll 1D6. On a roll of 4-6 the attack hits. Add the attackers skill, subtract the targets dodge roll and add the attack modifier of the terrain (if any) where the defender is placed. Subtract 1 if the attacker is attacking from the back rating.

If the defender is hit but has a shield roll 1D6. If the roll is within the shields blocking range the attack is blocked. Thrown weapons do not have to be used in ranged attacks, they may be used for HTH instead.

Note that thrown weapons have limited ammo if they are used in ranged combat. Many Spells have ranges and so are played at the same time as ranged attacks. A spell is discarded after it is played. A spell-caster can only cast one spell per turn.

D6	Result
1-3	The warrior with the greater speed attacks first
4-6	The warrior with the weapon with longer reach attacks first

For each HTH attack roll 1D6. On a roll of 4-6 the attack hits. Add the attackers skill and subtract the targets dodge rating and weapon parry value. If the defender is hit but has a shield roll 1D6.

If the roll is within the shields blocking range the attack is blocked. If an attack hits roll 1D6. Add the Next warriors in the front row with HTH (Hand-to-hand) weapons may attack targets in the opponents front row. Warriors that have the Backstab ability may roll 1D6:

D6	Result
1-4	Do not attack this turn
5-6	Attack a target in the opponents back row

Opposing Warriors pair up. The warrior with the highest speed rating picks his opponent first and so on until all Warriors in the front rows have picked, or have been picked. If one side has more warriors they may double up on enemy warriors. For each pairing roll 1D6:

warriors damage bonuses and subtract the opponents armor bonuses.

If the result is positive, the target warrior loses that many hits. If a warrior is reduced to 0 or less hits it is killed.

Charge Of The Light Brigade

Introduction

Solo Dice & Record Keeping Game. Simulation of the Charge of the Light Brigade, the final phase of battle of Balaclava in 1854.

Materials

Six sided Dice, Paper, Pencil.

Your Men

The player controls a British cavalry group of 12 men known as a 'Troop'. All men are mounted on horses. All men are armed with a sword.

Skill Table

1D6	Skill Type:	Notes:
1-	Riding	+1 to Evade Rolls
2	Horsemanship	+1 to Spur Rolls
3	Steadfast	+1 to Morale Rolls

Dragoons get a -1 modifier to the roll. Hussars get a +1 modifier to the roll. Roll modifiers only apply to that man.

Game Length

Your Troop will have to traverse 20 'spaces' before mixing in with the Russian Gun Battery. Once any of your men reach the battery, there will be 5 turns of Melee. After this, your troop must turn around and return 20 spaces the way it came.

Draw a row of boxes 20 spaces long. Use this to record the location of your troop.

Turn Sequence

1. Movement or Melee Phase
2. Morale Phase
3. Rally Phase

Movement Phase

All of your men attempt to move forward one space every turn not in Melee: Roll on the Encounter Table for each man. If the encounter indicates Flat, the man automatically moves forward one space. If there is an

One of the men is the Captain, the leader of the troop. Another man is the Trumpeter. The other 10 men are referred to as riders.

There are 3 types of Troops: Dragoons, Hussars, and Lancers. Pick which type you want your troop to be.

Rooster

Write the name of each of your men. Each man has 1 skill. Roll on the skill table and record it. The Captain has 3 skills: Riding, Horsemanship, and Fighting.

The Captain is never killed. Treat all kill results as wounds. Other info that will be recorded as the game proceeds include: Wounds sustained by each man. The space (Location) each man occupies.

The morale of each man. Spur points on each mans horse.

1D6	Skill Type:	Notes:
4	Steadfast	+1 to Morale Rolls
5	Fighting	+1 to Fight Rolls
6+	Tough	+1 to Kill Rolls

obstacle, roll on the appropriate table to see what type it is.

Roll 1D6. (The Evade Roll) If this is equal to or greater than the obstacle value move the man forward one space. If it is less, the rider does not move forward and suffers a wound on a roll of 1-2 on 1D6. If it is a Fire Encounter, roll 1D6.

If this is equal to or less than the Hit value the man is hit. If the man is hit roll 1D6. (The Kill Roll) If this is equal to or less than the Kill value the man is killed. (Killed also including seriously wounded or having a horse shot out from under you) If hit but not killed, the man is wounded.

If not killed by the fire the man automatically moves forward one space

Spurring

You may have a man spur his horse. A Horse can only be spurred once per turn. The rider gains 1 Spur point.

(The horse goes from a trot to a gallop.) This allows a man to:

1. Move a second time this turn. (Repeat the Movement Phase)
2. Get +2 to an Evade or Fight roll

Roll 2D6 (The Spur Roll) If this is less than the riders Spur point total the horse is blown. A Blown horse cannot be Spurred and gets -1 to all evade rolls. If a man on a blown horse ever encounters a riderless horse, he may switch horses.

The 'new' horse will have 1D6 Spur points.

Break Table

1D6	Result:	Notes:
1-3	Hurried	The man will spur next turn to move an extra space forward
4-5	Hesitates	The man will not move forward next turn unless he spurs
6	Retreats	The man turns tail and flees the field

Rally Phase

The Captain may attempt to rally either all Hurried or all Hesitant or all Retreating men in the troop. Roll 1D6 (The Rally Roll): On a roll of 4-6 the target men are rallied and do not suffer the Results of the Break Table. Add one to the roll if the Trumpeter is still alive and in the same space as the Captain.

Encounter Table

1D6	Encounter
1-	Flat & Level
2	Flat & Even
3	Ground Obstacle

Melee

If a man is in the Battery (Space 20) he rolls on the Melee Table instead of the Encounter Table. Roll 1D6. (The Fight Roll): If this is equal to or greater than the Fight value of the opponent, the Russian is killed. If it is less, the rider rolls 1D6 (Kill Roll): The Rider suffers a wound on a roll of 1-3. On 4-6 the rider is killed.

Wounds

A man with one or more wounds gets -1 to Rally rolls. A man with two or more wounds gets -1 to Morale & Evade rolls. A man with three or more wounds gets -1 to Fight rolls.

Front Rank Option

At the beginning of the game you may choose to have your troop be in the front rank of the Charge. If so, during the approach treat all Man Obstacle Encounters as Flat. In spaces 15-19, treat Flat & Level rolls as Cannon Fire.

Stragglers

On the way back any encounters with wounded men add 1 wounded rider to your troop.

Scoring

Get 2 points for every man that makes it back alive. Get 1 point for every Russian killed during the Melee.

History

Of the 673 men who went into action 113 were killed and 247 badly wounded.

Faq

Questions by Volkhard...

> 1) May I pick a mixed British cavalry group of 12 men (3 Hussars, 4 Dragoons, 5 Lancers) or may I only choose 12 men of the same troop type (either Dragoons or Hussars or Lancers) ? A) My original intent was that they all be of the same type. That seems more historically accurate to me, all the men in the same unit would be of the same type.

> Turn Sequence

> 2) Is there a morale phase and a rally phase on the way back after the fifth turn of melee with the Russian gun battery ? A) I forgot my original intention, but looking closely, I'll say yes, confusion, smoke, and all that.

> Since all surviving men of my troop retreat from battlefield after the fifth turn of melee with the Russian gun battery morale is irrelevant, unless the surviving men of my troop are attacked by other Russian troops on the way back. The rules did not mention that there is another battle with Russians on the way back. A) I haven't read up on the subject lately, but I'm sure the Russians must have got a few shots in at the retreating English on their way back. Smoke might have been an issue and some of the Russian units might have been disorganized, but the Cossacks are famous for attacking retreating forces. For now presume that have to fight their way back

> Stragglers > Any encounters with wounded men add 1 wounded rider to my troop on the way back.

> 3) Do the wounded riders encountered on the way back count as a part of my troop that I picked at the beginning of the game or do they join my troop as a part of another British cavalry troop not controlled by the player ? A) They could be anybody, but you get credit for bringing them back. If needs be, roll a random skill for them, and give them 1D6-3 wounds. Roll 1D6: On a roll of 1-3 they have their own horse with 1D6-1 Spur points; on 4-6 they share a Horse with one of your other riders randomly selected, or if within 4 spaces of home, they simply walk back.

> 4) Do I score 2 points for each of these riders(stragglers), if they survive until the end of the game ? A) Yes

> Captain and Trumpeter

> 5) Do the captain and the trumpeter attempt to rally themselves at the rally phase, if they failed at the morale phase ? Do the captain and the trumpeter retreat from battle, if they roll a "Retreats" result at the morale phase and fail at the rally phase? Do all men of my troop retreat from the battle automatically, if the captain or the trumpeter retreats at the rally phase ? A) The Captain never fails morale, however the Trumpeter can.

8) Must I nevertheless add one to the rally rolls for the trumpeter and the captain and the rally rolls for the other riders who failed at the morale phase, if the trumpeter is in the same space as the captain and rolled a "Retreats" result at the morale phase ? Must I nevertheless add one to the rally rolls for the trumpeter and the captain and the rally rolls for the other riders who failed at the morale phase, if the trumpeter is in the same space as the captain and rolled a "Hurried" result or a "Hesitates" result at the morale phase ? A)No, you don't get the bonus if the Trumpeter is retreating, hurried, or hesitating.

> Wounds

> 10) What is the maximum (number) of wounds which each rider can take, to survive the battle ? A) 4 Wounds kills a Normal man. 5 Wounds kills a Steadfast man. 6 Wounds kills a Tough man.

Additional Material

by Ron Pehr <raven@wizard.com> Started playing this last night. Realizing that continual dice rolling is what happens in a solo game, I have to say it got a bit laborious to do exactly the same rolls twelve times each turn (until, of course, you start losing troopers). Rather than marking position on the card for each man, I laid them out next to numbered pieces of paper (could use chits or dice) indicating what space they were on, as the troop is seldom broken far apart. Thus, if most of the troop is at, say, "4" there'll be stragglers at "3" maybe "2" and the hard-chargers at "5" so you don't actually have to lay out all 20. Alternately, could do that, have a sort of board marked out in 20 spaces and put the cards for each trooper in whatever space he's reached. Here are the cards I made for the captain and the troopers. You put check marks on the lines for the status, in pencil so it can be erased and re-used.

Captain:

Name:	.
Skills:	Riding (+1 evade)
	Horsemanship (+1 spur)
	Fighting (+1 fight)
Wounds:	one (-1 rally)
	two (-1 morale, -1 evade)
	three+(-1 fight)
Morale:	Hurried (must spur next turn)
	Hesitate (spur or don't move next turn)
	Retreat
Spur Points:	.

Trooper:

Name:	.
Skills:	Riding (+1 evade)
	Horsemanship (+1 spur)
	Steadfast (+1 morale)
	Fighting (+1 fight)
	Tough (+1 kill)
Wounds:	one (-1 rally)
	two (-1 morale, -1 evade)
	three+(-1 fight)
Morale:	Hurried (must spur next turn)
	Hesitate (spur or don't move next turn)
	Retreat
Spur Points:	.

The Trumpeter is same as a "Trooper" just label it as such. Have presumed that if Trumpeter demoralized he nevertheless adds the +1 when rallying roll made if in same space as Captain, and that the Captain similarly can rally himself.

Chess Challenge

Intoduction

Solo Puzzle placement game using a standard Chess Set.

Setup

Place the eight black pawns on the board. Each Row and each column must contain exactly 1 pawn. One way to do this is to number the bottom of the pawns 1 to 8.

*	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1
2	2	2	2	2	*	2	2	2
3	*	3	3	3	3	3	3	3
4	4	4	4	4	4	*	4	4

Solve The Puzzle

Use the 8 white back row men. (King, Queen, 2 Bishops, 2 Knights, 2 Rooks) Do not use any white pawns Place the 8 men on the board so that each black pawn would be Captured at least twice by white men. Note that white pieces can block each other.

Note

I have tried this twice and each time I was 1 capture short on 1 black pawn. I am assuming some combinations are solvable. Here is one of those tries:

5	5	5	5	5	5	*	5
6	6	*	6	6	6	6	6	6
7	7	7	*	7	7	7	7	7
8	8	8	8	8	8	8	8	*

Chinese Rummy

Introduction

Card game for 2-3 players. Chinese symbolism theme with rummy/poker mechanics.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 27 cards. There are 5 Suites each with 5 cards numbered 1-5.

The 5 Suites are:

1. The 5 Elements
2. The 5 Blessings
3. The 5 Virtues
4. The 5 Directions
5. The 5 Beasts for Sacrifice

In addition there is 1 Yin card and 1 Yang card.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Players cut high to see who goes first. Each player is dealt 5 random cards.

Flip one card from the deck into the discard. The Deck is kept face down. The Discard pile is kept face up.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. At the beginning of your turn take either the top card of the Deck or the Discard pile.

Double Decks

When playing with 4-6 people use 2 Decks shuffled together. When using Double Decks, a Meld may not contain duplicate cards.

At the end of your turn discard one card from your hand.

The first player to make a Meld wins the game.

Melds

There are 3 possible types of Melds: Flush Straight Five of a Kind

Flush

All 5 cards from one Suite.

Straight

Five cards numbered 1-5. They must all be from different suites.

Five Of A Kind

All cards with the same number. They must all be from different suites.

The Yin Card

The Yin card can be used as a wild card for a Flush.

The Yang Card

The Yang card can be used as a wild card for a Five of a Kind.

Recruitment

Units start in or adjacent to villages and strongholds. There are no limits to purchases of Peasants, Thugs, Bodyguards, and Lieutenants. Every time you go to buy one of the other types roll 1D6 (Availability Roll): On a roll of 1-3 there are none of that type left available to you this turn.

Initiative

Roll high on 1D6 to see which player goes first in all of the following phases this turn.

Movement

You may move your units a number of spaces up to their Movement rating. No stacking limit: Any number of units per space.

Income

Collect revenue from villages and stronghold.

Combat

Units may attack enemy stacks in range. A unit may attack once per turn. Carried units may attack.

Upkeep

Total the cost of all your units and divide by 10. Pay this amount in income. This covers food, pay, gas,

Victory Tokens

Use coins or poker chips as Victory Tokens.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are 7 cards types: Trait, Plot, Location, Ally, Villain, Foe, Woman

Setup

Each player is dealt a hand of 7 cards. The youngest player goes first. Play proceeds clockwise.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases: Draw Phase Meld Phase Action Phase Discard Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 2 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Common Deck Card List

City Guard

Introduction

Fantasy Setting. Worker Placement/Card Game for 2-4+ players. Players are Captains of the Guard defending a city from a plague of Monsters. Players recruit Heroes and equip them to defeat the various threats.

Victory

The player with the most Gold at the end of the game wins. The game ends when the Monster Deck is depleted.

Dice

Six sided Dice are needed.

#	Type:	Color	Bonus
1.	Warrior Cubes	(Red)	Strength +1 vs Brute Monsters
2.	Mage Cubes	(Blue)	Strength +1 vs Magical Monsters
3.	Priest Cubes	(White)	Strength +1 vs Undead Monsters
4.	Ranger Cubes	(Green)	Strength +1 vs Beast Monsters
5.	Soldier Cubes	(Black)	No Bonus

About 10 of each should be sufficient. These can be Meeples. All Cubes are Heroes.

All Cubes have a Base Strength of 1. These are kept in a common Pool area near the Bank.

Decks

There are 3 Decks:

- 1. The Monster Deck
- 2. The Item Deck
- 3. The Hero Deck

Monster Deck Cards

These will occupy the 3 Foe spaces on the board. Each Monster has a Strength Rating of 3-8 which must be equaled or exceeded to defeat it. When a Monster is Defeated the player will get a bounty in gold equal to its Strength.

When the Deck is Depleted the game is over. There are 4 types of Monsters: Magical, Undead, Brute, and Beast. Various Cubes and Cards will give bonuses against specific types of Monsters.

Item Deck Cards

These cards go into a players hand. When played, they are discarded into the appropriate discard pile. If the Deck ever runs out, shuffle the Discard and draw from it.

Gold

Use fake coins for gold. These are kept in a common Bank area.

Action Tokens

Each player will need their own set of 8-10 action tokens of a unique color. These can be pawns. All players place Tokens you are not using in a Separate common area near the Bank.

Hero Cubes

There are 5 types of Hero Cubes:

These represent (Single Use) Weapons, Relics, and objects useful to the Heroes. The back of the card should depict a crossed Sword and Staff.

Hero Deck Cards

These cards go into a players hand. When played, they are discarded into the appropriate discard pile. If the Deck ever runs out, shuffle the Discard and draw from it.

These represent (Single Use) Spells, Skills, and Events beneficial to the Heroes. The back of the card should depict a Guard at his Post.

Your Hand

Your hand will contain both Hero and Item Cards.

Your Zone

The small area of table directly in front of your seat. Keep your Gold, your Cubes, and your Action Tokens in your Zone.

The Board

The Board has 23 Action Spaces and 3 Foe Boxes Spaces must be big enough to contain 1 Action Token. Boxes must be big enough to contain 1 Monster Card.

Action Space List

#	Space:	Notes:
1.	Guild Hall	Gain 1 Action Token (This costs 5 Gold)
2.	Tavern	Roll on the Tavern Table. Unlimited Capacity
3.	Arena	Gain 1 Warrior Cube
4.	Tower	Gain 1 Mage Cube
5.	Temple	Gain 1 Priest Cube
6.	Barracks	Gain 1 Soldier Cube
7.	Lodge	Gain 1 Ranger Cube
8.	Dwarf Hall	Roll on the Dwarf Hall Table
9.	Elf Grotto	Roll on the Elf Grotto Table
10.	Mercenaries	Pay 1 Gold for 1 Hero of any Type
11.	Guard Tower	Gain 1 Gold
12.	Academy	Gain 1 Hero Card
13.	Market	Gain 2 Items
14.	Town Hall	You become Leader: Go First Next Turn
15.	Alchemist	Your Heroes get +1 vs Magic Monsters
16.	Druids Grove	Your Heroes get +1 vs Beast Monsters
17.	Shrine	Your Heroes get +1 vs Undead Monsters
18.	Tactician	Your Heroes get +1 vs Brute Monsters
19.	Oracle	Your Priests get +1
20.	Library	Your Mages get +1
21.	Fletcher	Your Rangers get +1
22.	Sword Smith	Your Warriors get +1
23.	Shield Smith	Your Soldiers get +1

Monster Boxes

These 3 Boxes are labeled:

1. Catacombs (Foe gets -1 Strength)
2. Dark Woods
3. Ancient Ruins (Foe gets +1 Strength)

Setup

Shuffle the Decks. Place the top 3 cards of the Monster Deck face-up onto the 3 Foe Boxes. Each player starts with 3 Action Tokens and 2 Gold.

Players roll high on 1D6 to see who goes first. This person becomes the Leader. Play proceeds clockwise.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 3 Phases:

1. Hero Phase
2. Action Phase
3. End Phase

Hero Phase

Each player draws 1 card from the Hero deck and adds it to their hand.

Action Phase

Players take turns placing 1 of their Action Tokens onto the Board. The Leader goes first. Continue clockwise until all Action Tokens of all Players are placed.

Action Tokens may be placed onto Action Spaces or Foe Boxes.

Only a single Token may be placed on a Space or Box in a Turn. Once you claim a space or a Box no other player may place a token there. The exception is the Tavern. The Tavern can hold any number of Action Tokens.

When you place a Token resolve the terms of the Space or Box immediately. Effects are either one time (Gain 1 Gold) or last to the end of the turn (Your Mages get +1). If you claim a Foe Box see the Battle Rules Section.

End Phase

Remove all Action Tokens from the Board back to players Zones. Max hand size is 7 Cards. Discard excess cards. Place new Foes from the top of the Deck onto empty Foe Boxes.

Battle Rules

To place an Action Token on a Foe Box, you must have enough Strength to defeat the Monster there. Monsters will have a Strength of 3-8 according to the Monster Card. You must commit at least one Cube to the battle. All Cubes have a base Strength of 1.

Some cubes have +1 Strength vs certain Monster Types. You may also play 1 or more Cards from your hand. Action spaces you have claimed this turn will give bonuses to certain types of Cubes and against certain types of Monsters.

Cards you play this turn will give bonuses to certain types of Cubes and against certain types of Monsters. The combined strength of your Cubes plus Card and Space bonuses must equal or Exceed the Strength of the Monster Card to defeat it. When Defeated discard the Monster card and all Committed Cubes and played cards.

At this point you may play (discard) a Save card. This will prevent a specific type of Cube from being lost. Return the Cube to your Zone instead. Gain Gold (The Bounty) equal to the Strength of the Monster Card.

Concealment, Fighting, Fitness, Leadership, Medicine, Presence

Travel Power Sets For All Heroes

Leaping, Flight, Speed, Teleportation

Villains

See the bottom of the page for Villain Gang Unit Lists & Power Sets.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 phases:

1. Action Phase
2. Move Phase
3. Fight Phase
4. Recovery Phase

Action Phase

Draw 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card or Special Power card to move one of your units. The Move card or Power has a number, which is the number of spaces the unit moves. Moves are diagonal or orthogonal.

Units cannot move through other units except for Flyers. When Teleporting, the Unit may go to any empty space in sight of the Teleporter.

Fight Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card or Power card to have a unit attack. Each attack will have a range. Attacks are diagonal or orthogonal.

Units cannot attack through other units. Adjacent attacks affect every unit in a space touching that of the attacker. Area Affect attacks effect the target space & every adjacent space.

Attacks do Damage. Use Damage Counters to record damage. Each point of Damage reduces a Units Hits by 1. Units reduced to zero hits are knocked out (KO).

KO units are no longer functional for the rest of the battle. Units hit by a stun attack cannot move, defend, or attack next turn. Units hit by a Knock Back (KB) must move 1 space away from the Center of the attack or the source of the attack.

Dodge cards can be played to completely negate the effect of an attack on a target. Resist cards reduce the damage done by an attack. Cone Attacks affect 1 space at range = 1, 2 spaces at range =2, and so on.

Recovery Phase

Units that took damage from a Fire attack this turn take 1 additional point of damage now. Healing Powers can be used in this phase. If a Unit is Knocked out Healing won't work.

A Revive Power will return a KO unit back to action with 1 Hit. Max hand size = 10 cards. Discard excess cards.

Action Deck Card List

Name:	#	Type	Range	Dam	Notes:
Walk	4	M	1	-
Run	4	M	2	-
Sprint	4	M	3	-

Action Limits

Each Unit may only move once a turn and attack once per turn.

Special Powers

Discard a Special Power Card (SPC) to activate (use) a unit's special power. The SPC are numbered 1 to 9. (SPC-1, SPC-2, etc. . .) These numbers correspond to the ranks of the Powers on every primary & secondary Power List. For example: Lets say you have a Blaster Hero with the Assault Rifle & Device Power Sets.

You have SPC-3 in your hand. You can use the card to have the Hero use his Buckshot Power or his Taser Power, or you can use the card to activate a Power of another Hero in play you control.

Tertiary Powers

This includes Travel & Skill Power Sets. These power sets are more limited than the Primary & Secondary sets. Any type of hero can have any type of Tertiary set.

They work like Special Powers except that they use TPC and not SPC cards.

Taunting

Target Unit must move towards or attack the Taunter next turn or Opponent must discard 1 Action card.

City Services

Introduction

Tile Laying game for 2-4 players.

Winning

The player with the highest score at the end of the game is the winner. The game ends when there are no tiles left in the cups and no one is Able to place another tile.

The Board

A 10 x 10 board is used (Square Grid) The tiles must fit into the board grid squares. The board is also referred to as the Map.

Tile	#	Range	Notes
Roads	5	2	Highways, Bridges, Tunnels
Power	5	2	Power Plants, Wind Farms
Water	5	2	Water Towers, Pumping Stations
Sewage	5	2	Treatment Plants
Waste	3	3	Dumps, Landfills, Recycling
Fire	3	3	Fire Stations
Police	3	3	Police Stations, Jail
Health	3	3	Hospitals, Clinics
Government	3	3	Town Hall, Post Office, County Clerk
Parks	3	3	Green Spaces, Beaches
Education	3	3	Schools, Museums, Libraries
Transportation	3	3	Harbor, Airport, Train Station
Entertainment	3	3	Arena, Concert Hall, Theme Park
Religious	3	3	Churches, Temples

Setup

Place each set (Zone and Service) in a separate cup (or box). Each player starts with a hand of 1 Zone Tile and 1 Service Tile randomly drawn. The most industrious player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 Phases:

1. Plan Phase
2. Build Phase
3. Revenue Phase

Plan Phase

Draw 2 random Service Tiles and 2 random Zone Tiles and add them to your hand.

Tile Sets

There are 2 Tile Sets: The Zone Set and the Service Set. Each set has 50 Tiles.

The Zone Set

The Zone Set Mix:

Tile:	#	Notes:
Residential	25	Suburbs, Apartments
Commercial	15	Malls, Markets, Financial
Industrial	10	Factories, Manufacturing

The Service Set

The Service Set Mix:

Build Phase

Place 2 of your Zone Tiles, then 2 of your Service Tiles. The first tile of the game must be placed in one of the center 4 spaces of the Map. When played, a Tile must be adjacent, along a side (not a corner), to another tile already placed.

Revenue Phase

For each Service Tile you place, gain 1 Point for each Zone Tile in range that is not already in Range of a Service Tile of the same type. Note that some Service tiles have a range of 2 and others have a range of 3. Ranges do extend through the diagonal.

Placement Limits

Residential and Industrial Zones cannot be placed adjacent (side by side) to each other. Transportation and Entertainment services (due to noise) cannot be placed next to residential. Likewise Waste Services (due to smell) cannot be placed next to residential either.

If this means you cannot place the full number of tiles you normally would be allowed then Just keep the extra tile in your hand.

Scoring Limits

Parks, Religious, and Entertainment Service Tiles do not score Industry Zones.

City States

Introduction

War and politics in ancient Greece.

Dice

Six and Ten sided dice are required.

The Board

Use a map of the Aegean circa 430 B.C. Divide the map into spaces, either hexagonal or irregular shaped. Make sure to include cities that existed at the time.

Victory

Control the most city states at the end of 36 turns.

Alternate Fantastical Board

Have the map be geographically inaccurate collection of islands and small land masses. Include the following city states: Athens (Athenians), Sparta (Spartans), Troy (Trojans), Archea (Archeans), Ionia (Ionians), Thebes (Thebians), Corinth (Corinthians), Thrace (Tracians), Crete (Cretans), Doria (Dorians), Amazonia (Amazonians), Macedonia (Macedonians)

Terrain Chart

There are several types of spaces:

Type	Move Cost	Stack	Defense	Notes
Water (Sea)	1	4	-	Fleets only
Clear	1	5	-
Farms	1	4	-
Fishng Villages	1	4	-	Fleets may dock
Mountainous	X	X	-	Impassable
Mountain Pass	2	1	+7
Forest	2	2	+3
Swamp	2	2	-2
Hills	2	3	+4
Cities	2	4	+5	Fleets may dock
Sandy Coast	1	4	-	Fleets may beach
Rocky Coast	2	3	-1

Move Cost = Move cost of unit to enter the space.
Stack = Maximum number of Armies or fleets that may occupy the space. Defense = Modifier a Defending unit gets to its Defense roll.

(Attackers do not get the modification!)

Scales

Each space = 400 square miles. Each turn is = 1 Month. An army unit is composed of 5000 men of various troop types.

Most troops were heavily armed hoplites, supported by light infantry, and some cavalry/chariots. A Fleet unit is composed of 25 Triremes (Each carries 170 rowers and 30 marines/officers).

Setup

Each player chooses one city on the map to be their home city. Players should not choose adjacent cities. Shuffle the deck.

Each player is dealt a hand of 5 cards. Each home city starts with 2 Armies, 2 Rowers and 2 Fleets. (Or 4 Armies if landlocked) Each home city starts with a treasury containing 10 Gold. Each home city starts with 3 Leaders.

Each home city starts with 6 City Traits. Roll on charts to determine Hero Traits and City Traits. Players roll high on 1D10 to determine turn order.

All minor cities are considered to be neutral.

Home Cities

Home cities have a base income = 7 Gold per turn. Home cities have Defense Modifier = +8

Minor Cities

Any city not chosen to be a Home city is a minor city. Minor cities have a base income = 1D6 Gold per turn. Roll once at the beginning of the game.

This base income is fixed for the remainder of the game. The map may have base incomes of cities written onto it.

Units

There are 6 types of units: Armies, Rowers, Fleets, Transports, Baggage, and Leaders. Armies and Rowers have a recruitment cost of 2 gold. Armies and Rowers have an upkeep cost of 1 gold per turn each.

Baggage has a recruitment cost = 1 and no upkeep. Transports has a recruitment cost = 2 and no upkeep. Fleets have a recruitment cost = 4 and no upkeep.

Leaders have no recruitment cost or upkeep. Transports are merchant round ships, whereas Fleets are composed of Trireme long boats (warships).

Stacking Rules

Each terrain type has a stacking limit. Stacking limits apply only to Armies, Fleets and Transports. Leaders and Baggage do not count against stacking limits.

A Fleet can carry one unit of Rowers and 2 Baggage units. An Army (Not on a transport at sea) can carry up to 4 Baggage units. A Transport can carry one Army unit or 8 Baggage units.

An Army or Fleet can carry any number of Leaders.

Counters

Use counters or chits to represent units. Each player has a set of counters of a unique color. Armies, baggage, rowers, transports, and Fleets are non-unique.

Leaders are unique so each counter must be numbered or named. Use counters to represent gold. Additional unit status counters are necessary to identify the following conditions: Razed, Hostile, Starvation

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains one of each of the cards in the card list.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 9 phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Revenue Phase
3. Upkeep Phase
4. Recruit Phase
5. Diplomacy Phase
6. First Move Phase

7. Sea Battle Phase
8. Land Battle Phase
9. Second Move Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 2 cards from the deck. Maximum hand size = 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

If the deck runs out shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Revenue Phase

Collect revenue from your Home City, and all Minor cities you control. Revenue is in "Gold". Cities under siege cannot produce revenue.

A city is considered to be under siege if there is an enemy army (or rowers) or fleet adjacent to it. Hostile minor cities generate only half revenue (rounding up). Razed cities produce no income.

Each city with Razed counters on it may remove 1 counter this phase.

Upkeep Phase

An Army or Rowers must be in or adjacent to a friendly city to receive upkeep. Razed cities and Cities under siege cannot provide upkeep. Pay 1 gold to upkeep each such Army and Rowers you control.

Units completely surrounded by enemy units cannot receive upkeep, but they can use baggage counters. If a unit receives upkeep or uses up a baggage counter remove any starvation counters on it. Leaders and ships do not require upkeep.

If a Baggage unit is used up discard it. If a unit does not receive upkeep or baggage roll 1D6 (The upkeep roll): 1-5 Nothing. Put a starvation counter on the unit. 6+ The unit disbands or surrenders.

Add 1 to the roll for every starvation counter on the unit. Subtract 1 from the roll if the unit is in farmland or fishing village terrain.

Recruit Phase

Each city may recruit 1 Army or Rowers or Fleet or Transport. To recruit (Build) a Fleet or transport, the city must be adjacent to the sea. Each city may recruit up to 6 baggage units per turn.

Newly recruited units are placed in the city space. Pay the Recruitment cost of the unit. The unit starts in the City.

Each Home City state may also make one 1D10 'Experience Roll' per turn.

1-9 Nothing happens

10 Gain 1 Leader 50% or Gain 1 Random City Trait 50%

Razed, besieged, and hostile cities may not recruit.

Diplomacy Phase

Every player gets one free diplomacy roll per turn. Leader Traits, City Traits, and Cards allow additional diplomacy rolls. When making a diplomacy roll, target any hostile, neutral, or enemy controlled minor city state.

Roll 1D6 (The Diplomacy Roll):

D6 Result

1-5 Nothing Happens

6+ Remove Hostility counter or Gain control of Neutral city state or Enemy city state revolts.

Add one to the Diplomacy roll if the city is hostile. If there is a revolt, place 1D3 Rebel units in the City. They will attack any Enemy units in the city.

If a city contains no enemy units and only rebel units, it becomes neutral. Discard rebel units from a neutral city. Place a control marker on any city you control.

First Move Phase

Units have a certain number of Move points they can use per turn. Armies and Rowers can move 4 spaces on land. Leaders can move 6 spaces on land.

Armies "use up" 2 movement points to enter Forest & Hill spaces. Manned Fleets can move 10 spaces by sea. Transports can move 8 spaces by sea.

A Fleet requires rowers aboard to move and fight. Transports may carry rowers, but do not require them to move. Fleets and Transports can enter city, sandy, and fishing village coastal hexes.

Baggage that is not carried cannot move by itself. Leaders move with Armies and Fleets or independently. Your units may not enter Neutral or enemy cities.

D6 Result

1-4 the unit was destroyed/captured (And any Leaders/Armies/Rowers/Baggage onboard)

5-6 the unit retreats to an adjacent space containing no enemies

(If this move is not possible the unit is destroyed) Transports with Armies get a battle roll of 1D6. Ships in coastal spaces are considered to be beached. They may be attacked this turn.

Land Battle Phase

Your units may attack enemy units in an adjacent space. You may combine the attacks of all of your units adjacent to an enemy stack. For every Army unit attacking roll 1D10 (Attack Roll) and add any City Trait bonuses to get the Attack Total.

The opponent rolls 1D10 (Defense Roll) + bonuses for every defending Army in the stack to get the Defense Total. Leader Traits can modify Battle rolls. Both players may play cards to increase or modify these Battle totals.

The side with the higher Battle total is the winner. The loser must roll 1D6 (Casualty Roll) for each of his units in the battle: 1-4 the unit was destroyed/captured. 5-6 the unit retreats to an adjacent space containing no enemies (If this move is not possible the unit is destroyed) Rowers get a battle roll of 1D6.

Cities get a Defense roll of 1D6. There is always a garrison present. (This is in addition to any armies present) Attackers get +1 to their rolls if they are attacking a hostile city. Terrain defense modifiers only

Your units cannot enter spaces occupied by enemy Armies, Rowers, or manned Fleets. If your Armies, Rowers, or manned Fleets enter a space containing only enemy Leaders, Baggage, Transports, or unmanned Fleets you capture them. Captured Baggage & Transports change to your color.

Captured Leaders may be ransomed or put to death. Units may pick up/ drop off baggage freely.

Sea Battle Phase

Your units at sea may attack enemy units in an adjacent sea space. You may combine the attacks of all of your units adjacent to an enemy stack. For every Fleet unit attacking roll 1D10 (Attack Roll) and add any City Trait bonuses to get the Attack Total.

The opponent rolls 1D10 (Defense Roll) + bonuses for every defending Fleet in the stack to get the Defense Total. Leader Traits can modify Battle rolls. Both players may play cards to increase or modify these Battle totals.

The side with the higher Battle total is the winner. The loser must roll 1D6 (Casualty Roll) for each of his Fleets/Transports in the battle:

apply to a unit if it is Defending.

You may attack a neutral city. A neutral city will have 1 Army present. If you defeat the defending army of the neutral city immediately move an attacking unit into the city. You gain control of the captured city, but it is hostile.

Put a control marker and a hostility counter on the city. If you capture a city you may also plunder it for 3D6 Gold. Put 3 Razed counters on the city. If you plunder a city you may also destroy it: Put a total of 6 Razed Counters on it.

Ships in coastal spaces are considered to be beached. They may be attacked this turn.

Second Move Phase

All of your units may move again. Your Fleets and transports must end their move in city, sandy, and fishing village coastal hexes. If a Fleets or transport is unable to do this roll 1D6 (Navigation Roll):

1-4 Nothing

5-6 Storms sink the unit.

Note: Beached Ships do not get terrain defense modifiers.

Leaders

For each newly recruited leader roll 1D6 (Leader Roll):

1-3	1 Skill
4-5	2 Skills
6	3 Skills

Roll on the Leader skills table to determine what these skills are. Record the Leaders skills, name, and chit identification.

Civ Builder

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Each player controls a civilization.

Victory

The game ends after 12 Rounds. The player with the most Victory Points wins.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck has 12 types of cards and 9 copies of each card.

#	Civilization:	Start with 1D6 extra points in the Attribute:
1.	Middle East	Trade
2.	North Africa	Engineering
3.	India	Religion
4.	Southern Europe	Conquest
5.	Mediterranean	Seafaring
6.	Northern Europe	Agriculture
7.	China	Government
8.	Central Asia	Equestrian
9.	South America	Culture
10.	Meso America	Science

Setup

Each player is dealt 5 cards.

Round Sequence

Each Round is divided into 6 Phases:

1. Initiative Phase
2. Draw Phase
3. Trade Phase
4. Action Phase
5. Score Phase
6. End Phase

Initiative Phase

The player with the highest Government Score goes first. Play proceeds in order of Government scores. If 2 players are tied, highest Religion goes first.

If still tied, highest Culture goes first. If still tied, roll high on 1D6. Order as determined above is referred to as initiative order.

Dice

Six sided dice are used.

Attributes

Each civilization has 10 attributes: Conquest Trade Culture Science Agriculture Religion Seafaring Government Equestrian Engineering Each player starts with 1D6 points in each attribute (roll for each separately). As play progresses the civs gain points in their attributes.

Civilizations

At the beginning of the game each player picks one of the following civilizations:

Draw Phase

Each player in initiative order draws 5 cards. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. The player with the highest Agriculture score may draw a sixth card.

Trade Phase

Players may trade cards with each other. Limit this to 4 minutes. The player with the highest Trade score may always look at any players hand.

Action Phase

In Initiative order, each player gets a turn. On your turn, you may make one or more melds. A Meld consists of 1 or more Attribute cards of the same type, and up to 1 Leader card.

The first meld a player makes in a turn must contain 1 or more cards. The second meld a player makes in a turn must contain 2 or more cards. The third meld a player makes in a turn must contain 3 or more cards.

The fourth meld a player makes in a turn must contain 4 or more cards. The fifth meld a player makes in a turn must contain 5 or more cards. You immediately score points in that attribute equal to the number of cards in the meld.

You also score an equal number of Victory points. After scoring a meld you may take a special action that depends on the Attribute of the Meld:

Special Action Table

Attribute:	Special Action:
Conquest	Steal 2 total points in target Attributes from target opponent.
Trade	Look at opponents hand. Take up to 4 cards. Give him back that many cards.
Culture	Gain 4 Victory Points.
Science	Look at the next 7 cards in the deck. Take 2 of them.
Agriculture	Draw 3 cards from the deck and put them in your hand.
Religion	Steal 2 random cards from target opponent.
Seafaring	Steal 2 Victory Points from target opponent.
Government	You may discard X cards and draw X +2 cards from the deck.
Equestrian	Target opponent discards 3 random cards.
Engineering	Draw 2 cards from the deck and gain 3 Victory Points.

Meld Making Notes

Leader cards are Wild cards for purposes of making Melds. Disaster cards don't do anything except take up space in your hand. The player with the highest Religion Score may use Disaster cards as wild cards when making melds! The player with the highest Seafaring Score may use Sea cards as wild cards when making Trade or Conquest melds.

Score Phase

At the beginning of Score phase, the player with the highest Science score may gain 1 point in any attribute of his choice. Go through each of the 10 Attributes in turn. On turns 1-4 the player with the most points in an Attribute gains 1 Victory Point.

On turns 5-8 the player with the most points in an Attribute gains 2 Victory Points. On turns 9-12 the player with the most points in an Attribute gains 3

Victory Points. If two or more players tie for first, they each get the points.

The player with the highest Culture score gains 1 extra VP.

End Phase

Max hand size is 5 cards. The player with the highest Conquest score has a max hand size = 7. Discard excess cards.

The player with the highest Equestrian score may discard all of his cards to gain 3 VP.

Military	3	Conquest: Steal 4 Random cards from Opponent
Building	3	City Builder: Gain 2 CT and take another turn after this
Disaster	3	Wiped Out: Opponent Discards entire Hand
Boon	2	Population Explosion: Draw 5 Cards

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Each player is dealt a hand of 5 cards. Oldest Player goes first.

Rise Phase

Draw 2 cards from the deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases:

1. Rise Phase
2. Action Phase
3. Meld Phase
4. Fall Phase

Action Phase

You may discard card(s) to activate 1 Basic or Advanced Special Ability. On the Civ Deck Suite Table it shows the Basic Ability activated when you discard One card of the indicated type. On the Civ Advanced Table it shows the Advanced Ability activated when you Discard 2 or 3 (as listed under the CN column) cards of the indicated type.

Meld Phase

You may play 1 Meld. A Meld consists of 1 card from each Major Suite and either 1 Disaster or 1 Boon card. Immediately gain 5 Civ Tokens.

Discard all the Meld Cards and draw 5 new Cards.

Fall Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Civ Quest

Introduction

The Quest for the ultimate Civ Lite game continues! Civilization type Game. Dice, Map, and Record Keeping. 2-7 players.

The Map

The Mediterranean divided up into multiple areas (about 20 per player).

Units

Each player has a set of units of a unique color. There are 2 types of units, Population Tokens(PT) and City Tokens(CT).

Action Dice

Each player will need access to multiple six sided dice.

Record Keeping

Use a pad and pencil to keep track of: Idea Points, Resource Points, Victory Points, and Advances.

Setup

Each player places 7 PT onto one empty Area on the board. Players roll high on 1D6 to see who goes

Great Leader Table

1D6	Leader Type	Notes
1	None	Nothing
2	Scientist	Get +1D6 IP (Idea Points)

first.

Turn Sequence

There are 8 Phases:

1. Leader Phase
2. City Phase
3. Advance Phase
4. Growth Phase
5. Build Phase
6. Disaster Phase
7. Clash Phase

Clash Phase

For each other Civ you are adjacent to, you may choose either Trade or War. If you choose Trade roll on the Trade Table (this is the Trade Roll):

If you choose War, each player rolls 2D6 (War Roll) and adds their bonuses from War Advances. Attacker picks 2 adjacent Areas, 1 controlled by each player. The higher War Roll Total Wins. Defender wins ties.

Loser loses all Units in the Area lost. The winner gains control of the opposing Area by placing 1 PT from off board onto the Newly conquered Area.

Migration Phase

Roll 1D6 (Migration Roll) to get that many Move Points (MP). You may use 1 MP to move 1 PT to an adjacent Area. Sailing and Road Advances allow PT to move further.

Move Points are not saved from turn to turn. Use them or lose them.

End Of Game

The Game ends when any of the following happens:
— All Areas containing Land are occupied. — All Wonders are built. — Any one player has 7 or more cities.

— Only 1 player is left. (automatic winner)

Scoring

At end of game add up your Victory Points:

- From Advances and Iconic Leaders
- Earned from City rolls
- Get 1 per Area you occupy
- Get 5 per Wonder you built

Highest VP score wins.

Civil Rights Movement

Introduction

Civil War Poker

Introduction

It's your move Mr. Lee.

The Deck

The Deck has five suites. Each suite has 10 cards. The 5 Suites include:

1. Infantry
2. Cavalry
3. Artillery
4. Generals
5. Terrain

The Deck also has 2 wild cards:

1. The Union
2. The Confederacy

There is a total of 52 cards in the deck.

Five Card Draw Rules

The turn sequence has 6 phases:

1. Ante In Phase
2. Dealers Phase
3. Ante Up Phase
4. Reinforcements Phase
5. Last Ante Phase
6. Charge Phase

Ante In Phase

Minimum bet: 2 bits.

Dealers Phase

Everyone is dealt 5 cards.

Ante Up Phase

Ante up, match the ante, or fold.

Reinforcements Phase

Discard up to 3 cards. Get replacement cards from dealer.

Last Ante Phase

Ante up, match the ante, or fold.

Charge Phase

All players reveal their hands. Best hand wins the pot.

Ranking Combos

In order from worst to best: 1 pair or 2 of a kind (2 cards of the same suite) 2 pairs 3 of a kind Full House (1 pair and 3 of a kind) 4 of a kind Straight (1 card of each of the 5 suites) 5 of a kind

Tie Breakers

Lets say you have a pair of Infantry and your opponent has a pair of Cavalry. Who wins? Infantry beats Cavalry. Cavalry beats Artillery.

Artillery beats Infantry. Generals beat all other suites. All other suites beat Terrain.

In a full house tie compare the 3 of a kinds. Lets say you both have 3 of a kind Generals. Who wins? See who has the 'high card' amongst their remaining cards. Cards in order from low to high: Terrain, Infantry, Cavalry, Artillery, Generals, Wild cards.

Card Art

For those inclined to illustrate their cards. Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery provide a good venue to depict Uniforms, weapons, action scenes, and insignia. General cards can have portraits of famous generals.

Terrain cards can include forts, battlefields, states, cities, and maps. The Wild cards should portray the flags of the two sides.

Classic Dungeon Crawl

by Sir Gerard Luft, KDM

Introduction

A Long time ago, in a part of Wisconsin far, far away...

This simple card and dice miniature game is based off of the very original Dungeons and Dragons, back in the days of Chainmail and the Classic Dungeons and Dragons boxed set. If the game rules seem a bit simple and occasionally clumsy, they are supposed to be. That was the charm of the "Proto-D&D" fantasy miniature wargaming.

Components

If you have miniatures, you can expand the combat listed below to include terrain and movement. But don't make sophisticated terrain! "Proto-D&D" terrain is best if they are simply drawn images on 3"x5" cards.

You will need plenty of six sided dice (d6). You will need to construct the decks listed below. There is a common deck for each of the six dungeon levels. You'll have to reach a certain level with your character in order to advance to the next dungeon level. Use index cards as your character sheets, so that you can keep track of Gold Pieces (GP) and Experience Points (EP) earned.

If you have the original Chainmail rules and the very Original Dungeons and Dragons Rules (three book, white cover set), you can add various rules to increase authenticity and depth to this game (e.g., more selection of magic items). The 1979 Edition Chainmail Medieval Miniature Rules are available for purchase as an ESD from WotC:

The original Dungeons and Dragons rules (from the three books of the white boxed set) are available for free at:

Players And Characters

This game can be played with 1 to 3 players. For solo play, this is a simple solitaire adventure system for "proto-D&D" fantasy miniature battles. For two to three players, it becomes a competition to survive (be warned that multiplayer games can get very lengthy;

it's best to take this game in sessions like you would a modern D&D adventure, breaking between dungeon levels).

Each player choose one of the three characters provided: Fighting Man (Veteran), Magic User (Medium) or Cleric (Acolyte). For each monster you defeat, your character receives the listed gold pieces for that creature. Experience Points (EP)= GP + 10%. Each Class level has Experience Point requirements. When you meet the next level (e.g., Warrior for 2nd Level Fighting Man, Seer for 2nd Level Magic user, and Adept for 2nd Level Cleric), then you acquire the new stats listed.

In addition to GP, roll 2d6 for each creature to determine if a magic weapon is present: on a roll 12 a magic item is present (Sword +1 for Fighting Man, Mace +1 for Cleric, and Dagger +1 for Magic User). Magic Weapons give a +1 to Medieval Combat and Fantasy Combat Attack Score. If you have the Classic Dungeons and Dragons rules, feel free to use the Magic Item tables to add variety to the Game.

The Turn

For multiplayer games, players take turns taking their turn in a clockwise fashion. The player who last went serves as the next player's referee (he rolls for the monsters).

1. Draw a card from the particular dungeon level deck.
2. Fight the Monster using the Chainmail Medieval Combat Resolution abridged version (for Dungeons Levels 1 and 2; found under the Dungeon Level 1 Section), or the Chainmail Fantasy Combat Resolution abridged version (for Dungeon levels 3 through 6; found under the Dungeon Level 3 Section).
3. If your character dies, your out of the game (though it would be prudent to continue as referee for the other player(s)).

Dungeon Level 1

Characters: Start with Veteran, Medium or Acolyte. Your character then advances in its class according to the experience points you gain by defeating monsters and villains (1gp=1ep)

Class Level	Attack	Health	Spells	Experience Required
Veteran	1	1	-	0
Warrior	2	2	-	2000
Medium	1	1	Sleep	0

Class Level	Attack	Health	Spells	Experience Required
Seer	1	1	Light, Sleep	2500
Acolyte	1	1	0
Adept	1	2	Cure Light Wounds	1500

Spell Descriptions:

- Sleep- Defeats 2-16 monsters of health 1, 2-12 monsters of health 2, 1-8 monsters of health 3, and 1 monster of health 4.
- Light- Dispel Darkness
- Darkness: human characters can not attack.
- Cure Light Wounds: heals 1 Health
- Charm person: Humans, elves, dwarves, kobolds, goblins, orcs, hobgoblins and gnolls must roll 7 or higher on 2d6 or be defeated.

Chainmail Medieval Combat Resolution

1. Roll 1d6 for character and monster (if the game warrants it, the player to the right of the current player may roll for the monster, acting as referee for that conflict). The highest roll wins initiative. Reroll ties.
2. Cast Spell or Attack: The character going first rolls #d6 (#= Attack score). For each 6 rolled, subtract 1 hit from the target's health. If the target's health drops to 0 or less, then that character is defeated.
3. Repeat step 2 for the character that lost initiative.

Classic Space Opera

by Sir Gerard Luft, KDM

Introduction

Before there was Traveller, there was Starfaring! In some circles, Starfaring, by White Buffalo Games, is named as the first science fiction role playing game. Like the legendary Chainmail/ Dungeons and Dragons Fantasy Miniature Game, the Starfaring's rules were crude and the artwork was horrible.

Components

You will need as many six-sided dice as you can and construct the card decks listed below. Like Classic Dungeon Crawl, this game tries to capture the essence

Crewman	Power	Toughness
Captain (Ship Master)	N/A	N/A
First Lieutenant	2	3
Lieutenant	2	2
Science Staff Officer	1	2
Engineering Staff Officer	1	2

Power represents Physique as well as Mentality and Psionic. Toughness represents Health.

The Turn

For multiplayer games, each Ship Master takes their turn going clockwise. The player who last took their turn serves as Galaxy Master (referee) for the of the original game, but in a manner that adapts the rules to a little more play-worthiness. Like Classic Dungeon Crawl, miniatures are highly advised to be included in this card and dice game.

Goal

- One Player: Explore intergalactic space and fight the Slith (enemy aliens)!
- Multiple Player: Explore intergalactic space and fight the Slith (enemy aliens), and pay off your ship!

Your Ship and Crew Each Ship Master (player) starts with a ship Scoutship Compliment Ship Master (Captain) and 9 Crew Power 3 Toughness 3

Crewman	Power	Toughness
Chief Scout	2	1
Quartermaster	1	1
Fire Control Specialist	1	1
Engineer's Mate	1	1
Coxswain	1	1

current player.

Subetheric Encounters- Starships in Starfaring can travel intergalactic distances via a Star Gate system (wormholes) and pangalactic distances via a Hyper-space Drive (replete with Warp Factors). Regardless of the system used, each turn begins with encounters in the Sub-Ether. Draw one card from the Subetheric Encounter Deck

Subetheric Encounter Deck

Encounter	Description	# in Deck
Cthulhu	-2 Power to crewman with the highest Power (Cthulhu Dreams)	3
Debris	-1 Toughness to Ship	5
Berserker Ship (extra-dimension robots out to exterminate all organic life)	2/3 - -	3 - -

Space Battle Rules- Battle is considered simultaneous. Space and time are abstract when playing out Subetheric battles with miniatures. The ships should begin 12" across from each other. Basically allow each ship to move 1". Berserker Ships will always fly at the Starship on a direct heading. Each ship rolls 1d6 each turn. In order to score a hit, one must roll equal to or higher than the score indicated to hit. To hit scores change as ships are closer together:

Range	To Hit: USS Philadelphia	To Hit: Slish Saucer* or Berserker Ship
12"	5	6
10"	5	6
8"	4	6
6"	4	5
4"	3	4
2"	3	4
Nose to nose	2	3

* Slish Ships are allowed 5 Attack rolls per combat round. If a ship scores a hit, it inflicts its Power score as Damage. Damage is subtracted from the target ship's Toughness score. If toughness should fall to 0 or less, that ship is destroyed.

Normal Space Encounters- Upon returning to Normal Space, one draws a card from the Normal Space Encounter Deck.

Normal Space Encounter Deck

Encounter	Description	# in Deck
Slish ship	2/3	4
Slish ship	1/2	4
Slish ship	1/1	4
G.C. Radiation	-1 Toughness to 1 random crewman	4
Meteor Strike	-1 Toughness to Ship	2
Power crystal malfunction	-1 Power to Ship	2

Triggered supernova Roll 5 or 6 on 1d6 to avoid the destruction of the Ship; If the Ship survives by jumping into Hyperspace

Planet Type- Draw 1 card from the Planet Type Deck.

If there is life on that planet, draw as many cards from the Landing Party Encounter Deck as you have crewmembers +1 (ergo, if you still have all nine crew members, then you draw 10 alien cards to do battle with).

Paying Off The Loan

With interest included, you owe 120,000mc (mega credits=1000000 credits) The Imperial Scout Service pays you the following:

Item	Compensation
Star Crystals	100,000 mc.
Every Planet discovered	11,000 mc.
Contact with new	5,000 mc.
Intelligent life	–

Item	Compensation
Contact with new	10,000 mc.
Interstellar life	–
Destruction of alien spacecraft	500 mc.

Hostile life forms only, like the Slith.

- By the end of the 3rd turn you must pay 50% of the principal and interest= 60,000mc

- By the end of the sixth turn you must pay off the remainder of the loan= 60,000mc

Classical Conquests

Introduction

Board game for 2-4+ players. Ancient Civilization Conquest Theme.

Victory

The first player to accumulate 100+ Victory Points is the winner.

Dice

Six, eight and twelve sided dice are needed.

The Map

The map is composed of irregular shaped Territory spaces. Spaces can be either Land or Sea. Spaces start out with either the land or sea designation but are otherwise blank.

In set up roll on the Land and sea tables to determine the Resource type for each individual Territory on the map. For each game print a new copy of the map, and write the resource types directly onto it.

Sea Table

1D6	Resource:	Notes:
1-3	Salt	No Value
4-5	Fish	Food
6	Trade	Can be used as any other Resource

Land Table

1D8	Resource:	Notes:
1	Grain	Food
2	Herds	Food
3	Wine	Luxury
4	Olives	Luxury
5	Wood	Needed for Fleets
6	Iron	Needed for Armies
7	Stone	Needed for Monuments and Cities
8	Gold	Can be used as any other Resource

Tokens

Each player gets a set of Tokens of a unique color. Each Token set has 6 Types of Tokens: Armies Fleets Villages Cities Monuments Resources

Research

Each player gets a Research Chart. A Research Chart has 12 Traits and a place for recording Victory Points (VP). Each Trait has a space for current level and current accumulated research points.

Use pencil to record on the Research Track.

Research Chart

Traits:	Research Pts	Level
Nautical (Naval Battles Bonus)	_____	_____
Military (Land Battles Bonus)	_____	_____
Arts (Adds to VP each turn)	_____	_____
Engineering (Bonus Stone)	_____	_____

Economics (Bonus Gold)	_____	_____
Government (Units Build Limit)	_____	_____
Science (Counts towards Research)	_____	_____
Religion (Monuments Build Limit)	_____	_____
Victory Points (VP)	_____	_____

Common Resource Trait Pool Chart

Keep a paper with a circled space labeled for each of the 6 categories of Resources: Food, Luxuries, Gold (and Trade), Wood, Iron, Stone. Whenever a player gains a resource in one of these from 1 of their traits, have them put one of their Resource Tokens in the corresponding space. As they are used up during play remove them.

Resources are not saved from turn to turn. Empty

Civilization List

Minoans	Shipbuilding 1 Arts 1
Egyptians	Religion 1 Engineering 1
Sumerians	Agriculture 1 Economics 1
Phoenicians	Economics 1 Shipbuilding 1
Athenians	Shipbuilding 1 Nautical 1
Spartans	Military 1 Agriculture 1

this chart at the end of every turn. Also at the end of every turn remove all unused resource tokens that are on the map.

Setup

Each player must pick one Civilization. Each player starts with 1 City placed in one territory of their choice. Players may not place within 2 spaces of another City.

The oldest player goes first.

Civilization:	Starting Traits:
Romans	Government 1 Engineering 1
Macedonians	Military 1 Economics 1
Babylonians	Industry 1 Science 1
Persians	Arts 1 Religion 1
Celts	Arts 1 Agriculture 1
Goths	Military 1 Metallurgy 1

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 10 Phases:

1. Produce
2. Upkeep
3. Build
4. Upgrade
5. Settle
6. Move
7. Battle
8. Recruit
9. Research
10. Score

Produce Phase

For a Territory to produce, it must have a Villages Token or City Token on it. Put 1 Resource token in each of your Territories (except for Salt) of the type it normally produces according to the Land & Sea Tables. Each City also produces 1 Gold.

These are used up for upkeep, settling, building, recruiting, and upgrading. Gain 1 extra stone resource for each level in engineering you have. Gain 1 extra food resource for each level in agriculture you have.

Gain 1 extra gold resource for each level in economics you have. Gain 1 extra luxury resource for each level in industry you have. Gain 1 extra wood resource for each level in ship building you have.

Gain 1 extra iron resource for each level in metallurgy you have. When you use up a resource, remove one of your resource tokens from the map or the common resource pool trait chart.

Upkeep Phase

Each Fleet and Army and City requires 1 Food. Remove Resource Tokens from your Food producing Territories or the Food space on the common resource pool trait chart until this requirement is met. Unfed Units are discarded.

A city will be reduced to a village by famine. However if it has a Monument, the Monument will remain!

Build Phase

You may build a Monument in a City you control. To do this, you must use up 2 Food and 1 Stone plus any 1 resource for every other Monument already located in that city. You cannot Build more total Monuments than 1 + your Level in Religion.

Upgrade Phase

You may convert a Villages Token into a city token. To do this, you must use up 2 Luxuries and 1 Stone. Max 1 city per space.

Settle Phase

You may build 1 Villages Token for free each turn. Villages are placed in empty Land spaces next to spaces occupied by your cities, villages, or fleets. You may place additional villages Tokens (1 max per space) but each extra village placed in a turn requires you to use up 1 Food or Luxury Resource and 1 Wood or Stone Resource.

Movement Phase

You may move your units (Armies and Fleets) An Army may move 2 Spaces. A Fleet may move 4 Spaces. Units may stack.

Armies may move through friendly Fleets at no movement cost. You cannot move through enemy held spaces.

Battle

If your units occupy a space with enemy units or settlements there will be battle. Each side rolls 1D8 and adds their Military level (if on land) or Nautical level (if at sea). The lower roll discards 1 unit. Defender wins ties. If the defender loses all his units, and then the settlement is also defeated, the settlement (village or city) is captured by the invader.

Replace the settlement with one of the invaders color.

Recruit Phase

You may recruit Armies and Fleets. Each Army requires you to use up 1 Iron. Each Fleet Requires you to use up 1 Wood.

You cannot Build more Units than 1 + your Level in Government + the number of cities you control. All Armies must start in cities. All Fleets must start in Sea spaces adjacent to cities.

Research Phase

You get one free roll on the Research Table. Get 1 extra roll for every level in Science you have. You may pay 1 resource of any type to get an extra roll.

You may pay 2 resources of any type to get a second extra roll. You may pay 3 resources of any type to get a third extra roll. You may pay 4 resources of any type to get a fourth extra roll. etc.

When you make a roll you gain a research point in the indicated trait. When the number of research points you have in a trait exceeds your level in that trait by one, you gain 1 level in that trait and your current number of research points (RP) in that trait is reset to zero. (For example: 1 RP in the Arts will move you to level 1 in the Arts. A further 2 RP will get you to level 2. Another 3 RP will get advance you to level 3 and so on)

Research Table

1D12	Trait:	Notes:
1	Nautical	Your Level adds to your roll in Naval Battles
2	Military	Your Level adds to your roll in Naval Battles
3	Arts	Adds to VP gained in Score Phase
4	Engineering	Gain stone
5	Agriculture	Gain food
6	Industry	Gain luxuries
7	Metallurgy	Gain iron
8	Ship Building	Gain wood
9	Economics	Gain gold
10	Government	Increases your unit recruit limit
11	Science	Gain rolls on Research table
12	Religion	Increases your monument build limit

Score Phase

Gain 1 Victory Point (VP) for every Monument you control. Gain 1 VP equal to your current level in the Arts.

Optional Rules

Token Reduction- Reduce Token types to 3 types: Unit, Settlement, and Resource. Unit Tokens- These can be used to represent Fleets or Armies. Settlement Tokens- 1 in a space represents a village. 2 in a space represents a city. 3+ in a space represents a city with monuments.

Clinical Studies

Introduction

Players are rival medical scientists trying to out-publish each other.

Objective

The player to accumulate the most Publisher Points at the end of the game wins. The game ends when the last card is drawn from the deck.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 6 card types: Study Methodology Statistics References Journal Flaw Research

Setup

Each player starts with a hand of 7 cards.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 Phases: Research Phase Publish Phase Flaw Phase

Research Phase

Draw 1 card. Max hand size is 10 cards. Discard excess cards.
Research cards are played at the end of this phase.

Publish Phase

You may attempt to publish a Study. To publish you must play a combination of 'Publishing' cards that includes: 1 Study Card 1 or more Methodology Cards 1 or more Statistics Cards 1 or more References Cards 1 Journal Card Each card played is worth one Publisher Point.

Flaw Phase

If you published this turn your opponent may play (discard) one or more Flaw cards. Each Flaw card played negates one 'Publishing' card of the indicated type. Negated cards are discarded.
You play cards from your hand to replace the negated cards. After this cardplay, if the Study does not contain at least one card of each 'publishing' type the study does not get published and all remaining cards are returned to your hand.

Cold War Era

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Simulation of Soviet-American Relations during the Cold War Era (1945-1991). One player takes the role of America (USA) The other player is the Soviets (USSR)

Power Tokens

Players use Power Tokens (PT) to keep track of their Scores in the Areas of Power. Use poker Chips, coins, counters, etc. to represent PT.

Areas Of Power

There are 5 Areas of Power (AOP):

1. Military (M)
2. Economic (E)
3. Social (S)
4. Espionage (X)
5. Territorial (T)

Definitions

-Military Power includes Conventional and Nuclear Forces as well as Progress in the Space Race.
-Economic Power includes Population, Natural Resources, Infrastructure, Industry, Energy, Agriculture, Trade, Transportation, and Environmental Issues.
-Social Power refers to Morale, Domestic Stability, and National Will.

-Espionage Power includes all manner of Intelligence Gathering.
-Territorial Power refers to the number of other 'minor' Nations you control, whether by Force, Diplomacy, or Ideology.

Victory

There are 3 ways to achieve Victory:

1. General Victory:

If your scores in all 5 AOP are greater than your opponents for two consecutive turns, you win.

2. Power Victory:

If your scores in any 3 (except Espionage) AOP are double or greater than your opponents for two consecutive turns, you win.

3. Crisis Victory:

If your opponent goes to zero (or less) in any AOP (except Espionage) you win.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Setup

Choose one of 3 Setups:

1. Equal
2. Random
3. Historical
 - In an Equal Setup, each player has 10 PT in each AOP.
 -
 - In the Random Setup, each player rolls 3D6 for each of his AOP.
 - In the Historical Setup, use the following Starting AOP values:

Nat.	-	-	-	-	-
USA	M=10	E=15	S=10	X=10	T=10
USSR	M=10	E=10	S=10	X=10	T=15

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. (Each turn represents 1 Year)
Each turn has 7 Phases:

1. Production Phase
2. Policy Phase
3. Implementation Phase
4. Threat Phase
5. Economics Phase
6. Policy Phase
7. End Phase

Production Phase

Gain 1 Economic PT. Draw 3 cards from the deck and put them in your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Espionage Phase

If your Espionage score is higher than your opponents, you may do One of the following 3 things:

1. Spy: Look at opponent's hand.
2. Intelligence: Draw 1 card from the deck and discard 1 card from your hand.
3. Sabotage: Discard 1 Espionage PT to make opponent discard 1 Random Card from his hand.

Policy Phase

You may remove 2 PT from one of your AOP and Add 1 PT to any other AOP. You may do this once only.

Implementation Phase

You may play (implement) any 1 card from your hand. The card played will add to or subtract from your and your opponent's Power Scores. Some cards will provide additional effects.

Discard the card after it is played.

Threat Phase

If your Military Score is Greater than your Opponent's, your Opponent must discard 1 PT from his Social AOP.

Economics Phase

If your Economics Score is Greater than your Opponent's, you May discard 1 Economic PT to Draw 1 card.

Politics Phase

If your Territory Score is Greater than your Opponent's, you May play (Implement) an extra card from your hand this turn.

End Phase

Discard down to 10 cards.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 5 phases: Fate Phase Revenue Phase
Event Phase Build Phase Trade Phase

Fate Phase

Each player draws 2 cards. A player may pay 5 Fortunes to draw an extra card.

Revenue Phase

Each player collects revenue. Revenue is measured in Units called Fortunes. (Use coins) Each empire produces a base 5 Fortunes each turn. Each Colonial Resource and Industry also produces Fortunes.

Gain 2 extra Fortunes if you control the most Resource cards in one Region. Gain 5 extra Fortunes if you control all the Resource cards in one Region. Fortunes go into your Treasury and may be saved from turn to turn.

Event Phase

Players may play Event cards. Players take turns doing so. The player with the least Fortunes goes first.

Build Phase

Each player may put one Colonial Resource card or Industry card into play. These cards are played face up in front of the player. These cards are not discarded.

They generate income for their owners every turn in Revenue phase. Industry cards represent revenue sources within a player's home country. A player may put two or more Colonial Resource cards into play if they are all from the same region.

A player may pay 5 Fortunes to put an extra Resource or Industry card into play.

Trade Phase

Players may trade cards, fortunes, etc. Maximum hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

15	Fort Matanzas (Settlement)
16	Cypress Stand
17	Lakes
18	Fort Picolata (Settlement)
19	St. Johns River

Pieces

Each player has one pawn and 12 control markers. Disease, Hurricane, Pirate, or Indian Raid Markers are needed.

Victory

The first player to accumulate 50 Gold is the winner.

Turn Sequence

- Each turn has 7 phases:
1. Rebuild Phase
 2. Hurricane Phase
 3. Pirate Phase
 4. Indian Raid Phase
 5. Disease Phase
 6. Income Phase
 7. Action Phase

ants.

The Map

The Map is a circular ring divided into 36 spaces. Spaces need to be large enough to put cards on. The spaces are marked as follows:

1	Gulf Stream (Start/End Space)
20	Wild Coast
21	Cape Canaveral (Settlement)
22	Beaches & Sandbars
23	Wetlands & Estuaries
24	Santa Maria de Loreto (Settlement)
25	Everglades
26	Old Spanish Road
27	San Luis (Settlement)
28	Sawgrass
29	Quagmire
30	San Marcos (Settlement)
31	Coral Reefs & Seagrass Beds
32	Sand Hills
33	Pensacola (Settlement)
34	Pine Barrens & Flatwoods
35	Sinkholes & Limestone Springs
36	Tallahassee (Settlement)

Rebuild Phase

Remove one Raze counter from each settlement that has one.

Hurricane Phase

Roll 3D6 and move the Hurricane Marker counterclockwise. If the Hurricane lands on a Settlement place 1D6 Raze markers on it. Enhancements are destroyed on a roll of 1 on 1D6 (roll for each)

Pirate Phase

Roll 2D6 and move the Pirate Marker counterclockwise. If the Pirate lands on a Settlement, the settlement is attacked by 1D3 combatants. If the defenders lose, place 1D6 Raze markers on the settlement. This includes the effects of bandits, outlaws, corsairs, slavers, wreckers, & buccaneers.

Indian Raid Phase

Roll 1D6 and move the Indian Raid Marker counterclockwise. If the Indian Raid lands on a Settlement, the settlement is attacked by 1D3 combatants. If the defenders lose, place 1D6 Raze markers on the settlement. Major tribes included: The Seminoles (Creeks), Miccosukee, Tequesta, Tocobaga, Timucuan, Apalachee, Calusa, and Choctaws.

Disease Phase

Roll 1D6 and move the Disease Marker counterclockwise. If the Disease lands on a Settlement place 1D6 Raze markers on it. Diseases of the time included: Yellow Fever, Malaria, Typhus, and Cholera.

Combatants present are killed on a roll of 1-2 on 1D6

Income Phase

Each settlement generates income. $\text{Income} = 1 +$ the number of Income cards attached to the settlement. Make an additional 1 Gold if the settlement has at least one Labor and One non-labor income card attached.

The settlement makes an additional 1 Gold for each two Income cards of the same type, such as two 'Civilization' cards or two 'Sea' cards. Razed settlements do not generate income. If an opposing pawn is on your settlement the settlement generates no income.

Action Phase

Players take turns moving their pawn. Roll two six sided dice, pick one, and move that many spaces clockwise. A Player must skip his turn if his pawn occupies the same space as a Disease, Hurricane, Pirate, or Indian Raid Marker. If your pawn lands on a settlement not controlled by anyone, you are the "Founder" of the Settlement. Place one of your control markers on it.

If your pawn lands on a settlement you already control then remove 1D6 Raze Markers from it. If the settlement has no Raze markers draw one card from the Enhancement Deck. Attach the enhancement card to the settlement. If your pawn lands on an opposing settlement you may attack it if you control either of the two Settlements next to it and at least one of them has a combatant card attached. To resolve the attack, roll $(1 + X)D6$ where X = the number of combatant cards you are committing from adjacent settlements. The defender rolls $(2 + X)D6$ where X equals The number of all combatants attached to the attacked settlement. Reroll ties.

The higher roll wins. The loser loses all committed combatants. The winner loses one combatant (but not his last one) on a roll of 1-3 on 1D6. (Fortress cards are never destroyed, they switch hands instead) If the defender won nothing further happens.

If the attacker won he gains control of the attacked settlement. He replaces the Control marker with one of his own and may transfer one of the Attacking Combatants to the newly conquered Settlement. If you control any Moveable Combatants, you may move them on your Turn, to an adjacent settlement you control.

Colonials

Introduction

Card game for 2-4 players. Each player controls a coastal colonial settlement in 17-18th Century North America. Each players colony is from an opposing European group including: The English, French, Spanish, and Dutch.

Victory

The first player to accumulate: 30 Population, 20 Gold, 10 Resources, and 3 Town Improvements wins. If you ever reach zero population, you automatically lose.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Tokens

Use tokens to represent Population. Use coins to represent Gold.

Setup

Each player starts with 10 Population and 5 Gold.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 8 phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Growth Phase
3. Hardships Phase
4. Revenue Phase
5. Upkeep Phase
6. Resources Phase
7. Trade Phase
8. Raid Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 3 cards from the deck. Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards

Growth Phase

Gain 1 Population Token. Play (discard) Settlement cards from your hand. For each Settlement card played, gain 1D6 Population Tokens.

Hardships Phase

Play (discard) Hardship cards on your opponents. For each Hardship card played, an opponent loses 1D6 Population Tokens.

Revenue Phase

Gain 1 Gold. For each Resource you control gain 1 Gold. For each Oppression card on you, lose 1 Gold.

Gain +1 Gold if you have the most resources of a given type (Agriculture, Sea, Trade, etc.)

Upkeep Phase

Pay 1 Gold for each of your Combatants. Discard Combatants not paid for.

Resource Phase

Play Oppression cards on your opponents for free. Play Leader cards for free. Pay 1 Gold for a Resource.

Pay 1 Gold to recruit a Combatant. Pay 2 Gold for a Town Improvement. Pay 3 Gold to build a Fort.

All these types of cards are considered to be Permanents. They stay face up in play from turn to turn. (You may have up to 1 Resource per 3 Population Tokens)

Trade Phase

Players may trade Cards, Gold, Promises, and Population.

Raid Phase

You may raid (attack) opposing players. Roll 1D6 for each of your combatants and for each battle card you play (discard). (You cannot play more battle cards then you have combatants) A roll of 1 inflicts one casualty.

A Fort negates 1 casualty per turn. For each casualty, your opponent must discard one Combatant. If no Combatants are left discard Resources, and then Town Improvements, and then 1D6 Population Tokens.

Colonizers

Introduction

Space Colonization game. Establish High Scoring Colonies before your opponents. Game for 2-5 players.

Game Ends

The game ends as soon as ten Colonies are in play.

Victory

The player with the most Victory Points (VP) at the end of the game wins.

The Deck

Players share a common Deck. There are 7 cards types:

1. Planets
2. Ships
3. Extractors
4. Protection
5. Distance
6. Events
7. Growth

Planet Cards

Planet cards have 2 Attributes:

1. Hazards
2. Resources

There are 4 types of Extractor card. Each type of Extractor can successfully extract 2 types of Resources. There are 8 types of Hazards and 8 Types of Resources. Each Hazard has a specific type of Protection card required to overcome it:

Hazard-protection Correspondence List

Deflector Shields protect against Comet Storms Radiation Shields protect against Heavy Radiation Heavy Weapons protect against Hostile Lifeforms Heat Dissipaters protect against High Temperatures Corrosion Buffers protect against Corrosive Hydrosphere Xeno Antidote protects against Poison Atmosphere Xeno Medicine protects against Alien Pathogens Plate stabilizers protect against Unstable Geosphere

Ship Cards

There are 4 types of Ship cards, representing 4 Propulsion types and 4 corresponding levels of Speed. Certain Ships cannot be used with certain Distance Cards.

Extractor Cards

There are 4 types of Extractor card. Each type of Extractor can successfully extract 2 types of Resources. Additionally each Extractor card has a secondary trait of Colonist: There are 6 types of colonists each worth a different amount of points in Settlement Scoring.

Resource-extractor Correspondence List

Mining Platforms can Extract Heavy Metal and Crystal Resources. Collection Domes can Extract Organic and Exotic Resources. Containment Fields can Extract Radioactives and Rare Elements.

Pumping Stations can Extract Super Liquids and Strange Gasses.

Protection Cards

Each of the 8 planetary Hazards has a specific type of Protection card required to overcome it. In Addition each Protection card has a secondary trait of Control: There are 3 types of Control each worth a different number of points in Settlement Scoring.

Distance Cards

Each Distance card lists a Distance value from 7 to 30. Each Distance card also has an Obstruction Attribute. There are 5 Types of Obstruction. Each Obstruction type may prevent the use of one specific Ship Type.

Event Cards

These have a wide range of game altering effects such as: Increasing or Decreasing Trip times. Stealing or Destroying Colonies. Stealing, Gaining, or Losing Cards.

Stealing, Gaining, or Losing VP. These are usually played in Event Phase. After the Event is resolved the Event card is discarded.

Growth Cards

These are played in Event Phase and are added to a player's existing Colony. A single Colony can have a Max of one Growth card attached.

Victory Tokens

Each one of these is worth 1 Victory Point (VP).
Victory Tokens = VT

Travel Markers

These represent how far a Mission has traveled.
Travel Markers = TM

Setup

Each player is dealt 5 cards. Players roll high on 1D10 to see who goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 8 Phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Trade Phase
3. Event Phase
4. Travel Phase
5. Launch Phase
6. Settlement Phase
7. Scoring Phase
8. End Phase

Draw Phase

Each player Draws 1 card from the top of the deck and puts them in their hands. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Trade Phase

Players may trade cards from their hands. They may also trade ownership of Missions and Colonies. Limit this to 2 minutes.

Event Phase

The current player may play 1 Event Card or 1 Growth Card from his hand. Discard Event cards once they are played.

Settlement Phase Scoring Table

Trait	VP

Scoring Phase

The current Player gains 1 VT for each Colony he has in play.

End Phase

Current player Max hand size = 8 cards. Discard excess cards.

Travel Phase

Current Player: Place Travel Markers on your Missions. A Mission with Solar Sails adds 1 Travel Marker. A Mission with Gravity Repulsors adds 2 Travel Markers. A Mission with a Ram Scoop adds 3 Travel Markers.

A Mission with an Antimatter Drive adds 4 Travel Markers.

Launch Phase

The current player may launch a Mission. A Mission consists of 5 Cards: 1 Planet Card 1 Ship Card 1 Extractor Card 1 Protection Card 1 Distance Card. All cards in a Mission must be compatible with each other, for instance, the Protection card must be specific to the Hazard type of the Planet card. Place the stack of Mission cards face-up and staggered in front of you.

The Mission cards must be visible to all players.

Settlement Phase

A Mission that has accumulated Travel Markers equal to or greater than the Distance value listed on the Missions Distance Card has arrived at its Destination Planet and set up a functioning, Established Colony. The player in control of the mission colony immediately scores a number of

VP the Value of the Resource type plus the Value of the Colonists type plus the Value of the Control type. (see Settlement Scoring Table for Values) Represent the conversion of the Mission into a Colony by discarding the Distance and Ship cards and the Travel Markers. Keep the Planet, Extractor, and Protection cards stacked face up in front of you.

Trait	VP
Strange Gasses	4

Combat Dice

Introduction

Get ready to throw lots of dice around. The game simulates two opposing fantasy warriors locked in deadly combat.

New Computer Game Version Of Combat Dice

by Zak Click here to go to the Website

Equipment

Lots of Dice of different colors. Some way to keep track of Hit Points.

Turn Sequence

1. Combat Phase
2. Initiative Phase
3. Maneuver Phase
4. Attack Phase
5. Damage Phase

Combat Roll Phase

Both players roll their combat dice into separate boxes. This is known as the combat roll. Add up scores as described in the example.

Initiative Phase

The player with the highest Initiative score attacks first. If initiative scores are tied, the attacks are simultaneous.

Maneuver Phase

If the winner of the initiative phase also has a higher maneuver score, than that player may rethrow his dice.

Roll	Score
1	Attack
2	Dodge
3	Damage

Sample Combat Turn

A warrior rolls 6 basic combat dice. He rolls: 2, 3, 1, 3, 5, 3 His scores: Attack = 1; Dodge = 1; Damage = 3; Armor = 0; Initiative = 1; Maneuver = 0 His opponent, the myrmidon, also rolls 6 basic combat dice. He rolls: 6, 4, 1, 4, 5, 3 His scores: Attack = 1; Dodge = 0; Damage = 1; Armor = 2; Initiative = 1; Maneuver = 1

The new scores will only affect the attack & damage phases.

Attack Phase

Conduct this phase in order of initiative. Compare your Attack score to your opponents Dodge score. If your Attack score is higher you have 'hit' your opponent.

If your Attack score is equal or lower, your attack misses.

Damage Phase

Conduct this phase in order of initiative. You can only do damage if you hit your opponent in Attack phase. Compare your Damage score to your opponents Armor score.

If your Damage score is equal or lower, your attack does no damage. If your Damage score is higher you have 'damaged' your opponent. Your attack does damage equal to the difference.

Damage is subtracted from your opponents Hit point total. A combatant reduced to 0 Hit points is unconscious. A combatant reduced to -2 Hit points is dead.

Basic Combatants

The basic combatant uses 6 Basic Combat Dice and has 10 Hit points. A combatant starts the combat with 3 items from the equipment list below. Weapon, Shield, Armor, Bow & Arrows, Spell Charm The basic combatant is a warrior with sword, medium shield, and light armor.

A spell charm contains one spell.

Basic Combat Dice

The basic combat die is the common six sider.

Roll	Score
4	Armor
5	Initiative
6	Maneuver

They tie in initiative, so attacks are simultaneous.

The myrmidon attacks but the warrior dodges. The warrior hits. The myrmidon fails to dodge. The warrior does 3 damage, but the myrmidons armor blocks 2 damage.

The myrmidon loses 1 hit point.

Advanced Rules

Damage Dice

Along with the basic dice roll two more six-sided dice of a different color. If the fighter inflicts no damage than ignore the damage dice. Add the two dice to see what additional affects are incurred by the damage.

2D6	Result
2	Bleeding
3	Hurt Arm
4	Double Crit
5	Disarm
6	Stunned
7	No effect

2D6	Result
8	Stunned
9	Knockdown
10	Break Armor
11	Hurt Leg
12	Blinded

Result	Description
Stunned	Opponent uses 1 less basic combat die next turn.
Disarm	Opponents attack and damage scores are at -2 until the player rolls a maneuver score = 2+ to retrieve the weapon.
Knockdown	Opponents attack and damage scores are -1 until player rolls a maneuver score = 2+ to get back up.
Hurt Arm	Opponents attack and damage scores are -1 permanently.
Hurt Leg	Opponents dodge and maneuver scores are -2 permanently.
Double Critical	Roll twice more on this table.
Break Armor	Opponents armor score is -1 permanently.
Bleeding	Opponent suffers 1 additional hit in Damage phase for 1D6 more turns.
Blinded	Opponent uses 3 less basic combat dice permanently.

Specialty Combat Dice & Advanced Combatants

More powerful fighters will have 1D6 more hit points and 1D6 specialty dice. Specialty dice are the result of natural ability and years of training. Specialty dice are picked according to character concept.

Specialty dice are thrown in addition to the basic dice during the combat roll. Specialty must be colored different from the basic dice, the damage dice, and each other. Below are examples of specialty dice.

Weapons & Armor Modifiers

These modifiers affect the scores of the combat roll.

Modifier	Values
Unarmed	Damage -2, Attack -2
Sword	Standard
Short Sword	Damage -1, Initiative +1
Large Sword	Damage +1, Initiative -1
Dagger only	Damage -1, Attack -1, Initiative +1 (speed)
Thrown Dagger	Damage -1, Attack -1, Initiative +2 (ranged only)
Club	Damage -1
Spear	Initiative +1 (reach), Maneuver -1
Trident	Initiative +1 (reach), Maneuver -1
Thrown Spear	Initiative +3 (range), Attack -1 (ranged only)
Bow & Arrow	Initiative +4 (ranged only)
2-H Battle Axe	Damage +3, Initiative -1, Dodge -1, Maneuver -1
Flail	Damage +2, Initiative -1, Attack -1
2-H Sword	Damage +2, Initiative -1, Maneuver -1
Net	If opponent is hit, he takes no damage, but he may not
-	hit or dodge this, or next turn.
No Armor	Armor -2, Maneuver +1, Initiative +1
2-H Staff	Damage -1, Armor +1 (Parry)
Light Armor	Standard
Medium Armor	Armor +1, Maneuver -1
Heavy Armor	Armor +2, Maneuver -1, Initiative -1
No Shield	Armor -2, Maneuver +1, Initiative +1
Small Shield	Armor -1, Maneuver +1
Medium Shield	Standard
Large Shield	Armor +1, Maneuver -1

Skills

These are in addition to the specialty dice. Two Weapon Style: Treat one attack roll as a dodge roll, or one dodge roll as an attack roll. Riding Horse: Maneuver +1, Initiative +1. Take 1D3 Damage if you are knocked off.

Martial Artist: No penalty for being unarmed Blind Fighting: Immune to Blind damage results Berserker: Dodge -1, Attack +1 Adrenaline Rush: Take 1 Hit point of Damage to roll 1 extra basic combat die.

Special Combat Actions

Player must have a maneuver score = 2+ to use one of these. Shield Bash: Treat one Armor roll as an attack roll.

Parry: Treat one Attack roll as an armor roll.

Pommel Strike: Treat one Damage roll as an attack roll.

Retreat: Treat one Attack roll as a dodge roll.

Feint: Your Attack score = 0. Gain one extra basic combat die next turn if you are not hit this turn.

Sand in the Eyes: Treat two Damage rolls as a Blinded damage result. Blindness lasts 1D3 turns.

Grapple: Wrestling maneuver. If attack hits, all of opponents non-maneuver scores are at -1 until the player rolls a maneuver score = 2+ to break free. Both combatants are disarmed.

Magic

Spellcasters may forgo 1 or more combat dice to gain spells on a 1 to 1 basis. A unit must keep at least 3 combat dice. Additional Spells may be learned instead of Specialty dice.

A spell may be used only once per combat. One spell may be cast per turn. Before players make their combat roll, the spellcaster declares which spell he is casting, if any.

For a spell to 'hit' an opponent, the attack roll must be greater than the dodge roll.

Spell List

1. Fireball: Initiative +3, Damage +4, Attack +1 (ranged only)
2. Lightning Bolt: Initiative +4, Damage +6 (ranged only)
3. Paralysis: If opponent is hit, he takes no damage, but he may not hit or dodge this, or next turn.
4. Aid: Caster or target gains 1D6 specialty dice of any 1 type for 1D6 turns.
5. Heal: Caster or target heals 1D6 lost hits
6. Curse: If hit, opponent loses 1D3 basic combat dice for 1D6 turns.
7. Finger of Death: Initiative -2, Damage +9, Attack -1
8. Shocking Grasp: Initiative +2, Damage +2, Attack +1

9. Shield: Armor +2 for 1D6 turns

Ranged Combat

The first 1D6-2 rounds are ranged combat rounds. Only Ranged spells, Bows, and thrown weapons may be used to attack. Ranged weapons and ranged spells cannot be used during normal melee rounds.

If both combatants want to continue ranged combat roll for another 1D6-2 rounds.

Gladiators

Secutor: Short sword, Medium shield, Light Armor
Retiarius: Net, Trident, Dagger, No armor
Thracian: Short sword, Small shield, Light armor
Murmillo: Large sword, Medium shield, Medium armor
Dimachaeri: 2 Short swords, No armor (Has Two-weapon Style skill)
Samnites: Short sword, Large shield, Medium Armor

Combat Dice

Combat Dice (CD's) are a very comfortable and easy way to resolve battles in any game system on any detail level. Lots of our self developed games use CD's, and even our favourite warpspawn games like Artifact or the Warp Skirmish System can be varied with CD's if you feel the need for a change.

CD's are 6-sided dice with two sides called 'hits' (5 and 6 on a common die) and one side called 'Oops' (the 1). The remaining sides have no meaning. And here's how to use them on different levels of detail:

1. level - keep it simple, stupid

Each combatant has a certain strength. Both sides throw as many CD's as their strength says, and the fighter who has more hits wins. The loser might be killed or lose as many hitpoints as the difference between the amounts of hits.

2. level - fast skirmish

Each player might have a defending power as well. The attacker throws as many CD's as his attack value says, the defender corresponding to his defending power. If the attacker scores more hits than the defender, the target loses (life, 1 hitpoint, the difference between the amounts of hits). The attacker may not lose this turn.

3. level - different character traits

Each player might have different character traits that can be rolled out against each other. For example: Gunnery vs. ship size, if hit then weapon power vs. defense shields etc. You can design this in any detail level you like (some details suck and tend to slow down the gameplay, so do some playtesting).

4. level - modifiers (tabletop gaming etc.)

You can use this in combination with any level - just give modifiers under certain circumstances. Let weapons add a number of CD's to your strength, let a distance to the fire target determine if the attacker has to reduce his gunnery (half of the CD's or anything), let your character double a defensive power if he's taking cover etc. Another way of modifying might be the adding/subtracting of CD's, maybe when doing combined attacks etc. You get the idea - let your imagination flow :)

Critical hit/miss If your CD roll delivers only "Hits", this might be declared as critical hit, which can lead to any consequences you like - target destroyed, secret roll revealed, extra attack etc. If your CD roll delivers more "Oops" than "Hits", this might be declared as critical miss, which can lead to any consequences you like - weapon jam / out of ammo, self-inflicted wound, loss of all further action points this round etc.

RPG with CD's We even play some RPG's with CD's - it's easy. Just let the character traits determine the number of CD's to be rolled, and give the challenges/obstacles a certain power that a) has to be reached with hits, or b) determines the number of CD's that can be rolled against the player's roll.

Designer's note CD's are not our invention. Lots of games use some kind of CD's (for just one example see Universal Game Systems / Rules of War). But since we made our own cool-looking set of CD's, we discovered that lots of games easily can be adapted to them, which often spices up even long-sellers. We learned that a lot of "realism" can be added with CD's without the usual disadvantage of getting the gameplay too complicated. The advantage for game designing is the fact, that the designer only has to deal about the different character traits and their balance - and even the level of detail can be varied very easily. The advantage for the gamers is the simplicity of use and result. If you have any comments/critic/suggestions/ideas, we're eager to hear from you at j_hansen@web.de.

Commodore

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Simplistic Napoleonic era sea battle simulation. Micro-Deck Concept: Easily made minimalist deck.

Card Set Available

Cheers! A Cardset by Janne Thörne: for Cardset

Victory

Reduce your opponent to zero Morale Points.

Morale Points

Each player begins with 7 Morale Points. Use coins, dice, or tokens to keep track of MP's.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are 11 card types. The deck contains a total of 46 cards.

Dice

Six sided dice are needed to play

Tokens

Tokens are needed to keep track of damage. Tokens are placed on the ship card that is damaged.

Setup

Each player is dealt a hand of 7 cards. Roll high to determine who goes first. Players cannot attack on their first turn.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 phases:

1. Maneuver Phase
2. Deploy Phase
3. Attack Phase
4. End Phase

Maneuver Phase

Draw 1 card. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Deploy Phase

Put one or more Ship cards into play. Ship cards are placed face up in front of you.

Attack Phase

Use Attack cards to cause one or more of your ships to attack. When Attacking, a ship rolls a number of dice equal to its current Strength. Every roll of 1 causes 1 Damage Token to be put on the enemy ship. A ship with zero Strength is out of action.

(ships weren't usually sunk, just reduced to drifting hulks) If no enemy ships remain, each successful attack causes your opponent to lose one Morale Point.

End Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Current Strength Definition

A Ship's Current Strength = Hull size rating - Number of Damage Tokens on the Ship.

Broadsides Card

The Broadsides attack card allows one of your target ships, and One of your opponents target ships to attack each other.

Rake The Bow Card

Rake the Bow allows one of your ships to attack a target Opposing Ship without being fired back upon.

General Melee Card

The General Melee card allows all ships in play to attack. In Melee you pick how the ships are paired up. The player with Excess ships may assign them to attack target ships of his choice or Opponents Morale.

Boarding Action Card

For Boarding Action a pair of ships is selected. Both Roll 1D6 (Boarding Rolls) and add their current strength. The higher total wins. Attacker wins ties.

The losing ship is captured by your Marines. A Captured ship fights on your side. Grapeshot rule: A player may play (discard) a Broadsides card to 'sweep the decks' and get +1 to his Boarding roll.

Outmaneuver Card

Can be used 2 ways:

1. Keep ones Distance:

Negate an Attack card just played and draw a card from the deck.

2. Superior Seamanship:

Cause opponent to discard 2 random cards in Maneuver Phase.

Special Damage Card

Target a ship upon which you just inflicted damage. Panic: Enemy ship with Strength = 2 & intact Rigging flees the Battle. Surrender: Capture Enemy ship with Strength = 1.

If neither of the above apply roll 1D6: 1-3: Rigging Destroyed: This ship attacks as if it had one less Strength Ship cannot Board, Rake, or make Broad-sides, however it may be the target of such. 4: Sniper Kills Captain: The ship attacks as if it had one less Strength. 5: Hot Shot: The Ship becomes engulfed in fire & sinks.

6: Blown Away: The Main Magazine explodes. The Ship sinks. If a ship gets hit with a second (or more) special damage card producing a duplicate result the ship instead gets 1 extra damage token.

Card List

Card Name:	#	Notes:
First Class Flagship	2	Hull = 6
Second Class Ship of the Line	4	Hull = 5
Third Class Ship of the Line	6	Hull = 4
Broad-sides	8
Rake the Bow	2
General Melee	4

Number of copies of that card in the deck.

Optional Rules

Some additional ship classes: Fourth Class Ship of the Line (Hull = 3) Frigate (Hull = 2) Sloop (Hull = 1)

Rarities Card

Can be used in 4 different ways:

1. Repairs: Remove 1 Damage Token from target ship.
2. Fireship: Make a Strength = 6 attack vs target ship.
3. Signal Flags: Discard X cards to draw X+1 cards.
4. Strategist: Look at opponent's hand & draw one card from the deck.

Superior Assets

When played put a special token on a ship you just deployed this turn. This Ship gets Strength +1. This represents one of several possibilities: A New Ship, A well drilled Crew, A superb Captain, Carronades, etc.

Alternatively, you can use this card to Rally: Gain back one lost Morale point.

Company Commander

Introduction

Card & Dice game for 2 players. WWII Simulation of Combat between two infantry companies. One player represents the Americans, the other is the Germans.

Victory

The first player to destroy or rout 10 enemy squads or units wins. If after 2 turns, you ever have units at a all three fronts and your opponent only has units at one or none, you automatically win.

The Decks

The game uses 3 decks. Players share a common Tactics Deck. Each player has their own unique Squad Deck.

Markers

Markers (counters, tokens) required: Casualty Markers Pinned Markers

Dice

six sided dice (D6) are needed.

Field Of Play

Each player deploys his units into one of three Fronts: Center, Left Flank, and Right Flank.

Unit Stats

Strength = Each point of Strength represents 1-5 men.

Roll	Result:
1-2	Spotted (Make one Suppression Roll against the Recon unit)
3-4	Nothing
5-6	Success

On a Success result you may do one of 2 things:

1. Look at your opponents hand
2. All suppression rolls vs the target front this turn are at +1

A unit on a mission cannot attack this turn.

Suppression Phase

Units with long range attacks are capable of suppression fire. (Artillery, Mortars, Tanks, Heavy Machine Guns on Tripods) Units attack into the enemy

Setup

Determine who goes first randomly.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 phases:

1. Deploy Phase
2. Tactics Phase
3. Recon Phase
4. Suppression Phase
5. Assault Phase
6. Rally Phase

Deploy Phase

Draw 3 cards from your Squad deck. Deploy these units to your Fronts. You may deploy 0-1+ units to each front (center, left & right) Units are deployed Face up.

If your Company Commander is in play, you may draw an extra Squad or Tactics card. During this phase you may move non-pinned units from one front to an adjacent front. A unit that is moved cannot attack (or Recon) this turn.

Tactics Phase

Draw 2 cards from the Tactics deck. Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it.

Recon Phase

Recon Units may go on a Recon Mission. Missions are into the enemy front directly across from them. Roll 1D6 (Recon Roll):

front directly across from them. Roll 2D6 (Suppression Roll) for each unit with Suppression Fire.

Roll	Result:
2-7	Nothing
8-10	One Random Enemy Unit gets a Pinned Marker
11+	One Random Enemy Unit gets a Casualty Marker

Units that attack in Suppression Phase cannot attack in Assault Phase. Support cards may be played to give you a number of Suppression rolls. Declare which enemy Front is being targeted when using Support cards.

Support cards are discarded when played. A Pinned unit cannot do suppression fire. A unit with casualty markers equal to its Strength is destroyed (remove from play).

Assault Phase

Declare which of your units are attacking (= assaulting). Units attack into the enemy front directly across from them. Defending enemy units get to attack first, then attacking units.

Roll XD6 (Fire Roll) for each unit.

X the Strength of the Unit minus the number of casualty markers on it.

Roll	Result
1-3	Nothing
4-5	One Random Enemy Unit gets a Pinned Marker
6 +	One Random Enemy Unit gets a Casualty Marker

Some Tactics Cards increase/decrease the number of Fire Rolls made. A Pinned unit cannot make

Roll	Result:
1-5	Nothing
6	Ignore a Pinned Result/Treat a Kill Result as a Pinned Result

Units with heavier armor get a bonus to this roll. Note: Tanks are immune to damage caused by snipers.

Flanking

If your opponent has no units left on a Front, your units on that front may attack into an adjacent Front with a +1 on all Fire & Suppression rolls.

Card List Notation

U Units (Squads & Vehicles)

Fire rolls. A unit with casualty markers equal to its Strength is destroyed (remove from play).

Rally Phase

Each unit with Pinned Markers on it may roll 1D6 (Rally Roll)

Roll	Result:
1-4	Nothing
5-6	Remove one Pinned Marker

If a unit has more Casualty & Pinned Markers on it than its base Strength it routs (remove the unit from play). A Leader unit (HQ) that has not moved or attacked this turn may attempt to rally a target pinned unit. (Make a Rally Roll +2) Leader units get +2 to Rally themselves.

Armored Vehicles

Armored units get to make an armor save when they are hit. Roll 1D6 (Armor Roll):

UI Infantry Squad

S Support (Attacks by Artillery & Airplanes)

STR Strength

Copies of that card in the deck

Assault = The unit gets +1 to Fire Rolls when Attacking (Assaulting) Defense = The unit gets an extra 2 Fire Rolls when Defending Anti-Tank = Any damage done by this unit is randomly distributed to Vehicles or artillery units first. Medium Tank = (Armor(Roll +2)+ Suppression + Anti-Tank + Assault) AT Gun = (Suppression + Anti-Tank + Defense + unit cannot Assault)

Conan

Introduction

Create your own tales of Conan the Barbarian and his adventures in Hyborea.

The Deck

All players share a single common deck. The deck contains six suites of cards: Conan cards, Locations, Events, Lesser Foes, Major Foes, & Specials. There are 30+ cards of each suite in the deck.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Each player is dealt 6 cards. Arm wrestle to determine turn order.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Discard Phase
3. Meld Phase

Draw Phase

The active player may put the top card of the discard into his hand, or draw the top card of the deck and put that in his hand. After taking a card, the player should have 7 cards in his hand.

Discard Phase

The active player must discard a card face up to the discard pile. Maximum hand size is 6 cards. Discard excess cards.

Meld Phase

If a player has a combo, he may show it to the other players and put it in his victory pile. Combos are also called Melds or Hands There are 4 types of combos possible:

1. Three Pairs: Two cards each from three suites. (Worth 1 Victory point)
2. Two Three-of-a-Kinds: Three cards each from two suites. (Worth 2 Victory points)
3. One Six-of-a-kind: Six cards from one suite. (Worth 3 Victory points)
4. Flush: One card from each of the six suites. (Worth 4 Victory points)

A Flush is also called a: Straight, Run, Story, Book, Outline. After a playing a meld, a player draws a replacement hand of six cards.

Object

The game ends when players have gone through the whole deck. When the game ends, the player with the most Victory Points wins.

Condottieri Captains

Introduction

Card game for 2+ players Italy 1200-1550. Each player is an Italian City State.

Victory

Play ends after everyone has had 10 turns. The Player with the most Provinces wins. If Provinces are tied, the tied player with the most Ducats wins.

Defeat

If you are ever reduced to zero provinces, you automatically lose. Whoever conquers your last Province gets all of your cards and Ducats.

The City States

- xEach player picks one:
- xMilan (+2 when Attacking)
- xVenice (Start with 2 extra cards)
- xFlorence (Make an extra 2 Ducats per turn)
- xGenoa (Start with 20 extra Ducats)
- xNaples (Start with 1 extra Province)
- xPisa (+2 when Defending)
- xPapal States (Max hand size +2)
- xSavoy (Upkeep costs are -1 Ducats per Captain)

Provinces

Each player starts with 5 Provinces. Use Tokens to represent Provinces.

Ducats

Ducats are money. Use coins to represent Ducats.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

The Cards

There are 6 card types: Captains, Troops, Traits, Events, Revenue, and Battle cards

Setup

Each player is dealt a hand of 7 cards. Mulligan: If you did not get a Captain, reveal and discard your hand and draw again. The most Italian player goes first.

No player may attack on his first turn.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 Phases:

1. Opportunity Phase
2. Revenue Phase
3. Recruit Phase
4. Upkeep Phase
5. Event Phase
6. Battle Phase
7. Diplomacy Phase

Opportunity Phase

Each player Draws 1 card from the top of the deck and puts them in their hand. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Revenue

Gain 1 Ducat from each of your Provinces and for each Revenue card attached to one of your Provinces.

Recruit

- You may recruit Captains, Troops, Traits, and Revenue cards from your hand.
- You may put one Captain card into play.
- You may attach Trait and Troop cards to your captains.
- You may attach Revenue cards to your Provinces.

A Province may have a max of 1 Revenue card attached.

Upkeep

Each Captain you control costs half his Total Force Rating (TFR) rounded-up to keep in play. For example you have a Level 4 Captain with 2 Traits and 3 Troops attached: His TFR = 9. His Upkeep cost = 5. You may discard Troops to lower the Upkeep cost.

If unable to pay, discard the Captain and all attached cards.

Events

Play Event cards in this Phase.

Battle

You may send your Captains to attack your opponents. You may only attack the players to your immediate left or right. Your opponent may block an attack with one of his Captains.

If an attack is unblocked, the defender must give the attacker one of his Provinces. (Revenue cards remain attached) To resolve the Battle compare the TFR (Total Force Rating) of both Captains. Players may play (discard) Battle cards to increase their TFR. The Player with the higher TFR wins the Battle.

In a Tie no one wins. The losing Captain must discard one attached Troop card. If the Captain has no attached Troop cards, then the Captain is discarded.

A single Captain may block more than one attacking Captain per turn, in this Case each attacking Captain is fought separately in turn.

Diplomacy Phase

Players may make deals and promises. This includes trading and gifts of Ducats, Provinces, and Cards in the hand and in play. Max hand size is 5 cards. Discard excess cards.

Emergency Defense Rule

You may put a Captain into play at any time by paying Ducats = his TFR

Connexions

Introduction

Based on the idea of the Glass Bead Game from the book Magister Ludi by Herman Hesse. For the amusement & edification of one or more participants.

The Playing Field & Beads

The Internet itself is the playing field. Individual Web Pages are the "Beads" Internet Links are how the Beads are connected.

Rules

Pick randomly 2 Ideas from the Idea List. The goal is to connect these 2 Ideas by a series of linked Web pages. First, find a page that mentions one of these ideas.

Next follow a link from that page to another page. (Record the addresses of all connecting pages) Continue linking until you find your way to a page that mentions the other idea that you selected. Note that a page without any links is a dead end.

Using a search engine as a connecting 'bead' is not aesthetically pleasing.

Conquest Of Canaan

Introduction

Card and Dice game for 2+ players. Canaan circa 1300 - 1100 BC. Each player represents 1 Nation vying for control of Palestine.

Victory

At the end of 20 turns, the player with the most City Tokens wins.

City Tokens

The land of Canaan (Palestine) is represented by a pool of 20 City Tokens.

Army Tokens

Tokens (of a different color) are also used to keep track of Armies. Each Army Token a player owns generates 1 Force in Conquest phase. Each Army Token roughly represents 1,000 men.

Nations

Each player must pick 1 Nation. Available Nations Include: Canaanites Hebrews Egyptians Hittites Philistines Assyrians Minor Kingdoms Each Nation has a special Ability.

Canaanites

The Canaanites are the decadent native inhabitants of the region. They start with 10 of the City Tokens before the Remaining Tokens are given out in Setup Phase.

Hebrews

The Hebrews are religious zealots with superior leadership. Their Max hand size is +1.

Egyptians

The Egyptians are populous but in decline. They start the game with 20 Armies.

Hittites

The feudal Hittite war machine is efficient with good logistical support. The Hittites are allowed 1 extra conquest phase per turn.

Philistines

The Philistines are master iron workers of Agean stock. The Philistines get +1D6 Force in Numbers Category.

Assyrians

Expansionist & Sophisticated. The Assyrians are very adept at siege-craft. Opponents may not use Defense cards vs Assyrians.

The Assyrians get +1 to their Muster Rolls.

Minor Kingdoms

Have no Special Abilities. These Include: Moabites, Edomites, Ammonites, Phoenicians, Arameans

No Tokens

If you are out of City Tokens or Army Tokens you are Not eliminated from the game.

Setup

Divide up the City Tokens amongst all Players. Each player draws 5 cards Each player starts with 10 Army Tokens. Roll high on 1D6 to see who goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. The current player is the Active player (also the Attacker) Each turn has 4 Phases:

1. Leadership Phase
 2. Muster Phase
 3. Alliance Phase
 4. Conquest Phase
1. LEADERSHIP PHASE

All players fill their hands to 7 cards. Players may discard up to 3 cards and draw replacements. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

2. MUSTER PHASE

Active player gains 1D6 Army Tokens. (The Muster Roll)

3. ALLIANCE PHASE

Declare who you are attacking this turn (or Pass). You are the Attacker, your target is the Defender. Other players may ally with either of you.

An ally can lend 1 card or up to 5 Army Tokens. Army Tokens not destroyed are returned at the end of the turn.

4. CONQUEST PHASE

Conquest Phase represents 1 Battle between 2 Nations. First Attacker & Defender may fill their hands to 7 cards. Next The Attacker & Defender determine who has the advantage in 4 categories:

1. Numbers
2. Strategy
3. Intelligence
4. Morale

Players play cards to generate Force in each Category. Players compare Force Totals in each Category. Ties in a Category remain ties.

If one player has the advantage (wins) in more Categories, he wins the Battle. If the players tie in categories won, roll high on 1D6 to determine winner. The loser loses 1D6 x 10% of their Army Tokens.

The winner loses 10% of their Army Tokens and takes a City Token from the Loser. A Player cannot lose more Armies than his opponent has Armies.

Numbers Category

Each Army a player controls generates 1 Force. Some cards when played generate additional Numbers Category force. The Player with the most Force wins the numbers category.

Strategy Category

Attacker & Defender play strategy cards. Each card has a Force value. The Player with the most Force wins the Strategy category.

The Defender may play Defense cards as Strategy cards. The Attacker may use Siege cards, but only if the defender used a Defense card. If a Defense card is played, terrain cards are discarded if played or in play.

Intelligence Category

Attacker & Defender play intelligence cards. Each card has a Force value. The Player with the most Force wins the intelligence category

Morale Category

Attacker & Defender play Morale cards. Each card has a Force value. The Player with the most Force wins the Morale category

Card List Notation

- I Intelligence
- S Strategy
- M Morale
- D Defense
- B Siege
- N Numbers
- R Retreat = Play if loser in conquest phase, to reduce your casualties by half.
- P Pursuit = Play if winner in conquest phase to double opponents casualties.

Conquest Of Oz

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Based on the Imaginary world of Oz. One player represents the forces of good. The other player is the forces of evil.

Victory

If, for 2 turns in a row, starting on turn 6, a player has no viable Characters in play, his opponent wins.

The Decks

The Good & Evil Characters each have their own unique Decks. The deck contains one of each card in the card list. Card Types include: Characters, Companions, Locations, Items, Modifiers, Powers, Attacks, Events

Dice

A Twelve-sided die is needed.

Setup

Decide who is Good and who is Evil. Players get their respective Decks. Each player is dealt a hand of 7 cards.

Viable Characters

A viable Character is one that is not: Killed, Incapacitated, Exiled, or Captured. A Character must be viable for any of its Special Abilities to work.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases: Adventure Phase Summon Phase Attack Phase Rest Phase

Adventure Phase

Draw 2 cards and put them in your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Summon Phase

Put permanent cards into play from your hand. Permanent cards include: Characters, Companions (Minions), Locations, Items, and Modifiers. Place Location and Character cards face up in front of you.

Item, Companion, and Modifier cards are attached to individual characters. You may organize your Characters into groups. A Group can have a max of 4 Members.

Members of Groups add their Forces for Attack & Defense. All Members of a Group are considered to be the same Target and suffer the same fate from spells & attacks.

Attack Phase

Each of your viable characters/groups may make 1 attack per turn. An Attack targets an opposing viable character/group. First declare all Attacks.

The player who is being attacked is the defender. (Targeted Characters are also called "Marked" Characters) To make an attack you must play (discard) an Attack card. The attacker rolls 1D12 and adds the Force of the attacking Characters and all attached cards. This is the Attack Total.

The defender rolls 1D12 and adds the Force of the defending Target Characters and all attached cards. This is the Defense Total. Players may play (discard) Event and Spell cards to temporarily increase their Force. The higher Total wins. Attacker wins ties.

If the Defender wins, the Attack fails, and nothing further happens. If the Attacker wins, the Target Characters suffer the fate described on The Attack card (Killed, Incapacitated, Controlled, Exiled, or Captured) Note: Some Attacks do not target an opposing Character/Group. They Instead target a Location or friendly Character(s) to be affected. In this case, the defender may assign one of his Characters/groups to Intervene as if they were being attacked. If the defender wins the Battle the Attacker fails at his attempt. If the attacker wins, the Attempt is successful.

Free Attack Rule

For one Attack on your turn you do not have to play an Attack card. The Free Attack can be used to capture, negate a capture, or Negate the control of a Location. The Free Attack has no Bonus.

Rest Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards. You may assign each of your Characters/groups to Location cards.

Killed

Killed Characters are placed in a special Killed Character card pile. All cards attached to the Character are discarded.

Exiled

Exiled Characters are placed in a special Exiled Character card pile. (They are no longer in Oz) All cards attached to the Character are discarded.

Incapacitated

Mark Incapacitated Characters with a token. You remain in control (possession) of your Incapacitated Character.

Controlled

If you gain control of an opponents Character, it now becomes your Character, and you may attack with it, etc. Indicate controlled status with a marker. Note that a controlled character is still viable, but only for the Player that now controls it.

Important Point: If the original Attacking Character that brought the target character under Control is in turn controlled or made unviable, the control is lost, and The target character returns to its original owner fully viable. (Players will have to remember which character did what to whom)

Captured

You take possession of a Character you have captured. A Captured Character is not viable and may not attack, etc. Indicate controlled status with a counter.

All non-modifier cards attached to the Character are discarded. Important Point: If the original Attacking Character that captured the target character is in turn controlled or made unviable, the captive is freed, and The target character returns to its original owner fully viable.

Call Defender

Some Event cards allow for a "Call Defender" ability. These cards are played by the Defender in Attack

Phase. This lets an unmarked friendly viable character/group to join the Marked Character/group in a larger group.

Counter & Negate

A Counter card causes a target card to be discarded only as it is being played. A Negate card causes a target card in play to be discarded or target effect to end.

Spells

You cannot play Spell cards unless you have a Spellcaster in play.

Conquest Of The Caribbean

Introduction

Card game for 2-4 players. Each player controls a European power that has Colonial ambitions in the Caribbean (West Indies) Circa 1550-1750.

The Colonial Powers

Each player must pick as his identity one of the 4 Powers: Spanish, Dutch, English, French All players must be of a different power.

Victory

The player with the most Victory Tokens (VT) at the end of the game wins.

End Of Game

The game ends after 20 rounds. Each Round Represents 10 Years.

Rounds

During a Round , each player gets 1 turn. Players take turns in the following order within a round:

1. Spanish
2. Dutch
3. English
4. French

Victory Tokens

Players share a common set of Victory Tokens (VT). There are an unlimited number of VT.

Settlement Tokens

Players share a common set of Settlement Tokens (ST). There are an unlimited number of ST.

The Caribbean Deck

Players share a common deck.

Setup

Each player starts with 10 VT. Players pick their Nationalities.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns within a round. Each turn has 8 Phases:

1. Prosperity Phase
2. Opportunity Phase

3. Exploration Phase
4. Development Phase
5. Trade Phase
6. Disaster Phase
7. Raid Phase
8. End Phase

Prosperity Phase

Get one VT for each ST on an Island you own.

Opportunity Phase

You draw 3 cards. All Players draw 2 cards. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Exploration Phase

You may put 1 Island card from your hand into play. You now own this Island. Keep it face up in front of you.

You may discard an exploration card to play 1 additional Island

Development Phase

Discard a Settler Card and an Economy Card to put a Settlement Token (ST) on an Island you own. Each Island will have on its card text the max limit ST it can support.

Trade Phase

You may discard an Economy card from your hand for 1 VT. You may discard a Settler card from your hand for 1 VT. You may discard a Commerce card to steal 1 VT from a target Opponent.

You may trade cards with other players.

Disaster Phase

For each Island you own, flip over the top card of the Deck. If the card is a Storm or Disease, the Island loses 1 ST. If the card is a Piracy card you lose 2 VT.

If the card is a Rebellion card lose 1 VT and the Island loses 1 ST. The Piracy card can be negated if you discard a Naval Card. The Rebellion card can be negated if you discard a Military card.

If the card is a Treasure Fleet card, immediately take a Privateer Sub Phase.

Privateer Sub-phase

This Sub Phase occurs when a Treasure Fleet Card is revealed in Disaster phase. This represents Spanish Galleons delivering Gold and Silver from South and Central America. All players starting with you and going clockwise may play Naval cards.

You must play at least 1 more card total than already has been played. This continues until all players pass in a row. The player who played the most cards wins the Treasure.

If no one plays any Naval cards, you get the Treasure. The winner discards the Treasure card and gains 5 VT.

Raid Phase

You may attack a target Island owned by an opponent. As Attacker you must first play 1 Military card. Then your opponent may play a card to defend.

This continues until both of you pass. The Attacker wins if he plays more cards than the Defender. The Defender wins if he plays at least as many cards as the Attacker.

The Attacker can only play Military cards. The Defender can play Military, Treaty, and Disease cards. Discard all played cards.

The winner gets control (ownership) of the island. The Attacker if he wins may play a Loot card to gain 2 VT.

End Phase

Current Players max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Conquests Of Charlemagne

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ people. Theme: Charlemagne (Charles the Great), King of the Franks 768-814.

Game End

The game ends when all 10 Regions have been conquered.

Victory

The player with the most Victory Points (VP) at the end of the game wins.

The Decks

There are 2 decks: The Region Deck The Play Deck

The Play Deck

The play deck has 3 card types: Foe Cards War Cards Victory Cards

The Region Deck

There are 10 cards in the Region deck, 1 for each Region. These are placed on the table face-up and lined-up so they are Visible to all players.

The Regions

Each region has a Strength Rating (SR) and a Victory Point (VP) value.

Region:	SR	VP	Notes:
Aquitania	10	2	Plus Gascony; Starts the game as Hostile
Lombardy	15	4	Threaten Rome
Saxony	20	4	German Tribe
North Iberia	10	2	Moors & Basques; The Spanish March
Bretons	5	1	West Gaul
Benevento	5	2	Lombardy must be Conquered first
Bavaria	5	1	Must be Conquered before the Avars
Slavs	10	2	The Welatabians
Avars	20	5	Descendants of the Huns; Rich in Plunder
Danes	15	3	The Northmen

Setup

Place the 10 Region cards. Shuffle the Play deck. The most French player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 Phases:

1. Fate Phase
2. Foe Phase
3. Fortune Phase
4. Fight Phase
5. Feat Phase
6. Finale Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 3 cards from the Play Deck. Place them face-up in front of you. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Foe Phase

Place any Foe cards you drew onto any Regions that have Not yet been conquered. Note: When placing (attaching) a Play card onto a region, place it Slightly under the Region card so its Strength is still visible.

Fortune Phase

Place any Victory cards you drew onto any Regions that have Not yet been conquered.

Fight Phase

Place any War cards you drew onto any Regions that have Not yet been conquered. See the Hostility & Conquest Rules. War cards, Foe cards, and Region Cards have Strength Ratings. If the total Strength of the War cards on a Region is equal to or greater than The Strength of the Region card plus attached Foe cards, you conquer the Region.

Feat Phase

If you conquered a Region (card) last phase, place it, and any attached Victory cards into your Victory Pile. Discard all Foe and War cards on the Region card. Each Victory card is worth 1 Victory Point (VP) Each Region has its own VP value listed on the card.

Finale Phase

You must play all 3 cards you were dealt this turn if possible. If it is not possible to play a card, discard it.

Hostility Rules

Some War and Foe cards have the Hostility Trait. These can be played on a Non-Hostile Region to make it become Hostile. War cards without the Hostility Trait can only be played on Hostile Regions.

Conquistador

Introduction

Solo Card Game You (Cortez) control a band of Conquistadors seeking Gold in the New World.

Scoring

The game Ends when there are no cards left in the Deck. At the end of the game put all your Ally cards into the Gold Pile. Your score = the total point value of the cards in the Gold Pile.

Conquistador Points

You start with 20 Conquistador Points (CP) (1 Point = 25 Men). If you are ever reduced to zero CP you automatically lose.

The Deck

There is one deck. There are 2 main card types:

1. Conquistador cards
2. Indian cards

Conquistador Cards

Conquistador card types include: Expedition, Diplomacy, War, and Disease

Indian Cards

Indian card types include: Aztecs, Tribes, and Settlements

The Piles

As Play progresses 2 Piles will form:

1. Gold Pile
2. Discard Pile

Setup

Start with the 3 Expedition cards in your hand.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 4 Phases:

1. Exploration Phase
2. Conquistador Phase

Card List

3. Conquest Phase

4. Plunder Phase

Exploration Phase

Turn over (face up) the top card of the deck. This is called the Top card.

Conquistador Phase

If the Top card is a Conquistador card put it in your hand.

Conquest Phase

If the Top card is an Indian card, you may conquer it by playing Conquistador cards (1 or more) from your hand with equal or greater Force. The Conquistador cards go to the discard and the Indian card goes to the Gold Pile. Indians conquered completely by Diplomacy card become Allies.

Ally cards go into your hand and are used as Conquistador cards. When used, Ally cards go to the Gold pile, not the discard. Settlement cards cannot be used as Allies.

Indians conquered completely by Disease go to the discard not the Gold pile. If you cannot conquer the Indian (Top) card, put it into the discard and Lose CP = to the Force of the Indian card minus the Force of any Conquistador cards you discard from your hand.

Plunder Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Put extra cards into the discard pile.

Scoring

> 156+ gold = Substantial victory
 > 78-155 = Marginal victory
 > 77 or less = Trip didn't pay for itself

Optional Rule: Giving Up

Expeditions can be broken off at any point. The player has to pick up one more card from the deck, which reflects the way back to coast. If it comes up as an Indian card, if he can't defeat it, he loses.

If he comes back alive, count Gold as usual.

Introduction

Warp Quest is an abstract game system that depicts goal driven scenarios.

Each player controls a collection of Units who are attempting to be the first to reach an objective and bring it back to the start.

The units could be a party of adventuring archeologists hoping to recover a lost artifact, a squadron of bombers attempting to hit a military target and return home, a band of samurai seeking to vanquish marauding bandits or a company of mixed creatures seeking to destroy a piece of evil ornamental jewelry that has the nasty habit of trying to control the minds of all free creatures.

The scenarios that use the Warp Quest engine will hold the details.

Dice & Pieces

- Six and ten sided dice are needed.
- Each player has a pawn to represent his or her group of Units (adventuring party, fleet, etc.) on the board.
- Use a small trinket to represent the Objective.
- There is only one Objective.

The Board

- The board is a single winding path of connected spaces with a Start Space and an End Space. The path should be 30 Spaces long.
- The First Space represents the start.
- Spaces 2-15 represents travel through the first scenario module.
- Spaces 16-29 represents travel through the second scenario module.
- The End Space is the final destination where the Objective is found.

The Decks

- There are 2 decks for each scenario:
- The Module 1 Deck and the Module 2 Deck.
- Each deck has one of each card in its card list.
- There may also be an Aid deck.

The Units

- Each player controls a group of units called a Party. The scenarios will detail the make up of the units in the party, their attributes (Skills, Traits) and starting dispositions.

Turn Sequence

- Players take turns.
- Each turn consists of 3 phases: 1. Move Phase 2. Draw Phase 3. Challenge Phase

Move Phase

- Roll 1D6. Move your pawn that number of spaces towards the end space.
- You automatically stop when you enter the end space.
- If you are the first to land on the end space your party acquires the Objective.
- Once a party has acquired the Objective then all other players may move their parties in either direction on the path.
- The party with the Objective must move towards the start space.
- The first pawn with the Objective to reach the start space wins the game.

Draw Phase

- If you land on an empty space in spaces 2-15 draw a card from the Module 1 deck.
- If you land on an empty space in spaces 16-29 draw a card from the Module 2 deck.

- If you land on an opponent's party do not draw a card.
- If a deck ever runs out, shuffle its discard and draw from it.
- Cards are of 2 types: Challenge cards & Aid cards.
- Place Aid cards in your hand.
- Challenge cards are encounters your party faces immediately in Challenge Phase.

Challenge Phase

Each challenge card lists one or more skills. Your party will have to make a skill check vs each skill listed. (The same skill may be listed twice or more, requiring that many skill checks) A Skill check consists of a Skill roll and Challenge Roll: Roll 1D10. This is the Skill roll.

Add the skill bonuses of your party members to the roll. You may discard Aid cards for further bonuses to the skill roll. Next roll 1D10. This is the Challenge roll.

Some Challenges have a DM (Difficulty Modifier). Add the DM to the Challenge Roll. If the challenge roll is less than or equal to the skill roll you win the Skill check. If the challenge roll is greater than the skill roll you fail the Challenge.

If you win all the Skill Checks, you win the Challenge. The adventure card may say what happens if you win or lose the Challenge. If the card does not give directions, then roll on the following table: If you lose the challenge: Roll 1D6: (Challenge Loss Table)

D6	Result
1-4	Go back 1D6 spaces
5-6	Lose 1 Unit (Man, Ship, Hit Point, etc., depending on the Scenario)

If you Win the challenge gain 1 Experience Token. You may spend an Experience Token to let you reroll a Move Roll or a Skill Roll.

Moving Onto An Opponents Pawn

- If you land on an opponent's pawn there will be a fight.

- The current player rolls on the Skill List Table to determine which skill will decide the confrontation.
- Both players make Skill Rolls. In case of a tie nothing happens.
- The loser rolls on the Challenge Loss Table.
- The winner takes the Artifact from the loser if the loser was in possession of the Artifact.

Corps Of Discovery

Introduction

Card Game for 2+ players. Lewis & Clarke Exploration Theme.

Basic History

Thomas Jefferson bought (bargain-price) Louisiana from the French in 1803. This purchase more than doubled the size of the United States. Meriwether Lewis & William Clarke were chosen by Jefferson to Explore this vast, unknown region. They assembled a group of Soldiers, hunters, boatmen, and slaves (40-50 men) known as the Corps of Discovery. They set off from St Louis in 1804. They Traveled as far as the Pacific. The Expedition lasted two and a half years.

They returned safely after mapping large areas, finding new plants and Animals and meeting many new Indian Tribes.

Victory

The player with the most cards in his Victory pile at the end of The game wins.

The Deck

- There is a single common deck. There are 7 Suites:
1. Geographical Features
 2. Travel
 3. Scientific Discovery
 4. Indian Tribes
 5. Diplomacy
 6. Hardships
 7. Provisions

Setup

Each player draws 6 cards. The oldest player goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases: Travel Phase Exploration Phase Discovery Phase Winter Phase

Travel Phase

Draw 2 cards in combination from the top of the discard or the Draw pile. The Draw pile is face up.

Exploration Phase

You may discard 1 card and draw a replacement from the draw deck.

Discovery Phase

If you have 1 card from each of the Seven suites, you may set the seven Cards aside in your victory pile. If you have 4 cards of a single suite in your hand, you may set the four Cards aside in your victory pile.

Winter Phase

Discard down to 7 cards. The game ends if there are no cards left in the Deck.

40-80 cards: It is as successful as the historical expedition was. < 40 cards: They shoulda' stayed in bed, and we give the Louisiana Purchase back to Napoleon and this game is being written in French.

Cosmos Commanders

Introduction

Board game for 2-4+ players. Star conquest theme.

The Map

The map consists of star systems connected by warp lines. The empty spaces in between 3 or more systems are called sectors.

Map Setup

At the beginning of each game roll for the resource type of each star system.

Star System Resource Type Table

1D10	Type:	Notes:
1	Metals	This system provides 1 Metal resource
2	Population	This system provides 1 Population resource
3	Radioactives	This system provides 1 Radioactives resource
4	Luxuries	This system provides 1 Luxuries resource
5	Organics	This system provides 1 Organics resource
6	Nebula	Defender gets +2
7	Void	No resource provided by this System
8	Hazard	This system cannot be occupied. Go Around.
9	Gate	This system is directly connected to all other Gates
0	Ruins	Progenitors: Roll twice on the Research Table.

Game End

The game ends at the end of 7 rounds. A round is when each player has had a turn.

Victory

The player with the most Victory points (VP) at the end of the game wins.

Dice

Ten sided dice are needed.

Control Counters

Each player has a set of counters of a unique color.

Victory Tokens

These are common to all players, and are accumulated during play and rewarded at end of the game scoring. Each Victory Token (VT) is worth 1 Victory Point (VP).

Record Keeping

Players will need paper and pencil to keep track of their levels in the 5 types of Resources and Military Technology, their total number of trade Routes, and how many action points they get.

Setup

Each player places one control marker on one resource system. This is their Home System. Home Systems cannot be within 3 systems of each other.

Each player begins with a tech level of 1 in all 5 Resource areas.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Logistics Phase Action Phase Score Phase

Logistics Phase

Get 1 Action Point for every 3 Resource Levels and Trade Routes you have. Round down. Remember, you start the game with 1 Level in each Resource.

Action Phase

You may use your Action Points (AP). Spend 1 action point to do one of the following:

1. Colonization
2. Military Takeover

Research Table

3. Cultural Achievement
4. Establish Trade Route
5. Research Attempt
6. Trade War

Colonization Actions

Put a control marker on an empty system adjacent to a system you control or a sector in which you have a Trade Route. You cannot do more colonization actions in a turn than you have Population resources.

Military Takeover Actions

Target a system controlled by an opponent that is adjacent to a system you control. Roll 1D10. Subtract 2 if the target is a Nebula or that players Homeworld. Add 1 for each level of Military Technology you have.

Subtract 1 for each level of Military Technology the target opponent has. Add 1 for each adjacent Trade Route you have. Subtract 1 for each adjacent Trade Route the target opponent has.

On a modified roll of 6+ you gain control of the target system. Replace opponents control marker with one of your own. If you fail, you may spend another AP to attack again.

You cannot do more Takeover actions in a turn than you have Metal resources. Note that when a system changes hands the old owner loses the resource and the new owner gains the resources/benefits provided by that system.

Cultural Achievement Actions

Roll 1D10: On a roll of 1-4 gain 1 VT On a roll of 5-7 gain 2 VT On a roll of 8-9 gain 3 VT On a roll of 0 gain 4 VT You cannot do more Culture actions in a turn than you have Luxury resources.

Establish Trade Route Actions

Place a control marker in the middle of a sector bordered by at least 1 system you control. This counter is now known as a Trade route. Multiple players may have Trade Routes in the same sector.

A sector may have as many Trade Routes as there are systems defining (bordering) it. You cannot do more Trade Route actions in a turn than you have Organics resources.

Research Attempt Actions

You cannot do more Research actions in a turn than you have Radioactives resources. Roll 1D10 on the Research Table:

1D10	Result:
1	Gain 1 Level in Population Resource
2	Gain 1 Level in Luxury Resource
3	Gain 1 Level in Metal Resource
4	Gain 1 Level in Organics Resource

Directed Research Option Rule

If you don't like the result of the research table roll you may immediately spend an extra AP to pick the result you want.

Trade War Action

Remove an opponents Trade Route in a sector you have a system bordering. You cannot do more Trade War actions in a turn than you have levels in Military Technology.

Score Phase

Gain VT equal to the level of your lowest level Resource. Gain 1 VT for each Sector you have the most Trade Routes in.

1D10	Result:
5	Gain 1 Level in Radioactives Resource
6-7	Gain 1 Level in Military Technology
8-0	Gain 1 Victory Token

End Of Game Scoring

Each player gains VT as follows: Gain 1 VT per system you control. Gates earn 1 extra VT Ruins earn 2 extra VT Gain 1 VT per Trade Route Gain 2 extra VT if you control all the Trade Routes in a sector.

Pick Your Commander

- Ashtar the Fabulous and the People of Light. Starts the game with 1 extra Level of Radiation.
- Zuntar the Prissy and the Robots of Doom. Starts game with 1 Level in Military Technology.
- Ishcibibble the Wily and his Adoring Clones. Starts the game with 1 extra Level of Population.
- Heavenly Hedonia and the Star Hussies. Starts the game with 1 extra Level of Luxuries.
- Orgasmo and the Pod People of Planet XXX. Starts the game with 1 extra Level of Organics.
- Metalor the Stiff and his Army of Heads in Jars. Starts the game with 1 extra Level of Metal.

Cossacks

Introduction

Card game for 2-4 Players. Players take on the roles of the Cossacks and their enemies!

Victory

The first player to accumulate 35 Victory Points wins the game.

The Deck

Players share a common Deck. There are 20 Suites. Each Suite has 3 Cards.

The cards have 7 Basic Functions:

1. Enemy
2. Disaster
3. Men
4. Control
5. Action
6. Fight
7. Victory

Each suite performs one or two of the Basic Functions.

Victory Tokens

There is a common set of Victory Tokens (VT).

Hetman Token

There is one Hetman Token (HT).

Cossack Tokens

There is a common set of Cossack Tokens (CT).

Dice

Six sided Dice are needed.

Setup

Roll high on 1D6 to see who goes first. No one starts with any Tokens. Each player takes the role of one Cossack Enemy: Russians, Poles, Ottomans, or Tatars.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 Phases: Fate Phase Sich Phase Control Phase Cossack Phase Raid Phase Glory Phase End Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 3 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. You may discard a Control Card to draw 2 additional cards.

Sich Phase

You may trade cards, CT, and VT with other players.

Control Phase

You may discard a Control Card to gain possession of the Hetman Token. You may discard a Disaster card to cause a target player to discard 3 random cards from his hand.

Cossack Phase

You may discard Men cards: If you discard 2 Men Cards gain 3 Cossack Tokens. If you discard 3 Men Cards gain 5 Cossack Tokens. If you discard 4 Men Cards gain 7 Cossack Tokens and so on.

Add 1 CT if one or more cards are from the same Suite.

Raid Phase

To go on a Raid, you must be the current Hetman and you must discard 1 Enemy Card and 1 Action Card, otherwise skip this Phase. You cannot play an Enemy card that of the Enemy whose Role is yours. Roll 3 Dice and add them up to get a Raid Total.

Subtract this Total from the number of Cossack Tokens you have. If the result is positive gain that many VT. If the result is negative, lose that many VT.

You may discard a Fight card to cause a target Dieroll (1 of the 3 dice) to be rerolled or to cause a roll to be reduced by 1. Discard all your Cossack Tokens. If you won, the player with the role of that enemy loses VT equal to the amount you gained.

Glory Phase

If you are the current Hetman gain 1 VT. If you went on a successful raid last phase you may. . . Discard 1 Victory Card to gain 1 VT Discard 2 Victory Cards to gain 3 VT Discard 3 Victory Cards to gain 5 VT and so on. You may also play an Enemy card of the same Suite of the Enemy card you played in Raid Phase: Gain 3 VT for each such card played.

End Phase

Discard an Enemy card or Reveal your Hand to all players. Max 10 CT. Discard excess CT. Max Hand size is 4 cards.
Discard excess cards.

Country Houses

Introduction

Card game for 2-4 players. Each player is a Proud Landowner in the US in the Nineteenth Century.

Victory

The first player to get 7 Victory Points is the winner. If more than 1 player reaches 7 VP at the same time, they share the win.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The Deck has 7 Suites. Each Suite has 10 Cards.

The 7 Suites:

- L Land
- S Livestock
- B Buildings
- C Crops
- R Reputation
- P Profession
- N Name

Estate Combo

An Estate Combo is a collection of 12 cards. A Combo must include the following cards: 2 Land 2 Livestock 2 Buildings 2 Crops 2 Reputation 1 Profession 1 Name

The Key

The player in possession of the Key goes first in a round. An actual Key, or any token item will suffice.

Setup

A random player gets the Key. Shuffle the Deck.

Common Deck Card List

Type:	Card Name:
L	Purchase
L	Grove
L	Parcel
L	Hundreds of Acres
L	Well-Tended Fields
L	Plantation
L	Orchard
L	Vineyard

Round Sequence

Each Round has 4 Phases:

1. Lots Phase
2. Purchase Phase
3. Combo Phase
4. Key Phase

Lots Phase

A Lot is a set of 3 cards drawn from the top of the Deck. Lot cards are kept face-up and visible to all players. Draw a number of Lots equal to the number of players.

If the Deck runs out, first each player must discard all their cards in excess of 12. Next shuffle the Discard and draw from it.

Purchase Phase

The player with the Key picks 1 Lot and keeps it. The player to his left then picks 1 Lot and so on until all players have chosen 1 Lot.

Combo Phase

Each player looks at all the cards in all of his lots. If there are enough of the right types of cards to make an Estate combo, he wins. If only one player wins, he gets 2 Victory Points.

If more than one player wins, they each get 1 Victory Point. If there is at least one winner, all players discard all their cards.

Key Phase

The player with the Key passes it to the player to his Left.

Cow Clicker The Card Game

Introduction

Card game based on the Cow Click Social Network game. For 2-4+ players.

Disclaimer

Cow Clicker is a licensed, copyrighted product. This is merely a fan site.

Game End

The Game ends when the Cowmageddon Card is revealed.

Victory

The player with the highest score at the end of the game wins. Your score is equal to the total Mooney value of all your cows divided by the number of cows in your pasture. (get the calculators...)

The Decks

Players share 2 common decks:

1. The Basic Cow Deck
2. The Premium Cow Deck

Mooney

Each cow is worth a certain amount of mooney as listed on its card. Mooney levels are low in the basic deck and higher in the advanced deck.

The Pasture

The area directly in front of a player is his pasture. A player keeps his cow cards in his pasture.

Setup

(read carefully, this is tricky) Separate Basic from Premium cards. Separate out the Starting Stockyard (*) cards from the Premium deck. Flip these starting 7 cards face up next to the Premium deck.

Shuffle the 2 Decks. Each player draws 3 cards from the Basic Cow Deck. Players put their 3 basic cows in their Pasture.

The player who lost the last game goes first. Play then proceeds clockwise. When shuffling the Premium deck, remove any 10 cards including the Cowmageddon card. Shuffle these 10 cards separately, then set them aside.

This is called the Cowntdown deck. If the Premium deck ever runs out, draw from the Cowntdown deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 Phases:

1. Sale Phase
2. Buy Phase
3. Upgrade Phase
4. Stockyard Phase
5. Out to Pasture Phase

The Trade Rule

Players may trade (or Gift) Cows at any time. Trades (but not gifts) must be acceptable to both parties. The most Basic Cows you can have in your pasture is 5.

(You cannot gift or trade someone basic cows if it would cause them to exceed their limit) You can have any number of Premium cows.

Sale Phase

You may discard a Basic Cow. The most Basic Cows you can have in your pasture is 5.

Buy Phase

If you have 4 or less basic cows in your pasture, you may draw the top card of the Basic deck and add it to your pasture. You may only add 1 basic cow to your pasture this way per turn. If the Basic cow deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Upgrade Phase

You may discard 2 or more cows (basic and/or Premium) to gain an Premium Stockyard cow with a mooney value exactly equal to the total mooney value of the cows you discarded. For Example: There is a 17 Mooney cow available as one of the 7 Stockyard cows. You have in your pasture a 5 moony cow, a 2 mooney cow, and a 10 mooney cow. ($5 + 2 + 10 = 17$). You discard them to get the 17 mooney cow and put it in your pasture.

Discard Rule

Basic and Premium cards go into the same discard! Therefore, if the Basic deck ever needs to be replenished, Premium cards will show up in it.

Stockyard Phase

If there are less than 7 Stockyard cows available, flip over the top cards of the Premium deck until there are 7. Remember, if one of these is the Cowmageddon card, the game ends.

Out To Pasture Phase

Take the highest Mooney cow from the Stockyard and place it on the bottom of the Premium deck. If you are into the Cowntdown deck, skip this phase.

- Change Number of Copies

Optional Event Cards

These are part of the Basic deck. If you draw one of these in setup as one of your starting 3 cards, discard it and draw another. They take effect as soon as they are revealed.

They are then immediately discarded:

Card	Description
Rustling	Steal the lowest mooney Premium Cow from target opponent.
Milk	Get an extra 1,2, or 3 Mooney to spend this turn.
Cow Patty	This card does nothing and is worth nothing.
Twins	Draw 2 more Basic cards.
Baby Calf	Search Basic deck for a cow and put it in your pasture.
Cow Bell	Put the lowest mooney cow in the stockyard into your pasture.
Cowboy	Discard X Basic Cows and draw up to X+1 Basic cards.
Bar-B-Que	Target opponent must discard his lowest mooney Basic Cow.
Cattle Drive	Switch 1 of your Basic Cows with an opponent's Basic Cow.
Cow Tipping	All players must give 1 Basic Cow to the player to their right.

Crack Of Doom

Introduction

Board Game for 2 or more players. Lord of the Rings Theme. Each player is their own "Fellowship".

Victory

Players race to see who is the first to destroy the One Ring.

Disclaimer

Lord of the Rings is a licensed, copyrighted, trademarked property. This is merely a fan site.

The Board

The board is a trail 72 spaces long. Space #1 (the starting space) is the Shire Space #10 is the Haven Rivendel. Spaces #15-25 is Moria (Evil Lands) Space #30 is the Haven Lorien Space #40 is the Haven Rohan Space #50 is the Haven Minas Tirith Spaces #60-71 is Mordor (Evil Lands) Space #72 (the finish space) is Mount Doom

Pieces

Each player has a Fellowship Pawn of a different color. Six sided dice are needed to play.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The Deck has 5 types of cards: Foes, Hardships, Aids, Modifiers, and Special cards.

Markers

Defeat markers and Corruption markers are needed.

Setup

Fellowship Pawns are placed on the Shire. Roll high on 1D6 to determine turn order.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. On your turn draw two cards from the deck, and put them in your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw again.

Max hand size is 9 cards. Discard excess cards.

Movement

On your turn roll one die and move your pawn that number of spaces forward on the track. Subtract one from the movement die roll for every Defeat marker you have. Instead of rolling, you may rest and remove one Defeat Marker.

Havens

Havens cannot be bypassed: Always stop when reaching one. When on a Haven remove all Defeat markers and one corruption marker. When on a Haven you may discard any number of cards and fill your hand to nine cards.

Encounters

If you move into a non-occupied, non-haven space, any opponent may play a Foe or Hardship card.

Resolving Foe Encounters

Roll 1D6. This is the Battle Roll. Discard Aid cards to increase the Battle Roll result. Subtract one from the Battle Roll result for every Defeat marker you have.

If the Battle Roll result is equal to or higher than the Foe Strength, the Fellowship escapes (is victorious). If the Battle Roll result is lower than the Foe Strength, the Fellowship is defeated. If defeated, the Fellowship gains one Defeat marker and misses its next turn.

Using The Ring

In a Foe encounter you may use the power of the ring to help you win. Add 2 to your Battle Roll result and gain one corruption marker.

Resolving Hardships

Roll 1D6. This is the Hardship Roll. Discard Hardship Aid cards to increase the Hardship Roll result. Subtract one from the Hardship Roll result for every Defeat marker you have.

If the Hardship Roll result is equal to or higher than the Hardship Strength, the Fellowship survives. If the Hardship Roll result is lower than the Hardship Strength, the Fellowship turns back. If turned back, the Fellowship moves back 1D6 spaces, and misses its next turn.

Endgame

When you arrive on Mount Doom make a Corruption Roll: Roll 3D6. Subtract the number of corruption markers you have from the roll. If the modified Roll total is 12 or more you throw the one ring into the crack of doom and win the game. If you fail try again next turn.

Crecy

Introduction

Simulation of the Battle of Crecy 1346 (Hundred Years War). Card Game for 2 players. One player represents the English, the other the French.

Victory

The game lasts 16 Turns (Charges/Hands). To win the battle the French must

1. Win 4 hands in a row, or
2. Win the last Hand by double the Force of the English

Otherwise, the English win.

The Decks

There are 2 Decks: An English Deck & a French Deck.

Turn Sequence

Each Turn/Hand represents a Charge. Each Turn has 3 Phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Tactics Phase
3. Resolution Phase

English Deck Card List

Draw Phase

Each player draws 7 cards from their own deck. If a deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Tactics Phase

Players may discard up to 4 cards and draw replacements.

Resolution Phase

Both players reveal their hands. A Hand may contain up to 1 card from each of that decks 6 suites. Excess cards of a suite are discarded.

Each card has a Force value of 1 to 5. Each player determines their Battle Total (BT) for their hand.

BT Total Force of all cards not discarded.

The player with the highest BT wins the hand. The English win ties.

Crimea

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Simplistic Simulation of the Crimean War 1854-56. One player is the Russians. The other player is the Allies (Anglo-French).

Victory

The first player to win 7 Battles is the winner. If you have ever won 3 more battles than your opponent, you win. If a player is reduced to zero Troop Tokens he loses.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Setup

Each player starts with 50 Troop Tokens. Each player starts with a hand of 5 cards.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. The Allies go first. Each turn is divided into 5 Phases: Supply Phase Reinforcements Phase Epidemic Phase Battle Phase End Phase

Supply Phase

Draw 2 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Reinforcements Phase

Play 1 Reinforcement card from your hand. Gain Troop Tokens = the Force of the card.

Card List

Abandon Position	B	1	4
Unsupported Attack	B	1	5

Epidemic Phase

Play 1 Epidemic card from your hand. You opponent loses Troop Tokens = to the Force of the Disease card.

Battle Phase

You may skip this phase if you have no Attack cards or do not wish to attack. You may play 1 or more Attack cards to start a Battle. You opponent loses Troop Tokens = to the Force of the Attack cards.

Your opponent may play 1 or more Defense cards. You lose Troop Tokens = to the Force of the Defense cards. Either player may play a Blunder card to inflict additional Casualties = to the Force of the Blunder card.

The player that inflicted more casualties wins the battle.

End Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Crimson Sky Privateers

Introduction

Card game for 2+ players. Each player controls a squadron of Privateers. Lead your pilots on missions vs pirate gangs, enemy militias, and commercial zeppelins.

Disclaimer

Crimson Skies is a trademarked, copyrighted, licensed property. This is merely a fan site.

Background

Check out the official ??Crimson Skies website.

Victory

The player with the most VP (Victory Points) at the end of the game wins. The game ends when a player goes to draw a card and there are no cards left in the deck. VP are gained by completing missions.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 6 types of cards:

- H Pilots
- P Planes
- W Weapons
- M Maneuvers
- D Damage
- V Missions

Dice & Counters

Six sided dice are needed. Use counters to mark damage.

Setup

Each player is dealt 7 cards. Roll high on 1D6 to see who goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 phases:

1. Luck Phase
2. Recruit Phase
3. Mission Phase
4. Defender Phase
5. Action Phase
6. End Phase

Luck Phase

Draw 2 cards from the deck. Max hand size is 10 cards. Discard excess cards.

Recruit Phase

You may put a plane card with an attached pilot card into play.

Mission Phase

You may play a Mission card. Also indicate which of your Pilots are going on the mission. A maximum of 4 pilots may go on a mission.

Defender Phase

Your opponent may play from his hand: plane cards and pilot cards. Your opponent may not play more pilot than plane cards. These cards are 'defending' the Mission.

Action Phase

This phase is divided into a series of rounds. The current player goes first, followed by the defenders. The phase ends when one side is destroyed or the active player retreats.

Each pilot, plane, and Mission card has a Force value. On your round roll a number of six sided dice equal to the total Force of your participating cards. On your round, you may play (discard) one Maneuver or Weapon card to gain additional Force.

Your opponent may play certain Maneuver cards to decrease your force total. Every time you roll a "1" your opponent takes one point of damage. The opponent distributes the damage.

Planes and Mission cards each have a number of hits. Mission cards have Hits equal to their Force. Each point of damage on a Mission card reduces its Force by 1.

A plane reduced to zero hits is destroyed and discarded. Pilots go down with their planes. A mission card reduced to zero is "Captured" and the turn ends.

You may play a damage card from your hand onto a plane card that has just received damage.

End Phase

If the active player won in action phase (destroyed all defenders) he gets to put the Mission card into his Victory pile. A Mission is worth VP equal to its Force. If the active player retreated or was wiped out, discard the Mission card.

Introduction

Each player controls a tribe of Paleolithic Homo sapiens.

The Map

Use an Ice Age Map of Europe divided up into 30+ irregular territory spaces.

Victory

The first player to advance to the Neolithic age and control 15+ territories is the winner.

Advances

Advance:	Notes:
Tools	Materials, Function
Hunting	Tools, Techniques
Fishing	Tools, Techniques
Health	Medicine, Fertility
Clothing	Materials, Tools, Techniques
Fire	Functions, Tools

Bands

Population counters (or tokens) are referred to as bands. A band is a group of families (usually no more than 100 people). All bands of a player are referred to as his tribe.

Because Bands are so small there is no stacking limit.

Time Scale

The game begins at 30,000 BC. Each turn is 500 years. The game automatically ends at 4,500 BC.

Setup

Roll high on 1D10 to see who goes first. Each player places 6 Bands in any one territory of their choice. A Player must pick a territory at least 2 spaces away from another player.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 Phases:

1. Growth Phase
2. Migration Phase
3. Advance Phase
4. Event Phase
5. Interaction Phase

Dice

10 sided dice are used.

Neolithic Age

There are 11 different categories of Advances. Consult the Advances Table. Tribes start out at the Paleolithic level of Culture & Technology. As they gain advances they develop a (transitional) Mesolithic culture.

A Tribe is considered to have advanced to the Neolithic Age when it has 2 or more advances in each of the 11 categories. Make sure to write down every Advance your Tribe gets.

Advance:	Notes:
Gathering	Foods & Tools
Religion	Rituals, Beliefs
Shelter	Dwellings
Prey	Hunted Species
Art	Symbolism, Expression

Growth Phase

Roll 4 dice. Roll an extra die for every 3 territories you control rounding down. (Max 8 Dice)

Migration Phase

You may reroll up to 4 of the dice.

Advance Phase

For every 1 or 2 you rolled gain that many Bands. Place the new Bands as evenly as possible amongst the territories you control. For every 3 or 4 you rolled, you may move that many Bands 1 space each.

If you rolled at least one 5 and one 6 Gain 1 Random Advance: Roll on the Advance table. If you roll an advance you already have, reroll. Record all your advances on paper.

Event Phase

For each territory you occupy roll once on the Event Table:

-For a Disaster Event roll 1D6 and subtract the level you have in the indicated skill: If the result is positive lose 1 Band

-For a Progress Event roll 1D6 and subtract the level you have in the indicated skill: If the result is zero or negative gain 1 Random Advance

-For a Expansion Event roll 1D6 and subtract the level you have in the indicated skill: If the result is zero or negative gain 1 Band

-For a Migration Event roll 1D6 and subtract the level you have in the indicated skill: If the result is zero or negative move 1 Band or lose 1 Band

Event Table

1D100	Event:	Notes:
01-05	Famine	Disaster: Gathering
06-10	Disease	Disaster: Health
11-15	Follow Herds	Migration: Hunting

41-45	New Fishing	Grounds Migration: Fishing
46-50	Cooperation	Expansion: Religion
51-55	Revolutionary Ideas	Progress: Art
56-00	Nothing	-

Interaction Phase

If a territory contains bands from two different tribes, they will interact. Roll on the interaction Table:

If tied, nothing happens.

Interaction Table

1D10	Interaction:	Notes:
1	Observation	You Gain one advance the other tribe knows
2	Occupation	Side with fewer Shelter Advances loses 1 Band
3	Warfare	Side with fewer Hunting Advances loses 2 Bands

Cross & Crown

Introduction

Abstract Strategy. 2-4 players. Players are Royal Dukes using political, religious and military influence to gain the most economic control of a disputed region.

Set Up

Each player gets a set of counters placed in an opaque cup. Flip coins to determine turn order.

End Of Game

The game ends when there are no empty spaces left on the board.

Victory

The player with the most Victory Points (VP) wins. VP are determined at the end of the game. Each settle-

Settlement Table

Type	Number	VP
Village	6	1
Town	5	2
Castle	4	3

Number = Number of this type of settlement on the board

VP Victory points awarded for controlling this settlement.

Counters

Each player has a set of counters of a unique color. A Counter set contains: 6 Monks numbered 1-6 (Religious Influence) 6 Squires numbered 1-6 (Military Influence) 6 Heralds numbered 1-6 (Political Influence) 6 Priests numbered 7-12 (Religious Influence) 6 Knights numbered 7-12 (Military Influence) 6 Counts numbered 13-15 (Religious & Political Influence) 3 Bishops numbered 13-15 (Military & Religious Influence) 3 Barons numbered 13-15 (Political & Military Influence)

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. On your turn draw 2 random counters from your counter cup. Place one counter (from your pile of drawn counters) onto any empty square on the board.

Counters may not be placed onto settlements or on ment has a VP award for control of it.

Gain 1 VP for every direct connection between 2 settlements that is composed of a trail of just your counters. Gain 1 VP for controlling the most settlements of one type. (Award for each type)

The Board

Use a 10 x 10 Hex map. 20 of the 100 spaces are Settlements. Draw settlements onto the board.

Try to arrange it that settlements are not adjacent to each other or the side of the map. (Some of this is ok) Other spaces without settlements are considered to be empty spaces. If you wish, some spaces may be Mountains where counters cannot be placed. There are 5 types of settlements as listed in the Settlement table.

Type	Number	VP
Mine	3	4
City	2	5

top of other counters. Max hand size is 7 counters. Put excess counters back into your cup.

Control Of Settlements

Determine control at the end of the game. The player having the most counters of one type surrounding a settlement controls it. For example: Player 1 has 3 Religious counters surrounding a village & no one else has 3+ counters of any one type.

If players have an equal number of counters of different types then use the Superiority Analog: Military defeats Religious, Religious defeats Political, Political defeats Military. For Example: Player 1 has 2 Military counters & Player 2 has 2 Political counters. Player 2 gains control. If players have an equal number of counters of the same type, then the side with the higher number total wins.

For Example: Player 1 has 3 Military counters with a combined total value of 18. Player 2 has 3 Military counters with a combined total value of 15. Player 1 gains control. In more complex situations the settlement remains contested and no one gains control.

Note that if a counter is adjacent to 2 settlements it influences both of them.

Cruise Ship Quest

Introduction

Board game for 2-4+ players. Cruise Line Management Theme.

Victory

The player with the most Cruise Points at the end of the game wins.

Game End

The game ends when players have gone through the deck 3 times and a turn starts and there are no cards left to draw.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The Deck has 5 types of cards:

1. Destination Cards
2. Room Cards
3. Mess Cards
4. Crew Member Cards
5. Souvenir Cards

Ship Tokens

Players share a set of 20 Ship Tokens. Each Token is numbered for identification. Tokens move around on the map.

Ships Logs

Each ship will require a scrap piece of paper to record its Ship name, Captain Name, owner, value, and destinations it has arrived at.

The Map

The map contains 18 Regions. Regions are connected to certain other regions by Course lines. (Each region directly connects to 1-5 other regions) Within each Region are 3-5 Cities.

Setup

Shuffle the Deck. Players come with names for their Cruise Lines. Players fill their hands to 7 cards.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 Phases: Itinerary Phase Investment Phase Business Phase Launch Phase Sail Phase Destination Phase Port Phase

Itinerary Phase

Draw 1 card from the deck and put it in your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. If it is the third time the deck has run out, the game ends.

Investment Phase

You may Reduce your Cruise Point Score by 1 to draw an extra card. You may then Reduce your Cruise Point Score by another 2 to draw a second extra card. (total 3 points) You may then Reduce your Cruise Point Score by another 3 to draw a third extra card. (total 6 points)

Business Phase

Players may trade cards and Cruise points with each other. Limit this to 3 minutes.

Launch Phase

You may launch a new Cruise ship. To do this you must play 7 cards from your hands. 6 cards must be Room cards: 2 Sleep Cards 2 Play Cards 2 Food Cards The seventh card is a city card; the location where the ship will start from.

Start a Ship Log for the new ship. Select a ship Token. On the Log record the Identity number of the ship token.

Record your name as the owner of the ship. Record a name for the ship. Record a name for the captain.

Place the ship Token on the Map at the city designated by the City card. Determine and record the Value of the ship. Each room has a value of 1 or 2.

Add up these room values to get your total Ship Value. Record on the log, the ships Home Port (starting location). You may have any number of ships in your fleet.

Important: No player starts with a ship in play. Discard all 7 cards at the end of the phase a ship is launched.

Sail Phase

You may move each of your ships on the map. Each of your ships may move once on your turn in this phase. Important: Ships move 4 ways:

1. Region to adjacent Region (as allowed on the Region Connectivity List)
2. Region to City within that Region.
3. City to Region that city is in.
4. City to city within a Region (all cities within a region are connected)

Destination Phase

If you have one of your ships at a city, you may play a matching Destination card. For example: Your ship is at Cuba on the Map and you play the Cuba card. You score Cruise Points for arriving at a destination.

Gain 2D6 Cruise points (roll 2 six sided dice) and add the value of your ship to get the base number of cruise points earned. Next, each other player may play one or more Mess cards from their hands against you. You may play crew member cards from your hand to negate Mess cards on a one to one basis.

For each Mess card not negated, you earn 1 less Cruise Point. You may play 1 or more Souvenir cards. Gain 1 Cruise Point for each such card played. Discard all cards played.

Record on the Ships Log the Destination (City) you arrived at and the number of Cruise points you scored.

Port Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Business Growth Rule

Every time you launch a ship, your hand size increases by one.

End Of Game Scoring Bonuses

The Ship that visits the most Cities gets 25 Cruise Points. The Ship that visits the most Regions gets 25 Cruise Points. A Ship that visits a city no other ship has visited gets 10 Cruise Points for each such city.

When a ship visits all the cities in a single region, this is called a Hat Trick. A Ship gets 10 Cruise Points for every Hat Trick it Makes.

— Variants —
Larger Ships

The second ship you launch can have 1 extra room (any type). The third ship you launch can have 2 extra rooms and so on.

Starting Ship

Everyone starts with a ship already in play with a value of 6.

Early Investments

Each player starts the game with 10 Cruise Points.

Crusades

Introduction

Players lead rival bands of Crusaders in their efforts to conquer Palestine 1096-1271.

Christendom

Players units never attack each others units or settlements. They can only attack Turkish troops and Turkish controlled settlements. The Turks are not controlled by any player.

Crusader nationalities include: German, French, English, Byzantine.

Victory

Be the player with the most Victory Points (VP) at the end of Turn 15. VP's are obtained by controlling settlements.

The Map

Use a hex map or a map with irregular spaces. When making a map incorporate the 4 terrain types.

Type:	VP	Defense	Troops	Loot	Supply	Garrison
1. Village	1	0	1D6	1D6x25	3	1
2. Town	2	1	2D6	2D6x25	6	2
3. City	3	2	3D6	3D6x25	9	3

VP Victory Points the player gets for controlling the settlement.

Troops = Number of Arab troops initially defending the settlement. Supply = If controlled, the number of baggage the settlement provides per round.

Loot Amount of Baggage received the first time the settlement is captured.

Defense = Modifies siege rolls.

Unit Stats

Type:	MP	Attack	Notes

Knights	4	+3	+3 In open Battle Phase
Bowmen	3	+1	+1 In Bombardment Phase
Heavy Infantry	2	+2
Siege Engines	1	-	+3 In Bombardment Phase

Include 30+ settlements.

Along the western and northern borders of the Holy Land several desert spaces should be denoted as Invasion Points. The western invasion points border the Mediterranean Sea. Invasions by this route required costly passage on the ships of the Italian Maritime Republics.

Terrain

There are 4 types of terrain

Type:	Notes:
1. Sea	Impassable
2. Desert	—
3. Mountains	Impassable
4. Settlements	3 types

Settlement Table

There are 3 types of Settlements:

Counters

Military units are represented by counters. Each player gets a set of counters of a unique color. European Unit types include: Leaders (Kings & Nobles), Knights, Bowmen (Includes Bows & Crossbows), Heavy Infantry, Siege Engines.

Also required is a common set of Turkish counters: Horse Archers (Includes Nomads & Camels), Cataphracts (Heavy Cavalry), Spearmen, Archers. Counters are also needed include: Starvation Counters, Sapping Counters

Type:	MP	Attack	Notes
Horse Archers	5	–
Cataphracts	4	+3	+3 In open Battle Phase
Archers	3	–
Spearmen	2	+2	+1 In open Battle Phase

MP Move Points

Attack = Attack Roll Modifier

Dice

Six sided dice are required.

Record Keeping

Players record their baggage with pen and paper.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Setup

Each player starts with: 2D6 Leaders 3D6 Knights 4D6 Bowmen 6D6 Heavy Infantry 2D6 Siege Engines 2D6 x 50 Baggage Players determine turn order by rolling high on 1D6. Reroll ties. Shuffle the deck. All settlements start out as Hostile and Unexplored.

(Hostile = Turkish-occupied Settlement) (Unexplored = Have yet to be the subject of a scouting expedition) In order each player places his army on one of the invasion points.

Stacking

Any number of units may occupy a single space.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 13 Phases:

1. Fate Phase
2. Supply Phase
3. Upkeep Phase
4. Movement Phase
5. Open Battle Phase
6. Bombardment Phase
7. Sapping Phase
8. Assault Phase
9. Breach Phase
10. Pillage Phase
11. Starvation Phase
12. Revolt Phase
13. End Phase

Fate Phase

Each player draws 1 card from the deck. Place the card in your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Supply Phase

Players gain Baggage from settlements they control equal to the settlements supply value.

Upkeep Phase

All of units consume 1 Baggage each. Leaders and Knights receive their baggage before other unit types. Units in settlements they control receive their baggage before other units.

For each unit that does not receive baggage roll 1D6 (Desertion Roll):

1-5 no effect. 6 = a unit disbands.

Remove units in the desert first.

Movement Phase

Players take turns moving their units. Each player gets one turn to move some, all, or none of his units. Determine turn order by rolling high on 1D6.

Your units may move a number of spaces up to their MP (Movement Point) rating. Units must be stacked with a Leader to move. Units may not enter Sea or Mountain spaces.

Units may not enter spaces occupied by opponents units. If a stack enters a hostile settlement space, the settlement is considered to be under siege.

Rule For Scouting

When a stack enters a space that is next to an Unexplored settlement, roll to determine how many Turkish troops are garrisoned in the settlement. (The Garrison Roll) The number of troops is indicated on the Settlement Table. Half of the troops will be Archers. The rest are spearmen. Place the indicated Turkish counters onto the settlement.

Open Battle Phase

Some cards cause a group of Turkish units to attack an opponent's stack out in the open. If there are fewer Crusaders than Turks at a siege, (Including any that just arrived through card play) the Turks will emerge from the settlement and attack on a roll of 1-4 on 1D6. If the Turks are all killed, the Crusaders capture the settlement.

Battles proceed in Rounds. Each Round has 3 Segments:

1. Missile Unit Attack Segment
2. Shock Unit Attack Segment
3. Morale Check Segment

Missile Unit Attack Segment Missile Units (Horse Archers, Archers, Bowmen, and Siege Engines) attack first simultaneously. Units hit on a base roll of 10+ on 2D6. If they hit, an opposing unit is killed (Defenders choice).

Your opponent chooses which Turkish units are lost. Rolls are modified by a unit's attack stats. Leaders do not get attack rolls but each may add a +1 to the roll of any one unit in the same stack once per round.

A unit may receive only one Leader bonus per attack.

Shock Unit Attack Segment All other non-missile unit types attack next simultaneously. Otherwise, this segment proceeds exactly like Missile Phase.

Morale Check Segment Skip this segment if neither side suffered any casualties during this battle round. The side that suffered more casualties during this battle round must make a Morale Check. If both sides lost the same number of units, the Turks must make the Check.

Roll 2D6:

D6	Result
4 or less	The checking side breaks.
5 or more	The checking side stands their ground. Proceed with the next battle round.

Roll Modifiers (applicable to both sides):

Mod	Situation
+2	If the checking side has a larger force
-1	If the checking side has a smaller force

Roll Modifiers (applicable to Crusaders only):

Mod	Situation
-1	If the Crusader force has a Great Leader
+1	If both sides lost the same number of units during this battle round
-x	If Turkish force has fewer than 5 units, x = (5 - total units)*

* This modifier only applies if the Turks are able to retreat into a Settlement.

Battle Conclusion Repeat the Round cycle until one side is destroyed or breaks. If the crusaders win they regain 1D6 casualties (Men who fled the field). If a Turkish Force breaks all its units retreat to the settlement or Flee if there is no Settlement.

If a Crusader stack breaks it retreats into an adjacent space. If unable to retreat, due to impassible terrain or the presence of opposing forces, the stack is destroyed. Roll 1D6 for each retreating unit: On a roll of 1-2 it is slaughtered.

Victorious Turks become part of the Settlement's forces, if there is no settlement, the Turks ride off into the sunset.

Mod	Situation
+1	If the Crusader force has a Great Leader
-1	If the Crusader force has no Leader

Roll Modifiers (applicable to Turks only):

Bombardment Phase

Besieging Missile troops may attack units inside a city. Units hit on a base roll of 11+ on 2D6. If they hit, an opposing unit is killed (Defenders choice). The last unit in a settlement cannot be destroyed this way.

If the Crusaders attack, the Archers in the city may simultaneously attack back at +1 to their attack roll. Each side in the siege only attacks once this phase.

Sapping Phase

Besieging troops may attempt to sap the settlement walls. Roll 1D6 (Sapping Roll):

D6	Result
1	Sappers Killed: Attacker loses one troop unit.
2	Counter Measures: Remove one Sapping Counter.
3-4	—
5-6	Undermine the Walls: Put one Sapping Counter on the settlement.

Assault Phase

The Besieging troops may attempt to Storm the Castle. Roll 2D6 (Assault Roll):

2D6	Result
4 or less	Repulsed & Lose 2D6 troops
5-7	Repulsed & Lose 1D6 troops
8-9	Breach & Lose 2D6 troops
10+	Breach & Lose 1D6 troops

Add 1 to the roll per Sapping counter on the settlement. Subtract the Defense stat of the settlement from the roll.

Breach Phase

If the Besieging troops breached the walls last phase, they enter the settlement and combat proceeds as in Open Battle Phase. Siege engines may not attack in Breach Phase.

Pillage Phase

If all of the Turkish defenders are killed in Breach Phase, the crusaders capture the city and Loot it. Baggage gained by looting is equal to the Loot stat in the Settlement table. A settlement may only be looted once per game.

The player gains control of the settlement. The player must keep a garrison in the settlement with a number of troops equal to its Garrison level.

Starvation Phase

If a settlement is under siege roll 1D6 (Starvation Roll):

1-5	Add one starvation counter to the settlement.
6	Attackers start fires or disease: Add two starvation counters
7	Add one starvation counter to the settlement.
8+	The settlement surrenders. Discard all defending units.

Add the number of starvation counters already present to the roll. Subtract the settlements defense stat from the roll. If a settlement is ever not under siege immediately remove all starvation counters.

If the city surrenders, the crusaders capture the city and Loot it.

the garrison is automatically destroyed and the city becomes hostile and 'unexplored'. if Crusader forces intentionally abandon a Settlement, that Settlement immediately becomes Hostile and Unexplored.

Revolt Phase

If a garrison is undermanned the populace of the city will revolt on a roll of 6+ on 1D6. If there is a revolt,

End Phase

Hostile Turkish settlements not under siege will replenish all of their troop losses. Maximum hand size = 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Card Notes

Any units a player receives by virtue of cards like 'Holy War' and 'Reinforcements' remain with the player; they do not disappear after one battle.

Bonuses are cumulative: For example, a player plays 'Siege Tower', 'Ladders', 'Battering Ram', and 'Traitor' all at once.

There is a limit of 1 OB & 1 TSAB card that can be played against a given stack per turn.

For cards that target a stack, only a Crusader stack may be targeted.

Some reinforcement cards provide 'Turkish' units to a player.

Turkish type troops that have been recruited into a player's army cannot be left without at least one of the player's 'regular' units to accompany them.

A victim of Desertions & Plague is allowed to choose which units he must lose. If the result exceeds the number of units in the target stack, the stack is destroyed but the difference is not directed to another stack.

Great Leaders

Designate some Leaders (1D3 per Player at setup) as Great leaders. If any Great Leaders are present in a stack, all units get +1MP. A Great leader gives his +1 bonus to up to 3 troop units.

Some Great Crusader Leaders include: Richard
Coeur de Lion, Philip Augustus, Emperor Frederic Bar-

barossa, King Louis VII, Gilbert the Templar, Garin the Hospitaller, Baldwin I.

Cthulhu Quest

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Cthulhu Theme.

Disclaimer

Cthulhu is a licensed, copyrighted property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

The game ends when there are no cards left in the deck and no one can play a Meld. The player with the most Story Points (SP) wins.

Story Point Tokens

Player share a common set of Story point Tokens.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are 10 card types:

- I Investigator
- A Ally
- O Object
- B Book
- G God
- M Monster
- L Location
- T Transport
- S Spell
- E Event

Setup

Shuffle the Deck. Craziest player goes first. Play proceeds clockwise.

Each player is dealt a hand of 13 cards.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases:

1. Investigation Phase
2. Insanity Phase
3. Story Phase
4. Mythos Phase

Investigation Phase

Draw 2 cards from the deck and put them in your hand.

Insanity Phase

You may discard 1 card from your hand:

- Discard a Transport Card to look at the next 5 cards in the deck and keep one.
- Discard a God Card to discard your hand and draw 9 new cards.
- Discard an Object Card to steal 1 Story Point Token from target player
- Discard an Investigator Card to draw 3 cards and discard 2 cards from hand.
- Discard an Ally Card to draw 2 cards.
- Discard a Location Card to put the top card of the discard into your hand.
- Discard a Spell Card to make opponent give you a card from his hand (His choice).
- Discard an Event Card to look at opponents hand.
- Discard a Monster Card to cause opponent to discard 1 Random card.
- Discard a Book Card to look at the next 10 cards in the deck.

Story Phase

You may play a Meld. A Meld must include the following: 1 Investigator card 0 to 2 Ally cards 0 to 1 Object card 0 to 1 Book card 0 to 1 God card 1 to 2 Monster cards 1 to 2 Location cards 0 to 1 Transport card (1 required if 2+ Location cards played) 0 to 1 Spell card 0 to 1 Event card A Meld of 3 cards is worth 2 Story Point (SP). A Meld of 4 cards is worth 4 Story Points (SP). A Meld of 5 cards is worth 6 Story Points (SP).

A Meld of 6 cards is worth 8 Story Points (SP). A Meld of 7 cards is worth 10 Story Points (SP). A Meld of 8 cards is worth 12 Story Points (SP).

A Meld of 9 cards is worth 14 Story Points (SP). A Meld of 10 cards is worth 16 Story Points (SP). A Meld of 11 cards is worth 18 Story Points (SP).

A Meld of 12 cards is worth 21 Story Points (SP). A Meld of 13 cards is worth 25 Story Points (SP). Certain card combinations will award extra Story Points.

Collect the indicated number of Story Point Tokens and discard the Meld.

Mythos Phase

If you played a Meld this turn, draw X cards where X is the number of cards in the Meld. Max hand size is 13 cards. Discard excess cards.

Cthulhu Skirmish

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Battle between two factions in the Lovecraft Universe. Abstract skirmish level combat.

Each figure represents a single man/creature (unit).

Disclaimer

Cthulhu is a licensed property. This is merely a Fan site.

Victory

You win if you kill the opposing Leaders. If a faction has no Leader, then a loss of half it's units will defeat it.

Map & Pieces

Use an 8x8 chessboard. Use chits or miniatures to represent units.

Factions

Each player picks one Faction. Each Faction has its own set of units described in its own unit list. Each Faction has its own cardset described in its own card-set list.

There are 8 Factions: Human Investigators Deep Ones Humanoids Yithians Elder Things Mi-Go Serpent People Cultists

Spell Deck

Players share a common Spell Deck. Only leaders can use spells. Keep your spell cards in a Separate hand.

Setup

Each player places one unit on each square of his back two rows. Units may not stack.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases:

1. Fate Phase
2. Move Phase
3. Attack Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 3 cards from your deck. Max hand size = 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your units. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the unit moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. "Knight" type move cards allow a unit to move like a knight in chess. Instead of moving just one unit in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more units forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Attack Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. "Knight" type attack cards produce an attack with a range like a knight in chess. Attacks always do one Hit of damage to the target unless otherwise specified.

Use Chits or coins to record damage. A unit reduced to zero Hits is killed and removed from the board. Your opponent may play Defense cards to negate your attack.

Unit Table Nomenclature

Number of that type of man you start the game with.

Hits Number of Hits that type of unit has.

Summoned Units

Some spells can summon units, which appear in an empty space next to the caster. The controller may use Attack & Move cards with the unit. Instead of using the Range on the cards, the cards will be assigned a range according to The spell description of the Unit.

Summoned Units cannot use defense cards. A Summoned unit automatically loses 1 Hit per turn.

Controlled Units

The controller may use Attack & Move cards with the unit. These cards will always be considered to have a range = 1. Controlled units cannot cast spells.

Culture & Conquest

Culture & Conquest

Simulation of ancient civilizations. This dice game does not require a map or counters. Solo or any number can play.

Victory Conditions

The game ends after 50 turns. The player with the most Victory Points wins. Advances you have score 5 points.

Cities you control score 10 points. Wonders you build score 15 points. Wonders you control score 5 points.

For every Natural resource you have the most of, gain 5 points. For every Manufactured resource you have the most of, gain 10 points. Gain 5 points if you have the biggest population.

Set Up

Each player starts with 10 populations and 1 city. Randomly determine your culture on the culture table. Determine Turn order by rolling high.

1D10	Result:
1-3	Nothing
4-5	Gain 1 Manufactured Resource of your choice
6-10+	Gain 1 Random Natural Resource (Roll on the Natural Resource Table)

Note: if you have none of the requirements for any manufactured resource, you get nothing.

Population Distribution Phase

Assign populations to one of the 7 specialty categories: Army, Navy, Agriculture, Trade, Labor, Scholars (Army & Navy are collectively called Military units) A single category cannot be increased or decreased by more than 5 populations. It costs 2 Gold to raise an army or navy. It only costs 1 Gold to raise a Navy if you have Wood & Cloth.

It only costs 1 Gold to raise an Army if you have Weapons & Horses.

Gain Leader Phase

Roll 1D6: On a roll of 1-2 gain 1 random leader.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. A player will complete all of the following phases in their turn.

1. population phase
2. resource phase
3. distribution phase
4. leader phase
5. harvest phase
6. disaster phase
7. upkeep phase
8. war phase
9. trade phase
10. build phase
11. research phase
12. income phase

One round is completed when all cultures have had one turn.

Population Phase

Gain 1D6-2 population. Minimum = 0. These populations start as Agriculture specialists.

Resource Phase

Roll 1D10 on the Resource Table:

Harvest Phase

Produce 3 food per Agriculture population and 2 for each level of Food Resources you control. Food is not stored unless you have the pottery advance.

Disaster Check Phase

On a roll of 1 on D6 suffer from one random disaster. Resolve 'War' disasters first thing in War Phase.

Upkeep Phase

Each population consumes 1 Food. Armies are paid 1 Gold each. If upkeep is not met, those populations are lost. Roll 1D6 for each leader, on a roll of 5+, the leader dies of old age.

War Phase

A player may attack one target opponent on a roll of 5+ on 1D6. (get +1 to this roll if you have a General) If the roll fails, he may attempt to attack another player. Other players may send armies, navies, and Generals to serve on either side.

Each player gets 1 die for every Army, Navy, and General on their side. If you have more armies than opponent, you get 1 extra die. If you have more navies than opponent, you get 1 extra die.

If you have a General and your opponent doesn't, you get 1 extra die. If you have Military Doctrine, and your opponent doesn't, you get 1 extra die. If you have Iron, and your opponent doesn't, you get 1 extra die.

If you have Equestrian, and your opponent doesn't, you get 1 extra die. If you have Siegecraft, and you are attacking, you get 1 extra die. If you have Fortifications and are defending, you get 1 extra die.

If you have Shipbuilding, and your opponent doesn't, you get 1 extra die. If you have the Great Wall and are defending, you get 1 extra die. The player with the higher total roll is the winner.

Defender wins ties. The winner gains 1D6 Victory points. Each roll of 1 causes your opponent to lose 1 army or 1 navy. If the defender loses all his armies the Attacker gets to take one form of tribute: All of the losers gold, or One City (which may contain a Wonder), or 2D6 Population (enslaved), or 1 target Resource.

Trade Phase

The active Player may trade Gold, food, labor, populations, cities, advances, leaders, resources, and promises with other players. (If 'trading' an Advance the giver & the recipient both get it.)

Build Phase

Each Labor specialist produces 1 Labor point per turn. Assign Labor points to a city or Wonder under construction. These points are saved from turn to turn until the project is completed.

Labor points not assigned are lost. Build 1 city for 50 Labor and 25 Gold. Name the city. Gain 1 roll on the Natural Resource Table for 20 Labor.

Gain 1 Manufactured Resource of your choice for 25 Labor. Build 1 Wonder of your choice for 100 Labor and 50 Gold. Only 1 Wonder per city is allowed.

For each level of Build Resources you have the labor and gold costs of Cities and Wonders are reduced by 2.

Research Phase

Roll 1D12 per scholar, thinker, or research generator you have. On a roll of 1 gain one random advance. Pay 20 Gold to copy an Advance known by another player.

When determining a "Random" Advance, roll on the Advance Table. If you roll one you already have, pick one instead.

Income Phase

Collect Gold: 1 per Trade population, 1 per City, and 1 per level of Luxury Resources.

Population Distribution

TYPE:	Upkeep:	Production:
Military	1 Food + 1 Gold	None
Agriculture	1 Food	3 Food
Trade	1 Food	1 Gold

TYPE:	Upkeep:	Production:
Labor	1 Food	1 Labor
Scholars	1 Food	1 Research Roll

Note: There is a max of 1 Scholar per city.

City Names

Antioch, Babylon, Knossos, Alexandria, Troy, Jerusalem, Sparta, Rome, Damascus, Delphi, Athens, Ur, Carthage, Jericho, Giza, Thebes, Byzantium, Cadiz, Ch'ang-an, Lo-yang, Canton...

Solo Version

If playing Solo the 'opponent' in War phase will have 4D6 armies and if defeated has 6D6 Gold and no Wonders.

Map Version

Players will need to make or acquire a map of the Mediterranean divided up into small territories. Put initial populations and city into one territory. Tokens representing cities, leaders, wonders, and population specialties are required.

Place new populations into any territory you control. Spread new populations out as much as possible. Populations destroyed by disaster are removed from as few spaces as possible.

One city per territory. One Wonder per city. Add a Move Phase after War Phase. Populations can move one space per turn.

Armies can attack armies in adjacent spaces. An army can move into an opponents territory that does not contain an army. Take control of all tokens in that territory. Captured leaders are destroyed.

Barbarians and Civil war rebels will attack a border territory. Players with navigation can move populations 4 territories by sea per turn. They must end the turn in a coastal space.

Custer's Last Stand

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. American West: Indians vs Soldiers Each figure represents a group of cavalry soldiers or Indian braves.

Victory

Destroy your enemies completely.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

Units

Use action figures, chits, or miniatures to represent units.

Setup

The middle 16 spaces each contain one Soldier unit each. One of the soldiers in the middle 4 spaces represents General George A. Custer All spaces on the edge of the board contain one Indian unit each.

The Cards

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 2 of each card in the card list.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Orders Phase Move Phase Battle Phase

Card List

Card Name:	Range	Type	User	Notes
Sword	1	A	S
Tomahawk		1	A	I
Pistol	2	A	S
Bow & Arrows	2	A	I
Rifle	3	A	B
Sharpshooter	4	A	B
Revolver		2	A	S
Knife	1	A	I
Spear	1	A	I

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards from your deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your units. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the unit moves.

Moves are diagonal or orthogonal. Units may not stack.

Battle Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks are diagonal or orthogonal. The enemy unit that is the target of the attack is killed and removed from the board.

Card List Notation

- M Movement
- A Attack
- D Defense
- X Special
- S Card can only be used by Soldiers
- I Card can only be used by Indians

Cyber Cycles

Introduction

Futuristic Racing game for 2-4+ players.

Cycle Teams

Each player controls a team of 4 Super Fast Hover Cycles. Each player has a set of 4 models that share a unique team color and design. Each cycle within a team is numbered 1 through 4.

The Track

The track length is divided into 100 spaces. The track has a width of a single space. Each space needs to be big enough to hold 1 Tile and several cycles.

Multiple cycles can occupy a single space. At the beginning of the track there should be a Start Zone.

The Deck

2 common decks of 52 cards each are shuffled together. This double deck is used and shared by all players.

Track Terrain Tiles

There are 5 Tiles for each Terrain Type:

1. Clear: Open space with no special rules or restrictions.
2. Red Spaces: A cycle on one of these spaces can only use a Red card.
3. Black Spaces: A cycle on one of these spaces can only use a Black card.
4. Face Spaces: A cycle on one of these spaces can only use a Face card.
5. Odd Spaces: A cycle on one of these spaces can only use an odd numbered card.
6. Even Spaces: A cycle on one of these spaces can only use an even numbered card.

7. Blocking Space: A cycle must stop when encountering this space. It may move Off this space on its next move.
8. Obstacle Space: Cycles are not allowed to land on these spaces. A player may not Play a card that would cause a cycle to do so.
9. Jump Space: Double the value of the card played by a cycle on one of these spaces.
10. Speed Space: If you land on this space draw 1 card.
11. Narrow Space: If you land on this space discard 1 card.
12. Tactical Space: You may add 1,2, or 3 to the value of a card played at this space.
13. Steal Space: If you land on this space steal 1 Random card from an opponent.
14. Burn Space: If you land on this space send an opponent's cycle back 5 spaces.
15. Team Space: If you land on this space, you may move one of your other Cycles forward 5 spaces.
16. Free Space: A cycle that lands on this space may move an extra time this turn.
17. Slowdown Space: You must subtract 1,2, or 3 from the value of a card Played at this space.
18. Slick Space: If a cycle lands on this space you must play a card and move it again. If you have no cards left, draw 1 card from the deck and use it to move the cycle. If you can only reach a Obstacle Space, discard the card, and draw another.
19. Key space: You get +2 to your Bid card value next Speed Stage for each cycle you Have on a Key Space during that Speed Stage.
20. Nexus space: A cycle on this space may discard any card to move to the next Closest Clear or Key space, whichever is closest.

Winning

Each round is divided into stages: Start Stage Speed Stage Move Stage 1 Move Stage 2 Move Stage 3 Move Stage 4 End Stage

Start Stage

Each player draws 8 cards from the deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Speed Stage

Each player simultaneously plays (reveals) 1 card from their hand. This is the Bid card. You get +2 to your Bid card value for each cycle you have on a Key Space The player with the highest value wins the bid.

If tied, the tied players cut the deck for high card to break the tie. The winner gets Initiative, and is called the Leader. The Leader goes first in all Stages this Round.

Other players take their turns going clockwise around the table. Face cards and Aces have a value of 1 in Speed Stage.

Move Stage 1

In Initiative order, Players take turns moving their number 1 cycles. A cycle can be moved once, twice, or not at all. To move a cycle, discard a card and move a number of spaces Forward equal to the value of the card.

Face cards can be used for a value of 1,2, or 3. Aces have a value of 1. Note: any number of cycles can occupy a single space.

Move Stage 2

In Initiative order, Players take turns moving their number 2 cycles.

Move Stage 3

In Initiative order, Players take turns moving their number 3 cycles.

Place:	Points:
20	1

Move Stage 4

In Initiative order, Players take turns moving their number 4 cycles.

End Stage

You must discard your hand down to 2 cards or less.

Card Special Abilities

Some cards can be played at various times for extra effects.

Ace Card

Once during each Start Phase, you may discard 1 Ace card to draw 2 cards.

King Card

Once per game for each of your cycles, you may use a King card as a 10 For movement. Keep track of this usage for each cycle.

Queen Card

You may play a queen card on an opponents turn to prevent one Of his cycles from moving past one of yours on its current move. His cycle must stop in the same space as your blocking cycle. This cannot be done against a cycle that is starting its turn in the Same space as the blocking cycle.

Jack Card

After you have just moved one of your cycles, and it occupies a space With another cycle, you may play a Jack card to move the target Opposing cycle backwards 5 spaces.

The Finish Line

You do not need an exact number to cross the finish line.

Cyberiad: Exploits Of The Constructors

Introduction

Card game based on the book The Cyberiad by Stanislaw Lem. Setting: A medieval universe populated by sentient robots. The constructors are prolific inventors with almost god-like powers.

Each player takes the role of a Constructor, trying to gain the Most fame.

Victory

The player with the most Fame points at the end of the game wins. Any player that accumulates 50 or more Fame points automatically wins. Any player that accumulates 20 or more Trouble points automatically loses.

Game End

The game ends when one player has claimed 7 Sally cards or the Deck is empty when a player starts his turn.

Tokens

The term Tokens can be used interchangeably for points, counters, markers, Chits, coins, gems, tickets, parts, nuts, bolts, and screws.

Fame Points

Use Coins and Gems to Represent Fame points. Cards in play also serve as Fame points. Action cards that can, generate Fame tokens, and are then discarded.

Trouble Points

Use Tickets to Represent Trouble points. Cards in play also serve as Trouble points. Action cards that can, generate Trouble tokens, and are then discarded.

Genius Points

Use Nuts, Bolts, and Screws to Represent Genius points. Action cards that can, generate Genius tokens, and are then discarded.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck has 4 types of cards:

1. Sally cards
2. Machine cards
3. Action cards
4. Effect cards

Setup

Each player picks one of the Constructors from the Constructor List. Each player is dealt 5 random cards.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. A Turn has 3 Phases:

1. Randomization Phase
2. Primary Action Phase
3. Terminal Phase

Randomization Phase

Draw 1 card from the deck. Gain 1 Genius Token.

Primary Action Phase

You may put either 1 Sally, 1 Machine, or 1 Effect card into play. The cost to play a Sally, Machine, or Effect is to discard a number of Cards equal to the cost of the card. Some Machines already in play can reduce costs.

Sally, Effect and Machine cards remain in play face up in front of you. Action cards when played are discarded. Some Action cards can be used to reduce the cost of certain Machine or Sally cards.

You cannot have more Effect cards in play than you have Sally or Machine cards. During Primary Phase, you may discard 5 Genius points to gain 1FP or To draw 1 card from the deck, or to remove 1 TP.

Terminal Phase

Max hand size is 10 cards. Discard excess cards.

D&D Miniatures Quick Rules

Introduction

This is highly simplified set of rules for use with the D&D Miniatures Line: Click Here I have used these rules with my 6 year old son.

Rules

Players take turns.

All your units can move & attack once on your turn.

Small, medium, and large units can move 2 spaces.

Big units (2x2) and fast units can move 4 spaces.

Giant units (3x3) and cavalry can move 6 spaces.

Flying units can move 8 spaces and move over other units.

All units are of 2 types: Fighters or Shooters.

Fighters can only attack into adjacent spaces. They hit on a roll of 4+ on 1D6. Shooters can attack up to a range of 8 spaces.

They hit on a roll of 5+ on 1D6.

A Hit does 1 point of damage.

Small units have 1 Hit (Goblins, gnomes, halflings, kobolds)

Medium units have 2 Hits (Humans, elves, dwarves)

Large units have 3 Hits (Bugbears)

Big units have 4 Hits (Yaun-Ti Abomination)

Huge units have 5 Hits (Fire Giant)

Giant units have 6 Hits (Fomorian Giant)

Big units do 1D2 damage when they hit.

Huge units do 1D3 damage when they hit.

Giants do 1D6 damage when they hit.

Scenarios: Make the sides equal.

If given a choice, a unit should attack the largest enemy unit in range.

Notes

These rules are sufficient for a 6 year old. He has fun just fiddling with the figures (so do I). It should be obvious to determine unit size and type.

Medium & Large units have the same size base but I consider anything larger than human as Large. Big & Huge units have the same size base but some units are noticeably larger. For now we treat Clerics as Fighters & Mages as Shooters.

Da Vinci Poker

Introduction

Poker variant with a Leonardo da Vinci theme.

The Deck

Players share a Unique 52 card deck

The Suites

There are 5 Suites:

- 1. Art
- 2. Earth Science
- 3. Humanities
- 4. Engineering
- 5. Life Science

Each suite represents a field of knowledge that Leonardo contributed to.

The Cards

Each card has 4 properties:

- 1. Suite (One of the Five Suites)

- 2. Rank (Numerical value from 1 to 10)
- 3. Name (Unique for each card)
- 4. Details (Unique for each card)

The 5 Suites comprise 50 of the cards. There are 2 Additional "Renaissance Man" cards that act as Wild cards.

Play

Play is that of poker, the main differences being there are 5 suites and no Face cards, so available Hand combos will be different. 5 card stud and 5 card draw are recommended to start.

Hand Combinations

In order from lowest to highest scoring: 2 of a Kind 2 Pair (2 of a Kind and 2 of a Kind) 3 of a Kind Full House (2 of a Kind and 3 of a Kind) 4 of a Kind Flush 5 of a Kind Straight Straight Unique (Renaissance Man: All 5 Suites) Straight Flush (Master)

Daimyo

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Medieval Japanese Warfare theme. Each figure represents a company or unit of men.

Victory

You win if you kill your opponents Daiyamo.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard or Grid.

The Men

Use chits or miniatures to represent units. There are 10 types of units.

Units Table

Name:	#	Armor	Horse	Weapon
Daimyo	1	Y	Y	K
Ashigaru Spearmen	1	N	N	S
Bushi Gunners	4	N	N	G

Samurai Horse Archers	2	Y	Y	B
Samurai Archers	2	Y	N	B
Samurai Heavy Cavalry	1	Y	Y	K
Samurai Naginata	1	Y	N	S

Setup

Each player places one unit on each square of his back two rows. Units may not stack.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Orders Phase Move Phase Battle Phase

Orders Phase

Draw 3 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.
Discard excess cards.

- G Guns
- B Bows
- S Spears
- Y Yes
- N No

Weapon = Weapon type the unit uses.

Number of that type of unit each player has in setup.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your units. Only units on Foot can use Foot cards. Only units on Horses can use Horse cards.

Units cannot move through other units except for the Daimyo. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the unit moves.

Some moves are diagonal, some orthogonal, and some can be either. "Knight" type move cards allow a man to move like a knight in chess. Instead of moving just one unit in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more units forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Battle Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a unit attack. A unit must use an attack card that is the same as his weapon. For Example: Archers can only use Bow & Arrow cards.

The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack. Some attacks are diagonal, some orthogonal, and some can be either.

"Knight" type attack cards produce an attack with a range like a knight in chess. The enemy unit that is the target of the attack is automatically Killed and removed from the map. Units cannot attack through other units except for Archers.

Your opponent may play certain Defense cards to negate your attack. Only units with Armor may use an armor card. The Daimyo can make two attacks per turn (using two attack cards)

A Attack card

D Defense card

M Modifier card

Setup

Players start with a hand of 10 cards each.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 7 phases:

1. First Step Phase
2. Second Step Phase
3. Speed Phase
4. Strike Phase
5. Defend Phase
6. Cut Phase
7. Recover Phase

First Step Phase

Both players fill their hands to 10 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard, and draw from it.

Second Step Phase

Both players simultaneously discard up to 5 cards face up. Both players fill their hands to 10 cards.

Speed Phase

Both players simultaneously reveal their Speed cards if they have any. The player with more Speed cards must choose one advantage:

1. Opponent can play no defense cards except Armor this turn, or
2. Opponent may not attack this turn

No one gains an advantage if the Speeds are tied. Note that revealed Speed cards are not discarded in this phase.

Strike Phase

Both players attack by revealing 1 or more attack cards of the same type. Players may also play Kai cards, if they played at least 1 attack card. For example: Player A plays 3 Chop cards and 2 Kai cards.

Because Player A played a Chop attack, he cannot Thrust or Slash. Players may also play 1 combo card each. A combo card allows you to play 2 different types of Attack cards.

For example: Player B plays a Combo, 2 Chop cards and 2 Slash cards. In a combo declare to which attack card a Kai card is being attached.

Defend Phase

A Player may play one Dodge card to negate all Thrust cards played against him. A Player may play one Block card to negate all Chop cards played against him. A Player may play one Parry card to negate all Slash cards played against him.

Defense cards, negated attack cards, and attached Kai cards are discarded.

Cut Phase

For every Attack card and Kai card that was not negated the target swordsman loses One Hit point. Players may play Armor cards to negate one point of damage. All played cards are discarded.

Recovery Phase

Players may discard up to 5 cards each.

Dance School Competition

Introduction

Drafting Card game for 2-4 players. The game proceeds in 2 parts: In the first part the players build up their dance schools. In the second part the schools participate in competitions.

#	Game Length:	Build Rounds:	Competition Rounds:
1.	Studio	3	1
2.	Academy	4	3
3.	Conservatory	5	5

The Decks

There are 3 Decks:

1. Build Deck
2. Judging Deck
3. Competition Deck

The Build Deck

The Build Deck is only used in the first part of the game. Card types include: Students, Teachers, Classes, Numbers, and Modifier cards.

Build Cards And Trait Scores

All Build cards will have a score in 1 or more traits or will give other cards a Bonus to their score in one or more traits.

Trait List

Traits include: Base, Beginning, Intermediate, Advanced, Jazz, Tap, Ballet, Contemporary, Modern, Lyrical, Musical Theatre, Hip Hop, Solo, Duet, Form, and Heart. All traits will be assigned a score.

Setup

Shuffle the decks. The player with the most dance experience goes first. Play proceeds clockwise. The first player to pick begins the game with a Base score of +5.

The second player to pick begins the game with Base +10 and so on until All players have received a single beginning scoring bonus.

School Build Out Round Sequence

Lay the top 12 cards of the Build deck face up. Players take turns picking 1 card at a time. This continues until all 12 cards are picked.

Victory

The School that wins the most competitions is the overall winner.

Game Length

The game can be played to 3 lengths:

This constitutes a round. A Studio game will have 3 rounds, an Academy 4, and a Conservatory game 5 rounds. After the first round, the first player to pick goes to the player who was the last to Pick in the previous round.

Picked Build cards are placed face up in front of their owner in a grid format and remain in play for the rest of the game.

School Build Grid Format

Build cards are placed next to each other in a grid like matrix. Side by side (orthogonal) cards are considered to be adjacent. Cards whose corners are touching (diagonal) are also considered to be adjacent.

Many cards will give point bonuses to adjacent cards. Teachers give bonuses to all adjacent students. The relationship of students to numbers is more limited: Students give bonuses to adjacent numbers if their style matches, so for Example: If it is a Jazz number, the number will get Jazz bonuses equal to the Jazz bonuses of any adjacent students.

Some cards give bonuses to all cards of a particular type even if not adjacent.

Competition Rules

Before a competition, each player may switch the places of 2 cards within his grid. First shuffle the Judging deck and draw 5 cards. These are placed face up in the middle of the table.

Each judging card lists a Trait. These represent Traits the judges are emphasizing. All scores in these traits are doubled for all players in this competition.

Next, shuffle the Competition Deck. Each player draws 4 cards and places them face up in front of them. Competition cards will modify a player's base score.

Each player adds up the total value of all of his cards including Build cards, current Competition cards and current Judging cards. The player with the highest total score wins the competition. At the end of the competition discard all judging and competition cards.

If any deck should run out, shuffle its discard and draw from it.

Introduction

Warp Quest is an abstract game system that depicts goal driven scenarios.

Each player controls a collection of Units who are attempting to be the first to reach an objective and bring it back to the start.

The units could be a party of adventuring archeologists hoping to recover a lost artifact, a squadron of bombers attempting to hit a military target and return home, a band of samurai seeking to vanquish marauding bandits or a company of mixed creatures seeking to destroy a piece of evil ornamental jewelry that has the nasty habit of trying to control the minds of all free creatures.

The scenarios that use the Warp Quest engine will hold the details.

Dice & Pieces

- Six and ten sided dice are needed.
- Each player has a pawn to represent his or her group of Units (adventuring party, fleet, etc.) on the board.
- Use a small trinket to represent the Objective.
- There is only one Objective.

The Board

- The board is a single winding path of connected spaces with a Start Space and an End Space. The path should be 30 Spaces long.
- The First Space represents the start.
- Spaces 2-15 represents travel through the first scenario module.
- Spaces 16-29 represents travel through the second scenario module.
- The End Space is the final destination where the Objective is found.

The Decks

- There are 2 decks for each scenario:
- The Module 1 Deck and the Module 2 Deck.
- Each deck has one of each card in its card list.
- There may also be an Aid deck.

The Units

- Each player controls a group of units called a Party. The scenarios will detail the make up of the units in the party, their attributes (Skills, Traits) and starting dispositions.

Turn Sequence

- Players take turns.
- Each turn consists of 3 phases: 1. Move Phase 2. Draw Phase 3. Challenge Phase

Move Phase

- Roll 1D6. Move your pawn that number of spaces towards the end space.
- You automatically stop when you enter the end space.
- If you are the first to land on the end space your party acquires the Objective.
- Once a party has acquired the Objective then all other players may move their parties in either direction on the path.
- The party with the Objective must move towards the start space.
- The first pawn with the Objective to reach the start space wins the game.

D6	Result
1-4	Go back 1D6 spaces
5-6	Lose 1 Unit (Man, Ship, Hit Point, etc., depending on the Scenario)

If you Win the challenge gain 1 Experience Token. You may spend an Experience Token to let you reroll a Move Roll or a Skill Roll.

Moving Onto An Opponents Pawn

- If you land on an opponent's pawn there will be a fight.

Draw Phase

- If you land on an empty space in spaces 2-15 draw a card from the Module 1 deck.
- If you land on an empty space in spaces 16-29 draw a card from the Module 2 deck.
- If you land on an opponent's party do not draw a card.
- If a deck ever runs out, shuffle its discard and draw from it.
- Cards are of 2 types: Challenge cards & Aid cards.
- Place Aid cards in your hand.
- Challenge cards are encounters your party faces immediately in Challenge Phase.

Challenge Phase

Each challenge card lists one or more skills. Your party will have to make a skill check vs each skill listed. (The same skill may be listed twice or more, requiring that many skill checks) A Skill check consists of a Skill roll and Challenge Roll: Roll 1D10. This is the Skill roll.

Add the skill bonuses of your party members to the roll. You may discard Aid cards for further bonuses to the skill roll. Next roll 1D10. This is the Challenge roll.

Some Challenges have a DM (Difficulty Modifier). Add the DM to the Challenge Roll. If the challenge roll is less than or equal to the skill roll you win the Skill check. If the challenge roll is greater than the skill roll you fail the Challenge.

If you win all the Skill Checks, you win the Challenge. The adventure card may say what happens if you win or lose the Challenge. If the card does not give directions, then roll on the following table: If you lose the challenge: Roll 1D6: (Challenge Loss Table)

- The current player rolls on the Skill List Table to determine which skill will decide the confrontation.
- Both players make Skill Rolls. In case of a tie nothing happens.
- The loser rolls on the Challenge Loss Table.
- The winner takes the Artifact from the loser if the loser was in possession of the Artifact.

Dark Ages Empires

Introduction

Wargame for 2-8+ players Europe Early 6th Century after the Fall of the Western Roman Empire.

Victory

The player to conquer the most other nations by the end of the Game is the winner.

Time Scale

Each turn is 5 years. The game starts in 500 AD and ends in 600 AD.

Neutral Nations

Neutral Nations (NN) are still in the game, even if no one is Playing them. A NN will not attack or gain cards or take turns. A NN will always have armies = to their Territory Stat.

NN can be conquered by other Nations.

Stats

Each Nation is described by a set of 4 Stats:

- 1. Territory
- 2. Population
- 3. Vitality

Dice

Six sided dice are needed.

Tokens

Tokens are used to keep track of Armies.

Map

The Map is composed of Nations as described in the Nations List. Important Note: Nations are not further subdivided.

- 4. Stability

Territory

A very abstract representation of land & sea areas controlled.

Population

Population = Number of Armies the player gains each turn.

Vitality

This is a measure of national energy and aggressiveness. Vitality = Number of cards the player may draw each turn.

National Stat Table

Nation	Trr	Pop	Vit	Stb
Fr	2	2	3	3
Vg	2	2	2	2
Og	2	2	3	1
Va	1	1	3	1
Sx	1	1	3	2
Bu	1	2	2	2
E	3	3	2	3
P	3	3	1	3
Wh	2	2	2	1
Sl	3	3	1	1

Glossary

Imperial Power = Primary Nation controlled by a player; it is the identity of that player. Neutral Nation = Nation not controlled by any player. Province = Nation conquered by an Imperial Power.

Setup

Each player picks one Nation to be its Imperial Power. Each Nation starts with Armies = its Population Score. Each player starts with a hand of 3 cards.

Stability

This is a measure of organization and/or resiliency. It is a factor in the Defense of a Nation.

Nation	Trr	Pop	Vit	Stb
Su	1	1	1	3
Al	1	1	1	3
Bv	1	1	1	3
Bq	1	1	1	3
Lb	1	1	1	3
Gp	1	1	1	3
Fi	3	1	1	1
Ki	1	1	1	1
Bb	2	1	1	3
Ab	2	1	1	3

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 Phases:

1. Event Phase
2. Draw Phase
3. Internal Strife Phase
4. Growth Phase
5. Invasion Phase
6. End Phase

1. EVENT PHASE

Roll once on the Event Table:

2D6:	Result:	Notes:
2-3	Death of Leader	Stability -1
4-5	Disease & Turmoil	Population -1
6	Stagnation	Vitality -1
7	Rebellion	Any Target Province becomes Neutral
8	Great Leader	Vitality +1
9-10	Population Explosion	Population +1
11-12	Law & Religion	Stability +1

These Events have a Permanent Effect. A Stat can never go below 1 or above 4.

2. DRAW PHASE

The current player draws cards equal to his Vitality Stat.

3. INTERNAL STRIFE PHASE

The current player rolls a number of dice equal to his Stability Stat. If he rolls only numbers less than 5, his nation is undergoing a period of Political Turmoil (Civil War) and he must skip his Invasion and Growth Phases this turn.

4. GROWTH PHASE

The current player gains Armies (Army Tokens) equal to his Population Stat plus 1 Army for each Province (nation) it has conquered.

5. INVASION PHASE

The current player may attack one Adjacent Nation. (limit one attack per turn unless an Invasion card is played) He declares how many armies he is committing to the attack. The defender declares how many of his armies are defending.

The Attacking Nation rolls Dice = The number of attacking Armies + Extra dice as allowed by cards played.

The Defending Nation rolls Dice = Stability Stat + Territory Stat + The number of defending Armies + Extra dice as allowed by cards played

For every roll of 5+ one enemy army is destroyed.

If the Defending Nation is reduced to zero Armies, it is conquered. The conquered player is out of the game or continues playing by taking control of a Neutral Nation. The conquered Nation becomes part of the Empire of the Conqueror.

A Conquered Nation is known as a Province. If the Attacker loses all his Armies, the defender wins. If all armies on both sides are destroyed, the defender wins.

Attacking Empires

If you attack a Province, the controller of that Province May commit less than his full number of armies to its defense. If you conquer a Province, you gain control of that Province, not The entire Empire it was part of. If the Home country (The Imperial Power) of an Empire is Conquered, all of its Provinces resort to Neutrality.

Ally Rule

Nations adjacent to an Attacker or Defender may lend armies. Allied armies are always the first to be lost in battle.

Invasions

A player may play an invasion card and conduct an additional attack (war) on his turn (vs same or different nation).

6. END PHASE

Max hand size is 3 cards + the Nations Stability Stat. Discard excess cards.

Card List

Card Name:	#	Notes:
Invasion	4	Get an extra Invasion Phase
Peace Treaty	4	Target opponent cannot attack your Empire this turn

Exotics/Luxuries include Ivory, Perfumes, Wild Animals, Dyes, Handcrafts, etc. Resources & Population level for each territory can be written directly onto the map.

Pieces

Each player has a set of control marker chits of a unique color. Have white sets of counters with the following markings:

- F Farm
- M Mine
- Ft Fort

Object

The player with the most profit at the end of 9 +1D6 turns wins.

The Map

Draw the outlines of the Dark Continent. The Dark Continent should be divided into 15-25 territories. The territories should be large enough to hold several stacks of counters.

Draw in Rivers. Determine the terrain type of each territory: Terrain Type Table

1D6	Terrain	Def	Pop	Res	Mod
6	Mountains	+3	-2	-1	+2
*	Coastal	+0	+1	+1	+0

mined, roll 1D3 to determine how many resources the territory has. This is the Resource roll. The minimum resource level = 0.
All Coastal Territories have 1 additional Fish resource. All Territories with rivers have 1 additional Good Crops resource. For each Resource roll once to determine what type it is: Resource Type Table

- T Town
- P Port
- L Leader
- N Native Army
- C Colonial Army
- E European Army
- R Rebel Army

Setup

Roll 1D6 high to determine turn order. In opposite turn order, each player selects one coastal territory to take control of. That territory will contain 1 Town, 1 Fort, 1 Port, and 1 European Army.

Control

Control is denoted by Control Chits. A player puts one control chit in every territory he controls. A player places a control chit on top of every Army he controls.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn is divided into phases:

1. Epidemic Phase
2. Monsoon Phase
3. Famine Phase
4. Mine Disaster Phase
5. Leader Phase
6. Rebellion Phase
7. Production Phase
8. Investment Phase
9. Infrastructure Phase
10. Movement Phase
11. Diplomacy Phase
12. Battle Phase
13. Upkeep Phase
14. Profit Phase
15. Control Phase

Epidemic Phase

Roll 1D6 for each territory you control. On a roll of 1 the territory produces no income this turn and all armies in the territory are destroyed.

Monsoon Phase

Roll 1D6 for each coastal territory you control. On a roll of 1 the territory produces no income this turn.

Famine Phase

Roll 1D6 for each territory you control. On a roll of 1 the territory produces no income this turn. On a roll of 1-2 desert territories produce no income this turn.

Mine Disaster Phase

Roll 1D6 for each mine you control. On a roll of 1 the mine is destroyed.

Leader Phase

Roll 1D6. On a roll of 1 place a Leader counter on one of your armies. An army may have only one Leader. Excess leaders are discarded.

Rebellion Phase

Roll 1D6 for each territory you control. On a roll of 1 the territory rebels. Place 1D2 Rebel Army counters in the territory.

On a roll of 1-2 on 1D6 one of the Rebel armies has a Leader. The territory produces no income until the Rebel Armies are destroyed.

Production Phase

Each of your farms and mines produce revenue equal to the income value of the resource they are exploiting. Towns generate income equal to the population of the territory. Ports generate income equal to 1 + the number of adjacent territories.

Investment Phase

Gain 2D6 income from European investors.

Infrastructure Phase

Build Structures and raise armies. You can only spend what you have earned this turn. You cannot spend profit from previous turns.

Structure Table

Type:	Cost	Notes:
Farm	3	Exploit Crops, Livestock, and Exotics/Luxuries
Mine	10	Exploit Oil, Gold, and Diamonds
Fort	6	Defense +1
Town	10	—
Port	8	Requires a Town

Army Table

Type:	Cost	Upkeep	Combat Bonus	Terrain Bonus
Rebel	6	1	+0	+1 in Jungles
Native	6	1	+0	+1 in Jungles
Colonial	9	2	+2	+1 in Mountains
European	12	3	+4	+1 in Plains

European armies must start in a territory with a port. Native & Colonial armies can start in any territory you control. You cannot buy rebel armies.

Movement Phase

Your Armies can move to adjacent territories. More than one army may occupy a space. An army that is already in a territory with a hostile army cannot move into a space controlled by an opponent.

Armies with leaders can move 2 spaces. Rebel armies never move.

Diplomacy Phase

If an army moves into a territory controlled by no player roll 1D6. On a roll of 1-3 the natives resist: Place 1D2 Rebel Army counters in the territory. On a roll of 1-2 on 1D6 one of the Rebel armies has a Leader.

The territory produces no income until the Rebel Armies are destroyed.

Battle Phase

Enemy armies in the same territory will fight. Each army rolls 1D6 and adds modifiers to get a Force Total. This includes terrain and army type modifiers.

An Army with a leader gets +2. An army destroys 1 opposing army with a Force total equal to or less than its. Two or more armies may combine their force totals to destroy one enemy army.

Leaders are destroyed with their army.

Upkeep Phase

Pay upkeep for each army. If upkeep is not paid the army disbands.

Profit Phase

All money not spent this turn is profit for your European Investors.

Control Phase

If only your armies occupy a territory, remove any enemy control markers, and put down one of your own. Take control of all structures in the territory.

Dark Crystal Quest

Introduction

Card game for 2-4 players. Theme: Dark Crystal Movie.

Disclaimer

Dark Crystal is a copyrighted, trademarked property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

The first player to get the Crystal Combo is the winner. At the end of his turn, a player must declare he has the Combo and reveal it from his hand. The combo must contain 4 cards: one of each of the following 4 types: I. The Gelfling or Jan or Kira card II. The Crystal Shard or Dark Crystal card III. The Castle of the Crystal or Sacred Chamber card IV. The Grand Conjunction or Alignment of the Suns or Heal the Crystal card Note that the Prophecy card can be used as a wild card for any of the 4 types of cards needed in a combo.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Each player is dealt 3 cards. Spread out 12 cards facedown evenly over the table (like you would Dominoes).

Determine turn order: Youngest player goes first, then proceed clockwise.

Terminology

Table cards: cards face down on the Table available to be drawn (picked). Hand cards: cards in players hands. Discard cards: cards in the Discard pile.

Spread out: the act of mixing up the face down cards on the table by physically pushing them around and then separating them.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 4 Phases:

1. Fate Phase

2. Prophecy Phase

3. Quest Phase

4. Crystal Phase

Fate Phase

Take the top 2 cards of the Deck and place them face down on the Table. If there are ever 12 or less Table cards available, draw and place extra cards face down until there are at least 12 Table cards. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Prophecy Phase

You may Play 1 card to use its special ability. When you play a card either discard it or return it face down to the table.

Quest Phase

Draw 3 Table cards and put 2 of them in your hand. Return 1 of these cards to the Table.

Crystal Phase

Reveal the Crystal Combo if you have it to win and end the game. If not, max hand size is 5 cards. Return excess cards to the Table.

Flute Music Card

Discard to play. If any opponent has the Crystal shard card in their hand they must give it to you. If no one has it, look at 5 table cards: If any of them are the Shard keep it.

Card List Notation

2X there are 2 copies of this card in the deck

Z Reaction card: Play immediately in response to a card play by another player

The Map

The Map is a Track 40 spaces long with start & end spaces.

Random Map & Card Generator

Another Stunning Addition by Peter Cobcroft. With these additions, you should be able to play a game right away.

Pieces & Dice

Each player has a Pawn of a unique color to represent his Adventuring Party 20 & 6 sided dice are needed.

Decks

There are 2 common decks: The Character Deck and the Event Deck

The Character Deck

You control a party of adventurers (initially six). Adventurers are also referred to as Characters. Characters differ in Race and Class.

There are 4 Class types: Mage, Ranger, Thief, and Fighter.

The Event Deck

Players share a common Event Deck. The deck has 3 types of cards: Aid cards, Event cards, & Foe cards

There are 2 types of Foes: Monsters & Humanoids. Aid cards include: Weapons, Armor, Items, Psionic Powers, & Spells.

Only Fighters can use Armor. Any class except Mages can use Weapons. Only Mages can use Spells. Any Character can use a Power card.

Victory

Return your party to the Start space with the Rod of Divining.

Setup

Roll on the Terrain table for each space on the board. Each player gets to draw 6 Character cards. Each player is dealt a hand of 7 Event cards.

Players roll high on 1D20 to see who goes first. Player's pawns start in the start space. A Token representing the Rod of Divining is placed in the End Space.

The Start space is a City. The End space is a Ruins.

Course Of The Game

Phase I Players take turns moving their Parties towards the End space. Phase II The party that reaches the End space first gains possession of the Rod of Divining. To win, that party must turn around & move back to the Start space.

This party becomes known as the Rod party. Opposing Parties can now move in either direction. If an opposing party defeats the Rod party in battle, they gain possession of the Rod of Divining and become the new Rod party.

Terrain Table

Each space of the track will be one of several types:

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 8 Phases: Event Phase Trade Phase Survival Phase Recruit Phase Move Phase Encounter Phase Stealth Phase Battle Phase

Event Phase

Draw 2 cards from the Event Deck If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it. Max hand size = 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Trade Phase

If you are in a City or Village, draw an Event extra card for every Thief you have in your party. You may play a Trade card to draw 2 cards or discard your hand and draw 5 new cards.

Survival Phase

Each Terrain type has a Water Level (See the Terrain Table). Roll 1D20. This is the Survival Roll. If the Modified survival roll is less than the Water level, your party Finds no water this turn and gets 1 Dehydration Token.

If the Modified survival roll is equal to or greater than the Water level, your party finds water: Remove all accumulated Dehydration tokens. Every time you accumulate a Dehydration token after the second, one Random Party member dies from thirst. Parties in Terrain with a Water level of Y will always find water.

Recruit Phase

If you have less than 6 Characters roll 1D20. This is the Recruit Roll. On a roll of 18+ gain 1 new party member.

Add 3 to the roll if you are in a City or Village Space.

Move Phase

Move your party 1D6 spaces. This is known as the Move Roll. Add 1 for every Ranger in your party.

(Forward in Phase I or either way in Phase II.) You may play 1 Transport card to move an additional 1D6 spaces.

Encounter Phase

If you are in a space not occupied by an opposing party, any Opponent may play one Foe, Peril, or Delay card on you. Foes are handled in Battle Phase. Delay cards cause you to miss your next turn.

If a Peril card is played roll 1D20. Treat this like a survival roll in Survival Phase. Peril cards have a Peril Level.

If the Modified survival roll is less than the Peril level, you lose one random party member. Civilized Perils use Stealth instead of Survival Modifiers.

Stealth Phase

If in Move phase you landed on an opposing party, or an opponent played a Foe on you in Encounter Phase roll 1D20. This is the Stealth Roll: On a modified roll of 20+ if you wish, you avoid the Encounter: No Battle Occurs. On a modified roll of 15+ you surprise the Foe and get Force +4 in Battle Phase.

Battle Phase

If in Move phase you landed on an opposing party, or an opponent played a Foe on you in Encounter Phase, you must fight. Determine the Force Total of your Party. . . Force Total = 1D20 + # of Party Members + All Force Bonuses You may play one Spell per Mage in your Party. You may play one Psionic Power or Item per Party Member.

You may play one Weapon per Non-Mage Party Member. You may play one Armor per Fighter in your Party. You may play one Ally per Battle.

Note: the 1D20 is referred to as the Battle Roll. Determine the Force Total of the opposing party the same way. Reroll ties. The side with the higher total wins.

The loser must discard one random Character. The winning party gets the Attachments of the discarded character. The Force Total of a Foe = 1D20 + Foe Level.

If you Defeat a Foe draw 3 cards. If you lose vs a Foe, discard a random character. At the end of the phase, discard any Foe card and Discard all played Spells, Items, Weapons, Armor, Allies, and Power cards.

Warp Empires Ruleset

Introduction

Generic ruleset for a series of empire building/conquest games.

Map

The map depicts an irregular, interlocked set of territories.

Control Markers

Use chits to represent control markers.

Units

Use chits to represent units. Units include Leaders & non-leader units.

Deck

Players share an action deck. In some games, each player will have their own action deck. The action deck cards allow you to move your units.

Setup

Most Leader units will be in play. Others will be mixed into the unit chit pile. Each player will start with several non-leader units in play.

Starting points of units will be determined by the scenario.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 phases: Draw Phase Move Phase Battle Phase Revenue Phase Recruit Phase Upkeep Phase Control Phase

Draw Phase

First discard any cards you don't want. Each player draws 5 action cards. Max hand size = 7. Discard excess cards.

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Move Phase

Use Action cards to move stacks or units in stacks. A Fast unit can move 1-3 spaces. A Medium speed unit can move 1-2 spaces.

A Slow unit can move 1 space. Units can move into but not through opposing stacks. Fortifications cannot move (Move = 0).

Your opponent can only look at the top unit of your stacks

Battle Phase

When two opposing stacks occupy the same territory there will be a battle. Each unit has a force value. Add up the total Force values for each side.

Players may play action cards to increase their force value. If one stack has a Leader and the other does not, the stack with the leader gets an additional 5 Force. The side with the highest force value wins.

The losing stack must retreat one space. The losing stack loses half of its units. The winner picks the first unit lost, the loser picks the remainder. Fortification units in the losing stack are destroyed automatically.

The winning stack loses units with a force equal to at least half the force total lost by the losing stack. The winner decides which units are lost. Destroyed units are returned to their chit pile. Captured leaders are set aside and not returned to the chit pile.

After a battle both sides replenish their hands to 7 cards.

Revenue Phase

Gain revenue points for every revenue generating territory you control.

Recruit Phase

Draw 5 random units from the unit chit pile. Purchase units. A units cost is equal to its Force value. If you purchased all the drawn units, draw another 1D6 random units.

Revenue may be saved from turn to turn. Discard unpurchased units back to your unit chit pile. Units start in any revenue generating territory you control.

Upkeep Phase

Number of Units that automatically receive upkeep = 5 x total Revenue. Discard excess units. Example: You generate 10 revenue points per turn...

You may have up to 50 units.

Control Phase

Place a control marker on every revenue generating territory occupied by one of your units. Only one control marker per space.

Unit Deck Abbreviations

S Slow

M Medium speed

F Fast

F Force

F Fortification

Number of that unit in the chit pile.

Thri-kreen Hunter	F	2	Speed: Attack Range = 1

Setup

Each player places one Character on each square of his back row. Units may not stack.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

Characters

Use chits or miniatures to represent creatures. Each player draws 8 unique characters from the Character Deck.

Character Card List Notation

- F Fighter
- M Mage

The Cards

Players share a common deck. Each Character can use Skill cards for different effects.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Orders Phase Move Phase Battle Phase

Orders Phase

Draw 2 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your Characters. Characters cannot move through other units. (Exceptions: Teleport Spell) The move card has a number.

This is the number of spaces the Character moves. The Unit tables list what type of Move cards each Character can use. Moves are diagonal or orthogonal (like a Queen in Chess).

Instead of moving just one Character in any direction, you have the option of moving one or more Characters forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Battle Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a Character attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks are diagonal or orthogonal (like a Queen in chess). The enemy unit that is the target of the attack takes one point of damage. Characters reduced to zero Hits are killed and are removed from the map.

Characters cannot attack through other creatures.

David & Goliath

Introduction

Board Game for 2 Players. Biblical Theme. One player is David.

The other player is Goliath.

Victory

Smite your Foe.

The Board

Use a regular 8 X 8 chessboard.

David Figure

Use a figurine to represent David on the board.

Goliath Figure

Use a figurine to represent Goliath on the board.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Spear Token

Goliath gets 1 Spear Token.

Stone Tokens

David gets 5 Stone Tokens.

Terrain Tokens

There are 2 Rock Tokens and 2 Tree Tokens. Figures cannot move into or through Rock Tokens, but they can sling or throw through them. Figures cannot move or attack into or through Tree Tokens.

Wound Tokens

Players share a common set of 4 Wound Tokens. For each Wound your max hand size is decreased by one. Three wounds is death.

Setup

First drop the terrain tokens onto the board and move them into the nearest space. Each player draws a hand of 7 cards. Players each place their figurine on opposite back rows of the board.

Goliath is placed first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 Phases: Draw Phase Event Phase Goliath Move Phase David Move Phase Goliath Attack Phase David Attack Phase End Phase

Draw Phase

Each player draws 1 card from the deck and adds it to their hand. David draws first. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Event Phase

Each player may play one Event card in this Phase. David has first play.

Goliath Move Phase

The Goliath player may Move his figurine on the board. Discard a move card to move exactly the indicated number of spaces. Cards will indicate if the move can be orthogonal, diagonal, or both.

The David player may discard a Negate card to end a move at any point during its progression. Goliath cannot move into or through the space occupied by David.

David Move Phase

The David player may Move his figurine on the board. Discard a move card to move exactly the indicated number of spaces. Cards will indicate if the move can be orthogonal, diagonal, or both.

The Goliath player may discard a Negate card to end a move at any point during its progression. David cannot move into or through the space occupied by Goliath.

Goliath Attack Phase

The Goliath player may make a Spear Attack or a Sword Attack. The Goliath player starts play in possession of the Spear Token. As Long as the Goliath player has his Spear he must make a Spear Attack.

To make a Sword Attack discard a Sword card to attack David if he is in an Adjacent space. The card will indicate if the sword attack is orthogonal or diagonal. The Sword attack will be one of three types: Thrust, Slash, or Chop. The David player may discard a Defense card to block a sword attack.

Some defense cards will not work against a certain type of sword attack. If a Defense card is not successfully played, David is killed.

To make a Spear attack, the Goliath player must discard a Sword card or a Throw card. If a Sword card is used, the attack is treated exactly like a Thrust Sword Attack (even if the card says Slash or Cut). If a Throw card is used the spear will hit exactly at the range indicated on the Throw card.

Once thrown, if the Spear misses (A Defense card is successfully played) place the spear Token in the space occupied by David. Goliath is then without his spear. He can retrieve it simply by entering the space where it landed. If a Defense card is not successfully played, David is killed.

David Attack Phase

David may only make a Sling Stone Attack. To make such an attack, both a Sling card, and a Stone card must be discarded. The Sling card determines the range. All Sling cards can be used for Orthogonal or Diagonal attacks.

The Stone card is of 3 types: Fast, Curved, and Sinker. The Goliath player may discard a Defense card to block a sling attack. Some defense cards will not work against a certain type of sling attack.

If a Defense card is not successfully played, Goliath is killed. Once slung, if a Stone misses (A Defense card is successfully played) place a Stone Token in the space occupied by Goliath. David can retrieve it simply by entering the space where it landed.

End Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Victory

Completely eliminate all enemy Units.

The Board

Use an 8 X 8 Chessboard for a basic game.

Units

Use figurines or counters to represent Units.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Setup

For a typical 8 X 8 game, each side should have about 20-24 Hit points worth of units. Units are placed on a players back 2 rows.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 Phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Action Phase
3. End Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 5 Cards. If the Deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Action Phase

Play cards from your hand to have your units Move and Attack. Move and Attack cards have an associated Range value that determines The exact distance in spaces in which a Unit moves or is hit by an attack from its source. Attacks do one hit point worth of damage unless otherwise stated.

You opponent may play Defense cards to negate Attacks. All played cards are discarded. Units can only use one move card per turn.

Units can only use one attack card per turn.

End Phase

Max hand size is 5 cards. Discard excess cards.

Option Cards

Option cards can be used to activate the corresponding Action in a unit's Option Table.

Scrutinize Effect

First draw 1 card then Look at opponent's hand.

Heal Effect

This unit or friendly adjacent unit regains 1 lost Hit.

Regenerate Effect

This unit regains 1 lost Hit.

Deadly Effect

This attack inflicts 1 extra point of damage.

Disarm Effect

The Target Unit cannot attack on its next turn.

Immobilize Effect

The Target Unit cannot move or attack on its next turn.

Fear Effect

The Target Unit cannot attack the unit causing the Fear on its next turn.

Deadlock

Introduction

Board/Card/Record Keeping game for 2-4+ players. Based on the 1996 Sci-Fi PC Game "Deadlock: Planetary Conquest"

Disclaimer

Deadlock is a copyrighted, licensed product. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

You win by occupying all territories on the map.

Dice

Six sided dice are needed.

Races

Each player picks as their identity one of the 7 available races: Human, ChCh-t, Uva Mosk, Tarth, Re'Lu, Maug, Cyth

Humans

All buildings that produce trade income produce an additional 2 Credits per turn. Human Infantry have Attack +1. Humans pay 1 less to transport Colonists in Transport Phase.

Chch-t

Hive Mind Insectoid aliens. ChCh-t gain +1 population unit in Population Phase. All Military units cost 1 Metal less.

All Ground Forces have Move +1. All Buildings that produce Military units can produce up to one extra unit per turn. They have the ability to steal: In Ability Phase Roll 1D6 for each adjacent territory occupied by an opposing player: On a roll of 1 they may take 1D6 surplus units of Metal or Food from them.

Uva Mosk

Shamanistic Ant-eater looking aliens. Mines, farms, and Energy Plants have production +1. Scout Units have Defense +1 They have the ability to spy: They may always look at adjacent opponent's record sheets in Ability Phase Uva Mosk may not set a high Tax rate.

Tarth

Giant Militant reptilian Bulldog aliens. Ground Forces have Attack +1 and Defense +1. Farms produce +2.

Tarth cannot make Scout Units. Tarth Ships are Defense -1.

Re'lu

Green Telepathic Symbiote aliens. During Battle they have Mind control ability. (At least 1 Commander must be present to Mind Control) Roll 1D6 for each opposing unit at the beginning of a battle: On a roll of 1, the Re'Lu gain permanent control of them.

They have the Ability to subvert morale: In Ability Phase Roll 1D6 for each adjacent territory occupied by an opposing player: On a roll of 1 it is a success: 1D6 Colonists become Rebels.

Maug

Sickly Cybernetic Intellectual aliens. Research Facilities have production +2. Maug Infantry are Defense -1.

They have the ability to sabotage: In Ability Phase Roll 1D6 for each adjacent territory occupied by an opposing player: On a roll of 1, roll on the Sabotage Table:

1D6	Effect
1	Steal 1 Technology from Opponent.
2-3	One random building in Territory is destroyed.
4-6	One target Military Force in Territory is destroyed.

Cyth

Psychic Morose Octopoid aliens. Commander units can Mind Blast and have Attack +3 They have the ability to poison: In Ability Phase Roll 1D6 for each adjacent territory occupied by an opposing player: On a roll of 1, the territory is poisoned and cannot produce food for 1D6 turns.

The Map

The map is a 5 x 5 grid (25 spaces). A new map is created for each game. For each Territory roll on the Terrain table to what kind of terrain it has.

Give each territory a (Silly) Name. Territories that share a side (not just a corner) are said to be adjacent.

The Terriain Table

There are 6 types of Territories.

1D6	Territory	Energy	Metal	Food	Culture	Research
1	Plains	-	1	3	-	-
2	Forest	1	1	1	-	-
3	Mountains	1	3	-	-	-
4	Ocean	1	1	1	-	-
5	Swamp	3	-	1	-	-
6	Ruins	-	-	-	1	1

The Energy, Metal, and food columns list the production bonus that Farms, Mines, and Energy plants in that territory receive. Ruins give a production bonus to Culture Capacity and Research Producing Buildings.

Random Territory Determination

Assign each territory a number. Create a corresponding numbered counter. Place these in the Territory Pile.

Draw from this pile to determine a random Territory.

Territories & Building Limit

In addition to having a Terrain type, each Territory can Hold up to a max of 6 Buildings. Each building in a Territory must be assigned a number from 1-6 for The purpose of random building determination (Missile attacks, earthquakes, sabotage, etc.)

Setup

Players roll high on 1D6 to determine turn order. Players take turns selecting which territory they want to land their first settlement in. A Landing cannot be adjacent to another landing.

Each player starts with 1 City Center building. Each player starts with 20 Food, 20 Metal, 20 Energy, and 20 Credits. Each player starts with 1 Colonist.

Colonists

Use tokens to represent colonists. Place these Tokens on the Map Territories to show their Location. Most buildings require 1 colonist to operate it.

Place colonists in Rebellion in your Rebel Pile. Rebels will not operate Buildings.

Military Units

Counters are needed for each player for the 8 different Unit types: Colonizers, Scouts, Infantry, Tanks, Planes, Ships, and Missiles Place these Counters on the Map Territories to show their Location.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 20 Phases:

1. Upkeep Phase
2. Labor Phase
3. Event Phase
4. Population Phase
5. Morale Phase
6. Taxation Phase
7. Rebellion Phase
8. Resource Phase
9. Diplomacy Phase
10. Trade Phase
11. Black Market Phase
12. Build Phase
13. Production Phase
14. Ability Phase
15. Transport Phase
16. Attack Phase
17. Plane Return Phase
18. Colonization Phase
19. Research Phase
20. End Phase

Upkeep Phase

Each Colonist Consumes 1 Food. Each Basic Building consumes 1 Energy. Each Advanced Building consumes 3 Energy.

Unfed colonists are put into your Rebel Pile. Buildings without Energy produce nothing this turn. Energy plants do not consume energy.

If you ever manage to have more Colonists than Housing, the Excess colonists become Rebels.

Labor Phase

Distribute Colonists within a Territory to the Buildings there. Each building requires 1 colonist to operate it. Buildings that require no colonists include: Housing, Laser Defense, Energy Defense If you have excess colonists, roll 1D6 for each: On a roll of 4+ they become Rebels.

Event Phase

Roll on the Event Table:

1D6	Event:	Notes:
1	Earthquake	A Building in 1 Random square in 1 Random Territory is destroyed
2	Plague	1D6 Colonists in 1 Random Territory are destroyed
3	Rebellion	1D6 Colonists in 1 Random Territory become Rebels
4+	Nothing

Population Phase

Gain 1 Colonist counter for each City Center you control. Place this colonist onto any Territory you occupy. If your housing capacity is already at maximum, you do not get any more colonists.

Morale Phase

Colonists are either happy or rebels. If you have more total colonists than Culture + Art capacity, the excess colonists become Rebels. If there is more Culture + Art than total colonists, then 1 Rebel is converted back into a happy Colonist.

When discussing morale the term Total Colonists refers to Rebels + Happy Colonists. Note that art and culture are not used up like food, energy, metal, credits, and research; rather Art and culture are a measure of capacity like housing. Museum complexes produce one unit of Art every turn.

Taxation Phase

Set Tax Rate: High, Medium, Low. Low: Gain 1 Credit from each of your Territories and cause each Territory to convert 1 Rebel back into a Colonist. Medium: Gain 2 Credits from each of your Territories.

High: Gain 3 Credits from each of your Territories and cause 1 Colonist in each Territory to become a Rebel.

Rebellion Phase

For every 5 Colonists in Rebellion roll 1D6 (Rebellion Roll): On a Roll of 1, destroy 1 of your Buildings, 5 Colonists, and 1 Land Force Unit.

Resource Phase

Each of your Power Plants produces Energy. Each of your Farms produces Food. Each of your Mines Produces Metal.

Each of your Research Facilities Produces Research. Buildings that produce Credits from Trade may do so in this Phase or Be used to manufacture units in production phase.

Diplomacy Phase

Players may make deals with each other in this phase including Trading resources, credits, military forces, territories, and promises.

Trade Phase

Players may convert Credits into Food, Metal, Energy, Research, or Art. 2 Credits can be converted into 1 unit of any other Type.

Black Market Phase

You may have dealings with an eighth alien race: The Skirineen. They will buy 2 units of Food, Metal, or Energy for 1 Credit each. They will pay 2 Credits for 1 unit of Art.

You may purchase Military Units and Missiles from them for 10 Credits each. You may purchase a Technology from them for 100 Credits. If you deal with the Skirineen roll 1D6 (the Scandal roll): On a roll of 6+ there is a scandal: 1D6 of your Colonists rebel.

Humans add 1 to the Scandal Roll.

Build Phase

You may construct 1 Building in each territory you control. Some buildings can only be made if you own the necessary Technology. Note that all construction costs are in Units of Metal.

See the Building List for prices.

Production Phase

Some of your buildings may produce units. There are 10 basic types of units available:

Unit Type:	Cost:	Attack	Defense	Init	Move	Building/Research Req:
Colonist Tokens	-	1	1	1	1	City Center
Colonizers	3	1	1	1	1	City Center
Scouts (Ground Force)	2	1	1	2	2	City Center/ Electronics
Commander (Ground F.)	4	2	2	2	2	City Center/ Electronics
Infantry (Ground F.)	2	2	2	1	1	Factory
Tanks (Ground Force)	3	3	3	1	2	Factory
Planes (Air Force)	4	2	1	1	3	Airport
Ships (Sea Force)	3	3	3	1	2	Seaport
Laser Defense	5	4	4	1	-	It is a Building

Unit Type:	Cost:	Attack	Defense	Init	Move	Building/Research Req:
Missiles	2	1	-	-	3	Missile Base

Costs are in units of Metal. Ground, Air, and Sea Forces are collectively referred to as Combat Forces. Scouts are weak versions of Infantry built in City centers.

Combat Forces, Laser Defenses, and Missiles are collectively referred to as Military Forces (units). Tanks, Planes, and Ships are collectively referred to as Vehicles. Colonist Tokens and Colonizers are a non-military form of Ground Force.

A Laser Defense counts as both a unit and a Building. 1 Unit of Colonists is put into the Colonizer. Basic Production buildings can make 1 Unit max per turn.

Advanced production buildings can make 2 Units per turn. A Building that produced credits from trade this turn cannot be used to make units.

Ability Phase

Each player may use his race's special ability in this phase if he has one.

Missile Phase

You may launch Missiles at opposing Territories in this phase. Roll on the Missile table for each missile you launch:

1D6	Result
1-4	Miss/No Effect
5	Destroy target Military unit. Defender chooses.
6	Destroy a target Military unit. You choose.
7	Destroy a random Building
8	Destroy a target Building. You choose.
9+	Destroy any target unit or Building. You Choose.

Add one to the Roll for each Attack level your Missiles have. Subtract 2 if the Defender has an Energy Defense Building in the Territory. Each Laser Defense Structure in the territory may try to shoot down one incoming missile: Roll 1D6: on a roll of 1 the Missile is shot down.

Note: When a building is destroyed, any colonist Token on it is also destroyed.

defender is defeated, all the buildings in the Territory are destroyed.

Plane Return Phase

Attacking Plane Units return to the nearest Airport or Airbase this phase.

Colonization Phase

If you have a Colonizer in a Territory not occupied by any enemy units, it may Settle the Area: The colonizer is removed, and replaced with a Housing Unit and a Colonist Token. Once a colonizer has settled a territory you are in control of it.

Research Phase

If you have 50 or more research points, you must spend 50 points to purchase a new Technology: Draw 5 cards from the technology deck and choose one. If you already have all of those 5, discard and draw another 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

End Phase

Check to make sure all written records are complete.

Oceans

Ocean Territories present a set of special case rules. You control a territory if at the end of Colonization phase, you are the only player With ships or sea structures in it. Sea Structures include Benthic Mines, Wave Platforms, and Fisheries.

Transport Phase

You may move units and colonist tokens in this phase. A unit must stop upon entering a territory you do not control. Colonist tokens may only move into territories you control.

Pay 2 Credits to move a Colonist. This is called the Transportation Cost.

Attack Phase

If your units move into a Territory occupied by another player, there will be a Battle. Play proceeds in Rounds. Each unit of both sides gets to attack once every round.

Air Units attack before Ground units regardless of initiative. Units with a higher initiative attack before other units of the same type. Attacks by units with the same initiative are simultaneous.

Laser Defenses are considered to be ground units for purposes of Initiative. When attacking a unit rolls a number of dice equal to its attack level: For every roll of 1, a target defending unit loses 1 defense level. A unit reduced to a Defense level of zero is destroyed.

If a plane is targeted, it will dodge the attack on a roll of 4+ on 1D6 (Dodge Roll). The Rounds continue until one side is completely wiped out. If the Shipyards and Hydroports must be constructed on Territories adjacent to an Ocean. If a territory is adjacent to more than one ocean and these oceans are not adjacent, then A port can only serve one of the oceans. Ships occupy oceans only, they cannot enter land spaces.

If the adjacent port is destroyed, Sea structures will stop all production.

Designers Notes

I love the computer game. I still play, usually as the humans. In most ways I tried to be true to the original, but some things I had to abstract and Other things I took some artistic license with. Need to get a copy of the Part II version.

Death By Shakespeare

Introduction

Game for 2-4 players. Theme: Modes of Death and Character Types in the plays of Shakespeare.

Victory

Have the most living characters at the end of the game.

Game End

The game ends when the death number is reached.

The Death Number

Roll 1D6 +3. This will give a random number between 4 and 9. This is the number of characters who will die before the play is over. Titus Andronicus Option: Death Number = 14 (Minimum 3 players)

Character Pool

Each player is dealt 5 Random Character cards.

Dice

Six sided dice are needed.

Character Cards

Each Character has a special ability.

Death Cards

Each Death card has a rating of 1 to 6.

Character Deck Card List

Name:	Sex:	Special Ability:
Big Lunk	M	When you roll a 6 Draw a card
Innocent Babe	F	May change opponents roll of 1 to a 2
Flawed Ruler	M	When you roll a 3 play another Death card
Bright Young Thing	F	Negate an opponent's roll of 5
Malign Influence	M	When you roll a 4 get another roll
Sidekick	M	When you roll a 6 you may reroll
Clever Servant	F	All opponent's Hand sizes are -1
Imp of Mischief	M/F	When you roll a 6 trade a Character with opponent
Mistreated Villain	M	Hand Size +2
Powerful Woman	F	When you roll a 5 move a Death card to another Character
Figure of Fun	M	When you roll a 1 trade Hands with opponent
Wise Fool	M	If you roll a 3 discard a Death card not on self
Comic Relief	M	If opponent rolls a 4 discard Death card on self
Bawdy Woman	F	When you roll a 2 steal a random card from opponent's hand
Tragedy's Minion	F	If opponent rolls a 2 you may play a Death Card
Narrator	M	When you roll a 4 look at all opponent's hands
Foil	M/F	If opponent rolls a 1 you may make him reroll
Stock Character	M/F	When you roll a 1 you may change it to a 6

Setup

Each player is dealt 5 random Character cards. These are kept face up on the table in front of the player.

- Character Card
3. Third Act: Roll the Death Die

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 Acts:

1. First Act: Draw 2 Death Cards
2. Second Act: Place 1 Death card on an Opponent's

First Act

Draw 2 Death cards. If the Deck runs out, shuffle the discard. You max hand size is 5 cards. Discard excess cards.

Second Act

Place 1 Death card on an Opponent's Character Card. This may be any one of his cards. A Character may have any number of Death Cards stacked on him.

Third Act

Roll 1D6. This is the Death Die. If the rolled number matches the number on any Death card on an opposing Character, then the Character is killed. If there are multiple characters that can be killed, pick just one.

A Killed Character and any Death cards on it are discarded. Note: The Death roll will often activate the Special Abilities of one or more Characters. The Attacked player may respond first with the reaction of one of his Characters.

Play of reactions proceeds clockwise.

Death In The Sand

Introduction

Card Game for 2 players. Morocco circa 1925. Berber Tribesmen attack a company of French Foreign Legionnaires.

Victory

The first player to win 4 hands wins the battle

Decks

Each player has a unique deck.

Turn Sequence

Each player draws 8 cards from his deck. A player may then discard up to 4 cards & draw replacements.

Death Race

Introduction

Mad Max style post-apocalyptic gang-warfare road combat.

Gangs

Each player starts with a gang of 6 Vehicles. Roll on the Vehicle Table to see what each vehicle is. Use a separate index card to keep track of each vehicle.

Each vehicle will have a number of pieces of Equipment equal to its size. Roll on the Equipment Table to see what each piece of Equipment is. Roll to see how many times each piece of equipment can be used.

The Road

The road is a track divided into 100 segments. The first square is the Start square. Add 1D6 obstacle counters to random spaces on the Map

Victory

Look at the opposing vehicles. Designate one player as the Slow Gang. The other player is the Fast Gang.

The Slow gang wins if he gets 3+ his vehicles to the end of the track, Otherwise the Fast gang wins.

Destroying Vehicles

If all the crew of a vehicle are killed, the vehicle is abandoned. Ramming and Fire may destroy vehicles outright.

Setup

All vehicles of the Slow gang start in the Start space. The Fast gang player may place his vehicles on any spaces. The slow gang goes first.

Turn Sequence

Each vehicle gets a turn. Players alternate. Each turn has 5 phases: Drop Phase Ride Phase Missile Phase Ram Phase HTH Phase

Drop Phase

If a vehicle has Tacks or Oil it may drop one load. Place a counter of the appropriate type in the vehicles current space.

Ride Phase

Each of your vehicles may move 2D6 spaces forwards or backwards. If a vehicle has a negative speed modifier, you must reduce the roll by that amount. If a vehicle has a positive speed modifier, you may increase the roll by that amount.

If you moved past or landed on a Tacks or Obstacle, or Oil counter roll 2D6 and add your Maneuverability modifier. If the modified roll is 7+ you evade the counter. Add +1 to the roll if the counter is one of yours.

If you fail a Tacks counter your speed becomes -2 permanently. If you fail an Oil or Obstacle counter your vehicle cannot move next turn. If you occupy the same space as an abandoned vehicle, instead of moving, you may transfer 1 or more crew to the abandoned vehicle and take control of it.

If you occupy the same space as a friendly vehicle, instead of moving, you may transfer 1 or more crew to the friendly vehicle.

Missile Phase

If you are in range (forwards or backwards) with one or more of your weapons with a Range score of 1+ you may attack a target vehicle. Each weapon rolls 1D6 and adds its To Hit Modifier. (+1 if Range = 1) Each target vehicle rolls 1D6 and adds its Armor Modifier. If the Weapon roll is higher the Vehicle loses 1 crew.

If the weapon is a Fire weapon there is a further 1 in 6 chance the vehicle goes up in a Ball of Flame (Destroyed & all crew killed) Instead of aiming at the crew you may aim at the tires: If you hit, the speed of the target becomes -2 permanently.

Ram Phase

If you share the same space as an enemy vehicle you may ram it. Each vehicle rolls 1D6 and adds their Size & Ram Modifiers. The Higher roll wins. The loser cannot move next turn and has speed -1 permanently.

If the target has a better speed or maneuverability than the rammer he may avoid the Ram contest on a roll of 4-6 on 1D6. If you lose a ram contest roll 1D6: On a roll of 5-6 your vehicle is destroyed and all crew are killed (Flipped, smashed, rolled over, crushed, go over cliff)

Hth Phase

If you share the same space as an enemy vehicle you may attack it in HTH (Hand-to-Hand) combat. Each vehicle rolls 1D6 and adds their Crew and HTH Modifiers. The Higher roll wins.

The loser loses 1D3 Crew permanently. If the target has a better speed or maneuverability than you he may avoid the HTH contest on a roll of 4-6 on 1D6.

Deities & Demidice

Introduction

Dice & Card Game for 2+ players. Pagan Pantheons Fantasy Theme.

Victory

There are 3 ways to win:

1. Reduce your opponent to zero dice.
2. Accumulate 10 or more dice.
3. Get an Auto-Win Dice Roll Combo Effect (5 of a kind).

Dice

Each player needs a set of 9 six-sided dice of a unique color (or Theme). (Dice Lovers Rejoice!) Note: 10 dice is a win, but having the 10th die is unnecessary.

The Decks

Each player will need a Deck. Each card in a deck represents a Deity and grants a special power/ability. Note, that if only 2 people are playing, they can share a single deck.

Setup

Each player selects a deck and a set of dice. Players roll high on 1D6 to see who goes first. Each player draws a random starting hand from their deck of 2 cards.

Power Dice & Latent Dice

Players start the game only using 5 Power dice. This may increase during play. The dice a player is using are called his Power Dice. The dice he owns but cannot use are called Latent Dice.

Batch Rolls

When you roll all of your Power dice at once, this is referred to as a Batch roll.

Combo Effect Table

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 Phases:

1. Fate Phase
2. Divine Power Phase
3. Destiny Phase
4. Eternal Struggle Phase
5. Judgment Phase
6. Sands of Time Phase

Fate Phase

Draw the top card of your deck and add it to your hand. If your deck runs out, shuffle your discard and draw from it.

Divine Power Phase

Certain cards are played in this phase.

Destiny Phase

Roll all your Power dice. (That is, make 1 Batch Roll) (Note: At the beginning of the game, you start with 5 Power dice.)

Eternal Struggle Phase

Starting with the current player, players take turns playing cards to Alter the current Power dice rolls. This continues until all players pass in succession. The current player is trying to create 1 or more combos with his Rolls.

A combo is (usually) 2 or more dice having the same result. His opponents are trying to nullify his combos.

Judgment Phase

The current player applies Dice Roll Effects as per the Combo Effect Table Example 1: If none of your dice match at all this is a Creation Result: You Get 1 additional Power Die. Example2: Lets say you have 5 dice, and you get the following rolls: 4,4,2,2,1: This would be 2 Law Results: Draw 2 cards and add them to your hand Example 3: You have 8 dice and you roll: 6,6,6,6,6,5,3,3: You got a Victory Combo, and you automatically win the game. Note: some cards are used during this phase.

NDS	Combo Result:	Effect:
0	Creation	You Gain 1 Power Die
2	Law	You Gain (Draw from top of deck) 1 Card
3	Chaos	Opponent Loses (Discards) 2 random Cards
4	Destruction	Opponent Loses 1 Die
5	Victory	Auto-Win!!!

NDS Number of Dice having the Same Result.

the table.

Sands Of Time Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Note On Playing Cards

When a card is played, its effect goes off, and then it is discarded. If there is a question of timing, the current player goes first, and Then clockwise around

Egyptian Mythos Babylonian Mythos

Deity

Introduction

Players assume the roles of certain lesser Demigods. Each demigod begins with a small band of worshipers. Gain power by building temples and helping your population grow.

Crush your enemies populations with acts of god and the armies of the faithful. The last remaining immortal is the one true Deity.

Objective

Destroy all of your opponent armies, populations, and temples.

World Building Pregame Setup Phase

Use a 10 x 10 or 12 x 12 blank hex map. Each player takes a turn drawing and then placing a Terrain counter on the map. Counters are drawn at random from the terrain pile.

The first player places his counter anywhere on the map. Counters must be placed adjacent to a counter already placed. A player may discard his counter and draw a new one twice during setup.

Spaces without terrain counters are considered to be oceans or inland seas.

Setup

Each player rolls 4D6 to determine their starting population. If the Gods favor you, your rolls will be high. These may be placed in any one plains hex, not within 6 spaces of opposing units.

Players start with no cards, armies, or temples. Players roll high to see who goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 phases: 1 Draw Phase 2 Build Temple Phase 3 Raise Armies Phase 4 Population Growth Phase 5 Miracle Phase 6 Battle Phase 7 Movement Phase

Draw Phase

Each player draws one card plus a number of cards equal to the number of temples he controls. A player may have a maximum of 7 cards in his hand. Excess cards are discarded.

Build Temple Phase

Replace six Population counters in a single hex with a Temple counter. A space may only contain a single Temple. Temples cannot be built adjacent to other Temples.

You may build multiple Temples in this phase.

Raise Armies Phase

Replace up to half of the Population counters in a hex with Army counters. You may raise armies in multiple spaces in this phase. Armies already existing may be converted back to Population counters.

Population Growth Phase

Place a Population counter on each space you control not occupied by an Army or a Temple. The number of markers in a hex cannot exceed the Terrain limit. Discard excess counters.

Miracle Phase

A player may use none, some, or all of his cards. Most cards (miracles) are played during this phase. Some cards are used during other phases.

A card is used to 'perform a miracle'.

Battle Phase

Armies may attack units in adjacent hexes. Population counters may not attack. The attacker rolls 2 dice for every attacking army.

The defender rolls 2 dice for every defending army. The defender also rolls 1 die for every 2 population counters rounding up. Every roll of 1 on D6 indicates one enemy counter is destroyed.

Armies are destroyed before populations & populations before Temples. This procedure is repeated until: All attacking armies are destroyed. The attacker decides to retreat.

all defending counters are destroyed.

Movement Phase

Population counters & armies may move one space. Temples cannot move.

CARD LIST NOTES

Earthquake Target hex: Destroy 1D6 counters

CARD LIST	NOTES

Other Counters List

Each side gets an unlimited number of population, army, and temple counters.

Delta Skirmish

Introduction

Board & card game for 2 players. Highly abstracted skirmish level combat. Simulation of a counter-terrorist team operation.

One side is the commandos: Delta/SAS/GSG-9/GIGN/etc. The other side is Terrorists holding hostages in a building.

Victory

To win the Delta team must kill all the terrorists before taking 4 casualties. The Terrorists win if they kill 4 Delta team members, which allows them time to Kill the hostages.

The Map

Use an 8X8 chessboard.

Pieces

Use counters or miniatures to represent troopers & terrorists.

Delta Team

The team has 8 members: 2 Snipers 2 Demolitions experts 3 Shooters 1 Team Leader (Shooter)

The Terrorists

There are 8 terrorists: 1 Leader 7 followers

Leaders

If a Leader is killed the player must discard his hand.

Setup

The Terrorist player first places his men in any spaces except edge spaces. The Delta player next places his men in any spaces on the edge of the board. Units may not stack.

Each player draws a hand of 3 cards.

The Cards

Players share a common deck. The deck contains 1 copy of each card in the Card list.

Card List

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Initiative Phase Move Phase Fire Phase

Initiative Phase

Draw 3 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. Max hand size = 5 cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your men. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the man moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. You cannot move men into or through enemy units. Your opponent may play a Negation card to negate your move card.

Fire Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a Man attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. The enemy unit that is the target of the attack is automatically Killed and removed from the map. Your opponent may play a Defense card to negate your Attack card.

At the end of Fire phase Discard cards in your hand in excess of 5.

Demon Hunter

Introduction

Card and Board game for 2-6 players. Each player takes the role of a Demon Hunter.

Game End

The game ends the end of the turn the Demon Deck has been exhausted.

Victory

The player with the most Victory Points at the end of the game is the winner. Players get VP for killing creatures.

The Map

The Map depicts Europe in the Late 1800's. Cities are connected by paths. Full List of Cities includes:

#	City:	Port:	Notes:
1	Dublin	Y	Research Rolls here are at -1
2	London	Y	Search Rolls here are at +1
3.	Amsterdam	Y	-

20.	Venice	Y	Travel Rolls here are at +1

Each city is linked to 1-4 other nearby cities.

Pawns

Each player gets a pawn of a unique color. These are used to mark the location of the Demon Hunters on the Map.

Dice

Six, Ten, and Twenty sided dice are needed.

The Decks

There are 3 Decks: The Character Deck The Research Deck The Creature Deck

The Character Deck

These are advantageous traits that the characters start the game with.

The Research Deck

These cards aid the Demon Hunters in their quest. Players acquire these during play. Card Types include: Events, Spells, Weapons, Armor, Items, and Companions.

The Creature Deck

These cards need to be small to fit easily on the map: Each City needs room for its own pile of Creature cards.

Basic Limitations

A Character can only have: 1 Armor card in Play 2 Weapon Cards in Play 2 Companion Cards in Play Max Hand size is 7 Cards

Terminology

Cards in Hand = Players keep a Hand (Base Max of 7) of Research cards. Cards in Play = When referring to Character and Research cards, these cards are face up on the table in front of the owning player. Creature cards when drawn are placed face up next to the City they are infesting. Victory Pile = When a player defeats a Creature, the Creature card is placed in that player's Victory Pile to determine Victory at the end of the game.

Hits A numerical representation of how many wounds a Character can suffer before being defeated. When Healed, hits are restored. A player cannot be healed for more than his normal allotment of hits. Basic Starting number of Hits is 5.

Basic Equipment

The items and weapons found as research cards are special. It is assumed that characters always have access to basic equipment and weapons (Swords, Crossbows, etc.) as well as uncommon ammo such as Silver Bullets and enough money to cover their travel expenses.

Setup

Shuffle the Decks. Each player should name their Character. Each player starts with 5 Hits.
Each player draws and keeps 5 Character Cards. Each player rolls 1D20 to determine their starting City. Players roll high on 1D20 to see who goes first.
Randomly distribute the X top cards of the creature deck to random cities, where X to the number of players. (Max Monsters in any one city at start is 2)

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases:
1. Destiny Phase
2. Evil Phase
3. Action Phase
4. Fate Phase

Destiny Phase

The current player draws the top Research card from the Deck and places it in his hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Evil Phase

For each player roll 1D6: on a roll of 4+ Flip over the Top card of the Creature Deck and For each new creature roll 1D20: Place the Creature on the indicated City.

Action Phase

The Current player may take 2 Actions. There are 6 possible Actions:
1. Rest Action
2. Travel Action
3. Search Action
4. Recruit Action
5. Research Action
6. Trade Action
You may do a max of 1 Research Action per turn.

Fate Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess. If at the end of a turn, any city has 5 or more creatures, it is overrun and all players lose.

Rest Action

You may not rest if you are in a city with Creatures. Roll on the Healing Table:

Healing Table

1D10	Recover:
1-3	0 Hits (Festering Wounds)
4-7	1 Hit
8+	2 Hits (Miraculous Recovery)

Travel Action

Roll on the Travel Table: A "Space" is the distance on the map of the link from one city to an adjacent connected city.

Travel Table

1D10	Move:
1-2	0 Spaces (The Carriage has a broken Axle)
3-8	1 Space
9+	2 Spaces (Catch the last Train)

Search Action

You can only search if there is 1 or more Creatures in the City you are at. Roll on the Search Table: A "random creature" means OF the creatures that are at that city.

Search Table

1D10	Result:
1-2	You cannot find a Creature to fight
3-4	A Random Creature Surprises you *
5-8	You encounter a Random Creature
9+	Pick a Creature and surprise it **

* You get -1 Force in the first turn of the Fight  You get +1 Force in the first turn of the Fight If there is a Fight, immediately resolve it according to the fight rules.

Recruit Action

Put one Weapon, Item, Armor, or Companion card into play. Note the limits as described in the basic Limits section. You may first place a card in play back into your hand to make room for the new one to be put in play.

Exception: If during Combat you lose a weapon (as a result of a Wound Table Roll) you may immediately put another weapon from your hand into play.

Research Action

You may not research if you are in a city with Creatures. Roll on the Research Table. Draw the indicated number of Research cards from the top of the deck and put them in your hand:

Wound Table

1D20	Damage
1	You lose 3 Hits
2-5	You lose 2 Hits
6-7	You lose 1 Companion *

* If you do not have a weapon or companion lose 1 Hit instead. If fighting a creature of 1VP add 1 to your Wound Table roll. If fighting a creature of 3+VP subtract 1 from your Wound Table roll.

Weapons

Weapon Bonuses are cumulative. For instance, if you have the Holy Sword and you are fighting a Demon you get a total of +4F from the weapon. You can only have 2 Weapons in play at a time (you can keep extras in your hand). Only 1 of your in play weapons can be a ranged Weapon.

Small Weapons do not count against the Weapon Limits.

Events

Some of these are combat specific. Others are used when appropriate. They are discarded when played.

Research Table

1D10	Result:
1-2	Nothing
3-4	1 Card
5-8	2 Cards
9+	3 Cards

Trade Action

If you are in the same city as 1 or more other Demon Hunters, you may take the Trade Action: All of you may trade Resource cards, in Hand or in Play.

Fight Rules

Roll 1D20 (The Battle Roll) and add any Force bonuses you might have. If this number is equal to or greater than the Strength of the Creature you defeat it. Place defeated creatures in your Victory Pile.

If your modified roll was less, the Creature remains in play and roll on the Wound Table. If you are reduced to zero Hits skip your next turn and return to play with just 1 Hit. If after losing a Battle Roll, you still have hits you may decide to either continue the combat or flee.

If you decide to continue, make another Battle Roll against the same creature. If you decide to flee, you may stay in the city or move 1 space. If you move, it does not consume an action.

1D20	Damage
8-15	You lose 1 Hit
16-17	You lose 1 Weapon *
18+	You lose Nothing

Single Use

If an Event or Spell or Item is described as Single use, it is only used for one target battle roll and is then discarded.

Spells

Combat Spells (that are not specifically single-use) last an entire fight against a single creature card, even if it requires multiple Battle rolls. A Hunter can only use one spell per combat. After the Fight, the spell is discarded.

Armor

A Character can have a max of 1 Armor in play.

Creature Traits

Creatures will have one or more traits (Zombie, Beast, etc.) Certain weapons, spells, etc. will give Force bonuses vs. certain types.

Sea Travel Option

This action uses up 2 Actions: Go from a Port City to any other Port City.

Optional Experience Rule

For every 10 VP worth of Creatures in your Victory Pile, you gain 1 Character Card.

Optional Bite Rule

If a Hunter is reduced to zero hits by a Werewolf or Vampire he is killed permanently, the player is out of the game. His pawn remains on the board as a strength 10 creature of the appropriate type. If using the Unique Character cards below and the Vampire and Werewolf cards still remain unclaimed, these may be assigned instead of certain Death.

Optional Draw Selection Rule

Always keep the top 5 cards of the Resource Deck Face-up. Refer to these as Opportunity Cards (OC). When drawing a card you may pick from any one of the OC's.

As an action (Call it the Fresh Start Action), you may cause all the current OC's to be discarded and next 5 cards to be flipped face-up.

Optional Team-up Rule

If 2 (or more) players are in the same city with a Creature, the current player, if he succeeds on his search roll, may invite some, none, or all of the other players to Fight the creature with him. The others may join or not. Each player makes a separate Battle roll, but with a +5 Team Bonus. It is therefore possible for some Hunters to win and some to lose.

Losers roll on the Wound Table as normal. If there is more than one winner the winner with the highest natural Battle roll gets to put the creature in his Victory Pile.

Optional Rule - Unique Character Cards

Include these 5 cards in the Character card deck. A player can only ever have 1 of these (Discard excess uniques and redraw). Remove them from the deck after Setup is complete.

1. Demon Blood = the Demon Hunter is part Demon: He gets F+1 and +1 to Travel Table Rolls.
2. Repentant Vampire = The DH is a Vampire: He Gets F+1 and +1 to Healing Table Rolls.
3. Self Loathing Werewolf = The DH is a Werewolf: He may discard his weapons and armor in play for F+7 for current Combat. (Discard 3 random cards from hand if no weapons in play)
4. Amnesiac Immortal = The DH is a Zombie: He gets +2 Hits.
5. Black Arts = The DH is a Witch: After he uses a spell, he may put it back in his hand to be used again in a later turn. IF players are using the Fight other Hunters Option Below, they are susceptible to cards that work against the creature type that they are.

Optional Rule - Fight Other Hunters

If 2 DH occupy the same City they may fight each other: If neither wants to fight there will be no fight. The current player must use up an action (Fight DH Action) to initiate the combat: If both want to fight each other, proceed to combat. If the non-current DH does not want to fight, the current DH must make a successful search roll or the other DH will escape (ie. Combat ends).

Both make a Battle roll and add card modifiers as usual. If tied, roll again. The higher roll is the winner. The loser must roll on the Wound Table. After such an exchange the combat will end unless both still want to fight or only one of the DH's wants to fight and he makes a successful search roll resulting in another round of Battle Rolls.

A DH killed by another DH is out of the game: This allows the option of winning the game by killing off all the other DH.

Denizens Of The Deep

Introduction

When Atlantis sunk into the sea, the only survivors who could still occupy the city were the Mermen and the Tritons. Even then, the inhabitants of Atlantis were still plagued with numerous enemies. The evil and powerful Sea Witch has summoned all the enemies of Atlantis together to destroy the city. The Sea King and his faithful allies stand ready to repel the monstrous horde.

Game Concept

Set piece tactical battle for 2 players. One player is the Sea King, the other is the Sea Witch.

Dice

Six sided dice are needed.

The Map

Use a Hex map. Each hex contains one of the listed deep or shallow terrain types.

Deep Water Terrain Types (benthos, Abyss)

Terrain	Rules
Open Ocean	No special rules.
Mountain Peaks	No units may enter.
Upwelling	All attacks into or out of this space are at one less Attack die to a minimum of 1 AD.
Pack Ice	Cost 2 Moves to enter. (Also Fronts)
Current	Put arrow in space. In End phase, move unit 1 hex in direction of current. Only 1 such move per turn.
Vortex	Any units that enter are destroyed. In End phase, any units adjacent are sucked in on a roll of 1 on 1D6.
Sargasso	Cost 2 Moves to enter.

Shallow Water Terrain Types (continental Shelf)

Terrain	Rules
Mud Flats	No special rules. (Also Sandy Bottoms)
Sandy Surf	Cost 2 Moves to enter. (Also Large Jagged Rocks, Rocky Bottom, Tidal Flats)
Land	No units may enter. (Also Island, Solid Ice, Sandbar)
Shoreline	No units may enter. (Also Beach, Breakwater, Sea Walls)
River Outflow	Same as Current.
Coral Reef	Units get +1 to hide. Cost 2 Moves to enter.
Kelp Forest	Units get +2 to hide. Cost 2 Moves to enter. (Also Seaweed)
Mangrove Estuary	Units get +2 to hide. Cost 2 Moves to enter.
Ruins	Units get +1 to hide. Cost 2 Moves to enter.
Buildings	Units get +2 to hide. Cost 2 Moves to enter.
Whirl Pool	Units that enter receive an attack of 1 AD. Attacks into or out of this space are at 1 less AD to a minimum of 1.
Hydrothermal Vent	Units get +2 to hide. Cost 2 Moves to enter. Units that enter receive an attack of 1 AD.
Lava Flow	Any units that enter are destroyed. In End phase, any units adjacent receive an attack of 1 AD.

Terrain	Rules
Clam Bed	No special rules. (Also Sponge Beds)
Sunken Ship	Units get +2 to hide. Cost 2 Moves to enter.
Crevasse	Units get +1 to hide. (May be considered Deep Water)
Sea Temple	Units get +2 to hide. Cost 2 Moves to enter. Sea King units get +1 AD
Spawning Bed	Sea Witch units get +1 AD

Chits

Units are represented by chits (cardboard counters). Unit chits must have the name of the unit. Chits are used to mark each unit's damage.

Chits are used to mark hiding units. Chits are used to represent spells and mark their ongoing effects. Chits can be used for each unit to indicate Moves saved from first move phase.

Setup

The Sea King sets up his units along one side of the board. The Sea Witch sets up her units along the other side of the board.

Spells

During setup units with Spells receive the indicated number of Spell chits stacked on them. Spell chits are drawn randomly from a common pile. Create 2 chits for every spell in the spell list.

Victory

If either the Sea King, or the Sea Witch is killed, the other side wins immediately.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. The Sea Witch goes first. Each turn has 4 Phases:

1. First Swim Phase
2. Attack Phase
3. Second Swim Phase
4. End Phase

First Swim Phase

A player may move each of his units a number of hexes equal to their Move (Swim) Rating. Moves not used can be saved for Second Swim Phase. (You may wish to use chits to record these saved moves) Units may not move through other units.

Units may not stack. Large Units may not enter Shallow Terrain types that require two moves to enter. Units with a Paralyzation counter may not move.

If a unit moves it must discard any hide counters it has.

Attack Phase

A unit may attack an enemy unit that is adjacent. Units with a Paralyzation or Siren counter may not attack. Hidden units may only be attacked on a roll of 5-6 on 1D6. This is called the Search Roll.

The attacker rolls a number of six sided dice (Attack dice) equal to its Attack Dice Rating (AD) The attacker gets +2 AD if attacking a paralyzed unit. For every roll = 1, the defender takes one point of damage. Damage markers (chits) are placed underneath the damaged unit.

If the number of Damage Markers is equal to or greater than the Defense Rating (DR) of the unit, it is destroyed. Each unit may only make one search roll and may only attack once per turn on its controllers turn. If a hidden unit attacks, it gets two additional Attack dice, and must discard its Hide marker.

Instead of attacking, a unit may attempt to hide. A unit successfully hides on a roll of 5-6 on 1D6. A unit adds its Hide Factor to the roll. Various terrains also give a bonus to this roll.

Mark the hidden unit with a Hide marker chit.

Unit Special Effects

Poison: Any unit that takes damage from a poisonous unit is automatically destroyed. Sting/ Shock: If the attack hits the unit takes damage and receives a paralyzation counter. Entangle: One adjacent target unit receives a paralyzation counter on a roll of 1-4 on 1D6.

This is before and in addition to the units regular attack. The paralyzation counter is removed if the attacker ever moves away from the target. Mesmerize: One target unit within 2 hexes receives a paralyzation counter on a roll of 1-4 on 1D6. This is before and in addition to the units regular attack.

Ranged Attack: The unit may attack target units 2 hexes away. Martyr: Any/all adjacent enemy units must attack this unit. Siren's Call: All enemy units within 2 hexes receive a Siren counter on a roll of 1-3 on 1D6.

This is before and in addition to the units regular attack. The unit with the siren counter must move towards the unit that made the Siren attack. Net Attack: One adjacent target unit receives a paralyzation counter on a roll of 1-3 on 1D6. This is before and in addition to the units regular attack.

Split: The unit can divide up it's Attack Dice to attack multiple opponents.

Second Swim Phase

Moves not used in the first Swim phase may be used now.

End Phase

Some Terrain Attacks occur in End phase. Spells are cast in End phase. Paralyzed units cannot cast spells.

At the very end of End phase, the active players Units that have a paralyzation or siren counters on them may remove one counter each on a roll of 1-4 on 1D6.

Desert Storm Solitaire

Introduction

Solitaire card game with Desert Storm Theme.

The Decks

There are 2 decks: The Coalition Forces Deck and The Iraqi Deck

Turn Sequence

Iraqi Phase Draw Phase Recon Phase Attack Phase Casualty Phase Scoring Phase

Iraqi Phase

Draw 5 cards (units) from the Iraqi deck. Place them face up in front of you.

Draw Phase

Draw 5 cards (units) from the Coalition deck. Keep them in your hand. If the Coalition deck runs out shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Recon Phase

If you have a recon card you may discard it to draw 2 cards. Discard one of these cards and keep the other in your hand.

Attack Phase

Play a (attacking) card from your hand to knock out (destroy: discard) an Iraqi card. The 'Target' of card you play must match the 'Type' of the target Iraqi card. Repeat this process until there are no more matches you can make.

Note that all cards that can target Vehicles can also target Positions. Air units cannot target SAM units.

Coalition Forces Deck

Card Name:	Type	Target	Notes:

Casualty Phase

Lay your remaining unplayed coalition cards from your hand on to the table. If there are any Iraqi cards left, they attack back, matching target to type. Each of coalition card knocked out is counted as a casualty.

Discard all remaining cards to their appropriate discard piles.

Scoring Phase

Score points for the current round. Get 1 point for every Iraqi card you knock out. Bases are worth 2 points each.

If you knock out all 5 Iraqi cards get an extra 1 point. Lose 1 point for every casualty you suffer.

Game End

The game ends when there are no cards left in the Iraqi deck. Note your final cumulative score.

Destiny

Introduction

Card game for 2 or more players. Fantasy theme.

The Decks

There are 2 decks: The Treasure deck and the Destiny deck.

Destiny Cards

There are 4 types of cards in the Destiny deck: Character cards, Base cards, Bonus cards, and Multiplier cards. When illustrating the cards: Make pictures of armies and creatures for base cards. Draw weapons, items, events, magics, for bonus cards.

Depict structures and locations on multiplier cards. There is one of each of the cards listed in the deck lists.

Alignments

Each non-character card in the Destiny deck has one of 5 alignments: Good, Evil, Law, Chaos, or Nature. Good and Evil are opposed alignments. Law and Chaos are opposed alignments.

Object

Be the first to accumulate 5 treasure points.

Setup

Each player draws 7 cards from the Destiny deck. If there are no character cards, discard and draw again. If there is 1 or more character cards, the player must chose 1.

This is the character they will use for the rest of the game. This character becomes the players identity. It is placed face up in front of the player and not discarded.

The player always gets to use his character's special power.

Turn Sequence

1. First Aid Phase
2. Treasure Phase
3. Draw Phase
4. Hit Phase
5. Second Aid Phase
6. Action Phase
7. Base Phase
8. Bonus Phase
9. Multiplier Phase

10. Total Phase

11. Destiny Phase

First Aid Phase

In this phase a player may play one or more character cards from his hand. These cards are played face up in front of the player. They are called Aid cards. The player gains the special ability of these characters for the rest of the turn.

Aid cards are discarded at the end of Destiny Phase.

Treasure Phase

The treasure card deck is kept face up. Players may look at the order of the cards any time. The topmost card is the current treasure.

Draw Phase

Players fill their hands to 7 cards from the destiny pile. If no cards are left, shuffle the discard pile and draw from it.

Hit Phase

Players may discard some, none, or all of their cards. After discarding players fill their hands to 7 cards from the destiny pile.

Second Aid Phase

In this phase a player may play one or more character cards from his hand. These cards are played face up in front of the player. They are called Aid cards. The player gains the special ability of these characters for the rest of the turn.

Aid cards are discarded at the end of Destiny Phase.

Action Phase

Players may use the special abilities of their Characters or Treasures in this phase. A player always gets to use the powers of treasures he owns.

Base Phase

Each player may play one or more Base Cards. Cards are played face up in front of the player. A player cannot play cards of opposed alignments

Bonus Phase

Each player may play one Bonus card on each of his Base Cards. The base card and bonus card cannot be of opposing alignments.

Multiplier Phase

Each player may play one Multiplier card on each of his Base Cards. The multiplier, base, and bonus cards cannot be of opposing alignments.

Total Phase

Each player calculates the Destiny total of his hand. Add the value of the bonus card to the base card. Multiply this total by the value of the multiplier card.

If 2 of a player's cards have matching alignments each gets +1. If 3 of a player's cards have matching alignments each gets +2. Do this for each base card.

Add the modified values of each of the player's base cards to get that Player's Destiny Total.

Destiny Phase

The player with the highest Destiny total wins the round. The winner gets to keep the current Treasure card. All played cards are discarded.

In case of a tie, no one gets the treasure. The treasure becomes 'buried'. The player that wins next round gets the current treasure, and all Buried treasures.

Destiny Skirmish

Introduction

Card and board game for 2 or more players Abstract skirmish level combat with a Destiny theme. One player controls the Guardians. The other player controls an Alien Faction.

Disclaimer

Destiny is a licensed, trademarked, copy-righted property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

You win if you destroy all opposing Units.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

The Map

Use a 10 x 10 or 12 x 12 Grid.

Dice

Six sided dice are used.

Figures

Use figurines or miniatures to represent Units.

Setup

Each player places Units on the squares of his back 2 rows or According to the scenario description. Units may not stack.

Action Tokens

Use glass stones or pebbles. These are used to keep track of which units have had their turn. Place them next to the unit.

Damage Tokens

Use Poker Chips. This keeps track of how much Damage the unit has taken. Place them under the unit.

Turn Sequence

Place an Action Token next to each unit. Players roll high on 1D6 to see who goes first. Players take turns activating one unit at a time.

When you activate one of your Units, remove its Action Token. Then draw 2 Cards for the current Unit. Use these cards to have the Unit Move and Attack.

Note: A Unit may make multiple Moves and Attacks per turn. Discard cards when used or if they are un-useable. Continue to the next unit until no units have any Action Tokens.

Moving

Discard a Move card to move exactly the indicated number of Spaces. Moves can be orthogonal or diagonal.

Attacking

Discard an Attack card to Attack. The target must be at one of the ranges available to the Attack. The Attack hits on a roll of 4-6+ on 1D6.

Defending

When a unit is hit by an attack, it has a chance to defend. Immediately draw 2 cards. For each Defense card you draw roll 1D6: The attack is negated on a roll of 4-6+.

Damage

Every time a Unit is hit, it gains a Damage Token. If a Unit has more Damage Tokens than Hits, it is destroyed. Note: some attacks do more than 1 Damage.

Card List Notation

Basic 9 Point Scenario

Guardians have 1 Titan, 1 Hunter, and 1 Warlock. Aliens have 9 Hits worth of Units.

Basic 18 Point Scenario

Guardians have 1 Unit of all 6 Subclasses. Aliens have 18 Hits worth of Units.

Terrain Types

Type:	Notes:
Open	No Effect
Hard Cover	Can use Move cards as Defense Cards

Crucible Challenge Scenario

Guardian vs Guardian. Each side has an equal number of Guardians.

Respawn Option

After being killed, a Guardian will Respawn in 3 turns. If playing with this rule, triple the hits worth of Alien Enemy Units, and Triple the Hits of Enemy Bosses. Crucible Challenges are unchanged.

Type:	Notes:
Choke Point	Must Stop upon entering
Impassable	Cannot be Entered
Gap	Can be Moved Through but cannot end turn on
Height	Attacks get +1 Range
Obstructed	Attacks out of this Space are at -1 to Hit
Rise	Cannot attack past
Loot	One time only: Guardian pick a different Secondary Weapon
Energy Source	When entering remove 1 Damage Counter
Blocked	Cannot be attacked past or Entered
Way Point	On your turn get M1 or M2 for free
Difficult	Unit on this space draws 1 less Card
Good Ground	Unit on this space draws 1 extra Card
Clear View	Attacks out of this Space are at +1 to Hit
Exposed	Attacks into this Space are at +1 to Hit
Light Cover	Attacks into this Space are at -1 to Hit
Depression	Cannot Attack out of or into unless Adjacent or Indirect

Note: Some spaces can have 2 or more Types of Terrain. For Example, a space may be a Way Point and a Rise simultaneously.

Destroy The Rail Road Bridge

home, a band of samurai seeking to vanquish marauding bandits or a company of mixed creatures seeking to destroy a piece of evil ornamental jewelry that has the nasty habit of trying to control the minds of all free creatures.

The scenarios that use the Warp Quest engine will hold the details.

Introduction

Warp Quest is an abstract game system that depicts goal driven scenarios.

Each player controls a collection of Units who are attempting to be the first to reach an objective and bring it back to the start.

The units could be a party of adventuring archeologists hoping to recover a lost artifact, a squadron of bombers attempting to hit a military target and return

Dice & Pieces

- Six and ten sided dice are needed.
- Each player has a pawn to represent his or her group of Units (adventuring party, fleet, etc.) on the board.
- Use a small trinket to represent the Objective.
- There is only one Objective.

The Board

- The board is a single winding path of connected spaces with a Start Space and an End Space. The path should be 30 Spaces long.
- The First Space represents the start.
- Spaces 2-15 represents travel through the first scenario module.
- Spaces 16-29 represents travel through the second scenario module.
- The End Space is the final destination where the Objective is found.

The Decks

- There are 2 decks for each scenario:
- The Module 1 Deck and the Module 2 Deck.
- Each deck has one of each card in its card list.
- There may also be an Aid deck.

The Units

- Each player controls a group of units called a Party. The scenarios will detail the make up of the units in the party, their attributes (Skills, Traits) and starting dispositions.

Turn Sequence

- Players take turns.
- Each turn consists of 3 phases: 1. Move Phase 2. Draw Phase 3. Challenge Phase

Move Phase

- Roll 1D6. Move your pawn that number of spaces towards the end space.
- You automatically stop when you enter the end space.
- If you are the first to land on the end space your party acquires the Objective.
- Once a party has acquired the Objective then all other players may move their parties in either direction on the path.

1-4 Go back 1D6 spaces

5-6 Lose 1 Unit (Man, Ship, Hit Point, etc., depending on the Scenario)

If you Win the challenge gain 1 Experience Token. You may spend an Experience Token to let you reroll a Move Roll or a Skill Roll.

Moving Onto An Opponents Pawn

- If you land on an opponent's pawn there will be a fight.

- The party with the Objective must move towards the start space.
- The first pawn with the Objective to reach the start space wins the game.

Draw Phase

- If you land on an empty space in spaces 2-15 draw a card from the Module 1 deck.
- If you land on an empty space in spaces 16-29 draw a card from the Module 2 deck.
- If you land on an opponent's party do not draw a card.
- If a deck ever runs out, shuffle its discard and draw from it.
- Cards are of 2 types: Challenge cards & Aid cards.
- Place Aid cards in your hand.
- Challenge cards are encounters your party faces immediately in Challenge Phase.

Challenge Phase

Each challenge card lists one or more skills. Your party will have to make a skill check vs each skill listed. (The same skill may be listed twice or more, requiring that many skill checks) A Skill check consists of a Skill roll and Challenge Roll: Roll 1D10. This is the Skill roll.

Add the skill bonuses of your party members to the roll. You may discard Aid cards for further bonuses to the skill roll. Next roll 1D10. This is the Challenge roll.

Some Challenges have a DM (Difficulty Modifier). Add the DM to the Challenge Roll. If the challenge roll is less than or equal to the skill roll you win the Skill check. If the challenge roll is greater than the skill roll you fail the Challenge.

If you win all the Skill Checks, you win the Challenge. The adventure card may say what happens if you win or lose the Challenge. If the card does not give directions, then roll on the following table: If you lose the challenge: Roll 1D6: (Challenge Loss Table)

- The current player rolls on the Skill List Table to determine which skill will decide the confrontation.
- Both players make Skill Rolls. In case of a tie nothing happens.
- The loser rolls on the Challenge Loss Table.
- The winner takes the Artifact from the loser if the loser was in possession of the Artifact.

Devastators 2500

Introduction

The larger Interstellar warships go by many categorical names: Dreadnaughts, Battlers, Star Cruisers, and of course, Devastators. Each player controls a Devastator, or ship, represented by his deck. Play pits Devastator vs Devastator.

Run out your opponents deck to destroy his ship.

The Deck

The full Deck contains over 100 cards as described in the Card List. Before playing the first time, the deck will have to be constructed. The backs of all the cards are the same, the front should have the name of the card and its effect written out.

Object

Have the last remaining Devastator. When all of your opponents cards are in his Destroyed pile, you have eliminated him from the game.

Setup

Shuffle the full deck and deal each player an equal number of cards face down. These smaller decks for each player are called Draw Piles or Systems decks. A System deck represents all the weapon and defense systems on the players ship.

Each player draws 5 cards from his system deck. Determine turn order by any convenient method. All ships begin at Long Range from each other.

The Discard Piles

Each player has two discard piles: The Destroyed pile and the Reuse pile.

Turn Sequence

Draw Phase Move Phase Launch Phase Attack Phase Defense Phase Damage Phase

Draw Phase

Draw two cards from your Systems Deck. If there are ever no cards left in your systems deck, shuffle your Reuse Pile, which becomes your Systems deck. You may have a maximum of 8 cards in your hand.

Excess cards go to your Reuse pile. Rule of thumb: Cards you play immediately go to your reuse pile. Cards lost to damage go to your destroyed pile.

If all of your cards are in the destroyed pile you lose.

Move Phase

You may discard one Thruster card from your hand to your Reuse pile to move your ship one step closer to or farther away from an opponents ship. The Range Steps are:

- Short Range
- Medium Range
- Long Range Keep a record of the ranges between all ships.

Launch Phase

You may launch a Fighter card. The Fighter card is placed face up in front of you, and remains there until an opponent destroys it.

Attack Phase

You may play attack cards to attack enemy ships at the appropriate range. One attack card per target devastator. The attack card lists its range.

For example: you can only use a Torpedo to attack at long range. The attack card is played from your hand, and is discarded to your Reuse pile. Your fighters may always attack.

You may attack an enemy fighter with attack card of any range. Fighters may also attack other fighters. When attacking a fighter your opponent must discard the top card of his draw pile into his reuse pile. If the drawn card is a thruster or armor card the fighter evades.

A thruster or armor card may also be played from the hand to save a fighter. Any other type of card means the fighter is discarded to his owners Destroyed pile.

Defense Phase

If you attacked, your opponent may play a Thruster card to evade the attack. The attack will do no damage. This is known as an evasion. Your opponent may also play one of the more specialized defense cards that will negate an attack of a specific type.

Your opponent may play a Point Defense card to automatically destroy one of your attacking fighters. Played cards are discarded to that players Reuse pile. If destroyed, your fighter is discarded to your Destroyed pile.

Damage Phase

Attack cards not evaded or negated will do damage to your opponents ship. Each Attack card lists a numerical damage value. Fighter attacks do one point of Damage.

Your opponent discards a number of cards from his hand and/or from the top of his Draw pile (his choice) equal to the damage inflicted. These cards go to his destroyed pile. An Armor card, if discarded from hand or deck, soaks up all the remaining damage, and no further cards are discarded.

You may play the Critical hit and Nuclear warhead cards to increase the amount of damage done by the attack.

Card List

#	Name	Affect
25	Thrusters	Evade or change range one step
12	Armor	Absorbs one Attack and is then Destroyed
3	Plasma Projector	Beam Attack, Short Range, Damage = 4
4	Laser Turret	Beam Attack, Medium Range, Damage = 2
4	Particle Beam	Beam Attack, Long Range, Damage = 3
4	Autocannon	Projectile Attack, Short Range, Damage = 3
3	Rail Gun	Projectile Attack, Medium Range, Damage = 4
4	Meson Gun	Projectile Attack, Long Range, Damage = 2
4	Rocket Salvo	Missile Attack, Short Range, Damage = 2
4	Missile Launch	Missile Attack, Medium Range, Damage = 3
3	Torpedo	Missile Attack, Long Range, Damage = 4
4	Fighter	Any Range, Attack Damage = 1/Turn until destroyed
2	Targeting Computer	Negates an Evasion made by an opponent
2	Nuclear Warhead	Successful Missile Attack does an additional 5 points of damage
2	Critical Hit	Successful Attack does an additional 3 points of damage
2	Jammer	Defense: Negate all Missile attacks this turn
4	Point Defense	Defense: Destroy Fighter or Negate one Missile attack this turn
4	Deflectors	Defense: Negate all Projectile attacks this turn
4	Sand Caster	Defense: Negate all Beam attacks this turn
4	Damage Control	Put one random card from your destroyed pile into your hand
2	Battle Computer	Play in your draw phase to draw an additional 3 cards
2	Tactics	Play in launch phase. Opponent must discard 3 cards to his reuse pile
2	Electronic Warfare	Play in opponents launch phase. He may not attack you this turn

Launch Phase

You may launch a Fighter Squad card or Nanotech swarm card. The Fighter or Swarm card is placed face up in front of you, and remains there until an opponent destroys it.

Attack Phase

You may play attack cards to attack enemy ships at the appropriate range. One attack card per target devastator. The attack card lists its range.

For example: you can only use a Force Beam Array to attack at long range. The attack card is played from your hand , and is discarded to your Reuse pile. Your fighters may attack at short and medium range.

Swarms only attack at short range You may attack an enemy fighters or swarms with attack card of any range. Fighters or swarms may also attack other fighters or swarms. When attacking a fighter or swarm your opponent must discard the top card of his draw pile into his reuse pile. If the drawn card is a drive or armor card the fighter/swarm evades.

A drive or armor card may also be played from the hand to save a fighter/swarm. Any other type of card means the fighter/swarm is discarded to his owners Destroyed pile.

Diamond Traders

Introduction

Card game. 2-5+ players.

Object

Have the largest point score at the end of 4 turns.

Suite	Value	Notes
Cut	1	Imperfect
Cut	2	Beget
Cut	3	Square
Cut	4	Perfect Round
Color	1	Canary
Color	2	Yellow
Color	3	Off White
Color	4	White
Clarity	1	Carbons
Clarity	2	Slight Inclusions

The Deck

Players share a common 60 card deck. There are 5 suites. Each Suite has 12 cards. Include 3 of each card listed below.

Suite	Value	Notes
Clarity	3	Clean
Clarity	4	Flawless
Karat	1	Milli
Karat	2	Half Karat stone
Karat	3	One Karater
Karat	4	Rock
Kind	1	Amethyst
Kind	2	Ruby
Kind	3	Emerald
Kind	4	Diamond

Turn Sequence

There are 3 Phases in a turn:

1. Draw Phase
2. Trade Phase
3. Show Phase

Draw Phase

All players draw cards to fill their hands to 12 cards. If the deck runs out shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Trade Phase

All players may trade cards with each other. Anything goes. Beg, borrow, and steal. Trades may be public, private, by auction, uneven, I.O.U., etc.

After 10 minutes, or if no one wants to trade anymore, go on to the next phase.

Show Phase

All players simultaneously score points in this phase. To score points you must play (reveal) one or more "Stones". A "Stone" is a combination containing 1 card from each of the 5 suites: Cut, Color, Clarity, Karat, and Kind.

To determine the point value of a Stone: Multiply together the values of all of the cards in the combo. For example: Joe plays: Cut = 3, Color = 1, Clarity = 1, Karat = 2, and Kind = 4. The score for the stone = $3 \times 1 \times 1 \times 2 \times 4 = 24$! Cards not in a combo do not score points. They are called "Dead Merchandise." Dead merchandise is kept in the players hand for next turn.

Keep a running total of your cumulative score.

Variants

Very long game: Deal 15+ cards. (3 stones per phase per player possible) Long Game: Deal 13 or 14 cards. Short Game: Deal 10 or 11 cards. Dictators

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Each player takes the role of 1 or more successive 20th century Dictators.

Game End

The game ends when a turn starts and there are no cards left in the deck.

Victory

The player with the most Victory Points at the end of the game wins.

Victory Points

Use Tokens to represent Victory Points (VP).

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The Deck contains 5 types of cards: Challenge cards, Military Power cards, Political Power cards, Atrocity cards, Wealth cards. Note that each card type has a point value from 1 to 3.

Setup

Flip a coin to see who picks first in the first World stage Phase of the Game.

Turn Sequence

Turns are divided up into 5 Phases:

1. World Stage Phase
2. Coup Phase
3. Abuse of Power Phase
4. Icon Phase
5. Corruption Phase

World Stage Phase

Take the top 10 cards of the deck and place them face up in the middle of the table. These are called the Draw cards. Players take turns taking 1 Draw card and putting it into their hand.

The player with the highest Political Power goes first, next highest goes second, and so on. (This is called the Current Turn Order, determined only once per turn) Continue until all cards are picked. If you are forced to take a Challenge card, instead of putting it in your hand, place it face up in front of you.

Coup Phase

If you have 6 or more points worth of Challenge cards in front of you, you have been deposed: Discard your hand and all of your cards in play. Start next turn as a new Dictator.

Abuse Of Power Phase

For all players in Current Turn order: You may put 1 Military Power(MP) card into play. You may put 1 Political Power(PP) card into play. You cannot have more points worth of PP than MP.

You may put 1 Atrocity card into play. You cannot have more total points worth of Atrocities than MP. Gain VP = the value of the Atrocity card.

You may put 1 Wealth card into play. You cannot have more total points worth of Wealth than PP. Gain VP = the value of the Wealth card.

Icon Phase

For all players in Current Turn order: Gain 1 VP for each Political Power Card you have in play.

Corruption Phase

Max hand size is 3 cards. Discard excess cards.

Early And Late

Some cards are designated as Early and some as Late. You may only have cards in play from one type.

Faq

1)The SETUP states that you "Flip a coin to see who picks first in the first Political Phase of the Game." But there is no such Phase listed. Should mean "World Stage Phase"? A> Yes, renamed as World Stage phase.
 2) The number of players doesn't affect that there are always 10 new Draw cards each turn? Doesn't matter if some players will have to pick one more or less? A>

10 is it! By Dictatorial Decree.

3) All of the players do each phase before moving on to the next? Or does one player go through all phases before the next player goes through any? A> Added the Current Turn Order Nomenclature.
 4) In Corruption Phase, you discard your hand down to 3. But the cards in play stay in play? If so, how can you get rid of those cards, if you can? A> Your cards in play stay in play until your Dictator is Deposed. Those in play are not those in your hand.

Disciple Lords

Introduction

Card game for 2-4 players. Based on the Disciples Computer Strategy Games.

Disclaimer

"Disciples" is a licensed, copyrighted property. This is merely a Fan site

The Decks

Players Share one Common Deck Each player has a unique Race Deck.

The Common Deck

The common deck has 6 types of cards: Locations, Advances, Items, Potions, Events, Treasure

Race Decks

Each race deck contains 5 types of cards: Leaders, Summons, Followers, Spells, Buildings

Hands

Each player keeps 2 hands: 1 Common deck hand & 1 Race deck hand.

Major Victory

Capture all of your opponent's Cities.

Minor Victory

The game ends when any players Race deck runs out. The player controlling the most cities at that point wins.

Units

Leaders, Followers, and Summons are collectively referred to as Units. Units are also referred to by their mode of Attack:

HTH Hand to Hand weapons

Ranged = Missile Weapons that can target any Unit in a Battle
Magical = Affect all Enemy Units in a Battle

Army

A Leader with all attached Followers is referred to as an Army.

Damage Markers

Use Markers to indicated Damage. 1 Marker = 1 Point of Damage.

Gold Coins

Use coins to represent gold. 1 Penny = 1 Gold.

Mana Tokens

Use tokens to represent Magical Energy. 1 Token = 1 Mana.

Dice

Six sided dice are needed.

Setup

Shuffle all decks. Start with your Capital City & Capital Defender in Play. Each player starts with 10 Gold coins & 10 Mana Tokens.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 12 Phases: Exploration Phase Logistics Phase Revenue Phase Mana Phase Leader Phase Recruit Phase Resurrect Phase Build Phase Intrigue Phase Attack Phase Recovery Phase End Phase

Exploration Phase

Draw 1 card from the Common Deck & put it in your Common hand. Draw an extra card for each Explorer Leader you have in play.

Logistics Phase

Draw 1 card from your Race Deck & put it in your Race hand. Pay 5 Gold or 5 Mana to draw an extra card.

Revenue Phase

Cities and some Buildings & Locations generate Gold Coins in this phase.

Mana Phase

Some Cities, Buildings & Locations generate Mana Tokens in this phase.

Leader Phase

Put 1 Leader card from your Race deck face up into play. Pay the Gold cost of the Leader.

Recruit Phase

Put Follower cards from your hand into play. Followers must be attached to a Location, Building, or a Leader. A Leader or City may have a maximum of 4 Followers attached.

Explorer Leaders can have only 1 Follower attached. Thieves cannot attach Followers. Items & Banners may also be attached to Leaders.

A Leader may have a maximum of 2 Items attached. Followers & Items have required Gold costs. Summoned Creatures have a Mana cost.

Advances may be attached to Leaders for Free. A Leader may have a maximum of 2 Advance cards attached. Followers attached to a Location or Building are referred to as a Garrison.

In this Phase Followers may be freely reattached between Leaders & Garrisons.

Resurrect Phase

You may pay a units cost in Gold or Mana to remove it from your Discard and put it in your Race hand.

Build Phase

You may put Buildings and Locations into play from your hands. Pay any required Gold costs.

Intrigue Phase

Roll once on Stealth Table for each Thief you have in play:

Stealth Table

2D6	Action	Effects:
2	Assassinate	Kill Target Leader
3	Caught	Thief is killed
4	Poison	Kill Target Follower
5	Steal Gold	Steal 1D6 Gold from Opponent
6	Spy	Scry
7	Lie Low	Nothing
8	Hinder	Opponent must discard 1 Common card from his hand
9	Sabotage	Opponent must discard 1 Race card from his hand
10	Intrigue	Steal 1 Random Common card from Opponent's hand
11	Steal Item	Steal Target Item
12	Burn	Destroy Target Building

The Capital Defender cannot be assassinated. If a Leader is assassinated, reattach its Followers to other Leaders & Garrisons of the player who controlled that leader. If a Leader is assassinated, reattach its Items to other Leaders of the player who controlled that leader.

If you steal an Item, reattach it to one of your leaders or put it in your hand.

Attack Phase

You may attack a target enemy Location or Building with one of your Leaders. The Defending Player may Intercept with one of his Leaders. Each of your Leaders in turn may attack once in this Phase.

An Attack by a Leader automatically ends after 1 of 4 possibilities:

1. The Attacking Leader is Defeated.
2. The Intercepting Leader is Defeated.
3. The Garrison is Defeated.
4. The Undefended Location is Captured.

You gain control of Locations you capture. Buildings, if captured, are Destroyed (= Discarded).

Example Of An Attack Phase

The Attacking Empire has 4 Leaders: A, B, C, & D. The Undead have 2 Locations X & Y with Garrisons, and 1 Leader: Z. A attacks X. Z defends and defeats A. Z is Weakened. B attacks X. Z defends again and is defeated.

C attacks X. The defending Garrison is defeated. D attacks undefended X and captures it.

Resolving Battles

A Battle refers to a fight between 2 enemy Leaders (or a Leader and a Garrison). Each Unit in the Battle takes its turn to attack a target enemy unit. (HTH Units must target other HTH units if there are any) Units attack in order of their initiative.

Attacks by Units with the same initiative are simultaneous. When all units have attacked, a new round of Attacks begins. When attacking, roll one die. On a roll of 4+ the attack hits.

An attack that hits does full damage. Place Damage markers on the Target Unit. A Unit with more Damage than Hits is killed and discarded.

Recovery Phase

Remove all Damage Markers from all Units.

End Phase

Check for Victory Conditions. Max hand sizes are 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Scry - Scrying

This ability allows you to either:

1. Look at any Hand in Play, or
2. Look at the next 4 cards in any deck.

Healing

Units that can heal remove damage markers from themselves &/or friendly units. When attempting to heal roll 1D6 for each target: On a roll of 2+ the attempt is successful.

Potions, Items, & Spells

Potions & Spells are discarded after being used. Items are continuously reused. Attacks by Items & Spells have to roll to hit just like normal attacks by Units.

Damage Sources

Sources of Damage are listed on cards (Air, Fire, Mind, Death, etc.) If no source is listed the source type is "Weapon."

Armor

Armor reduces the damage caused by any attack equal to the level of the Armor.

Drain Attacks

If the attack hits the attacker is healed by an amount = to the damage inflicted.

Paralyzation

If the attack hits the target must skip its next 2 attacks this battle. Paralyzation effects are not cumulative.

Doctor Strange

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Based on the comic book character Doctor Strange. One player is the forces of good.

The other player is the forces of evil.

Victory

If, for 2 turns in a row, starting on turn 10, a player has no viable Characters in play, his opponent wins.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. The deck contains one of each card in the card list. Card Types include: Characters, Companions, Locations, Items, Modifiers, Powers, Attacks, Events

Dice

A Twelve-sided die is needed.

Setup

Decide who is Good and who is Evil. Each player is dealt a hand of 7 cards. Each player starts with 1 Character in play: The Good player starts with Doctor Strange in Play.

The Evil Character starts with Baron Mordo in play. The Evil player goes first.

Viable Characters

A viable Character is one that is not: Killed, Incapacitated, Exiled, or Captured.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases: Mystic Arts Phase Summon Phase Attack Phase Rest Phase

Mystic Arts Phase

Draw 2 cards and put them in your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Summon Phase

Put permanent cards into play from your hand. Permanent cards include: Characters, Companions, Locations, Items, and Modifiers. Place Character cards face up in front of you.

Location, Item, Companion, and Modifier cards are attached to individual characters. A Character may only have one Location card attached.

Attack Phase

Each of your viable characters may make 1 attack per turn. An Attack targets an opposing viable character. Targeted Characters are also known as marked Characters.

First declare all Attacks. To make an attack you must play (discard) an Attack card. The attacker rolls 1D12 and adds the power of the attacking Character and all attached cards. This is the Attack Total.

The defender rolls 1D12 and adds the power of the defending Target Character and all attached cards. This is the Defense Total. Players may play (discard) Power cards to temporarily increase their Power. The higher Total wins. Attacker wins ties.

If the Defender wins, the Attack fails, and nothing further happens. If the Attacker wins, the Target Character suffers the fate described on The Attack card (Killed, Incapacitated, Controlled, Exiled, or Captured)

Rest Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards. Roll 1D12 for each of your Incapacitated Characters: On a Roll of 11 or 12 the Character recovers and is no longer Incapacitated.

Characters with an Unmodified Power of 10 and greater usually have better Things to do: Roll 1D12: on a Roll of 11 or 12 discard the Character.

Killed

Killed Characters are placed in a special Killed Character card pile. (Their spirits now roam other dimensions) All cards attached to the Character are discarded.

Exiled

Exiled Characters are placed in a special Exiled Character card pile. (Their physical bodies are trapped on some other dimension) All cards attached to the Character are discarded.

Incapacitated

Mark Incapacitated Characters with a token. You remain in control (possession) of your Incapacitated Character.

Controlled

If you gain control of an opponents Character, it now becomes your Character, and you may attack with it, etc. Indicate controlled status with a marker. Note that a controlled character is still viable, but only for the Player that now controls it.

Important Point: If the original Attacking Character that brought the target character under Control is in turn controlled or made unviable, the control is lost, and The target character returns to its original owner fully viable. (Players will have to remember which character did what to whom)

Captured

You take possession of a Character you have captured. A Captured Character is not viable and may not attack, etc. Indicate controlled status with a counter.

All non-modifier cards attached to the Character are discarded. Important Point: If the original Attacking Character that captured the target character is in turn controlled or made unviable, the captive is freed, and The target character returns to its original owner fully viable.

Call Defender

Some Event cards allow for a Call Defender ability. These cards are played by the Defender in Attack

Phase. This lets an unmarked friendly viable character add its modified Power to The power of the Defender.

Counter & Negate

A Counter card causes a target card to be discarded only as it is being played. A Negate card causes a target card in play to be discarded or target effect to end.

Doctor Who Episodes

Introduction

Rummy style card game. 2-4+ players. Dr Who Theme focus on Dr's 9-11.

Disclaimer

Dr Who is a licensed, copyrighted property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

The first player to earn 50 Victory Points is the winner.

The Deck

Players share a common Deck. There are 6 card types (Suites):

- 1. Doctors
- 2. Companions
- 3. Gadgets
- 4. Foes
- 5. Plots
- 6. Specials

There are 15 cards in each suite.

Setup

Shuffle the Deck. Players are dealt 7 cards each. The quirkiest player goes first.

Play proceeds clockwise.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases:

- 1. Draw Phase
- 2. Action Phase
- 3. Episode Phase
- 4. End Phase

Common Deck Card List

Name:	Type:	FP	Notes:
Ninth Doctor	D	5	4 copies
Tenth Doctor	D	7	5 copies
Eleventh Doctor	D	9	6 copies

Draw Phase

Draw 2 cards from the top of the Deck and put them in your hand. If the deck ever runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Action Phase

You may play (discard) one card from your hand to activate its special ability. Discard a Doctor card to look at the next 7 cards in the deck. Discard a Companion card to draw 2 cards.

Discard a Foe card to steal 1 random card from opponents hand. Discard a Plot card to look at opponents hand. Discard a Gadget card to draw 3 cards, keep 1 and discard the other 2.

Discard a Special card to cause target opponent to discard 1 random card.

Episode Phase

If possible you may play (discard) one episode from your hand. An Episode consists of one card from each of the 6 card types. The total value of the FP Doctor, Companion, and Gadget cards (Defenders) must exceed the total FP value of the Foe, Plot, and Special cards (The Threat).

Gain Victory Points equal to the value of the Threat. After completing an episode draw 4 cards from the deck.

End Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Dodeca

Introduction

Abstract strategy game. Similar to chess. Dice are used as pieces.

Object

Capture both of your opponents Dodecas.

The Board

The board is a 10 X 10 grid.

Unit Chart

#	Name:	Type:	Abbreviation:	Move:	Capture:
10	Tetras	Four sided dice (D4)	Orthogonal	Diagonal
4	Cubes	Six sided dice	(D6)	Diagonal	Orthogonal
4	Octos	Eight sided dice(D8)	Diagonal	Diagonal
2	Dodecas	Ten sided dice	(D10)	Orthogonal	Orthogonal

Number of that dice in a set of 20.

Setup

You set up your pieces on your back 2 rows. All 10 of your Tetras go on your second row. The order of your pieces on your back row: 6,6,8,8,10,10,8,8,6,6.

Before each piece is placed on the board, the die is rolled, and is placed that face up. For example, you roll a 5 on a six sider. The die is placed on the board with the 5 face up. Four sided dice are read along the bottom edge.

Rules

Players take turns. Roll high on a D10 to see who goes first. On your turn you may do one of 2 things:

1. Move one of your units and reset its face number
2. Reroll a die to reset its face number

The Pieces

Dice are used as pieces. They are also referred to as units. Each player has a set of 20 dice. Dice come in many colors. The color schemes of the two opposing sets should easily set them apart.

There are 4 types of dice: four sided Tetras, six sided Cubes, eight sided Octos, and ten sided Dodecas.

When you move a unit you must move it a number of spaces equal to the number on its top face. Tetras move orthogonally and capture diagonally. Cubes move diagonally and capture orthogonally.

Octos move and capture diagonally Dodecas move and capture orthogonally. Units may never jump over other units. You may not land on a friendly piece.

If you land on an enemy piece you have captured it. Captured pieces are removed from the game. After a piece moves or captures its top face number must be changed +/- 1.

For example a cube of face 5 captures. It can be rotated to the 4 or 6 face. For example a cube of face 6 moves. It must be rotated to the 5 face. Instead of moving you may roll one of your dice.

The die is returned to its same space with the result of the roll face up. A player may not do two rerolls in a row unless he has no other possible move.

Dodge Ball

Introduction

Board and card game for 2 players.

Victory

Eliminate all players on the opposing team.

The Board

Use an 8 x 8 grid (Chessboard)

Pieces

Use pawns, checkers, miniatures, coins, rocks, etc. to represent men. Each team has 6 men (or women).

Setup

Place your six men on your back row. Roll on the Skill table once for each of your men. You may allow your Team Captain 2 Rolls.

Stacking

Men may never stack.

Sides

Your men may move only on the first 4 rows of your side of the board. Likewise your opponent may only move his men on his side of the board.

The Deck

Players share a common deck

Run	5	3	M
Sprint	5	4	M
Cut Across	5	K	M
Throw Short	6	1	T
Throw Near	5	2	T
Throw Long	5	3	T

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 phases: Draw Phase Run Phase Throw Phase Dodge Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 3 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it.

Run Phase

Play a Move card to move a man that many Spaces, orthogonally or diagonally. A man can move only once per turn.

Throw Phase

Play a Throw card to have a man throw at a target that many Spaces away, orthogonally or diagonally. A man can move only once per turn. A target opposing player that is Hit is out.

The target opponent may play a Dodge card to Negate a Throw card. The target opponent may play a Catch card to Negate a Throw, and allow one of your Out players to come back in. The player comes in at any one of your side spaces.

Introduction

Board game for 2 players. Race game mechanism. Based on the Movie of the same name.

Disclaimer

Dogma (the movie) is a copyrighted, licensed product. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

Be the first to get your pawn to the Church Gates (End Space).

Dice & Pawns

Each player has one pawn of a unique color. Six sided dice are needed.

Joke Tokens

Players share a common set of Tokens. You may discard a Token to re-roll a dice roll you just made.

Player Roles

One player takes the role of the Last Scion. The other player takes the role of the fallen angels Loki and Bartleby.

Setup

Players start with 1 Token each. Players choose their Roles (Scion or Angels). The Fallen Angels go first.

The Board

The board is a single-lane, winding-track divided into 50 spaces:

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. On your turn roll one six-sided die and move forwards that many spaces.

Joke Spaces

You must make a joke concerning the indicated subject matter. If it is a good joke (somebody, not you, laughs) get a Joke Token. You may discard a Token to re-roll a dice roll you just made.

Good Spaces

If the Scion lands on this space go forward 1D6 spaces. If the Angels land on this space go backwards 1D6 spaces.

Evil Spaces

If the Scion lands on this space go back 1D6 spaces. If the Angels land on this space go forward 1D6 spaces.

Test Spaces

If the Scion lands on this space go back 1D6 spaces. The Angels are unaffected.

Distraction Spaces

If the Angels land on this space go back 1D6 spaces. The Scion is unaffected.

Help Spaces

Any pawn that lands on this space goes forward 1D6 spaces.

Bad Spaces

Any pawn that lands on this space goes back 1D6 spaces.

Combat

If both pawns share the same space there will be combat. Both players roll one die. Low roll moves back 1D6 spaces.

High roll moves forward 1D6 spaces. (Note: players may use Tokens in combat) Reroll Ties.

Dogs Of War

Introduction

Card game for 2-4+ players. Players build teams of Mercenaries (Mercs) and send them on missions.

Objective

The player with the most money at the end of the game wins. Players can keep their money hidden from each other.

Setup

Roll high on 1D6 to determine turn order. Each player starts with $100,000. Shuffle the deck.

Each player is dealt 7 cards.

Money

Use spare change. One penny = $1,000.

End Of Game

The game ends when a player goes to draw a card from the deck, and there are no cards left.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are three types of cards in the deck:

1. Mission Cards
2. Mercenary Cards
3. Action Cards

Mission Cards

Mission cards contain 3 pieces of information:

1. A brief description of the mission.
2. The skill that applies to the mission.
3. The Danger level of the mission: Low, Medium, or High.

Mercenary Cards

These are professional "Character" Mercenaries. Each Mercenary cards contain 3 pieces of information:

1. A brief description of the Mercenary: Name & Nationality
2. The Skills the Mercenary has.
3. The Fee the Mercenary charges to go on a mission.

Unless killed, a mercenary can be used from mission to mission. When not on a mission the merc is kept face up in a 'Base' pile next to the player that controls him.

Skill Types

*Rescue- Hostage Situations *Escort- Transport
*Guard- Protect Set Location *Raid- Search & Destroy *Clear- Take & Hold Territory

Action Cards

Most of these affect combat in some way, others say when and how they are used.

Basic Mercenaries

Use tokens or whatever to represent basic mercs. Basic mercs are relatively unskilled mercs hired on site in the third world countries where the missions take place. Basic mercs cost $5,000 each to recruit one Basic Merc Combat unit.

Each unit may actually represent several soldiers. Basic Mercs stick around for only one mission. After it is over they disband, and the units are discarded.

In combat each unit contributes one combat die and can sustain one casualty before being destroyed.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 phases:

1. Contacts Phase
2. Negotiations Phase
3. Recruitment Phase
4. Insertion Phase
5. Execution Phase
6. Extraction Phase
7. Debriefing Phase

Contacts Phase

The current or active player may draw 1 card. The active player may draw an extra card for $10,000.

Negotiations Phase

The player may choose to conduct a mission. The player plays a mission card from his hand onto the table face up. The player rolls to determine the fee he negotiates: Mission Danger Level Low = 2D6 X $10,000 Mission Danger Level Medium = 4D6 X $10,000 Mission Danger Level High = 6D6 X $10,000 If after the roll is made, the player does not like the roll, he may choose to not take the mission.

If a mission is not taken, another player may take the mission and put it into his hand. If no one wants the mission it is discarded. If more than one other player wants the mission, those players may make a money bid for it.

The bid is secret. Only the winner pays. The bid winner gets the card. The active player may go on only one mission on his turn. If the active player chooses not to take a mission, his turn ends.

Payment is made in Debriefing Phase, if the mission is completed successfully.

Recruitment Phase

The active player assembles his team of mercenaries. There must be at least one Merc minimum. The team can have a maximum of 12 mercenaries: Basic (Standard) and Character (Special).

At least one merc on a team must be a character merc to act as a Leader. Basic Mercs cost $5000 to recruit. Character mercs have their fee written on their card.

The character merc may be from the players hand or 'Base' pile.

Insertion Phase

Roll to determine the number of enemy units present at the mission that must be defeated: Mission Danger Level Low = 1D6 Mission Danger Level Medium = 2D6 Mission Danger Level High = 3D6 Enemy units are similar to Basic merc units. Use tokens or chits to represent Enemy units. Each enemy unit can represent several soldiers, squads, defenses, weapon systems, or vehicles.

One random opponent is chosen to be in control of the enemy units.

Execution Phase

Execution or Combat phase is broken down into turns. During each turn the enemy units (the resistance) roll 2 combat dice (CD). Use six siders (D6) for Combat Dice.

Cardplay allows the resistance to roll additional dice. During each turn every merc unit rolls one combat die each. Some skills allow character mercs to gain extra combat dice rolls.

Combat Action cards may be played for a variety of effects. Each side may play up to 2 action cards per combat turn. Most cards allow a side to gain extra combat dice rolls.

For each DC roll made a result of 6 inflicts one casualty on the other side. A roll of 1-5 has no effect. Mercs inflict casualties before the resistance.

For each casualty inflicted on the enemy discard an enemy unit. For each casualty inflicted on the mercs discard a basic merc unit or a character merc card. Basic mercs become casualties before Character mercs.

Combat ends when one side is completely killed off. At the end of a combat turn the active player may choose to abort the mission. If a mission is aborted the character mercs return to base, and the mission card is discarded.

At the end of execution phase all enemy and basic merc units are discarded. At the end of execution phase all surviving Character mercs return to base. For each level of skill the Merc team has the skill listed on the mission card the merc side gets +1 Combat Dice per combat turn.

Extraction Phase

For each Character merc that became a casualty in mission phase roll 1D6: 1-4 The merc was killed, maimed, or captured. (Discard) 5-6 The merc was wounded, escaped, retreated. (Goes to base pile) Add +1 to the roll if the mercs have Medic skill.

Debriefing Phase

If all enemy units were destroyed and there were surviving Character mercs, the mission is successfully completed, and the player may collect the Mission payment fee. Between turns players may trade cards and money.

Warp Empires Ruleset

Introduction

Generic ruleset for a series of empire building/conquest games.

Map

The map depicts an irregular, interlocked set of territories.

Control Markers

Use chits to represent control markers.

Units

Use chits to represent units. Units include Leaders & non-leader units.

Deck

Players share an action deck. In some games, each player will have their own action deck. The action deck cards allow you to move your units.

Setup

Most Leader units will be in play. Others will be mixed into the unit chit pile. Each player will start with several non-leader units in play.

Starting points of units will be determined by the scenario.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 phases: Draw Phase Move Phase Battle Phase Revenue Phase Recruit Phase Upkeep Phase Control Phase

Draw Phase

First discard any cards you don't want. Each player draws 5 action cards. Max hand size = 7. Discard excess cards.

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Move Phase

Use Action cards to move stacks or units in stacks. A Fast unit can move 1-3 spaces. A Medium speed unit can move 1-2 spaces.

A Slow unit can move 1 space. Units can move into but not through opposing stacks. Fortifications cannot move (Move = 0).

Your opponent can only look at the top unit of your stacks

Battle Phase

When two opposing stacks occupy the same territory there will be a battle. Each unit has a force value. Add up the total Force values for each side.

Players may play action cards to increase their force value. If one stack has a Leader and the other does not, the stack with the leader gets an additional 5 Force. The side with the highest force value wins.

The losing stack must retreat one space. The losing stack loses half of its units. The winner picks the first unit lost, the loser picks the remainder. Fortification units in the losing stack are destroyed automatically.

The winning stack loses units with a force equal to at least half the force total lost by the losing stack. The winner decides which units are lost. Destroyed units are returned to their chit pile. Captured leaders are set aside and not returned to the chit pile.

After a battle both sides replenish their hands to 7 cards.

Revenue Phase

Gain revenue points for every revenue generating territory you control.

Recruit Phase

Draw 5 random units from the unit chit pile. Purchase units. A unit's cost is equal to its Force value. If you purchased all the drawn units, draw another 1D6 random units.

Revenue may be saved from turn to turn. Discard unpurchased units back to your unit chit pile. Units start in any revenue generating territory you control.

Upkeep Phase

Number of Units that automatically receive upkeep = 5 x total Revenue. Discard excess units. Example: You generate 10 revenue points per turn...

You may have up to 50 units.

Control Phase

Place a control marker on every revenue generating territory occupied by one of your units. Only one control marker per space.

Unit Deck Abbreviations

- S Slow
- M Medium speed
- F Fast
- F Force
- F Fortification
- # Number of that unit in the chit pile.

Objective

Be the first player to gain 50+ Doom Points and to have Killed at least 1 Boss.

Death

Lose all your life points and you are out of the game. If only one player remains, he wins. Max life = 25

Points

Use counters to keep track of Doom Points. Use different counters to keep track of Life Points. Use Tokens to keep track of Ammo.

The Deck

The deck has 6 card types:

1. Action Cards (Aid)
2. Weapon Cards (Aid)
3. Equipment Cards (Aid)
4. Location Cards
5. Zombie Cards (Foes)
6. Demon Cards (Foes)

Foes

All Foes (Zombie and Demon cards) have Damage and Strength ratings. They may also have traits that will interact with other cards. The term opponent refers to opposing players.

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Each player starts with 19 + 1D6 Life Points. Each player starts with 2D6 Doom Points.

Turn Sequence

1. Doom Phase
2. Leader Phase
3. Tactics Phase
4. Resolution Phase
5. Damage Phase
6. End Phase

Doom Phase

Lay out 3X cards where X is the number of players. These are the Doom Cards.

Leader Phase

Determine the leader for this phase. The player with the least life is the Leader. If tied for least life, the player with the least Doom Points goes first.

Tactics Phase

Starting with the Leader, and going clockwise, each player picks 1 of the Doom cards layed out in Doom phase. If it is an Aid (action, weapon, equipment) card place it in front of yourself. If it is a Foe (Demon or Zombie) card place it in front of an opponent.

If it is a Location card, place it in front of yourself or an opponent. If a player gets a Location card, he must discard any other Location card he may already have in play. Continue going around until all Doom cards are assigned.

Resolution Phase

Start with the leader and go clockwise. Each location has a Foe limit. The player discards foes in front of him in Excess of the Foe Limit. Discard 1 or more ammo tokens, equipment, and action cards to defeat a Foe with a strength equal to Less than the force of the cards discarded. Note: not all Aid cards have a Force value.

Weapons with no Ammo Tokens are discarded. Gain Doom points equal to the Damage Rating of Defeated foes. Discard defeated foes. You can use a max of 2 Weapons per turn.

Damage Phase

Each Foe in front of you does damage to you equal to its damage rating. (Damage received corresponds to an equal loss of Life Points)

End Phase

At end of turn a player may have a max of 6 Aid cards in front of him. Discard excess. If you did not take damage in Damage phase, heal 2 Life points.

Special Abilities

Some cards can be used (discarded) to produce a special effect. These abilities can be used any time (and if appropriate).

Armor

Whenever you receive damage from a Foe, it is reduced by an amount Equal to your armor level. However, you will always take at least 1 point of damage from an attack. Armor does not protect you from Toxic Damage.

Search Special Ability

To search, divide the deck into 2 stacks. Look through one of the stacks, and take a card of the appropriate type, and place it in front of you. Shuffle the 2 stacks back together.

Soulcube

A soulcube must be used to turn it is picked. When used, or at the end of the turn, shuffle the soulcube card back into the deck. A soulcube token is treated just like a card, but is removed from play if discarded.

Doomsday America

Introduction

Board Game for 2-4+ players. Apocalypse in the USA Theme.

Victory

The player with the most Victory points at the End of the Game wins. The Game ends at the end of any turn 2+ regions contain no Population Tokens.

Population Tokens

Each player starts with a set of population Tokens of a unique color.

The Board

The Board is a map of the Continental United States divided into a 3x3 grid. The 9 individual spaces are called Regions. There are 3 rows and 3 Columns.

Rows and Columns are collectively referred to as Zones. The top row is called the North Zone The middle row is called the Temperate Zone The bottom row is called the South Zone The right column is called the Atlantic Zone The middle column is called the Central Zone The left column is called the Pacific Zone The Pacific and Atlantic Zones are both Coastal Zones West refers to both the Central & Pacific Zones East refers to both the Central & Atlantic Zones

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are 2 types of cards: Disaster cards and Mitigation cards. There is also a Geopolitical Factor Expansion Available (See Links).

Dice

Six sided Dice are needed.

Setup

Each player starts with 6 Tokens in each of the 9 Regions of the Board. Each player is dealt 2 cards. Players roll high on 1D6 to see who goes first.

Play proceeds clockwise.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases: Population Phase Disaster Phase Score Phase Card Phase

Population Phase

You may take 1D6 of the following 6 actions:

1. Migrate: Move up to 1D6 of your population Tokens from any Regions to any Regions.
2. Transfer: Switch places of 1D6 of your Tokens and an opponent's in adjacent Regions.
3. Growth: Gain 1D6 Tokens in any Regions you already occupy.
4. Lure: Move 1D6 Opponent's Tokens to any Regions.
5. St Happens: Draw 1D6 cards from the deck and put them in your hand.
6. Look Outs: Look at the Hands of all other players. Steal 1 card from one of them.

You cannot pick the same action more than once per turn.

Disaster Phase

You may play up to 1D6 Disaster cards. Each Disaster card has a Region or Zone it targets. Each Disaster card has a Severity Rating.

The targeted region must lose a number of Tokens equal to the Severity of the Disaster card played. The player who played the disaster card chooses which Tokens are affected. The targeted tokens are removed from the board.

Any other player may play an appropriate Mitigation card to decrease the Severity of the Disaster card. Played Disaster & Mitigation cards are discarded. Note: a Mitigation card will only mitigate damage (casualties) in one Region.

Score Phase

The player with the most Tokens in a Region is said to dominate that Region. If there is a tie in a Region, the Region is said to be contested. You may choose on your turn in this Phase whether to Score or not.

If you choose to score, all players score: Each player gains 1 Victory Point for each region they dominate. No one scores points in contested regions. Use Coins to keep track of Victory Points.

Card Phase

Max hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Doubloons & Dragoons

Introduction

Players take the role of Merchant Princes in control of their own city state. Thru conquest and trade they try to outdo their opponents in the quest for Gold & Glory.

Materials

Gold Coins Map
Dice 20, 10, and 6 siders

Terrain

NAME	MOV	DEF	TYPE
Clear	1	—	Plains or terrain containing roads and bridges
Rough	2	+1	Forests, Hills
Difficult	2	+1	Mountains, Swamps; Cavalry use all 4 move points to enter
Treacherous	—	—	Mountain Peaks; Cannot be entered
Water	(1)	—	Rivers, Oceans, Lakes; Can only be used by ships
Reefs	(2)	—	Can only be used by ships
Cities	1	+1	Any unit except cannons in a city hex become Garrison units
	—	—	while there

Gaining Control Of Neutral Cities

Neutral cities will have a garrison of 1D6 militia units. Players can gain control of neutral cities by diplomacy or military occupation. All current trade routes to the city cease to exist. New ones may be established.

Set Up

Each player starts with a Home City, 20 gold, and 3 Militia.

Paper and pencil Chits to represent units. Each player requires chits of a different color.

Object

Conquer all Cities on the map.

The Map

The hex map should contain about 25 cities, many with ocean access.

Round Sequence

1-Event Phase 2-Bid for the Favor of the Church
3-Trading Session 4-Roll for turn order 5-Players take their main turns

Events

One player rolls 1D6

D6	Results
1	Black Plague- Random City generates no income this or next turn. Units present are destroyed on a roll of 1-2 on D6.
2	Surplus- One random trade good produces no trade income this and next turn.
3	Scarcity- One random trade good produces double trade income this and next turn.
4	Revolution- One random non-home city and its units become independent.
5	Renaissance Master- One random city produces +1 Gold in taxes for the rest of the game.
6	Fortification- One random city gains 1 Militia unit.

2-bid For The Favor Of The Church

Players make secret bids for for the favor of the church. Bids are revealed simultaneously. All gold bid is considered spent. The highest bid wins. The favor may be used this turn to:

- Make one diplomacy attempt automatically suc-

- cesful
- Target stack cannot move or initiate an attack
- Target city may not be attacked
- Recruit an extra unit in target city
- Negate a spy mission
- Target opponent controlled Non Home City with

- no garrison (or militia only) becomes neutral
- Win turn order roll
- Get +1D6 to next rounds bid In case of ties, no one gets the Favor.

3-trading Session

Players may trade gold, units, cities, promises, or anything of value.

4-roll For Turn Order

Roll D10. High roll takes their Main Turn first.

5-main Turn Sequence

There are 9 phases in the main turn sequence:

1. Upkeep
2. Taxation Revenue
3. Trade Revenue Phase
4. Production
5. Spy Missions
6. Movement
7. Battle

8. Establish Trade routes
9. Diplomacy Attempts

1-upkeep

Pay 1 gold per 5 units you control. Units whose upkeep is not paid are immediately disbanded. Players may save gold from round to round.

2-taxation

Gain 1 gold for each city you control & 3 gold from your Home city.

3-trade Revenue

Gain 1 gold per established trade route. Each City produces 3 trade goods and demands 3 trade goods. Roll D20 on the Trade Goods Table to determine goods produced and goods demanded.

Double results are allowed.

Trade Goods Table

D20 Goods:

1	Silk

5-spy Missions

Roll 1D6 for every Gold you spend. On a roll of 1 on 1D6 roll on the following table:

D10	MISSION SUCCESS
1	Assassinate: Destroy target Leader.
2	Set Fire: Destroy target ship adjacent to land.
3	Banditry: Destroy target caravan & gain 1D6 Gold.
4	Piracy: Destroy target caravel & gain 1D6 Gold.
5	Sabotage: Target stack cannot move or initiate an attack or action this and next turn.
6	Bribery: Buy opponents stack not in home city: Pay cost of all units.
7	Start Revolt: Target opponent's Non-Home City with no garrison (or militia only) becomes neutral
8	Thievery: Opponent loses and you gain 1D6 Gold.
9	Arson: Target Non-Home City produces no income and cannot recruit this turn or next turn
10	-Pick Mission Result.

Agents negate a Spy mission targeting the Hex they occupy on a roll of 1-2 on D6.

Stacking

Any number of units may occupy a single Hex.

6-movement

Rough & difficult terrain cost 2 moves to enter. Units cannot enter a hex occupied by enemy units unless the enemy units are all Leaders. Military units automatically capture (destroy) enemy leaders in the same Hex

7-battle Sequence

One stack of units may attack an adjacent stack of units. Stacks may combine their attacks. Militia and stacks without an officer may not initiate attacks.

Any unit may be attacked. The exception is non-missile troops may not attack ships. Merchant and Leader units do not get attack dice. Both attacking and defending units make attack rolls in the following order:

1. Cannons attack
2. Ships attack
3. Garrisons attack
4. Musketeers attack

5. Dragoons attack
6. Pikemen attack
7. Lancers attack

Units of the same type from both sides roll their attack dice simultaneously. Targets are declared before attack dice are rolled. An attack will destroy a target unit on a roll of 4-6 on 1D6 If the attacker is +1 against the target, add this to the attack roll.

An attacker is -1 on his roll if the target unit is in a terrain that has a Defense value = +1 Attacks by musketeers and dragoons vs Ships are at -2 Cannons cannot move & initiate attacks in the same turn.

8-establishing Trade Routes

Routes between cities you control are established automatically. Routes can be established automatically with friendly empires. Merchant units originating from a supply city you control may establish a trade route with a neutral demand city by entering it.

One Supply will satisfy one demand. Each Trade route will result in a revenue of 1 gold per turn.

9-diplomacy

If a diplomat occupies a neutral city pay 1 gold to make a Diplomacy attempt. On a roll of 1 on 1D6 gain control of the city and its garrison. Only one Diplomacy attempt per city per turn.

Players take the role of Renegade Time Lords working for the Celestial Intervention Agency. Players must work cooperatively to foil the plots of Temporal Marauders. The goals of Temporal Marauders are the destruction or conquest of Gallifrey, Nexus point Earth, or the Universe.

Time Lords

Each player is a Gallifreyan Time Lord (Like Dr Who). Time Lords are also referred to as Field Agents. Each Time Lord has 9 lives, a particularity of Gallifreyan biology.

If a Time Lord loses all 9 of his lives, he is out of the game.

The Decks

There are two decks in the game: The Time Lord Deck, and the Temporal Marauder Deck. All players share both decks.

Temporal Marauder Deck

There are two types of cards in the Temporal Marauder Deck: Marauders, and Plot Twists. Plot Twists add to the Power of a Marauder card placed on top of them.

Dice & Counters

Ten sided dice are required. Counters are used as 'plot tokens' and to keep track of lives.

Winning The Game

If the players go completely through the Temporal Marauder Deck and defeat all the Marauders, they share a combined win. The player with the most lives + cards in his Victory pile is the first place winner. The next is the second place winner, and so on.

Losing The Game

If any Marauder Card ever gets 4 plot tokens on it, the time line is irreversibly disrupted, resulting in universal disaster. Time and Space unravel. All players lose. Game over.

Turn Sequence

Each turn has 4 phases:

1. Aid Phase

2. Marauder Phase
3. Mission Phase
4. Plot Phase

Aid Phase

Each player draws 3 cards from the Time Lord Deck. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard pile and draw from it. A player may discard 2 cards to draw 1 card.

Players may trade cards. Max hand size = 9. Discard excess cards.

Marauder Phase

Draw one card from the Temporal Marauder Deck for each Time Lord. Place these cards face up in the center of the Table. If any of the cards are Plot Twist Cards, draw another Temporal Marauder card and place it on top.

Continue until all Plot Twists are covered by a Marauder card. All of these cards are considered to be in play.

Mission Phase

Each player gets one Action Segment in Mission Phase. Players roll high on 1D10 to determine Segment order. A player may use his action segment to draw 3 cards.

A player may use his action segment to attempt to defeat any one Marauder in play (A Mission). Resolve the attempt as follows: The Time Lord and the Marauder must determine and compare their respective Power Totals. To get a Power Total, each side rolls 1D10. These are the Power Rolls.

The Time Lord may discard cards from his hand to add their Power to his Power Total. If the Time Lord rolled a 10, he may add another 1D10 to his Total. The Marauder adds its inherent power to the roll.

The Marauder adds the power of all its Plot Twists to its Total. Compare the Power Totals. Higher Total wins. If the Marauder won, the Time Lord loses one life, and the Marauder remains in play.

If the Time Lord wins, he lives, and puts the Marauder card and its Plot Twists into his Victory Pile. If it is a tie, the Time Lord is not killed, and the Marauder remains in play. If the Time Lord won, he gets an extra action segment that can be used this phase only to attempt to defeat another Marauder in play.

A Time lord can only get one extra action segment per turn this way.

Cooperative Missions

Players may cooperate and go on a mission jointly. Each Time Lord that goes uses up an action segment. Additional Time Lords may use cards and add 1D10 each to the Power Total of the First.

If they succeed no one gets any extra action segments. Roll high on 1D10 to see which Time Lord gets to put the cards into his Victory pile. If they fail, they all lose a life.

Plot Phase

Place one Plot Token on each Marauder card in play.

Warp Empires Ruleset

Introduction

Generic ruleset for a series of empire building/conquest games.

Map

The map depicts an irregular, interlocked set of territories.

Control Markers

Use chits to represent control markers.

Units

Use chits to represent units. Units include Leaders & non-leader units.

Deck

Players share an action deck. In some games, each player will have their own action deck. The action deck cards allow you to move your units.

Setup

Most Leader units will be in play. Others will be mixed into the unit chit pile. Each player will start with several non-leader units in play.

Starting points of units will be determined by the scenario.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 7 phases: Draw Phase Move Phase Battle Phase Revenue Phase Recruit Phase Upkeep Phase Control Phase

Draw Phase

First discard any cards you don't want. Each player draws 5 action cards. Max hand size = 7. Discard excess cards.

If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Move Phase

Use Action cards to move stacks or units in stacks. A Fast unit can move 1-3 spaces. A Medium speed unit can move 1-2 spaces.

A Slow unit can move 1 space. Units can move into but not through opposing stacks. Fortifications cannot move (Move = 0).

Your opponent can only look at the top unit of your stacks

Battle Phase

When two opposing stacks occupy the same territory there will be a battle. Each unit has a force value. Add up the total Force values for each side.

Players may play action cards to increase their force value. If one stack has a Leader and the other does not, the stack with the leader gets an additional 5 Force. The side with the highest force value wins.

The losing stack must retreat one space. The losing stack loses half of its units. The winner picks the first unit lost, the loser picks the remainder. Fortification units in the losing stack are destroyed automatically.

The winning stack loses units with a force equal to at least half the force total lost by the losing stack. The winner decides which units are lost. Destroyed units are returned to their chit pile. Captured leaders are set aside and not returned to the chit pile.

After a battle both sides replenish their hands to 7 cards.

Revenue Phase

Gain revenue points for every revenue generating territory you control.

Recruit Phase

Draw 5 random units from the unit chit pile. Purchase units. A units cost is equal to its Force value. If you purchased all the drawn units, draw another 1D6 random units.

Revenue may be saved from turn to turn. Discard unpurchased units back to your unit chit pile. Units start in any revenue generating territory you control.

Upkeep Phase

Number of Units that automatically receive upkeep = 5 x total Revenue. Discard excess units. Example: You generate 10 revenue points per turn...

You may have up to 50 units.

Control Phase

Place a control marker on every revenue generating territory occupied by one of your units. Only one control marker per space.

Unit Deck Abbreviations

- S Slow
- M Medium speed
- F Fast
- F Force
- F Fortification
- # Number of that unit in the chit pile.

Draculas Castle

Introduction

Board game for 2+ players. One side is Dracula and his minions. The other side is the Vampire Hunter and his assistants.

Action takes place inside Castle Dracula.

Victory

Completely eliminate all of your opponent's pawns.

The Board

The board is a map of the interior of Castle Dracula. All rooms are named. Clearly depict connections between rooms.

Each room is connected to 1-4+ other rooms. Rooms found in the Castle include: The Masters Chambers The Laboratory The Torture Chamber The Privy The Crypt The Grand Entrance The Grand Staircase The Courtyard The Bat Cave The Menagerie The Library The Wash Room The Coffin Room The Dungeon

The Dissecting Room The Antechamber The Study The Greenhouse The Servants Chambers The Balcony The Kitchen The Unused Chapel The Wine Cellar The Labyrinth The Grand Hall The Waiting Room The Observatory The Cell The Bedroom The Parlor The Ball Room

The Vampires

Use a black king to represent Dracula. Use 3 black pawns to represent the Lesser Vampires.

The Hunters

Use a white king to represent the Vampire Hunter. Use 4 white pawns to represent the Assistants.

The Decks

Each player has his own deck. Each deck contains 4 of each card listed.

The Vampire Deck Card List

Cards:	Effect:
Gaseous Form	Defense
Bat Form	Defense
Wolf Form	Attack
Suck Blood	Attack
Claws	Attack

Cards:	Effect:
Mesmerize	Attack
Regeneration	Defense

Garlic	Defense
Holy Water	Attack
Cross	Defense
Faith	Defense
Wooden Stake	Attack

Cards:	Effect:
Fire	Attack
Mirror	Defense
Salvation	Control
Firearms	Attack
Hunting	Move

Setup

The Hunters pawns start in the Grand Entrance. The Vampires pawns start in the Masters Chambers.

Turn Sequence

Players go simultaneously. Each turn has 5 phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Write Orders Phase
3. Move Phase

4. Attack Phase
5. Discard Phase

Draw Phase

Each player draws 3 cards from his deck. If the deck runs out shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Write Orders Phase

Players write down secretly how they want their pawns to move. A pawn can be moved into an adjacent room. A pawn can move twice if the player has a Move Card.

Move Phase

Orders are revealed and the pawns are moved. Any Move Cards used are discarded.

Attack Phase

If opposing pawns occupy the same room they may attack each other. To attack, discard an Attack card. This causes one Wound. Alternatively the attacker may discard a control card.

The defender may discard a Defense card to negate one attack or control card. All attacks are simultaneous. A control card cannot be played against Dracula or the Primary Vampire Hunter.

A non-negated control card causes the color of the defending pawn to be switched.

Hits

Dracula can take 3 wounds before being destroyed. The Vampire Hunter can take 2 wounds before being destroyed. All other pawns are destroyed with a single wound.

Discard Phase

Discard your hand.

Dragon Ball Z Matchups

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Dragon Ball Z Theme.

Disclaimer

Dragon Ball Z is a copyrighted, licensed property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

You win if, at the beginning of your turn, you control Six Fighters or Your Opponent has zero Fighters.

Dice

Six sided deice are needed.

The Deck

Players share a common Deck. There are 6 Types of Cards:

- F Fighter
- B Buff
- T Transport
- M Manipulation
- R Recovery
- X Extra

Setup

Shuffle the deck. Each player is dealt cards face up until he has 4 Fighters. These will be that players starting Fighters.

Discard all non-Fighter cards. After starting Fighters are assembled, each player Is dealt a regular hand of 4 cards The player with the weaker set of starting Fighters goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 5 Phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Recruit Phase
3. Match Up Phase
4. Fight Phase
5. End Phase

Draw Phase

Draw 3 Cards and add them to your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it. You may play (discard) a Recovery Card to search for a Fighter in the Discard and put it in your hand.

You may play (discard) an Extra card to draw 2 additional cards

Recruit Phase

Put 1 Fighter card from your hand into play. Your Fighter's in play are placed in a line, face-up, in front of you, on the table. You may have a maximum of 6 fighters in play.

If you already have 6 fighters in play, you may replace 1 with A fighter in your hand. Put the replaced fighter card back into your hand.

Match Up Phase

One of your random Fighters will fight one random Opponent's Fighter. Use the 6 sided dice to randomly determine which Fighters. You may play (discard) a Transport card to pick your Fighter instead of Rolling randomly.

You may play (discard) a Manipulation card to pick your Opponent's Fighter instead of them Rolling randomly.

Fight Phase

The 2 randomly selected Fighters Fight. The Fighter with the higher Battle Total Wins. The Battle Total is equal to the sum of 3 Parts:

1. The Fighters Level
2. The Total of all Buff cards the Fighter's owner plays from his hand
3. The Roll of one six sided die (Battle Roll)

Before the dice are rolled, each player simultaneously may reveal any Number of Buff cards from their hand to add their bonuses to the Battle Total. If the Battle Totals are a Tie, each player rolls another Die as a tie-breaker. The losing Fighter is Discarded.

End Phase

Max hand size is 4 cards. Discard excess cards.

Card List Notes

Training: Can only be used on Saiyans, Namekians, and Humans. Stun: Opponent must make Battleroll Twice and pick lower roll. Speed: Make Battleroll twice and pick higher roll.

Evade: Opponent must discard 1 random Buff card he played. Strategy: Draw 1 Card. If it is a Buff, you may play it. Save: If this Fighter is defeated put him back in your hand.

Dragon Checkers

Introduction

Chinese Checkers Variant using cards!!!

Preface

You must first know how to play Chinese Checkers. A Chinese Checkers Set is required.

Victory

Same as in regular Chinese Checkers. Get all your pegs to the opposite corner first.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are 3 card types: Move Cards, Destiny Cards, and Special Cards. The cardset has 2 copies of each card in the card list.

Move cards are used to make one or more pegs move in a way they don't normally move. Destiny cards affect other cards, your hand, the deck, or your opponent's hand. Special cards have unique timing issues or highly variable effects.

Terminolgy

Peg - Synonym for Pawn, Man, Piece, Counter, Marble, Checker. Move - This can be a regular move or a card move. Regular Move - Either moving 1 space or Jumping as in the regular rules.

Walk - Moving 1 space (not jumping) as in the regular rules once. Card Move - Playing a Move card and moving a peg according to its directions. Route - All the Moves (Walks, jumps, and otherwise) a Peg makes during a single turn.

Jump - In card text the term Jump always allows for multiple jumps if possible.

Common Deck Card List

Card Name:	Type	Notes:
Way of the Rat	M	Peg may Jump and then Walk
Way of the Ox	M	Walk one Peg Twice
Way of the Tiger	M	Peg may Walk once and then Jump
Way of the Rabbit	M	2 Pegs may Jump
Way of the Dragon	M	Peg may Jump, then Walk, then Jump again
Way of the Snake	M	Switch places of any 2 Pegs
Way of the Horse	M	Peg may Walk, then Jump, then Walk again
Way of the Sheep	M	Walk Opponent's Peg
Way of the Monkey	M	Walk Opponent's Peg and Jump with your Peg

Setup

Each player is dealt a hand of 3 cards. The loser of the previous game goes first.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 4 Phases: Fate Phase Destiny Phase Journey Phase Destination Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 1 card from the deck and add it to your hand. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Destiny Phase

You may play (discard) a Destiny card from your hand.

Journey Phase

You may make a Regular move or play (discard) a Move card. Move cards break the regular game rules of movement.

Destination Phase

Max hand size is 5 cards. Discard excess cards.

Card List Notation

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

Game End

The game ends when there are no cards left in the deck and everyone passes their turn without capturing a Foe card.

Victory

The player with the highest Force total in his Victory pile wins the game.

Setup

Everyone gathers at the Inn of the Last Home. Shuffle the deck. Player who has read the most Dragon Lance books goes first.

Dragon Poker

Introduction

Card game. Players use cards to construct a dragon and provide it with treasure.

The Cards

The deck contains 68 cards: 2 White Heads, 2 White Bodies, 2 White Tails, 2 White Wings, 2 Green Heads, 2 Green Bodies, 2 Green Tails, 2 Green Wings, 2 Black Heads, 2 Black Bodies, 2 Black Tails, 2 Black Wings, 2 Blue Heads, 2 Blue Bodies, 2 Blue Tails, 2 Blue Wings, 2 Red Heads, 2 Red Bodies, 2 Red Tails, 2 Red Wings, 2 Gold Heads, 2 Gold Bodies, 2 Gold Tails, 2 Gold Wings, 4 Dragon Slayers, 2 Maidens, 8 Gold Treasures, 4 Gem Treasures, 2 Dragon Eggs.

Turn Sequence

1. Shuffle deck.
2. One player is chosen as the dealer (Dragon Master).
3. Players ante in.

COMBO	POINTS
Serpent (Head & Tail)	1
Beast (Head & Body)	1
2 Serpents or 2 Beasts (Bookends)	2
Winged Serpent (No Body)	2
Tailless Dragon (No Tail)	2
Wingless Dragon (No Wings)	2
Bastard Dragon (2 or 3 Colors)	3
Wyrm (No body & 2 Tails)	3

Treasure

If a player has one of the combos above, he can earn extra points if his hand contains treasure cards:

TREASURE	POINTS
Gold Treasure	1 per 2 cards
Gem Treasure	1 per card
Maiden	2 (one card max)
Dragon Eggs	1 per card if not used as a body part

Variants

Use 5 card hand size instead of 7 cards. Play it like Gin Rummy instead of Poker. Add more combos (Example: The two headed serpent).

4. The Dragon Master deals out 7 cards to each player Cards are dealt face down unless house rules state otherwise. Play starts with the player to the DM's left and proceeds clockwise
5. In turn each player may discard up to 6 cards and receive replacement cards.
6. Players may now, in turn, raise the ante (Dragon Rage). Other players must match the raise or drop out.
7. In turn, If a player has a Dragon Slayer he must discard it to cause his opponent to discard a random card from his hand.
8. Players reveal their hands. The hand worth the most points wins. If tied, players split the pot (Dragon Council).

Combinations

Heads, bodies, tails, and wings are used to construct Dragons. Dragon eggs are wild cards and can be used as any color body part.

COMBO	POINTS
Chromatic Dragon (4 Colors)	4
White Dragon	5
Green Dragon	6
Black Dragon	7
Blue Dragon	8
Red Dragon	9
Gold Dragon	10
Hydra (6 Heads & 1 Body)	12

Dragon Slayers

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. One player takes the role of the Dragon The other player takes the role of the Slayer (The adventuring party trying to slay the dragon)

The Decks

There are 2 decks: The Dragon Deck The Slayer Deck

Dice & Implements

Six-sided dice are needed. Pen & paper are needed.

Victory

If the Dragon is reduced to 0 or less Hit Points the Slayers win. If all party members are killed, the Dragon wins.

Hit Points

The Dragon has 10 hit points. Party Members (Slayers: Heroes & Men-at-Arms) have 1 hit point each. Each unblocked attack by the Dragon will kill one party member.

Unblocked attacks by Slayers cause 1 or more hit points of damage to the Dragon.

Party Generation

The Slayer rolls 8 times on the Recruitment table: The Slayer records on a piece of paper the composition of the party. Artifacts must be assigned to a hero that can use the artifact.

Recruitment Table

1D6	Recruit:	Notes:
1	Wizard	Hero, Spell Attacks only
2	Warrior	Hero, Sword Attacks only (that do +1 Damage)
3	Archer	Hero, Arrow Attacks only
4	Artifact	Roll on the Artifact Table
5	2 Men-at-Arms	Sword Attacks only
6	Pick one

Artifact Table

1D6	Recruit:	Notes:
1	Magic Sword	Sword Attacks do +1 Damage
2	Magic Arrows	Arrow Attacks do +1 Damage (Can be used 3 times)
3	Magic Staff	Spell Attacks do +1 Damage
4	Magic Potion	Bring back killed Hero (Can be used 2 times) in Draw Phase
5	Magic Armor	Attacks against Warrior negated on a roll of 1-4 on 1D6
6	Magic Scrolls	Make a Spell atk w/o discarding a Spell Attk card (Use 3 times)

Note: the Scroll attack is a 1 point attack. If the owner of an artifact is killed another hero that can use it gets it in Draw Phase.

Turn Sequence

The turn is divided into 3 Phases:

1. Draw Phase
2. Slayer Phase
3. Dragon Phase

Draw Phase

The Slayer player draws 3 cards from the Slayer Deck. The Dragon player draws 3 cards from the Dragon Deck. If a deck runs out shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Maximum hand size is 7 cards. Discard excess cards.

Slayer Phase

The party may attack the Dragon. To make an attack, an attack card must be discarded from the players hand. The party may make multiple attacks.

There must also be one party member alive who can make the attack. For example: To make a spell attack the party must have at least one Wizard. Both Warriors & Men-at-Arms may make Sword Attacks.

A party member may make only one attack per turn. For example: If you have 2 Wizards you could make 2 spell attacks per turn. Each attack does a base of 1 point of damage to the Dragon.

Some cards indicate they do a base 2 points of damage. Warriors inflict an additional point of damage when they attack. Some artifacts increase the amount of damage done by an attack.

The Dragon player may block an attack by discarding a Blocking Card that targets the attack type. For example: The Dragon player may discard a 'Magic Resistance' card to negate a spell attack.

Dragon Phase

The Dragon may attack the party. To make an attack, an attack card must be discarded from the players hand. The Dragon may make multiple attacks.

The Dragon may only use one attack type once per turn. For example: The Dragon may not make 2 Firebreath attacks in one turn. The Dragon may only use one body part to make one attack type once per turn.

For example: The Bite and Firebreath attacks are both 'Mouth' attacks so only one may be used. The Slayer player may block an attack by discarding a Blocking Card that matches the target type. For example: The Slayer may discard a 'Shield' card to negate an attack vs a Warrior or a Man-at-Arms.

Each attack targets one party member. Dragons must attack Men-at-Arms first. After all the Men-at-Arms are killed the Dragon may attack Warriors next.

After all the Warriors are killed the Dragon may attack Archers & Wizards.

Dredd

Introduction

Card game for 2+ players. Based on the comic series Judge Dredd.

Disclaimer

Judge Dredd is a copyrighted, licensed property. This is merely a fan site.

Victory

Be the first player to accumulate 100 Prestige Points (PP) PP are gained by apprehending Criminals.

The Decks

Players share 3 common decks: Judge Deck Criminal Deck Event Deck Each deck has its own discard. A player will keep cards from all 3 decks in his hand.

Dice

20-sided dice are needed. (D20)

Teams

Each player controls a team of up to 4 Characters. Most characters will be Judges.

Stats

Each Character will have 2 Stats: Fight & Investigate. A Stat will usually have a value between 0 and 4. Characters will also have one or more Traits such as: Judge, Psychic, Alien, etc.

Setup

The toughest player goes first. Each player draws 4 cards from the top of the Judge deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 6 phases:

1. Logistics Phase
2. Recruit Phase
3. Assignment Phase
4. Investigation Phase
5. Apprehend Phase
6. Debriefing Phase

Logistics Phase

Roll once on the Draw Table.

1D20:	Result:
1-3	Draw top card from the Judge Deck
4-12	Draw top card from the Event Deck
13-18	Draw top card from the Criminal Deck
19-20	Draw top card from the Deck of your Choice

If a deck runs out, shuffle the discard & draw from it. A player will keep cards from all 3 decks in his hand.

Recruit Phase

Take Characters from your hand and put them into play. Your Characters in play are placed face up in front of you. Characters remain in play until they are wounded/killed in Apprehend phase or some card effect causes them to be discarded.

You may have a max of 4 characters in play. You may switch one of your characters in play with one in your hand

Assignment Phase

You may put one Criminal card into play from your hand.

Investigation Phase

Your Team may attempt to track down any one target criminal in play. (The whole process is referred to as a Mission) Roll 1D20. This is the Investigation Roll. Add the Total Investigation Stats of all of your Characters.

Subtract the Investigation number of the Criminal. Add 1 if the Team investigated this Criminal last turn. Both Players may play (discard) Event cards that modify the Investigation Roll.

If the Roll is 11+ the Team tracks down the Criminal. If the team rolled 10 or less, they could not find the criminal.

Apprehend Phase

If your team tracked down a criminal last phase they may now attempt to Apprehend (Capture/Kill) the Criminal. Roll 1D20. This is the Fight Roll. Add the Total Fight Stats of all of your Characters.

Subtract the Fight number of the Criminal. Both Players may play (discard) Event cards that modify the Fight Roll. If the Roll is 11+ the Team successfully captures the Criminal.

If the team rolled 10 or less, the Criminal gets away and You must discard one of your Characters. A Criminal that gets away remains in play. Put a captured criminal card into your Capture pile.

Debriefing Phase

The PP of a captured Criminal card = Fight + Investigation values. Max hand size is 8 cards. Discard excess cards to their appropriate discard pile.

Drop Troops

Introduction

Futuristic Tactical Miniatures Ruleset. Each player controls a squad of heavily armed Drop Troopers (Space Marines).

Play Balance

One player creates the scenario. The other player choses which side he wants.

Victory

When a scenario objective is completed or one side routs or is wiped out. The loser has to buy the winner a fig.

Scales

1 Figure = 1 Man. 1 Turn = 5 Seconds 1 Inch = 5 Meters

Miniatures

For use with typical Space Marine pewter and plastic figs. Individual miniatures are also referred to as units, men, troopers, and figs.

Dice

Four, six, eight, ten, etc. sided dice are needed.

Squad Creation

A typical squad will have 2D6 or 3D6 men.

Unit Stats & Unit Creation

Each unit will have its own set of stats that have to be recorded. Each basic Marine begins with:

1. One main Weapon System
2. One Pistol
3. 1D6 Grenades
4. One Mark 5 Power Armor Battle Suit

Power Suits have 5 built in Systems. Roll on the Power Suit System Table for each Marine. Squad Leaders and Officers will always have a Command Module.

A marine can only have a heavy weapon if he has a Carry stat of +1 or greater.

The stat bonuses for Jet packs apply only while the unit is flying. The first level of Jet pack give Move = 15. Every additional level is Move +5. Built in weapons can be fired along with held weapons at the same target. The Stim Injector can be used once per battle. After it wears off the unit is Dodge -1, Initiative -1, Move -1.

Light Vehicle	+6
Medium Vehicle	+8
Heavy Vehicle	+10

Only Power Armor and Assault Armor have Basic and Advanced Suit systems. Some custom and experimental suits have more than 5 systems. Older models have fewer systems.

Standard Systems

In addition to Basic and Advanced Suit systems each suit of Power armor has: Onboard Computers, Communications equipment, Air-tight Life Support systems, Power & Fuel systems, a basic exoskeleton, etc.

Additional Equipment

Explosives Communications equipment Medical devices: Healing Bonuses Mine Sweeper: Detect +5 Engineering tools: Repair bonuses Land Mines (Damage +3, Conceal +3, AOA = 1') Scientific gear: Detection Bonuses

Turn Sequence

The turn has 3 phases:

1. Initiative Phase
2. Action Phase
3. Morale Phase

Initiative Phase

Both Players roll 1D10. This is the Initiative roll. The smaller force gets +2 to the roll. The side with the

Target airborne	Detect +5
Target attacked recently	Detect +1-2
Target stationary	Conceal +1
Target behind cover	Conceal +1-2

Attacks

The attacker rolls 1D10. This is the attack roll. The attacker adds his Accuracy skill bonuses. The target subtracts his Dodge skill bonuses.

If the roll is equal to or greater than 1D10 the target has been hit. Other Modifications:

most initiative bonuses gets +3 to the roll.

The side with the lower score must move his units first in Action Phase.

Action Phase

Every unit gets one Action Point (AP). An AP can be used to do the following things:

1. Attack at Accuracy +1
2. Move and Attack
3. Move at double speed (Move +5)
4. Move and Find Cover (Conceal +1)
5. Move and Evade (Dodge +1)
6. Forward Observer: Call in coordinates to Indirect Fire Weapon Systems
7. All other Actions: Healing, repairing, etc.

The basic Movement rate for all infantry units is 5 Inches/turn. A unit may make its attack at any time during a round: Beginning, end, during other units moves, etc. All attacks are considered to be simultaneous: Every unit can get an attack in.

Detection

If there is any possibility the attacker may not be able to see or detect his target roll 1D10. This is the detection roll. A unit may make one detection roll per turn without losing his action point. The Attacker adds his Detect skill bonuses.

The target subtracts his Conceal skill bonuses. If the roll is equal to or greater than 1D10 the attacker may attack the target. Other Modifications:

Target airborne	Detect +5
Target prone or kneeling	Conceal +1-2
Target at range of 40+	Conceal +1-2

Target behind cover	Accuracy -1-3
Target prone or kneeling	Accuracy -1-2
Target at over half range	Accuracy -1-4

Ammo

After making an attack a unit must roll 1D6. This is the Ammo Roll. If the number is equal to or less than the Ammo stat of the weapon, the trooper must spend an action point to reload or recharge the weapon. The weapon cannot be used again until then.

1-2 Suit Damaged only. (Suit is damaged on all of the following:)

3-4 Unit Wounded: May keep fighting if he receives medical care.

5-6 Unit Incapacitated: May be used in later battles if he receives medical care.

7-8 Unit Killed: May be revived to Incapacitated status if he receives medical care in 1D6 turns.

A damaged suit is Move -2, Accuracy -1, Carry -1, Dodge -2, Armor -1

Medical Care

Requires a unit with a Medtech Kit or other medical equipment. Requires an Action Point be used. Medical attention successful on a roll of 6-10 on 1D10.

Only two field attempts may be made to revive a dead trooper. Extra skill levels in Medical give +1 to the roll.

Repairs

Repair suits, weapons, vehicles etc. Requires a unit with Engineering Module or other tools. Requires an Action Point be used.

Penetration & Damage

If an attack hits roll 1D10. This is the Penetration Roll. The attacker adds his Damage bonuses. The target subtracts his Armor bonuses.

Add 2 to the roll if the target has no armor. If the roll is equal to or greater than 1D10 the target has been damaged. If damage was inflicted Roll 1D8. This is the Damage Roll:

Repairs successful on a roll of 6-10 on 1D10. Only three field attempts may be made to repair a piece of equipment. Extra skill levels in Engineering give +1 to the roll.

Morale Phase

The entire squad tests morale under the following circumstances: Suffered $\frac{1}{2}$ casualties. Outnumbered x2 or greater. Lost a Commander.

No commanders left. Roll 1D10. this is the morale test. Subtract one from the roll for every condition listed above On a roll of 2 or less the squad routs.

6	Fear Projection	Opponent unit in LOS routs for 1D3 turns. 1D6 times per battle

Neohuman Races

Evolved Neohumans- Have 1D3 rolls on the skill table. Highly intelligent. Replace physical skills with mental ones. Pacifistic.

Transhuman Supersoldiers- Have 1D3 rolls on the skill table. Highly aggressive. No Psionics. Superiority complex.

Bioconstructs- Have 1D6 rolls on the skill table. Huge. No Psionics. Also called Anthro-synthetics.

Bioroids- Have 1D6 rolls on the skill table. Can pass for human. Short lifespans. Also called replicants. Replace mental skills with physical ones. Natural Armor +1D6.

Clones- Same as Humans. Often have identity issues.

Mutants- Have 1D6 positive rolls and 1D6 negative rolls on the skill table. Usually Disfigured. Also called Distorts.

Androids- Have 2D6 rolls on the skill table. No Psionics. Very Expensive. Can pass for Human.

Robots- Have 2D6 rolls on the basic suit system table.

Heavy Worlders- Carry +1, HTH Damage +1, Move -1. Very Short.

Spacers- Accuracy +1, Carry -1, HTH Damage -1. Tall. Live in low gravity environments.

Cyborgs- Have 1D6 rolls on the basic suit system table. Also called Dead-Walkers.

Duel Of Iron

Introduction

Civil War era tactical combat simulation. Players each control one or more Ironclads. The rules are for the basic scenario, in which one player controls the Confederate Merrimac, and one player controls the Union Monitor.

The Map

Use a hex map. Indicate which spaces are land and which are water. Indicate whether water spaces are shallow or deep.

Pieces

Six, eight, and ten sided dice are needed. Use cardboard counters (chits) to represent the ships. Draw an arrow on the chits to indicate the forward facing.

Setup

The ships are placed at opposite ends of the map.

Turn Sequence

Initiative Phase Move Phase Attack Phase Penetration Phase Damage Phase Ramming Phase End Phase

Initiative Phase

The Monitor rolls 1D8. The Merrimac rolls 1D6. Reroll ties.

The ship with the lower Initiative roll moves first in move phase. All to-hit and damage rolls are simultaneous.

Move Phase

Each ship makes a "move" roll. The Monitor gets 1D6+1 move points. The Merrimac gets 1D8-3 move points.

A move point can be used to move forward 1 space. A move point can be used to change the ships facing by one hex face. Shallow water hexes can be moved into by expending 2 move points.

Ships cannot enter land spaces. The Monitor could do 7 knots compared to the Merrimacs 5 knots. The Merrimac drew 22 feet compared to the Monitors 10 feet.

The Merrimac would more often get stuck in shallow water. Neither ship was Seaworthy. Both would sink in a bad storm.

Attack Phase

Short range is within 2 hexes. Medium range is 4 hexes. Long range is a maximum of 8 hexes.

Each ship has four 90 degree arcs: Bow, Stern, Port, and Starboard. The Monitor can attack with its 2 cannons out of its Stern, Port, or Starboard arcs. The Monitor cannot attack out of its Bow arc. (It would hit its own pilothouse) The Merrimac can fire one cannon from its Bow and Stern arcs.

The Merrimac can fire a broadside of four cannons from its Port or Starboard arcs. Attacking cannons must make a "To-hit" roll. Roll 1D100 using 2 ten sided dice. This gives a number between 1 and 100.

The Monitor has an 80% to hit at the Merrimac short range. The Monitor has an 40% to hit the Merrimac at medium range. The Monitor has an 20% to hit the Merrimac at long range.

The Merrimac has an 40% to hit the Monitor at short range. The Merrimac has an 20% to hit the Monitor at medium range. The Merrimac has an 10% to hit the Monitor at long range.

The Monitor was a much smaller target.

Penetration Phase

The Monitor had two 11 inch Dahlgren guns. (also called the soda-water bottle) The Merrimac had 10 guns, the largest of which were 9 inch. Cannons that made a successful to-hit roll now make a "Penetration" roll. This is also a percentage roll.

Short range shots from the Monitor have a base 21% to damage the Merrimac. Medium range shots from the Monitor have a base 14% to damage the Merrimac. Long range shots from the Monitor have a base 7% to damage the Merrimac.

Short range shots from the Merrimac have a base 15% to damage the Monitor. Medium range shots from the Merrimac have a base 10% to damage the Monitor. Long range shots from the Merrimac have a base 5% to damage the Monitor.

Historically, the Merrimac left its solid steel ammo on the dock in Norfolk in favor of explosive shells which were more effective against wooden ships. Optionally, you may allow the Merrimac to have its solid shot. This doubles the Merrimacs base chance to damage the Monitor at all ranges.

Historically, the Monitor used only half the powder it could have because the guns were experimentally new and untested. Optionally, you may allow the Monitor to use double charges. This doubles the Monitors base chance to damage the Merrimac at all ranges.

Damage Phase

If a shot from the Monitor damages the Merrimac roll 1D6 on the following table:

1D6	Location	Effect
1	Rudder	Move roll -2
2	Crack Hull	All future penetration rolls at +5%
3	Cannon	Lose 1 cannon; The Merrimac has 10 cannon
4	Casualties	Lose 1 crew; The Merrimac has 5 crew
5	Leak	Move roll -1
6	Smokestack	Move roll -1

If the Merrimac accumulates -5 damage to its Move roll it becomes disabled. The placement of guns on the Merrimac can be switched. Crack Hull: One cracked hull result would give the Monitor a 12% chance to damage the Merrimac on its penetration roll at long range, instead of 7%.

All damage is cumulative. Two cracked hull results would bring it up to 17%. If a shot from the Merrimac damages the Monitor roll 1D6 on the following table:

1D6	Location	Effect
1	Pilot House	Move roll -2
2	Crack Hull	All future penetration rolls at +5%
3	Cannon	Lose 1 cannon; The Monitor has 2 cannon
4	Casualties	Lose 1 crew; The Monitor has 2 crew
5	Leak	Move roll -1
6	Turret Jams

If the Monitor accumulates -7 damage to its Move roll it becomes disabled. If the turret jams, the Monitor can only attack out of the arc it is currently facing for the rest of the game. Optionally, the gunners are no longer disorientated by the merry-go-round turret and their base chance to hit is increased by 5% at all ranges.

Ramming Phase

If the Merrimac is adjacent to the Monitor and facing it, the Merrimac may attempt to ram. Roll 1D8 on the Following table:

1D8	Result	Effect
1-4	Monitor swerves away	None
5	Glancing blow	The Merrimac receives a Leak damage result
6-7	Solid blow	The Monitor gets 1D3 Leak damage results
8	Drive her under	The Monitor sinks

The Merrimac also had a fifteen-hundred pound, plow shaped iron ram that broke off in the belly of the Union war sloop, the Cumberland. Optionally, you may allow the Merrimac to retain its ram. This gives the Merrimac +1 to rolls on this table.

End Phase

Also called Victory Determination Phase. If a ship is disabled, the other ship wins. A ship is disabled if it cannot move, or it loses all of its crew or cannon.

Game Designers Notes

The sinking of the Minnesota is not included as a victory condition for the South because it would be too easy, even though it didn't happen in real life. In scenarios with multiple ships, the Merrimacs can fire a maximum of four guns per turn. Quantity of Ammo is not a consideration. The Monitor did not have to reload until after 3 hours of fighting.

In the real battle, neither ship was disabled. The Monitor wandered off after her captain was hurt. (the only casualty) The Merrimac retreated shortly after because the tide was going out. The Monitor was also known as "Ericsson's Folly" and was described as a "tin can on a shingle" or a "cheesebox on a raft." The Civil war saw many more Ironclads, and battles between them, by the wars end.

Dueling Pistols

Introduction

Card game for 2 players. Simulation of a Pistol Duel circa 1700+

Victory

Victory Determination: You are Killed: Major Defeat
You are Wounded: Minor Defeat Opponent Wounded:
Minor Victory Opponent Killed: Major Victory

Setup

Duelists agree to one of the following: One Shot, Multiple Shots (2,3,or 4), First Blood, Death They may also forgo the Speed element of the Duel and Allow the Challenged to fire first.

The Deck

Players share a common deck. There are 4 suites of cards:

1. Speed
2. Aim
3. Range
4. Hit

The Duelists

Name	Infos
Feraud	Aim cards get +1
D'Hubert	Speed cards get +1
Cassagnac	May use a Range card as a Speed card
Fortou	Hit cards get +1
Gambetta	Opponent may only discard and replace up to 3 cards
Jean Luc	Ignores first wound

Each Suit has 13 cards of numerical value from 1 to 13

The Duel

Each player is dealt 9 cards: 5 face-down and 4 face-up. Each player can discard up to 4 face-down cards and draw replacements. Players reveal their hands: The player with the greatest total Speed fires first.

(In a tie, both fire simultaneously) When firing, if your total Aim is greater than the opponent's total Range, the shot hits. If the Range Total is greater, the shot misses. If your shot hits, compare your total Hits to your opponent's total Hits.

If his Hit total is equal or more than your Hit total, you have wounded him. If your Hit total is greater than his, you have killed him. Discard all played cards.

Wounds

For each wound a Duelist has recieved, he is dealt one less face-down card and can discard one less face-down card. For example: with one wound the player is dealt 8 cards: 4 face-down and 4 face-up. He can discard up to 3 face-down cards and draw replacements.

Dumbledore's Army

Setup

Players place wizards on the squares of their back two rows. Units may not stack. The Dumbledore player starts with only the Students in play.

The Voldemort player starts with all Wizards but Voldemort in play. The Aurors enter play on the fourth turn. Dumbledore enters play on the seventh turn.

Voldemort enters play on the eighth turn. Wizards entering play are placed on any square of their back two rows.

Victory

The Dumbledore player wins if Voldemort is 'defeated'. The Voldemort player wins if Dumbledore or Harry is 'defeated'.

The Map

Use an 8x8 chessboard.

The Deck

Players share a common deck.

The Men

Use chits, counters, or miniatures to represent wizards.

The Cards

Players share a common deck.

Turn Sequence

Players take turns. Each turn has 3 phases: Fate Phase Move Phase Fight Phase

Fate Phase

Draw 3 cards. Max hand size = 5 cards. If the deck runs out, shuffle the discard and draw from it.

Discard excess cards.

Move Phase

Play (discard) a Move card to move one of your wizards. The move card has a number. This is the number of spaces the wizard moves.

Moves can be diagonal or orthogonal. Instead of moving just one wizard in any direction, you have the option of moving up to 3 wizards forward the indicated number of spaces using a single move card.

Fight Phase

Play (discard) an Attack card to have a wizard attack. The attack card has a number. This is the range of the attack.

Attacks can be diagonal or orthogonal. Attacks do one Hit of damage to the target. Use Chits or coins to record damage.

A wizard reduced to zero Hits is 'defeated' and removed from the board. Your opponent may play Defense cards to negate your attack.
